Military Institute

Roswell, New Mexico, June 22.—To be recognized by the war department in Washington as one of the ten best military schools in the United States for eight consecutive years is the splendid record that has been made by the New Mexico Military Institute. In 1909 Governor George Curry, then chief executive of New Mexico, received the first notification that the school had been so distinguished. A few days ago Colonel J. W. Wilson, Superintendent of the Institute, received a similar notification from Adjutant-General McCain, this being the eighth time in as many years that the school has been placed on the roll of honor.

The improvement of the institution has been marked and rapid. Not content with being in the first ten one year, the aim has been continually to elevate the standard and to progress to higher and better things. As a result of this steady improvement many students from distant states have been attracted to the Roswell Institution and advertising of inestimable value has been received by New Mexico.

Few people realize the service that the New Mexico Military Institute has been to the state and the nation. The true American ideal, training for the peaceful pursuits of business combined with equipment for war if it should come, is realized at this school. The young man is sent out from its portals fitted for any of the responsibilities of business life, and at the same time, if war should come he is able to take command in the field as an officer, prepared to lead others and not compelled to learn the fundamental duties of a soldier.

It is a school for manly young men—for the boys who would become self-reliant, capable leaders of men. Its academic standing is of the highest and the discipline of its daily routine is such as to give the moral nature its best development. A well conducted military school such as this is a pure democracy, where merit alone is the test of preferment.

To My Friends

I wish to thank my friends for their support in the primaries just held. If faithful and honest work in the discharge of the duties of the office to which you have nominated me will prove any recompense for the honor you have conferred on me, then I assure you that you will be repaid in full. The office of assessor is an important one, affecting at it does, every taxpayer in the county. If the rendition of each property holder is fair and adequate, then the burden upon each will be properly distributed and one will not be compelled to pay more or less than his proportionate part toward maintaining the public expense. In this matter I will do my utmost to see that all taxable property is put upon the rolls and at a fair valuation. I again thank the people of Roosevelt county for this splendid mark of their trust and esteem and sincerely hope to be in every way worthy of it, both in office and out of it.

Very truly yours,
Burl Johnson.

"Uncle Ed" Tyson came down from Clovis Wednesday morning on business.

Taxpayers Association

Santa Fe, N. M. June, 21th. In the June number of the New Mexico Tax Review, issued today, Director A. E. James, of the Taxpayers Association of New Mexico, reaches the department of fish and game in course of his survey of that department showing the reasons why it is inefficient, as now financed and operated. Equally interesting is the report on the audit of the city of Roswell, made by the Association for the past two years, and pointing out Bate-man act violations, in the transfer of fund business participation of city officials in profits of materials sold to the city government and inadequate provision for sinking fund requirements. The Roswell city water works is shown to be a highly profitable municipal investment. One of the most important articles in the June Review has to do with proper maintenance of New Mexico's municipal and school district credit. Letters from important bond houses are quoted by the Director showing that New Mexico municipalities and school districts get far less for their bond issues than would be the case had all such bond issues been properly advertised and interest payments and sinking fund requirements promptly met.

Americanism and Other Isms

The Republicans nominated Justice Hughes for the presidency and he immediately chose "Americanism" for his campaign slogan. The Progressives at the same time nominated Colonel Roosevelt, and the Colonel is well known as a staunch advocate of Americanism, although he may yet decline the nomination. Later, the Democrats nominated President Wilson, whose slogan is also "Americanism" and whose views along this line have been repeated a thousand times.

Thus it is seen that whoever may be elected in November, Americanism is to be the watchword of the future.

It is well, for if there is one thing above all else that is needed in this country it is a strong and ever increasing spirit of Americanism.

But while the presidential aspirants are agitating Americanism let us of the local community coin a few "isms" for our own individual and collective weal, and force them through with the same energy and perseverance that is being exercised in the national arena. America needs Americanism, and in like measure our own community needs a broader spirit of Communityism. We should annex an "ism" to our homes, to our business enterprises, our schools, churches, societies and to every other feature of our local existence.

We should make those "isms" integral parts of our every day life and pursue them to a successful conclusion in every case. We should raise the standard of Communityism and rally every citizen to the colors.

Give us Americanism for the good of our country, but let us have Communityism for the weal of our women, children, our homes and ourselves.

Let's make "Americanism and Communityism" the slogan for this year and this country side. Let's do it now!

The Death Angel Cometh

On Thursday of last week, the Death Angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Page of Richland, on his coming he grappled with the little life of their youngest boy, Noland, aged eight. The little fellow held up from twelve o'clock, noon, Wednesday until six o'clock a. m. Thursday, when death claimed him as one of God's little Heavenly waiters.

Thus far this little life has made his home happy having a fondness for little stories of Jesus, of which his mother had often told him. He asked her within a few moments of his death, seeming to know that he was going, if he should die would Jesus take care of him? His mother answered him, yes, this seemed to quiet and satisfy his childish mind, taking his mother at her word passed as sweetly as a little death sufferer could to his eternal home.

Praise God for such faith, that we, as other people could have more of this quieting trust in our Heavenly parent taking him at his word, holding on to his promises the world would be brighter to us. 'Tis the faith of childhood that make children happy. The same would make us happy.

As the parents and friends stood before the remains of this little form, the little face seeming as bright as is possible for death to leave its victims, the mother, with a goodly portion of trusting faith, exclaimed: "These faces that are gathered around our little boy seem to have a bright light around them, I love all of you, this light I see about your faces helps me to bear this trouble. I want all of you saved that you may be ready at God's calling to go home to Heaven and be with our little boy. I gladly surrender this little treasure to the keeping of Jesus he can take care of him better than I."

The funeral was preached at the Richland cemetery at five o'clock by Rev. Marshall.

Noland leaves his parents, three brothers, three sisters and a number of relatives to mourn their loss.

It is easy to try to console bereaved ones but in this case God himself gives all the comfort we would try to offer. Knowing that this little life has never been clouded with sin, he is now a member of the Heavenly throng. We can not mourn his going or condition but can only be sad for a short time. Oh that we could have this sadness haloed with rejoicing over his Heavenly mansion it would help us to span this short period of time when we, too, will receive our call. A friend.

Miss Thelma Mac Oldham and her father returned Monday from Washington, D. C., where Miss Thelma Mac has been attending school for the past year. They experienced some very thrilling experience while coming home. Somewhere between Amarillo and Ft. Worth, on the Ft. Worth and Denver, the dining car left the track and rolled down an embankment, but, as luck would have it, no one was hurt. Mr. Oldham said that all the furniture in the car and two fat men were on him when the car stopped rolling.

The average husband is just like a bass drum. He makes a devil of a noise when he is empty.

Arbitration

This is an age of co-operation and of fairness in all dealings between men and association of men. It means that another great step forward has been taken away from barbarism when "might was right".

As competition in business and industry disappears, fairness becomes the approved method of settling differences in business and every relation of life. It takes the name of arbitration when men agree to submit their differences to settlement by disinterested parties on merit.

The public has become very partial to settling by arbitration of problem like the pending controversy between the American railroad and their train service employees. This controversy affects everybody and still it is not a subject for the attention of the courts.

Arbitration appeals to everybody as the square deal and it is likely that legislation providing for arbitration will be enacted. The Newland's act is the first attempt at establishing a board of arbitration to handle matters that directly affect the public.

The public demands fair action and quick settlement. The law's delay gets on peoples nerves. Therefore arbitration without a lot of rules and regulations of procedure older than the hills, appeals and he who is willing to submit his case to arbitration, has the public with him.

Thanks

The primary is over and all passed quietly. I wish to say that those who were candidates opposing me, J. A. Tinsley and Frank Greathouse, ran a good, clean race. There was no bitterness injected into the race and we are all good friends now, as we were before the campaign began.

To those who so loyally supported me I wish to extend my sincere thanks. I shall strive to merit the confidence you have shown to impose in me. As an official I shall endeavor, if elected in November, to serve all the people to the very best of my ability. John W. Ballow.

Our Women—A Toast

Now, all together, in one great volume of sincerity:

Here's to woman—our women—the women of our town and our countryside! When God created the earth He also created man, and the birds, and the beasts, and the fishes, and the reptiles, and all of the other creatures and things of the earth. But with all the myriads of His creation there was one thing lacking. The essence, the goodness, the purity of life was absent. He created woman.

And woman—our women—are today His most priceless gift to this earth. Her nobility and purity are the brightest spot of existence. The sunshine of her soul floods the life of man with a radiance on the darkest day. Without her there would be no human life.

Here's to woman—to OUR woman—the one great joy in the life of man.

We might discourse learnedly on the European war this week, but we don't think you care a rap about reading of it and we know we hate like blazes to write about it. Go on to the next.

Womans' Club Meeting.

The annual reception of the Woman's Club for new officers occurred at the home of Mrs. E. E. Hoagland Wednesday June 14th. Regular and unfinished business was attended to after which were toasts by Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Long and Mrs. Nixon followed by informal time and light refreshments.

The house was most tastefully decorated with cut flowers and much credit is due Mrs. Hoagland for the pleasant afternoon.

Following are the reports of the different parts.

Literary by Miss Vera Humphry a young lady most capable of leading our work along this line and who did most remarkable work during the year. This part of the club studied McBeth and Midsummer Night Dream, taking up the short story the latter part of the year.

The building committee with Mrs. Pew as chairman, made an encouraging report. Besides having some money on hand have plans for more and are hoping at least to begin the Club building on their lot some time during the coming year.

The Cemetery Committee report made by Mrs. Stone for Mrs. Carr had $5.25 on hand and expected to put in water and start trees this year.

The music department promises more this coming year although at the beginning of last year they did good work. Much can be done in this department.

Report for department of Home Economics for the year 1915-16.

Mrs. Ed Hawkins, who has charge of the library, made a report to the effect that the department had bought seventeen new books and twenty were given them by Mrs. Monroe.

This department was organized for the year on the second Wednesday in June, 1915. The department was called together and a course of study decided upon in August and the course adopted was the study put out by the extension department of A. and M.

A study in house planning. While the press of many duties has made it impossible to make a very thorough study of the subject yet it has been a means of drawing the attention of the members to the needs of better methods in home planning and home equipment.

The regular monthly meeting has been well attended and much interest manifested in the practical demonstrations in cooking which have been a part of most all of the regular meetings.

The department has come to be a well known and dependable part of the civic forces of our town and has proved its right to existence by the fact that it has been called into use on short notice and upon important occasions to provide menus.

The splendid spirit of cooperation and helpfulness has been a pleasure to every member of the department during the year and a source of the utmost gratification to the chairman.

The department has earned by the efforts of labor $77.00. $44 spent for silver, three for demonstrations by the state demonstrator, leaving a balance of $30.75 which will be used for tableware.

The first enrollment was twenty-four members and other names have been added throughout the year.

Baptist Notes.

Last Sunday morning the church and pastor visited with the Methodist people. In the absence of the pastor who is visiting down in Texas, Bro. Carleton delivered a good sermon from "The Mammon of Unrighteousness." Everyone seemed to enjoy the services.

In the evening we had a good service at the Baptist church, the Methodist and Presbyterians contributing a good share. Come again, you are very welcome. Subject for next Sunday morning "Glory by Humiliation, or Life Through Death." Subject for evening, "The Winning of a Soul." Come worship with us.

Earl Landers left Sunday for a few days visit in Oklahoma. Earl left the impression with some of his friends that he would return with some young lady as a life companion. Now whether this is true or not it certainly looks suspicious.

J. F. Vigus and M. Goldston, of Ingram, were in Portales the first of the week. The object of their trip being to take back one of E. B. Hawkins' fine young registered Hereford bulls which Mr. Vigus had bought a few days ago.

G. W. Robertson, ranchman and president of the First National Bank, Elida, is spending the week in Portales, visiting at the homes of his daughter, Mrs. S. N. Hancock and niece, Mrs. B. C. Murrell.

Since the carnival left and the election is over some of the business men have been trying to decide what to do. Some want to close their stores and go fishing, and others want to join the army at Columbus.

C. M. Myers and wife of Elida were in Portales one day this week. Uncle Charlie is one of the old timers in this county and his Portales friends were glad to see him.

Joe Patterson came home Saturday from Atchinson, Kansas, where he attended St. Mary's college of that place. Joe only spent one day in Portales then left for Arizona.

Some one asked "Uncle Josh" Morrison the other day "What town was the largest in the United States?" and he answered "Columbus, New Mexico."

W. H. Hill of the Inez community was in town Tuesday and says that crops are looking fine in that part of the country, but they need rain awfully bad.

Dick Moyer and many Clovis people were down election day working in the interest of their friends campaigns.

Claud Anderson, formerly of Portales and now living at Elton, Texas, is here visiting old friends.

Ben Smith returned Monday from San Antonio where he went in answer to a call to his sister's recent illness and death.

Dr. J. F. Garmany left Wednesday with six recruits and J. H. Bird, who was home on a leave of absence, for Company M Columbus, N. M.

FARM POULTRY

WASHING MACHINE FOR EGGS

Increased Profits Made by Putting Product of Hens in Neat and Attractive Packages.

It has been found by those who handle foodstuffs that it pays to put the goods up in attractive shape or packages. It is no uncommon thing to see vegetables tied up in ribbons, and fruit, which formerly traveled in barrels, is now packed in small boxes resembling confectionery in the way they are handled. The same applies to the fruit of the hen. An egg farmer who gets a reputation for the quality and appearance of his eggs will always get a premium above the price for his product, and this increased price makes it worth while for him to exercise the necessary care. Such persons not only examine each egg before it is shipped, but they are also washed by hand, in order that they present an immaculate appearance when placed on view. The machine shown in the accompanying cut has been recently patented for the purpose of washing eggs. It does the work as well as if done by hand and much more rapidly.

FOWL WITH LARGE APPETITE

May Be Picked Out on Roost at Night by Size of Crop—Judge Capacity by Shape of Body.

The hen with a large appetite can be picked out on the roost at night by the size of the crop. The capacity of a bird may be judged by the shape of the body. The jointed ribs allow the rear part of the body to expand downward, taking of a wedge shape, as the digestive system and reproductive organs demand more room. This spread may be judged by the distance between the rear end of the breast bone and the pelvic bones. A bird spread from heavy production should not be confused with one spread from being overfat.

The high producer invariably shows what we might term as quality, that is, soft, pliable skin over breast bone and abdominal cavity.

The skin of the nonproducer or the bird out of condition will have a hard leathery or drawn feeling.

While the shape of the overfat hen may indicate capacity, the body cavity is filled with fat rather than organs of digestion and production, and the skin is lacking in that quality which appears in the high producer.

MAKE NEST BOXES MOVABLE

Easy Opportunity Afforded to Give House Thorough Cleaning and Fight Injurious Vermin.

Everything in the henhouse should be movable, nests, roosts, dust boxes, etc. This gives an easy chance to fight vermin, and also to give the house a thorough cleaning. The old practice of nailing nests, roosts and all fixtures to the building was a bad mistake, and there is no wonder that lice reigned supreme.

T. W. Vane, Hammon, N. J., has

a novel nest method. Ordinary boxes are used, these are so placed that the lower box provides a platform for the upper nest, upon which the hens can easily alight. These nests are readily taken outdoors and thoroughly cleaned. The illustration gives the idea very clearly.—Farm Journal

HARD WORK HANDLING DUCKS

Easier to Care for Fowls in Large Flocks Than Small—Grower Turns His Money Quickly.

Ducks can be handled in large numbers better than most other fowls and the grower turns his money quickly, for by the end of summer he is cleaned out, having only a few scores or many hundreds of breeders to carry through the winter, the number depending on the size of his business. Yet the work is exceedingly exacting and most arduous while the busy season lasts.

Pelvic Bones of Best Layers. The best layers usually have slender, pliable pelvic bones, while the poor layers have hard, rigid bones even though they are spread during production.

Kisses and Smokes for American Soldiers on the Way to Mexico

These snapshots show what happened to the men of the Tenth Infantry just before they sailed for Port of Spain, for the Mexican border.

First their mothers, wives and sweethearts, and the children, all assembled to see them off. Under the stars of the night, the boys and girls, the mothers and the sweethearts, all gathered about the soldiers.

Then a party of women, dressed with light blue and pink, and with their hair in curls, came to the soldiers. They were the mothers and the sweethearts, and the children, all gathered about the soldiers.

UGH! CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK! CLEAN LIVER AND BOWELS MY WAY

Just Once! Try "Doddson's Liver Tone" When Bilious, Constipated, Headachy—Don't Lose a Day's Work.

Liven up your sluggish liver! Feel fine and cheerful; make your work a pleasure; be vigorous and full of ambition. But take no nasty, dangerous calomel, because it makes you sick and you may lose a day's work. Calomel is mercury or quicksilver, which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into your bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

Listen to me! If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Doddson's Liver Tone. Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50 cent bottle of Doddson's Liver Tone under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Doddson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning, because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and distress gone, your stomach will be sweet and your bowels regular.

Doddson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and cannot salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Doddson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel is almost stopped entirely here.—Adv.

He Had the Price.

Bill McCabe's Poughkeepsie team was playing the Kingston team one day years ago, in the Atlantic league, and a guy named Fogarty was umpire. In the ninth inning, with the score tied, two of McCabe's men played out, and as Bill had only one man extra, he had to rush the bleacher seats to find a man to fill in. He drew a big hick, who said he couldn't play, but for the fun could fill in. There were two out at the time and the fans were excited.

Our hero, the hick, came to bat. He drew three balls and the next one across he picked over the left field fence for a homer. Instead of running, the father stood there while the crowd howled itself mad. McCabe ran out to him and yelled, "Run, you boob, run!"

The hick turned and faced Bill and in a slow voice drawled: "No, sir, I won't run. I'm no coward. I'll admit I lost your ball, but I got the money right here in my pocket to pay for it."

Irrefutable Evidence.

The Delight of Children

The self-developed, inner-flavour of New Post Toasties bear a unique attraction for the kiddies—they even like them dry from the package for their lunches. A box of Toasties provides "cats" that will delight the children.

New Post Toasties are usually served with cream and sugar, in which form the flavour is more pronounced and the flakes more delicious. These New Toasties do not "chaff" or crumble in the package and they don't mush down in cream—both common defects of old-fashioned "corn flakes."

Then, too, notice the tiny bubbles on the flakes, produced by the quick, intense heat of a new patented process of making which imparts delightful crispness and a substantial body to the flakes.

New Post Toasties are a vast improvement over any old-style "corn flakes."

DOUBLE ABSOLVES MAN AS FORGER

Convict Admits He Committed Crime of Which Divine Was Accused.

FIGHTS UPHILL BATTLE

Was "Identified" as Criminal, Handwriting Even Was Alike—Forgery Charge Disproved—Industry Wins Honorable Position and Fortune.

Chicago.—E. C. Divine, whose life was nearly ruined by the crimes of a man who was his "double" in appearance, voice and penmanship, believes that justice, which evens up the wrongs of this world, is simple a "double" of hard work.

The president of the Strand Theater company, well known as a business man, who was tried on the charge of forging a $80,000 check, sat at his desk receiving congratulations of friends who knew of his triumphant acquittal, yet were unaware of the stain that had pursued him in his career. A few days ago the blemish was removed forever when Mr. Divine faced his "double" and the author of all his woes. The latter, known as A. Gilbert Sargent, is serving a sentence in the Massachusetts state prison at Charlestown on two forgery charges. Mr. Divine was tried for extradition on one of these charges in 1908, and was acquitted after three witnesses had "positively identified" him.

Hard Work an Aid to Justice. "The strain of the trial nearly made me an invalid. Think of it—I was arrested and 'identified' as the Boston forger, not only by A. B. Turner, who was the victim, but by two of his employees. We looked alike, they said—even to a dent on the nose. We both had brown hair, the same tone voice, and when I wrote 'Richard F. Parker'—the name he had used in forging the check, our signatures could not be told apart by experts.

"In the face of these things I was mute and almost without the will to resist fate. Of course, my alibi was beyond question. I was freed not only

"I sent for one bottle of Cardui, and after its use I was improving. I then bought six bottles for $5.00, for I had seen it was helping me. The pain was relieved. I could sleep at night. My nerves got better. I got several more bottles and had regained my health, strength, and flesh, and weigh my usual weight. My housework is a pleasure now. I have as good health as anybody. I consider Cardui saved my life."

Such letters as these leave no doubt as to the beneficial medicinal action of Cardui.

"I was acquitted, yes, but that was poor compensation for what I had gone through. Right there I was offered a chance to make money. Two reputable firms of lawyers approached me and offered to collect damages for me. They said they were willing to take the case to the Supreme court.

"Right there I made a decision for which I have never since been sorry. I decided to forget and forgive. It seemed to me that if I applied the same energy on trying to 'come back' in business which I might give to law-suits I would get farther and be happier.

Won a Chance to Make Good. "I landed in Minneapolis on a cold day in December, 1908. I owed more than $30,000—the effects of my trial. I had exactly three dollars in my pocket. I applied for a job with a street railway corporation. I began by telling them that I had been a defendant in a forgery case in Chicago. They chose to give me a man's chance. In one month selling bonds I not only made good for them, but made $1,100 for myself."

Later Mr. Divine organized a mass-southern company in New York and in one year made $200,000 profits. He went into the automobile business and then organized the Strand theater company. All the time he was fighting uphill he was also fighting the old stain on his name. In 1914 Sargent was arrested in Philadelphia, convicted of forgery on a large scale, and on being released from prison was tried and convicted in Boston for the "job" Mr. Divine was once accused of.

He Was Soaked. West Hoboken, N. J.—Knowing the town hall, which contains the lockup, leaked, Henry Ott, charged with wife beating, brought a raincoat and rubber boots so he "wouldn't get soaked." "Well, you are soaked," remarked the court. "Sixty days in the county jail!"

The Rev. W. H. Book, pastor of the Tabernacle Christian church of Columbus, is telling a story told him by a schoolteacher in a county not far from Bartholomew. The teacher and the township trustee were talking over plans for the annual school commencement. The question of a speaker for commencement arose.

"Let's get this here Rip Van Winkle to make the speech," suggested the township trustee.

"Who?" asked the surprised teacher.

"Why, this here Rip Van Winkle," the trustee replied. "I've heard a good deal about him and I thought maybe he might make a right smart speech."

The teacher had to tell the trustee that Rip was not available for commencement addresses this year.

I suffered dreadful pains in my hips, and head and in the abdomen. I seemed to suffer all over, and I felt I would welcome death. I could not sleep at night and was awfully nervous. I read of Cardui in the Almanac and thought I would try it, as I felt I must have some relief from this awful suffering, for I had lost my flesh, weighing only 94 pounds. I was getting weaker all the time and felt I would die if I didn't get something to help me."

"I sent for one bottle of Cardui, and after its use I was improving. I then bought six bottles for $5.00, for I had seen it was helping me. The pain was relieved. I could sleep at night. My nerves got better. I got several more bottles and had regained my health, strength, and flesh, and weigh my usual weight. My housework is a pleasure now. I have as good health as anybody. I consider Cardui saved my life."

"I was acquitted, yes, but that was poor compensation for what I had gone through. Right there I was offered a chance to make money. Two reputable firms of lawyers approached me and offered to collect damages for me. They said they were willing to take the case to the Supreme court.

"Right there I made a decision for which I have never since been sorry. I decided to forget and forgive. It seemed to me that if I applied the same energy on trying to 'come back' in business which I might give to law-suits I would get farther and be happier.

Won a Chance to Make Good. "I landed in Minneapolis on a cold day in December, 1908. I owed more than $30,000—the effects of my trial. I had exactly three dollars in my pocket. I applied for a job with a street railway corporation. I began by telling them that I had been a defendant in a forgery case in Chicago. They chose to give me a man's chance. In one month selling bonds I not only made good for them, but made $1,100 for myself."

Later Mr. Divine organized a mass-southern company in New York and in one year made $200,000 profits. He went into the automobile business and then organized the Strand theater company. All the time he was fighting uphill he was also fighting the old stain on his name. "There's a Reason"

SELECT WILSON AND MARSHALL TO LEAD THEM

Democrats Name Their Candidates at St. Louis Amid Scenes of Wildest Enthusiasm.

AVOID THE FRIDAY 'HOODOO'

Nominations Were Made Only Few Minutes Before Midnight on Thursday—President Wilson at Once Notified of the Convention's Choice.

St. Louis.—By strenuous suppression of oratory and rushing proceedings the Democratic national convention dodged Friday as the day on which it renominated President Woodrow Wilson and Vice President Thomas Riley Marshall.

The superstitious party engineers beat the clock by only a few minutes, but it was enough to avoid the hoodoo.

Wilson Named at 11:52 P. M. Mr. Wilson was nominated by acclamation at 11:52 p. m. Thursday.

Mr. Marshall was only a trifle behind crossing the line at 11:55. In this lightning sprint Mr. Marshall made a record. Senator Kern was due for a nominating speech. Sensing the approaching midnight he threw his eulogy on the floor and simply said: "I renominate Thomas Riley Marshall." Somebody seconded. Somebody moved to make it by acclamation. And it was done, the whole job of nominating a vice presidential candidate taking up just 180 seconds.

Friday Superstition Averted. Thus the ancient superstition against Friday nominations was averted, although President Wilson had made it known that he regards Friday as his "lucky day."

Dramatic scenes attended the naming of the ticket. William Jennings Bryan in an impassioned, anguished speech placed his O. K. upon the president and his administration.

The Nebraska, who resigned from the cabinet, was not a delegate to the convention, but he was called to the platform by unanimous consent. He lauded Wilson to the skies for keeping the nation out of war, lauded the Wilson-McCormack policy and extolled the economic legislation from tariff to currency act.

Bryan at times spoke under the strain of emotion. It was the first convention in 20 years in which he has not been an active figure, but the ovation and the outburst that punctuated his remarks indicated that he is still a powerful force behind the scenes of the party he once dominated.

Wescott Names Wilson. The Nebraska through with his speech, John W. Wescott of New Jersey placed Mr. Wilson in nomination. As the time grew short Wescott, cutting short his peroration, shouted: "I nominate Woodrow Wilson."

Then followed a great demonstration that lasted 40 minutes. Delegates and galleries were roused to a high pitch of enthusiasm and emotionalism. They yelled and shouted and paraded and sang. Some of them wept in an ecstasy of feeling.

Harmon Seconded Wilson. Former Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio, who was a candidate for the presidential nomination at Baltimore four years ago, made the first seconding speech for President Wilson.

The next was by Gov. H. C. Stuart of Virginia.

Senator Hughes of New Jersey moved that the rules be suspended and the nomination made by acclamation. The motion was carried with a tremendous roar.

The only objection came from Robert E. Burke of Chicago, the only anti-Wilson delegate in the convention. He shouted "No."

Senator James declared President Wilson nominated at 11:52 p. m.

Kern Names Marshall. Senator John W. Kern of Indiana then was recognized. He moved that the nomination of Vice President Marshall be made by acclamation. No nominating speech was made.

Vice President Marshall was declared nominated four minutes after the nomination of President Wilson.

Numerous seconding speeches which had been prepared were not made.

Former Gov. Martin H. Glynn was made chairman of the committee to notify President Wilson of his nomination.

Roger C. Sullivan presented a resolution expressing thanks to former Governor Glynn, Senator James and other officers of the convention.

A resolution was adopted giving state committees authority to fill vacancies caused by death or resignation on the national committee.

Lewis' Speech His Shortest. Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois was invited to the platform to make an address at 12:12 a. m. "I do not like to impose upon your time," said Senator Lewis. "I beg you will excuse me and I express my sincere thanks."

It was the shortest speech of his career.

Senator Hughes reported to the convention that the resolution committee had failed to complete its work on the platform. The convention then adjourned at 12:32 a. m. until eleven o'clock Friday morning.

Forty-six minutes of sheer enthusiasm and emotion followed the naming of President Wilson. The minute Mr. Westcott had yielded to the adjurations of his audience and had spoken the name "Woodrow Wilson," the galleries and the delegates were on their feet.

Lewis' Speech His Shortest. Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois was invited to the platform to make an address at 12:12 a. m. "I do not like to impose upon your time," said Senator Lewis. "I beg you will excuse me and I express my sincere thanks."

It was the shortest speech of his career.

Senator Hughes reported to the convention that the resolution committee had failed to complete its work on the platform. The convention then adjourned at 12:32 a. m. until eleven o'clock Friday morning.

Forty-six minutes of sheer enthusiasm and emotion followed the naming of President Wilson. The minute Mr. Westcott had yielded to the adjurations of his audience and had spoken the name "Woodrow Wilson," the galleries and the delegates were on their feet.

An immense oil painting of the president was dropped from the gallery back of the speakers' stand. It excited the gathering almost to the point of frenzy. Georgia bore down the aisle a banner—"Wilson: Dixie's gift to the nation."

The band blared and thumped out "America" and "Dixie" while the great pit, a crater of eruptive humanity, let out its collective lungs and throats to capacity.

Lockstep Dance in Hall. Groups of belated delegates kept outside by "strong arms" placed on the gates broke into the hall and

Joined their voices to the tumult. In lockstep the delegates danced around the hall.

A woman bore the California standard to the platform. Emblems from other states were grouped around it while the brilliant lights of the "movie men" turned the platform into a tableau vivant.

And the singing! The crowd fairly lifted the roof. They let out their lungs in national hymns, "Swanee River," "My Old Kentucky Home," "How Dry I Am" and that other old political anthem, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here." Then they burst into "Tipperary" and rendered it at the top of 1,000 voices. It was some chant. It was great congregational singing.

Bryan Lauds Wilson. Bryan in his laudation of Wilson and his policies dwelt on the possibility of America as negotiator of peace in Europe.

"I stand with the Democrats of the nation to give Woodrow Wilson a chance to be that man," shouted Bryan, in conclusion, and the hall echoed with cheering.

Details of the Night Session. St. Louis.—While the convention was assembling for the night session to nominate President Wilson it became known the Nebraska delegation planned to withdraw the vice presidency candidacy of Governor Morehead.

Before the convention was called to order the Coliseum was so full that the fire department took charge of the entrances and permitted no more to come in. William J. Bryan was stopped at the door. Senator James learned of the Nebraska's plight and rescued him. Then the Nebraska got his usual uproarious reception.

Chairman James rapped the convention to order.

Rev. W. J. Hardesty, chaplain of the Missouri senate, offered prayer.

Senator Thompson then moved a suspension of the rules to permit Mr. Bryan to speak. When the motion was put there were some "Noes," but the chairman ruled two-thirds had voted in favor.

Senator James introduced Mr. Bryan as "one of the leading citizens of the world and America's greatest Democrat."

Senator James introduced Mr. Bryan as "one of the leading citizens of the world and America's greatest Democrat."

In spite of the distracting influence of the mob at the doors and the laughs that rose occasionally when a bedraggled leader finally forced his way into the convention hall Mr. Bryan held his audience.

Applause was frequent and thunderous. He spoke for forty-five minutes, finishing at 10:07.

Glynn Is the Keynote. In a hall gay with flags and bunting and with pictures of party leaders, past and present, looking down upon them from medallions around the balcony, the delegates to the Democratic national convention assembled on scheduled time Wednesday. The proceedings were formally started when William F. McCombs, chairman of the national committee, ascended the platform and rapped for order. He incited the first burst of enthusiasm of the convention when, in a short address introducing the temporary chairman, he predicted victory for the party in the fall.

The keynote speech was delivered by former Gov. Martin H. Glynn of New York, the temporary chairman. He was frequently interrupted by applause when some point in his speech stirred the enthusiasm of the delegates. His eulogy of President Wilson started the biggest demonstration of the day. Following Governor Glynn's speech, committees on credentials, permanent organization, rules, and resolutions were announced, and that day's work was done.

The delegates were a little slow in assembling for Thursday's session, and it was almost noon when Temporary Chairman Glynn called the convention to order. Permanent Chairman Ollie James was escorted to the chair and introduced. He immediately launched into his address. He lauded the president and defended his policies, particularly in regard to the controversy with Germany over the submarine warfare and our relations with Mexico. An enthusiastic demonstration greeted his praise of President Wilson, which lasted more than twenty minutes. At the close of Chairman James' speech the convention took a recess until nine o'clock in the evening.

Before the nominating speeches began at the evening session the Democrats indulged in a love feast in which the advent of harmony in their ranks was celebrated. The leader of this demonstration of good will was William Jennings Bryan.

Wilson Praised by Bryan. Mr. Bryan was cheered enthusiastically as he entered the press section with Mrs. Bryan shortly after nine o'clock. A few minutes later, upon the motion of Senator Thompson of Kansas, the convention suspended the rules amid tumultuous good feeling and invited Mr. Bryan to the rostrum. A committee conducted Mr. Bryan amid wild cheering to the side of Chairman James.

Mr. Bryan launched into a speech lauding the administration of the president.

Following Mr. Bryan's address the convention got down to the real business for which it had been convened and the renomination of President Wilson and Vice President Marshall was quickly put through as related above. The convention took a recess until eleven o'clock Friday morning, when the report of the committee on resolutions was presented and the platform was adopted with little discussion and practically no opposition.

"TOM" TAGGART PROVES TO BE CONVENTION RESCUER

St. Louis.—Senator "Tom" Taggart, Indiana's popular citizen, was one of the most sought-after men in the convention. Delegates who wanted "just one more ticket for a friend" went to Tom; newspaper men wanting favors of all kinds sought him out; officials worried about arrangements poured their troubles into his ears, and the marvel of it all is that none went away dissatisfied. The Hoosier solon found time and means to grant every request or, at least, pour enough oil upon the troubled waters to send his visitors away smiling.

Poor Man! "And what is that monument in the public square?" asked the young lad; from the East.

"That there monument," said the native, "marks the last resting place of Three-fingered Jim Nugent. He was the best sheriff this county ever had and he died with his boots on!"

"Dear me!" exclaimed the visitor "How very uncomfortable."

Oklahoma Troops Are Ready

Thirteen companies of the state militia have assembled at their armories to await the official call to mobilize for service on the Mexican border.

A message came from the war department at Washington to Governor Williams, ordering him to mobilize the Oklahoma national guard at Chandler for recruiting and to be in readiness for further calls. As commander-in-chief of the Oklahoma militia Governor Williams transmitted the order to Adjutant General Canton and instructed him to carry it out.

The unofficial word had already spread and the men were hurrying to the armories before official orders arrived. The railroads began assembling equipment at the proper points at once.

In all the armories there was bustling and activity, packing equipment. At Oklahoma City, a number of officers and men were held in readiness by General Canton to assist in preparing for shipment the equipment stored in the adjutant general's department. This consists of clothing, bedding, tents, twenty-four escort wagons and between 75,000 and 100,000 rounds of ammunition. It will require about fourteen cars to transport these.

MILITIA OF EVERY STATE CALLED OUT

PRESIDENT SUMMONS TROOPS TO THE BORDER FOLLOWING THREATENING MOVES BY CARRANZA.

3,000 REGULARS RELEASED FOR INVASION OF MEXICO

If Actual Hostilities Follow "Ultimatum" Delivered to Gen. Pershing, Forbidding Him to Extend His Lines East, West and South.

Washington, D. C.—Virtually the entire mobile strength of the national guard of all states and the District of Columbia is ordered mustered into the federal service by President Wilson. About one hundred thousand men are expected to respond to the call. They will be mobilized immediately for such service on the Mexican border as later may be assigned to them.

General Frederick Funston, commanding the border forces, will designate the time and place for movements of guardsmen to the international line as the occasion shall require.

Patrol Work Only. In announcing the orders, Secretary Baker said the state forces would be employed only to guard the border and that no additional troop movements into Mexico were contemplated.

Simultaneously with the national guard call, Secretary Daniels of the navy department, ordered additional war vessels to Mexican waters on both coasts to safeguard American lives.

No New Advances. At the war, navy and state departments it was stated that no new advances as to the situation in Mexico had come to precipitate the new orders.

Within the last two weeks, however, tension has been increasing steadily. The crisis presented by General Carranza's note demanding the recall of General Pershing's expeditionary force has been followed by a virtual ultimatum served on the American officer by General Trevino, the Mexican commander in Chihuahua. Trevino forbade Pershing moving further east, west or south. To this was added the possibility that American and Mexican troops had clashed across the border from San Benito, Texas.

Relief Over Return. Administration officials made no attempt to conceal their relief for the safe return of Major Anderson's cavalry squadron to Brownsville, after their successful bandit chase. The "troopers" crossed in pursuit of bandits in the face of intimations that they would be attacked if they did so. General Funston himself reported that he anticipated fighting, presumably with Carranza troops.

Mobilization of the national guardsmen to support General Funston's line will pave the way to the release of some 30,000 regulars for immediate service in Mexico in the event of open hostilities with the Carranza government. The guardsmen themselves could not be used beyond the line without authority of congress and until they had volunteered for that duty, as they are called out under the old militia law. The new law, which would make them available for any duty under the federal government, goes into effect July 1.

Forces Now at Border. The entire mobile regular army in the United States, several provisional regiments of regular coast artillery serving as infantry and the national guard of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, now are on the border or in Mexico. Definite figures have never been made public, but it is understood General Funston has above 40,000 regulars and probably 5,000 or more guardsmen, of whom 10,000 regulars are with General Pershing or scattered along his line of communications from Nampiqua, Mexico, to Columbus, N. M.

1,148 Companies Called. By the new orders there will be placed at General Funston's disposal two major generals and twenty-one brigadier generals of militia, with their complete infantry commands. The entire infantry divisions from New York and Pennsylvania are called out, as are fifteen full brigades from other states. In all eighty-eight regiments of infantry with thirteen separate battalions and many separate companies are affected, giving a total of 1,148 companies, each of which must have a minimum strength of sixty-five men when mustered into the federal service. The total enlisted force of infantry, therefore, would be not less than 85,000 men.

Less than 500 companies, scattered throughout the country, will not be mustered, and the national guard coast artillery companies have not been summoned. All of the field artillery, cavalry, engineer and signal troops will be employed, as will many of the militia field hospitals and ambulance companies. The war department has on hand ample equipment and clothing to outfit and maintain this force.

Field Artillery. The call applies to twenty-nine batteries of field artillery, ninety-nine troops of cavalry and one New York cavalry machine gun troop; twenty-five engineer companies and twenty-nine signal companies, all with full equipment already issued to them. Twenty-six ambulance companies and twenty-seven field hospitals also have been ordered made ready for entraining.

No Indication was given at the state department of the course to be pursued with regard to the reply to General Carranza's note demanding the withdrawal of the American troops now in Mexico. It was prepared last week by Secretary Lansing and is still in President Wilson's hands. It had been intended to dispatch it to Mexico City by special messenger, but recent developments may change this plan.

MEXICAN BANDITS AGAIN CROSS BORDER LINE

San Antonio, Texas.—Luis De La Rosa made good his threat to raid the border when 100 of his men attacked a small detachment of the Fourteenth American cavalry at San Ignacio, forty miles southeast of Laredo. His action cost him eight men killed, several wounded and many horses and equipment. The American loss was three killed and six wounded.

Major Ahonzo Grey is using every man of his little command in a sweeping search of the country about San Ignacio for a hot trail. If it is discovered a third "punitive expedition" will enter Mexico, but at department headquarters General Funston and his staff have little hope that Major Grey will be able to get into touch with the band.

The first shot by the attacking party was at the corporal of the guard at 2 a. m. For thirty minutes, according to a report made by Major Gray to General Mann at Laredo and by him transmitted to General Funston, a brisk engagement ensued. There were not more than eighty Americans in the camp.

Will Ask Withdrawal. Laredo, Texas.—Prominent American merchants plan to hold a meeting in St. Louis in the near future to prepare a petition to President Wilson asking that the American punitive expedition be withdrawn from Mexico according to a local Spanish newspaper. The newspaper points out that since the trouble started in Mexico American merchants have suffered a financial loss of more than $500,000. Withdrawal of the troops would tend to pacify the situation.

STONE AMERICAN CONSULATE

DEMONSTRATIONS AGAINST THE AMERICANS AT MEXICO CITY.

Carranza May Declare War As Soon As He Gets Latest American Note.

Mexico City.—The American consulate was stoned here while Vice Consul Rowe was in the building, and only ten minutes after Special Representative Rodgers had left the place. Mr. Rodgers protested the stoning.

The streets and public squares of the capital are thronged with patriotic paraders who marched to the various public offices led by bands and carrying the national emblems as evidence of their willingness to defend the country's honor and dignity in case of a foreign war.

More than 10,000 persons gathered in the great square bounded by the cathedral and municipal places, where they were addressed by General Carranza, War Minister Obregon and other members of the government. General Carranza told the throngs that Mexico was not seeking war but would not avoid it at the cost of national dignity.

WAR DECLARED.

San Diego, Calif.—An ultimatum amounting practically to a declaration of war against the United States was served on Commander Arthur G. Kavanagh of the gunboat Annapolis by General Flores, Carranza governor of the state of Sinaloa, according to a radiogram sent from the Annapolis at Mazatlan and received here by Admiral Winslow, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet.

Another County Heard From. Galveston.—The Mexican government in Yucatan has issued a proclamation ordering all American out of Mexico and declaring a state of war existing between the two countries, according to passengers arriving here on the Norwegian steamer Nils, from Progreso. Americans and other foreigners are being taken on board an American gunboat at Progreso. Great excitement is said to prevail.

Sharp Note to Carranza. Washington.—Upon General Carranza's reception of a stern refusal to heed his demands for recall of American troops now depends the question of a Mexican war, in the opinion of President Wilson's close advisers. They are prepared for the possibility of open hostility after the note which has been sent forward has reached Carranza's hands.

No Indication has come that the first chief's attitude of implacable hostility would be shaken by the reiterated declaration of the latest communication that the United States has no aggressive warlike purpose toward Mexico, but is firmly resolved to protect her borders and end brigandage in the border states.

Flames Being Kindled. Official reports from many quarters show that a flame of popular feeling against the United States is being kindled throughout Mexico. Apparently it is being done with the sanction of General Carranza, for the acts in many cases are those of his authorized military or civil agents.

From Juarez to the west coast of Mexico posters have appeared calling the people to arms and asserting that the United States is preparing to hurl its armies into Mexico. Chaotic conditions prevail everywhere, it is said. Clashes such as that between Mexican troops and American bluejackets at Mazatlan show that relations are strained to the breaking point. The act of a subordinate commander anywhere may bring on fighting that will result in war.

No Strong Curbing Measures. So far as officials here are aware General Carranza is taking no strong measures to curb his soldiers and people. Upon this fact many founded their belief that he is determined to force matters to an issue unless the American troops are withdrawn.

Neither state department officials nor members of the diplomatic corps have been able to satisfy themselves as to Carranza's motives. There are some, however, who believe he hopes to ride into popularity by a diplomatic triumph over his powerful northern neighbor or upon a war wave which might establish his tottering government in popular estimation. Once the war was on and the certain defeat of his armies foreshadowed, these observers say Carranza might sue for peace, trusting to the magnanimity of the Washington government to leave him in power.

Forgot His Politeness.

De Witt, a little chap, borrows Reverend Smith's kitten to play with. The other day he returned the kitten and said: "Mr. Smith, here is your kitten I brought home." The old gentleman who enjoys hearing De Witt talk, said: "What's that, De Witt?" "Why I brought your kitten home." The pastor shook his head, and looked puzzled. "Oh," exclaimed the disgruntled boy, dropping the kitten and turning his back on the minister, "It's your d—titty tail!"—Cleveland Leader.
