The previous records made by Mr. Williams as a raiser and a shipper have entitled him to the title as the champion hog raiser in the dry part of Roosevelt county. On his previous shipments he has topped the market and the quality of the hogs he has shipped has done much to make Roosevelt county and Portales famous among the buyers as a breeding place of high class hogs.

The entire party reports a most enjoyable trip.

Medical aid was hastily summoned and at last report Clifford was recovering rapidly.

Mr. Falls is a prosperous young stockfarmer and formerly lived in the Doss community. Miss Hatch is a young lady of many accomplishments and is the daughter of G. S. Hatch, who was one of the early settlers in the Doss section. The Herald-Times joins the young couple's many friends in wishing them a happy and prosperous wedded life.

Surgeon Recommended. Surgeon General S. A. Milliken, of the first infantry of the National Guards of New Mexico has asked Capt Molinari to recommend a surgeon from the doctors who are members of the company. Dr. J. F. Garmany was a one time a member of the company and his name was immediately sent in. The surgeon general added that they needed all the surgeons they could get and wanted them quickly which sounds very much like there may be something doing for members of the National guard in the near future. The appointment will carry a commission, probably that of captain with the usual salary of $200 per month.

Successful Stockfarmer.

G. D. Toland, of Garrison who came here about two years ago from Collingsworth county, Texas, is one of Roosevelt county's most successful stockfarmers. Like other successful farmers he saw that the raising of stock in connection with farming was essential and he worked a long that line.

He has raised three crops and they have all been good. This year he has 80 acres in crop, including 16 acres of Sudan and 16 acres of corn. He is well pleased with Sudan and will cut the second crop in a few days.

He recently purchased 18 head of cattle which makes a total of 45 head now on his farm.

New Thresher.

Greathouse Bros. of Ines recently purchased through Frank Shaw, representing the A. L. Gurley Co., a new 80-60 h. p. Case threshing machine, which will be one of the most modern that has ever been brought into Roosevelt county. This machine is said to be the best that the Case people manufacture, and is capable of threshing all kinds of crops that are raised in the county.

The immense grain crops in the southeastern part of the county will require several machines, and no doubt Greathouse Bros. and the other machinés will have work to keep them busy for many months.

More Money For Schools.

The improving of the rural school buildings in Roosevelt county still continues through aid given by the state. Saturday Mrs. S. F. Culberson received a check for $1,200 more for this purpose. The money is to be spent for remodeling and in some places in making additions. The following are the amounts: Longs, $200; Mt Vernon, $300; Roebuck, $350; and Garrison, $350. Mrs Culberson has more applications in and is making every effort to have a substantial building in each rural district.

State Tax Association.

The state Tax association was well attended by representative tax payers from all over the state. Ex-governor Hagerman was elected chairman. Representative R. G. Bryant was elected to represent Roosevelt county. Judge W. E. Lindsey who was the only Roosevelt county citizen in attendance at the meeting last week seems well pleased with the start that was made.

Inez Items.

Mr. and Mrs. Drake and family arrived here last week to locate permanently. They are old friends of Aunt Betty and Uncle Polk Williams.

Allan Banks was riding a wild horse last Sunday when it fell, breaking Allan's leg. He seems to be doing nicely now.

Mrs. Carder was thrown from a buggy last week when the horse ran away. She and Billy were returning last week from Abernathy, Texas, and had stopped for lunch when the horse became frightened. He ran more than two miles, going through a five-wire fence and across a couple of dips that were filled with water. Billy managed to remain in the buggy throughout the chase although it was a little rough. They brought Mrs. Carder home in a car. She is now able to sit up and we hope will be entirely recovered soon.

Frank Greathouse left last week for El Paso, Animas and several points in the southwestern part of the state. He expects to be gone a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Chas. Robinson returned Monday from a visit with her mother at Hagerman.

Rev. Marshall, who lives west of Longs, was at Ines Saturday.

The new threshing machine bought recently by Greathouse Bros. has arrived.

Rev. Thurston will preach here Saturday night and Sunday. This is his last appointment here unless he is sent back again next year. We sincerely hope that he may be returned. He is an unusually eloquent and earnest speaker and he lives the life, and reverently walks in the footsteps of Him whose cause he proclaims.

Miss Clara Tollett was a visitor at Minco last Monday. Uncle George Westfall favored some of his friends with a watermelon feast last Sunday. They all reported a good time and lots of melons.

Carter Gets Appointment.

P. E. Carter has received the appointment as rural mail carrier at Elida. The examination was held several weeks ago and Mr. Carter was first among about ten other applicants. A more capable man than Mr. Carter would be hard to find and the patrons who will be served should be highly pleased with his selection.

Prominent Speakers.

The state Federation of Women's Clubs will have for speakers from the state, Dr. Roberts, of Las Vegas Normal University Miss Hickey from the University of New Mexico. Miss Dora Edna Koss from the Industrial department of State College and Miss Manette Myers from the educational department of the State College, and Miss Gawler, of Elephant Butte.

In Case of Fire

WHAT is the first measure always taken to protect buildings located near one that is afire? The roofs are wet-down. They form the most vulnerable point—always in danger from flying sparks and brands.

TEXACO ROOFING

is as nearly fire-resisting as a roofing may be. It reduces to a minimum the danger from flying sparks. When your buildings are covered with Texaco Roofing you can devote your energies to the saving of the burning one, not to the protection of the others.

This is only one reason why you should use Texaco Roofing. There are many others.

WORKING ON NEW BUILDING

Complete Equipment Has Been Bought, Will Arrive In Short Time.

HOLD MEETING AT COURT HOUSE

All Subscription Money To Be Paid By October First

Everything continues to look good for the Roosevelt county creamery. The machinery has been ordered more than two weeks and should arrive in a few days.

The well has been drilled on the site. No trouble was encountered in securing plenty of water. This was expected of course as a good well of pure water can be drilled anywhere in the vicinity of Portales at a shallow depth.

A meeting was held at the court house Tuesday for the purpose of considering the five year contract with J. L. Blunt. At this meeting there was a good attendance, considering that this is a very busy time for the farmers of this county.

A motion was made and carried removing the strings from the money that had been paid in that the treasurer might pay the bills which have been and may be incurred.

Big Barn Dance.

The barn dance given in their new warehouse by the A. L. Gurley Broom Corn company of Clovis last Friday night was largely attended and is reported as being a very enjoyable affair.

The Orchestra from Amarillo rendered splendid music and this with the splendid new floor presented a most excellent opportunity for dancing.

Printed On Thursday.

The Herald-Times is and has been for almost a year, printed on Thursday afternoon. We do this in order that our rural subscribers may get their paper the same week.

For this reason we ask our patrons to get their ads in as early in the week as possible. Also if you have a news item band it in early or phone it to 108.

Young Imports More Fine Arkansas Cattle

Two more car loads were added to the many hundred cattle which have been brought into Roosevelt county this year when John Young a few days ago arrived with 44 head from northwest Arkansas.

The last bunch he had arrive contained some fine cattle. Among them are ten full blood, and four registered white face cows and a registered bull.

Mr. Young has a ranch located five miles east of town, where he now has nearly 150 head. Ever since he has been in the county he has been more or less in the live stock business and when he buys stock he tries to get something the other fellow will want.

For Fair Exhibitors.

The following valuable formula is prepared by the State College for preserving fruits and vegetables in glass for exhibition purposes in press bulletin No 89, a copy of which may be had by writing to the experimental station, the formalin formula is given.

Take two to five parts of formalin and add 98 or 95 parts of rain or distilled water. As a rule three parts of formalin to 97 parts of water is a good proportion for most fruit. Measure out the water in a receptacle and add the necessary amount of formalin to it and shake it up well.

The juice of the different kinds of fruit varies in thickness and specific gravity. If the juice of the fruit that is being preserved is thick and of greater specific gravity than that of the solution, the specimens are likely to crack.

It is a good plan in selecting the fruit that it be picked in the forenoon, before it gets too hot and that the specimens be free from all blemishes and not over ripe.

PORTALES VISITOR NOTES MANY IMPROVEMENTS

Pays Splendid Tribute To Ladies of Town, Their Organizations, And The Work They Are Doing To Further The Interests of Portales.

LARGE IRRIGATION SYSTEM INDICATION OF CAPITAL AND ENTERPRISE

Visitor Is Particularly Impressed With The Trees, Fruits Vegetables and Other Garden Truck Which Are So Plentiful In Our Town.

In April, 1912, I found myself after some wide rambles over Mother Earth, in Portales to visit a dear friend and to study the climate. A stay of six days under the conditions did not give much time to judge, but I sized it up as being young and healthy.

I found a dry goods store with a rest room for women and tired children. An invitation to a woman's club, also a U. D. C. gathering was a pleasurable surprise. They are up to date, distinctly progressive, good in parliamentary usages and speak with the freedom peculiar to the liberated west.

Buys Newspaper.

The many friends of R. W. Jones will be glad to learn that he has embarked in the newspaper business, having purchased and taken full control of the Eagle Investigator, at Ochiltree, Texas.

Mr. Jones is a practical printer, and has the qualifications of a good newspaper man and there is no doubt that the Investigator will be a power in developing the community which it serves.

to minister to the needy. I know very few of the male population here, but judging from their wives they have merit of high order, otherwise they could not belong.

The large irrigation system is of vast value to this town and is an indication of its capital and enterprise. It has worked wonders, the soil has responded to the touch of water. The rains have been more frequent this year and the effect is arborescent and fruitful.

Portales civics is not languishing, but might be made to show forth its life in better sidewalks, roadways, etc., for truly it has the making of a beauty spot upon the bosom of the widespread plains.

A Generous Gardener.

E. P. Kuhl, the gardener, last week gave the pupils of the Portales school a generous treat in the shape of water melons and cantaloupes raised on his farm.

R. H. Kemp, of the Kemp Lumber company, of Roswell was here Friday looking after business in connection with the local yard of his company.

Strong Rivalry For First Prize

Albuquerque, N. M. That the Pecos Valley will send the largest crowds to the State Fair in Albuquerque next month that have ever come from eastern New Mexico to any state gathering is clearly indicated by reports received at the office of the State Fair management from prominent citizens of that section.

A. M. Hove, of Carlsbad, publicity man for the Santa Fe railroad, was a recent visitor in Albuquerque while on his way to the convention of the New Mexico Taxpayers' association in Santa Fe. Mr. Hove is one of the livest of live wires and is in close touch with all the various activities of the Pecos Valley and with people of all classes in that section.

"Never has eastern New Mexico been so prosperous as this year," declared Mr. Hove. This section of the state has enjoyed abundant crops and its wide-awake citizens are more alive than ever before to the splendid opportunities that are open to them.

Nearly two thousand season tickets to the night shows have been sold in Albuquerque alone. These tickets are offered at $1.50 each, or just one half the regular price of admission for the six nights.

Dr. Evans and Family Have Narrow Escape

Register of the Land Office, Dr. A. J. Evans, and family, returned last Thursday from a vacation motor trip to New Mexico and Texas points. While nearing San Angelo, Texas the party was caught out on the road in the storm that caused such heavy loss to Galveston and other Texas towns, and the wind was too strong for their car to buck against.

C. V. Harris and family, M. B. Jones and family, Miss Eula Wollard, G. W. Manase and Bascom Howard left Wednesday in autos for Hollis, Oklahoma. The Jones family and Miss Wollard will visit relatives there and the rest of the party are on a business trip. They are expected to return Monday.

WILLIAMS HOGS TOP MARKET

Nothing At Ft. Worth Compares With Roosevelt County Hogs.

MORE HOGS THAN EVER THIS YEAR

Big Grain Crops And Valley Alfalfa Boosts Hog Raising.

E. P. Williams, of Inez returned Saturday from Ft. Worth where he had marketed his car of hogs. The Ft. Worth Record Saturday said "E. P. Williams, of Portales, N. M. was in with a load of 74 choice maize fed hogs that averaged 251 pounds and sold at $7.70.

Mr. Williams was very proud of his record and he should be for this is several times that he has performed this feat. "The best sold on the market" and in competition with hogs from all over the southwest, many coming from the best parts of Texas and Oklahoma.

This prosperous stockfarmer has done more to make Roosevelt county famous as a place for raising fine hogs than any other person in the county. He has justly earned the title of "Champion hog raiser".

More hogs than ever will be shipped from Portales this year. In the Valley it has become the custom to graze alfalfa rather than mow it, for experience has taught the farmer that it is more profitable in the dry part of the county. There were never more hogs than at the present and this fall many cars will be fattened for shipment.

Fine Milk Records.

Interest in dairying is growing throughout the State, and more attention is being paid to the matter of records of production. The dairymen are coming to realize that one good cow may be more profitable than many inferior producers.

R. W. Latta, State College, N. M.

Ed Wall, chairman of the county road board, was in town Friday on official business. He left for home Saturday.

AMUSING HOSPITAL SITUATION.
An amusing situation has developed in British hospitals as a result of the large number of young women who have taken to nursing wounded soldiers in a way more sentimental than practical. "Too sick to be nursed today," is said to have been a placard placed over the bed of a soldier wounded in the South African campaign, and something of the sort seems to be needed now. The trained nurses protest that young women of means and social influence who have swarmed into the hospitals do more harm than good by "fussing over" patients. The matter has been brought officially to the war office by the organized trained nurses who number about 6,000. One trained nurse said that if Lord Kitchener had called for 500,000 nurses instead of 500,000 men for military duty, he would have had that number the next morning. In view of the fact that many trained nurses are quite as pretty as the volunteers and are also much more competent, a wounded soldier is not to be blamed for desiring one who is useful as well as ornamental, says Birmingham Age-Herald. Lord Knutsford stated in a letter to the London Times that untrained nurses would be more acceptable if they would be photographed less, would wear their uniforms more modestly, would talk less in public about their patients and would not be quite so aggressive.

There is no language so beautiful as our own English tongue, when it is spoken beautifully. It is a wonderful possession; but like many other things which we have always had, we underestimate it and abuse it until it is depreciated. One of the chief ways in which we mistreat our language is in over-accenting our words. Foreigners are always quick to notice this. They find it hard to understand us because we bring out the one syllable that is accented and stir all the others. As they say, we "bang out" the accent, but care nothing about the rest of the word. By this fault, of which nearly all Americans are guilty, the language is robbed of its harmonious flow, as well as of intelligibility. It is always noticeable that persons of most culture speak most distinctly, and this is a mark of breeding that everyone can try for. To speak clearly, giving each word its correct value, indicates a certain amount of knowledge, while the opposite way of speech is often an index of slovenly habits of thought, if not illiteracy.

It is extraordinary how unending are the energies of men and women in the seeking of occasion to organize societies. It is a dull day when there is no new league or association added to the list of those that think they have a useful mission to perform in the world, says Chicago Evening Post. One of the latest and most hopeless we should think, is the International Latin society, just incorporated in New York. "to introduce methods for increasing interest in Latin and its use as a living language." The time seems unpropitious for such a venture. Somehow the present appears to us rather full of more interesting matters. Still, we doubt not, the devoted founders of this society will urge that the adoption of Latin as a world language may hasten the day when war will be impossible. It is certain that the movement—if it ever moves—will be hitched up to the war in some fashion.

The police commissioners of New York want everyone arrested who crosses a street diagonally or anywhere except at the regular crossings. This is an age of wheels, where speed has the right of way, and if the discrimination against the walking public goes on, it will arrive at a point where pedestrians will have to take out personal permits with their annual dog license, or else show cause in court why they should continue to exist.

Horace Fletcher is teaching the Belgians to get along with half as much food by chewing it more. Nearly a century before Count Rumford taught the armies of Europe that they could make their food go farther by chewing it longer. But when people are hungry they are apt to bolt their food nearly as fast as they can swallow it.

Archaeologists have discovered a new story of creation. That is the trouble with archaeologists. What the world wants to know now is how and when the present war is going to end.

We notice that fashion experts say that pretty soon all women will wear clothes to match their hair. That will not be objectionable provided they wear enough.

Eggs are very dear in Berlin, according to dispatches. There's nothing fresh about that, for they're high here, too.

Getting a Carpathian pass does not seem to enable any army to get anywhere in particular.

DAIRY

INVESTMENT IN POOR COWS
Milk Producer Must Stop Guessing and Be Certain of Results—Much Money is Wasted.

Chief obstacles in successful dairying are lack of well balanced, intensive methods and not applying business principles. The milk producer must stop guessing and know for sure what the results will be and adopt the ways of most profit.

Large sums of money are invested in many acres of land, extensive and expensive buildings, costly horses, tools and machinery, high-priced feed and labor, and all of this outlay turned to raising crops that do not yield anything like the amount of digestible nutrients per acre that should and could be obtained, and to feeding and poorly caring for a herd of poor cows utterly unable to return a profit.

The same expenditure of money and labor bestowed in an intelligent manner upon the same farm and an efficient dairy herd would return a handsome profit.

BEST SIZE OF SILO TO BUILD
Not Advisable to Construct Receptacle With Diameter Over Twenty Feet—Right Height.

In building a silo one should plan well the width of the silo. If the silo is too wide for the number of stock to be fed from it daily, there will not be a sufficient amount of silage taken from the silo per day, especially in warm weather, to keep the silage from spoiling.

A depth of 2 to 2 1/2 inches of silage should be taken from the silo per day during the winter months, and a depth of three inches per day during the warm summer months.

If the stock on a farm is equivalent to from ten to fifteen cows, the silo should have a diameter of about ten feet; if equivalent to fifteen to twenty-five cows, a diameter of about twelve feet; if equivalent to twenty-five to thirty-five cows, a diameter of about sixteen feet; if equivalent to thirty-five to forty-five cows, a diameter of sixteen feet; if equivalent to forty-five to sixty-five cows, a diameter of eighteen feet; if equivalent to sixty-five to seventy-five cows, a diameter of eighteen feet.

For a herd of seventy-five cows or over the diameter can be from eighteen to twenty feet.

It is not advisable to build a silo with the diameter over twenty feet. It is a general rule not to make the height of the silo less than twice or more than three times the diameter.

PLAN FOR DEHORNING CATTLE
Illustration Shows How the Head of Animal is Held While Operation is Being Performed.

In reply to an inquiry as to the best method for dehorning a cow a subscriber of Hoard's Dairymen submits the following plan:

"I inclose you a tie for holding cow's head at stanchion while dehorning. I think it the best tie I know. I send you a small model to show how to use it. When cow's head is fast in stanchion, the rope is dropped over cow's neck, the loop is caught on the under side and the rope doubled is

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—in interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Theford's Black-Draught, and get taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.
I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."
Theford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

put through loop and placed around the nose up far enough to not shut off her breathing, and then pull the rope back to a post at side of stanchion, and one turn around post. A man can hold the end, and by placing his weight on rope hold the cow's head quite solid while her horns are removed. The rope is quickly removed by taking off nose and pulling same."

Roosevelt county hogs topping the market repeatedly is bound to attract the attention of hog buyers. There is no better advertisement for a country than its products. Eastern New Mexico has not been justly considered in many places, but such as this will bring fame to the county and give her credit as being a great hog producing country, to which she is justly entitled. It should also encourage the raisers. It is possible for every hog raiser in the county to raise hogs which will bring the top price. We understand that some of these hogs were fattened on maize. This being the case, it should dispel the idea that corn is essential to the fattening of first class hogs.

A prominent Portales business man, talking to a farmer the other day, was heard to say something like this: "You farmers have been depending on your own labor too much for your living. The number of cows you keep are your earning power. They make money for you and are practically certain of good returns." He gave some good sound advice. It is better late than never. If this advice had been given the farmers several years ago and they had been encouraged to get more cattle, many of them would be in much better shape financially than they are today. Some one may say if they continue to import cattle into this county there will not be sufficient grass to sustain them. There are thousands of acres of land in this county that are not utilized. Then again, with the silo, which is coming into popular use, it will be possible to keep many more cattle on the same amount of land.

The idea of dividing and subdividing the Christian forces of a community into creeds and sects is giving way in many places, especially in rural communities, to union churches whereby more learned preachers are secured and the church works as one unit for the betterment and upbuilding of the community. John R. Hargreaves, writing in the American Journal of Sociology, tells of an interesting example of church federation in one of the rural communities of the far west. It is a unified church at Mosier, Ore., which was built up by the consolidation of a Methodist and a Baptist church, together with individuals of Presbyterian and Episcopalian antecedents. Among the far reaching influences of the consolidation is a broader fellowship, which, having been once experienced, is felt to be indispensable. In one part of the parish a chief worker is a Covenanter Presbyterian; in another part the right-hand man is an aged Wesleyan Methodist usher. They work together in the same cause—spiritual growth and neighborhood betterment.

Methodist church.

The revival at the Methodist church closed last Sunday night. Rev. A. C. Fisher and wife were our splendid helpers in the meeting. They did very earnest and faithful work. Bro. Fisher is not only a singer but he is a splendid gospel preacher and personal worker as well. Mrs. Fisher did most efficient work at the piano and with our young ladies. The young ladies prayer meeting which she organized at the beginning of the meeting increased from a very few to more than 40.

The meeting resulted in 31 additions to the Methodist church and some names were given for membership in other churches. We feel like all of the churches of the town were greatly helped by the meeting. We appreciate the splendid help and co-operation of our members and of other churches in the meeting. Without their faithful service we could not have had the splendid meeting we had. There will be regular service at our church next Sunday. You are invited to worship with us.

Our Public School.

Never before have the Portales schools started the new year in better shape than the present term. The students seemed to take interest in their work from the start with the result that conditions are most satisfactory.

Prof. J. S. Long has started his third year as superintendent. The standard of the Portales schools have been greatly raised under Prof. Long's direction and this bids fair to be his most successful term. He is ever striving to make the schools more efficient and successful. He teaches physics, geometry, arithmetic and psychology.

R. P. Connally is one of the most successful teachers who has ever taught in the Portales schools. His return as a teacher has been highly pleasing to the patrons. Mr. Connally is a natural instructor and his work is certain to be a great asset to the schools. He teaches history, botany, general science, English and algebra.

Miss Montana L. Grinstead is one of the best educated teachers in the school and one of the most able instructors. She is well qualified in all the subjects she teaches and her work in domestic science and art are especially commendable. She starts her second term as one of the most popular teachers. Her subjects are English, Latin, domestic science and art.

Charles Timmons is a brother of Pryor B. Timmons and comes highly recommended. He attended Ohio State University and has taught several successful terms of school. Reports indicate that his work is going to be highly pleasing to the patrons of the Portales schools. He teaches mathematics, manual training and English.

L. L. Brown is again principal of the grammar school and teaches the eighth grade work. He has taught several terms in our school and his work has been of the most commendable sort. He is well liked by both pupils and patrons. Mr. Brown is an instructor who takes a keen interest in the work and seems to be a fixture in his position.

Mrs. G. L. Reese is again teaching the seventh grade work. Mrs. Reese taught her first term in our schools several years ago and her work has always been of the most pleasing sort. Her ability and several years of successful teaching make her a most valuable and efficient teacher in the school.

Mrs. Sarah K. Ellis lived in Portales several years ago and has many friends who are glad to see her here as a teacher. She taught last year at Water Valley. Her work has given great satisfaction every place she has taught and is certain to be most satisfactory in the Portales schools. Mrs. Ellis is teaching the sixth grade.

Mrs. A. R. Johnson starts her second term as teacher of the fifth grade work. She is a most excellent disciplinarian and her work has given universal satisfaction. She is a teacher of many years experience, having taught several years in the schools of Gainesville, Texas. A better teacher for this grade than Mrs. Johnson would be hard to find.

Mrs. Edwin Neer has charge of the fourth grade work again this year. While one of the youngest teachers, her work has been most satisfactory and highly pleasing to the patrons and she is looked upon as one of the best instructors in the school. There is no question that the pupils of this grade will make good progress under Mrs. Neer.

Miss Gertrude Thompson, the new teacher in the third grade comes highly recommended from Ada, Okla., having taught in the schools of that place and was principal of a large rural school. Miss Thompson was recommended by some of our most prominent people. We predict that her work will be most satisfactory.

Miss Whittle, the new teacher in the second grade is a primary teacher of experience having taught several successful terms in the schools of Tucumcari and vicinity. Last summer she attended the Silver City normal where Prof. Long became acquainted with her work and did not hesitate to recommend her for a position in the Portales schools.

Mrs. W. F. Kenady has become a fixture as the primary teacher in the school. The primary teacher has one of the most difficult places of all the teachers to fill, but her work in the past has been very successful and given great satisfaction. The little tots all like Mrs. Kenady, who exercises great care in getting them started successfully.

(A. M. Hove)

Both the farmers and the stockmen on the Pecos slope are coming to see the advantage of growing better beef and dairy cattle, sheep, hogs, and poultry. As prices are now, the well bred animal brings a much better return than the scrub grown at practically the same cost. C. O. Keiser of Canyon, Texas, sold a hundred range cows at $125.00 a head this spring and the purchaser considered this a bargain. These cows cost little more to raise than cows that sold at less than half the money.
