MEMORIAL DAY TO BE OBSERVED

Programs Arranged to Commemorate Dead by Special Services Next Sunday at the Methodist Church.

The regular preaching service of the morning hour will be given over at the Methodist church next Sunday to Memorial Day exercises. In keeping with the beautiful custom which has grown up through the length and breadth of this broad land, that one day in each year be set aside in which we, who are living, may pay a tribute to the memory of the brave soldiers, and to our dear ones who have passed away, it was thought better by our people to observe Sunday than the following day which has been officially designated as Memorial Day, being a day in which secular pursuits are given over to other matters, next Sunday should be characterized by a large concourse of our people who will assemble at the churches and other places of religious worship in participation of this mark of esteem for the brave soldiers and sailors who died fighting for what they believed to be right under the flag carried either by the blue or the gray, as well as the memory of our relatives and friends who have passed away, so that their kindly deeds and good acts may ever remain fresh in our memories.

So, in keeping with this spirit, the services of the morning hour next Sunday at the Methodist church will be along the lines indicated above, special addresses being announced as well as special musical features. Judges T. E. Mears and W. E. Lindsey are on the program for special addresses and the school children of the town are to join in a great chorus in the rendition of the national hymns.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock the public is asked to meet at the court house and from there go to the city cemetery where addresses will be made by Pastor E. L. Young and Mrs. S. F. Culberson after which all will join in the service of strewing with flowers the last resting places of so many of our friends and loved ones who are reposing there.

TOWN MARSHAL ON THE JOB

The newly elected city marshal, J. D. Osborn, this week posted a large number of placards reciting Sec. 7 of Ord. 18 of the town of Portales, which relates to speed of drivers of horses, as to hitching horses to awnings, ornamental trees of the town, etc. Coincident with this task, the Herald wishes to pause and remark that Mr. Osborn has set himself in dead earnest to enforce the ordinances of the town and the laws of our territory and he should be made to feel that he has the hearty support of all who are on the side of law and order. In this connection we would also remark that every citizen of Portales should be the possessor and a student of the ordinances of the town, copies of which may be had in at least one place in the city for a nominal fee. Our city dads have devoted much time and thought in framing these ordinances to meet the needs of our growing town and a knowledge of them and a purpose to respect them cannot but have a salutary effect upon the community.

HUMBLE ADDITION OFF THE MARKET.

W. W. Humble has instructed the Herald to discontinue all advertising relative to the sale of his farm according to the plan of a townsite proposition, this decision being reached by the family since the demise of the wife and mother, Mrs. Sallie A. Humble. Mr. Humble says he has not yet matured plans regarding the disposition of this property but that he will in all probability continue to make his residence here.

SANDY SOILS FOR GRAPES

The Sandy Soils of Roosevelt County Destined to Produce Fortunes to Small Owners in Grape Culture.

A Herald representative had the pleasure of driving out the first of the week past several farms to the north of town, out as far as the Geo. Rowell farm of 80 acres. This 80 is only 2 1/2 miles out from Portales and those who may have been out that far have observed the change of soil, both as to color and depth which is encountered directly out of town. On the 80 in question, the owner, a marriageable bachelor, by the way, has converted the greater part of the tract into a vineyard, carrying in it many of the best varieties of grapes, some this year's setting and others of mature growth, the latter being laden with young fruit. The vines all look thrifty and from the way they are growing one would conclude at once that this sandy soil of ours is the ideal home of all varieties of this delicious fruit. From the demonstration observed on this 80 acre tract 2 1/2 miles out from Portales, it is the prediction of this writer that our people are yet to see this land equal that of California in point of grape culture. The remarkable fact about the growth of these grapes on this land is that they are not, nor have they ever been irrigated, yet anywhere on the tract one could dig down in the soil 3 inches and find sufficient moisture to make a compact ball of the sub-soil. It will be an eye opener to anybody to drive out to this little farm of 80 acres. While the showing is crude, on account of the typical shack and the meagre improvements, yet we believe the keen observer will be able to extract from the rude scene the diamond in the rough—the great destiny of our rich sandy soils which await the touch of the husbandman.

NO HERD LAW IN TOLAR PRECINCT.

Considerable opposition has developed within the past few days to the herd law election which was declared in the Tolar precinct No. 5, the vote standing 57 "for" and 54 "against" according to the returns made in the proceedings of the last term of the board of county commissioners. The majority was so small that the opposition readily hit upon some plan to test the validity of the election, and assumed definite form in a proceeding before Judge Wm. H. Pope in chambers at Roswell, in which an order was prayed to annul the election by restraining the Roosevelt County Herald from making further publication of the notice of passage of herd law for this precinct. An injunction was granted in the case and the publication ordered stopped, which effectually kills the measure for the time being. Judge Sam J. Nixon represented the cause of the plaintiffs in the action and Attorney W. A. Gillenwater acted for the defendants. The Herald is informed that a new petition is in process of preparation which will be circulated again in this precinct and that it is the belief of the now declared minority that a sufficient number of legal voters will be secured to call another election.

NOTICE.

TO ALL CONCERNED.
"Local Option Herd Law" having been carried in precincts Numbered 2, 17, 20 and 22, it is the order of the board that the same be published in the Roosevelt County Herald for three consecutive issues thereof, and that said "Local Option Herd Law" become effective in said precincts 2, 17, 20 and 22 as per 1909 session acts of the legislature of the territory of New Mexico, governing the same, and that all neat cattle, horses, mules, asses, swine, sheep and goats be prohibited from running at large in said precincts.

CHILDREN'S DAY CELEBRATED SUNDAY.

The 11 o'clock service at the Methodist church Sunday was taken up with children's day exercises much to the enjoyment of the youngsters. The well arranged and very appropriate program was nicely carried out, and did credit to the patient instruction of their teachers.

The exercises given by the primary room, which consists of an enrollment of about eighty pupils under the efficient leadership of Miss Ora Kuykendall, were followed by the presentation of diplomas or promotions from that department, by Rev. Young, to the following, in the class thus created to be taught in future by Miss Viola McMinn: Maggie Blankenship, Marion Brown, Ora Bain, Elsie Bray, Rosa Carter, Nellie Dorsey, Nellie Freeman, Mary Ferguson, Clint Fairly, Heck Harris, Mary Lillian Hopper, George Reese, Gladys Stone, Maude Tucker, Alvis Garrett.

SANFORD DODGE A DELIGHT.

Portales theatre lovers were treated to something out of the ordinary this week in the engagement of Sanford Dodge at the Wonderland Theatre Monday night in "The Gladiator," Tuesday night in "Faust" and last night in the dramatic "Othello." Good clean plays and the artist's ability in their portrayal, is the verdict of the Herald critic.

Mr. Dodge makes his appearance the first of next week at the Elks' theatre in Albuquerque, the best amusement house in the entire southwest.

Hoyt King, a representative of the Capitol Freehold Land & Investment Co. of Texas with headquarters at Chicago, was a caller at this office Tuesday. Mr. King is watching with interest the outcome of our irrigation plant with a view, possibly, to applying the principle of this system of irrigation to their large holdings of land in Texas.

A CASE DECIDED WITHOUT A JURY.

What appeared to some a singular ruling was a decision handed down the other day by Judge A. B. Seay in the justice court in which the defendant in a cause for the violation of a city ordinance was denied the right of a trial by jury. The action of the court was sustained by Judge Wm. H. Pope upon a petition for writ of mandamus, such proceeding being denied and the cause dismissed. This authority recites the fact that the right of jury trial did not exist in a proceeding before a justice of the peace for violating a city ordinance, such a proceeding being in strict conformity to the law. All defendants in cases growing out of violations of city ordinances will hereafter content themselves with allowing the Justice of the Peace trying the case to be the whole court.

FOR PROBATE JUDGE.

The Herald this week places the name of Judge A. B. Seay in its announcement column as a candidate for Probate Judge of Roosevelt county. Mr. Seay is well and favorably known throughout the entire county, having made his residence here for some four years past and served for three years of that time in the official capacity of Justice of the Peace. Judge Seay has demonstrated his ability in the management of this office of trust in a manner which causes his friends to believe that he is thoroughly competent for higher honors and deserves them. Mr. Seay will make an excellent probate judge in the event that he is elected.

The Portales Times last week issued a special 12-page bootleg edition which is a credit to that paper and the town. Its pages contained a wealth of half-tone illustrations taken from local enterprises and scenes, and the advertising patronage was sufficient to warrant the extra expense incurred in its publication.

Portales should and will have a monster Fourth of July celebration. It will only take a little effort on the part of some of our boosters to put the matter on a definite working basis.

The Herald this week prints the text of a proposed ordinance making the initiative, the referendum and the right of recall a feature of our city government. The ordinance was submitted to the council at a recent meeting and while the measure did not secure passage at this session, it is hoped by its ardent authors and supporters that the citizens will give it mature study and reflection and that eventually it may become a factor in the government of our town. In the sincere desire that we may elicit the judgment of some of our competent local statesmen on the subject, the Herald reserves its judgment as to the advisability of the application of this feature of government in the administration of city affairs, only laying down the broad statement as a matter of belief, that in the making of a constitution for our state to be, it is our earnest desire that the initiative and referendum be a part of the fabric, for with it, it is not necessary to have in these all the people may want, neither will it be necessary to reject it because, perchance, there may be features in it which we do not exactly like, for with the initiative and referendum the people can correct mistakes easily. The Herald hopes some of the city's able statesmen will see fit to come into the limelight with words of wisdom on this important phase of government as applied to incorporated towns.

TREES AS A WINDBREAK.

Mr. E. P. Alldredge, the editor of the Herald, contributed a very interesting article in last week's paper, being interesting glimpses of life as seen in the state of Kansas by this writer while enroute to Baltimore Md. The reference which he makes to the system of windbreaks which are generally used in the building of homes in that wind-swept state, contains a source of information that should be hailed with delight by the people of this plains country who are endeavoring to hew themselves a home from the wilderness. As everyone knows who is at all familiar with the history of Kansas, the people who have gone into that section for the purpose of converting its great treeless plains into waving fields of grain, were confronted at the very outset with the problem presented in the high winds which continually swept that region at certain periods of the year. In fact so prevalent were the high winds in that section that the average wayfaring sojourner in those parts was at once made to realize the force of the old scriptural pointer which says that "the wind bloweth where it listeth," and before he was able to pack up and get out of the state he was made to believe that the wind especially listeth to blow in Kansas. But now all this is changed. Not that the wind has ceased to blow, but the type of empire builders who have made this land a delight to the eye have gone deeper into the arts of carving a home out of the one-time waste places of the earth, which comes from a realization that this old earth of ours was made for man, that he was to subdue it and make of it a pleasant and resourceful land in which to dwell. It gradually dawned upon these denizens that some system of wind breaks was necessary to stay the terrific force of these high winds and a more sensible and easier accomplished plan could not have been devised than to plant a network of trees on all sides of the farm. That this condition is a serious menace to our farmer right here in Roosevelt county has been brought to the writer's attention more than once during his short residence here. Just the other day, B. L. Adams, who came here a little more than a year ago, stated to the writer that he almost despaired of being able to adapt himself to conditions here on account of the high winds in the spring, which would sweep over a plowed field and leave it almost void of top soil. The fact that the winds usually prevail in the dry months of early spring makes the situation all the more serious and worthy our attention, and our farmers should speedily lend themselves to earnest thought in the best means of harnessing or arresting the evil. It is enough to drive any farmer to despair to have prepared his ground in the early spring for seeding and before sufficient moisture is had to bring it up have the soil together with all the seed carried to the remote parts of the earth. We all like to see real estate change hands and keep up business for the real estate agents, but this is carrying the thing a little too far. The plan of providing wind-breaks in some system of general order, was suggested by the writer of these lines to Mr. Adams, and we believe that this will be the ultimate solution of the problem. The people of this open country have not given enough attention to this matter and every spring repeats the same old story. One has but to note the difference between the effect produced by the trees in the Pecos Valley and the sweep which is given the winds in the Portales Valley where tree growth has not received early attention, to form a correct idea of the value of trees as a wind break. Plant trees and plenty of them, on all sides of your farm, if you expect to keep a title to it.

POLICE TO REGULATE "SPOONING."

The ardent wooer in the parks has long constituted a difficult problem with which cities all the way from San Francisco, with its celebrated Golden Gate park, to New York, with its vast Central park, have wrestled unsuccessfully, though more or less strenuously. That part of the public not affectionately and demonstratively inclined, seriously objects to the rest of the public publicly exhibiting its tender emotions, and ordinance after ordinance has come into being to stop what is technically known as "spooning" in public parks. But, in spite of it all, Mary Anne and her Joe John have managed to "cuddle up a little closer" in defiance of the frown of the law and the other park occupants. But now arises one who would not prohibit but merely regulate the matter. Chief of Police Jones of Cleveland has issued a new order and therein he has been most specific and descriptive. He will not prohibit nor undertake to stop or lessen "spooning" in the parks of Cleveland—he will merely say what kind of "spooning" can be carried on with police sanction. "Hugging with one arm is permitted," he definitely says, by which we assume that a half-Nelson is all right, but a double arm clinch is not according to the latest rules of the game. Of course this is fair enough, for it gives the one-armed fellow just as strong a chance with the girls as though accident had not divided his ability to demonstrate his affection.

Chief Jones says that "kissing in clinches is not permitted and only plain kissing will be allowed." In order that he may not be misunderstood, he minutely describes the fundamental differences between kissing that's just plain kissing and kissing which isn't according to police requirements, plain hugs with one arm and clinches, and so on through all the activities of courtship.

Here we have a model for police chiefs—not only does he know all about the courting game, but he has issued the first printed set of rules and regulations, and if any man in Cleveland loves not wisely but too well, it will not be the fault of the chief.—Fort Worth Record.

Any attempt at the abridgment of all the rights and privileges enjoyed by our forefathers in the delectable pastime of "spooning" should be eyed with some alarm by the Mary Annes and Joe Johns of the land as it may certainly be alleged that such infringement is in direct violation of that clause in the Declaration of Independence which asserts that "all men are created free and equal, endowed with certain inalienable rights among which are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." When the framers of that great Declaration of Independence were at work on that clause, they must have had in view the pastime of "spooning" in the parks. "Spoonings" is certainly "a pursuit of happiness." It is a sort of spontaneous combustion, as it were, of the feelings, and has to have proper conditions of the atmosphere to make it a success. The person who objects to "spooning" is old, usually, and has been satiated, and is like a lemon that has done duty in circus lemonade. If they had a job of "spooning" they would want to hire someone to do it for them. The person who objects to a little natural, soul inspiring "spooning" on a back seat in a park on an evening with a fountain throwing water all over little cast iron cupids, has probably got a soul, but he hasn't got it with him. To the student of nature, there is no sight more beautiful than to see a flock of young people take seats in the park, after the sun has gone to bed in the west and the moon has pulled a fleecy cloud over her face for a veil, so as not to disturb the worshipers. A young couple will sit far far apart in the cast-iron seat for a moment, when the young lady will try to fix her cloak over her shoulders, and she can't fix it, and the young man will help her and when he gets it fixed, he will go off and leave one arm around the small of her back. He will miss his arm, and wonder where he left it, and in the dark he will search with the other hand to find the hand he left, and suddenly the two hands will meet; they will express astonishment, and clasp each other, and be so glad that they will begin to squeeze, and the chances are that they will cut the girl in two, but they never do. Under such circumstances a girl can exist on less atmosphere than she can when doing a washing.

"Spoonings" is as necessary to the youth of the land as medicines to the sick, and instead of old persons, whose days of kittenhood are over, throwing cold water upon the science of "spooning" they should encourage it by all legitimate means. When, in strolling through the park, you run onto a case of sporadic "spooning," instead of making a noise on the gravel walk to cause the spooners to stop it, you should retrace your steps noiselessly, get behind a tree, and see how long they can stand it without dying. Instead of removing the cast iron seats from the parks, we should be willing to furnish reserved seats for old people so they can sit and watch the "spooning." It doesn't do any hurt to spoon. People think it is unhealthy, but nobody was ever known to catch cold while spooning. It is claimed by some that young people who stay out late nights and spoon are not good for anything the next day. There is something to this, but if they didn't get any spooning they wouldn't be worth a cent any time. They would be all the time looking for it.

There is just so much spooning that has to be done, and those who would object should remember that very many people have not facilities at their homes for such soul-stirring work and they are obliged to flee to the parks or to the woods, where the beneficent city government has provided all the modern improvements.

The comet, it seems, created considerable excitement in some portions of Alabama. Great crowds gathered in the streets and excitedly gazed at the celestial visitor. Two persons dropped dead at the sight.

New Orleans is wanting the World's Panama exposition. A big delegation of prominent people of that city as well as the Louisiana Legislature went to Washington in order to appear in connection with the measure in Congress.

The city of Roswell entertained Governor Wm. J. Mills and party the first of the week, the executive being there upon the invitation of the New Mexico Military Institute to deliver the graduating address in the commencement exercises of this institution.

It is predicted that the present session of Congress will not adjourn until perhaps the middle of July. The statehood and railroad bills are being discussed—the statehood bill being used to bring opposing factions together on the railroad bill. Truly, the mills of congress grind slowly.

The Denver Field and Farm

---	---

The best irrigation farm journal in the United States, has kindly consented to allow the Herald to make a clubbing offer of this paper together with the Herald both a year for $2.00. The regular price of the Field and Farm is $2.00 per year. The editor of the Field and Farm, Mr. L. M. Wilcox, has edited the paper in Colorado for 25 years and is an authority without equal in practical irrigation methods. He has published several text books on irrigation farming and is recognized as being an author of rare merit on this subject. The manager of the Herald has read this excellent journal for years and can safely say that we know of no paper anywhere that will prove of more help to our people in mastering the science of irrigation than this great journal.

DOUBT DISAPPEARS.

NO ONE IN PORTALES WHO HAS A BAD BACK CAN IGNORE THIS DOUBLE PROOF.

Does your back ever ache? Have you suspected your kidneys? Backache is kidney ache. With it comes dizzy spells, sleepless nights, tired dull days, distressing urinary disorders. Cure the kidneys to cure it all. Doan's Kidney Pills bring quick relief, bring thorough, lasting cures. That's what Portales sufferers want. Profit then by another's testimony, twice-told and well confirmed.

Hilario Baca, Delgado Street, Santa Fe, N. Mex., says: "About two and a half years ago I gave a public statement telling of my experience with an opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills. They completely rid me of pains in my back that had troubled me off and on for months. When I stooped or brought any strain on my loins, I suffered severely and there were various other difficulties which convinced me that my trouble came from disordered kidneys. It was not long after I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills that every symptom of my trouble had disappeared. The fact that I have had no return attack, warrants me in expressing my high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WALT MASON'S DENATURED POEM.

I'd hate to be a wrestler and strain my blooming works in swift heroic combats with Poles and frightful turks; I've watched the wrestlers struggle for purses and for points, I've seen their straining muscles, I've heard their cracking joints; desire to be a wrestler within my bosom sours; I'd rather be a peeler, and sleep for thirty hours. I'd hate to be a fighter, and train for weeks and weeks, to have my nose kerfummixed and spread upon my cheeks. I've seen the pug in action, I've seen him in repose, I've seen him running naked, I've seen him wearing clothes, and far from his profession I'll surely try to keep; I'd rather be a peeler, and sleep, and sleep, and sleep. I'd hate to be a walker, though Weston makes it pay; I'd hate to reel and totter upon an endless way; to tumble into ditches, and sidestep auto cars, to live on prunes and water, and cut out all cigars; O, let the other fellow across the country walk! I'd rather be a peeler, and sleep around a block.

COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE.

(Crowded out last week.)

FLOYD

It is still very dry around here, the farmer's crops look bad.

Jos. Carter is putting in a crop on his son's farm south of Portales.

Quite a number of the Floyd people are working at Portales, it being too dry to plant a crop.

Preparations are still being made for the fifth Sunday Convention, don't forget and be sure and come.

Singing at Floyd every Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

H. S. Douthit and wife moved to Portales last week where they will live for a while.

Henry and Miss Elsie Carter went to Portales this week where they will enter school.

L. D. Looper and wife were in Portales last week, shopping.

There was a good singing at the home of Mr. Armitages last Sunday night.

Mrs. Cook and daughter visited in this community last week.

Devine Cook is working near Floyd this week, but was south of Floyd Sunday.

The surprise party given Mr. and Mrs. Fate George last Monday night was enjoyed by all.

CAUSEY

All happy and contented after the beautiful rains of last week.

W. S. Riley was in the Redland community, Monday, visiting friends and admiring the beautiful country.

J. C. Chapman is quite ill at his home west of Causey. His many friends wish him speedy recovery.

Some miserable petty-thief of the neighborhood stole a single-tree and clevis from J. F. Fishback's wagon one night last week. It is learned that a good many people throughout the community have lost small articles occasionally.

Rev. Cedar of Albuquerque gave a temperance lecture at the Causey school house Sunday night.

There will be a concert and pie supper at the school house Saturday night, the proceeds to go to Jno. Brown and wife, who are conducting a singing school in our midst.

Misses. Ivie and Lillian London gave an apron party at their home last Saturday night. A nice crowd was present and all report an enjoyable time.

CROMER

Don't think for a minute that if you don't hear from Cromer that she is not on the map, but just drop over in your leisure time and be convinced; planting, harrowing and cultivating are the topics of the day, but it is a shame that some folks can't get their work done without desecrating the Sabbath.

Mr. Parks has a work animal badly cut on the wire but is lucky enough to have a team of mules besides, which he recently purchased in Elida.

Children's day exercises were a grand success. Never before in the history of Dora school house has there been such a gathering. The house would not hold all the people some of whom, to be present, came a distance of fifteen miles. The program was rendered in the morning, Plainview taking a very prominent part. The best of all was the dinner which was spread on the outside but was eventually "on the in." Rev. Kyle preached in the afternoon and again at night.

The people of the community have purchased an organ for the school house and there will be singing there every Sunday afternoon, or so it was announced.

Rev. Moore reported a big time at New Hope church, children's day exercises and dinner

REWARD IN HEAVEN FOR PASSAGE OF STATEHOOD BILL.

Under the caption of "Taft and Statehood," the Washington Post publishes the following editorial:

"President Taft's position on the statehood bill, as announced by him in his speech at Passaic Monday night is characterized by the broadest kind of statesmanship. The president admitted very frankly that there was opposition within his own party to the passage of the bill on the ground that it was 'so likely to add four democrats to the senate.'"

"Or, if not democrats," he added, 'republicans of that radical type that are entirely out of sympathy with the more conservative notions of the east.'"

"Nevertheless," he asserted, 'the statehood bill, if passed, will be marked up in heaven to the credit of the republican party.'"

"The President takes the broad stand that the republican party, having pledged itself to the enactment of a bill granting statehood to Arizona and New Mexico should pass such a measure at the present session of congress."

"President Taft is right. The republican party has pledged itself to the passage of the statehood bill. When other less important sensational subjects are forgotten, it should be written large in history that the Sixty-first congress made states out of the two great territories, New Mexico and Arizona."

"This important measure, which merely does justice to two territories and carries out a solemn pledge, is not a proper subject for the display of partisanship. President Taft shows his breadth of view in regarding it as the duty of the republican party to pass the bill, without regard to partisan consequences."

"It is true that the bill may lead to the addition of four democrats to the minority party in the senate, but while the republican party may be the loser in this respect it will be the gainer in popular regard. The bill must be passed at the present session if faith is to be kept with the people."

A SLOGAN FOR NEW MEXICAN FAIR WANTED.

"If you can think of one, a live one, a sizzling one, a short and expressive phrase which will be catchy, picturesque and appropriate, jot it down and mail it to Secretary John B. McManus at Albuquerque. If your idea is the snappiest and best of all those received, the fair association will send you a free season ticket to the Thirtieth Fair. More than that, your name will be published through the Territory as the winner of this unique contest."

"All suggestions must be in by June first. A committee of competent judges will canvass all the ideas, and the best man or woman boy or girl wins."

NEWS FROM LOGS.

A. L. Haislip made a business trip to Portales last week.

C. A. Rector came out from Portales this week looking after his farm. He rented it to W. A. Marrs to put in maize and millet.

The contract was let by the phone company to W. B. Adams, Roy Long and Mr. Jordan to erect a phone line from Longs to Portales and the work will be completed this week.

U. S. Fraye, census enumerator for precincts 11 and 14 finished his work in thirty days.

Mrs. Stewart's little girl, Hazel Mahan, returned home from Arkansas this week.

Some of the farmers are having to plant some of their crop over.

We had children's day services the third Sunday in May at the Long School house. A good crowd was present and an excellent dinner was served on the ground. The sermon in the morning was by Rev. Page. At 2:30 the following program was rendered:

Welcome address, Rosa Adams.
 Song.
 Dialogue by four little girls.
 "Why we have Children's Day," Esther Marrs.
 Reading, Williard Long.
 Song.
 "A true Story," Gladys Ver non.
 Bouquet Drill.
 Reading, Una White.
 Duet, "Mother's Prayer," Misses Bessie and Gladys Ver non.
 Reading, Oma Thurman.
 Song by the choir.
 Twenty-third Psalm by five little girls.
 "The Missionary Hymn," Laura Fullerton.
 Vocal Duet, Misses Ruby and Laura Marrs.
 Wreath drill by eight girls.
 Reading, Ruby Long.
 Song by little girls.
 Address, "Mother's Day," W. A. Marrs.

The Rogers class furnished us with music which was very much appreciated.

BADLY GARBLED

The editor of the Herald regrets that mistakes crept into the contribution of Judge W. E. Lindsey under the caption of "for a united city Portales," which appeared in last week's paper and which rendered it almost unrecognizable, even to the author. However, should it have been worse, it would have been no reflection on this gentleman's scholarship, as it comes home to the readers of newspapers every week that the average editor is prone to err, and there is only comfort in the thought that as soon as the editors attain the highest degree of perfection, they are immediately transported to heaven. Indeed we are just that athodox to believe that heaven would not have been created for the editor had it not been known that he would make mistakes and miss the mark here below. For the benefit of some of our readers who may be disposed to wonder at the many glaring mistakes which are a part of the average country editor, we reproduce the following experience of a brother editor, which is common to most all the fraternity on the eventful day of publication.

TEXT OF ORDINANCE BEFORE CITY

An ordinance for the initiative, the referendum and the right of recall in the incorporated town of Portales.

Be it ordained by the board of trustees of the town of Portales, New Mexico.

Sec. 1. That the people of the said incorporated town have and reserve to themselves the right and power to propose ordi- nances and to enact and to reject the same at the polls, and also have and reserve the power at their own option, to approve or re- ject at the polls any ordinance passed by the counsel of said in- corporated town, and that the people of said town have and reserve to themselves the right and power to recall from office any officer of said incorporated town elected by the people.

Sec. 2. The first power reserved by the people is the initia- tive and eight per cent of the people shall have the right to propose any ordinance or measure by petition to the counsel, and every such petition shall include the full text of the ordinance or meas- ure so proposed. The second power is the referendum and it may be ordered either by petition of five per cent of the legal voters or by the counsel. The ratio and per cent of legal voters herein stated shall be based upon the total number of votes cast at the last election for town office receiving the highest number votes at such election.

Sec. 3. All referendum petitions shall be filed with the clerk of said town not later than forty days after the publication of any ordinance on which the referendum is demanded, and the veto power of the mayor shall not extend to measures voted on by the people. The town board of trustees shall call an election imme- diately after the filing with the clerk of a proper petition under this ordinance, said election to be held not later than twenty-one days after said call shall be made. Any ordinance or measure re- ferred to the people by the initiative shall take effect and be in force from and after receiving a majority of the votes cast at such elec- tion; and any measure referred to the people by the referendum shall be in force and effect from and after its approval by a major- ity of the people voting at such election and not sooner.

Sec. 4. The heading of all ordinances shall be: "Be it enact- ed by the people of the town of Portales, New Mexico." And all petitions shall be addressed to the Board of Trustees of the town of Portales.

Sec. 5. The third power reserved by the people is the power to recall any officer elected by the people. Upon the filing with the clerk of the town of a petition signed by 15% of the legal voters of the said incorporated town (the number of legal voters to be as- certained as hereinbefore provided) the town board of trustees shall immediately call an election at which there shall be submitted to the legal voters of the said incorporated town the question of the recall from office of any officer elected by the people whose re- call has been called for by said petition, and at which said election the people shall have the right to vote for any person to fill such office sought to be vacated by said recall. If a majority of the vot- ers voting at said election shall vote to recall said officer or offi- cers it shall be the duty of the board of trustees to declare the of- fice vacant, and the person voted for at said election for said office and receiving the highest number of votes shall be by the Board of Trustees declared to be the duly elected officer to fill said vacancy, and said elected officer shall immediately qualify to fill said office. But no petition shall be received under this section of this ordi- nance earlier than forty days after any officer sought to be releas- ed shall have entered upon the discharge of his duties as such of- ficer.
