ELIDA ENTERTAINS THE ODD FELLOWS

All of the Towns in Immediate Territory Are Represented at the Ninety-fourth Anniversary at Elida

TWO BANQUETS DID THE ENTERTAINERS DO JUSTICE

All Parties Making the Trip Were More Than Satisfied With the Entertainment That Was Given

Saturday was the day for the 94th, annual celebration of the order of Odd Fellows. Elida was the place.

The morning train from Clovis, Texico and other points carried two full coaches of boosters from the different lodges and when the crowd was left the little town of Elida certainly seemed in holiday appearance. The crowds surged and pushed and to the person dropping off there for the first time he would have thought that he was arriving at some union depot in a large city.

The band from Portales lead the procession from the depo for about one block and here a stop was made for the pictures of the entire group to be taken. The Odd Fellow's picture along with the bands were made in one picture and the Rebels were made in the other.

After this step the procession marched on to the hall over the bank and while here the band played one or two pieces and the guests were registered and given their tickets for the banquet that evening. Punch, and it was fine, was served during registration time. From here the band marched to the church and the open program of the day was given. This program lasted until about five o'clock when the band was dismissed and the members of the different lodges assembled at the hall for private business.

The banquet was served at six thirty and if tables were ever loaded down to where they were about to break these certainly were. Over one hundred and twenty-five guests and members were served. Everything from boiled ham and salad eggs to all kind of cake, ice cream and pie was served and it was all the kind's that mother used to make.

The band gave a concert from seven until eight and after that gave the Odd Fellows two farwell's in their hall just before their initiation work began. This wound up the happenings of the day for the outsiders and every one left Sunday morning with the best of feelings for Elida and her hospitality.

Ches. Collins and Lee Perci along with John Ballou deserve much praise for the efforts that they expended during the day.

From the Dallas News

Even the rain did not dampen the ardor of the proud citizens of Portales, N.M., although it spoiled their program of entertainment. A. B. Seay, S. E. Ward and many other citizens came to the train and talked at the rate of 4000 words a minute to the shivering trade trippers about what a great town Portales is, and the Dallas men all left agreeing that the Portales people were right.

An extra stop was made a few miles north of Portales at the immense pumping plant which supplies the electric power for seventy-two wells on farms, some of which are seventy-six miles away. The plant is managed by S. E. Ward and is owned by Chicago capital. The plant is capable of generating electric power of 1,500 horsepower. With the turn of an electric switch the operators at the plant can start a pump working on an artesian well many miles away which will irrigate a farm of alfalfa or cantaloupes. In this way the farmers around Portales are now able to telephone for rain, whereas heretofore they were wont to pray for it.—Dallas News

Minister Pounded

Tuesday evening the home of minister J. H. Shepard of the Central Christian church was visited by a number of his members. Each person brought a special gift and the minister and his family are rejoicing over this token of love and appreciation by their people.

Portales Sweet Potatoes

We are second to none when it comes to sweet potatoes, regardless of whether they are Yellow Jerseys, the kind that are raised virtually altogether in the north or whether they are the Southern Queen, the old reliable southern variety.

We have the land which produces the potatoes of either variety in as abundant yields as they can be produced anywhere. We have the water and always know that they will receive it when they need it.

Further, we have the means of saving sweet potatoes during the fall and winter, when the price is low. This is something that very few countries have and accordingly when the others have turned their potatoes to the dealer, Portales valley begins to come in and get her own prices for the table delicacy.

The house that is to hold them and keep them is more than on paper. It is in actual use and this year has stored many thousands of sweet potatoes, which keeps them in plenty for us to take top prices with while the others are gone. Our home trade alone, will consume all of the potatoes that will be raised here for some time and the man who puts out his orchard and plants sweet potatoes between the rows will be the man who will make money from the beginning. In five years he will be able to quit planting anything and have his help take care of the orchard, he doing the bossin'.

Get your cake for Sunday dinner from the Baptist ladies at the Racket store.

Portales as Vegetable Center

Portales Valley should be given credit which she has never received for the vegetables that are raised by many, we might say, inexperienced farmers.

We might begin at the top of the list with melons and say very little of them here because of the fact that they are discussed elsewhere very extensively. Cantaloupes, watermelons, piemelons and all species of the melon family seem to thrive as well here as in any country in which they have been tested out.

Sugar beets, though they are not merely a vegetable, have been tested out here and many would have been raised the past two years but for the fact that our market for them is in Kansas. We produce a better quality than many of the celebrated sugar beet sections, as has been proven by the analysis made by the Kansas factories when they were buying Portales beets by the carload about three years ago. There has been on foot for over two years a factory for Portales and all arrangements have been made it seems, but the company always slip up just at the last minute. Specialists from as far as England and Germany have been and examined the soil and water and pronounce it as good as any.

Of cabbage, beans and celery, we can say little more than to ask the man who wants the actual information, to come to Portales and let us show him what we actually have growing. Our cabbage is fine and firm and keeps through the winter. Our beans make enormous fields, and our celery has been pronounced by such men as Mr. Avery Turner of the Santa Fe lines, as the best that he had ever seen or tasted.

Onions and all the smaller vegetables seem to thrive where they are given any attention at all to the man who wants to grow truck between the rows of trees, we ask him to write to the Chamber of Commerce at Portales and get full particulars. They have many offers for the man who actually wants to make good.

Portales Valley Swine

Hogs are one of the mortgage lifters in the Portales valley, as well as elsewhere, and here, they have an especially fine chance to thrive.

The dairying business having been given the amount of push that it has and with it developing as it is, the hog from the start as a pig, grows off fat and thrifty. The skim-milk starts him off fine, and then with the alfalfa to run him on during growth, and peas virtually grown wild, to finish him with, or corn if you want to put more time to the crop, we have a finished product that cannot be beaten anywhere.

Diseases are never heard of with the hog. Here we have older hog-raising states bested and many people come to the Portales valley for the express purpose of raising thoroughbred hogs. There is at present several fine farms that are being fitted out with all of the modern apparatus for a model hog farm.

Write the Chamber of Commerce for particulars.

Mrs. Joe Howard is this week having some inside work done on her home. When finished she will have one of the most up to date home in the city.

Candidates Very Active

Miss Lena Carroll who has been a contender from the very start of the contest leads the list of candidates to-day, and from now until the finish; Saturday May 24th, it will be a pretty and exciting race between the leaders.

Miss Amy Bartlett of district No. 3 added several thousands of votes to her credit since the last count of votes and now leads in that division, the difference between the leaders in district No. 3 represents less than a few yearly subscriptions. Too close to be comfortable.

Miss Myrtle Vincil of Arch still holds the lead in district No. 2 and it will pay other candidates to keep an eye on Miss Vincil for she can be counted on at the finish. The next publication of the standing of candidates will probably see her leading the entire list of candidates.

ROOM FOR MORE CANDIDATES

A race is never ended until the goal is reached, and there is always time for the last competitor to win out. The difference of 25,000 or 50,000 votes at this stage of the game is not such a great majority to overcome when you take into consideration the fact that you are allowed 35,000 votes for a five year subscription to the Herald. One or two of the subscriptions would place any candidate in the lead or an entirely new candidate as well at the very top of the list. Start to-day with renewed activity and make it your business to secure enough subscriptions to capture the first prize to be awarded the last night of the contest. A Trip to the Pacific Coast and Return, Value $160.00. It will be awarded May 24th, to the candidate having the greatest number of votes to her credit regardless as to where she might reside in Roosevelt County.

Candidates should not fail to secure and turn in every available subscription this week for at no time from now until the close of contest will they count for more. A word to the wise is sufficient.

NO WALK-A-WAY FOR PRIZES

No one has a "walk-a-way" for first prize to be awarded and there is not a candidate in the race who could not with a little extra effort during the remainder of this week secure enough votes to capture the Trip prize valued at $100.00. You may think that you are out of the running but a short talk with the contest editor will change your views. By the use of a little mathematics it can be figured that votes on several five year subscriptions will give any candidate in the race or for that an entirely new candidate over 100,000 votes which would overtake the leader of to-day.

Is a $100.00 Prize Worth That Much Effort?

HOW VOTES ARE SECURED

There are two ways to get votes in this contest, (and votes get prizes) one of which is clipping the coupons which appear in the Herald. The number of votes allowed on subscriptions depends on the length of time the subscription is paid (see voting schedule below) when sending in subscriptions be sure to state if subscriber is new or old. In doing so, it will eliminate delays and facilitate the handling of subscriptions.

Dr. Gibson of Clovis was a Portales visitor Tuesday. He came through in his new Ford car.

BIG GET TOGETHER MEETING FOR COUNTY

All of the Thrifty Farmers and Business Men Are Called Together for Mutual Good of the County

GOOD ROADS PROBLEM THE MOST IMPORTANT FEATURE

Invitations Are Sent Out to All the Postmasters and the Farmers of Immediate Vicinities to Attend

That Get-together spirit is powerfully manifest in the city of Portales and Roosevelt county these days. It's in the air; here there and everywhere. It is the spirit that wins. It means a greater era of prosperity for all of our people.

As another evidence of this spirit, a special get-together meeting has been arranged to convene in the court house Monday the 5th, from two o'clock P. M. to 3:30. Invitations have been sent to parties in all parts of the county and it is expected there will be a large attendance of farmers and business men.

A splendid program has been prepared, and those who attend will be highly entertained by the different speakers.

The special purpose of this meeting is to appoint a committee of business men and farmers to meet on Tuesday with the road commissioners to confer with that honorable body in regard to the building up of the roads of this county.

This is a matter that everyone regardless of where he lives in the county, should be deeply concerned about. It is hard to conceive of anything that would be of more real value to every section of our county than good roads. Let everybody who possibly can, attend this meeting.

Baptist Services

The services at the Baptist church this Sunday will be as follows; Sunday school at 9:45, sermon at 11:00, subject church "Invitations." Evening, preaching at 8:00, sermon will be evangelistic.

D. R. Hamilton is a visitor from Texico this week.

K. H. Wiley is a business visitor from Midland, Texas.

Bob Puckett returned from Amarillo the latter part of last week.

Ben Birdwell returned Friday from Amarillo and Panhandle points.

The Royal Arch Masons, will have degree work Saturday night, May the third.

Joe Lang is home from Kansas City where he has been with a train load of cattle.

Joe Howard is in Oklahoma City and several other points attending to real estate business.

Mrs. Anna Bates, the sister of John Tyson is in the city this week, visiting friends and relatives.

The Hardy residence in the west part of town is going up rapidly and will be a credit to the town when finished.

Mrs. Sam Nixon has moved into her new home in the east part of town. This is one of the most modern homes in Portales.

E. E. Cadwallader, the cantaloupe man and now a well known personage here is in town this week looking after the cantaloupe shipments.

L. M. Derr, the ex-bookkeeper for the Joyce Fruit company here, is in town from Saint Louis this week. He is now with Joyce Fruit at Artesia and has been home for a visit, merely dropping off to spend the week with friend's here.

Lem Cheshier is visiting here from Texas points this week.

C. P. Mitchell returned from Amarillo Sunday. Mrs. Mitchell has been improving since arriving in Amarillo and will probably leave the sanitarium the last of this week. She will however, not be able to return home for several days after that.

FARM WOMAN'S "PIN" MONEY FROM BEES

A Well Kept Apiary.

Notwithstanding the multitude of things that crowd upon the farm woman to be done, the writer can assign her neglect to bee culture for pin money to nothing but inertia, assuming that she is temporarily fitted for the care of bees.

Bees are wonderful little observers and actively resent the presence of a person who acts suspiciously. With self control and good nature in moderate degree, any woman would be able to work among the bees.

Bees are not only profitable adjuncts, but are of end interest (I mean interesting, in a favorable sense). I know a bee keeper of 25 years' experience in apiculture, and he says bees grow more interesting to him every year.

There are many things to be said in favor of beekeeping for women. The original outlay need be and should be small. She should begin with a good swarm in a good modern hive, a make that she, after carefully looking into the comparative advantages of hives, has decided to use exclusively in her apiary.

Other advantages, in apiculture, aside from the profits, are the healthfulness of the outdoor work, the recreative value due to the absorbing interest of working with the bees, the interval of four to six months in the year when one can pack away the problems to hibernate when one can loosen her tether and find new spheres in which to refresh mind and spirit in the already refreshed body. To elucidate this last point, work with the bees calls one outdoors only in the nice weather, in the pleasant seven or eight months of the year; when bad winter months approach the bees are packed away until spring. One is more likely to appreciate this feature when, like the writer, she has tended poultry two years, poultry which insist on prompt meals 365 days in a year and unending attention in many other ways.

Bee keeping is an interesting and profitable side line for many women today, but as yet, few are supporting families on their apiaries.

Let the beginner remember to start in a small way, start right, and increase slowly. Let her read some good bee literature before buying hives or swarms, so that she can inform herself as to the best to get. She should have all the hives uniform so that she can readily transfer a frame of brood, for instance, from one hive to any other hive. Of course if she is going to have them all alike, it is important that she begin with the best kind.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH

Could Hardly Eat. Gradually Grew Worse. Relieved by Peruna

Mr. A. M. Ikerd.

Mr. A. M. Ikerd, Box 31, West Burlington, Iowa, writes: "I had catarrh of the stomach and small intestines for a number of years. I went to a number of doctors and got no relief, and finally one of my doctors sent me to Chicago, and I met the same fate. They said they could do nothing for me; said I had cancer of the stomach and there was no cure. I almost thought the same, for my breath was offensive and I could not eat anything without great misery, and I gradually grew worse."

"Finally I concluded to try Peruna, and I found relief and a cure for that dreadful disease, catarrh. I took five bottles of Peruna and two of Manallin, and I now feel like a new man. There is nothing better than Peruna, and I keep a bottle of it in my house all the time."

UNIQUE WEAPONS OF WAR

Wooden Cannon Have Been Used With Success in Modern Times by West Indian Revolutionists.

Anyone familiar with the construction of modern weapons of warfare and the high explosives used in them would naturally suppose a cannon made of wood would be of little or no value as a weapon.

Wooden cannons have been used with considerable success, nevertheless, in recent revolutions in Cuba, Haiti and in the Dominican Republic.

The wood used in the construction of these crude weapons is a very tough variety, having a twisted grain that curls about the log in such a way that to split the timber with the ordinary means is almost impossible.

The best trees are selected, and a piece of the log five or six feet in length and about one foot in diameter is cut. After the bark has been removed and the log made round, it is swung up on a crude truss and a hole is burned into it from one end. The log is wound with strips of rawhide cut from the skin of a steer. When the cannon is covered with the strips of hide, another layer is wound on, and this is continued until the weapon has increased several inches in diameter.

After the log is covered and the bore is finished the weapon is treated to a hot draft, which tends to contract the hide binding and which becomes almost as strong as wire.

These crude cannons have been used with success in a number of instances, and it is astonishing the number of times they may be fired before they burst or become otherwise disabled.—Harper's Weekly.

"Oh, so sudden." He was not a rapid wooer, and she was getting somewhat anxious. A persistent ring came at the front door. "Oh, bother!" she said. "Who can be calling?"

"Say you're out," he suggested. "Oh, no, that would be untrue," she protested.

"Then say you are engaged," he urged. "Oh, may I, Charlie?" she cried, as she fell into his arms. And the man kept on ringing the front door bell.

A BOY INTERPRETER

A Young Massachusetts Swede in Canada Twenty Years Ago Wants to Return.

Twenty years ago, a blond-haired young Swede, a boy of about 10 years of age, accompanied a party of his fellow-countrymen on the then long trip to Western Canada as an interpreter. The party he accompanied located at Wetaskiwin, Alberta, now one of the most thriving and best settled districts in Western Canada. For three years he remained in the district. Homesickness took him back to his home at Fitchburg, Mass., and he has remained there for 17 years. He has heard frequently from his friends in the West. He has followed their movements and watched their progress. He has heard how the town he helped to establish has risen from a shack to a growing, thriving, brisk business center, with the surrounding country peopled now by thousands who are occupying the territory in which he was one of the first to help plant the colony of twenty or twenty-five. In his letter to an official of the Department of the Interior, he says: "When I was up in Canada, Calgary was a small town and so was Edmonton, but I understand they have grown wonderfully since."

The young man when he went last learned a machine trade, he has patents and inventions but he wants to go to Canada again. And he likely will, but when he does he will find a greater change than he may expect. Calgary and Edmonton are large cities, showing marvelous and wonderful growth. Where but one line of railway made a somewhat tortuous and indefinite way across the plains to its mountain pass, there are three lines of railway dividing the trade of hundreds of thousands of farmers, carrying freight to the hundreds of towns and cities crossing and criss-crossing the prairies in all directions, reaching out into new settlements, and preceding districts to be newly opened for incoming settlers. He will not be able to secure a homestead unless at a considerable distance from the town, the three dollar an acre land is selling at from $15 to $35 an acre. He will find now what was but a theory then, that this land that was then $3 an acre is worth the $30 or $35 that may be asked for it, and a good deal more. But he will find that he can secure a homestead just as good as any that were taken in his day, and today worth $35 an acre, but at some distance from a line of railway, yet with a certainty of railway in the near future, and he will find too that he can still get land at $15 to $18 an acre that will in a year or two be worth $30 or $35 an acre. Mr. Moseley is talking to his countrymen about Canada. Advertisement.

Old Pie Shops Disappearing. With the decline of the a la mode beef shop in London one notes also the disappearance of most of the old-fashioned pie shops, such as the famous eel pie shop in Fleet street that the youthful fancy of the writer always associated with the story of Sweeney Todd, "the demon barber." The itinerant vender of sheep's trotters has also almost disappeared, as well as the seller of sandwiches at the doors of theaters, while the peripatetic pie has quite vanished from the streets. In their place we have the all-conquering but malodorous fried-fish shop, which has multiplied four-fold during the last twenty years.—London Chronicle.

Woman's Beauty is Based on Health

To Have Health, Bowel Movement is Absolutely Necessary—How Best to Obtain it

Mrs. Jennie Snedeker.

If woman's beauty depended upon cosmetics every woman would be a picture of loveliness. But beauty lies deeper than that. It lies in health. In the majority of cases the basis of health and the cause of sickness, can be traced to the action of the bowels. The headaches, the lassitude, the sallow skin and the lusterless eyes are usually due to constipation. So many things that women do habitually conduce to this trouble. They do not eat carefully, they eat indigestible foods because the foods are served daintily and they do not exercise enough. But whatever the particular cause may be it is important that the condition should be corrected. An ideal remedy for women, and one especially suited to their delicate requirements, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of women endorse highly. Mrs. Jennie Snedeker, 1041 West Monroe St., Chicago, testifies that she is "cured of grave stomach and bowel troubles by using Syrup Pepsin and without the aid of a doctor or any other medicine." All the family can use Syrup Pepsin, for thousands of mothers give it to babies and children. It is also admirably suited to the requirements of elderly people, in fact to all who by reason of age or infirmity cannot stand harsh salts, cathartics, pills or purgatives. These should always be avoided for at best their effect is only for that day, while

Soda Lake in Africa. In English East Africa is the richest bed of soda in the world. Engineers say that it contains 200,000,000 tons. The lake has a surface of more than 50 square kilometers. During the rainy season, which in this locality is short, its surface is covered with a shallow layer of water. When a block of soda is taken out, another forms, and the natives say that this occurs so quickly that an equal amount of soda may be abstracted for a number of years from the same place.—Harper's Weekly.

DIBBLES FOR USE IN GARDEN

Handy Little Implements for Transplanting Celery, Cabbage, Cauliflower and Other Plants.

(By SYLVANUS VAN AKEN, Port Ewen, N. Y.) For transplanting such plants as celery, cabbage, cauliflower, tomatoes, etc., trowels are often used where transplanting machines could not be used on account of expense. Another favorite tool is the dibble, which is used merely to punch a hole in the soft soil, and then when the plant is placed to make another hole opposite the first one and press the earth against the newly set plant. These dibbles must be used with great care in planting bulbs, such as onions, because they are apt to leave a hollow space beneath the bulb and thus defeat the very object desired. Often roots will be sent out from the base of the bulb and merely hang in a hole without being able to reach the soil, and thus aid the bulb in growth; but for seedling plants which have a straight root there is no such danger, as the soil can readily be pushed against the root and leave no air space whatever. The accompanying cut shows three popular styles of wooden dibbles, which anyone can make.

How to Break Up Brooding.

The best and quickest method of breaking up broody hens is to build a cage entirely of laths, without any solid floor to it, and hang or fasten the cage up outdoors where the air can pass through it. A hen treated in this way will be broken from setting in a very few days and it is not necessary to deprive her of food or water nor to nearly drown her in a tub of water, as is done too often. Broody hens should not be starved, but fed all they will eat. Heavy feeding starts them laying quickly after their broodiness has been ended. Starving them delays egg production much longer.

Returns From Good Seed Bed.

There are very few farms on which additional labor expended in preparing seed bed would not yield handsome returns. It costs but 15 cents per acre to harrow land, and about 25 cents per acre to disk land. For $1 land can be double disked and harrowed twice. One bushel of wheat or barley, two bushels of corn or one-half bushel of flax increase per acre will pay for this extra work.

SERIOUS INSECT CORN PEST

"Bud-Worm" Eats Roots and Kills Bud in Young Plant—Rotation Is Best Way to Control.

There is a great deal of confusion in regard to this name "bud-worm." Most farmers use it in referring to the southern corn root-worm. This is also sometimes known as the "spiker" or "drill-worm." I have heard farmers call it all of these names. It is the small white or yellowish-white worm with black head that eats the roots and kills the bud in young corn—usually before the corn is more than six or eight inches high. This insect is probably the most serious insect pest of corn in the early spring. We cannot reach this insect with poisons, so that where this pest is serious we must resort to farming methods to control it. It is usually more serious on bottom land, especially when the corn is planted early. If the planting is delayed until May, most of the adult beetles have laid their eggs and the damage is not great. Some farmers make it a practice to plant much more corn than is necessary so as to get a good stand in spite of these insects.

The damage is thus distributed and it is easier and cheaper to thin out the corn than to replant. It is said that proper rotation is the easiest way to control this pest. Cotton, sweet potatoes, peanuts, garden vegetables except beans and cucurbits, and probably the small grains are not injured by this insect so that it ought to always be easy to plan a rotation in which corn can follow some of these crops.

GENERAL FARM NOTES

The demand for high-class mutton is rapidly increasing. Be careful about the man who handles and cares for the coits. In order to have good-sized sheep grow them rapidly while young. Which class of horses are you raising, the profit-killer or the profit-maker?

The coits and unused horses should spend most of each pleasant day in the paddock. Planting an orchard is like depositing money in a savings bank; you get simple and compound interest. Applications of manure should not be made near the time of planting trees unless it be thoroughly rotted.

How to feed and finish hogs for market is a science, a knowledge of which is of great value to hog raisers. Remember the limited capacity of the hog's digestive apparatus and form his concentrated rations accordingly. It is always best to order the vegetable seeds early to insure prompt delivery and get such variety as are wanted.

Notice of the Dependency of Suit

To Charles H. Andrae and Cora M. Andrae: You will take notice that a suit has been filed against you in the District Court of the Fifth Judicial District of the State of New Mexico, and for Roosevelt county wherein Ada P. McNulty, formerly Ada P. Boswell, is plaintiff, and you, the said Charles H. Andrae and Cora M. Andrae, are defendants.

The general objects of said action are as follows: The plaintiff sues you, the said defendants, upon a promissory note, executed by you and each of you, on the first day of July, 1909, for the sum of three hundred dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of 12 per cent per annum, from July 1, 1912, for ten per cent additional upon said amount as attorney's fees, and for the sum of $12.18 taxes assessed against lands hereinafter described, and for costs of suit for a foreclosure of a mortgage deed, executed by each of said defendants, of even date with said promissory note, upon the southwest quarter of section eleven, in township five, south of range thirty-four, east of New Mexico Meridian, New Mexico, said mortgage having been given to secure said promissory note; for an order of sale directing that said real estate be sold, and that the proceeds arising from the sale thereof be applied to the payment of plaintiff's claim, with interest, costs, and attorney's fees, and for general relief.

You are further notified that unless you enter your appearance in said cause on or before the 19th day of June, 1913, judgment will be rendered against you in said cause by default for the sum of $300.00 with interest, costs, and attorney's fees, and the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

G. L. Reese is attorney for the plaintiff and his business address is Portales, New Mexico.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and the seal of said Court, this 23rd day of April, 1913.

New Mexico Hogs Win

Fort Worth, Tex., April 20.—A deal of considerable importance on the Fort Worth market was one in which George Yocky of Fort Sumner, N. M., sold a car of hogs at $9.05, the sum of the price list for that day, and within a nickel of the Chicago top. These hogs were finished on milo maize and were of a desirable sort, showing that New Mexico can raise hogs that are as good as any put on the markets by Oklahoma and Texas.—El Paso Times.

A Few New Laws

(From The Clovis Journal.)

House bill No. 26. Relating to Sabbath Observance, Defining Sunday. Be it enacted by the legislature of the state of New Mexico:

Section 1. Section 1372 of the compiled laws of 1897 is hereby amended to read as follows: Sunday for the purpose of this act, shall be regarded as the time between 11:59 p. m. on Saturday and 12:00 p. m. Sunday.

Sec. 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed. (Carries the emergency clause—in force now.)

Editor's Note:—Section 1372 of the compiled laws which this act amends, defined Sunday as follows: "Sunday for the purpose of this act shall be regarded as the time between sunrise and midnight of said day." Many cities by ordinance however, provided closing hours for saloons after midnight. Under this new law it will be illegal for a saloon in any city to operate after midnight Saturday night and until midnight Sunday night, in the face of the Sunday law. There is a more stringent "Sunday law" in this state than most people seem to appreciate, although it is not strictly enforced, and perhaps was not so intended by the law makers who years ago made it. The following is the law, which has been on the statutes for more than eighteen years: Section 1368 of the compiled laws of 1897 reads:

"Any person or persons who shall be found on the first day of the week called Sunday, engaged in any sports or in horseracing, cock fighting, or in any other manner disturbing any worshiping assembly, or private family, or attending any public meeting or public exhibition, excepting for religious worship, or instruction, or engaged in any labor, except works of necessity, charity or mercy, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $15.00 nor less than $5.00, or imprisonment in the county jail of not more than fifteen days nor less than five days, in the discretion of the court, upon conviction before any district court."

Section 1370 is an exception clause, specifically excepting from the operation of the above paragraph 1369, all farmers and truck growers, who by necessity are forced to irrigate their lands and "to remove grain and other products from the fields on said day," and "cooks and waiters and other employees of hotels and restaurants and butchers and bakers."

It will be remembered that Judge Pope, now Federal Judge, when district judge of this district, insisted upon a strict observance of this law, and was quite severely criticised by the laymen, and his opinions as to the interpretation of the law were not always concurred in, by other New Mexico Judges. In fact, the supreme court has taken a very liberal view of the law and the end it was meant to obtain.

House Bill No. 150. Designating the appointive Offices which may be held by Women, is very brief and reads as follows:

Section 1. From and after the passage and approval of this act women may hold any appointive office in the state of New Mexico. (Emergency—in effect now.)

This law is aimed to meet the objection advanced when women have been suggested for places on the various state boards whose membership was appointed by the governor. Although the constitution, it is generally claimed, does not bar women from holding appointive offices, it has been cited by some authority that there was at least no specific legislative authority granted. This will meet that objection.

Senate bill No. 163. To Provide for the Appointment of Town Marshalls for incorporated Towns and to Repeal all acts and parts of acts in Conflict with this act.

This law is brief and reads: Hereafter the town marshal for incorporated towns in this state shall be appointed by the mayor thereof, by and with the advice and consent of the board of trustees. (Emergency—in effect now.)

When Marshalls have been elected in towns heretofore, they will not be appointed, as is the case in cities, where the mayor and the city council appoint the peace officer known as chief of police. Clovis belongs to the city class. Texico and Melrose are the "towns" in this county that will be effected by the new law.

Notice to Dog Owners

From this date dog ordinance number 7, providing for paying license on all dogs within the corporate limits of the town of Portales, will be enforced. See the town clerk for license.

To our Patrons

To the business men and citizens of the town of Portales. The undersigned asks the people to please withhold their black smith work on Saturdays of each week and on trade's day of each month, except in cases of absolute necessity, as we feel that on Saturdays and trade's day we should give our attention to country people living a long distance away.

We feel this to be the interest of ourselves and all of the business men of the town.

We appreciate our home trade but the country people have often remarked that they should have the attention on these days as they are from a long distance and are here to do trading with us.

Usually Admired by Fair Sex

The men of Chicago have suddenly acquired an attractive complexion. The reason for this is, that they are now shaving their faces with the newest process, called "the Velvet-Edge Safety Blade Sharpener," which gives that velvety smooth skin to the constant shaver.

You men who use safety razors and want a velvety skin, shaved with the delicate softness so much desired, with a keen cutting edge, send your dull safety razor blades at once to Chicago, and have them sharpened by the newest electrical process, which makes the dull blade cut better than the new, and your old blades are returned to you a perfect new blade.

Don't throw away your old safety razor blades, but send them today, well wrapped, and do not delay it until tomorrow.

Price, 30c. per dozen for all safety razor blades, which include Gillette, Ever-Ready, Gem, Auto-Strop, Enders, Keen-Kutter and all other makes. Your blades will be returned to you in a few days, charges, prepaid. Send coin or money order. No orders accepted under 30c.

Wrap blades securely in a card board box. Do not send them in an ordinary envelope, the blades may cut through and be lost. Include your name and P. O. address on the package.

MOTOR TRANSPORTATION BUILDING, PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION, SAN FRANCISCO, 1915.

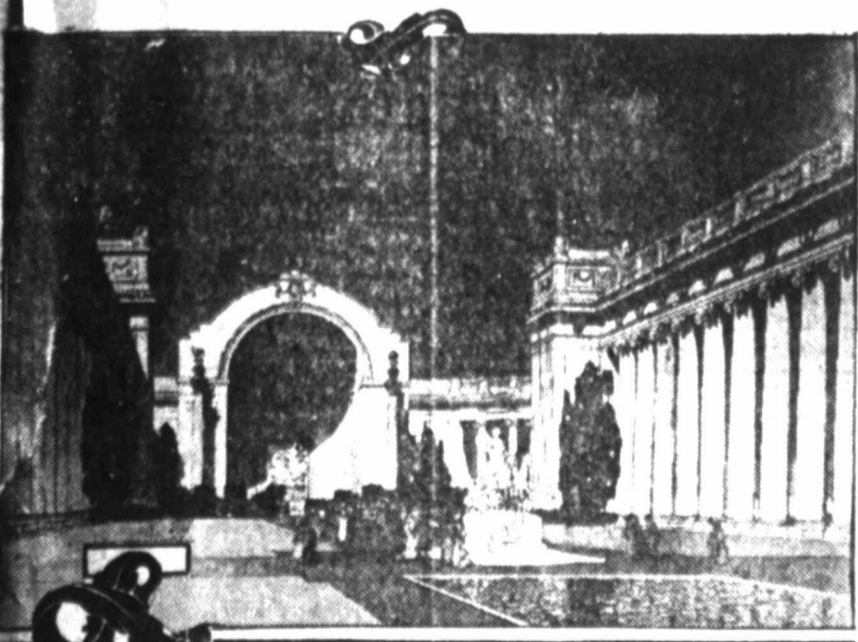

THE Motor Transportation building at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition will be one of the largest of the exposition palaces, approximately 275 feet front by 800 feet deep and covering more than five acres. The theme of the architecture will be emblematic of the triumph of modern transportation, the automobile. Groups of statuary will typify the triumph of the motor over the elements. The main group will typify the conquest over the land. Other groups of statuary will convey allegorically the victory of the motorboat over the sea and of the aeroplane over the air. On either side of the entire length of the building there will be a frieze ten feet high in bas-relief giving the history of transportation from the early log cart up to the most modern automobile. The dome which surmounts the center of the front portion of the building will be 130 feet high.

FARM WOMAN'S "PIN" MONEY FROM BEES

A Well Kept Apiary.

Notwithstanding the multitude of things that crowd upon the farm woman to do, she can find time to neglect to bee culture for pin money to nothing but inertia, assuming that she is temporarily fitted for the care of bees. If a woman turns panicky at the sight of a bee, runs, flaps her apron, and otherwise emphasizes herself as a target, a bee will be sure not to alight there, but see that she gets all that she expects.

Bees are wonderful little observers and actively resent the presence of a person who acts suspiciously. With self control and good nature in moderate degree, any woman would be able to work among the bees.

Bees are not only profitable adjuncts, but are of no end of interest (I mean interesting, in a favorable sense). I know a bee keeper of 25 years' experience in apiculture, and he says bees grow more interesting to him every year.

There are many things to be said in favor of beekeeping for women. The original outlay need be and should be small. She should begin with a good swarm in a good modern hive, make that she, after carefully looking into the comparative advantages of hives, has decided to use exclusively in her apiary. She should increase her colonies slowly, only as her actual profits on her first swarm justify. This will prevent expensive mistakes, possibly failure and that worried feeling that attends a white elephant on one's hands.

DIBBLES FOR USE IN GARDEN

Handy Little Implements for Transplanting Celery, Cabbage, Cauliflower and Other Plants.

Handy Little Implements for Transplanting Celery, Cabbage, Cauliflower and Other Plants. For transplanting such plants as celery, cabbage, cauliflower, tomatoes, etc., trowels are often used where transplanting machines could not be used on account of expense. Another favorite tool is the dibble, which is used merely to punch a hole in the soft soil, and then when the plant is placed to make another hole opposite the first one and press the earth against the newly set plant. These dibbles may be used with great care in planting bulbs, such as onions, because they are apt to leave a hollow space beneath the bulb and thus defeat the very object desired. Often the dibble will be sent out from the base of the bulb and merely hang in the soil without being able to reach the soil, and thus aid the bulb in growth; but for seedling plants which have a straight root there is no such danger, as the soil can readily be pushed against the root and leave no air space whatever. The accompanying cut shows three popular styles of wooden dibbles, which anyone can make.

How to Break Up Brooding.

The best and quickest method of breaking up broody hens is to build a cage entirely of laths, without any solid floor to it, and hang or fasten the cage up outdoors where the air can pass through it. A hen treated in this way will be broken from setting in a very few days and it is not necessary to deprive her of food or water nor to nearly drown her in a tub of water, as is done too often. Broody hens should not be starved, but fed all they will eat. Heavy feeding starts them laying quickly after their broodiness has been ended. Starving them delays egg production much longer.

Returns From Good Seed Bed.

There are very few farms on which additional labor expended in preparing seed bed would not yield handsomely. It costs but 15 cents per acre to harrow land, and about 25 cents per acre to disk land. For the same amount of labor, the disked and harrowed twice. One bushel of wheat or barley, two bushels of corn or one-half bushel of flax increase per acre will pay for this extra work.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH

Could Hardly Eat. Gradually Grew Worse. Relieved by Peruna

Mr. A. M. Ikard.

Mr. A. M. Ikard, Box 31, West Burlington, Iowa, writes: "I had catarrh of the stomach and small intestines for a number of years. I went to a number of doctors and got no relief, and finally one of my doctors sent me to Chicago, and I met the same fate. They said they could do nothing for me; said I had cancer of the stomach and there was no cure. I almost thought the same, for my breath was offensive and I could not eat anything without great misery, and I gradually grew worse.

"Finally I concluded to try Peruna, and I found relief and a cure for this dreadful disease, catarrh. I took five bottles of Peruna and two of Manalin, and I now feel like a new man. There is nothing better than Peruna, and I keep a bottle of it in my house all the time."

UNIQUE WEAPONS OF WAR

Wooden Cannon Have Been Used With Success in Modern Times by West Indian Revolutionists.

Anyone familiar with the construction of modern weapons of warfare and the high explosives used in them would naturally suppose a cannon made of wood would be of little or no value as a weapon.

Wooden cannons have been used with considerable success, nevertheless, in recent revolutions in Cuba, Haiti and in the Dominican republic. The wood used in the construction of these crude weapons is a very tough variety, having a twisted grain that curls about the log in such a way that to split the timber with the ordinary means is almost impossible.

The best trees are selected, and a piece of the log five or six feet in length and about one foot in diameter is cut. After the bark has been removed and the log made round, it is swung up on a crude truss and a hole is burned into it from one end. The log is wound with strips of rawhide cut from the skin of a steer. When the cannon is covered with the strips of hide, another layer is wound on, and this is continued until the weapon has increased several inches in diameter.

After the log is covered and the bore is finished the weapon is treated to a hot draft, which tends to contract the hide binding and which becomes almost as strong as wire.

These crude cannons have been used with success in a number of instances, and it is astonishing the number of times they may be fired before they burst or become otherwise disabled.—Harper's Weekly.

A BOY INTERPRETER

A Young Massachusetts Swede in Canada Twenty Years Ago Wants to Return.

Twenty years ago, a blond-haired young Swede, a boy of about 10 years of age, accompanied a party of his fellow-countrymen on the then long trip to Western Canada as an interpreter. The party he accompanied located at Wetaskiwin, Alberta, now one of the most thriving and best settled districts in Western Canada. For three years he remained in the district. Homesickness took him back to his home at Fitchburg, Mass., and he has remained there for 17 years. He has heard frequently from his friends in the West. He has followed their movements and watched their progress. He has heard how the town he helped to establish has risen from a shack to a growing, thriving, brisk business center, with the surrounding country peopled now by thousands who are occupying the territory in which he was one of the first to help plant the colony of twenty or twenty-five. In his letter to an official of the Department of the Interior, he says: "When I was up in Canada, Calgary was a small town and so was Edmonton, but I understand they have grown wonderfully since."

The young man when he went last learned a machine trade, he has patents and inventions but he wants to go to Canada again. And he likely will, but when he does he will find a greater change than he may expect. Calgary and Edmonton are large cities, showing marvelous and wonderful growth. Where but one line of railway made a somewhat tortuous and indefinite way across the plains to its mountain pass, there are three lines of railway dividing the trade of hundreds of thousands of farmers, carrying freight to the hundreds of towns and cities crossing and criss-crossing the prairies in all directions, reaching out into new settlements, and preceding districts to be newly opened for incoming settlers. He will not be able to secure a homestead unless at a considerable distance from the town, the three dollar an acre land is selling at from $15 to $35 an acre. He will find now what was but a theory then, that this land that was then $3 an acre is worth the $30 or $35 that may be asked for it, and a good deal more. But he will find that he can secure a homestead just as good as any that were taken in his day, and today worth $35 an acre, but at some distance from a line of railway in the near future, and he will find too that he can still get land at $15 to $18 an acre that will in a year or two be worth $30 or $35 an acre. Mr. Meeson is talking to his countrymen about Canada. Advertisement.

Old Pie Shops Disappearing. With the decline of the la mode beef shop in London one notes also the disappearance of most of the old-fashioned pie shops, such as the famous eel-pie shop in Fleet street that the youthful fancy of the writer always associated with the story of Sweeney Todd, "the demon barber."

The itinerant vender of sheep's trotters has also almost disappeared, as well as the seller of sandwiches at the doors of theaters, while the peripatetic pie has quite vanished from the streets. In their place we have the all-conquering but malodorous fried-fish shop, which has multiplied fourfold during the last twenty years.—London Chronicle.

Woman's Beauty is Based on Health

To Have Health, Bowel Movement is Absolutely Necessary—How Best to Obtain it

Mrs. Jennie Snedeker.

If woman's beauty depended upon cosmetics every woman would be a picture of loveliness. But beauty lies deeper than that. It lies in health. In the majority of cases the basis of health and the cause of sickness, can be traced to the action of the bowels. The headaches, the lassitude, the sallow skin and the lusterless eyes are usually due to constipation. So many things that women do habitually conduce to this trouble. They do not eat carefully, they eat indigestible foods because the foods are served daintily and they do not exercise enough. But whatever the particular cause may be it is important that the condition should be corrected.

An ideal remedy for women, and one especially suited to their delicate requirements, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of women endorse highly. Mrs. Jennie Snedeker, 1041 West Monroe St., Chicago, testifies that she is "cured of grave stomach and bowel troubles by using Syrup Pepsin and without the aid of a doctor or any other medicine." All the family can use Syrup Pepsin, for thousands of mothers give it to babies and children. It is also admirably suited to the requirements of elderly people, in fact to all who by reason of age or infirmity cannot stand harsh salts, cathartics, pills or purgatives. These should always be avoided for at best their effect is only for that day, while Soda Lake in Africa. In English East Africa is the richest bed of soda in the world. Engineers say that it contains 200,000,000 tons. The lake has a surface of more than 50 square kilometers. During the rainy season, which in this locality is short, its surface is covered with a shallow layer of water. When a block of soda is taken out, another forms, and the natives say that this occurs so quickly that an equal amount of soda may be abstracted for a number of years from the same place.—Harper's Weekly.

It Pays To Get "A Good Start"

OUR CLOTHES ARE BETTER. ASK U.S.

Competition, nowadays, is so keen in everything worth while, that the smallest detail spells the difference between success and failure. The man who "gets the jump" on the pistol, wins the race nine times out of ten,—often from faster rivals. The same in everything; business, pleasure; love or war. People size you up in a second; you often win or lose on the spot, before you say a word. Since your appearance tops the list of your available assets, its up to you make it an asset of real value. You'll find that the bettering of appearances is our specialty, and that we do it, too, in an unusual way, in addition to giving greater value and service.

Come In and Let us Show You What we can do for You

WE want you to see for instance, the beautiful lines of young men's suits we are showing at $20 and $25. We have higher and lower priced clothes, of course, but this is about what you ought to pay if you want something really good, at the right price. These clothes were made to our especial order by Schloss Bros. & Co., of Baltimore and New York—and you know what that means, of course. You'll find them better than the ordinary Custom made, in everything that counts,—in fact, the best that you can get anywhere, style, fit, appearance, service, satisfaction—in all these points they bear the imprint of high quality and scrupulous workmanship—unmistakably "the clothes of a gentleman." Special young men's styles, all the accepted models in great variety, $15.00 to $25.00.

THE correct fashion of the day, as you've doubtless noticed calls for narrow, form fitting models, slender shapes, long lines. But your figure may not be naturally suited to such fashions. If so, we have what you want in the "conservative" Schloss models.—A styling of happy compromise between the extreme fashion of the moment, and the more standard type. Thousands of up-to-date business men prefer these; they have most of the advantages of the others in quiter lines, fabrics and patterns; in a word, they're right style without being extreme. Some want the one; some the other, but you can be well-dressed becomingly, stylishly dressed in either. We can show you what we mean easier than we can explain it. But we want you to see these Schloss Business suits at $20. to $25.
