EXPOSITION MANAGERS HERE

Col. R. E. Twitchell and other Members of Exposition Board in City

TO CONFER WITH COMMISSIONERS

In Regard to Funds to Advertise Roosevelt Co. At San Diego

Col. R. E. Twitchell, in company of the other members of the Board of Exposition Managers, is in Portales today to confer with the County Commissioners relative to funds for advertising Roosevelt county at the San Diego exposition in 1915.

Every county practically in the state have arranged and are arranging to be properly advertised at this exposition. Roosevelt county can not afford to let this splendid opportunity pass. It means more people for our county and consequently more money and better schools and churches and society.

Boy's Essay On Teeth

A fifth grade school boy down in southern Kansas was told by his teacher to write a composition on teeth, and handed in the following, according to the Topeka Capital:

"Teeth is growed in the mouths of most animals 'cept hens. The hens doesn't chew what she eats, she just swallows it and then says to her gizzard: go to it and see what you kin make out of that. My ant fanny she has store teeth which keeps droppin' down I ask her one day why she didn't throw them awa and git her a gizzard like a hen. Sometimes teeth akes awful. I don't know which is worst a tooth ake or a stummick ake. I've had both. There is this difference when yure tooth akes you git it pulled if you hev the nerve. I had a tooth pulled once by a doctor. He told me it wouldn't hurt. I believe all doctors is liars. There was another doctor who give me sum medicine and said it would taste good. he's a liar too.

"Teeth is a regular nuisance any way you take them. My maw makes me brush my teeth every day which there aint no sense in so fur as I kin see. if I hed my way there wouldn't be no more teeth we would all eat like a hen."

This week S. G. Bridges bought out the Portales Tailoring company and has taken charge of this establishment.

The former owner, Claud Cunningham has bought out a tailoring concern at Amarillo, Texas, where he is now busy at work.

Woman's Civic and Art Club

This club will meet with Mrs. T. E. Mears next Monday at 2 p. m. The meeting will be social in honor of Mrs. Wolford. Subject for conversation will be the $10 premium answer to the question reviewed some time since in regard to "Telling a secret." Also another question as to what advice an older women could give a younger, no age limit and non-subject given.

Miss Wilson Entertains

Saturday afternoon Miss Dell Wilson gave a "Farewell" party to the bride elect, Miss Marguerite Calloway.

The guests all arrived about four thirty and the next two hours spent in the Wilson home were spent very pleasantly and passed entirely too quick.

The first thing we were given cards with Portales, New Mexico written at the top and we were to pack Miss Calloway's suit case with things beginning with each of the seventeen letters written at the top of the card. Then on the side of the card was written Dallas, Texas, and we were to pack Mr. Waggoner's suit case. Of course this created much fun. Miss Marguerite Patterson won the prize for packing the brides suit case best and Miss Mattie Bell Hawkins won the prize for packing the grooms suit case the best.

We were then told to go over to a table where there were a bunch of letters and we were to work out the riddle. After some working, thinking and fun we finally arranged the letters so they spelled Calloway and Waggoner.

A delightful two course luncheon was then served. The first course was sandwiches and tea, the sandwiches being tied with ribbon with pictures of one of Marguerite's shoes and one of Henry's shoes. The second course was ice cream and cake.

After eating we decided to end our pleasure for the afternoon with a dance. We finally departed about 6:30 all reporting a very pleasant time.

Those present were Misses Calloway, Patterson, Monroe, Connolly, Hawkins, Mitchell, Horney, Terry, Smith, and Mrs. Calloway.

Pounded

Some of the members of the Central Christian church called at the home of their minister Monday evening and left his ladder considerably fuller of good things to eat and his heart fuller of joy.

After some time spent in a social way, the members retired carrying with them thanks and gratitude of the minister and his family.

Adolph Moleberger owner of "Valley View" ranch in the Rogers district was in the city last week singing the praises of good prospects and splendid season for bumper crops.

Dryland Farmers Make Good

John Nally of Mann P. O. was in town Saturday and calling upon Herald-Times said he was appreciative of the good booster spirit of this paper, but thought there might be more good things written of the land not under irrigation, as he was certain of many prosperous farmers besides himself who were doing well without pumping plants. In the Mann country they make their own sorghum and cane syrup, grow good feed crops and raise hogs, cows, and horses, chickens too plentiful to mention. Mr. Nally has 140 acres this year which he is planting to California wheat, sugar cane, feterita, broom corn, kafir, and milo maize. The Mann country is taking no back seat in the valley's development with no irrigation.

WAGGONER-CALLOWAY REV. WILLIAM LEWIS HECK

Mr. Henry Waggoner and Miss Marguerite Calloway Married

AT HOME OF BRIDES PARENTS

Monday Evening, May 4th. Left for Future Home in Dallas, Tues.

Mr. Henry C. Waggoner and Miss Marguerite Calloway were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Calloway, Monday evening at 8:30, Reverend Day officiating.

The words that made the two man and wife were spoken in the presence of only the family and immediate friends, being preceded by the wedding march played by Mrs. Nixon.

Mr. Waggoner is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Carr of this city and is at present a rising young business man of Dallas, Texas, being engaged in the banking business there with the First State bank. Miss Calloway is well known here, having received her education in the Portales schools and her many friends showed their appreciation of her by the many entertainment given in her honor during the week preceding the marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Waggoner left Wednesday for their future home in Dallas.

The Herald-Times extends to them the heartiest congratulations and wishes them the best in the new life they are entering.

W. C. French of Burkburnett, Texas, sends in a dollar and instructs us to keep the Herald-Times coming to him.

Passed to His Reward May Fifth, 1914. At His Home in City

WAS AN OLD AND RESPECTED CITIZEN

Was Laid to Rest in Portales Cemetery Wednesday May Eighth

Reverend William Lewis Heck passed to his reward, Tuesday May 5th, 1914 at 1:33 p. m.

Brother Heck had a final stroke of paralysis last Friday about noon and gradually grew worse until his death. He had been sick a great deal during his life and in his last illness suffered intensely but when the end came there seemed to be no pain and he fell gently asleep in Jesus.

He leaves a wife, one daughter a number of grand children and any number of loved friends to mourn his loss.

The funeral services were held at the Methodist church, Thursday at 2:30 p. m. and were conducted by the pastor, Reverend Calloway assisting. Acting on the request of Brother Heck of the old Wesleyan hymns were sung, being as follows: "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Rock of Ages." Two other old favorite songs were rendered. A sweet and fervent prayer by Brother Smith was then rendered after which an exhortation from John 11:26, "He that liveth and believeth on me shall never die" was given.

Brother Heck was converted when a young man and soon after his conversion was licensed to preach and sustained this honored relation until his death.

He was a royal Methodist, but while this was true he loved all men of every name and order. His daily life was a rebuke to sin

On the Wing

The Central Christian church has been on the wing, so to speak, this week. The members of this church have bought the building formerly occupied by the Herald Ptg. Co. and have moved it to their lots near the high school building. They propose to spend several hundred dollars in remodeling it when they will have a splendid work shop in which to do business for the Lord.

Bible school and communion services will be held in this building at the new location Sunday. You are invited.

Card of Thanks

We desire to express to the good people of Portales our thanks for their kind help rendered during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father. We shall never forget your kindness, and pray the blessings of the Father upon each and every one of you. — Mrs. W. L. Heck and family.

E. E. Massey and daughter, Miss Alice, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lockney Massey, were pleasant callers at this office Wednesday. Mr. Massey has lived near Rogers for eight years. He owns a section of that choice land and says he is here to stay. He is one of our most substantial citizens, and we are pleased to number him as one of the staunch friends of the Herald-Times.

W. B. Oldham and family left Wednesday for Dallas, their future home. Mr. Oldham was connected with the First National Bank of this city. He has accepted a responsible position with a hardware firm of Dallas. W. B. has a big bunch of friends here who wish him well.

J. J. Wilsford, of San Antonio, Texas, kicks in with another all-ver wheel for the Herald-Times.

W. O. Oldham transacted business in Clovis latter part of last week.

Mrs. A. A. Beeman of Elida is visiting friends in the city.

and sinners and yet he was so kind that they knew he had no better friends than he. It would be impossible to measure the good accomplished in his life of seventy-one years. Whenever able he was a regular attendant upon the services at the house of God and it truly can be said of him: "He was full of faith and good works."

The casket was covered with the choicest of flowers and the Methodist church was crowded to its limit with sorrowing friends and loved ones, there to pay their last respects to the deceased.

After the services the remains were taken to the cemetery, accompanied by a multitude of friends and theretaken in charge by the Odd Fellows and laid to rest to await the resurrection morn.

We have no doubt but that Brother Heck's spirit is now reunited with children, loved ones, and friends who preceded him to the better land.

May God bless abundantly that part of the family who are still on this side of the river and in a very special manner, Sister Heck. — A. C. BELL.

GOOD MONEY IN TURKEYS

J. B. Raymond With Only Two Turkeys Raises 62 Little Turks

WHICH NETTED $2.27 PER HEAD

Roosevelt County Is Beyond Doubt an Ideal Poultry Country

J. B. Raymond 4 miles West of Portales has made a record raising turkeys which is an eclipse among poultry raisers in any country.

Starting two turkey hens to laying, and breaking them from setting thus continuing their laying performance and setting their eggs under chicken hens, 62 turkeys were hatched and raised which Mr. Raymond sold for an average of $2.27 net. This record was made last year, and this year the system will be pursued with six turkey hens and more chicken hens which have agreed to mother the little turks no matter how far they may roam looking for worms and grasshoppers. Portales Valley climate the obliging hens and thrifty poultry men form an organization to supply Christmas and Thanksgiving dinner to great numbers. Andrew Kearns, Portales Civil engineer discovered this "turkey trot" in his rooms.

Notice of Sale of Bonds

The qualified electors of school district number thirty of Roosevelt county, New Mexico, having by a majority vote, at an election held on the 6th day of April, 1914 at which such question was submitted, authorized the issuance and sale of the negotiable bonds of said school district in the sum of five thousand dollars, and which said bonds will mature in twenty years, but optional with said district after ten years, and which bear interest at six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of January and July of each year, therefore Public notice is hereby given that I will on the first day of June, 1914, at my office in the courthouse at Portales, New Mexico, at the hour of eleven o'clock in the forenoon of said day, offer for sale to the highest bidder for cash the said issue of bonds of school district Number thirty of Roosevelt county, New Mexico.

Witness my hand at Portales, New Mexico, this 5th day of May, 1914.

MOSES R. JONES,
Treasurer of Roosevelt County, State of New Mexico. 20-4t.

J. H. Rigdon, erstwhile hotel proprietor of Virginia City during the Vaughn land boom of that vicinity was visiting Elida this week, lamenting the misdirected investments of those who bought land, and failed to mature profits in that section. Mr. Rigdon is a wiser, but not richer investor in land where water does not fall sufficiently to grow crops, but he will admit that his near neighbors in the shallow water district around Arch and Elida have everything to develop a prosperous country.

Benediction

Dr. Edmunds of the Lying In hospital, London, England, says: "Infants, nursed by mothers who drink much beer, are more likely to die of convulsions and diarrhoea while cutting their teeth than are the children of total abstinence mothers. Bear in mind that when you take wine, beer or brandy, you are distilling that wine, beer or brandy into your child's body. Probably nothing could be worse than to have the fabric of the child's tissues laid down from alcoholized blood."

Dr. Condi says: "The only drink of the nursing mother should be water and milk. All fermented and distilled liquors, as well as strong tea and coffee, she should strictly abstain from. Never was there a more absurd or pernicious notion than that wine, ale or porter is necessary to nursing mother to keep up her strength, or to increase the quantity or improve the properties of her milk. So far from producing these effects, such drinks, when taken in any quantity, invariably disturb more or less the health of the stomach and tend to impair the quality and diminish the quantity of nourishment furnished by her to her infant."

Dr. Edis of England says: "Infant mortality is mainly due to two causes, the substitution of farinaceous food for milk, and the delusion that alcohol or beer is necessary as an article of diet for nursing mothers. Countless disorders among infants are due simply and solely to the popular fallacy that the nursing mother cannot properly fulfil her duties unless she resorts to the aid of alcoholics."

There is not only danger of injury to the health of mother and child but also danger of fastening an uncontrollable desire for alcoholic drinks in one or both of these. Many young mothers have become secret or open drunkards through the use of beer during the nursing period, and multitudes of children have grown to manhood with the drunkard's appetite as the result of the alcoholized milk which as infants they absorbed from the maternal breast. Countless are the victims of alcoholic delusions!

CAN YOU AFFORD IT?

I hate drunkenness; but I do not hate the drunkard. If any man should have our friendship it is the man who has failed to be a friend to himself. The fact is, the victim of strong drink often has all the virtues—including high intelligence and a tender, sympathetic heart—and yet when the demon drink clutches him, his will is paralyzed and Satan is in the saddle. A few days ago I visited San Quentin prison and talked with a man in the "Death Row" who has since been hanged. "It was drink—just drink," he told me. "I was crazy, I was jealous, and I shot her. Then I shot myself. She died quickly. I recovered to be sent here. Next week I die. She was a beautiful, honest, loving wife to me, but drink had destroyed my reason."

I said nothing—what could I say? But I realized that the slow, lingering death of a drunkard's wife is no more tragic than the quick taking-off by knife or pistol. The worst about strong drink has never been told. It can not be told—it escapes the limitations of language. But I think we err in despising the drunkard. Our hearts should go out to him in pity. A part of his hallucination of ten is that he is not a drunkard. "I can quit any time," he says. But he who says that seldom quits until death stops his mouth. "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise." So said Solomon a thousand years before Christ. And the drink problem is upon us today, just as terrible, just as tragic, as it was then.—Elbert Hubbard, in Cosmopolitan Magazine.

IS IT ANYTHING TO YOU

Is it nothing to you if your neighbors children are deprived of pleasant surrounding and food and clothes, can mothers conscientiously look on them with a sort of luke warm indifferent sympathy, and pass on? If drink does not bother us in our own homes, is it not our duty to try to help others? Mothers we know not how soon our loved ones will be led into evil ways, down step by step into the lowest depths of degradation, misery, and crime, hopeless captives of vice that perhaps we considered a thing a part something fraught with no personal menace to our loved ones or to us. Again I say it is nothing to you perhaps some mothers will say it is nothing to me I have no sons and they, in their security, extend no helping hand to the mothers of sons who are striving to save them from the minds and soul destroying bondage of strong drink.

They have no sons so they go on their way, serenely unmindful of the fact that in a few short years their beloved daughter may give her life into the keeping of the youth whose mental and moral degradation has hitherto seemed a matter of no vital moment. We can not shirk our responsibilities and escape divine chastening the master laid this solemn charge upon his children "help ye one another."

I wish that every mother in our South land could realize the appalling need of this work. It is a tragical shame that the number of downfallen young men and women are increasing daily. It is a condition of affairs that is rapidly increasing all over the country we have got to fight it. It is worse than all of our wars, think of the thousands of young lives that are blighted every year. And shall we stand idly by apparently happy in its ignorance it is up to the churches, schools, and individuals and most of all the parents to save these boys and girls.

And mothers shall we not make an effort to rid our little town of the evil that surrounds our boys and girls we know not which of our boys or girls will be the victim of this vice. Again our Savior says "help ye one another" and the God of peace will bless our efforts.—Mrs. W. C. Carroll

(By CHARLES P. BLANTON)

FRANK T. McDONALD There is no greater optimism in the confidence for the highest development in Portales Valley than Frank T. McDonald who came to Portales in 1907 and bought a quarter section located two miles east of town. Selling 80 acres of his quarter Mr. McDonald has improved the remaining 20, making of it one of the prettiest farm homes in the valley. Besides regular farming and stock raising he has specialized in fruit and garden having also beautified his home by setting out a variety of ornamental trees and shrubbery. The bearing orchard consists of apples, peaches, plums, and cherries; a grape vineyard is bearing from which he sells a quantity, also makes a quality of wine equal to that produced in California. A great variety of berries such as blackberries, dewberries, gooseberries and currants grow to perfection and Mrs. McDonald makes preserves for her excellent table of a quality superior to the choicest brands bought in the stores.

Mr. McDonald continues to hold to his old Middle Tennessee training in his fondness for good horses, and pays special attention to breeding and raising horses and mules. He has a record brood mare in his herd of several good ones from which he has raised a fine colt each year for several years, and this year his crop of colts, both mules and horses is already harvested being three fine horses and two mule colts. Jersey cows come in for another share of interest upon the McDonald ranch, also hogs of which are produced the best stock and of more than enough to supply the table with real country ham the kind that makes red gravy.

When chickens and eggs are mentioned the McDonald place is one of the show places of the valley.

Mr. McDonald grows a large quantity of feed and this year is leasing 65 acres of alfalfa which irrigated.

Frank T. McDonald is one of Portales Valley's industrious and progressive farmers all of which his splendid pretty home will verify. Born at Bellwood in Willson county Middle Tennessee Mr. McDonald was reared on a farm early in life engaged in merchandising at Bellwood, and during a greater part of his life in old Tennessee he was prominent in politics having served a number of years as deputy sheriff under Capt. W. P. Bandy, of Lebanon, Tennessee and elected Judge of Justice court at Lebanon.

Mr. McDonald sold his farm at Bellwood moving to Amarillo, Texas, November 1902 where he was engaged in retail grocery business for four years when he sold out and came to Portales buying his quarter section home and farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. McDonald were married May 1880, Mrs. McDonald was Miss Blanch Catron of Willson county Tennessee and a sister to Will Catron of Lebanon who has been prominent in Willson county business and politics for many years, and now one of Lebanon's leading bankers.

There were seven children of the Frank T. McDonald family two daughters and five sons. The daughters are Mrs. W. S. Eakle, La Junta, Colorado, and Mrs. J. R. Tralinger, Amarillo, Texas. W. H. McDonald, manager and buyer of grocery department C. V. Harris, Portales, J. F. McDonald, Claremore, Oklahoma, and W. C. McDonald the junior members of the family at home and in school at Portales. Two little boys, Fred and F. T. Jr. died at the ages of two and four years. Frank T. McDonald has much to show what a man can accomplish in making a home and farm in Portales Valley and he has everything to make an ambitious man happy and contented.

HENRY TOWNSEND

Located in the choicest part of the great Portales Valley for his cattle business—Henry Townsend owns a section and a half or 160 acres of good land especially adapted to his use as farm and ranch, as the home place is adjoining the twelve sections which Mr. Townsend has leased for a term of years, and which he uses for cattle range. Henry Townsend is an exception among the Arch valley landlords in not having any land for sale. One good reason is he does not need the money to develop irrigated farming and it may be that his five splendid boys will take care of all the acreage in a few years.

Henry Townsend is a native of Eastland county Texas, spent his boyhood days in the saddle with some of the big cow outfits among them that of Dan Sully's "12 circle heart" and "14 circle F."

Henry Townsend came to Portales Valley in 1900, was early friend of banker, J. P. Stone, who came the same time. In 1903 filed upon present homestead, later buying more land he has developed a home and farm among the prettiest and best in all the Arch country and what he has made of his home place is nothing short of marvelous when it is known that there were no people, no fences nor wells in all that country except upon the headquarter ranch of the D. Z's. The trees and water upon the place are all the developments and growth of Henry Townsend and show what care and pride in making a "home beautiful" will do in the hands of a man who has the industrious qualities. The orchard four to seven years old and bearing, provides abundant quantities of apples, peaches, pears, cherries and berries. Mr. Townsend grows large crops of feed, and his Indian corn is a remarkable success. He cultivates two hundred acres which yields feed for his horses, milk cows and hogs, raising the finest blooded hogs he does not depend upon the packer for meat. While Henry Townsend is more of a farmer than the average one in the valley, he does this only as a side line, his main business is cattle; having now over five hundred head of cows, steers and calves on his range. He fed twenty-five tons of cotton seed cake since last November, thus proving there is a great per cent gain, derived from feeding in winter, he figures a possible 100 percent upon the feeding investments. Henry Townsend is breeding up his herd. He recently bought a Hereford bull of the famous "Beau Brommel" stock in Kansas, age five years weight 1720 pounds, name Jerome and none better registered. The calf crop this season is estimated between 175 and 200. The range is good pasture, is protected for winter and watered by four wind mills.

Henry Townsend is interested in two brands of cattle the "Hip O" and "Rafter O" and although he is busily engaged in his cattle business he finds time to give attention to his beautiful home place where he is prosperously providing a farming training for his boys; he is trustee of the Arch school, a generally recognized leader for progress and improvement socially and materially in the valley, the hospitality of Henry Townsend and the good housekeeper and splendid hostess that Mrs. Henry Townsend is has a name thruout the valley.

As a young man of 46 years Henry Townsend has a strong claim upon the friendship of Theodore Roosevelt, having eight intelligent, healthy children, three sweet little girls and five husky, rollicking boys who will qualify anywhere along the line from cow boys and farmers to business men and statesmen.

J. J. PINSON

There certainly is something fascinating about irrigation when an old time "cow puncher" can be lured to take up a shovel and wade around in the fields turning the water into the rows of a young orchard and on the alfalfa checks. Joe Pinson of the Arch Valley is the man who for his younger life was in the cow business on the Texas plains, employed several years on the D. K. ranch, and in fact has always been in the cattle business, is yet owner and breeder of a fine herd of Durham short horn which are of the best in the country, and with all his liking for a cow and steer, Joe Pinson has a pumping plant from which he is irrigating a young orchard, a garden tract, and 16 acres alfalfa. His 6 horse power engine is only an experiment but so much a success he will later enlarge the plant and put more land under irrigation. The cost of running the engine in fuel oil and other maintenance is 75 cents per 10 hours, delivering a stream of water estimated 500 gallons per minute. The well is 91 feet deep the water standing 8 feet from the surface. The water in the vicinity of Mr. Pinson's home is of the most shallow in the Arch Valley, an average of 8 feet. The well and plant cost was $350. Joe Pinson believes more crop production can be made upon 10 acres irrigated, than upon 80 acres without. His plan is to keep all his grass pastured by fine stock until he gets the land under irrigation, and lease grazing land as he requires more. He does not intend going out of the cattle business but breed up his grade of cattle which he is improving having bought a Durham bull from George Slaughter which was such a fine specimen Mr. Slaughter offered to pay back the purchase price plus 25 percent but Mr. Pinson declined. Good stock of hogs is another feature on the Pinson ranch there are a bunch of pigs which go a quarter mile to the alfalfa field, fill up, and come back in the barnlot and cry for skimmed milk of which there is a large supply from the latest patent separator used in the dairying industry on this ranch. Joe Pinson has a choice quarter section which he is improving, and by irrigation will make his farming pay handsomely, already he is producing sufficient to be independent and his home place is not for sale, however he owns and has charge of other land amounting to a section and half which he would sell to desirable people, and at price most reasonable considering the shallow water and fertility of the land. J. J. Pinson was born at Palestine in Anderson county Texas, moving to Bosque county where he lived several years before coming to Portales Valley in 1902 when he filed upon one fourth section near Eiland post office later buying his present home place and moving for permanent home in 1912.

Joe Pinson is a satisfied resident of the valley. His operations in stock raising and farming are fruitful of success, he has a very happy family and his son, Floyd, ranks high in his school, besides a right hand man to his father. As a man and neighbor J. J. Pinson enjoys the highest respect of the people in the town and country. He will continue to succeed as he so much deserves, and his type of men are valuable to a new growing country.

Albert Taylor Coming

Albert Taylor, the distinguished comedian is to be here in a brand new comedy "Lend me your baby" Tuesday evening the 12th at the Cosy.

The El Paso Herald has the following to say of Mr. Taylor:

There is something magnetic about this actor that draws a great personal following to him: While they talk about the plays Albert Taylor gives them, they talk mostly about Albert Taylor. Taylor always carries a good supporting company, including Miss Myrtle Hollingsworth and Ida Chester, and his presentations are so far above those of the average repertoire company that Albert Taylor is not classed by his followers as a repertoire actor; he is looked upon as an institution. His performance of "Lend Me Your Baby" Sunday night was an excellent one; his support capable, his audience pleased.

Get The Saving Habit

The biggest investment any young man can make is to "Form the habit of saving a little out of his earnings." Benjamin Franklin truly said, "Always taking out of the meal barrel and never putting in will get to the bottom after awhile." Put at least some of your money in the bank form the "saving habit." DO IT NOW, then when old age comes you will not regret the folly of youth. It is pitiable to be poor. Bank your money and have your money.

Dr. Edmunds of the Lying In hospital, London, England, says: "Infants, nursed by mothers who drink much beer, are more likely to die of convulsions and diarrhoea while cutting their teeth than are the children of total abstinence mothers. Bear in mind that when you take wine, beer or brandy, you are distilling that wine, beer or brandy into your child's body. Probably nothing could be worse than to have the fabric of the child's tissues laid down from alcoholized blood."

Dr. Condi says: "The only drink of the nursing mother should be water and milk. All fermented and distilled liquors, as well as strong tea and coffee, she should strictly abstain from. Never was there a more absurd or pernicious notion than that wine, ale or porter is necessary to nursing mother to keep up her strength, or to increase the quantity or improve the properties of her milk. So far from producing these effects, such drinks, when taken in any quantity, invariably disturb more or less the health of the stomach and tend to impair the quality and diminish the quantity of nourishment furnished by her to her infant."

Dr. Edis of England says: "Infant mortality is mainly due to two causes, the substitution of farinaceous food for milk, and the delusion that oil or beer is necessary as an article of diet for nursing mothers. Countless disorders among infants are due simply and solely to the popular fallacy that the nursing mother cannot properly fulfil her duties unless she resorts to the aid of alcoholics."

There is not only danger of injury to the health of mother and child but also danger of fastening an uncontrollable desire for alcoholic drinks in one or both of these. Many young mothers have become secret or open drunkards through the use of beer during the nursing period, and multitudes of children have grown to manhood with the drunkard's appetite as the result of the alcoholized milk which as infants they absorbed from the maternal breast. Countless are the victims of alcoholic delusions!

CAN YOU AFFORD IT?

I hate drunkenness; but I do not hate the drunkard. If any man should have our friendship it is the man who has failed to be a friend to himself. The fact is, the victim of strong drink often has all the virtues including high intelligence and a tender, sympathetic heart—and yet when the demon drink clutches him, his will is paralyzed and Satan is in the saddle. A few days ago I visited San Quentin prison and talked with a man in the "Death Row" who has since been hanged. "It was drink—just drink," he told me. "I was crazy, I was jealous, and I shot her. Then I shot myself. She died quickly. I recovered to be sent here next week I die. She was a beautiful, honest, loving wife to me, but drink had destroyed my reason."

I said nothing—what could I say? But I realized that the slow, lingering death of a drunkard's wife is no more tragic than the quick taking-off by knife or pistol.

The worst about strong drink has never been told. It can not be told—it escapes the limitations of language.

But I think we err in despising the drunkard. Our hearts should go out to him in pity.

A part of his hallucination of ten is that he is not a drunkard. "I can quit any time," he says. But he who says that seldom quits until death stops his mouth.

"Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise." So said Solomon a thousand years before Christ.

And the drink problem is upon us today, just as terrible, just as tragic, as it was then.—Elbert Hubbard, in Cosmopolitan Magazine.

IS IT ANYTHING TO YOU

Is it nothing to you if your neighbors children are deprived of pleasant surroundings and food and clothes, can mothers conscientiously look on them with a sort of luke warm indifferent sympathy, and pass on?

If drink does not bother us in our own homes, is it not our duty to try to help others? Mothers we know not how soon our loved ones will be led into evil ways, down step by step into the lowest depths of degradation, misery, and crime, hopeless captives of vice that perhaps we considered a thing a part something fraught with no personal menace to our loved ones or to us.

Again I say is it nothing to you perhaps some mothers will say it is nothing to me I have no sons and they, in their security, extend no helping hand to the mothers of sons who are striving to save them from the minds and soul destroying bondage of strong drink.

They have no sons so they go on their way, serenely unmindful of the fact that in a few short years their beloved daughter may give her life into the keeping of the youth whose mental and moral degradation has hitherto seemed a matter of no vital moment.

We can not shirk our responsibilities and escape divine chastening the master laid this solemn charge upon his children "help ye one another."

I wish that every mother in our South land could realize the appalling need of this work. It is a tragic shame that the number of downfallen young men and women are increasing daily. It is a condition of affairs that is rapidly increasing all over the country we have got to fight it.

It is worse than all of our wars think of the thousands of young lives that are blighted every year. And shall we stand idly by apparently happy in its ignorance it is up to the churches, schools, and individuals and most of all the parents to save these boys and girls.

And mothers shall we not make an effort to rid our little town of the evil that surrounds our boys and girls we know not which of our boys or girls will be the victim of this vice. Again our Savior says "help ye one another" and the God of peace will bless our efforts.—Mrs. W. C. Carroll

FRANK T. McDONALD

There is no greater optimist in the confidence for the highest development in Portales Valley than Frank T. McDonald who came to Portales in 1907 and bought a quarter section located two miles east of town. Selling 80 acres of his quarter Mr. McDonald has improved the remaining 20, making of it one of the prettiest farm homes in the valley. Besides regular farming and stock raising he has specialized in fruit and garden having also beautified his home by setting out a variety of ornamental trees and shrubbery. The bearing orchard consists of apples, peaches, plums, and cherries; a grape vineyard is bearing from which he sells a quantity, also makes a quality of wine equal to that produced in California. A great variety of berries such as blackberries, dewberries, gooseberries and currants grow to perfection and Mrs. McDonald makes preserves for her excellent table of a quality superior to the choicest brands bought in the stores.

Mr. McDonald continues to hold to his old Middle Tennessee training in his fondness for good horses, and pays special attention to breeding and raising horses and mules. He has a record brood mare in his herd of several good ones from which he has raised a fine colt each year for several years, and this year his crop of colts, both mules and horses is already harvested being three fine horses and two mule colts. Jersey cows come in for another share of interest upon the McDonald ranch, also hogs of which are produced the best stock and of more than enough to supply the table with real country ham the kind that makes red gravy.

When chickens and eggs are mentioned the McDonald place is one of the show places of the valley. Mr. McDonald grows a large quantity of feed and this year is leasing 65 acres of alfalfa which irrigated.

Frank T. McDonald is one of Portales Valley's industrious and progressive farmers all of which his splendid pretty home will verify. Born at Bellwood in Willson county Middle Tennessee Mr. McDonald was reared on a farm early in life engaged in merchandising at Bellwood, and during a greater part of his life in old Tennessee he was prominent in politics having served a number of years as deputy sheriff under Capt. W. P. Bandy, of Lebanon, Tennessee and elected Judge of Justice court at Lebanon.

Mr. McDonald sold his farm at Bellwood moving to Amarillo, Texas, November 1902 where he was engaged in retail grocery business for four years when he sold out and came to Portales buying his quarter section home and farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. McDonald were married May 1880, Mrs. McDonald was Miss Blanch Catron of Willson county Tennessee and a sister to Will Catron of Lebanon who has been prominent in Willson county business and politics for many years, and now one of Lebanon's leading bankers.

There were seven children of the Frank T. McDonald family two daughters and five sons. The daughters are Mrs. W. S. Eakle, La Junta, Colorado, and Mrs. J. R. Tralinger, Amarillo Texas. W. H. McDonald, manager and buyer of grocery department C. V. Harris, Portales, J. F. McDonald, Claremore, Oklahoma, and W. C. McDonald the junior members of the family at home and in school at Portales. Two little boys, Fred and F. T. Jr. died at the ages of two and four years. Frank T. McDonald has much to show what a man can accomplish in making a home and farm in Portales Valley and he has everything to make an ambitious man happy and contented.

HENRY TOWNSEND

Located in the choicest part of the great Portales Valley for his cattle business—Henry Townsend owns a section and a half or 960 acres of good land especially adapted to his use as farm and ranch, as the home place is adjoining the twelve sections which Mr. Townsend has leased for a term of years, and which he uses for cattle range. Henry Townsend is an exception among the Arch valley landlords in not having any land for sale. One good reason is he does not need the money to develop irrigated farming and it may be that his five splendid boys will take care of all the acreage in a few years.

Henry Townsend is a native of Eastland county Texas, spent his boyhood days in the saddle with some of the big cow outfits among them that of Dan Sulley's "12 circle heart" and "14 circle F."

Henry Townsend came to Portales Valley in 1900, was early friend of banker, J. P. Stone, who came the same time. In 1903 filed upon present homestead, later buying more land he has developed a home and farm among the prettiest and best in all the Arch country and what he has made of his home place is nothing short of marvelous when it is known that there were no people, no fences nor wells in all that country except upon the headquarter ranch of the D. Z's.

The trees and water upon the place are all the developments and growth of Henry Townsend and show what care and pride in making a "home beautiful" will do in the hands of a man who has the industrious qualities. The orchard four to seven years old and bearing, provides abundant quantities of apples, peaches, pears, cherries and berries. Mr. Townsend grows large crops of feed, and his Indian corn is a remarkable success. He cultivates two hundred acres which yields feed for his horses, milk cows and hogs, raising the finest blooded hogs he does not depend upon the packer for meat. While Henry Townsend is more of a farmer than the average one in the valley, he does this only as a side line, his main business is cattle; having now over five hundred head of cows, steers and calves on his range. He fed twenty-five tons of cotton seed cake since last November, thus proving there is a great per cent gain, derived from feeding in winter, he figures a possible 100 percent upon the feeding investments. Henry Townsend is breeding up his herd. He recently bought a Hereford bull of the famous "Beau Brommel" stock in Kansas, age five years weight 1720 pounds, name Jerome and none better registered. The calf crop this season is estimated between 175 and 200. The range is good pasture, is protected for winter and watered by four wind mills.

Henry Townsend, is interested in two brands of cattle the "Hip O" and "Rafter O" and although he is busily engaged in his cattle business he finds time to give attention to his beautiful home place where he is prosperously providing a farming training for his boys; he is trustee of the Arch school, a generally recognized leader for progress and improvement socially and materially in the valley; the hospitality of Henry Townsend and the good housekeeper and splendid hostess that Mrs. Henry Townsend is has a name thruout the valley.

J. J. PINSON

There certainly is something fascinating about irrigation when an old time "cow puncher" can be lured to take up a shovel and wade around in the fields turning the water into the rows of a young orchard and on the alfalfa checks. Joe Pinson of the Arch Valley is the man who for his younger life was in the cow business on the Texas plains, employed several years on the D. K. ranch, and in fact has always been in the cattle business, is yet owner and breeder of a fine herd of Durham short horn which are of the best in the country, and with all his liking for a cow and steer, Joe Pinson has a pumping plant from which he is irrigating a young orchard, a garden tract, and 16 acres alfalfa. His 8 horse power engine is only an experiment but so much a success he will later enlarge the plant and put more land under irrigation. The cost of running the engine in fuel oil and other maintenance is 75 cents per 10 hours, delivering a stream of water estimated 500 gallons per minute. The well is 91 feet deep the water standing 8 feet from the surface. The water in the vicinity of Mr. Pinson's home is of the most shallow in the Arch Valley, an average of 8 feet. The well and plant cost was $350. Joe Pinson believes more crop production can be made upon 10 acres irrigated, than from 80 acres without. His plan is to keep all his grass pastured by fine stock until he puts the land under irrigation, and lease ground land as he requires more. He does not intend going out of the cattle business but breed up the grade of cattle which he is improving having bought a Durham bull from George Slaughter which was such a fine specimen Mr. Slaughter offered to pay back the purchase price plus 25 per cent but Mr. Pinson declined. Good stock of hogs is another feature on the Pinson ranch there are a bunch of pigs which go a quarter mile to the alfalfa field, fill up, and come back to the barnlot and cry for skimmed milk of which there is a large supply from the latest patent separator used in the dairying industry on this ranch. Joe Pinson has a choice quarter section which he is improving, and by irrigation will make his farming pay handsomely, already he is producing sufficient to be independent and his home place is not for sale, however he owns and has charge of other land amounting to a section and half which he would sell to desirable people, and at price most reasonable considering the shallow water and fertility of the land. J. J. Pinson was born at Palestine in Anderson county Texas, moving to Bosque county where he lived several years before coming to Portales Valley in 1902 when he filed upon one fourth section near Eiland post office later buying his present home place and moving for permanent home in 1912.

Joe Pinson is a satisfied resident of the valley. His operations in stock raising and farming are fruitful of success, he has a very happy family and his son, Floyd, ranks high in his school, besides a right hand man to his father. As a man and neighbor J. J. Pinson enjoys the highest respect of the people in the town and country. He will continue to succeed as he so much deserves, and his type of men are valuable to a new growing country.

Albert Taylor Coming

Albert Taylor, the distinguished comedian is to be here in a brand new comedy "Lend me your baby" Tuesday evening the 12th at the Cozy.

The El Paso Herald has the following to say of Mr. Taylor:

There is something magnetic about this actor that draws a great personal following to him: While they talk about the plays Albert Taylor gives them, they talk mostly about Albert Taylor. Taylor always carries a good supporting company, including Miss Myrtle Hollingsworth and Ida Chester, and his presentations are so far above those of the average repertoire company that Albert Taylor is not classed by his followers as a repertoire actor; he is looked upon as an institution. His performance of "Lend Me Your Baby" Sunday night was an excellent one; his support capable, his audience pleased.

Notice of Pendency of Action

The State of New Mexico, to J. A. McCarty and S. H. Duncan, greeting.

You will take notice that a suit has been filed against you in the district court of the fifth judicial district of the state of New Mexico, in and for Roosevelt county, wherein M. C. The general objects of said action are as follows.

The plaintiff sues to recover judgment upon a promissory note and mortgage executed and delivered by the defendants, Adam G. Trout and Irene Trout to the plaintiff on the 15th day of January, 1910 for the sum of six hundred dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum from the 15th day of January, 1913, ten per cent. additional upon said amount for attorney's fees, the further sum of $23.62 paid by plaintiff for defendant for taxes assessed against the land hereinafter described, and all costs of this action.

The plaintiff also seeks to foreclose said mortgage given by said defendants Trouts, for the security of said note, upon the following described real estate, to-wit:

The northwest quarter of section twenty one in township one south of range thirty five east of New Mexico meridian, New Mexico, with all improvements thereon; to have plaintiff, a said mortgage declared a first and prior lien against said premises, and superior to any claim, or right of the defendants, McCarty and Duncan, who are alleged to claim under conveyances subject to the plaintiff's said mortgage to have said premises sold, and the proceeds of such sale applied to the satisfaction of plaintiff's said demands and all costs of suit.

You are further notified that unless you appear in said cause on or before the 30th day of June, 1914, judgment by default will be rendered against you in said cause, and the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

ALCOHOL AND NURSING MOTHERS

Dr. Edmunds of the Lying-In hospital, London, England, says: "Infants, nursed by mothers who drink much beer, are more likely to die of convulsions and diarrhoea while cutting their teeth than are the children of total abstinence mothers. Bear in mind that when you take wine, beer or brandy, you are distilling that wine, beer or brandy into your child's body. Probably nothing could be worse than to have the fabric of the child's tissues laid down from alcoholized blood."

Dr. Condi says: "The only drink of the nursing mother should be water and milk. All fermented and distilled liquors, as well as strong tea and coffee, she should strictly abstain from. Never was there a more absurd or pernicious notion than that wine, ale or porter is necessary to nursing mother to keep up her strength, or to increase the quantity or improve the properties of her milk. So far from producing these effects, such drinks, when taken in any quantity, invariably disturb more or less the health of the stomach and tend to impair the quality and diminish the quantity of nourishment furnished by her to her infant."

Dr. Edis of England says: "Infant mortality is mainly due to two causes, the substitution of farinaceous food for milk, and the delusion that all or beer is necessary as an article of diet for nursing mothers. Countless disorders among infants are due simply and solely to the popular fallacy that the nursing mother cannot properly fulfil her duties unless she resorts to the aid of alcoholics."

There is not only danger of injury to the health of mother and child but also danger of fastening an uncontrollable desire for alcoholic drinks in one or both of these. Many young mothers have become secret or open drunkards through the use of beer during the nursing period, and multitudes of children have grown to manhood with the drunkard's appetite as the result of the alcoholized milk which as infants they absorbed from the maternal breast. Countless are the victims of alcoholic delusions!

CAN YOU AFFORD IT?

I hate drunkenness; but I do not hate the drunkard.

If any man should have our friendship it is the man who has failed to be a friend to himself.

The fact is, the victim of strong drink often has all the virtues—including high intelligence and a tender, sympathetic heart—and yet when the demon drink clutches him, his will is paralyzed and Satan is in the saddle.

A few days ago I visited San Quentin prison and talked with a man in the "Death Row" who has since been hanged.

"It was drink—just drink," he told me. "I was crazy, I was jealous, and I shot her. Then I shot myself. She died quickly. I recovered to be sent here. Next week I die. She was a beautiful, honest, loving wife to me, but drink had destroyed my reason."

I said nothing—what could I say? But I realized that the slow, lingering death of a drunkard's wife is no more tragic than the quick taking-off by knife or pistol.

The worst about strong drink has never been told. It can not be told—it escapes the limitations of language.

But I think we err in despising the drunkard. Our hearts should go out to him in pity.

A part of his hallucination often is that he is not a drunkard. "I can quit any time," he says. But he who says that seldom quits until death stops his mouth.

"Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise." So said Solomon a thousand years before Christ.

And the drink problem is upon us today, just as terrible, just as tragic, as it was then.—Elbert Hubbard, in Cosmopolitan Magazine.

IS IT ANYTHING TO YOU?

Is it nothing to you if your neighbors children are deprived of pleasant surrounding and food and clothes, can mothers conscientiously look on them with a sort of luke warm indifferent sympathy, and pass on?

If drink does not bother us in our own homes, is it not our duty to try to help others? Mothers we know not how soon our loved ones will be led into evil ways, down step by step into the lowest depths of degradation, misery, and crime, hopeless captives of vice that perhaps we considered a thing a part something fraught with no personal menace to our loved ones or to us.

Again I say is it nothing to you perhaps some mothers will say it is nothing to me I have no sons and they, in their security, extend no helping hand to the mothers of sons who are striving to save them from the minds and soul destroying bondage of strong drink.

They have no sons so they go on their way, serenely unmindful of the fact that in a few short years their beloved daughter may give her life into the keeping of the youth whose mental and moral degradation has hitherto seemed a matter of no vital moment.

We can not shirk our responsibilities and escape divine chastening the master laid this solemn charge upon his children "help ye one another."

I wish that every mother in our South land could realize the appalling need of this work. It is a tragical shame that the number of downfallen young men and women are increasing daily. It is a condition of affairs that is rapidly increasing all over the country we have got to fight it.

It is worse than all of our wars think of the thousands of young lives that are blighted every year. And shall we stand idly by apparently happy in its ignorance it is up to the churches, schools, and individuals and most of all the parents to save these boys and girls.

And mothers shall we not make an effort to rid our little town of the evil that surrounds our boys and girls we know not which of our boys or girls will be the victim of this vice. Again our Savior says "help ye one another," and the God of peace will bless our efforts.—Mrs. W. C. Carroll

There is no greater optimist in the confidence for the highest development in Portales Valley than Frank T. McDonald who came to Portales in 1907 and bought a quarter section located two miles east of town. Selling 80 acres of his quarter Mr. McDonald has improved the remaining 20, making of it one of the prettiest farm homes in the valley. Besides regular farming and stock raising he has specialized in fruit and garden having also beautified his home by setting out a variety of ornamental trees and shrubbery. The bearing orchard consists of apples, peaches, plums, and cherries; a grape vineyard is bearing from which he sells a quantity, also makes a quality of wine equal to that produced in California. A great variety of berries such as blackberries, dewberries, gooseberries and currants grow to perfection and Mrs. McDonald makes preserves for her excellent table of a quality superior to the choicest brands bought in the stores.

Mr. McDonald continues to hold to his old Middle Tennessee training in his fondness for good horses, and pays special attention to breeding and raising horses and mules. He has a record brood mare in his herd of several good ones from which he has raised a fine colt each year for several years, and this year his crop of colts, both mules and horses is already harvested being three fine horses and two mule colts. Jersey cows come in for another share of interest upon the McDonald ranch, also hogs of which are produced the best stock and of more than enough to supply the table with real country ham the kind that makes red gravy.

When chickens and eggs are mentioned the McDonald place is one of the show places of the valley.

Mr. McDonald grows a large quantity of feed and this year is leasing 65 acres of alfalfa which irrigated.

Frank T. McDonald is one of Portales Valley's industrious and progressive farmers all of which his splendid pretty home will verify. Born at Bellwood in Willson county Middle Tennessee Mr. McDonald was reared on a farm early in life engaged in merchandising at Bellwood, and during a greater part of his life in old Tennessee he was prominent in politics having served a number of years as deputy sheriff under Capt. W. P. Bandy, of Lebanon, Tennessee and elected Judge of Justice court at Lebanon. Mr. McDonald sold his farm at Bellwood moving to Amarillo, Texas, November 1902 where he was engaged in retail grocery business for four years when he sold out and came to Portales buying his quarter section home and farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. McDonald were married May 1880. Mrs. McDonald was Miss Blanch Catron of Willson county Tennessee and a sister to Will Catron of Lebanon who has been prominent in Willson county business and politics for many years, and now one of Lebanon's leading bankers.

There were seven children of the Frank T. McDonald family two daughters and five sons. The daughters are Mrs. W. S. Eakle, La Junta, Colorado, and Mrs. J. R. Trullinger, Amarillo, Texas. W. H. McDonald, manager and buyer of grocery department C. V. Harris, Portales, J. F. McDonald, Claremore, Oklahoma, and W. C. McDonald the junior members of the family at home and in school at Portales. Two little boys; Fred and F. T. Jr. died at the ages of two and four years. Frank T. McDonald has much to show what a man can accomplish in making a home and farm in Portales Valley and he has everything to make an ambitious man happy and contented.

HENRY TOWNSEND

Located in the choicest part of the great Portales Valley for his cattle business—Henry Townsend owns a section and a half or 960 acres of good land especially adapted to his use as farm and ranch, as the home place is adjoining the twelve sections which Mr. Townsend has leased for a term of years, and which he uses for cattle range. Henry Townsend is an exception among the Arch valley landlords in not having any land for sale. One good reason is he does not need the money to develop irrigated farming and it may be that his five splendid boys will take care of all the acreage in a few years.

Henry Townsend is a native of Eastland county Texas, spent his boyhood days in the saddle with some of the big cow outfits among them that of Dan Sully's "1-2 circle heart" and "1-4 circle F."

Henry Townsend came to Portales Valley in 1900, was early friend of banker, J. P. Stone, who came the same time. In 1903 filed upon present homestead, later buying more land he has developed a home and farm among the prettiest and best in all the Arch country and what he has made of his home place is nothing short of marvelous when it is known that there were no people, no fences nor wells in all that country except upon the headquarter ranch of the D. Z's. The trees and water upon the place are all the developments and growth of Henry Townsend, and show what care and pride in making a "home beautiful" will do in the hands of a man who has the industrious qualities. The orchard four to seven years old and bearing, provides abundant quantities of apples, peaches, pears, cherries and berries. Mr. Townsend grows large crops of feed, and his Indian corn is a remarkable success. He cultivates two hundred acres which yields feed for his horses, milk cows and hogs, raising the finest blooded hogs he does not depend upon the packer for meat. While Henry Townsend is more of a farmer than the average one in the valley, he does this only as a side line, his main business is cattle; having now over five hundred head of cows, steers and calves on his range. He feeds twenty-five tons of cotton seed cake since last November, thus proving there is a great per cent gain, derived from feeding in winter, he figures a possible 100 percent upon the feeding investments. Henry Townsend is breeding up his herd. He recently bought a Hereford bull of the famous "Beau Brommel" stock in Kansas, age five years weight 1720 pounds, name Jerome and none better registered. The calf crop this season is estimated between 175 and 200. The range is good pasture, is protected for winter and watered by four wind mills.

Henry Townsend, is interested in two brands of cattle the "Hip O" and "Rafter O" and although he is busily engaged in his cattle business he finds time to give attention to his beautiful home place where he is prosperously providing a farming training for his boys; he is trustee of the Arch school, a generally recognized leader for progress and improvement socially and materially in the valley; the hospitality of Henry Townsend and the good housekeeper and splendid hostess that Mrs. Henry Townsend is has a name thruout the valley.

J. J. PINSON

There certainly is something fascinating about irrigation when an old time "cow puncher" can be lured to take up a shovel and wade around in the fields turning the water into the rows of a young orchard and on the alfalfa checks. Joe Pinson of the Arch Valley is the man who for his younger life was in the cow business on the Texas plains, employed several years on the D. K. ranch, and in fact has always been in the cattle business, is yet owner and breeder of a fine herd of Durham short horn which are of the best in the country, and with all his liking for a cow and steer, Joe Pinson has a pumping plant from which he is irrigating a young orchard, a garden tract, and 16 acres alfalfa. His 6 horse power engine is only an experiment but so much a success he will later enlarge the plant and put more land under irrigation. The cost of running the engine in fuel oil and other maintenance is 75 cents per 10 hours, delivering a stream of water estimated 500 gallons per minute. The well is 91 feet deep the water standing 8 feet from the surface. The water in the vicinity of Mr. Pinson's home is of the most shallow in the Arch Valley, an average of 8 feet. The well and plant cost was $350. Joe Pinson believes more crop production can be made upon 10 acres irrigated, than from 80 acres without. His plan is to keep all his grass pastured fine stock until he gets the land under irrigation, and lease grass land as he requires more. He does not intend going out of the cattle business but breed up a grade of cattle which he is improving having bought a Durham bull from George Slaughter which was such a fine specimen. Mr. Slaughter offered to pay back the purchase price plus 25 per cent but Mr. Pinson declined. Good stock of hogs is another feature on the Pinson ranch there are a bunch of pigs which go a quarter mile to the alfalfa field, fill up, and come back to the barnlot and cry for skimmed milk of which there is a large supply from the latest patent separator used in the dairying industry on this ranch. Joe Pinson has a choice quarter section which he is improving, and by irrigation will make his farming pay handsomely, already he is producing sufficient to be independent and his home place is not for sale, however he owns and has charge of other land amounting to a section and half which he would sell to desirable people, and at price most reasonable considering the shallow water and fertility of the land. J. J. Pinson was born at Palestine in Anderson county Texas, moving to Bosque county where he lived several years before coming to Portales Valley in 1902 when he filed upon one fourth section near Eland post office later buying his present home place and moving for permanent home in 1912.

Joe Pinson is a satisfied resident of the valley. His operations in stock raising and farming are fruitful of success, he has a very happy family and his son, Floyd, ranks high in his school, besides a right hand man to his father. As a man and neighbor J. J. Pinson enjoys the highest respect of the people in the town and country. He will continue to succeed as he so much deserves, and his type of men are valuable to a new growing country.

There is something magnetic

While they talk about the plays talk mostly about Albert Taylor.

Taylor always carries a good sup-

Albert Taylor is not classed by

Get The Saving Habit

The biggest investment any young man can make is to "Form the habit of saving a little out of his earnings."
Benjamin Franklin truly said, "Always taking out of the meal barrel and never putting in will get to the bottom after awhile." Put at least some of your money in the bank form the "saving habit." DO IT NOW, then when old age comes you will not regret the folly of youth. It is pitiable to be poor. Bank your money and have your money.
