It had come into the posses sion of Dr. Shields, whom I finally persuaded to part with the instrument. I began a search for other instruments of the same material. My efforts were rewarded a few days later when came upon a second bone flute. Previous to this time I had firmly believed that the Pueblos had and used only the reed flute. The bone instrument was originally used by the Indians of the far Northwest, which fact leads me to believe that the New Mexican Pu eblos are originally from the North.

Among the Zuni Indians.

Mrs. M. C. Stevenson of Washington, D. C., who is connected with the ethnological division of the Smithson ian Institute and who has been spend ing the past six months among the Zuni Indians in an effort to get at the bottom of the religion and philosophy of the tribe, talked interestingly of her work to a representative of the New Mexican at the Palace hotel in Santa Fe a few days ago,

"For twenty years," said Mrs. Ste venson, "my work has been along the line that I am now pursuing. I have recently completed a volume on the lives and customs of the Zuni Indians and the book is now in the hands of the printer.

"For several weeks my time has been taken up by the comparative study of the different Indians and to see how I can associate the customs habits, modes of living and work of one tribe with those of another. The

Reports of Stock Prospects.

A Santa Fe dispatch of September 6th says: Reports received here at th office of the cattle sanitary board show a rather unpromising outlook for the winter range in the territory. In the northern part of the territory, in Colfax and Union counties, where the drouth was least severe in the sumused across the state line in Colomer, the grass has done the poorest the inhabitants along its banks So dubious is the prospect for winter w Mexico had no recourse in the feed that a wholly unprecedented movement of cattle from the northern part of the territory has begun.

The conditions to the east of this city in the Tucumcari and Santa Rosa country where the rains came very late, are reported to be very gratify ing. The grass has grown so rapidly that a vast amount has been cut for feed and the ranges will be left in capital condition for the winter. Very fair reports are also received from southern part of the territory.

Andrew Carnegie's agent has wired that the $10,000 is ready for the Roswell Carnegie Library. Work on the building will begin in the near future. M. M. Kahn, ex-postmaster of Taos was found guilty in the United States District Court at Santa Fe on the 9th inst., of embezzling $75 of postal funds, and pending a motion for a new trial, was committed to the county jail. Juan Chaves, a pioneer citizen and the oldest Mexican in New Mexico, died at his home in Roswell on the 9th inst., at the age of 134 years. When he was born, which was near the place of his death, this region was a part of Mexico. A company of local capitalists is ing organized at Las Vegas to build a new $100,000 hotel. It is said that a large tract has been secured for a site in the very heart of the city. The San Miguel and First National banks, the electric light company, the water company and Gross, Kelly & Co. have each subscribed $5,000 and enough has been assured to make the cash subscrip-

Eight carloads of rails for the Albuquerque Eastern railroad have arrived at Torrance and a consignment of three carloads has put in an appearance at Santa Fe. Other shipments are route. Active work will begin on the grade of the road at once.

A Roswell dispatch of September 9th says: The Pecos Irrigation Company, which was protesting the building of the Hondo government reservoir, was left in mid air this afternoon at the conclusion of the hearing by the government board of commissioners. Facts and figures were submitted by W. M. Reed, a reclamation engineeer, that upset all its claims and work likely will begin on the reservoir in the near future.

Governor Otero has made the follow ing reappointments on boards of territorial institutions of members whose commissions have expired: O. L. M. Wright, the observer who has been assigned to take charge of the weather bureau office at Roswell, has completed arrangements by which he will take possession of the stone house on North Main street in that city now occupied by Captain Clark and family This place will not only be the home of be the Roswell Weather Bureau office. Mr. Wright will have a high tower erected on which his instruments will be placed. Many of the instruments are already at Roswell and Mr. Wright expects to have the station in operation before the end of the month. It is Mr. Wright's desire to have issued not only daily printed report, but also a daily map.—Santa Fe New Mezican.

Col. W. H. Greer has given Silver City a suspension bridge. That is, he has given the cable to make one out of. They are going to build a cable footbridge across the big arroya to take the place of the one that was washed out by the recent flood. The manager of the Victoria Land and Cattle Company has generously offered the city all the cable necessary to build the bridge from a large supply which is on the South ern Pacific siding at Separ. The cable was formerly used on the old Market street cable line in San Francisco, and was bought by the Victoria company to be separated into strands and used for fencing wire. Later it was found to be ill adapted for this purpose and was never used. The bridge as planned will be 100 feet long and will be erected by individual subscription.-Albuquer

HARMONY IN PARTY has been in existence since creation.

UNITED DEMOCRACY IN READI-NESS FOR CAMPAIGN.

Strong Contrast to the Factional Disturbances Prevailing in the Republican Ranks—Seemingly Little Doubt of Victory in November.

The Democrats are united as they have not been before for ten years, and Parker and Davis will receive the normal vote of the party with a good many recruits from their opponents. The Republicans are split into factions on several issues. Nearly all the old Hanna machine men are disgruntled as they see a young element of their party in the saddle and they will not pull hard on the traces unless they are paid for their work either in money or promises. In West Virginia, Delaware, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Wisconsin, the rival Republican factions are intent on defeating each other and one or the other faction have no faith in or love for Candidate Roosevelt, though most of them declare they will vote for him. In these and other states there are minor factions and important Republicans who while keeping within party lines are opposed to their candidates for president and do not mind saying so in private conversation. The glamour of the Rough Rider has worn off and the business interests of the country have more weight in politics than the imperialistic element. That is the great danger to the Rough Rider. The farmers have discovered that the trusts are bleeding them and that the high price of wheat is more than offset by the increased cost of what they buy. The workingmen are organizing politically for their protection, for the Republican majority in Congress refused to listen to their prayer for legislation for the eight-hour bill, the anti-injunction bill and other lesser laws labor thinks necessary for its salvation. All the Republican leaders favor the open shop and most of them are openly in sympathy with the Parry organization of protected trusts and manufacturers.

Wages and being reduced and strikes are numerous, and the cost of living is still advancing, which does not inspire confidence in the economic policles of the Republican party of those who are suffering from loss of wages and increased cost of food.

The trusts have decreased the profits of the small storekeeps rents and household expenses, are higher than ever before, and the opportunities for increased monopolized by the great department stores, who can purchase of the trusts at much less than the small storekeeper has to pay.

People with limited incomes find their expenses have increased while their reveneus are stationary. these people are inquiring why the trusts should be protected by the tariff in selling their products at the highest possible price here and a much lower price in foreign countries. Many of the voters have discovered that the tariff prevents competition and fosters monopoly and that the increased cost for their products that the monopolists charge is a much greater tax than the government receives.

The revenues of the United States are declining and the expenses are greater than ever before in time of peace. Not only have the expenses of the government increased much faster in proportion than the population, but neither President Roosevelt, his cabinet, nor the Republican majority in Congress have offered any solution of the problem, but are all intent on "letting well enough alone," and have paralyzed the industries of the country with a do-nothing policy by fighting all proposals for reform. The government departments are extravagant and filled with grafters which the Republican party has re fused to investigate, although evidence was plentiful that but a beginning had been made in exposing the hundreds pastured their stock, has frauds through a partisan investiga-been fenced and leased to cattlemen. tion of but two bureaus of the postoffice department. Knowledge of all these sins of the Republican party is finding lodgment in the hearts of many voters and they have determined on a change. Upon the surface of the political field all is still and serene, but there are mutterings in the homes of the farmers, the cottages of the artisan and the tenements of the laboring men that bodes ill for the Republican candidates. The still small voice of reason is working more changes of sentiment than the hired and blatant notes of the trust Mr. Wright and family, but will also apologist can overcome, blare he never so loudly, and there is a quiet determination to "turn the rascals

Ship Subsidy Resuscitated. The whole Roosevelt Administration seems saturated with the idea that a ship subsidy bill must be forced through Congress. The latest high official to attempt to coerce Congress is Robert B. Armstrong, assistant secretary of the treasury. While Secretary Shaw and others of the Cabinet have veiled their desire for this robbery of the people for the ship trust, they are quite as strongly for a ship subsidy or their under strappers would not be declaring for it The occasion taken by Mr. Armstrong to inoculate others with this Repub lican policy of subsidy was the nation al convention of the American Insti tute of Bank Clerks, held at St. Louis August 25. He declared that the up building of the Merchant Marine was worthy of the best thought and activ ity of his hearers and further said: "Just why some of the American people objected to government assistance in supplying American rolling stock for a highway of commerce that am unable to understand. "They had not objected seriously or successfully against government aid to the transcontinental railroads, and he asked why they should protest when it is suggested that the government help place upon the bosom of the sea ships that fly the American

So we may expect if Mr. Roosevelt and a Republican Congress is elected, to see strong pressure brought to bear upon Congress to load up the people with an enormous tax for Morgan and his steamship trust.

Some New York Republicans. That the Roosevelt-Odell machine in New York city is a tough proposition is apparent from the evidence given in a circular published by the opposing Republican faction in the Ninth assembly district. There is a conflict in the Republican camp as to who shall represent the party as leader and as county committeemen and the circular describes, "who are dictat-managing party affairs" in the follow ing pen pictures: "John J. Plunkitt, formerly barten der for 'Mike' Curley on Tenth avenue. Later became janitor and porter of the local club. Has a job as deputy sheriff by reappointment of a Taming nominations in this district and many administration. Why? "James A. Allen came into the district with a carpet bag and has acquired property. Always obeys orders. Consult the files of the Evening Post and other reputable papers for his record. "Thomas L. Hamilton, personally nice fellow, but politically a light weight. Charity forbids expatiation. "James J. Duffy, the last and least of all. Known as 'Koke' Duffy. Absolutely devoid of any of the customs of polite men. Does well in business, especially during Tammany regimes. Devotes his time and energy more to assisting the Tammany leaders than to working for his own nominal party. Is reported to be about to join Tammany openly soon. Apparently knows no more of and cares no more for political principles than he does of the silurian age in geology. Mixes in Tammany fights, to the detriment of the Republican party. A most unworthy choice.

"To vote for the above is to debauch the party."

It is the fashion of Republicans to buse Tammany as a political machine prof-profthe depraved element that controls the G. O. P. shows that the Republican machine leaders are not only vile, incompetent.

> Republican Harmony in New York. President Roosevelt is certainly having hard luck in harmonizing the warring Republican factions in his own state. He wanted Root nominated for governor, but Odell said "No." Then he wanted the state nominations left to the convention, but again Odell said "No, I have a candidate for governor which I will disclose when the time comes." President Roosevelt therefore announced that he was not interfering in New York politics. But the stream of Republican leaders that are invited to Oyster Bay belies his lack of interference. The latest invitation issued from Oyster Bay was to Littaner of the glove scandal fame, who, the President declared, "was his close friend and political adviser." It is rather mortifying to see the President, in his effort to control the New York situation, have to consort with such a tough lot of politicians as the Republicans of the Empire State have for leaders.

The Cost of Living.

After pondering over the figures of the Department of Commerce and Labor for about a month the Chicago Chronicle has discovered Mr. Wright's "average man" does not exist, but that "the standard of living is better" than it was a few years ago. Since the beef trust, the coal trust, and the hundreds of other trusts have advanced prices to the top notch, the average man and weman have discovered that it cost a great deal more to keep up the standard of living and that present wages and trust prices are an obstacle that everyone feels. All the sophistry of the Republican statisticians cannot gloss over the fact that the limited income cannot be stretched to meet the demands that are made upon it. High trust prices fostered by the protective tariff may give a glamor of prosperity to the protected industries, but the many have to pay to the prosperous few.

The news from Oyster Bay is of very contradictory character. It is given out daily that President Roosevelt will not interfere in New York politics, in the same breath it is declared that about all the leading politicians have been invited to come and "talk it over."

Another concentrado order has been ssued by Gov. Wright in the Philippines, and yet President Roosevelt tells us that everything is moving along peacefully there. If old Gen. Weyler were alive now he would laugh at our efforts and our adoption of his Cuban system of "benevolent assimilation.

Teddy has met the terrible Turk and vanquished him without even a smell of powder; and if some other country does not give our navy a job there will be nothing for it to do but come home and dance attendance on the Four Hundred at Newport.

of Wall street, but they wish Mr. Morgan and Mr. Rockefeller would not be so effusive about it as to attract attention.

LABOR MEETING LIAO YANG FIGHT

FEDERATION AND COAL MINERS.

Labor Union Delegates Gathered at Pueblo .-- President Howells Arraigns State Administration.

Pueblo, Sept. 14.—Discussion of the strike that has been on in the southern coal fields since last November was the general topic of the joint meeting held this morning by the delegates to the State Federation of Labor convention and those of the United Mine Workers' convention. The regular session of the state federation was called to order at 9:30 o'clock by President John Sullivan. At 10 o'clock the joint session convened. President Sullivan welcomed the mine workers with a short address, in which he said that not in history did men meet on more common ground than that on which the two representative organizations met this morning. President Howells replied for the mine workers, and during his address he severely arraigned the present state administration, which, he said, perverts the uses of civil and military authority to the uses of the mine owners, to whom its support was pledged in order to secure election, which ignores the constitution drafted for the men who spend their lives in the bowels of the earth digging the black diamonds that enrich these men. as well as for the men who are enriched and use their wealth to drive men from their own homes, kill and murder and destroy to gain their ends and openly declare that only in annihilation or banishment of organization can their inhuman ends be served. "Shall we be driven from the home we have made, from the toil we have expended there? Shall that home be turned over to the bats and owls be cause we will not comply with the wishes of this governor and his aides?

"It is for the delegates of these two conventions to decide what our future will be. If we give way in this struggle our organization stands for nothing. If we fight it on to the end, it means that we must be recognized as citizens of this state as much as though we fed at the trough at the capitol building, and were entitled by previous condition of servitude to life. liberty and the pursuit of bappiness, and that is all we want. Are we going to accept less?"
At the conclusion of Mr. Howells speech the privilege was allowed the delegates of giving their views on the situation. Frank Cochran of Victor. who was reported some time since as having made a confession to the effect that the Western Federation of Miners destroyed the mines and depots blown up about Victor, was the first to talk. Mr. Cochran first denied that he had made the confession reported in a Denver weekly, declaring he saw no one to whom he could have made a confession, and characterized the story as "a lying attempt to bring discord into the ranks of the union.

FOR UNIVERSAL PEACE.

Inter-Parliamentary Union Meets at St. Louis. St. Louis, Sept. 14.-The twelfth conference of the Inter-Parliamentary Union opened Monday at the World's Fair grounds. Two hundred and twenty-six legislators from England and practically every European parliament were in attendance to discuss questions, the solution of which by conference may have world-wide significance. There also was an American group headed by Congressman Richard D. Bartholdt of St. Louis and T. C. Burten of Cleveland. Dr. Gobat of the Swiss National Council, general secretary, called the conference to order introduced Congressman Bartholdt as the president of the conference.

in accepting the office Mr. Bartholdt dwelt at length upon the purposes of the conference and expres opinion that its work would finally re sult in the attainment of universal arbitration and universal peace.

Francis B. Loomis, first assistant secretary of state, who represented President Roosevelt, then spoke part as follows:

"I am glad to welcome these delegates and members of the Inter-Parlia mentary Union to this city and to this country. The government of States and its people are United pleased to have you here. The President of the United States authorizes me to extend to you his kind and most cordial greetings.

"The cause of international arbitration is making notable and permanent progress. Since your last meeting Great Britain and France, France and Italy, Great Britain and Italy, Holland and Denmark, Great Britain and Spain, France and Holland, and Spain and Portugal, have concluded treaties pledging themselves during a period of five years to submit certain classes of cases to The Hague tribunal. The signing of these treaties marks a dis tinct and promising advance. The Alaskan boundary dispute has amicably settled and the record of the year counts among its achievements. Besides the cases dealth with in The Hague tribunal, the appointment of special arbitrators to settle the boundary dispute between Ecuador and Peru; the boundary dispute between Colombia and Peru: the claims for indemnity of French citizens on the treaty shore of Newfoundland, provided for under the general agreement between France and Great Britain; the question of the boundary line at the entrance of the Christiania flord, between Sweden and Norway; the land question in the New Hebrides bevided for under the Anglo-Fr agreement; the Barotzeland frontier question between Great Britain and Portugal; the controversy between the Turkish government and the administration of the Ottoman debt."

TERRIBLE DUEL OF ARTILLERY.

Details of the Battle Given in a Message From General Oku's Army at Liao Yang.

Tien Tsin, Sept. 14.—An undated message from headquarters in the field of the second Japanese army (General Oku's) before Liao Yang. says: The capture of Liao Yang was accomplished only after nine days of desperate fighting on the part of the second or left, Japanese army under the command of General Oku. During this time, while the artillery arm car-ried out its part in the greatest artillery duel the world has ever seen, there occurred the hardest fighting and the most desperate infantry charges of modern times. The fighting began August 26, when this Japanese army, moving to the northward, collided with the Russian forces entrenched on the hills at Anshanshan. The Japanese bombarded this position all day long, and at night the Russians retired. The next three days, August 27th, 28th and 29th, were occupied in fol-lowing the retreating Russians. Jap-anese batteries were sent forward to shell the enemy. The Russians re-treated steadily, the artillery in their rear guard engaging the Japanese advance and succeeding in retarding it until the main force of Russians reached in safety the strongly forti-fied positions in the Shoushanpao hills eight miles south of Liao Yang. At dawn, August 30th, the Japanese began an artillery attack upon this po-sition, the second army bringing 216 guns to bear upon the Russian forti-

This Russian position was the strongest the enemy had held up to that time. It consisted of three hills, averaging each 300 feet high, all fortified with strong entrenchments nected each one with a covered leading back to a bomb-proof capable of holding all the men engaged in working the guns. This bomb-proof was so skilfully hidden that the Japanese could not locate it accurately during the two days' fighting that en-

This artillery duel probably was the biggest that has ever taken place. It lasted all of August 30th without any appreciable result.

At dawn August 31st the artillery fire was resumed, the Japanese bat-teries having moved forward within 1,000 yards of the Russian position during the night.

The artillery ceased at noon ar Japanese infantry then charged from an adjoining hill in the face of a heavy fire from the trench itself and a terri ble crossfire from Russian artillery posted on another hill to the rear. The bottom of the hill was defen

The men of Na goya, the flower of the second army, were assigned to charge this hill. They took the first trenches with a rush. At the second trenches they met the enemy in a hand-to-hand fight and then went on to the top of the hill, treading on their own dead. The trench at the crest of the hill was taken after another long hand-to-hand fight, the Russians being driven out at the point of the bayon with clubbed muskets. Hundreds were killed in this charge, and the tre were filled with the mingled bodies of Japanese and Russians.

In many cases attackers and defenders were found dead clutched in each other's arms. No more desperate charge was ever made. The po apparently was unassailable; and it ould have been held by one against twenty. The taking of this hill ended the defense of this line of positions, the Russian right after slight resistance. At daylight of September 1st the Japanese flag floated over all the hills, and the Rus sians had retired in good order towar

Cost of Rural Delivery.

Estimates now being prepared at the Postoffice Department showing probable cost of maintaining the rural free delivery service during the fiscal year 1905-1906, and upon which the appropriations made at the coming session of Congress will be based, indicate that the delivery in operation at the end of next June will cost about $20,000,000 a year to maintain. It is stated that in order that the service may be extended in conformity with the present plans of the department what are believed to be the wishes of both houses of Congress, an additional sum of $6,000,000 will be necessary. The present plans contemplate a gradual and reasonable adin the expenditures each year until the grand total of $40,000,000 is reached. It is believed that eventually practically the entire country can be covered with a network of rural routes in operation for this annual expend-

Forty millions of dollars is a generous sum, but in no other way, perhaps, could the money be more advantageously and beneficially expended than in giving to the rural communities throughout the country as rapidly as circumstances make it practicable, an efficient free delivery service .- Omaha

NEW GOVERNOR OF CANADA.

Sarl Grey Selected by King Edward to Succeed Lord Minto. King Edward has approved the apcointment of Earl Grey as governor general of Canada, in succession to he earl of Minto. Albert Henry George, the fourth Earl Grey, has been lord lieutenant of Northumberland since 1899. He was born in 1851 and was married in 1877. He owns about 17,600 acres of landed estates. He is one of the most notable men in the present British peerage, and has made himself known to the world in several conspicuous ways-as a financier, a philanthropist and an industrial promoter. He was associated with the late Cecil Rhodes in the development of South Africa, and is executor of the will under which the Rhodes scholarships are assigned. He was administrator of Rhodesia in 1896 and 1897. At various times he has been concerned in the river tunnels of New York, having interests in the Hudson river tunnel in its earlier stage and with a tunnel that was planned from the city hall, Manhattan, to the Flatbush avenue station, Brooklyn, a project that apparently has fallen through. Earl Grey is also widely known among temperance workers at home and abroad as the projector of the scheme known as the Public House Trust company, by which it is proposed to mitigate the evils of saloons by turning them, so far as possible, into decent resorts, and making the

Millions of Telegrams in 1903

It is just sixty years ago since the patched six years afterward-that is to say, in June, 1850. Since then the use of the telegraph has developed at a marvelous rate, until at the present time a million messages are sent over the world's lines every twenty-four hours. According to some returns recently issued the number of telegrams dispatched in all countries in 1903 reached the enormous total of 364,848,474. As a user of the telegraph Creat Britain heads the list with 92. 471,000 dispatches, and United States is second with 91.391,000, and France comes third with 48,114,151. Spending the Gould Millions

Howard Gould has a large fortune, and doubtless it is well invested, but there is reason to believe it is not growing very fast, for his expenditures are enormous. Persons living near his country place, Sands Point, speak in awful tones of the money that is being expended there. The sea wall, they swear, cost him $1,-000,000. His cowhouse, built of stone, around the poultry yard cost $10 a running fcot. The Killarney castle of at least $4,000,000.

The other day, however, at the age of 75, he committed suicide with his grandson's bayonet, thus fulfilling the ancient scophecy.

THE REASON MADE PLAIN.

Awkward Man's Dancing Accounted for by Accident.

Capt. Spencer-Clay, who is to marry Miss Pauline Astor, is well known in the American colony of London. "Clay," said a young American, "is an amusing chap. Going about from place to place, he picks up a myriad of odd and taking episodes. These he stores away, and during lulls in conversations he relates them with viva-

"He described the other day a dance at his place in surrey. He said two girls were there who were jealous of one another. The first girl danced with a tall and awkward fellow, and afterward she sat down beside her rival. Clay, who stood near by, then American Fighters Incomparable. "I have had the honor of meeting a great number of American officers, both during the Chinese war and in various parts of the Philippine archipelago, and I was in most cases struck by the morally magnificent type of men who lead the American armyfair, open-minded, business-like, hardworking officers, combining patience in tedious plodding through excessive office work with pluck and dash and, above all, tact and accurate judgment when in the field," writes A. H. Savage Landor in the North American Review. "It is not to be regretted that the American officer lacks the overwhelming love for wearing apparel which characterizes military men of many European armies, and his simplicity of clothing is, indeed, well matched by his easy manly, sensible manner. For all that roughness of speech which is almost startling, a heart of gold is to be found in most American soldiers. I have seen men in the field, on more than one occasion, whom, from outward appearances, one would put down as perfect brutes, gentle and considerate-almost as gentle as women-toward wounded comrades or fallen enemies."

Soldiers' Time of Suffering. Capt. Curtis, who has written a popular story of Indian fighting, says in response to a boy's inquiry that he never was captured, but on one occasion, when besieged by redskins in a fort, he realized what he had read about wives having asked their husbands not to let them fall into the hands of savages. "In that siege." he says, "when it was exceedingly doubt ful that we should survive and all We look through your a brother-in-law to the earl of Minto, depended upon the swift arrival of a rescuing party, Mrs. Curtis asked me to make such a promise-to save one bullet for her should we be captured. Miss Roosevelt at Bar Harbor. It will tend to the social making of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Damrosch when Miss Alice Roosevelt visits them in Par Harbor. It is expected the colony there will outdo itself in entertaining her. The Damrosches always have moved in the best element of Bar Harbor society and Mrs. Damrosch, as a daughter of James G. Blaine, had a good social position before her marriage. But it is one thing to entertain quietly and another to have a president's daughter as a guest. Miss Roosevelt's itinerary is arranged carefully and no matter how pressing may be her hosts, she must order her maid to pack up her boxes and move Condensing Is Hard Work. Champ Clark said that before be began to write his notification speech he counted the words in Speaker Cannon's speech notifying President Roosevelt. Cannon's speech contained 1.686 words. "I concluded that I would not be as long-winded as Uncle Joe," said Clark, "so I wrote 1,486 words, and, honestly, it was the hardtold them his real name. ### German Trade Unionosm.

Consul General Guenther at Frankfort, has furnished figures showing a remarkable growth in the membership of trades unions in Germany from 1894 to 1903, inclusive.

In 1903, he writes, the membership of these unions passed the million mark. In 1894 the total membership in the empire was 246,494. Since then the increase has been continuous with the exception of 1901, when the membership fell back about 3,000 members from the total of the year preceding. Sixty-three unions had an income of $4,000,000 in 1903, against expenditures of $3,274,000. The metal workers' union had the highest receipts, $670,000. The largest fund on hand is that of the printers' union, about $1,-000,000. The total funds of all the German trades unions at the end of 1903 were a little less than $8,000,000.

Tartans Dying Out.

To what extent the Highland garb and the use of tartans is dying out in Scotland is shown by the fact that nowadays the poorer classes of Scottish people have virtually to be bribed to wear it. Attention has been called to this peculiarity by the announcement made by the young Marquis of Bute that not only his tenants and employes, but even the very workingmen employed in building operations on the Island of Bute, will be provided on application, gratis, with a full Highland costume of his family tartan, the royal Stuart.

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound-while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in %-pound packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 ozs." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.

The Thirsty Elm.

It has been computed that if the leaves of an elm tree sixty feet high were spread out on the ground edge to edge they would cover five acres of land. These leaves, averaging 7,000. 000 to a full-grown tree, will absorb water to the amount of seven tons during the normal summer day. Were it not for the ingathering of the stomata during the night a few elms would soon draw off all the water from

May Keep Mountain Goat.

The troubles of Charles Heinz of Creede, Colorado, and the little moun tain goat which he picked up one day near his ranch, are now settled. This fact is a great relief to the goat and Mr. Heinz and the World's Fair Board of Colorado, particularly the latter, as that institution caused the trouble

A few months ago Mr. Heinz discovered a little goat in the mountains near Creede. The animal had fallen somehow from the cliffs above and injured its nose. Mr. Heinz became moved with sympathy and took the animal home to raise as a pet.

Time passed and the goat matured to a size which enabled it to "butt into the public eye with considerable ease. In the course of time the World's Fair board learned of its existence and made known its desire to send the goat to the exposition. To this Mr. Eeinz acquiesced, little dreaming of the trouble that was to
