LARGE GUARANTY SUM RAISED!

AGAINST FAILURE OF ANY SUBSCRIBER TO IRRIGATION PROJECT WHO MAY LACK FUNDS

For at least two months, but one serious difficulty has confronted the people of Portales Valley in carrying out their ten thousand acre irrigation project, and that has been the question of ready cash. The acreage was subscribed readily. Indeed, before the shortening of the transmission lines, the acreage ran up to more than twelve thousand. Then following the shortening of the transmission lines and the grouping of the parcels of ground into 160 acre tracts, it was but a task of a few days to readjust the acreage proposition which ran up to over ten thousand acres. This brought the matter to the second and last critical stage, when the notes and mortgages were to be executed and the $3.50 cash per acre provided for. Even here no great difficulty was encountered until the notes and mortgages on something like 7500 to 8000 acres had been turned over in due form. Then the real tug came. The people did not have the money and could not arrange for it, though they heroically continued to turn every proposition possible. Meantime it came time to ship out the machinery. All were anxious that we should have nothing short of a 10,000 acre plant and that the shipment of machinery include everything necessary for the immediate installation of a plant of this size. Accordingly a meeting of business men came together at the court house. The situation was laid before them. The response was immediate, hearty and enthusiastic. A stock company was organized and capitalized at $12,500.00 the coin was paid in on the spot, and the stock company immediately planned to purchase a sufficient number of 80 acre tracts of parties desiring to subscribe the other 80 acres, to make out the required acreage. This transaction required only about an hour's time. It happened on Monday afternoon. Tuesday morning real estate began changing hands with a vim and by nightfall 80 acres had, in the way above indicated, been purchased by this stock company which was as quickly subscribed to the irrigation project. The transfers are still going on as we go to press and the indications are that by the time our readers get this paper that the notes and mortgages together with the $3.50 cash per acre for every foot of the 10,000 acres will be in the bank awaiting the bond of the Western Construction Company who propose to make bond in the full amount, that they will install the plant and that the plant will be successful.

IRRIGATION OUT OF THE REALM OF UNCERTAINTY— BUSINESS MEN RAISE $12,000 IN SHORT TIME

NEW STOCK COMPANY ORGANIZED

The new stock company just organized and whose purpose is indicated elsewhere in this article is composed of the following, viz: T. J. Molinari, $1000; Ed. J. Neer, $2000; W. O. Oldham, $3000; G. M. Williamson, $1000; W. E. Lindsey, $1000; W. I. Luikart, $500; G. W. Carr, $250; C. P. Mitchell, $250; Dr. Bolard $500; G. V. Johnson $250; S. T. Boyd, $500; John B. Hopper $500; M. J. Paggard $250 and several others whose names we did not learn.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS AT PORTALES

Elsewhere in the columns also we make mention of the coming of some distinguished visitors to Portales. Among these we must mention Wm. J. Moore, who is General Manager of the American Bond and Mortgage Co., of Chicago whose company is purchasing the bonds of our irrigation project, also his son who is secretary and treasurer for the company; also O. A. Keach, attorney, W. R. Vincent, secretary and C. H. Rittenhouse, president of Western Construction Company of Wichita, Kansas; also T. C. Gordon and W. B. Smith representing Chicago Title and Trust Co. These gentlemen have driven over every foot of land included in the Portales Valley Irrigation Project, have passed upon the legal phases of the proposition and have announced their readiness to take the bonds as soon as the remainder of the notes and mortgages which are to be held as collateral, come in which will doubtless be not later than the middle or latter part of next week. And the fact that this stock company is behind the proposition, ready and able to buy the remaining acreage if necessary, puts the whole proposition out of the realm of uncertainty and makes it a matter of a week at most when the most far-reaching step ever taken by this section will be an absolute reality.

Rainy Days

May yet come to us. Life has more UPS than DOWNS. Some say this drouth has knocked 'em to their knees, but wait until we get irrigation. If you cannot see brighter prospects ahead, come to us for further information.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY CELEBRATE.

One of the most brilliant social events to happen in Portales in the past months was the celebration of the natal day of Roberta E. Lee by the Daughters of Confederacy, an event which took place in the courthouse, Portales, Wednesday evening, Jan. 19th. The halls and auditorium were beautifully decorated and brilliantly lighted. There was a welcome address given by Attorney Thos. E. Mears, and a principal address by Rev. Geo. W. Dunlap in which the plantation life of the old South was delightfully depicted. Then came the hour for refreshments when two hundred well filled plates were enjoyed by two hundred happy guests. Mrs. Dudley Hardy responded with two choice readings and at a late hour the people went away happy and joyous.

THE DIXIE LYCEUM BUREAU

Mrs. G. M. Williamson, Portales, New Mexico. The Peterson Sisters Concert Company will be with you February 5th. Portales, New Mexico. Rev. G. M. Shaw of Delphos, passed through Portales Saturday en route to Oklahoma where Mrs. Shaw, who is dangerously ill and who is under the necessity of an operation, awaits his coming before going on the operating table.

IMPROVES HOME.

Ural Keen continues to improve his home, next to the Woodcock place. He is laying out a nice plaza, setting out more trees and laying pipes for irrigating every side of the lawn and garden. He will soon have one of the best improved places in town, as he certainly has one of the most beautiful locations.

NEWS OF WEEK IN BRIEF

WAGO BAPTISTS GIVE THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS TO BAYLOR UNIVERSITY FUND.
Waco, Tex., Jan. 14.—Baptists of this city announced this morning that they had raised thirty thousand dollars and expect to increase it to fifty thousand dollars by tomorrow.

The amount is to be turned over to the five hundred thousand dollar endowment fund for Baylor University, which Texas is raising.—Daily Pandandle.

FIFTY THREE THOUSAND SCHOLARS ATTEND SCHOOL IN NEW MEXICO

Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 13.—Superintendent of Public Instruction, James E. Clark, today issued some interesting statistics on the public schools in the territory. The total enrollment of public school pupils is 47,000 and that of mission, parochial and private schools is 6,000, making 53,000 in all.

That these figures will doubtless be increased at an enormous rate from year to year and may be ascertained when it is remembered that the number of persons from five to twenty-one years of age in the territory in 1906 was 78,000; in 1907 it was 84,894; in 1908, 98,894, and in 1909, 98,424. This makes an increase of over 20,000 in three years, but in view of the rumors that the census of 1906 showing 78,000 was a generous one, it is assumed that the increase is even greater and considering that the census of other territories and states is taken on the basis of five to eighteen years of age, the figures will show about as high percentage of school attendance to be found anywhere. The number of teachers employed is 1,268.

TAFT'S MESSAGE ON CONSERVATION.

Most of the land grabbing was done when the west was first opened up.

The big problem in conservation is to conserve and still develop.

The achievements of the Roosevelt administration were good, those of Taft's are worthy.

The present statutes are not sufficient to encourage capital and at the same time protect our resources.

The secretary of the interior has been withdrawing lands for the protection of the people without authority of law and he hopes that congress will act and make legal the withdrawals.

The pressing need is that land should be classified according to the principal value or use.

Concerning control of water power along the streams, the president believes that the government is owning the land along the streams will have no trouble in preventing a monopolization of the power.

Regarding the forest conservation he says that the department of agriculture can do little without the aid of the states. This includes swamp land.

It is proposed to separate the right to mine from the title to the surface.

It is exceedingly difficult to encourage private capital and not frighten away investment. Advocates a bond issue not exceeding $30,000,000 to complete work already started.

The laws respecting timber areas are efficient and a new one is advocated for disposition of timber land.

It rests with the various states to protect the destruction of forests under private ownership.

Waterways improvements should be undertaken only when recognized authority vouches for their practicability and when the profits by increased trade will insure the investment.

EXPECT EARLY PASSAGE OF STATEHOOD BILL.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The bill providing separate statehood for the territories of New Mexico and Arizona was considered by the house committee on territories today and probably will be reported to the house tomorrow.

At the hearing today the measure was practically completed and the committee was unanimous for its early presentation. Only minor changes have been made in it since its re-introduction this year by Chairman Hamilton.

Francis M. Clements, first assistant attorney for the interior department, discussed before the department the public lands feature of the bill.

Chairman Hamilton said today: "I expect the statehood bill to pass the house within a reasonable length of time. I shall be greatly surprised if any opposition to it worthy of the name develops in the house. I cannot predict what opposition may develop in the senate, but I have no doubt that the bill will become a law at the present session."

EXECUTIVE ORDER THROWS OPEN MORE LAND FOR HOMESTEADERS, SOUTH OF PECOS NATIONAL FOREST IN NEW MEXICO.

Through an executive order of President Taft, which went into effect December 30, or practically with the beginning of the new year, approximately 612,000 acres of land south of the Pecos national forest have been released from temporary withdrawal by the forest service. They are now open to settlers and create a considerable opportunity for those looking for homesteads.

Most of the land lies along the high mesas south of the Pecos river watershed in San Miguel, Torrance and Guadalupe counties. The remainder is in the area bounded on the east by the Tecolote and Anton Chico grants, on the west by the Pecos grant and Pecos river and on the north by the present Pecos national forest.

The release of the withdrawal on the lands makes available room for settlers and will prove of benefit in the upbuilding of the great southwest. It is thought that settlers will begin filing on the lands at once and that spring will find considerable activity in that locality.—Tribune-Citizen.

STATEHOOD MEASURE PASSED HOUSE TODAY.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—The house by a viva voce vote today passed the bill granting separate statehood for New Mexico and Arizona. There was no opposition to the bill in the house. As provided by Representative Hamilton, who drafted it, the bill represented the views of President Taft, providing for a constitutional convention and separate elections for state officers.

The president yesterday held a long conference with Senator Beveridge with reference to statehood. The Indiana senator left the White House fully in accord with the president's view and will introduce the bill for statehood in the senate. This is regarded as meaning a decided victory for the president and the territories.

LORDSBURG.

The Lordsburg church has recently engaged in a revival meeting. Evangelist L. E. Finney of Texas and his two noble workers were secured to conduct the meeting. Pastor Watkins has done an excellent work in this field and it was ready for the evangelists and as a result of this meeting six were added to the church by baptism and a number professed conversion, but have not yet identified themselves with the church.

Bro Watkins closed his work with this church and accepted the urgent call of the Deming church for an indefinite time. He is a builder and the Deming church is very fortunate in securing his services. We are very much in need of a live partor at Lordsburg, also, a missionary evangelist to do mission work in this great "south west."

Would be glad to correspond with some good man who may be inclined toward the west and is willing to "endure hardships as a good soldier."

LIQUOR QUESTION AT WASHINGTON

The federal congress must sooner or later take notice of the activity of the liquor interests and their attempt to control the action of the federal government. They have entered national politics and will pollute everything that they touch until they are driven out. We were dragged into the republican camp by these interests, when a fight was being made over the rules of the house, for there is no question of the activity of the liquor interests in supporting Cannonism. Federal licenses are now issued to those who desire to sell liquor in territory in which local licenses are denied, and the brewers and distillers are still using interstate commerce to nullify the laws of the various states. Surely there can be no excuse for the issue of federal licenses to liquor dealers in territory where the local authorities have prohibited the sale of liquor. The charge for a federal license is $25 per year, and when a federal license is issued upon the payment of this sum the federal government either obtains the money without consideration or it enters into partnership with the violator of the law.

Three objections have been made to the proposition that the federal government should refuse to issue licenses in dry territory, namely: First, that taxes should be uniform and that the government cannot, therefore, collect a license tax in one community and refuse to collect such tax in another; Second, that the federal government could not prosecute a person for selling without license if it refused to issue a license; and Third, that the issue of a federal license is useful in that it enables the local authorities to ascertain from the record who are engaged in the traffic. These three objections might be met by a law reducing the license to $1, and providing that notice of the issue of such license be posted immediately in the postoffice in the town in which the licensee resides and requiring publication of notice in a local newspaper. The $1 would not more than cover the cost of issuing and recording the license and posting the notice, and such a law would take the government out of partnership with the law breakers.

By what logic can one justify the action of the federal government in permitting interstate commerce to be used to nullify state regulation of the liquor traffic? If a state can be trusted to protect property and to prescribe rules for the decent estates, can it not be entrusted with the power to regulate the sale and use of liquor? If the state can be entrusted with the enactment and enforcement of criminal laws, even to the exacting of the death penalty, can it not be entrusted with the power to control the liquor traffic?

It can, of course, be taken for granted that the liquor interests will oppose any legislation which has for its object the protection of society from the evils of intemperance, and they will, as they have in the past, threaten any party which refuses to bow down to the god which they have set up, but the democratic party can better afford to invite their opposition than grovel in the dust to secure their approval.—The Commonwealth.

PROHIBITION SAVES RISING GENERATION

Supposing that prohibition doesn't prohibit, assume for a minute that liquor continues to be sold to the old-timers of the community, what of it? Is that an argument against temperance legislation? Is prohibition intended for the benefit of the old-timer, or for the children?

A writer in the North American Review gives the whole argument in a nutshell in reporting a conversation which he had had with the editor of a paper in Portland, Maine. The editor, who was inclined to oppose prohibition for political reasons, had grown up in a little village about sixty miles from Bangor.

"Do you remember the condition of things in your village prior to prohibition?" asked his interviewer. "What has been the effect of prohibition?"

"It shut up all the rum-shops and practically banished liquor from the village, which became one of the most quiet and prosperous places on the globe."

"How long did you live in the village after prohibition?"

"Eleven years, or until I was twenty-one years of age."

"Then?"

"Then I went to Bangor."

"Do you drink now?"

"I've never tasted a drop of liquor in my life."

"Why?"

"Up to the age of twenty-one I never saw it, and after that I did not care to take up the habit."

Saved at Death's Door.
The door of death seemed ready to open for Murray W. Ayers, of Transit Bridge, N. Y., when his life was wonderfully saved. "I was in a dreadful condition," he writes, "my skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, emaciated from losing 40 pounds, growing weaker daily. Virulent liver trouble pulling me down to death in spite of doctors. Then that matchless medicine—Electric Bitters—cured me. I regained the 40 pounds lost and now am well and strong. For all stomach, liver and kidney troubles they're supreme. 50c. at all druggists."

WHAT NEW MEXICO DID IN 1909

Professor R. V. Smith, of the faculty of the New Mexico School of Mines at Socorro, after careful investigation, announces that the mineral production of New Mexico for 1909, including coal, is close to $3,000,000. This is a splendid addition to the wealth of the country, and while it hardly compares with the $50,000,000, the estimated value of farm and orchard products in New Mexico this year, or $20,000,000, the estimated product of the range, yet it places mining securely third among the industries of the territory, for manufacturing has not yet reached the proportions where its product runs into the millions, and the value of the timber output for 1909 is given as only $2,000,000, making the lumber industry fourth. But with such a variety of industrial production as that from farming, stock-raising, mining, lumbering and manufacturing, the prosperity of the future Sunshine State is certainly on a fine foundation.—New Mexican Review.

Portales and Her Irrigation Project!

THE TOWN: PORTALES is located 130 miles from Amarillo and 80 miles from Roswell, on the main line of the Pecos Valley Railway. Portales has 1500 inhabitants; two live banks whose deposits aggregate nearly half-million dollars; five churches; a $20,000 public school with a still larger one projected; a court house and jail worth $20,000; a full quota of live progressive merchants; two newspapers; four lumber yards; one cotton gin; a steam laundry and telephone system. Portales has no saloons or other haunts of vice. Its merchants gather trade for 50 miles west, 45 miles east and 100 miles south. It has a new $5000 brick cantarum.
It has but two negroes and not even one Mexican.
It will build a $20,000 high school building; a $10,000 brick hotel.
It will install and put in operation the $75,000 water, sewer and light system, and a 10,000 acre irrigation project which will cost half million dollars.

THE IRRIGATION PROJECT will comprise 10,000 acres in Portales, Shallow Water Valley where there are 100,000 acres with inexhaustible supply of best water at a depth from 8 to 30 feet.
THE PLANT is an Electric Power Plant to be furnished by two 750 h. p. gas-producer engines, and to be carried out on large poles and heavy copper wires, equipped with lightning arrestors, to the several tracts of land to be irrigated.
THE WELLS are dug 5 feet square down to the first strata of water. From thence they are drilled 14 inches in diameter down to 80 to 115 feet, a six inch centrifugal pump is connected to a 25 h. p. motor installed in pump house on top of ground.
THE INSTALLATION: It is agreed that the first 6000 acre unit will be in operation in April, 1910. The plant will be increased during this year to 25,000 acres.
THE COST is $35.00 an acre, for the first 10,000 acres, payable in seven years, $3.50 an acre each.

PROGRESS OF THE ANTI-SALOON MOVEMENT.

Last week the first of a group of pronounced haters of the saloon made their appearance in Chicago and this week the militant hosts of the Anti-Saloon League are assembled in the thirteenth national convention of this organization which is performing such splendid service in behalf of temperance and good order. The convention began on Monday night with a banquet and addresses by distinguished speakers. Although the convention came on the heels of the defeat of the constitutional amendment in Alabama, no one appeared to be in the least discouraged. Indeed, there is no need for discouragement in the light of what has been done during the past year. Some idea of the things accomplished may be secured from the biennial address of Supt. P. A. Baker. In the course of this it is said: "The concrete results of two years may be estimated with reasonable correctness. That during the year 1908, more than 11,000 saloons were voted out of existence, and through restrictive measures and better law enforcement more than 4,000 more were forced to close their doors; that since Jan. 1, 1909, saloons have been closed at the rate of forty per day; that 41,000,000, of the people of the United States are now living in prohibition territory; that seventy per cent of the area of the United States forbids the licensed liquor traffic, tells only a part of the visible results. New and powerful friends are everywhere gathering to our Anti-Saloon League standard.
From a few struggling agitators of sixteen years ago, hammering at the church doors in Ohio, seeking admission and a chance to be heard, it is becoming a well-drilled, compact army, with brains and ballot and conscience to use both for the speedy coming of the Masters' kingdom. We are creating a new brand of politics and politicians; we are making it safe for public officials to do right; we are magnifying the oath of office; we are teaching men that public office is a public trust; that there is no political future for the man who abandons conscience when he enters the public service; that the laws represent the combined average public sentiment of the people; which cannot be ignored without peril to the one who does it. Our movement is doing more usher in the new patriotism than any other one agency aside from the church itself. It is not strange that the brewers are demanding that the preachers be silenced on this issue and be compelled to 'preach the gospel.'"—The Chicago Standard.

MISS MAUD MINER TELLS OF THE WHITE SLAVE.

PROBATION OFFICER, WHO SERVED IN NEW YORK, TELLS OF HER FINDINGS—"WHITE SLAVE" GOES OUT INTO STREET FOR MEN WHO CONTROL HER MORE OR LESS WILLINGLY, SHE SAYS.

New York, Dec. 20.—"The white slave question, like all other civic problems, is an economic one. In other words, the supply equals the demand.

"If the financial side of it could be eliminated we would be making a long stride toward the reduction of the traffic. Desire for dress, an attempt to escape from dangerous work, together with the influence of 'cadets' and other unfortunate women, are the usual propulsion to this life.

"Contrary to the general belief, I have found that the white slave, so-called, goes out into the streets for the man who controls her more or less willingly."

RIGHT COURT A GREAT AID.

To put it in Miss Miner's words: "The coming of the night court in New York City, through the efforts of Judge Whitman, has practically done away with the professional bondsman in the station house, has granted the prisoner speedy justice and has cut off some of the avenues of graft. It has at the same time, by bringing together in one court nearly all the women arrested for immorality in Manhattan and the Bronx, caused us to realize the necessity of working out a more rational method of dealing with offenders. It has given us a sense of the enormity of the social evil in our community, and has shown us that more must be done to cut off the sources whence come the recruits to vice."

The first step in this direction was taken when Miss Miner and her sister Stella opened Waverly house, the home of the New York Probation Association, at No. 165, West Tenth street. Here there is room for twenty-five, with no red tape.

Women held for examination and paroled in custody of the probation officer may find refuge at Waverly House. The unfortunate discharged in the middle of the night may receive a welcome in the fine old-fashioned house, with its tasteful interior. A stay of one night, or two nights, or even three months, if necessary for the help of the guests, is permissible. The babies of deserted and dishonored mothers are often their companions at Waverly House.

THEIR STORIES SOMETIMES FALSE.

While the girls learn sewing and attend classes in English and gymnastics to keep them occupied while perhaps a position is found, they are led to tell their stories.

"Their stories are sometimes quite false," said Miss Miner, "but after they are convinced that they have a friend they will finally admit the facts. These are, of course, investigated at once, and every effort is made to find the man responsible for the girl's downfall, and gather evidence to convict him. If I can send such a man up for a long term I always feel that I am accomplishing more to abolish the traffic than by helping several girls."

Miss Stella Miner last week succeeded in sending a man to jail for a minimum sentence of ten years. The girl was cared for at Waverly House.

NOT ALL TRACTABLE.

"Do I find them tractable, willing to reform?" echoed Miss Miner. "When they are young enough, in years and in that trifling business to feel that a decent, self-respecting life is desirable, we have had surprising success. Some of them can do housework and are glad to get into families out of the city. Some, of course, are utterly untrained and for such something else must be found.

"The man who lives on such a woman's earnings is technically a vagrant, therefore the ordinary sentence imposed on him is six months in the workhouse.

"Many of these white slaves are foreigners, with no friends in this country. In other cases we find ourselves with a whole family on our hands through the wayward girl, with perhaps another sister on the eve of adopting a similar life.

"In all my experience I have never known a case where a girl was forcibly detained. They usually bend the knee.

"Of course, drink has played a large part in the downfall of many. I think that a small percentage are naturally depraved, though they as naturally grow hardened to the life.

"Preventive measures are part of the plan of action. The impairing of the morals of children is an offense for which many have already been prosecuted. This occurs in the big public parks, particularly in the congested districts of the east side.

DETENTION OF WITNESSES.

"The next step in the work will be the securing of a municipal detention house, so that witnesses in cases may be kept apart from the common prisoners and given a chance. Meantime, while many organizations are studying the subject from various view points, scientific and others, and many means of bettering conditions are shaping, Waverly House is dealing with the immediate need. If a girl is afraid to go home because of the disgrace she has brought upon her people, if her surroundings are such that she takes to the streets in hope of greater ease, if she is just out of court and friendless, Waverly House has open doors for her. Kindness, help, work if she will—all lie before her. Should things go wrong she may return."

Judge Whitman is the president of the New York Probation Association, and its first steps promise much for the future.

PROHIBITION

HURTING SALOONS

Is the prohibition movement slowing down the saloon business any in the United States? Well, let's see. The internal Revenue figures given out at Washington tell us that there are twelve thousand fewer saloons in our country today than there were twelve months ago. This means the exit of one thousand of these institutions every month, or three hundred and thirty-three every day in the year. This is going some, if we read the figures correctly. But this is not all. These same Washington figures show us that we have 680 fewer wholesale liquor houses than we had one year ago. But this is not all. These same figures show us that we have 75 fewer distilleries and 100 fewer breweries than one year ago. Yet some people tell us that prohibition waves are receding. Let the recession, at this rate, continue through the years to come. Besides these results, we have more stringent liquor laws in most of our states than ever before, and the sentiment against the saloon is growing stronger and stronger with the passing of the years.—Christian Advocate.

After La Grippe

"I had suffered several weeks with La Grippe. Had pains in my head and eyes. It felt as though there was a heavy weight on the top of my head, until it seemed that my brain would burst. I was so nervous that I could not rest or sleep. When I dozed off I would awake with a sudden jerking of my whole body. Dr. Miles' Nerve, Heart Remedy and Nerve and Liver Pills cured me. A number of friends have since realized the same benefits."

MRS. ALVIN H. LOCKS,

Seabrook, N. H. The after effects of La Grippe are often more serious than the disease, as it leaves the system in a weakened condition that invites more serious troubles, such as pneumonia, etc.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve should be taken for some time to thoroughly restore nerve strength.

The latter Nervine is sold by all druggists. If the first bottle does not benefit, your druggist will return your money. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

RAINY DAYS

THEY enter into every life history. No one can hope for fair weather to the journey's end. No sun of prosperity shines perpetually. Cloudbursts of adversity come to all sooner or later. They come when least expected.

Hope for the best and prepare for the worst. Begin to build now the protecting shelter of a Bank Account. It will keep you and yours in comfort and health till the clouds roll by.

A bank account is like a magnet, it attracts the small change you formerly scattered.

The Perpetual Calendar Bank is not only useful but very ornamental in a home. You have the bank--we have the key. By keeping a bank account you will acquire habits of thrift. Every person--young or old--should have one. Call at the bank for particulars.

DEMING.

Deming has just passed through a six weeks siege of revival meetings. Evangelist Cross of San Antonio, having closed a three weeks effort for the Campbellites was immediately followed by another three weeks siege by the Baptists.

Beginning, Dec., 15th., evangelist L. E. Finney of Greenville, Texas, assisted by his singer Hugh Hiatt. Rev. Watkins and this missionary carried on the battle until January, 2nd.

We had a hard pull, following so closely upon the preceding meeting, the mad rush for holidays and the worst weather of the season all contributed to hinder the work, yet the Lord gave us a great victory.

We rallied several outstanding Baptists and reorganized the church which starts off with bright prospects.
