ANOTHER REGISTERED HERD

Cheese Manufacturer Imports Holstein-Friesian Herd From Iowa.

LARGEST OF THE KIND IN COUNTY

Start Made And Others Are Considering Importing Same Kind.

Last week Clyde Moon, the cheese manufacturer whose ranch is at Portales Springs, brought in two car loads of registered Holstein-Friesian cows from Waterloo, Iowa. They are all young and competent judges have pronounced them to be the best.

This herd containing about 50 is the largest of its kind that has ever been brought into Roosevelt county. This breed of cows are particularly well adapted to the cheese business as they give a larger volume of milk than any other breed. It was for this purpose that Mr. Moon bought them.

In many localities the Holstein is used extensively for the production of cream. There is no reason why they would not be better than the Jersey in many respects, in this county, as they are more hardy and are better rustlers. There are other parties who are considering importing more of this breed.

Since Mr. Moon made the beginning there is no doubt the Holstein will be considered more favorably. This should be the beginning of a famous herd and at the same time make his cheese manufacturing business larger and more profitable.

Work Resumed

Work was resumed Tuesday on the state highway to Clovis, under foreman D. W. Jones. Operations were suspended about two weeks ago on account of shortage of funds pending the sale of road bonds. The fine work done by Mr. Jones has been attracting a great deal of attention and favorable comment.

The most difficult part of the road has been finished and the remaining seven or eight miles will be speedily completed. Fred James chairman of the Cury county road board when seen recently said that State Engineer Jas. A. French had promised him that the road would be completed the entire way to Clovis, in the same manner that it has been built across the hills. That being so in a few weeks we will have a first class highway between the two towns.

Terry Buys Buffalo.

C. W. Terry, the well known cow man, purchased of J. F. Jones a four months old buffalo calf on Monday of this week. Owing to the fact that it was disowned by its mother, the calf was raised by hand by W. O. Dunlap, keeper of the Buffalo Jones herd, and is very tame. It is very fond of being petted, and follows those about the premises who feed it.

It has been an object of curiosity to many in the community who have visited the Dunlap ranch especially to see it. The consideration was $100.

Fine Attractions At Albuquerque

Some of the finest attractions to be found in the country have been secured by the State Fair for the night programs. One of the big features will be the night fireworks displays costing $3000. These are the same as are seen at the largest parks and fairs and the same as the company furnishing them is putting on at the expositions on the coast. Such large displays as the battle of the Dardanelles, aerial warfare and train collisions will be seen, as well as the smaller set pieces.

The Kilties Band is alone worth the price of admission to the night shows. Wherever this Band plays concerts fifty and seventy-five cents is paid to hear, but at the fair the band is but one of many attractions.

From the San Francisco show the fair has secured the best high wire act in the country, which is beautifully illuminated at night. There are also the Fire Demons doing a bicycle high dive with their clothes in flames and plunging into a tank of fire. There will also be the Whittakers on a sliding wire act in flames. The illuminated balloon ascensions which have been a feature of the Missouri State fair for years, will be seen at Albuquerque at night. The first illuminated horse show ever held in the state will also be added attractions for the night shows. From San Diego the State Fair management has secured the moving pictures of New Mexico which will be shown in front of the grandstand also. There will be scotch dancers, singers, bagpipers and other society vaudeville. When the show in the ring is concluded there will be the big midway with fifteen shows under canvas dancing and other forms of amusement. The fair is adding to the seating capacity to take care of the crowds.

Everyone expecting to attend the fair should send in their money for tickets at once and take advantage of the big cut in price.

More Settlers.

The real estate firm of Troutt & Smith have made several sales recently and have several more which they expect to close. Some time ago they advertised Roosevelt county lands in parts of Texas and are now getting results. The largest deal they made recently was when they sold to James, C. E. and Henry Pickett of Haskell county, Texas, a 1520 acre ranch proposition near Dora. These gentlemen will arrive in a short time and proceed to stock their property.

Another deal worthy of mention is a tract 320 acres near Bethel sold to J. H. McKown of Crowell, Texas. Mr. McKown has arrived and taken possession of his new home.

We understand the above named purchasers are highly pleased with the country and are glad that they are to be residents of prosperous Roosevelt county.

Misses Helen Lindsey, Edith Reagan, Nora Fairly, and Lucy Culberson left Sunday for Las Vegas where they will attend the normal institute. Mrs. B. J. Reagan has moved to Las Vegas and will make her home there during the school term.

ROOSEVELT COUNTY FAIR WILL HAVE AEROPLANE

Wholesalers Who Sell Goods To Portales Merchants Are Contributing Liberally And Helping To Swell Big Premium List.

BASE BALL TOURNAMENT OF COUNTY TEAMS WILL BE BIG FEATURE

Commission Anxious For Live Stock Entries Early That Suitable Quarters May Be Provided For Their Keeping.

The county fair Commission is making fine progress toward having the greatest fair and exhibition this county has ever held. It is quite an undertaking and requires a great deal of work but we believe that their efforts will bring results. There was never a more opportune time to have a great exhibition. The fair this year is going to surpass all previous fairs greatly and will be something of which we may be justly proud.

The Commission is having great success in the matter of getting funds and premiums. The citizens of Portales have contributed about $1000. The Commission got the idea many premiums could be secured from wholesalers, whose goods are sold in Portales. Secretary J. L. Reid secured a list of the names and each one was written a personal letter. The scheme is working fine and already many of them have come across. The letters are not all answered as yet and there has been time to hear from only a few but enough have been heard from to show that the plan is going to be very successful.

One of the most important attractions this year will be the aeroplane, which will be here probably the last two days. This will be the first aeroplane that has ever made a flight in Portales, and will give many people their first opportunity of seeing one. It is sure to be a splendid attraction.

Among the other amusements will be the baseball tournament for the championship of the county. Suitable prizes will be awarded, probably three in number. Each section of the county should get their team together and compete for one of the prizes. Entries should be made just as quickly as possible with the secretary of the fair commission.

The commission is anxious to provide suitable quarters for all live stock and in order to do this they have requested that all those who expect to enter stock communicate with them at once in order that they may make the necessary arrangements.

Profs. Stuart and Latta, experts from State College, have been secured as two of the judges for live stock. A third one will be secured who will be an expert on horses and mules. The judges will be the most capable that could be secured and should be highly satisfactory to the entrymen.

Splendid Chance For Children Attend Fair

The State Fair Commission has made a very liberal offer for ten boys and ten girls from each county to see the Fair at Albuquerque and also to attend the demonstrations made by the instructors from State College. They have notified Mrs. S. F. Culberson that they will pay all expenses except railroad fare and see that the boys and girls are fittingly entertained while there.

The demonstrations will be made in animal husbandry for boys and in domestic science for the girls. It has occurred to Mrs. Culberson, that the splendid opportunity should be taken advantage of. The selection of those who go is with her and she desires to have all sections represented as far as possible. She wants application from all parts of the county as quickly as possible as they are asking her now for the names of those who are coming.

It occurs to us that it would be well for each community to select a pupil, raise money for railroad fare and recommend that pupil to Mrs. Culberson. If the communities do not see fit to do this then the parents should avail themselves of the opportunity.

Planting Wheat.

The farmers of the Portales Valley are awakening to the fact that our neighbors to the north have been making some good money from wheat and have decided that they too will raise some wheat. There will probably be several hundred acres planted in the Valley this fall.

Among the first to start is Tom Taylor who will plant over 40 acres about two miles east of town. The seed arrived last week and Mr. Taylor is preparing the ground and will soon plant.

We understand the dry farmers in different parts of the county have decided that they have been passing up a good thing and the prospects are that there will be a larger acreage of wheat in Roosevelt county this year than ever before.

Humphrey Surprised.

One of the most delightful affairs of the summer was a surprise dinner at the home of Inda Humphrey, given Monday by his friends in honor of his fiftieth birthday. It was one of those old fashioned kind where everybody made merry, ate plenty and enjoyed themselves hugely.

The big dinner and barbeque was spread under the arbor and the guests, 85 in number, participated. The honoree was taken completely by surprise, having had not the least intimation of the occasion until he made his appearance escorted by J. Porter Deen. He was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents.

A singular coincidence of the affair is that the same day was the seventy-third birthday of J. D. Hurley. Mr. Hurley happened by that way while the dinner was in progress and was invited in by Mr. Humphrey and enjoyed the festivities.

Oval Keen came in last week to look after his cattle interests and visit relatives.

PORTALES SCHOOLS OPEN

Interesting Opening Services Held At Methodist Church Tuesday.

SPLendid TALKS WERE MADE

Increases In Many Classes And Elegant Prospects For Fine School.

The Portales schools opened Tuesday under the most auspicious circumstances. The opening services held at the Methodist church were most excellent.

Several beautiful songs were sung by the children under the direction of singer A. C. Fisher. The opening prayer was made by Rev. A. C. Bell.

Prof. J. S. Long was master of ceremonies and also spoke a few words showing how Roosevelt county excelled educationally, being first in the state in the matter of illiteracy, which he said was indicative of our high class of citizenship and our educational opportunities.

County superintendent Mrs. S. F. Culberson made one of her characteristic addresses and conveyed the idea to the children, the importance of an education and urged them to make the best of their opportunities that they might be better fitted to combat the problems of life.

Judge W. E. Lindsey, chairman of the board of education, spoke very interestingly and tried to impress upon the pupils the effort that was being made by the taxpayers to give them the best educational facilities and the progressive spirit shown by the voters when, by a big majority, they voted bonds for a new school house. He also referred to the fact that this promises to be a most successful year for the Portales schools with larger attendance in every class. The senior class this year has already 14 enrolled, an increase of five over last year.

The most interesting talk was made by singer A. C. Fisher, which was beneficial to both old and young. There is no doubt that his talk made a profound impression on the pupils. He referred to the student as one who should be full of ambition, always with the motto in mind, "I can." He advised them of the importance of careful preparation of their lessons and of how much better it was to have a high average in school work than to be constantly taken up with amusements.

Too Late.

H. Douthitt, who until recently was in the feed and wagon yard business in Portales and who has a ranch and a herd of cows at Floyd waited last week over night considering buying a cow but he regrets now very much that he hesitated.

He looked over the Moon herd of Holsteins and saw a cow which was priced at $140 to him. He offered Mr. Moon, $125. He had about decided to pay the price but the next morning it was discovered that the cow had given birth to twin heifer calves and could not be bought for anything like the price asked the night before. Ham says that he will act quicker the next time.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

PICKLES AND CONSERVES.

THE recipes following can all be very highly recommended, the first being a southern delicacy that comes from a New Orleans house-keeper:

Sweet Pickle Relish.—The ingredients required are one dozen salt pickles, to be purchased at almost any grocery shop; one pound of light brown sugar, a spice bag containing eight whole cloves, one tablespoonful of whole allspice and two sticks of cinnamon, broken into small pieces; about one pint of cider vinegar and a quarter of a pound of seeded raisins. Cut the pickles in slices one inch thick. Place the pickles, raisins and sugar in a stone crock and let them remain overnight. In the morning drain off a little of the watery liquid (not the sugar) turn into a preserving kettle, cover with the vinegar and add the spices. Boil for fifteen minutes; then remove the pickles and cook down the sirup with the raisins until it is as thick as honey. Return the pickles to the sirup, let it all boil up once more and seal in self-sealing jars, as one does with preserves. This pickle will keep for a long time.

Apple Ginger Conserve.—Use tart juicy apples for this relish. Peel and cut the apples into eighths. Place them in a large granite-ware kettle, arranging them in layers, and sprinkle brown sugar generously between each layer. Then add to each quart of the sliced and cut fruit the grated yellow rind of one lemon, a small cupful of chopped preserved ginger and sufficient vinegar to barely cover the fruit. Allow the apples to stand overnight and in the morning place over a wood fire and bring slowly to the boiling point. Simmer until the fruit is tender but not broken; then skim out the apples and boil down the sirup until it is thick. Seal all, boiling hot, in tight jars.

Spiced Peaches. Wash the dried or evaporated peaches and soak them overnight with cold water to cover. Then drain and to five pounds of fruit use two pounds of sugar, one quarter of an ounce of cinnamon, the same quantity of ground cloves and one and one quarter of vinegar. Put the mixture in a granite-ware kettle with the sugar and the spices in a small cheesecloth bag. Simmer this sirup for fifteen minutes; then put in the peaches to cook until tender. Cut in the fruit carefully, stirring occasionally for the fruit will searh occasionally. If used for cooking a small sheet of butter over the burner is recommended. Seal in tight jars.

FAILED TO IMPRESS JUDGE

Fact That Jurist Had Heard Similar Story May Have Been One Cause of Unbelief.

A retail grocer reported to the police, the other day, that certain sacks of flour had been feloniously abstracted from in front of his store, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. A sleuth was put on the job, and very soon this sleuth saw a man whose clothes were white, and therefrom argued that this person must be the flour thief. The detective followed the suspect to his home, and there he discovered six bags of flour.

The man the detective detected was the thief. He confessed before the municipal court judge the next morning. "Yes, your honor," he said, "I did take that flour, but I didn't steal it. There it laid on the sidewalk, and the grocer wasn't taking care of it, and I thought some thief might come along and swipe it. So I took it home to save it for that grocer."

"Yes," commented Judge Sanders. "You were a noble citizen. Your story reminds me of a fellow who was arrested for burglary and larceny long ago. He explained it like this: He was going along the street and he saw a house on fire. He went in and rescued an old lady from burning to death. In her gratitude she gave him the articles the police found on his person, to-wit: Six silver spoons, six silver forks, six silver knives, a silver teapot, a revolver, a blackjack, a billy and a dark lantern."

Lights on All Vehicles.
Once more in the New York legislature an effort will be made to pass a statute requiring all vehicles to carry lights at night. On several occasions this measure has met with chloroforming in the committee and has never emerged for a test vote.

Both New Jersey and Massachusetts have laws requiring all vehicles to carry lights, and while the statute has not been thoroughly observed by horse-drawn vehicles in the two states, the fact remains that in case of accidents the burden of proof would be placed upon the owner of the unlighted vehicle.

Even Gypsies Are Touring.
East Hartford, Conn., saw a strange sight on the first day of this month in the passage of gypsies going from Denver to Worcester in two big limousines, to which were attached tent and tent poles, pots and pans, and the usual camping outfits of these nomads. Gypsies and horses have always seemed inseparable, but the unexpected has arrived.—Springfield Republican.

A prominent man, here recently from a neighboring town called attention to the fact of how we excelled his locality in the matter of fruit. Did it ever occur to you what a fruit country Roosevelt county is going to be in a few years? The fruit exhibit is going to be one of our strongest points at Albuquerque this year. The young orchards in the valley will soon begin to bear and fruit will be a very important product, as none more delicious can be produced anywhere.

The business men of Portales showed their interest in the welfare of the farmer when they subscribed sufficient to build an ice plant in connection with the creamery. While it is true that it is expected that it will materially reduce the price of ice, this was not in most cases what prompted the subscriptions. The business men want to see the farmer get the best possible price for his product and it was represented to them that the creamery would be greatly handicapped without the ice plant in connection. They want to see a successful creamery in Portales and were willing to help it along.

Quite marked is the improvement in the general looks of the town since the cleaning up began a few weeks ago. The town council started the good work when they hired men to cut the weeds on the streets and alleys. Simultaneously many of the citizens went to work on their premises with good results. There is still room for further improvement along this line. Owing to the fact that we are to have State Federation of Woman's Clubs and a Fair which will bring many visitors from all over the state, who will be people who will take special notice of the looks of the town, every possible effort should be made to impress them favorably.

The farmers of Roosevelt county have again shown their progressive spirit in the forming of a creamery company. They believe that they are not getting the price that they should get for their cream. It is an effort on their part to get a better price for their product. At the first meeting held they selected the best qualified in their company as a board of directors and also a building committee. Both of these have proceeded cautiously. There are many things which enter into the launching of such a proposition which require a great deal of consideration. So far the proposition has been carried on in a most businesslike manner, not so fast as perhaps some of those interested expected, but just as fast as it could be judiciously. If the project is continued as well as the start has been made there is no doubt as to its success.

FORM TAX ASSOCIATION
MEETING AT SANTA FE LARGELY ATTENDED.

Prominent Men From All Parts of the State Actively Participate in Preliminary Work.

Santa Fé.—Nearly 200 leading New Mexico business men representing every county in the state, gathered here to take initial steps in the organization of the New Mexico Taxpayers' Association. The meeting was held in the hall of the House of Representatives, which was well filled by participants and spectators. The formal call for this meeting was issued two weeks ago by a number of prominent taxpayers. The response as shown in the attendance at the organization meeting is taken as showing that the business interests of the state finally are awake to the necessity of general public interest and activity in matters of taxation and expenditure of public funds, and this necessity was strongly emphasized by the speakers, including Attorney General Frank W. Clancy, who presided as temporary chairman; Governor W. C. McDonald, former Governor H. J. Hagerman, former Governor L. Bradford Prince, and others.

THE KITCHEN GUPBOARD

PICKLES AND CONSERVES.
THE recipes following can all be very highly recommended, the first being a southern delicacy that comes from a New Orleans house-keeper:

Sweet Pickle Relish.—The ingredients required are one dozen salt pickles, to be purchased at almost any grocery shop; one pound of light brown sugar, a spice bag containing eight whole cloves, one tablespoonful of whole allspice and two sticks of cinnamon, broken into small pieces; about one pint of cider vinegar and a quarter of a pound of seeded raisins. Cut the pickles in slices one inch thick. Place the pickles, raisins and sugar in a stone crock and let them remain overnight. In the morning drain off a little of the watery liquid (not the sugar) turn into a preserving kettle, cover with the vinegar and add the spice-bag. Boil for fifteen minutes; then remove the pickles and cook down the syrup with the raisins until it is as thick as honey. Return the pickles to the crock, let it all boil up once and seal in self-sealing jars, as one does with preserves. This pickle will keep for a long time.

Apple Ginger Conserve.—Use tart juicy apples for this relish. Peel and cut the apples into eighth. Place them in a large granite-ware kettle, or saucepan, and sprinkle with the vinegar and add the spice-bag. Boil for fifteen minutes; then remove the pickles and cook down the syrup with the raisins until it is as thick as honey. Return the pickles to the crock, let it all boil up once and seal in self-sealing jars, as one does with preserves. This pickle will keep for a long time.

Apple Ginger Conserve.—Use tart juicy apples for this relish. Peel and cut the apples into eighth. Place them in a large granite-ware kettle, or saucepan, and sprinkle with the vinegar and add the spice-bag. Boil for fifteen minutes; then remove the pickles and cook down the syrup with the raisins until it is as thick as honey. Return the pickles to the crock, let it all boil up once and seal in self-sealing jars, as one does with preserves. This pickle will keep for a long time.

Spiced Peaches.—Wash the dried or evaporated peaches and soak them overnight with cold water to cover. Then drain and to five pounds of fruit use two pounds of sugar, one quarter of an ounce of cinnamon, the same quantity of ground cloves and one and one-half quarts of vinegar. Put the vinegar in a granite-ware kettle with the sugar and the spice in a nut cheesecloth bag. Simmer this syrup for fifteen minutes; then put in the peaches to cook until tender. Put in the fruit carefully, stirring occasionally. For the fruit will absorb some of the syrup. If you are using a small steamer and over the burner is removed. Seal in air-tight jars.

FAILED TO IMPRESS JUDGE

Fact That Jurist Had Heard Similar Story May Have Been One Cause of Unbelief.

A retail grocer reported to the police, the other day, that certain sacks of flour had been feloniously abstracted from in front of his store, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. A sleuth was put on the job, and very soon this sleuth saw a man whose clothes were white, and therefrom argued that this person must be the flour thief. The detective followed the suspect to his home, and there he discovered six bags of flour.

The man the detective detected was the thief. He confessed before the municipal court judge the next morning.

"Yes, your honor," he said, "I did take that flour, but I didn't steal it. There it laid on the sidewalk, and the grocer wasn't taking care of it, and I thought some thief might come along and swipe it. So I took it home to save it for that grocer."

"Yes," commented Judge Sanders. "You were a noble citizen. Your story reminds me of a fellow who was arrested for burglary and larceny not long ago. He explained it like this: He was going along the street and he saw a house on fire. He went in and rescued an old lady from burning to death. In her gratitude she gave him the articles the police found on his person, to-wit: Six silver spoons, six silver forks, six silver knives, a silver teapot, a revolver, a blackjack, a billy and a dark lantern."

Lights on All Vehicles. Once more in the New York legislature an effort will be made to pass a statute requiring all vehicles to carry lights at night. On several occasions this measure has met with chloroforming in the committee and has never emerged for a test vote.

Both New Jersey and Massachusetts have laws requiring all vehicles to carry lights, and while the statute has not been thoroughly observed by horse-drawn vehicles in the two states, the fact remains that in case of accidents the burden of proof would be placed upon the owner of the unlighted vehicle.

Even Gypsies Are Touring. East Hartford, Conn., saw a strange sight on the first day of this month in the passage of gypsies going from Denver to Worcester in two big limousines, to which were attached tent and tent poles, pots and pans, and the usual camping outfits of these nomads. Gypsies and horses have always seemed inseparable, but the unexpected has arrived.—Springfield Republican.

The meeting was up to the high water mark. Every session was one of profit and interest. The Messengers were entertained in a magnificent manner by the Texico church. Rev. W. N. Taylor is doing a fine work. The next session will convene with the Ft. Sumner church.

Our service last Sunday morning was one of joy and helpfulness. Good attendance in Sunday school. Teachers were present to the delight of their classes and things looked better.

Quite marked is the improvement in the general looks of the town since the cleaning up began a few weeks ago. The town council started the good work when they hired men to cut the weeds on the streets and alleys. Simultaneously many of the citizens went to work on their premises with good results. There is still room for further improvement along this line. Owing to the fact that we are to have State Federation of Women's Clubs and a Fair which will bring many visitors from all over the state, who will be people who will take special notice of the looks of the town, every possible effort should be made to impress them favorably.

The farmers of Roosevelt county have again shown their progressive spirit in the forming of a creamery company. They believe that they are not getting the price that they should get for their cream. It is an effort on their part to get a better price for their product. At the first meeting held they selected the best qualified in their company as a board of directors and also a building committee. Both of these have proceeded cautiously. There are many things which enter into the launching of such a proposition which require a great deal of consideration. So far, the proposition has been carried on in a most businesslike manner, not so fast as perhaps some of those interested expected, but just as fast as it could be judiciously. If the project is continued as well as the start has been made there is no doubt as to its success.

FORM TAX ASSOCIATION

MEETING AT SANTA FE LARGELY ATTENDED.

Prominent Men From All Parts of the State Actively Participate in Preliminary Work.

Santa Fé.—Nearly 200 leading New Mexico business men representing every county in the state, gathered here to take initial steps in the organization of the New Mexico Taxpayers' Association. The meeting was held in the hall of the House of Representatives, which was well filled by participants and spectators. The formal call for this meeting was issued two weeks ago by a number of prominent taxpayers. The response as shown in the attendance at the organization meeting is taken as showing that the business interests of the state finally are awake to the necessity of general public interest and activity in matters of taxation and expenditure of public funds, and this necessity was strongly emphasized by the speakers, including Attorney General Frank W. Clancy, who presided as temporary chairman; Governor W. C. McDonald, former Governor H. J. Hagerman, former Governor L. Bradford Prince, and others.

Herbert J. Hagerman of Roswell, former governor of New Mexico, was elected president of the newly organized Taxpayers' Association of New Mexico just before adjournment. THE KITCHEN CUPBOARD

PICKLES AND CONSERVES.

THE recipes following can all be very highly recommended, the first being a southern delicacy that comes from a New Orleans house-keeper:

Sweet Pickle Relish.—The ingredients required are one dozen salt pickles, to be purchased at almost any grocery shop; one pound of light brown sugar, a spice bag containing eight whole cloves, one tablespoonful of whole allspice and two sticks of cinnamon, broken into small pieces; about one pint of cider vinegar and a quarter of a pound of seeded raisins. Cut the pickles in slices one inch thick. Place the pickles, raisins and sugar in a stone crock and let them remain overnight. In the morning drain off a little of the watery liquid (not the sugar) into a preserving kettle, cover with the vinegar and add the spice bag. Boil for fifteen minutes; then remove the pickles and cook down the sirup with the raisins until it is as thick as honey. Return the pickles to the sirup, let it all boil up once more and seal in self-sealing jars, as one does with preserves. This pickle will keep for a long time.

Apple Ginger Conserve.—Use tart juicy apples for this relish. Peel and cut the apples into eighths. Place them in a large granite-ware kettle, arranging them in layers, and sprinkle brown sugar generously between each layer. Then add to each quart of the apples and cut fruit the grated yellow rind of one lemon, a small cupful of hopped preserved ginger and sufficient vinegar to barely cover the fruit allow the apples to stand overnight in the morning place over a wood fire and bring slowly to the boiling point. Simmer until the fruit is tender, but not broken; then skim out the apples and boil down the sirup until it is as thick. Seal all, boiling hot, in tight jars.

Spiced Peaches.—Wash the dried or evaporated peaches and soak them overnight with cold water to cover. Then drain and to five pounds of the fruit use two pounds of sugar, one quarter of an ounce of cinnamon, the same quantity of ground cloves and one and one quarter of vinegar. Put the vinegar in a granite-ware kettle with the sugar and the spice in a small cheesecloth bag. Simmer this sirup for fifteen minutes; then put in the peaches to cook until tender. Cut the fruit carefully, and drain occasionally, for the fruit will stretch as it dries. If you intend for cooking a small sheet of paraffin over the burner is recommended. Seal in air-tight jars.

FAILED TO IMPRESS JUDGE

Fact That Jurist Had Heard Similar Story May Have Been One Cause of Unbelief.

A retail grocer reported to the police, the other day, that certain sacks of flour had been feloniously abstracted from in front of his store, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. A sleuth was put on the job, and very soon this sleuth saw a man whose clothes were white, and therefrom argued that this person must be the flour thief. The detective followed the suspect to his home, and there he discovered six bags of flour.

The man the detective detected was the thief. He confessed before the municipal court judge the next morning. "Yes, your honor," he said, "I did take that flour, but I didn't steal it. There it laid on the sidewalk, and the grocer wasn't taking care of it, and I thought some thief might come along and swipe it. So I took it home to save it for that grocer."

"Yes," commented Judge Sanders. "You were a noble citizen. Your story reminds me of a fellow who was arrested for burglary and larceny not long ago. He explained it like this: He was going along the street and he saw a house on fire. He went in and rescued an old lady from burning to death. In her gratitude she gave him the articles the police found on his person, to-wit: Six silver spoons, six silver forks, six silver knives, a silver teapot, a revolver, a blackjack, a billie and a dark lantern."

Lights on All Vehicles. Once more in the New York legislature an effort will be made to pass a statute requiring all vehicles to carry lights at night. On several occasions this measure has met with chloroforming in the committee and has never emerged for a test vote. Both New Jersey and Massachusetts have laws requiring all vehicles to carry lights, and while the statute has not been thoroughly observed by horse-drawn vehicles in the two states, the fact remains that in case of accidents the burden of proof would be placed upon the owner of the unlighted vehicle.

Even Gypsies Are Touring. East Hartford, Conn., saw a strange sight on the first day of this month in the passage of gypsies going from Denver to Worcester in two big limousines, to which were attached tent and tent poles, pots and pans, and the usual camping outfit of these nomads. Gypsies and horses have always seemed inseparable, but the unexpected has arrived.—Springfield Republican.

Editorials

A prominent man, here recently from a neighboring town called attention to the fact of how we excelled his locality in the matter of fruit. Did it ever occur to you what a fruit country Roosevelt county is going to be in a few years? The fruit exhibit is going to be one of our strongest points at Albuquerque this year. The young orchards in the valley will soon begin to bear and fruit will be a very important product, as none more delicious can be produced anywhere.

The business men of Portales showed their interest in the welfare of the farmer when they subscribed sufficient to build an ice plant in connection with the creamery. While it is true that it is expected that it will materially reduce the price of ice, this was not in most cases what prompted the subscriptions. The business men want to see the farmer get the best possible price for his product and it was represented to them that the creamery would be greatly handicapped without the ice plant in connection. They want to see a successful creamery in Portales and were willing to help it along.

Quite marked is the improvement in the general looks of the town since the cleaning up began a few weeks ago. The town council started the good work when they hired men to cut the weeds on the streets and alleys. Simultaneously many of the citizens went to work on their premises with good results. There is still room for further improvement along this line. Owing to the fact that we are to have State Federation of Woman's Clubs and a Fair which will bring many visitors from all over the state, who will be people who will take special notice of the looks of the town, every possible effort should be made to impress them favorably.

RAISED FOR THEIR DOWN

Elder Ducks Rigidly Protected by Law
Because of the Value of Their Product.

The down of the elder duck is more highly esteemed and brings a higher price than any other down. In Iceland and the Vestmannaeyjar islands, where the duck nests, it is rigidly protected by law and by public sentiment.

These ducks make their nests of down from their own breasts. They pluck it out with their bills, and form it into a circular mound which has the property of retaining heat to an extraordinary degree. If this down is removed, the duck supplies a second, and even a third lot from the same source.

The elder farms in Iceland are frequently situated on little islands off the coast, covered with low hummocks. To protect the brooding ducks from the elements the Icelanders construct small shelters of rough stones. On these farms, it is said, the ducks become so tame that anyone with whom they are familiar may handle them without frightening them.

Separate buildings on the Icelandic elder farms are devoted to the cleaning of the product. Down clings tenaciously to anything on which it is thrown, a circumstance that is utilized in cleaning it. There are a number of frames of oblong shape, and along these numbers of strings are stretched loosely. The down is cast on these near one end, and a piece of wood is drawn rapidly backward and forward over the other end. The down clings to the strings; but all impurities, such as grass and seaweed, fall to the ground.

The price of down at the farm is about two dollars and fifty cents a pound.—Sunday Magazine.

STILL TURN OUT GUNFLINTS

Thousands Are Annually Exported From England, Mostly to the Tropical Countries.

Down in a Wall Street office stocks were being discussed, the conversation turned on improved war appliances and then someone said:

"Yes, but I know a man who is still making and selling the old-fashioned gunflint."

There was some comment on this, and then the first speaker said that his friend had a large factory in England for the making of gunflints and exported thousands of them every year. "They are used in various tropical countries where the natives still use the old flintlock muskets," said the speaker. "Then there are several countries where the British government sees to it that no modern arms reach the hands of the natives. The government permits the sale of the old flintlock for the killing of game, but would at once confiscate any more modern style of firearm. My friend goes ahead year after year making the old gunflints and finding a good sale for them, but I don't think that the present war has caused any increase in the output of his factory."—Wall Street Journal

Pope an Unimposing Genius.

Those who imagine there is some necessary connection between literary genius and inches will have to explain away the case of Alexander Pope. Pope was exactly four feet six inches high. He was humpedbacked and deformed. According to one of Lord Oxford's servants, he was "so weak as to stand in perpetual need of female attendance; extremely sensible of cold, so that he wore a kind of fur doublet under a skirt of very coarse, warm linen, with fine sleeves. When he rose he was invested in a bodice made of stiff canvas, being hardly able to stand erect till it was laced, and he then put on a flannel waistcoat. One side was contracted. His legs were so slender that he enlarged their bulk with three pairs of stockings, which were drawn on and off by the maid; for he was not able to dress or undress himself."

Two Theories as to Cancer.

Most of the theories of the cause of cancer fall into two groups—one that it is a germ disease, the other that it is hereditary. The supporters of the first, or germ, theory are much the more numerous, and to their credit be it said, the more active and unwearyingly industrious. Yet it must be regretfully confessed that although the germ of cancer has been one of the favorite objects of pursuit by research workers ever since the first germ-criminal was accused and convicted by Pasteur, and literally hundreds of patient and laborious workers and scores of special institutions have been, and are yet, engaged in its study, the net result has been practically a non-statement. The verdict to date must be the cautious conclusion of the Scotch jury, "Not Proved."

See Is Busy But Unwise.

The bee may be a busy little insect, but it has no common sense. At least Henri Fabre says so, and Fabre, you know, has been called the "insect's Homer" by Maeterlinck. Fabre gives many proofs of his assertion, for example:

He opened the bottom of a cell in the course of construction, but the bee that was building it kept right on with its work, building up the cell and storing honey in it, quite unconscious of the fact that the food for the future generation was oozing out, and finally laid its egg and sealed up attention to the hole in the bottom.

DAIRY

BREEDING OF DAIRY CATTLE

Community Plan Has Many Advantages—Stimulates Friendly Rivalry Among Dairymen.

(By JAMES PHILAN of New York in Kimball's Dairyman.)

Where two or more men start to breed the same kind of dairy cattle in the same neighborhood, I feel sure that if they are men that can get together, they will find it to their advantage to do so. In the case of small herds the cost of a good bull may seem quite an item. If two or more men buy a bull together, they may be able to get a better bull than either would own individually and still have money to buy females.

There are other advantages, one of which is that the more daughters a bull may have the better he may be judged as a sire. In the case of men who are doing official test work this has considerable advertising value.

Another advantage is that when different neighbors watch the growth of their neighbors' calves and young stock they will try not to let the other fellow's stock get the start of theirs. This will result in better growth and better developed cattle.

To show that I practice what I preach I will say I have only one cow in my herd that was sired by a bull owned exclusively by myself. At present I have a breeding interest in three different bulls that I have used in the last year. This would seem to indicate that I intend to co-operate with my neighbors.

I believe that the greatest advantage of community breeding will result from friendly rivalry in the growing and development of the stock, and then from good team work in the selling of the same.

USE FOR A HAND SEPARATOR

Less Work Necessary in Handling Milk With Device Than Without—Machine Saves Waste.

A hand separator saves all waste of butterfat. What is the use of feeding cows good corn, hay and other stuff that costs money and then allowing the product to go to waste?

Less work is necessary to handle milk with the separator than without, because there are fewer utensils to be used and the skim milk may be fed to the pigs and calves and chickens at once, and does not have to be handled again.

Forty or fifty dollars will buy a good separator, big enough for a herd of four or five cows, and it will save its cost the first year. If properly cared for, a separator is good for ten years. The cream from a separator will bring more money because it is uniform in richness, and is sweeter because, as it is separated while the milk is warm and fresh, it does not absorb odors as it would if left standing around.

The separator saves hauling milk to the creamery and then hauling the skim milk back to the farm. Then skim milk hauled any considerable distance becomes cold and sometimes dirty and tainted and not fit to feed.

If a farmer has ten or more cows he will require a larger separator—one that will handle say 150 pounds of milk in about fifteen minutes, and he then should have a small gasoline engine to do the work. It is quicker and cheaper than hand power.

CAP PROTECTS MILK BOTTLE

Device, Just Placed on Market, Aids in Keeping Out Dirt and Flies—Liquid Kept Airtight.

In order to keep milk bottles, while in use, free from dirt and flies, a sanitary milk bottle cap has been placed on the market. This is arranged so that by moving the stop, milk may be poured without difficulty. When closed, the milk is kept almost airtight.

Maintain Cow's Efficiency.

Each cow in the dairyman's herd is a plant that makes the most profit when running at its highest efficiency. To maintain the maximum efficiency in each cow is a large part of the dairyman's business.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three Summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst."

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.
