This in itself being substantial evidence that the business is a suc-

SUDAN GRASS,

(From The Clovis Journal.) this wonderful grass that we will not pretend to give its origin or history, from observation in Curry County. The attention of the Clovis Chamber of Commerce was called to this grass through numerous newspaper articles; and, desiring to assist all they could in bettering conditions on the farm, the Chamber of Commerce bought 65 pounds of this grass seed, paying $1.75 and $2.00 per pound for t. One hundred packages of a half pound each were placed with as many farmers over the county, under contract to return to the Chamber of Commerce one-fifth of all seed raised. Five pounds were placed with Due from state and private Liebelt Bros, five pounds with Dock banks and bankers, Trust Sparks and five pounds with I. T. Moore. The Liebelt Bros., have threshed from the five pounds planted 1500 pounds, or three hundred times as much as planted. From one of the half pound packages 215 pounds were threshed, so that a very conservative estimate places the amount of seed that will be threshed from the 85 pounds put out by the Chamber of Commerce, at 20,000 pounds. Individual farmers bought and planted about 85 pounds. Figuring this will yield in the same proportion. Curry County will produce 45,000 to 50,000 pounds of seed this year.

Besides the seed about two ton of straw is obtained per acre. straw is a splendid feed for any kind of stock. Much better for horses than millet or sorghum, and should be worth from $8 to $10 per ton. After seed crop is taken off there should be a cutting of hay from a ton to a ton and a half per acre. This seed will retail this year at $1 per pound. It will be no trouble to find a market for it, as every farmer in Curry County will want to plant from 10 to 20 pounds, and inquiries are coming in from almost every county in New Mexico; as well as from Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado. The Chamber of Commerce, of Clovis, will handle the seed raised by the farmers of this county. and can furnish seed to anyone wanting it, at $1 per pound.

There are three distinct kinds of this grass, all good, and farmers should bear this in mind that the black cap, the red cap, or the cream color all should be saved. We mention this as we heard of one farmer who pulled out all the black and red caps. Save it all, plant more next year, and tell vour neighbors about it. Even should the price go as low as 25c a pound next year-which we doubt very much-your Sudan erop would still be worth from $100 to $150 per acre, and this year it will be worth better than $500 per acre. The Clovis Chamber of Commerce did Curry County a great service when they succeeded in getting more than 100 farmers to try Sudan Grass this

THE PANHANDLE STATE FAIR.

Elsewhere in this issue appears an announcement of the Second Annual Exhibition of the Panhandle State Fair. Every resident of Northwest Texas should take an interest in this great enterprise. It is a movement on the part of all of us to bring to the notice of the outside world the unexcelled agricultural possibilities of our section of the Southwest. Our WL county and every other Panhandle and South Plains country hould be represented at this Fair. our people should arrange to attend the Fair in large numbers. The Fair munagement has left nothing undong which might contribute to our enteertainment instruction and comfort. Let us respond to the hearty invitation and contribute our full share toward the success of this laudable en-

Six hundred of the famous fat-tailed sheep—the royal sheep of Persia found only on the ranch of Buffalo Jones, in this country, were brought in. The other "product" was a charming young woman, Mrs. Offve Jones Whitmer, daughter of Buffalo Jones. "I am much interested in this brand

"We thought they could be raised in this country, and they can. We now have 1,800 Persian sheep, part pure blooded and the rest crossbreeds, all descendants of the original

These sheep have large, full tails. whence their name. Their wool is much finer than that of the ordinary sheep, and their meat is said to lack the usual "mutton" taste. They were purchased by the W. M. Leitch Sheep company in the Live Stock Exchange building .- K. C. Post.

THIRTY MILLION ACRES ARE STILL OPEN TO ENTRY

Santa Fe, Aug. 22.—Slightly more than 38 per cent of the area of New Mexico, or to be exact, 30,104,843 acres, remain public domain subject to entry under the federal land laws. this is the statement of the general land office for the fiscal year ending June 30, just received by the land office here. Incidentally, that is the earliest in the year that these statistics have ever been received in Santa

True, thirty million acres is a nicesized kingdom, an area greater than the entire state of Pennsylvania or New York, yet, it is what remains after picking the best lands out of 78,000,000 acres and is fifty per cent less than the area of the public do main ten years ago. Of those 30,000,-000 acres, one-third still remains to be officially surveyed

Public Domain Dwindling. How the public area is dwindling and how crowded New Mexico is already becoming is more apparent in some sections than others. In the Clayton land district, for instance, only 757,100 acres remain open to eutry and that means that the Clayton land office will be closed within the next few years. In the Tucumcari land district, only 418,580 acres are public domain and that office, another office.

It also means that the growth of the dry farming section in northeastern New Mexico from homesteading has practically ceased. The Fort Sumner district still has 1,910,451 acres and the Roswell district 7,531, 357 acres, but the Las Cruces district has 11,634,465 acres of public domain or more than the Clayton, Fort Sumner, Tucumcari and Ros-well districts taken together, while the Santa Fe district has 7,852,820 acres, so that two-thirds of the public domain is in western New Mexico and only one-third remains in the eastern portion of the state

Time for Seeding: The time for seeding wheat must necessarily vary according to the season and location. For Kansas and Oklahoma conditions, the best wheat crops usually come from sowing from September 15 to October 15, provided that the seasons are favorable.

For Northwestern Texas conditions, later sowing has proven more successful, the time being from October 1 to November 1, depending on the seas-Sowing as late as December 1. often produces good results.

Good Seed: Too much cannot be said in favor of good, pure seed. Much of the wheat used for seed this fall will doubtless be badly mixed and of an inferior quality. It pays to sow good seed, even if it has to be secured at prices above the average market. Turkey Red and Kharkof wheats will be found as good varieties as may be obtained for our conditions. These are both hardy winter varieties of excellent milling and good yielding Quanity of Seed to Sow: Wheat raisers continue to make the mistake of sowing too much seed. For Kansas and Oklahoma conditions 45 pounds of seed per acre is usually sufficient, provided that the wheat is sown in season in well prepared ground. Under no conditions should we sow more than one bushel per acre. For Northwestern Texas conditions, 30 pounds of seed per acre is sufficient, if sown in well prepared ground, and 25 pounds per acre is usually enough. We must give the wheat a chance to stool, which it cannot do if sown too thickly.

Treatment for Smut: It is a good plan to treat all seed wheat for smut, whether the seed appears to be free from it or not. The "Formalin Treat ment," as set out in the following, is considered most reliable:

Secure a 40 per cent solution of for malin at a reliable drug store. One pound of this 40 per cent formalin solution, carefully mixed with 40 gallons of water, is sufficient to treat from 2,000 to 2,500 pounds of wheat.

The seed may be treated by dipping or aprinkling: To dip, the seed may be placed in a gunny sack and submerged or covered in the solution the liquid being in a barrel or tank. The bag or sack of wheat should be allowed to remain immersed in this solution for at least ten minutes, after which it is taken up, allowing the liquid to drain back into the tank or barrel for a sort time. The wheat should then be emptied onto a clean place and covered with sacks or blankets for two hours, after which it should be thoroughly dried before

To sprinkle, prepare a clean place on a canvass or smooth floor, and thoroughly sprinkle the space to be occupied by the wheat, with the solution, before the seed is emptied upon Now spread the wheat upon the space thus prepared for it, and sprinkle the solution all over it, shoveling the grain in such way over and over. so as to insure that all of the seed will be uniformly moistened with the liquid. Having thoroughly dampened the wheat with the solution, shovel the grain into a pile and cover with sacks or blankets for two hours, after which it should be thoroughly dried before sowing. Do not allow the wheat to remain wet too long after treating, as the germinating quanties may be injured

Place the dried into sacks that have been dipped in the solution, and it will be found a good plan to aprinkle the grain drill with the liquid before putting the seed into it. Exercise every precaution not to bring the treated seed into contact with grain that has not been treated, avoiding the use of bins that have contained smut infested wheat. The wheat should be treated but a short time before sowing.

Sowing: Sow all wheat with some good, relible grain drill and cover with a press wheel attachment if possible. This press wheel attachment "firms" the ground above and immediately around the seed, and insures a better stand. If a press wheel attachment can not be had, a roller will do a great deal of good, if The roller must be followed at once with a common harrow. The seed sould be sowed deep enough to come in contact with the moist soil, but this should not be over two to four inches deep. Wheat can be sowed slightly deeper in sandy soils than in Wheat Acreage: It is far better to sow a smaller acreage, and do the work rightly, than to sow twice as many acres on ground that has been but half prepared. We cannot afford to "Hog in" our wheat.

NNUALLY the citizens of this county celebrate at our county fair which has become a fixed institution. These are days of festivities at which citizens of this county should gather and renew their acquaintance one with the other. The citizens of this county have reason to rejoice because of the abundant crop yield the past season and because of the excellent prices which have been maintained throughout the year for live stock and farm products.

.....YOU SHOULD RENEW YOUR ACQUAINTANCE.....

We have just received within the last few days an enormous stock of the most up-to-date dry goods. This was bought before the raise in prices and in order that we may renew our acquaintance we will offer special inducements during the Roosevelt County Fair and the following Saturday.

Our stock in all departments is now complete. Owing to the promising prospects of prosperity in Roosevelt county this fall and winter we have bought heavier in most all lines than for several seasons past. The European war now raging across the Atlantic has practically cut of all imports from those countries and thus rendered it impossible to obtain many lines of goods generally carried in an up-to-date dry goods stock. However we were fortunate that our buyer when in market at the beginning of the war, anticipated these conditions by buying unusually heavy on all lines of merchandise that is imported. Consequently we are showing all the novelties as well as the staple lines of dry goods and at prices that will please you. Don't fail to attend the Roosevelt county fair and don't fail to see us for your fall dry goods. Come and see us when in town. Make our store your headquarters.
