THE RURAL SCHOOL THE SOCIAL CENTER

The Rural School Is Rightly Being Made the Social Center of All Leading Communities Today

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS HELP THIS GREAT WORK

Superintendent Culberson Meet With Other Educators and People in Two Different Communities

An effort all over the country is being made to make the rural school house the social center of the community. This is as it should be. The school should not only be the educational center of the community, but it should stand for everything worth while in that community. Should be a real builder of community pride, and molder of public sentiment along all right lines.

singing at the Union school house. An immense throng was present and a big dinner served and a never-to-be-forgotten time had. The editor of this paper knows this to be one of the very best communities in this county and he is glad to know that extra money is to be had, another teacher employed and the school building to be made one of the real model buildings of the county.

The Herald-Times is pleased to note the onward and upward step in this respect taken by most of the schools of this county and section. No one who knows Mrs. S. F. Culberson, county superintendent of Roosevelt county, and L. C. Mersfelder, county superintendent of Curry county, will be at all surprised at this. Difficult indeed it would be to find two educators who are more deeply interested in the schools of our county, and who understand more fully the real purpose of the school and just what the school should stand for in the community. These two splendid county superintendents are working together, and unceasingly, to bring the schools of this section up to the highest standard of efficiency both as an educational and social center and leader of the community.

Monday a great big time was had at the Locust Grove school house, just over the line in Curry county. There was present at this meeting State Superintendent Alvin N. White, Supt. Mersfelder and "our very own" Supt. Mrs. Culberson. The country and "the woods" were full of people interested in school matters. Supper was served at the school building and so great and so abundant was the supply that many wanted to remain all night as the "cats" were sufficient for breakfast.

At this meeting Supt. White delivered a great address along educational lines. Supt. Mersfelder gave one of those practical addresses for which he is so well fitted and Mrs. Culberson made a talk as good as either, and we suspect as good as both of the others combined.

Evangelist D. L. Coale

Evangelist D. L. Coale, of San Antonio, Texas, who is conducting a co-operative meeting here, is one of the ablest ministers that has visited this city in many a day. He is every inch a Christian gentleman. He is clear-cut and fearless in his denunciation of sin, yet not abusive. He is refined and cultured. In a word Evangelist Coale is brainy and brave, educated and eloquent. No one should think for a moment of failing to hear, if possible, every discourse of this man of God.

Prof. R. E. Huston

Mr. R. E. Huston, song leader with Evangelist Coale, is among the very best in his line. In fact he is a man of more than average ability. He is modest, consecrated, and fully devoted to the work of saving souls. Mr. Huston knows how to sing and he knows how to get others to sing. You should hear his solos.

E. A. Reid and family from Knox county Texas, came in Tuesday to make this their home. This is a wise move on the part of this excellent family and the Herald-Times extends them a hearty welcome to the land of Sunshine.

Coale Sayings

Evangelist Coale handles the popular sins without gloves. Here are some of his sayings: "Dancing is just hugging set to music." "If it is not right for a man to take the liberties of the ball room floor that he does on the ball room floor, then it is not right on the ball room floor." "Stinginess and a desire to live like the world is the thing that keeps church members out of the church." "If doing right hurts your business, then give up your business." "If some folks don't die during a revival meeting they will go to hell sure. That's the only time they have any religion." "The devil ought to get the church member who will leave his church for a lodge and sack him up and start to bell with him; not take him all the way, but scare him half to death." "Take the undue and unlawful familiarity out of the dance and the dance will cease to be." "The spirit of the dance is wrong from start to finish, and no Christian will dance." "Would you as soon go home to eternity from a card table as from anywhere else?"

Joe Howard of the Howard Land Co., left Monday for Hobart, and Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, in the interest of his company. The Howards have just traded some property here for some property in Oklahoma City.

Ships Car of Potatoes

Dr. R. H. Bailey was busy Tuesday loading a car of sweet potatoes for the northern markets. We understand the doctor has several car loads of potatoes. There are three things that are positively sure about sweet potatoes here. Any man that will try can grow oodles of them in the Portales Valley. Agrin. There are no sweeter or better potatoes grown anywhere in the world. Then again, you can keep them in perfect condition just as long as you wish, simply by placing them in the potato house in care of Rev. Brown. Come to Portales and grow sweet potatoes.

Vernon Delaney Dead

Many Portales friends were made sad this week when they learned of the death of Vernon Delaney which occurred January 15th at his home in Sallisaw, Oklahoma. He has spent several months here in Portales and during his stay he made a host of friends. He was a bright happy young man. He was always a great lover of music. Born of a musical family, he early acquired proficiency in instrumental music and was always so willing to use this wonderful talent for the pleasure of others.

Compton-Livingston

Stole a march on his friends. Well we guess. He hiked off to El Paso, thence to Clovis, thence to Amarillo, and thence to Frederick, Oklahoma. And there he took unto himself a helpmeet. Who did this? Why hadn't you heard about it? It was Judge C. M. Compton Jr., one of our leading young attorneys, and withal a capital fellow. The young lady was Miss Sallie Livingston, formerly of Burget Texas, formerly of this county and recently a school teacher of Oklahoma, declared to be, by the Judge, the best and prettiest girl in all the world. The Herald-Times, both the daily and weekly, join with the great host of the Judge's friends and those of his good lady, in wishing for them great big chunks of pure, unalloyed happiness.

J. E. McCall returned Monday from Roswell.

Arm Badly Mutilated

Wednesday night as we were busy getting out the daily our business manager, Mr. Darnell, happened to the misfortune of getting his arm tangled up with a belt and the shafting, and before he could be disentangled the flesh was torn from his arm. A physician was summoned who dressed the wound, and unless complications arise it is thought Mr. Darnell will be alright in a week or ten days. This misfortune put us "up against it," as it caught us with all sorts of work on hand, when every man was greatly needed, and this took two printers out of the office.

Compliments Portales People

On some two or three different occasions Evangelist Coale has complimented the people of Portales for the courtesies hearing they have given him. We attribute this to two facts. Evangelist Coale is gentlemanly and courteous in his bearing and in his remarks, and says something worth hearing. Again, the people of Portales, as a whole, are cultured and capable of appreciating the best, and are ready to listen to a man with a message.

An Automobile Hike

Messrs W. J. Faggard and B. Lawrence returned Wednesday from a business trip to Lubbock, Lockney and Plainview Texas. They made the trip in Mr. Faggard's Ford. They made the trip in less than six hours and on less than six gallons of gasoline. Mr. Faggard said, "The Plainview country looks good, but this looks better."

Sheriff Deen to Mineral Wells

Sheriff George Deen left for Mineral Wells, Texas, Monday where he goes in the hopes of recovering his health. He was accompanied by his wife and a nurse. We join the host of friends of our Sheriff in wishing for his full and speedy recovery.

T. L. Spear of Clovis was looking after his farm here first of the week.

We pity the man who is mentally and morally incapacitated.

Well did Solomon say, "Answer not a fool according to his folly lest you become like him."

Believing that most or all of our readers will appreciate the brief sketches of Evangelist Coale's sermons which have occurred in the Daily Herald-Times we are using them in the weekly issue of the Herald Times.

The "little man" seldom thinks of a progressive move until his competitor or some one else launches the move; then he is dead sure that the party of parties starting the movement are prompted to do it from wrong motives. Pity him instead of blaming him. He lives on a low plain; he revels in filth, foul atmosphere is his delight; he is never so happy as when he is tearing down or besmirching the character of someone. To him, the most perfect life is a failure if there is a single mistake in it, the most eloquent sermon is worthless if there is a single misused word in it; the most beautiful day is ruined if there is one little fleck of cloud in the sky. Being governed, largely, by ultra or selfish motives himself in most of his undertakings, he can not conceive of how anyone can do a philanthropic deed from an unselfish motive and for an unselfish purpose. Pity him.

A Bit Religious

Eternity alone will be able to tell the amount of good done in all five of the services last Sunday.

The Sunday School was fine. The Central Christian church dismissed and attended the Methodist Sunday School. Evangelist Coale spoke feelingly and interestingly to the children at the conclusion of a short Sunday school session. There were a number of children who gave their hearts to God.

At the 11 o'clock hour he preached an able sermon to the grown folks and others were reported converted.

At 3 p.m. he gave a great address to men, and a large number of strong men expressed their desire for a better life.

At night, many were not able to get into the building to hear the evangelist. The sermon told for good.

The service was largely attended Monday morning and productive of much good.

Mr. Huston sang very effectively, "Shine for Jesus."

Evangelist Coale preached a great sermon from Matthew 5:10. His subject being, "How to Shine for Jesus."

He said in part: "Christ is the light of the world. Christians are to reflect his light as the moon and stars reflect the light of the sun. Our one mission in the world is to reflect Christ's light. Sinners are looking at Christians and are asking that we show the superiority of the religion we profess by the life we live. I have no patience with the fellow who wants just enough religion to get to heaven and keep out of hell. You should give Jesus the right of way of your heart. Get and keep the obstacles out of the way. Give Jesus a chance and he will make every life great. A man ought to be a gentleman in his home. I wouldn't give the snap of my finger for your pious smile here if there is no pious living in your home. Christ and his church ought to be first with you always. Everybody ought to have a holy ambition to be something worth while. Jesus want everyone to be great, noble and useful. We should let our lights shine individually. There is something you can do that do one else can do. We should let our lights shine continuously. I have no respect for the Christian who serves God spasmodically. If some of you folks don't die during the revival meeting you will go to hell sure.

At the conclusion of the sermon several asked for the prayers of the Christians.

The house was filled to hear Evangelist Coale discuss, "What Must I Do to Be Saved." Monday evening.

He said in part: "You should make up your mind not only to know what to do to be saved, but to do it. The important question is our eternal salvation. Salvation is our only lasting riches. This is the only thing that makes life worth while here and hereafter. To be saved you must become intensely interested about your salvation. The great trouble is to get people to think. You should think of the awful consequences of sin and the profitableness of godliness. To come to Christ you must get out of your way everything that is wrong. You will not be saved so long as you hold onto your sins. Jesus hates sin because of what it is doing for you. The time to come to Christ is now.

At the conclusion of the sermon Mr. Huston sang "My Mother's Prayer." A large number went up for prayer and there were a number of conversions.

Another large and attentive audience greeted Evangelist Coale Tuesday morning and heard a splendid address on "The Duties of Discipleship."

Among other things the speaker said: "This old world is suffering to day from sham more than anything else. The call to day is for prepared men. This is the need of the church. In order to build up a Christian character that will satisfy God we must hear the call of the Master. If any man would come after me let him take up his cross and follow me. We must be negatively good and positively righteous. We must deny ourselves of everything that is not in harmony with God's will in our lives. Leave alone everything the rightness of which is questioned, in your life. There is nothing that will hurt a Christian so much as the running out after the things that the sinner runs out after. Lots of Christians are courting danger. The world calls for a compromising Christianity. Jesus calls for an uncompromising Christianity. It's not the big, but the little sins that are damaging men. We are just as strong as the weakest point in our character. We should stand for the things of God regardless of the cost.

Prof. Huston sang, "I'll Live for Him."

The house was crowded to the utmost to hear Evangelist Coale discuss "Lifes Most Important Question" Tuesday evening. After an inspiring song service and fifteen minutes testimonial service, the evangelist spoke as follows:

"Prof. said: 'What will you do with Jesus who is called the Christ?' This is lifes most important question. Your salvation is wrapped up in this question. A holy life though important will not save. Jesus saves. The holy life is the outward manifestation of the Christ that is within. Our peace of mind, contentment and happiness depends upon what we do with Jesus. People in all the walks of life and in all conditions have found that Jesus was in the world to them. When you join Christ you will have peace. Take Christ as your own personal Savior and he will solve all your perplexing problems. In the time of storm the Christian has perfect peace.

Your obtaining eternal life itself depends upon what you do with Jesus. You've got to accept or reject him. You can't be neutral. Mr. Huston sang most effectively, "Jesus Will."

The house was well filled again Wednesday morning. In fact the day audiences are exceptionally large at these revival services. The singing is soulful and the sermons are exceptionally helpful, especially to all Christians. Mr. Huston sings one of his choicest solos at these morning services.

The Evangelist spoke on "What is Life?" as follows:

Life is an uncertain something. This is a land of funerals and grave yards. At any moment, and without warning, you may be called into eternity. Life is also a priceless something. We belong to Christ by creation and redemption. The throne place of the human heart belongs alone to Jesus Christ. You will have to answer for the way you have robbed Christ of that which belonged to him. Life is also the seed time of eternity. Heaven is going to be what you make it. The riches of this world perish with the handling. Lay your treasures up in heaven. What is your life retrospectively? The past hurts when you look at the evil deeds and misappart of it. That that makes any part of it worth while is the part that you gave to Jesus. What is your life introspectively? How are you living now, to day? What is your life prospectively? The best of the christian's life is not in the past nor in the present, but in the future. His life grows richer. It grows brighter to the christian who is in a true sense a member of God's life saving crew. The evening of life is the dawning of the eternal morning to the christian.

A great crowd heard a great sermon by evangelist Coale, his subject being "Excuses"

Evangelist Coale based his remarks on a part of the 14th chapter of Luke. Among other things he said: "Men make excuses today and have been doing it for six thousand years. All excuses are absurd. 'I don't like the preacher.' No one is trying to get you to like him. The preacher is bringing you a message. Pay no attention to the messenger, but accept the message. 'I can not understand the Bible.' You can understand the plan of salvation. That is enough. 'I'll not save; the blood of Christ saves. Jesus did not die because God hated us, but because God loved us. If God has his way you will not be saved some time but you will be saved tonight. God has made it hard and bitter for every sinner. You will not go far on the road to hell until you will come face to face with God's word. 'Prepare to meet thy God.' 'He that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.' God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son to save it. The only class of people that try to pick a racket with God's word is the fellow who is wrong. Kind words and deeds, the influence of Christians, a mothers teaching, prayers of loved ones, all are but so many impediments in your way to hell.

Evangelist Coale preached on the "surrendered life."

He stressed the value and importance of abiding in Christ, and the danger of departing from Him. In the Christians life 'absolutely everything depends' on being right with Christ. If your connection with Jesus Christ is tampered with you will wither and die. We are helpless without Jesus. The Master said to his disciples, "Without me ye can do nothing." Here the evangelist dwelt at some length upon the story of his life, saying that the three years I was away from Christ the darkest period of my life. "The Christian life is a life of restfulness, peace and satisfaction and not a wasted life. You will have nothing to worry and fret over if God leads you."

Surprise Shower

Last Tuesday evening, January 20, a surprise shower was given by the "Society Crowd" at the Leach home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Rogers. The newly-weds were away at the time of the arrival of the "Society crowd" but were quickly found, taken for an automobile ride, to the show, and finally back to the Leach home where beautiful presents awaited them.

LINEN AND SILVER SHOWER

Mrs. Washington E. Lindsay entertained at their beautiful and spacious home, on Thursday afternoon, January 22, 1914, with a linen and silver shower in honor of Mrs. Pearl Leach Rogers. Mrs. Rogers received many beautiful gifts, consisting of table linen, dresser scarfs, doilies, handkerchiefs, counterpanes and silverware.

AUTOMOBILE RIDE

Last Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rogers were highly entertained with a joy ride by courtesy of Bailey Stewart. The party returned to the Wilson home where a ten course dinner awaited them prepared by Mrs. Wilson and her charming daughter, Miss Dell.

Those who have had the pleasure of enjoying a dinner given by these people know that it is useless to try to adequately express its luxury.

You have a good farming country here and the best conditions for irrigation I know of. Water is plentiful, pure, shallow and cheap. There is surely a great future for the Portales Valley."

E. M. Trammell was in the city Monday and said to the Herald-Times man, "I take your paper and read everything in it an reread it."

A. J. Smith, of the firm of Trout and Smith, returned Tuesday from a trip to Texas points in the interest of his company.

CANTALOUPE MEETING

IMPORTANT CANTALOUPE MEETING

We believe it is time for all farmers to get together and hold a good strong meeting for the purpose of discussing the prospects for Cantaloupes for next year. Some very important letters have been received from various dealers desiring to handle the crop. X

There should be but one Association this year and the majority of the farmers should indicate what that Association should do. X

Mr. Cadwallader has sent in $25 cash to be awarded to the best field of cantaloupes last year. He is a little late but the money is here. How shall it be awarded? It is up to the farmers to decide this. Better be in at this meeting on January 31, at 1 o'clock p. m., sharp. Meeting to be held in the court room promptly at 1 o'clock Saturday January 31. X

In the District Court of Roosevelt Co. New Mexico
James B. Hart, plaintiff, vs.
Noel B. Pond, Emma Pond and George Grass, defendants.

The defendants: Noel B. Pond, Emma Pond, and George Grass or George Gross as his name may be being sued by both names, will take notice that a suit has been filed against them by the said plaintiff in said court, and same is now pending in said court, styled and numbered on the docket as above set forth.

The general object of said suit is to collect two notes, executed to plaintiff by defendants, Noel and Emma Pond, each dated, August 2nd, 1912, and being for one thousand dollars each, one due Aug. 2nd, 1913 and the other due Aug. 2nd, 1914, each bearing ten per cent per annum interest from date until paid and stipulating for the payment of ten per cent on the sum due thereon as attorneys fees, the principal interest, and attorneys fees as provided in said notes, being sued for in said action, it being alleged that the mortgage securing the due payment of said notes, stipulated that the indebtedness represented by both said notes should become due and payable upon failure to pay either of said notes or the interest thereon, as the same became due.

M., and have same decreed to be a lien on said premises paramount to the claims or interest of any of said defendants. It being alleged, that defendant, George Grass or George Gross, as his name may be, claims some interest in said lands, but if any he has, that same is inferior to the lien of plaintiff, and further that said premises be sold as provided by law for the payment of said indebtedness.

me as your correspondent. I wish to thank and commend you on your generous offer to the farmer readers of the Herald and I think that no man has ever lived long enough to master any profession, but by an interchange of ideas we keep adding to our knowledge. The time has passed when a man can make a success farming on a hit or miss plan. Farming has attained to a science on scientific principles and requires the application and careful study that an artist gives his subject to get all the best there is in his picture.

Hoping the Herald may reap the reward its faithful workers deserve.

Correspondant
Mrs. Sam J. Nixon

We feel like it is almost superfluous to mention the work of Mrs. S. J. Nixon in the success of the revival meeting. Her musical talent is well known throughout the city. She alternates at the piano with Mrs. W. Freeman. Prof. Huston says he has never had better than these two.

Mrs. Nixon has been a power in building up the choir at the Methodist church here, and her influence for good is everywhere felt.

B. F. Birdwell of Clovis was here on business Monday.

See us for job work, best yet.

Revival Music

Every minister and church worker knows that the music is a very important part of and very essential to the success of the meeting.

We are mentioning, from time to time, some of the things that are contributing to the success of the revival here. The music certainly deserves to be mentioned.

The singing is simply great. Prof. Huston said to the Herald-Times man, "I have never had better pianists than Mrs. Nixon and Mrs. Freeman, and seldom have I gotten together fifty persons who could best these fifty singers here. They sure can sing. And I am glad that we are having other instruments to help out in the song service. Isn't it great the way they sing. 'The Great Way of His Hand on Mine.'"

Rev. Carlton left first of the week for Texas points to buy a bunch of dairy cows for his farm and ranch in blackwater draw.

The entire Herald-Times force appreciate more than we can possibly express the numerous warm and spontaneous words of appreciation that have come to us from the best citizenship of Portales. Just to know our efforts are appreciated by such as these "is glory enough for us."

Whatever you do don't fail to read the Cents at Work column. Herald $1 a year and worth it.

Bell's Livery Outfit

T. E. Bell, proprietor of the Bell Livery Stable, moved his stable to South Main.

The editor of this paper has had occasion to use rigs from this stable a few times, and for safe, fancy drivers and nobby turnouts this stable is hard to beat.

The editor of this paper has had the good fortune to feast off the good of the land during the past few days. He has been invited, with other ministers of the town, to dine at the homes of Judge Nixon and W. Freeman. He enjoyed the fellowship, he enjoyed the hospitality, and, well, those who saw him eat do not doubt that he enjoyed the "eats."

W. B. Reid will leave this afternoon for Denver with a carload of sweet potatoes.

The arrangements have not been perfected, yet there will in all probability be a big union meeting Sunday evening in which all the ministers of the town will have part.

Evangelist Coale will preach his last sermon here at 10 a. m. Sunday as he leaves on the noon train where he begins a meeting Sunday evening at Carlsbad.

R. W. Connally is in Pecos Texas on business.

Miss Maggie Blankenship left for El Paso Tuesday where she will enter school.

Mrs. D. L. Genter, who has been visiting her father, E. M. Tramel, for some weeks, returned to her home at Wildorado, Texas, Monday.

Will Carlton, formerly manager of the Mountain State Telephone Co. here, but now manager of the same company at Ft. Sumner, passed through Portales Monday.

Will Kelly went to Elkins Monday.

Have you heard the chorus singing "The touch of His hand on mine"? If you have ever doubted that Portales has musical talent of a superior kind that doubt will be expelled if you attend the revival meeting and listen to the singing.

Commissioner C. V. Harris returned from Roswell Sunday.

It may mean big money to you to read the Cents at Work column. Mrs. S. E. Ward returned Wednesday from an extended visit with friends and relatives in the north.

Mrs. Culberson returned from Clovis Tuesday.

W. M. Preece, of the Pleasant View community, was a pleasant caller at this office Tuesday.

Portales Valley Land and Loan Co. have made a great many sales or trades during the past few weeks, in Portales Valley lands.

G. C. Grant, of Inez, took the train here Tuesday for Byers, Oklahoma, where he goes to visit with relatives for a month or two. He cashed up for the Herald Times.

A. L. Gregg, one of our big ranchmen, was a business visitor to Portales Tuesday. He purchased a lot of lumber with which to make some improvements at his ranch. Mr. Gregg reports stock as looking well.

Mrs. J. A. Bivens and little daughter returned from Mountain Air Tuesday where they have been for a month.

Just as another evidence that Portales is leading in everything we mention the fact that this city now boasts of the largest insurance agency in the entire state of New Mexico. In fact the Braley and Ball insurance agency is larger by one-third than any other insurance agency in this state. This agency represents three hundred and twenty-five million dollars.

Mrs. W. Freeman

It is hardly necessary to mention the work of Mrs. W. Freeman who so ably presides at the piano. Her power is well known. Her interest in the salvation of souls and consecration to the cause of the Master is beautiful and inspiring.

Mrs. Freeman is playing no small part in the success of the revival meeting.

Letter From B. B. Crim

Artesia N. M. 1-29-14. January 29, 1914.

Rev. W. E. Dawn.

Portales, New Mexico.

Dear Brother Dawn:

We closed one of the greatest meetings I ever saw last night at Lake Arthur. The Lord was in every service in great power. Fifty-four public professions of faith 36 additions. The only dive in town, pool hall, blind tiger and gambling den, sold out to the Lord, lock stock and barrel. The proprietor, a gambler, about 50 years, was saved Tuesday night. Yesterday morning appeared on his door, "Closed to serve the Lord." Last night we baptised him.
