PORTALES, ROOSEVELT COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, JANUARY 23, 1920

NUMBER 33

Married Last Sunday

On last Sunday afternoon at 3:40 o'clock, Miss Myrtle Cunningham and Mr. Charles W. Thomas were quietly married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thomas, Rev. J. H. Wagner, officiating.

These young people are well known in Portales, the bride has been here practically all her life. For more than a year she has been holding the position as stenographer for Joyce-Pruitt Co. She is a young woman of refined habits, sheerful disposition and a fortitude to meet the reverses, thus equipped to meet the battles of life. She brings to her young husband a bright, happy and prosperous future.

The groom is an overseas boy, having served four years in the U. S. Army. At present he is an employee at the Goodloe Paint Company. His choice of a life partner is evidence of marked intelligence and we predict for them a happy and useful life.

Besides the immediate family, there were only two present at the ceremony. They were Mrs. J. E. Henderson and Miss Emma DelCurto.

The News joins their many friends in wishing for them a prosperous voyage over life's uncertain sea, and a safe harbor at the end.

On January 20th, Mrs. P. E. Jordan was hostess at a one o'clock luncheon given in honor of Mrs. Fred Luper. The house was fittingly decorated for the occasion, the color scheme was yellow, thus harmonizing with the interior of the Jordan home, one of the most attractive homes in the city. The center piece was a silver comport banked with oranges and smilax, surrounded with yellow candles. A delicious five course luncheon was served and the afternoon was spent at auction bridge. Those present were Mesdames Kugler, Buchanan Hall, McDowell, Wilcox, Thompson, Neer, Mears, Harold Rogers and A. A. Rogers.

To The Voters of the County:

After careful consideration, I have decided to withdraw from the race for sheriff of Roosevelt county, and I take this method of thanking my friends for their encouragement and appreciate their friendship just as much as if I had remained in the race and been successful.

Respectfully,
Itp Preston (Ted) Williams.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Tax Assessor of Roosevelt county, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

I have been a resident of this county for the past thirteen years and have had some experience in the work, as I served three years as deputy assessor for J. E. McCall, and feel that I can do this work successfully.

I expect to make a thorough canvass of the county and will try to meet each voter personally.

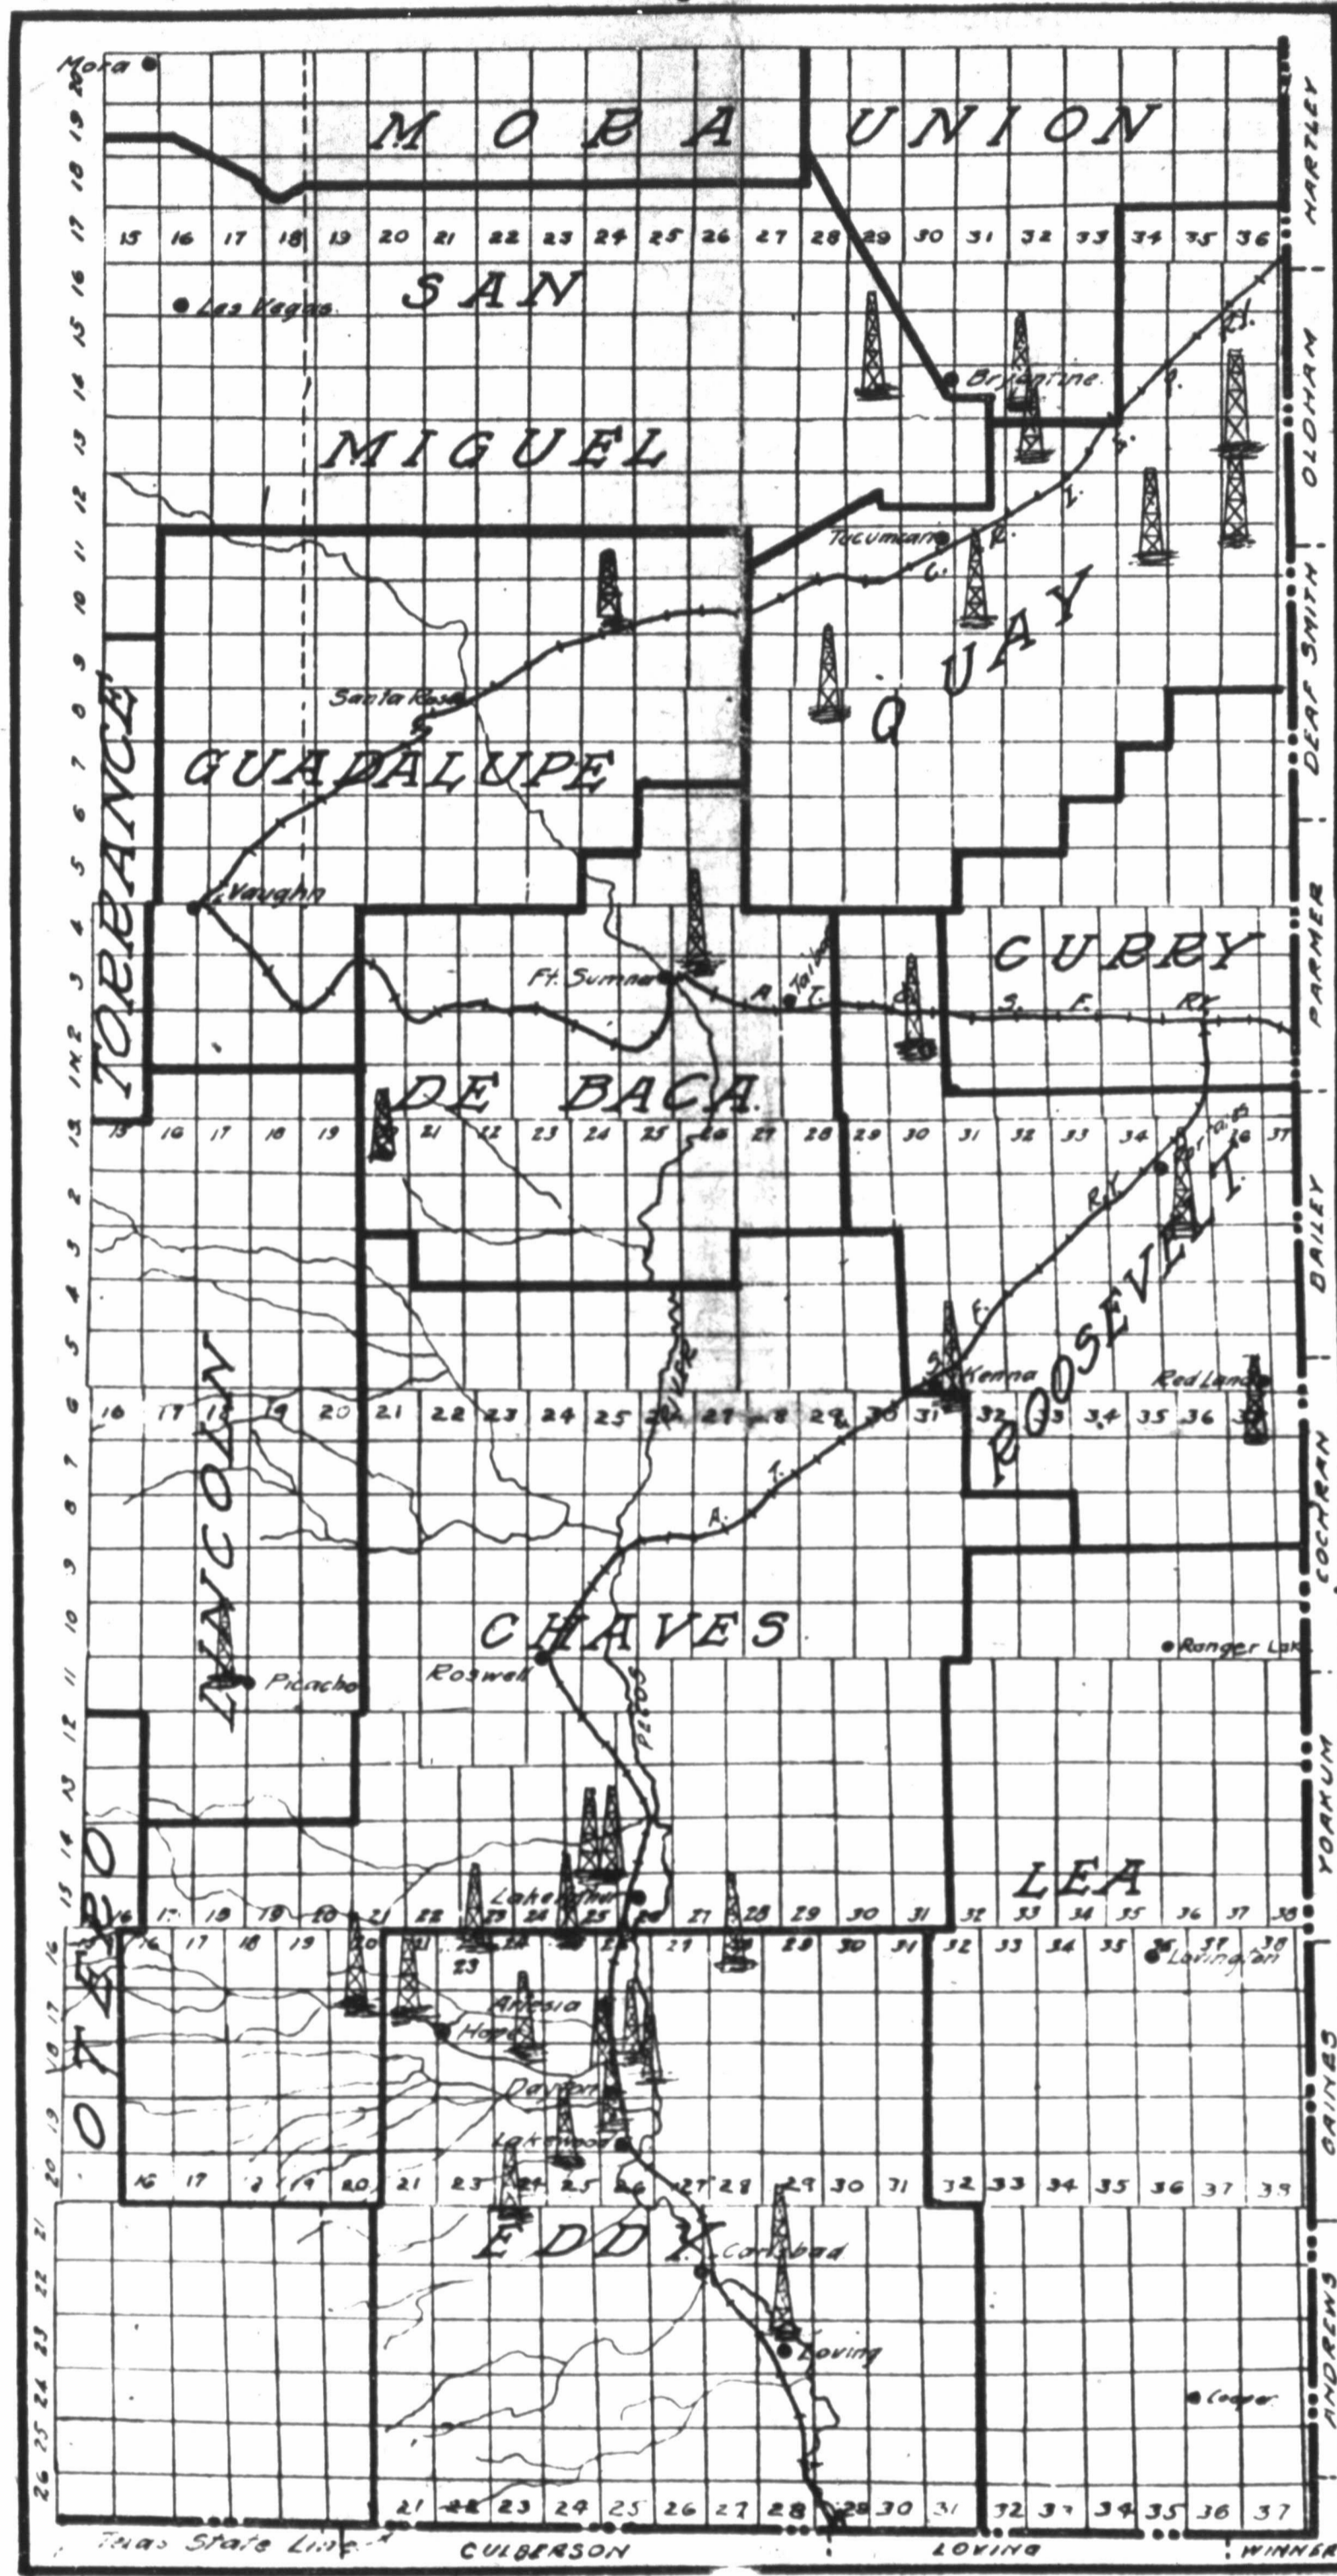

If elected to the office, will conduct it to the very best of my ability.

I will appreciate your vote and influence.

J. A. (Jack) Pipkin.

NOTICE—All parties having claims against the Nu-Mex Oil Company will please present them before the first of February. We want to settle all outstanding accounts on or before that date.
J. D. Lasater, President.

New Mexico Oil Fields

Each day adds to the activity of Roosevelt county's oil operations. Strangers with leather coats and leggings, the typical garb of oil scouts, are continually driving into Portales, and there is an unmistakable under-current that is sweeping this region into the seething wild sea of oildom.

George E. Montgomery, one of the big figures in the Amarillo field, has just filed for record his leases near Richland, aggregating something like 25,000 acres. This means another well, for there has been a bond up for some time to insure drilling on this land before March first.

Columbus, Ohio capitalists have bought control of the Mesa Company and will at once resume drilling and continue until the hole is down to a depth originally advised by the company geologist. This is good news as the Mesa location is considered a very favorable spot to get oil and everybody will pull hard for the success of the undertaking.

The Roosevelt Oil Company is only awaiting the arrival of tanks for the storage of fuel oil before spudding in on their drilling site. The rig and tools have been ready for some time and the drillers are champing on the bit to start operations.

The Nu-Mex well is down 800 feet with everything looking fine. President Lasater has secured plenty of ten inch casing and states that it will be here within a few days. The Chicago people who are furnishing the money have great reason to be pleased with their investment, as the Nu-Mex structure has been picked by visiting oil men as one of the best in the entire state. A. C. Rubel and H. E. Brehm, representing the Richmond-Levering Company, of New York, have been in Roosevelt county for the past two weeks making a topographical map of this region; they declare the Nu-Mex ground to be the most likely oil land they have yet found in the Southwest.

Unless one has followed the developments closely he does not appreciate the activity going on under our very noses. Taking the Nu-Mex well as a center there are operations in every direction. To the northwest is the Mesa; to the southwest the Great Western Oil and Gas; south is the Montgomery; to the southeast the Roosevelt Company and to the northeast just over the Texas line at Friona is the well to be drilled by the big Standard Oil Company. This does not take into consideration the McGee well to the north and the many promising developments down the valley to the south. Roosevelt county may justly be said to be the hub in the wheel of active oil operations in Eastern New Mexico.

Portales people should prepare for the rush that is coming as sure as the summer heat. We must be ready to furnish accommodations which at the present are sadly lacking. We cannot expect oil men with money to spend, to sleep in the streets or to be satisfied with tents. With every house in town rented it is up to our citizens to find ways to take care of our welcome fortune-bringing oil brethren.

To The Voters of Roosevelt Co.:

I hereby offer myself as a candidate for County School Superintendent of Roosevelt county.

I am a life-long Democrat, and in regard to my qualifications, wish to state that I am a graduate of Trinity College, Round Rock, Texas. Have taught school nine years, five of which have been in this county, and hold a life certificate.

In case of my election, I promise to do my utmost to give the county a sane, practical and progressive system of schools.

Very truly,
R. A. PALM.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

To the Citizens of Roosevelt Co.:

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Superintendent of Schools for Roosevelt county, New Mexico, subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries.

I have had ten years experience in school work as follows: Three years in the public schools of Oklahoma. One and one-half years in District 15, Roosevelt county. One year in the Portales High school. Two years as superintendent of the Elida schools. One year as assistant superintendent of the City schools of Montrose, Colorado. On year as principal of a school in Balaoan, Philippine Islands. One year as supervisor of the District of Balaoan Philippine Islands.

In the last named position my work was about the same as the County Superintendent's work here. The Balaoan District contained a population of about 40,000.

I received my education in the Public schools of Kansas, the Southern Kansas Academy, the Clovis High school, National Optical College, New Mexico Normal University, Hamilton College of Law, Baker University and the University of Colorado. I have also had the advantage of traveling in Europe, Asia and Africa.

I hold a life certificate in this state.

If elected, I promise to do what I can to make the schools of this county more efficient, and to adapt them to the conditions demanded by this age.

Your support throughout the campaign, and your vote at the election will be appreciated.

DUTCH COLONIAL TYPE OF HOUSE

Combination of Two Pleasing Styles of Architecture.

ALL MODERN CONVENIENCES

Handsome Seven-Room Dwelling Suitable Either for Town Residence or a Farm Home—Rooms Conveniently Arranged.

By WM. A. RADFORD. Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 187 Prairie Avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose two-cent stamp for reply.

The combination of the colonial and Dutch styles of architecture, which commonly is called the "Dutch colonial," is a popular type of dwelling. The Dutch colonial has the beauty of the colonial, without its plainness; the sloping Dutch roof, with the wide dormers, makes possible an economical use of the space within the four walls. And one point about the Dutch colonial is that it may be a small house, but it appears large and substantial.

Such a house is shown in the accompanying illustration. Here is a Dutch colonial house that is only 32 by 26 feet in dimensions, exclusive of the sun parlor, and contains only seven rooms; still it has the exterior appearance of a large home.

The colonial effect in the exterior of this house is secured by placing the door in the center and preserving the balance with duplicate sets of windows on either side. The porch at the entrance is patterned after the old homes of New England, having only a slight roof projection, which is supported by round columns. The slope of the roof and the wide dor-the house, it has windows facing two ways. It is 12 feet 6 inches by 15 feet in dimensions, and has a built-in buffet. At the back of the house is the kitchen, 9 feet 6 inches by 11 feet 6 inches. Adjoining is a washroom, which is a feature of the modern farm home. For a town residence, however, this room will become a case-in-porch, opening off the dining room instead of the kitchen. A pantry extending out alongside the small rear porch contains the ice chest. This arrangement, coupled with the wash room, permits entrance to the house without the necessity of dirtying any of the living rooms.

On the second floor are four good bedrooms and the bath. Each bedroom is a corner room, opening off a central hall. This arrangement also brings the bathroom close to the bedrooms.

For the family living either in town or on the farm this design will furnish a home that will accommodate a good-sized family; it is modern in every respect, and has a most attractive exterior appearance. The house itself is rectangular in shape, with straight walls, which makes for economy in cost.

This is the time in the year when home builders are busy studying plans and deciding on the sort of house they will erect next spring. There are many types of houses to be considered. The bungalow is a city favorite and is becoming more and more popular in the smaller towns and rural sections; the story-and-a-half house always is in demand, as are the two-story houses of various designs. However, after all have been considered, mers, in which the window balance is maintained, denote the Dutch.

This Dutch colonial is of wood frame construction set on a concrete foundation. It has a full basement with a concrete floor, supplying plenty of room for the heating plant, fuel storage, and for the storage of fruit, vegetables and other articles, such as the garden tools, etc.

The arrangement of the rooms follows closely the colonial. The central entrance leads to a hall on one side of which is the living room and on the other the dining room. The stairs to the second floor also run out of the hall.

The manner in which the living room and sun parlor are combined in this house is unusual. The living room is large—12 feet 6 inches by 25 feet. In the center of the wall that separates the living room from the sun parlor is the open fireplace, and on either side is a glazed door leading to the

there are hundreds of home builders who will pick the Dutch colonial as the house they want. It has what is nowadays termed "class."

Before deciding on the home building design, it always is well to consult with the material dealer, contractor and architect. These three home building experts can materially help the prospective builder with suggestions that will save mistakes in construction and make for economy in the cost of the home. And it is easy for the amateur to make costly mistakes—mistakes that oftentimes bring disappointment after the new home is completed.

Building a home is a step that no man ever has regretted. It is better than putting money in the bank. The first cost is returned to the builder in saving of rent, but the greatest consideration is the satisfaction and comfort he and his family derive from their home.

It is never too early to begin planning to build a home.

Gulf Stream.

The current of water through the ocean, which is commonly called the Gulf stream, is of varying width at different points. Its width, according to the conditions that influence it, may vary from 45 to 100 miles, and its course also varies slightly from time to time. In popular usage the name is often applied not only to designate the Gulf stream proper, but much of the oceanic drift of the north Atlantic.

Johnnie's Big Discovery.

Johnnie stopped in his frolic to watch the maid stretch his sweater, which had shrunk in washing. Returning to his play, he found his pet kitten at full length on the floor, apparently bigger than ever before. "I've found out how kitties grow to be big cats," he triumphantly called: "they stretch themselves."

THE KITCHEN CABINET

HOLIDAY CANDIES.

A varied diet will not promote health, resistance to disease or efficiency and longevity in the same degree as a diet containing liberal amounts of milk and leafy vegetables.—McCollam.

Who could imagine the holidays without candy? Candies made at home are doubly delicious and usually more wholesome.

One may have an elaborate equipment or one which is very simple. A few wooden spoons, a thermometer, a few bowls and basins and a few aluminum saucepans, a pair of scissors and a candy hook to pull the boiled sugars on, some bon-bon cases; these may be saved from time to time, saving the buying. The candy thermometer is of the greatest convenience; it is made of wood and copper or brass and registers 320 degrees.

When boiling sugar the steam of kettles and pans should be avoided. A clear bright day is best. When sirup is cooked to a high degree of heat it is apt to sugar. Cream of tartar and glucose or a few grains of citric acid added to the mixture will keep it from graining. A tablespoonful of glucose, a quarter of a teaspoonful of cream of tartar will be enough for a pound of sugar.

The making of fondant is the most important step in candy making. It is used in many ways, both as a covering and also as filling.

It is far wiser if one has no thermometer to make the fondant in small quantities. To four cupfuls of sugar add half a cupful of water and a tablespoonful (heaping) of corn sirup or glucose, or a bit of cream of tartar. Let it boil, washing down the sides with a swab to keep the grains from forming, until when a drop is added to cold water it makes a ball which can just be handled. Pour it carefully, not scraping the dish, into a buttered platter and let it cool until it can be handled. Stir with a wooden spoon from the edges to the center until it is all creamy and smooth. Then pack in a bowl, cover with a buttered paper and set away for a day or two. It is now ready for any of the flavors, colors or kinds one wishes to make of it. The softer the fondant the more delicious it is for the filling of chocolate creams. Chill the fondant and mold in balls; chill again and dip quickly in melted chocolate.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS.

The national song of China is that sung by its teakettles, and our poets liken it to the echoes of a cataract muffled by clouds, a distant sea breaking upon the rocks, a rainstorm sweeping a bamboo forest, or the sighing of the pines on a distant hill.—Dr. Wu Ting Fang.

A little care and thought in the arrangement of food will make of a very common dish something worth while.

With sugar keeping up in price it will behoove almost any householder to "keep a bee." A hive in an attic will prove a most valuable addition to the family larder. And when one may take sixty pounds from a hive it seems quite worth while to learn how to care for a hive of bees.

Apricot Omelet.—Press canned or stewed apricots through a sieve to fill a cup. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter. In it cook two tablespoonfuls of flour and one-fourth teaspoonful of salt. Add the cupful of apricot puree and stir well. Add gradually to the yolks of five eggs beaten very light, then fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Melt one tablespoonful of butter in a smooth omelet pan, turning the pan to have the sides well greased. Pour in the apricot mixture and cook on the top of the stove for two minutes, then set in the oven. Cook until done to the center. Score at right angles and fold at the scoring. Turn on a hot platter. This will serve eight.

Shirred Eggs Creole Style.—For three eggs cut half a green pepper and half an onion in shreds. Cook in a tablespoonful of butter until soft. Add three-fourths of a cupful of cooked strained tomato, and salt to season. Turn into egg dishes and into the tomato break a fresh egg. Set in the oven to cook until the egg is set. Serve at once.

String Beans.—Drain a can of string beans and season with chopped bacon and the hot fat, also a dash of vinegar and chopped onion, with salt and pepper to taste. Serve hot.

Cannot Praise this Remedy too Highly

THE WAY ONE LADY FEELS AFTER SUFFERING TWO YEARS

Judging from her letter, the misery and wretchedness endured by Mrs. Charlie Taylor, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 144, Dillon, S. C., must have been terrible. No one, after reading her letter, can continue to doubt the great healing power of PE-RU-NA for troubles due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions in any part of the body. Her letter is an inspiration to every sick and suffering man or woman anywhere. Here it is: "I suffered two years with catarrh of the head, stomach and bowels. Tried two of the best doctors, who gave me up. I then took PE-RU-NA and can truthfully say I am well. When I began to use PE-RU-NA, I weighed one hundred pounds. My weight now is one hundred and fifty. I cannot praise PE-RU-NA too highly, for it was a Godsend to me. I got relief from the first half bottle and twelve bottles cured me. I advise all sufferers to take PE-RU-NA."

As an emergency remedy in the home, there is nothing quite the equal of this reliable, time-tried medicine, PE-RU-NA. Thousands place their sole dependence on it for coughs, colds, stomach and bowel trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and joints and to prevent the grip and Spanish Flu. To keep the blood pure and maintain bodily strength and robustness, take PE-RU-NA.

You can buy PE-RU-NA anywhere in either tablet or liquid form.

THE "BLUES"

Caused by

Acid-Stomach

Millions of people who worry, are despondent, have spells of mental depression, feel blue and are often melancholy, believe that these conditions are due to outside influences over which they have little or no control. Nearly always, however, they can be traced to an internal source—acid-stomach. Nor is it to be wondered at. Acid-stomach, beginning with such well defined symptoms as indigestion, belching, heartburn, bloating, etc., will, if not checked, in time affect to some degree or other all the vital organs. The nervous system becomes deranged. Digestion suffers. The blood is impoverished. Health and strength are undermined. The victim of acid-stomach, although he may not know the cause of his ailments, fears his hope, courage, ambition and energy slipping. And truly life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman who has acid-stomach. Get rid of it! Don't let acid-stomach hold you back, wreck your health, make your days miserable, make you a victim of the "blues" and gloomy thoughts! There is a marvelous modern remedy called EATONIC that brings, oh! such quick relief from your stomach miseries—sets your stomach to rights—makes it strong, cool, sweet and comfortable. Help you get back your strength, vigor, vitality, enthusiasm and good cheer. So many thousands upon thousands of sufferers have used EATONIC with such marvellously helpful results that we are sure you will feel the same way if you will just give it a trial. Get a big 60 cent box of EATONIC—the good tasting tablets that you eat like a bit of candy—from your druggist. He will return your money if results are not even more than you expect.

Marvelous Story of Woman's Change from Weakness to Strength by Taking Druggist's Advice

Peru, Ind.—"I suffered from a displacement with backache and dragging down pains so badly that at times I could not be on my feet and it did not seem as though I could stand it. I tried different medicines without any benefit and several doctors told me nothing but an operation would do me any good. My druggist told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it with the result that I am now well and strong. I get up in the morning at four o'clock, do my housework, then go to a factory and work all day, come home and get supper and feel good. BENEFITS OF SURFACE IRRIGATION WHICH DO NOT INVOLVE HEAVY OUTLAY OF MONEY

Furrow Irrigation, a Method of Artificially Applying Water to the Land That Could Profitably Be More Generally Adopted in Eastern Regions.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Probably there never was greater interest in various forms of irrigation than at present. Three methods are popular in sections of the Eastern states where conditions justify the artificial application of water to crops. They are spraying, subirrigation and surface irrigation. But the forehanded farmer who is making plans for his spring work hesitates to undertake new spray irrigation or subirrigation projects because he is well aware of the expense with prices at their present level. It is timely, therefore, to suggest the benefits of surface irrigation which do not involve so heavy an outlay of money.

Two Methods Employed. Two methods, furrow irrigation and flooding, are employed. Both are extensively used in arid sections of the country, and their adaptation to eastern conditions is not difficult. As its name implies, furrow irrigation is merely the running of water down furrows between rows of plants, while irrigation by flooding is the spreading of water over fields, usually those in small grains, alfalfa or grasses. Common field crops are not often irrigated in the East, yet in occasional instances cotton, corn and potatoes have been treated in this way with profit; likewise fruit trees are benefited by irrigation in many sections. An example of this is the citrus groves of Florida.

Many farms are adapted to a combination of spray and furrow irrigating systems, the former to irrigate seed potatoes and small patches of garden truck, while the latter may be used for crops planted in rows. When a combination of this sort is adopted the crops under spray usually are those on rolling or hilly lands where it is not easy to irrigate by furrows. Where the lay of the land is favorable the comparative cheapness of the furrow method recommends it above the more expensive spray method. In most instances where the furrow method is used the crops are planted in rows far enough apart to permit of cultivation by a horse-drawn implement.

Information in Bulletins. The department of agriculture has for distribution Bulletin 899 entitled "Surface Irrigation for Eastern Farms," which contains valuable information for the farmer interested in surface irrigation. It treats in a practical way the problem of obtaining a water supply, how to convey the water to the land, and the different types of pumps and other equipment necessary to make the system practical. There are also valuable suggestions regarding the methods of applying the water to the crops.

DAIRY INDUSTRY IN STOUT COMPETITION

Specialist Outlines European Needs for Products.

Work of Bureau of Markets in Gathering and Distributing Accurate Information—Standardization of Methods Urged.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

"European needs for dairy products may be largely supplied from pre-war sources within two years' time, and the American dairy industry may again feel foreign competition on home markets." This is the conclusion of Ray C. Potts, specialist in marketing dairy products, bureau of markets, speaking before a recent meeting of food officials in New York city.

In explaining the work of the bureau of markets in gathering and distributing accurate market information on dairy products, Mr. Potts pointed out the stabilizing effect of such information on prices and stated that fluctuating prices at wholesale make for wider margins between producer and consumer, while stabilization permits greater economy in distribution.

Recent monthly reports on milk prices in 200 cities have called attention to the wide difference in distribution costs prevailing in different sections of the country. While economies in distribution are possible in some communities the speaker pointed out that a saving of 10 per cent in the cost of distribution would make only a very slight saving to the individual consumer. A much greater loss to the public, he said, lies in paying top market prices for inferior qualities of dairy products. He advocated standardization of methods of production and distribution with special attention to more uniform quality of product as one of the great needs of the dairy industry.

A MOTHER'S EXPERIENCE

Houston, Texas.—"After the advent of one of my babies my health became very poor. I was nervous and so weak I could not do anything, could not eat or sleep, and was nothing short of a physical wreck when a friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took several bottles, but it was well worth it, for it completely restored me to good health. My advice to women who suffer is to give 'Favorite Prescription' a trial, it will surely help them."—Mrs. E. L. Brown, 2414 Freeman St.

San Antonio, Texas.—"After a serious illness, when my strength seemed as though it would not come back to me, I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic. I had seen it advertised and recommended so highly that I felt I could not go far astray. This medicine did all for me that could be desired. It restored me to perfect health and strength in a comparative short time, and I am just as strong as well as can be. 'Favorite Prescription' is a splendid tonic and builder for women, and it is a pleasure to me to recommend it."—Mrs. Hettie McLane, 308 Bowie St.

Houston, Texas.—"When I had become all run-down, weak and nervous and was feeling miserable all the time I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It was only necessary for me to take two bottles to build me up in health and strength. 'Favorite Prescription' is an excellent tonic for women."—Mrs. F. E. Gouge, 2615 N. Main.

A DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPER

THE SPECIAL SESSION

In the canvass of the members of the taxpayers association of New Mexico, fifty-two replies have been received to date of which forty are opposed to the calling of a special session of the state legislature and twelve favor the proposal. If this is indicative of the attitude of the membership three fourths or seventy-five per cent are opposed as compared with twenty-five per cent in favor.

Of the twelve favoring a special session, eleven mention the ratification of the suffrage amendment as one of the reasons for such a session, five think that the state should be given more power to act in maintaining law and order, three favor immediate legislation for fixing minimum salary for teachers, three would have legislation with reference to the high cost of living, two favor provision for an addition to the capitol building. Other reasons already mentioned are seen mentioned once in the reasons given for a special session.

The forty who voted "no" are not to be counted as opposed to purposes of legislation suggested above. Many of them are favorable to several of the proposals, but they feel that the best interests of the state would not be subserved by calling a special session. The proposals are not of sufficient urgency to require it. The principal argument against the special session is not only that the cost of such a session is an unnecessary expense, but that the opportunity will be given for "lifting the lid" and releasing a swarm of additional tax levies to harass the taxpayer.

Articles of Incorporation.

The undersigned citizens of the United States, residents of the State of New Mexico, each being of lawful age, do hereby associate themselves together for the purpose of forming a corporation under Chapter XXIII of the New Mexico Code of 1915, and the Acts amendatory thereof, and in pursuance of such object do now declare:

I. The name of this corporation shall be The Oil Exchange (No Stockholders' Liability.)

II. The location of the principal office of said corporation shall be in the town of Portales, Roosevelt County, New Mexico, and the name of the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process against said corporation may be served, is Charles J. Hagerling.

III. The objects for which this corporation is formed are:

(a) To buy, sell, and generally deal in oil stocks, leases, and royalties; to run, operate and maintain an exchange office for the sale and disposition of oil stocks, leases and royalties on a commission basis, or otherwise; to make, issue, sell and otherwise dispose of certificates of membership entitling the holder thereof to participate in the privileges and benefits of said exchange in such manner and in to such extent as may be provided in such certificates of membership, and as may be provided in the by-laws of the corporation.

(b) To locate, lease, purchase and acquire lands with the exclusive right to prospect, drill, mine, bore and sink wells and shafts; to operate and develop oil and gas properties; to produce, convey and transport oil, petroleum and gas; to carry the business of storing and prospecting for, mining, producing and refining, manufacturing, storing, piping, transporting, buying and selling petroleum and other oil products or by-products; to buy, sell, furnish and supply the same; to operate, build, construct and maintain oil and gas wells, to build, construct, purchase, maintain and operate warehouses, pumping plants, pipe lines, refineries, factories, mills, workshops, laboratories and dwelling houses, for workmen and others; to manufacture, buy, sell and generally deal in all appliances and conveniences for use in connection with mining and drilling for oil and gas, and the development of properties.

(c) To acquire, buy hold sell, hire, lease, pledge and otherwise deal in all kinds of property, chattels and chattels real; to make and obtain loans upon real estate, improved or unimproved, or any interest therein, and to supervise, manage and protect such property and loans, and all interests and claims affecting the same; to investigate the credit, financial solvency and sufficiency of borrowers, mortgagors and sureties, and of the values of all things pertaining to the values of properties, leases, and stocks sold and handled by such corporation; to improve, operate, manage, sell, mortgage, lease or otherwise dispose of any property, real or personal, and take mortgages and assignments of mortgages upon the same.

(d) To hold, purchase or otherwise acquire, to sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of shares of the capital stock, bonds, debentures or other evidences of indebtedness issued and created by other associations and corporations, and, while the holder thereof, to exercise all the rights and privileges of ownership, including the right to vote thereon.

(e) To borrow money, to make and issue promissory notes, bills of exchange, bonds, debentures and obligations and evidences of indebtedness of all kinds, whether secured by mortgage, pledge or otherwise, without limit as to amount, and to secure the same by mortgage, pledge, or otherwise.

(f) To carry on any other business which may, in the discretion of the directors, seem capable of being conveniently carried on in connection with the above calculated directly or indirectly to enhance the value of the company's properties and rights, so long as the same does not contravene or exceed the grant of rights, powers and privileges granted by the law under which this corporation is organized.

(g) To have one or more offices, either within or without the State of New Mexico, and keep such books and records in any such branch office as may be deemed necessary, provided always that the books and records required by law to be kept at the principal office within the State shall not be removed therefrom; to carry on all or any part of its operations and business, and unlimitedly and without restriction to hold, purchase, mortgage, lease and convey real and personal property and to conduct its business in any state or territory of the United States, and in any foreign country or place, but subject always to the laws thereof.

(h) To do any or all of the things in this certificate expressed or implied as objects, purposes powers or otherwise, to the same extent and as fully as natural persons might or could do, and in any part of the world, as principals, agents, brokers, contractors, trustees or otherwise.

IV. The amount of the total authorized capital stock of this corporation shall be twenty-five thousand dollars, divided into two hundred and fifty shares of the par value of one hundred dollars per share, and the amount of the capital stock with which this corporation shall begin business is two thousand dollars.

V. The names and post office addresses of the incorporators and the number of shares of the capital stock of this corporation subscribed for by each are:

W. J. Gerard, Blue Rapids, Kansas, five shares.
Charles J. Hagerling, Portales, N. M., five shares.
G. M. Williamson, Portales, New Mexico, five shares.
R. G. Bryant, Portales, New Mexico, five shares.

VI. The board of directors of this corporation shall not be less than three nor more than five, to be determined from time to time by the stockholders, and they may adopt such by-laws for the government of the affairs of the corporation as they may deem proper.

VII. The board of directors for the first three months after the filing of this certificate shall be composed of W. J. Gerard, Charles J. Hagerling, and G. M. Williamson.

VIII. The period of duration of this corporation shall be fifty years.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We have hereunto set our hands and seals at Portales, New Mexico, this the 19th day of December, 1919.

Dempton's pale lips opened, but no words came forth. A little shiver ran through him.

"We have learned everything, Dempton," Stanway went on in his whispering voice. "Even to the hiding-place. There is the door." He pointed to the panel with the thumb-print upon it. "I think that we can send you to the penitentiary for a long time with very little trouble. Will you talk now, Dempton?"

Dempton hesitated, denial upon his lips, growing fear in his eyes.

"What do you want to know?" he asked in a shaking whisper. "I—Oh, my God! This has gone further already—"

"I want to know how many men are with Torre in this thing?"

"There—there is Juarez—and—and—"

"Don't be a fool as well as a coward, Dempton!" muttered Stanway. "You are such a petty little thief that nobody is going to want to prosecute you if you help us now. There is Torre and Juarez and you. Who else?"

"I—I don't know." Dempton licked his dry lips and swayed between Vidal and Mendos as though he were going to fall. "Oh, I was a fool—"

"Granted. But tell what you know while you have the chance. How many?"

"Seven, I think," chattered Dempton. "Seven besides Torre and Juarez. Five inside, two outside with the horses."

"Outside?" queried Stanway.

"Yes. To ride away, leading extra horses, so that it would sound like a number of riders were racing for the border. To leave the trail which you followed south. The other five to do the work inside."

"And De la Guerra was never to be taken from the house?"

"No. It seemed safer this way."

"There was every hazard in it—"

"Simply because you happened to be at the rancho," returned Dempton with a little flash of bitterness. "Had there been only the senorita, it would have been easy to have worked on her love for her grandfather."

"And Torre?"

"Killed a man a month ago in San Antonio—is running away from the gallows. With the money he expected to make from this he could buy the silence of the one man who can identify him as the murderer. It was his only chance."

"Juarez?"

"Is actually a rebel captain. Torre was to give him his share. Then Torre was to have a commission in the rebel army. He looked to distinguished favors when the rebels fought their way into power. Now—"

"Now what?"

"Now, if he goes into Mexico the rebels will shoot him as a traitor. That was another chance he was taking. He was to give five thousand dollars to the cause. For that they let him have Juarez and the other men. He was to give his life if he lied to them, if he tricked them or—if he failed. He could never get across the border without their spies finding him."

Then Gaucho returned with word that everything was ready. Vidal, at Stanway's command, bound Dempton securely once more, hand and foot, and tossed him to the bed as one might toss a sack of wheat. The men had kicked off their shoes and boots, and stood eager and expectant.

Stanway, his revolver in his right hand, pressed with the left thumb upon the spot in the paneling where another thumb had pressed.

There was a little click, and the panel slid back into the wall, showing a narrow doorway, a narrow passageway beyond. There were candles burning there, their steady flames casting a clear, yellow light.

"Each man keep three feet behind the man in front of him," whispered Stanway. "We must have room. Vidal, Gaucho, come just behind me."

He stepped through the door into the two-foot wide hallway which ran along inside the wall, its trend eastward and downward. There were no steps, but the slant led quickly under the foundations of the great adobe building.

Stanway passed the first candle set into a niche in the rough wood wall. Already he felt that he must be below the level of the floor when he came to the second candle. Here the flame was less steady, a little breath of air playing with it.

He turned a corner, the hallway opened up suddenly into a small, rough-walled room some eight or ten feet square.

Across the room was a heavy barred door; in the center of the floor was a couch, and on the couch a man was lying upon his back, his hands clasped behind his head, a cigarette between his lips.

Stanway was in the room, noiseless in his stockinged feet, Vidal at his side. Gaucho was entering when the man heard, turned quickly, and saw them. He sprang to his feet.

But the cry rising to his lips was choked back in his throat by the hard hands of the rancher. The struggle ended almost as soon as it began.

But some sound of the brief scuffle must have penetrated to the other side of the oak door. Before the rest of the vaqueros could crowd into the little room the door had been jerked open, a dark, bearded face showed at the crack.

There was a snarled curse, the door slammed shut, and there was the sound of other bars lifted across it upon the other side.

"Your axes!" shouted Stanway, leaping to one side to make room. "Vidal, you take one. Get it down, quick!"

But, even to the attack of the great arms of Vidal and another of the cowboys, the great thick door stood defiant as the swift seconds fled by. From the other side came the sound of quick, snapping voices, of scurrying feet, the sound of a cry which tingled through Stanway's blood and sent Vidal with redoubled vigor to the onslaught on the door.

At last the door fell. Stanway and Vidal, side by side, leaped through.

He Turned a Corner.

There was another hall, wider than the first, shorter. At the end of the hall another door, studded with nails, barred upon the farther side.

Evidently there had been a second guard here, evidently in the next room were the prisoners.

"De la Guerra!" shouted Stanway. "Feresa!"

There was no answer, no sound.

"Smash in the door!" he yelled. "Quick! Gaucho, go upstairs. Tell them what has happened. Let them watch out. Order the first man who appears to be shot if he makes a move toward a gun or to escape. Run, Gaucho!"

Before Gaucho had turned to obey, before Stanway's echoing words sank into silence, there came from beyond the door an exclamation of terror, a sudden cry, and the reverberating crack of a revolver.

Then brief silence again for a moment which seemed long, and the blows of two axes, ripping and tearing at the oak planks of the door.

CHAPTER XII.

The Sener Again.

With splinters flying, shocked upon its heavy hinges, the great oak door was open. Stanway slipped through; Vidal, his deep chest panting from his herculean labor, ax still gripped in an enormous hand, came after him, his fellows crowding after them.

A large room this time, some thirty feet square, furnished well; blankets, scattered morsels of bread and meat, showing that here Torre's men had been. A glance showed that the room was empty of human occupants; a second glance found one man lying close to the wall, limp and inert, a red stain upon his breast.

Stanway ran to him, stooped, stood straight with a little grunt of satisfaction. It was not any one of the De la Guerra household.

"Shot accidentally by one of his fellows," he muttered. "Or else De la Guerra has got his hands on a revolver!"

A door at the far side of the room stood open; a candle still burned brightly upon a little stand. There had been no time lost in leaving.

"I hear men running yonder!" Vidal's big finger pointed through the open door. "Come, compadres!"

They ran with him, crowding together.

Again there was a hallway, this one far down under the main floor and so wide that three men might pass abreast through it. There came a sharp turn, the footsteps were louder, men were running toward them. And then, as several men shot into view:

"Stop!" cried Stanway, loudly, his hand knocking Vidal's weapon upward. "It is Gaucho and his men!"

"Where are they?" cried Gaucho, excitedly. "The master? The senorita? You did not find them?"

"You did not meet them?" in a sharp cry from the rancher.

"We met no one!" Gaucho answered, a look of wonder in his eyes.

"Then there is another door. They have fooled us. Come! They can't get out of the house."

They turned, rushing back toward the room they had just quitted. And at the instant Stanway plunged back through the doorway he knew where were these men of Torre's.

For he heard Torre's voice shouting loudly just above his head where he had already judged the drawing room must be; he knew that through some other passageway the men they had thought to trap had made their way there, and he remembered that his own orders had been for one man only to watch over the bound Torre and Juarez.

"Nunez! Castro!" Torre was calling, his tones ringing out clear, the tones of command, calling for haste, for swift obedience. "There is one man here only. Kill him! Ah!"

There was the crack of a revolver, a cry, the sound of a body falling.

"Now!" and again Torre's voice rang triumphant. "Cut these damned ropes, Castro! You others free Juarez. Watch the doors. Guard the passageway. By the lord of hell, we'll win this game yet!"

"They are too many," panted a dissenting voice. "We—"

"Coward and fool!" cried Torre's echoing voice. "Give me that gun. Now, listen. I have found where the De la Guerra banco is! It's just yonder in the old man's bedroom. It's full of gold, compañeros. And then—watch the doors, amigos! Then cross the border with our pockets full!"

There came answering shouts, the noise of heavy furniture being dragged across the floor and piled at the doors, Torre's voice giving commands.

"But where is the master?" a va-quero whispered anxiously. "They have killed him!"

"And the senorita?" cried Gaucho. They ran about the room, seeking a sign of that other passageway which had led these men directly into the drawing room.

"We had better go back," commanded Stanway crisply, after a short search which showed nothing. "We can break down the door into the room where they are. Gaucho, Mentor, Vidal, you men stay here so that they cannot play hide-and-seek with us again."

"Pardon, senor. You are very kind. I already owe you much. But now I shall take care of these bandits."

It was the old Spaniard, Senor Don Antonio de la Guerra, his old-fashioned black coat faultlessly clean of a speck of dust, his fine white mustache curled nicely, his eyes glowing very brightly, for a moment gentle and full of gratitude as they rested upon the rancher, then very hard as they turned toward the ceiling.

His vaqueros cried out sharply at the sight of him standing there so unexpectedly in their midst. From him they looked to the slender form of the white-faced girl at the door of a little closet which De la Guerra had suddenly thrown open.

"You, senor!" cried Stanway, astounded. "Not hurt?"

"I, senor?" De la Guerra lifted one white hand, showing for a moment the revolver in it. "At your attack I seized this. One man I quieted. In the rush I got Teresa into the closet there. She, too, is unhurt. And now—"

Again his fine old face hardened, his eyes were burning black pools of merciless rage. He stepped across the room, set his hand to a spot which his thumb found readily, and a narrow door flew back, showing a stairway.

Chaucer.

His best tales run on like one of our inland rivers, sometimes hastening a little and turning upon themselves in eddies that dimple without retarding the current; sometimes loitering smoothly, while here and there a quiet thought, a tender feeling, a pleasant image, a golden-hearted verse, opens quietly like a water-lily, to float on the surface without breaking it into a ripple. He prattles inadvertently away, and all the while, like the princess in the story, lets fall a pearl at every other word. . . . If character may be divined from works, he was a good man, genial, sincere, hearty, temperate of mind, . . . thoroughly humane, and friendly with God and man.—Lowell.

Daydreams.

Dreams will at times reveal to us how little we have forgotten; but the value of dreams as a key to remembrance is distorted and diminished by what seems their lack of selection. They blend the past with the present, or with sheer impossibility, in such a hopeless medley.

At their best our dreams seem fantasies, based upon the real yet wandering from it with erratic inconsequence, of which the possible meaning eludes us. And yet a dream sometimes will revive so much, with miracle as of resurrection. But it is in our daydreams, when reason still retains the controlling hand, that we most surely touch the past; and daydreams are the poetry of memory.

HISTORIC BERMUDAN CHURCH

St. Peter's Has Many Mementoes of Interest to Both Englishmen and Americans.

One of the most interesting churches to be found anywhere is old St. Peter's in Bermuda. It is in the old town of St. George's, and was built in 1713 on the same site as the first church, built in 1630. It is built of the native white limestone, as are all the buildings in the Bermudas, and it shows the marks of time. Everything in and about St. Peter's is intensely interesting. Its churchyard contains, among others, the grave of Hester Tucker, the "Nea" beloved of Thomas Moore, the poet, who was an official at St. George's at one time, and promptly fell in love with pretty Hester. Every square inch of the old church walls, inside, are covered with memorial tablets, many of them being the work of famous English sculptors. Not a few of the tablets perpetuate the memory of members of the English nobility, and it makes one realize what a scourge yellow fever and smallpox were before science got in its beneficent work, for allusions to smallpox and yellow fever being the cause of the deaths are very numerous. St. Peter's has a massive silver communion service presented by King William III of England, and a christening basin, the gift of Gov. William Browne of Salem, Mass., in 1788. The pieces presented by the king all have the insignia of the Order of the Garter.

Salzburg.

Salzburg lies on both sides of the Salzach river, hemmed in on either bend by precipitous mountains. A large fortress overlooks it on the south, from the summit of a perpendicular rock, against which the houses in that part of the city are built.

The streets are narrow and crooked, but the newer part contains many open squares adorned with handsome fountains. The variety of costume among the people is very interesting. The inhabitants of the salt district have a peculiar dress; the women wear round fur caps, with little wings of gauze at the side. I saw other women with headresses of gold or silver filigree, something in shape like a Roman helmet, with a projection at the back of the head, a foot long.

The most interesting objects in Salzburg to us were the house of Mozart, in which the composer was born, and the monument lately erected to him.—Bayard Taylor.

DON'T WHIP!

Stop Lashing Your Bowels with Harsh Cathartics but take "Cascarets."

Everyone must occasionally give the bowels some regular help or else suffer from constipation, bilious attacks, stomach disorders, and sick headache. But do not whip the bowels into activity with harsh cathartics.

What the liver and bowels need is a gentle and natural tonic, one that can constantly be used without harm. The gentlest liver and bowel tonic is "Cascarets." They put the liver to work and cleanse the colon and bowels of all waste, toxins and poisons without griping—they never sicken or inconvenience you like Calomel, Salts, Oil, or Purgatives.

Twenty-five million boxes of Cascarets are sold each year. They work while you sleep. Cascarets cost so little too.—Adv.

HAD ITS REDEEMING QUALITY

Small Girl Evidently Looked on Annoying Smoke With the Eye of a True Artist.

A small girl was watching the smoke pouring from the smokestack of a factory. The sun shone back of the smoke, and this, with the clear blue sky, seemed to appeal to the child, as she exclaimed, "Oh, mother, look at the pretty smoke!"

"Why, the very idea!" said the mother. Then she proceeded to tell all about the iniquities of smoke. She explained at great length the great fuel loss, the injurious effect of the smoke on the lungs, and, worse than all this, how terribly dirty it is, and how she had to slave from morning until night, scrubbing and scouring and washing, in an effort to get rid of the coal soot from smoke.

The little girl listened dutifully, but her gaze lingered on the opal-tinted smoke billows. When her mother had concluded she remarked, "Yes, mother, but you can hardly blame it for being pretty, anyway, can you?"

"DANDERINE" PUTS BEAUTY IN HAIR

Girls! A mass of long, thick, gleamy tresses

Let "Danderine" save your hair and double its beauty. You can have lots of long, thick, strong, lustrous hair. Don't let it stay lifeless, thin, scraggly or fading. Bring back its color, vigor and vitality.

Get a 35-cent bottle of delightful "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter to freshen your scalp; check dandruff and falling hair. Your hair needs this stimulating tonic; then its life, color, brightness and abundance will return—Hurry!—Adv.

BOSCHEE'S SYRUP.

A cold is probably the most common of all disorders and when neglected is apt to be most dangerous. Statistics show that more than three times as many people died from influenza last year, as were killed in the greatest war the world has ever known. For the last fifty-three years Boschee's Syrup has been used for coughs, bronchitis, colds, throat irritation and especially lung troubles. It gives the patient a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectation in the morning. Made in America and used in the homes of thousands of families all over the civilized world. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

HOW RHEUMATISM BEGINS

The excruciating agonies of rheumatism are usually the result of failure of the kidneys to expel poisons from the system. If the irritation of these uric acid crystals is allowed to continue, incurable bladder or kidney disease may result. Attend to it at once. Don't resort to temporary relief. The sick kidneys must be restored to health by the use of some sterling remedy which will prevent a return of the disease. Get some GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. They have brought back the joys of life to countless thousands of sufferers from rheumatism, lame back, lumbago, sciatica, gall stones, gravel and other affections of the kidneys, liver, stomach, bladder and allied organs.

They will attack the poisons at once, clear out the kidneys and urinary tract and the soothing healing oils and herbs will restore the inflamed tissues and organs to normal health. All others are imitations. Ask for GOLD MEDAL and be sure the name GOLD MEDAL is on the box. Three sizes, at all good druggists.—Adv.

Tract Is Added to National Forests

1,116,000 Acres in Thunder Mountain Region of Idaho Set Apart.

HAS LONG BEEN A MENACE

Recurring Forest Fires Have Endangered Adjoining Portions of National Forests—Great Tract Is Difficult of Access.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Washington, D. C.—In accord with almost unanimous sentiment in Idaho and in response to considerations vitally affecting adjoining national forests, congress has set apart 1,116,000 acres of land in Idaho known as Thunder Mountain region, as national forest lands. This great tract, difficult of access and having not over 1 per cent of its area suitable for agriculture, has for years been the scene of destructive fires and devastation due to overgrazing. It is now to be added to the Payette national forest which adjoins it on the south and west, and the Idaho national forest which adjoins it on the north and west. The area lies approximately 100 miles northeast of Boise. Because uncontrolled, it has been a recurring menace to the adjoining national forests by reason of fires that have gained great headway in its vast unpatrolled regions.

Swept by Forest Fires.

What has taken place in the Thunder Mountain region, according to officials of the forest service, United States department of agriculture, is typical of what would have taken place in most of the national forests had these areas not been protected. Three hundred thousand acres, or approximately one-third of the area, has been swept by forest fires in the past twelve years, destroying approximately 700,000,000 feet of timber. The mining resources, after being superficially exploited by miners with scant equipment, have remained practically undeveloped. Much of the wild life has been ruthlessly exterminated, and the grazing lands have been destroyed by nomadic herds. The number of sheep which have been grazing without restriction or regulation during the past year total nearly 800,000, whereas a fair estimate of the "carrying capacity" of the entire country has been placed at 75,000 to 10,000 head of sheep.

There are no towns or villages in the whole region. The log buildings of the first settlement on Monumental creek still stand—vacant, specter-like reminders of the boom days of many years ago. Hundreds of claims which were located during the rush of 1901 have been abandoned. Some high-grade ores have been found, and the general belief is that the region contains an abundance of low-grade ore, but its commercial use has not been possible because of inadequate transportation facilities. Control of the area as National Forest land, once opposed because it was feared that it might retard mine development, is now seen to be a practical step toward proper use of the mining resources, as well as conservative utilization of grazing facilities.

Travel Is Difficult.

At present the roads, trails, and bridges are in a sad state of disrepair, making travel over them on foot or by horseback impossible. One of the important undertakings of the forest service, now that the tract has been added to adjoining national forests, will be to supply the area with improved lines of travel.

A large and important watershed is included in this area, which is estimated to supply at least 1,000 second-foot of water to the Columbia river at low-water periods. It is roughly estimated that more than 100,000 horsepower could be generated from waters rising in the area. The region includes no natural wonders, large lakes or features of special scenic interest. Deer and trout are plentiful, and there are said to be a few wild sheep and goats.

Mishap to Auto Stirs All Slovakia

Soldier Cuts Telegraph to Make Repairs and Results Are Astonishing.

HAS DIPLOMATS WORRIED

Ties Up Railroad Traffic and Results in Congestion That Takes Month to Straighten Out—Week to Restore Wires.

Szabadka, Slavonia.—When a wheezing little automobile of American make, driven by a Serbian soldier, broke down on a country road 40 miles from here, it started an international tangle which rolled up until it had the diplomats of four countries worried.

Here are some of the things that began to happen to rapid succession: "Three hundred cars of French merchandise bound for Roumania piled up on the four switches of the railroad yards here and congested things until not a wheel could move.

A Red Cross supply train of 80 cars, bound for Bucharest, came up behind the French trains and completed the tangle of communications.

Ten Americans were marooned for nine days on board the Red Cross train.

Sends Train to Investigate.

Roumanian merchants who were relying on the prompt delivery of the French goods sent a special train from Bucharest to investigate the delay.

Szabadka, an important town on the frontier between Hungary and Serbia, was cut off from all communication.

The Serbian soldier who was the innocent cause of all this trouble was driving his car merrily northward one day when the steering gear went wrong. He stopped, found the cause of the difficulty and decided that he needed a piece of stout wire to repair the damage. He reached up to the long-hanging, single-wire telegraph line and cut off a generous section. Having fixed his car, he drove blithely on. The wire gave out presently and he renewed it twice, thrice, four or five times, from the telegraph line beside the road.

Meanwhile the trains of French merchandise had begun arriving at Szabadka. Official sanction was necessary for the cars to proceed. The frontier officials framed the proper sort of telegram, and it was duly countersigned and presented to the operator.

Trains Congest Yards.

He reported that the wire was "not working." So the frontier officials decided to wait until it began to work. They waited two days, while more and more trains drew into the congested yards. Szabadka was cut off from wire communication.

The telegraph officials finally decided to send out a line-repairing party. The party returned after another day's delay, with the announcement that so many breaks had been found their supply of spare wire had given out.

Meanwhile, congestion in the yards increased and the appeals from the French conveyors, the American conveyors and the Roumanian merchants became more urgent. It was a full week, however, before the wires had finally been restored and the official visas obtained.

Must Ride Wild Moose To Be Member of Club

Nipisiguit River, Can.—One of the most unusual sportsmen's associations is the Moose Riders of the Nipisiguit. To qualify a man must ride moose in the presence of a guide in good standing. He must get a photo and have this placed in the book of records there, together with the signatures of witnesses and guide. He then receives a metal badge picturing a man riding a moose and the words "Moose Rider of Nipisiguit."

Wore Sister's Shoes to Fool Police.

Camden, Pa.—For months detectives followed what were evidently the footprints of a woman burglar. Five small boys were arrested and confessed to a long series of housebreakings. One of the youngsters said that he always wore his sister's shoes while on the job.

FACE MUCH RED TAPE

Americans Find Travel in Germany Is Difficult.

Absence of Official American Representation in Berlin Causes Embarrassment.

Berlin.—Lack of American official representation in Berlin is causing American travelers considerable embarrassment.

The Spanish embassy representing American interests can sometimes help the traveler, but more often not. It has too much business to handle. And red tape unwinds slowly in Germany.

As a result of this situation Americans coming here are complaining considerably of the situation. England and France are liberally represented on missions here. America has none. And its interests have to be conserved mainly by the American legations in The Hague and Copenhagen.

Two stranded American sailors reached town recently, expecting passports here. They were penniless but expected a lift. They couldn't get a passport right away; maybe by waiting long enough they might have had one through the Spanish embassy. Probably they passed the borders somehow "on their own;" it can be done, but it's unpleasant.

And at the same time an American business man arrived with a perfectly good pass, but found he needed to travel to Czechoslovakia to complete an important deal. Could he get his pass amended here? No, he had to travel to Copenhagen and run the risk of losing his business deal through the delay.

These are only sample cases. Daily Americans with difficulties as bad as or worse than those above cited are here, and find that the U. S. A. isn't among those present.

GET READY FOR "FLU"

Keep Your Liver Active, Your System Purified and Free From Colds by Taking Calotabs, the Nauseless Calomel Tablets, that are Delightful, Safe and Sure.

Physicians and Druggists are advising their friends to keep their systems purified and their organs in perfect working order as a protection against the return of influenza. They know that a clogged up system and a lazy liver favor colds, influenza and serious complications.

To cut short a cold overnight and to prevent serious complications take one Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea, no griping, no sickening after effects. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified and refreshed and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Every druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not perfectly delighted with Calotabs.—(Adv.)

The Exception.

"Nephew Lester didn't seem to think much of the way I talk, since he got home from college," a trifle ruefully admitted honest Farmer Bentover.

"No, nor the way I dress, either," returned his wife.

"But I'm kinda relieved," went on the ancient agriculturist, "to think that thus far he hasn't shown any symptoms of objecting to my money or your cooking."—Kansas City Star.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it. A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments; corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcels Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.

Lion Had Long Life.

Authorities differ as to the age limit of a lion. Some biologists fix the normal span of a lion's life at about twenty-two years. A lion which died in the Tower of London in 1760 had lived in captivity over 70 years.

"CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP" IS CHILD'S LAXATIVE

Look at tongue! Remove poisons from stomach, liver and bowels.

Accept "California" Syrup of Fig. only—look for the name California on the package, then you are sure your child is having the best and most harmless laxative or physic for the little stomach, liver and bowels. Children love its delicious fruity taste. Full directions for child's dose on each bottle. Give it without fear.

Mother! You must say "California!"—Adv.

We, the undersigned citizens of the United States, being of lawful age and residents of the State of New Mexico, hereby associate ourselves together under the provisions of Chapter XXIII of the Code of 1915 of the State of New Mexico and the Acts amendatory thereof, and do certify:

I. The name of this corporation shall be THE REALTY MORTGAGE COMPANY (No Stockholders' Liability.)

II. The location of the principal office shall be in the Town of Portales, Roosevelt County, New Mexico and the name of the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process against said corporation may be served, is W. B. Oldham.

III. The objects for which this corporation is formed are:

(a) To buy, sell, exchange, improve, maintain and generally deal in real properties, improved and unimproved, office buildings, store buildings, dwelling-houses, barns, wharves, water rights and privileges and any rights and interests therein; to build, construct, operate and maintain, lease and sell dwelling-houses, apartment houses, factories and business houses of all kinds and descriptions; to operate and maintain a general real estate agency and broker's business, including the right to manage estates, to act as agent, broker or attorney-in-fact for any person or corporation; to make and obtain loans upon real estate, improved or unimproved, and to supervise, manage and protect such property and loans, and all interests and claims affecting the same; to acquire, buy, hold, sell, hire, lease, mortgage, pledge and otherwise deal in all kinds of property, chattels and chattels real; to have property insured against fire and other casualties; to investigate the credit, financial solvency and sufficiency of borrowers, mortgagors and sureties upon bonds, mortgages and undertakings of all kinds; to improve, manage, operate, sell, mortgage, lease or otherwise dispose of any property, real or personal and take mortgages and assignments of mortgages upon the same.

(b) To act as agent or representative of individuals, firms, corporations and associations, and to deal in their products and to develop, extend and improve their business interests; to engage in the business of buying or selling goods, wares, products and merchandise as principals, brokers, or otherwise; to import and export goods, wares, produce and merchandise.

(c) To acquire the good will, rights, property and assets of all kinds, and to undertake the whole or any part of the liabilities of any person, firm, association or corporation, and to pay for the same in cash, stocks, bonds, debentures or other securities of this corporation or otherwise; to enter into, make, perform and carry out contracts of every sort and kind, with every person, firm, association or corporation, private, public or municipal, or body politic and with the Government of the United States, or any State, territory or colony thereof or any foreign government.

(d) To purchase, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire, and to hold shares, stocks or obligations of any company organized under the laws of this or any other state, or of any territory or colony of the United States, or any foreign country, and to sell or exchange the same, and to exercise any or all of the powers of holders of shares, stocks or securities thereof, including the right to vote in respect thereof, among the stockholders of this company.

(e) To borrow money, to make and issue promissory notes, bills of exchange, bonds, debentures and obligations and evidences of indebtedness of all kinds whether secured by mortgage, pledge or otherwise, without limit as to amount, and to secure the same by mortgage, pledge or otherwise.

(f) To have one or more offices, to carry on all or any part of its operations and business, and unlimitedly and without restriction to hold, purchase, mortgage, lease and convey real and personal property and to conduct its business in any state or territory of the United States, and in any foreign country or place, but subject always to the laws thereof.

(g) To carry on any business, or business which may, in the discretion of the directors, seem capable of being conveniently carried on in connection with the above, or calculated directly or indirectly to enhance the value of the company's properties and rights.

(h) To do any or all of the things in this certificate expressed or implied as objects, purposes, powers, or otherwise, to the same extent and as fully as natural persons might or could do, and in any part of the world, as principals, agents, contractors, trustees or otherwise.

IV. The amount of the total authorized capital stock of this corporation shall be fifty thousand dollars, divided into five hundred shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each; and the amount of capital stock with which this corporation shall begin business is five thousand dollars.

V. The names and post office addresses of the incorporators and the number of shares of the capital stock of this corporation subscribed by each are:

W. B. Oldham, Portales, New Mexico, 24 shares.

W. O. Oldham, Portales, New Mexico, 25 shares.

Lora V. Oldham, Portales, New Mexico, one share.

VI. The Board of Directors of this corporation shall be not less than three nor more than five, to be determined from time to time by the stockholders, and the incorporators whose signatures are hereto attached shall constitute the Board of Directors for the first three months after the filing of this certificate.

VII. The term of existence of this corporation shall be the period of fifty years.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We have hereunto set our hands and seals at Portales, Roosevelt County New Mexico, this the 26th day of December, 1919.

Mrs. J. N. Porter plaintiff.
Vs.
S. A. Crabb, Charley Lollar, and the unknown claimants of interest in the premises adverse to the plaintiff, defendants.

Notice of Suit

The state of New Mexico to Charley Lollar, and the unknown claimants of interest in the premises adverse to the plaintiff, defendants. Greeting:

You and each of you are notified that suit has been filed in the district court of Roosevelt county, New Mexico, numbered and entitled as above, wherein you are the defendants, and Mrs. J. N. Potter is plaintiff.

The general objects of said suit are; that plaintiff seeks to have an establishment of her alleged fee simple title in and to the south and northeast quarter of south west quarter of section thirty-four in township two south of range thirty-five east, New Mexico principal meridian, New Mexico, containing 120 acres, more or less; that you be barred and forever estopped from having or claiming any right or title to said lands and real estate adverse to the plaintiff; and that plaintiff's title thereto be forever quieted and set at rest.

And unless you appear and answer or otherwise plead in this cause on or before the 15th of February 1920, you will be accorded the relief that he prays.

The name and address of plaintiff's attorneys is Compton and Compton, Portales, New Mexico.

Dated at Portales, New Mexico, and given under my hand and official seal, this the 15th day of December, 1919.

Notice of Pendency of Suit

The state of New Mexico, to William P. Beaman and Jessie Beaman, defendants, greeting:

You are hereby notified that a suit has been filed against you in the district court of the Fifth judicial district of the state of New Mexico, in and for Roosevelt county, wherein Emerson-Brantingham Implement Company, a corporation is plaintiff and the said William P. Beaman and Jessie Beaman are defendants, said cause being numbered 1523 upon the civil docket of said court.

The general objects and nature of the suit are as follows: The plaintiff seeks judgment against the defendants upon four promissory notes, two of which were dated June 23, 1914, two of which were dated June 7th, 1915, and upon two mortgage deeds of even date with said promissory notes and given for their security, for the total balance due of eight hundred eighty-two and 51-100 dollars, principal, and interest upon said said notes as follows: the first two of said notes maturing September fifteenth 1915, and September fifteenth, 1916, aggregating the principal sum of $1475.00, bearing interest from date of said notes until maturity at six per cent, per annum upon principal and interest due until paid; said notes having been credited with $692.49 paid thereon; and the last two of said notes maturing September first, 1916, and September first, 1917, aggregating $667.00, bearing interest from date at the rate of seven per cent, per annum until maturity, and after their maturity to draw interest at the rate of ten per cent, per annum upon the amount of principal and interest due, until paid, said last named notes having been credited with a payment of $333.00; and the plaintiff also seeks to foreclose said mortgage upon the following described lands, to wit:

The east half of the southeast quarter and the east half of the northeast quarter of section thirty in township one, north of range twenty-nine east of the New Mexico meridian, New Mexico; to have said lands sold and the proceeds applied to the satisfaction of said indebtedness; and the plaintiff, having alleged that the proceeds of the sale of said lands will be insufficient to pay said indebtedness, procured the issuance of a writ of attachment in said cause against the defendants; and the defendants are further notified that the following described property belonging to them have been attached under said attachment, to wit:

The southwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section twenty-nine, and the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section thirty-two in township one north of range twenty-nine east of the New Mexico meridian, New Mexico; and that unless said defendants appear in said cause and plead or answer therein on or before the 24th, day of February, 1920, judgment will be taken against them by default for the amount claimed by the plaintiff, with all costs of suit, and said property of said defendants will be sold to satisfy the same, with costs of suit, and expenses of sale.

You are further notified that George L. Reese is attorney for the plaintiff herein, and that his post office address is Portales, New Mexico.

Witness my hand and the seal of said court on this the 24th, day of December, 1919.

(Seal) SETH A. MORRISON, Clerk.

Notice of Pendency of Suit

The state of New Mexico, to Henry C. Waggoner, defendant, greeting:

You are hereby notified that a suit has been filed against you in the district court of the Fifth judicial district of the state of New Mexico, in and for Roosevelt county, wherein Security State bank of Portales, New Mexico, a corporation is plaintiff and you, the said Henry C. Waggoner, are defendant, said cause being numbered 1516 upon the civil docket of said court.

The object and nature of said action are as follows: Plaintiff seeks judgment against the defendant in the amount of one hundred sixty-two and 78-100 dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent, per annum from November 27th, 1918, until paid and ten per cent additional upon the amount of principal and interest above named as attorney's fees, the same being a balance due upon a promissory note executed and delivered by the defendant to the plaintiff on the 27th, day of April, 1918, for money borrowed from plaintiff by the defendant, with costs of suit; and the said defendant is further notified that your property, to wit:

Lots seven, eight and nine in block seventy-two in the town of Portales, New Mexico, according to the plat of said town, and ten acres of land in the southeast corner of the southeast quarter of section twenty-four in township one south of range thirty-four east of the New Mexico meridian, New Mexico, said track lying south and east of the right of way of the Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe railway company, in Roosevelt county, New Mexico, has been attached in said cause under a writ of attachment duly issued therein; and that unless you appear and plead or answer in said cause on or before the 24th, day of February, 1920, judgment will be taken against you by default for the amount claimed by the plaintiff, with all costs of suit, and your said described property sold to satisfy the same.

You are further notified that George L. Reese is attorney for the plaintiff herein, and that his post office address is Portales, New Mexico.

Witness my hand and the seal of said court on this the 24th, day of December, 1919.
