R. D. YOAKUM IS NOW PREPARING TO REALLY HAVE AN IDEAL FARM

Will Soon Install Two Forty Horse Power Engines

About Four Hundred Fifty Acres Under Irrigation

Mr. R. D. Yoakum, who owns the old Wise place has recently purchased two large engines which will be installed within the next few days. One of these engines is a forty horse power oil engine and is capable of handling two thousand gallons of water per minute. With this modern engine Mr. Yoakum will be able to deliver one acre foot of water on his land at a cost of seventy-five cents from a well fifty feet deep. This engine and equipment is of the latest make and is no doubt the best equipment to be found any where in New Mexico in the way of a private pumping system. At present time a modern concrete bungalow is being built on the farm as well as the planting of a great number of large trees around the house. About four hundred and fifty acres of land is being prepared at present time to be planted to a forage crop this year. After the forage crop has been harvested a greater part of this land will be planted to alfalfa which will make the largest alfalfa farm in Roosevelt county.

The work of laying out the ditches and leveling of the ground is in progress and under the supervision of Mr. R. V. Randle. This work has been going on for some time and the land will be level and the ditches finished ready to control the water in a short time.

Around the entire farm some nice shade trees will be planted and ditches made so as to irrigate them. This will no doubt add much to the beauty of the farm, indeed it will be the most picturesque farm scene to be found anywhere in the state of New Mexico. Also there will be drive-ways made through the farm with shade trees on either side of the drive-way.

In the very near future a large part of this farm will be planted to orchard. The soil is good—he has the water—and soon will have an orchard that will equal those of Roswell or any other to be found in the Pecos Valley.

Rogers Will Close Contracts

At the meeting of the cantaloupe growers held at the Commercial Club rooms February 24th, the secretary reported that practically all the acreage had been signed up and that the organization was practically completed. The board of directors in a specially called meeting gave to Mr. A. A. Rogers the authority to close up a contract with some commission house covering the marketing of the fruit during the coming season, and Mr. Rogers left today for Pittsburg and other eastern points and while gone he will close up the contract and everything will be in readiness for planting the crop.

The Rocky Ford Cantaloupe Seed Breeders' Association have sent out to each of the growers a booklet on factors that effect cantaloupes which gives some very valuable information. Any one who has not received his copy of this booklet and is going to plant some cantaloupes can get one by calling at the office of The Portales Irrigation Company.

Owing to the good rains and snow that have recently fallen in the valley putting a good season in the ground the irrigation plant was not started this week as had been intended but will be started next Monday.

Word has come to the office of the Irrigation Company that a number of those people who have purchased irrigated lands in the valley will be here with their entire equipment during the first two weeks of March ready to go on their lands and begin the much needed development of the valley. Already quite a number have moved in and the good work is going on.

Mr. Rogers will be gone east on this trip until about March 10th at which time he will return here with his family. The time spent in the east will be devoted entirely to the interests of this valley and he will return here prepared to go forward with the work of boosting this section. The fact that he has agreed to plant fifty acres to cantaloupes shows conclusively that he has faith in what can be done here, since it is no small matter to hire all the work done and raise fifty acres of cantaloupes.

The natural resources of this valley will be demonstrated this season in a way that has never been done before and all those desiring to get a home here while lands are cheap will do well to come at once since any delay will certainly mean added cost to the price of lands.

Sells Irrigated Land

We are glad to note the sale of land under the project, the same being the Ben Smith tract located eight miles from town, to Mr. H. E. Davis, of Texas City, Texas. Mr. Davis stated that he had spent in the neighborhood of $500 travelling over the western states examining various irrigated areas and properties, and that that he was fully satisfied the Portales valley offered greater inducements, had better soil and better water than any other district he had visited. As evidence of his faith, he has made an investment in the neighborhood of $4500 for this piece of land, and we understand that he is now packing up his furniture and will be out here soon to build a house and put in his crops. One thing that appealed to Mr. Davis was the fact that the well, ditches and land were all in shape and ready for crop. He stated that he had visited a great many districts, in which they gave him many promises of what they expected to do in the way of development, both as to water and land, but that this was one of the places where they were delivering the goods.

Interesting Information

Mr. J. H. Sandifer, who lives about seven miles southeast of Portales, recently received letter from Mr. C. Harvey, who now lives in Phoenix, Arizona, in which he states the following: "I don't like the Salt River valley. It is greatly over rated. The Portales Valley will beat it when it is developed. I do not know of any better than that country. The land there is better than the land here and this land is selling for from one hundred and thirty to two hundred dollars per acre. All that country needs is a little more time and some capital. The climate there is much better than here."

PORTALES IS ON THE MAP FOR THE NORMAL SCHOOL FOR THE STATE

Would be the Best Location in State of New Mexico

And is Rightfully Entitled to Educational Institution

Much interest is being displayed by the people of Roosevelt county over the normal school to be founded in East New Mexico. The enthusiasm which ever characterizes the work of our citizenship in all good causes is seen in the efforts being made on behalf of our county's capitol to secure this institution. The committee of twenty of the county's leading and most public spirited business men appointed for the purpose of pushing the matter and getting the proposition into proper shape has been at work and will have every thing in readiness to make a strong showing of the advantages to be found in our county for the school, with Portales as the place for its location. This showing will be made to the legislature, the body which will make the selection of its location. The advantages we have to offer will at once appeal to the good judgment of members of the legislature. It will readily be seen that Portales has all that is needed to make a really good school. The town's location, with reference to the portions of the state which would be expected to patronize the institution, its moral atmosphere, its cultured citizenship and its stability which is guaranteed by the great resources of the surrounding country. No one, unless actuated by some motive to do our town an injustice, will ever question the statement that Portales more nearly combines all things which go to make a school a great success than any one town in the state.

The legislature will consider two things in passing upon the merits and demerits of various aspiring towns, and those two are inseparable. It will look to the good of the institution to be established and to the welfare of the state. Unless it is so located as to advance the educational well being of the people, it can not be for the best interests of the school itself.

It is not necessary to call attention to the fact that our town is located almost in the center of the tier of counties entitled to the normal and is easily reached by railroad from all directions. This gives the town the advantage of location above all other places. Next to this should be considered the conditions existing which enter into the reasons which make our town the logical place for the school. It is given up that Portales Valley, which constitutes the country surrounding the town of Portales, has the brightest future of any portion of the southwest. Experts who have investigated the water supply and examined the soil have all conceded that we have the best combination of water and rich valley land known in the state. It is no longer a mooted question as to whether or not this valley will soon reach a very high state of development. The enterprise of the people who have settled about this town, and the many who are continually coming in to build homes in our land of sunshine, are convincing all that within a few months the valley will be growing hundreds of acres alfalfa and other crops and that soon thousands of acres will be flourishing under our irrigation systems. These conditions are mentioned only to show that Portales has such a future as to insure its stability. There is no town so situated for the location of an institution, of the nature of the one to be founded in East New Mexico, as a progressive agricultural community. In such a community we most generally find combined intelligence, general prosperity and moral culture.

It is to such communities as this that patrons most desire to send their children for education for from the life of such communities students get the best portion of their education. It is more from the surroundings, the atmosphere created about school-life by the people of the town than from mere work in the school room, that our students gather the inspiration to be true citizens which so largely makes the education of the nation. It is the features of the matter that makes Portales look so bright; especially, when added to her other attractions. With the work already done, and being done, by an interested and enthusiastic citizenship, working as one unit for the common good of the state, the normal to be founded and the town of Portales, in an endeavor to show the real attractions offered by us for the school, it is thought that the institution will most likely be located in our midst.

Mothers Clubs Met at Clovis

Delegates from several of the Mother's clubs of the Pecos Valley met in Clovis during the Teachers association and organized a Pecos Valley Mother's association to meet annually in affiliation with the teachers of this district. This was quite an important meeting as it unites the Mother's club of eastern New Mexico in a common federation and will no doubt be productive of much good. The following officers were elected:

Mrs. W. O. Oldham, Portales, president; Mrs. D. D. Swearing, Clovis, first vice-president; Mrs. Kemp, Artesia, second vice-president; Mrs. Dunn, Roswell, third vice-president; Mrs. Carlsbad, fourth vice-president; Mrs. Lyddington, Clovis, recording secretary; Mrs. Patterson, Portales, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Martin, Clovis, treasurer; Mrs. Cunningham, Lakewood, press reporter.

Association Held at Clovis

The Pecos Valley Teachers Association met at Clovis February 23rd to 24th. Superintendent Alvin N. White of Sante Fe, Dr. C. M. Light of Silver City and Dr. Roberts of Las Vegas were present and gave interesting addresses to the assembly. Lively discussions were held, led by prominent men of eastern

New Mexico. Portales was awarded the first prize for the largest delegation from city schools and for the best school exhibit. Mrs. Culberson wore the badge for the largest school representation.

Lillian Smith, the Portales High School representative in the declamatory contest, received the gold medal.

Beth Thompkins, the grade contestant from Portales, received the silver medal. Eva Crosby was voted the thanks of the association for her excellent musical contributions. The following officers were elected for the year nineteen hundred and twelve and thirteen, the association to be held in Artesia:

Superintendent L. C. Merstelder, Clovis, president; Superintendent R. A. Deen, Portales, vice-president; Miss Ora Kuykendall, Carlsbad, secretary.

Woman's Club

The meeting of the Woman's Club was held at the "Cosy Theater" on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Oldham and Mrs. S. F. Culberson were elected delegates to go to Roswell in March to represent us at the State Federation. Mrs. Molinari and Miss Bryant alternates. After some more business had been attended to a musical recital was given interspersed with papers and discussions of musical topics, led by Mrs. Nixon. The program was beautifully rendered and we hope to have more of them in the near future. The program as rendered follows—Instrumental Duet—Mrs. Anderson and Miss Roland. Vocal Solo—Mrs. Connally. Kindergarten Music—Mrs. Claud Anderson, and discussed by Mrs. Culberson. Violin Solo—Mrs. Tyson. Vocal Solo, two selections—Mrs. Will Smith. Public School and College Music—Mrs. Nixon, and discussed by Mrs. Lindsey. Reading The Soul of the Violin—Mrs. Hardy, accompanied by Mrs. Tyson on the violin and Mrs. Nixon on the piano. Vocal Solo, Three Green Bonnets—Mrs. Ward. A vote of thanks was given the manager of the Cosy Theater.

MANAGER OF IRRIGATION COMPANY WILL RENT LAND UNDER THE DITCH

A Good Proposition for Men Who Want to Rent Land

Best Opportunity Known to Make Some Easy Money

Mr. A. A. Rogers, general manager of the Portales Irrigation company, has informed us that he has some six or seven hundred acres of land, under the project, that he is desirous of having under crop this year. He is willing to rent this land to some desirable tenants practically for the cost of the water on the land. There are some people who would like to locate in the valley and who do not have the means to get a start.

This is a great opportunity for them as it does not require any capital. The organization of a cantaloupe growers association has been under way for the past two weeks and many farmers have joined. A man can rent some of this land and plant it to cantaloupes which will bring him some good quick money. Various other crops such as onions, beans, sweet and irish potatoes, peanuts and etc., will be grown here.

Mr. Rogers states that he will not option any land for sale and will not rent any land in connection with an option. He says that the land values have advanced one hundred per cent within the past five months and owing to the fact that he has a fixed price on the land he will maintain the price so established whether the market will rise or not. He is so thoroughly satisfied with the prospect of the Portales Valley that he is not in favor of optioning any of the land he now has or is not in favor of making any trades of and kind. The prices on the land are so low that the property will go at cash prices or on very short terms.

The irrigation company is willing to rent this land for a year to some good men who will make crops and cultivate the soil as it should be cultivated and thereby make some quick money rather than to let it lay idle. These opportunities can seldom be equalled anywhere in the west. This land supply is limited and those desiring to rent land that has the water should get busy at once on this matter.

This year we have had an abundant amount of moisture besides, the big power plant will be in operation next week and once more each of the seventy-two wells will be pouring forth fifteen hundred gallons of the life giving waters every minute the plant is in operation. The people in the east that have homes here can do no better than to return and do something for themselves and the country. And, those who do not have homes here can do no better than to rent a good irrigated farm and it can be found here in the Portales Valley.

DEMOCRATIC IN POLITICS

The character of any town is determined by its permanent not its transient citizens. Most of the people living in this town either have lived or will live here during a good part of their lives. These people are therefore largely answerable for the town's past and its future. If they are enterprising and broad minded the town as a political unit will adopt an enterprising and broad gaged policy. Making one's home is not wholly comprised in the building of a house on a lot with a fence around it and a walk in front. Of necessity the influences within the home are of paramount interest to the head of a family. But the influences outside the home—the atmosphere of the community—is almost as important to the individual home maker as is the atmosphere of his residence. No citizen can safely live for himself alone. He is one of the component parts of the community and—whether he be active or passive—he exerts a potent influence in determining its character. Knowing as everybody does know, that early environment leaves a permanent impress upon the child it is difficult to explain the indifference of citizens with respect to their part in making the environment in which they, their children and their neighbor's children spend the formative period of their lives.

Time out of mind everybody has talked of the importance of a proper moral, mental and spiritual atmosphere. But why not give due consideration to the business atmosphere? Merchants and their patrons recognize the value and importance of individual business enterprise, but they often overlook the value and importance of community enterprise. Every community is organized for business purposes—to carry on the public business of its citizens. The methods, the economy and the effectiveness with which the business of this community is conducted depend upon the enterprise of the community's business managers—public officials. The character of these officials is determined by the character of the citizenship of this community. If we want the public business conducted in an enterprising and efficient manner we must elect enterprising and efficient men to office and we must support them in their work. To do this all good citizens must show their interest in the public's business to the extent of learning what shall be done, how it should be done and whether it is being properly done. To do this is to be broad gaged, public spirited and enterprising citizens.

A musical program will be rendered at the Cozy Theatre tonight by the Portales Concert band. In addition to the musical numbers to be given by the band, some special songs will be rendered by the best vocalists of the town. Every citizen should be there.

Recently there was a little dinner in New York, given by the friends of Oscar S. Straus, the diplomatist, who was Secretary of Commerce and Labor for a time under President Roosevelt. Not many were present and all made speeches. When it came Col. Roosevelt's time he said: "Mr. Straus was Secretary of the great Department of Commerce and Labor. I put him at the head of that department because I wanted the very best man in the country for the place. When I selected him I did not consider his race or religion. I did not care whether he was French, German or a Jew, or what his politics were—or anything like that. I selected him because I thought he would make a fine secretary, and was not influenced by consideration of race or religion, or any political expedient, and he justified my choice."

Whereupon there were great cheers. The next speaker was Jacob H. Schiff, the financier. Mr. Schiff is quite deaf. He rose and said: "I am glad to have had something to do with the selection of Mr. Straus as Secretary of Commerce and Labor. When Mr. Roosevelt was President he sent for me and told me he wanted me to name the most prominent and able Hebrew citizen of New York for Secretary of Commerce and Labor, and asked me to help him select the man—"

And Mr. Schiff does not know yet why he was interrupted with roars of laughter, in which Col. Roosevelt joined.—Saturday Evening Post.

In another column will be found the announcement of H. J. Anderson and Dan W. Vinson, who have opened an office in Port Arthur, Texas for the purpose of advertising and boosting Portales and the Portales Valley. These young men are well known in Portales and Roosevelt county for their activity and ability to do things, and certainly deserve the co-operation of the citizens of the Portales Valley.

From the knowledge we have of the Port Arthur country, famous for its very large monthly pay-roll (and large mosquitoes) it seems that it would be a fertile field in which to preach the merits and healthfulness of the Sunshine State, both as a place to live and make an investment. Portales needs more boosters of this kind to let people know of the best town, the best country, the best place in the world to invest their money.

We know that Portales is going to make the best and most prosperous city in eastern New Mexico, but like the man who never advertises, if we do not tell the world what we have, some may continue to live in the swamps among the mosquitoes. Give us more boosters and a greater Portales.

Sacred
The following clipping from a paper in Oklahoma was given us by a citizen of this town with the request that it be printed. It is as follows:
I am sending you a letter for publication in your valuable paper which is alleged to have been written by Christ, which I clipped from the Joplin Morning Tribune, Feb. 1st. In this letter was an injunction that it should be published to the world by whosoever found it together with a statement that misfortune and bad luck would follow the person having possession of it, in the event that it was not given publicity. There was likewise a promise that whosoever may have a copy of this in his or her possession will prosper and be followed by good fortune, according to the story of the letter it was written by Christ just after his crucifixion, signed by the Angel Gabriel, ninety-nine years after the Saviors birth and presumably deposited by him under a stone at the foot of the cross, on this stone appeared the legend:
"Blessed is he who shall turn me over."
No one seemed to have sufficient curiosity to investigate as to the meaning of the inscription until the stone was turned over by a little child and the letter which reads as follows was discovered:

Whosoever works on the Sabbath shall be cursed; I command you to go to church and keep holy the Lords day, without any manner of work. You shall not idle or misspend your time in hedonizing yourself in superfluities of costly apparel or vain dressing, for I have ordered the day of rest. I will have that day kept holy, that your sins may be forgiven you. You will not break my commandments, but observe and keep them; they being written by my hand and spoken from my mouth. You shall not only go to church yourself, also your man-servant and your maid-servant. Observe my words and learn my commandments. You shall finish your work every Saturday at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, at which hour the preparation for the Sabbath begins. I advise you to fast five days in the year, beginning on Good Friday and continuing the five days following, in remembrance of the five bloody wounds I received for you and mankind.
You cause them that are not baptized to come to church and receive the holy sacrament, that is to say baptism, and then the cuppes of the Lord, and be made a member thereof, and in so doing I will give you long life and many blessings. Your land shall be replenished and I will comfort you in the greatest temptation, and surely be that death to the contrary shall be cursed. I will also send hardness of heart on them and especially on hardened and unrepentant believers. He that hath given to the poor shall find it profitable. Remember to keep the sabbath day for the seventh day for the seventh day I have taken as a resting day to myself. And he that hath a copy of this letter written by my own mouth and keepeth it without publishing it to others shall not prosper but he that publishes it to others shall be blessed by me and if their sins be as many as the stars by night and if they truly believe they shall be pardoned and they that believe not this my writing and my commandments will have my plague upon you and you will consume with your children, goods add cattle and all other worldly enjoyments that I have given you. Do but once think what I have suffered for; if you do it will be well for you in this world and in the world to come. Whosoever shall a copy of this letter and keep it in their house, nothing shall hurt them, neither pestilence, thunder or lightning and if any woman be in birth and put her trust in me, she shall be delivered of her child. You shall hear no more news of me except through the Holy Scriptures until the day of judgment. All goodness and prosperity shall be in the house where a copy of this letter shall be found. Finished!

The story goes that the little child who found it passed it to one who became a convert to the Christian faith. He failed to have the letter published but kept it however as a sacred memento of Christ and passed it down to different generations of his family for more than a thousand years, during this period they suffered repeated misfortunes, which they attributed to their neglect in not trying to have the letter published.

Richland
We have had nice weather in this part of Chaves county for some weeks until last Thursday, when a sand wave struck us and seems to stay whether we want it or not.
A. J. Watson sold his store at Richland to Mr. Christie, who resides near Causy. Before he had time to realize he had a store, he sold out to France Beeman, who has taken charge and is now selling the goods over the counter to his customers like an old hand at the business.
Mr. Watson will move out to his farm in the near future. We are sorry to lose so estimable a family from our neighborhood but our loss may be their gain. But we will still claim them for neighbors as their farm is only about six miles away, out in the Cromer neighborhood.
Mrs. Alice Clark of Buchanan, Michigan, arrived at Portales Tuesday of this week and was met at the train by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stratton. The two ladies are relatives. She expects to make Mrs. Stratton a few weeks visit at least.
The school house question is still an unsettled matter, also as to where the school term is to be taught.

Sunday afternoon the south bound passenger train, which was something like an hour or more behind schedule, stuck in the cut just south of Elida and there remained for several hours. After having tried time and time again to force the engine through the snow the conductor returned to Elida where the crew and passengers all partook of a warm meal. Soon after dark the plow arrived from Clovis and safely piloted the passenger through the snow drift and on to Roswell. But the train of Sunday afternoon was more fortunate than that of Monday, as the latter just twenty four hours late.

Mr. C. E. Hall, formerly a resident of Roosevelt county but now a resident of Jackson county, Oklahoma, has announced himself as candidate for the office of County Attorney, subject to the action of the Jackson County Democratic primary. Mr. Hall, prior to moving to Oklahoma, lived in this county for some eight years, and was always a consistent, hard working Democrat, and the Herald would be very glad, indeed, to record his success at the polls. We feel sure that the administration of the office of County Attorney under Mr. Hall, should be successful, would be a credit to the Democratic party of Jackson county.

DO YOU WANT TO SELL YOUR PROPERTY?

We have recently opened an office in Port Arthur, Texas, where we expect to be engaged for the next few months in the sale of Portales and Portales Valley property. We are advertising and boosting Portales and the Portales Valley. While our main object is to sell the property embraced in the Morrison Addition to Portales, we also expect to boost the entire Valley. If we do not sell your land, perhaps our advertising will be the means of interesting investors who already have their eyes on the Portales Valley, and result in their going there and buying after they are on the ground. One party has already become interested in the Portales Valley to the extent that he would go by Portales on his way to another city. He is a man of considerable means and is interested in irrigable land. We believe in the future of Portales and the Portales Valley and solicit your support in making Portales a bigger and better Portales. We solicit correspondence from those desiring to sell.

The Growing of Flax

That the Panhandle District of Texas is adapted to the production of flax has been clearly demonstrated by D. L. Hickcox a farmer located near Canyon City, Texas.

Hickcox had about two hundred acres of flax under cultivation this year, and he reports an average yield of fifteen bushels per acre, which he sold for three dollars per bushel.

Hickcox is from Minnesota where flax is grown extensively; he went to Texas last year and thoroughly investigated the conditions with a view to growing flax; his investigation satisfied him that he could raise as good a product as he could grow on his Minnesota farm. He accordingly put the entire two hundred acres under cultivation and is so well pleased with his venture that next year he will plant two thousand acres.

He made enough from the crop this year to pay for the land on which it was planted. Other farmers in the vicinity have been interested in Hickcox success and many will devote a small acreage to flax next year.

Canyon City, Texas, Dec. 6, 1911. Mr. M. C. Vaughn, Water Iowa.

Dear sir:—

In regards to raising flax seed in the Panhandle of Texas the statement you saw in the paper was true; I had two hundred fifty acres of flax in this year and it made fifteen bushels to the acre; fifty acres was old land and the rest sod. I am preparing to plant fifteen hundred acres next year, one thousand acres in old land and five hundred acres sod. I would advise breaking old land in fall deep and let lay until weeds start and cultivate shallow then to keep all weeds down until planted. Break sod in the spring and roll or plant down as soon as broke, plant the last of May or any time in June.

I planted my flax too early here this year. I planted the most of it the last part of April and first part of May. I planted eleven acres the last of May and that made twenty two bushels to the acre.

Plant about eighteen lbs. to the acre and about two inches deep with a common press drill. I have some No. 1 cleaned seed at three dollars per bushel.

Yours truly, D. L. HICKCOX.

C. F. Shoop, representing the Roswell Daily Record, has been in the city for the past few days getting data on the town as well as some information in regard to irrigation project. Judging from the articles he has written about other towns, he has the ability and will give our part of the valley a boost. This booster edition will probably appear in tomorrow's issue of the Record.

OSTEOPATHY

Owing to the fact that Osteopathy is practically a new treatment, there are many who think it is only applicable to a few diseases, which is a very great mistake. I am giving an outline of the different parts of the body the diseases of which are successfully treated by Osteopaths. Diseases of the eye, ear, nose, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, intestines, liver spleen, kidneys, bladder, bones, joints, muscles, nerves, blood. All diseases of women—menstrual disorders, ovarian troubles, milk leg, backache, headache. Attend confinement cases, meet the emergencies that may arise. Treat all diseases of children including tonsillitis, diphtheria, scarlet fever, croup, whooping cough. Recommend and do surgical operations when necessary. Treat the contagious and infectious diseases—typhoid fever, pneumonia, small pox, measles, mumps, meningitis, infantile paralysis, grip.

I make a thorough examination of each case using both the Osteopathic and Medical methods of examination and diagnosis. I treat only those cases that I can cure or benefit. I do not claim to cure cancer, advanced cases of tuberculosis, but there are many other diseases that medicine fails to cure that can be cured by Osteopathic treatment. If you have an ailment of any kind come and see me or arrange for me to come and see you regardless of the trouble or the amount of treatment you have had. If the case is incurable I will be honest enough to tell you so. Charges reasonable. Patients treated at their homes when necessary. Office hours 9 a. m. to 12 a. m. and 1 p. m. to 3 p. m.

RAISED BROOM CORN FOR THIRTY-EIGHT YEARS.

(By John R. Snyder, Arcola, Ill.)
During the past thirty-eight years the writer has not missed a crop of broom corn. Sometimes seed is raised by myself, and at other times secured from reliable seed dealers in Illinois.
My method of testing seed is to take a pan and an old woolen sock, or rag of some kind, place in it about one-hundred seeds, and pour warm water over them, and then pour it off just so as to keep the covering wet. The seed will sprout in from twenty-four to thirty-six hours. If they just about all sprout, I plant them, and if not, seed is secured from someone else, and tested in the same way until the quality of seed is found that will just about all sprout.

Forty to sixty seeds is planted to the rod, and would prefer not to have more than fifty, and over sixty on the ground, depending however, upon the nature of the land on which the broomcorn is to be grown.
The first breaking is done after the oats is sown, and left lay until after the Indian corn is planted, then from June first to 15th, according to the season, the ground is harrowed to make it smoother so that the disc will cut even. Should the ground be run together and hard, it is well to single disc, and sometimes double disc across the breaking, then double disc the straight way and harrow until it is in fine shape. After this, the planting is done and as a general rule the corn comes up with an even stand, and continues to grow even. After getting up, from one to three inches, it should be rolled. This makes the ground smooth and level so that it does not cover up. When about three to four inches high, an eight shovel plow, or what is called an "eagle claw plow" is used and very seldom ever plow more than twice. This year my crop averaged a ton to three acres, with good brush, with only one ploughing. If the ground is put in good order and not planted too early, two ploughings are enough. If ploughed too often it makes the brush grow rough and shorter.

Cutting should begin about the time the bloom begins to fall, and should be hauled in and the seed threshed, off after it lays on the table one or two days, according to the weather. If the sun is very warm it should not be allowed to lay on the table very long, as it makes the brush very brittle, taking the life out of it, also the weight; and color and weight should be sought after.

The shed is 24x56 feet, ribbed up seven inches apart, with 1 x 4 inch strips, using 1/2-inch pieces 8-inches long to shelve the brush on.
Brush should be taken right from the seeder to the shed, and shelved up, left on the shelf until dry enough to go in bulk, then taken from the shelf, bulk down and butted down well. By bulking it makes the brush hold the weight better, and better and tighter bale is produced, and it stands handling and shipping.

As to the variety of seed, we have planted the Tennessee Evergreen until the last two years, when we planted most of the Austrian, as it grows longer and is a better color. However, think the Tennessee Evergreen yields the best, and if the weather conditions are dry enough for the brush to head out and to cut and shed, it is long enough, and just as green.

Forty-five or fifty years ago, we used the hand cylinder, and were compelled to take the boots all off so we could hold to it. Then the seed was taken off, and we hardly ever had any damaged brush on the shelves, however, now the majority of the growers are in too big a hurry, and leave three-fourths of the boots on and about half of the seed, and place it in the shed too thick, therefore resulting in a lot of damaged brush. If the boots and seeds were all taken off as they should be it would take one-fourth to one-third less shed room, and the boots and seeds are what causes broom corn to heat.

GROUPS OF BROOM CORN.

Broom Corn is divided into two groups, known as Standard and Dwarf. The Standard type grows to a height of 10 to 12 feet, while the Dwarf variety grows from 4 to 5 feet high. There are many varietal names used by sellers of broom corn seed, but many of these are simply new names applied to old strains of broom corn and really do not represent varieties that have been sufficiently improved to deserve special designation. Such names are of no assistance and manufacturers in buying brush disregard varietal names and specify whether Standard or Dwarf is wanted and the desired length, color and quality of the brush required for making the desired grade of broom.

Mountainair Chautauqua

The recent action of former Governor William J. Mills, Mr. J. B. Porter of Estancia, and other prominent New Mexicans, in contributing substantial sums to the treasury of the New Mexico Chautauqua Association, or the Mountainair Chautauqua, as it is best known, has placed the annual assembly at the picturesque little town at the foot of the Nanzani mountains upon a solid basis, insures its continued success and makes it in every sense a state institution, statewide in support and in its beneficial influence.

When the first Chautauqua assembly was held at Mountainair several years ago, people generally accepted it as a measure to "boost" that town, and were inclined to look upon it as more or less a joke. For Mountainair, at that time, only had about two hundred people and the surrounding country was but thinly settled. But the men behind the Chautauqua did not consider it a joke at all. They were willing to boost their town; but their first idea, the idea that they have had all the way along, was to build up an educational institution statewide in its influence for good. The first assembly was a pretty hard job. But the Mountainair men carried it through successfully. The next was not quite so difficult and there was more support. It grew easier and more successful every year, and last year, the program, the attendance, the whole affair was a success from start to finish. Excursion trains were run; a regular program of educational lectures was carried out. A convention of New Mexico boosters was one of the features, and distinguished men in many fields took part in the program. The success of the last assembly established the Mountainair Chautauqua as a permanently successful institution.

Up to this time the whole burden of maintaining the Chautauqua has rested on the shoulders of its originators at Mountainair and the people of that community who have loyally supported it. Recently, however, the assembly has drawn attention not only in New Mexico, but in educational circles throughout the whole southwest. A short time ago former Governor Mills and Mr. Porter of Estancia, both of whom have participated in Chautauqua programs and work, took a hand in the organization in a most substantial way. They volunteered to contribute one hundred dollars each to the fund for the coming assembly, provided eighteen other men could be found in the state who would make an equal contribution. This offer has been spread quietly about among public spirited men and already several have joined with Governor Mills and Mr. Porter in their effort which is directed not only to the financial aid of the coming assembly, but toward making the Chautauqua a statewide influence for good. It is believed that the twenty contributors will have volunteered within a very short time; the contributions so made insuring that the assembly next summer will be on a scale which has not been attempted before.
