Portales Valley Enters the Spring Season With Glowing Prospects for Agricultural Interests

Sugar Beets and Railroads.

As will be seen in another place in this paper there will be a joint mass meeting representing the two above interests at the court house Saturday at 1:00 p. m. The general object of the meeting is to close up the sugar beet project as near as can be done at this time and it is expected that Mr. Moun Day will be in person at that time. It is also expected that this meeting will put ginger into the several committees which are working on the railroad proposition and will also serve to bring the people in touch with those having in hand the matter of bond and right-of-way.

Messrs. Thomas and Briner, representing the sugar beet enterprise, were called to Taiban yesterday, where it is expected that they will sign up two or three thousand acres which have been tied up in some proposed bonding district for water development.

Mr. J. W. Cooper, representing the railroad proposition which has been made to Portales, left the first of the week for Plainview, Texas, and from there will go on to Ft. Worth in the interest of the project.

A full gathering is expected at this meeting and it is hoped that we may be able to put these two proposed enterprises on a definite basis at this time.

Santa Fe Officials Visit.

Joseph Brinker, General Passenger Agent; A. E. Taylor, Chief Clerk, and W. S. Carter, Live Stock Agent, all of Amarillo visited Portales last week. Their special mission here at this time was three-fold. Their first mission was to arrange with the Portales irrigation company for the placing of a permanent siding to the irrigation power house. We are happy to state this matter was satisfactorily arranged and the tract will likely be put in within a few days. A second and scarcely less important mission was to advise our irrigation farmers that at actual cost their company would furnish all seeds needed by the farmers. Prof. J. D. Tinsley, dry-farming expert is undoubtedly to be given credit for initiating this good move on the Santa Fe's part. But no matter from what source it was initiated, it is a very great help to our farmers, who only need a chance to demonstrate that the possibilities of Portales Valley are beyond the widest scope of the dreams and endeavors of her heroic people.

The third mission of these officials of this most progressive railroad was to arrange to help advertise this country. Well, why not? With our irrigation plant in operation, the great rains and snows which have broken the long drought, the new railroad which is now assured, the sugar beet industry which in itself will revolutionize this valley, etc., why may we not have more people and more business for this country?

People from the country can find a sanitary wagon yard in which to lodge themselves and their teams at the Boucher Wagon Yard.

Methodist Church Notes.

Next Sunday will be a red-letter day with all the Methodist people of Portales. The church building which has been closed for the three Sundays past, owing to repairs being made, will be wide open next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The delay in the work was caused by mistakes on the part of the paper firm in Kansas City from whence the wall paper came. The interior of the building, since the overhauling, has the appearance of a brand-new house. It has been repapered throughout with the best grade of paper the market affords and it is but right and due to say that Mr. Epperson and Mr. Wiley have spread themselves on this job. The work will stand for many years as a credit to these two gentlemen. The woodwork, frames, etc., together with the new chancel railing will receive a new coat of varnish. The choir platform has been placed at the rear of the pulpit and the pulpit with the rostrum has been moved forward. The choir has been fitted up with a dozen mahogany-finished chairs. The electric lights are in their places and are ready for use. The three chandeliers which together will cost $55 are expected any day. There are in the building 14 lights, 12 Tungstons of 45 candle-power each, and 2 of 16 candle-power each. There are seven drops with three switch boards. The church from vestibule to and in the Sunday School room will be thoroughly lighted.

Messrs. Wood and Tucker did an excellent job in the work of re-arranging the pulpit and in the construction of the chancel railing. The $80 carpet which was ordered through a local firm is here and will likely be on the floor by Sunday.

The Woman's Home Mission Society will celebrate their 8th anniversary with an appropriate program next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and Brother J. Rush Goodloe, Presiding Elder, will preach at 7:30 p. m. and hold

W. M. Bruce Turns Farmer.

It is expected that the vicinity of Portales will be treated to quite a demonstration in the art of irrigation farming in the exertions of our townsman, Col. W. M. Bruce, who last week moved his family to the 80-acre tract just out of the city limits which he recently purchased from Dr. Bolard. Mr. Bruce has installed a pumping plant of 15-horse power engine and 5-inch centrifugal pump and will sow 70 acres of the tract to alfalfa and use the remainder in small truck growing. A commodious farm home has been erected on the place and it is certain that this choice piece of land will in a short time be pointed out to the visitor as an example of what industry can accomplish in the Portales Valley.

B. J. Reagan returned home Monday morning from Mineral Wells, Texas, where he went some three weeks ago to take his little son who was suffering with rheumatism. His wife and son will remain there a couple of months longer as Mr. Reagan says there is already marked improvement in the little fellow's health.

Another Announcement for Marshal.

Another name will be found in the Herald's announcement column this week for city marshal, the aspirant being Dug Osborn. This office seems to be a much coveted place judging from the number who have already announced their candidacy. Those who are familiar with the record made by Mr. Osborn during his service as marshal under the present administration are taking quite an interest in his candidacy and predict that he will be the winner at the polls April the fourth.

Astrological Meets.

There will be astrological fetes at the following named places and at the dates specified; Adobe, April 5, 7:30 p. m.; Eiland, April 4, 7:00 p. m.; Portales Springs, April 6, 7:00 p. m.

Railroad Co.'s Generous Act.

A good illustration of the exception to the rule that corporations are soulless is found in the act of the Eastern Railway Company of New Mexico, coming to the relief of the farmers under the Irrigation Project at Portales, in furnishing alfalfa, oats, wheat, beans and other seeds to the farmers for this year's planting. It seems that the farmers having been at a very heavy expense in installing the pumping system for irrigation, found themselves unable to purchase the required amount of seed necessary to put their land in proper cultivation, and the Railway Company has purchased about $8,000 worth of seed and is having the same distributed to the farmers through the Portales Irrigation Company at actual cost, taking its pay from the farmers after the crops of this year have matured. The company will in addition to this, station J. D. Tinsley, its farming expert at Portales for the greater part of this season to render such assistance to the farmers as is desirable.

The Railroad company no doubt realizes that any such thing done for the immediate development of the country tributary to its line, is in the end a great advantage to it. At the same time it is an act that the people no doubt appreciate.—Roswell Daily Record.

Meeting of Daughters.

The Daughters of the Confederacy had a delightful meeting with Miss Sallie Bryant as hostess on March, 21st. The Chapter unanimously voted to invest the money now in the treasury in books, and thus found a historical library. The Southern military history, two valuable books on Southern literature, and some historical novels will be ordered at once.

Plans for the observance of "Shiloh day" were discussed and the further consideration of same was referred to a committee of which Miss Bryant is chairman.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting of the Chapter will be with Mrs. Rozelle Culberson on April 18th, next.

"Tacky" Party.

Tuesday evening a number of the younger social set were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Williamson where their daughter, Miss Fannie, entertained with a tacky party.

The guests were appropriately dressed for the occasion, and presented a very laughable sight.

Refreshments of crackers stick candy and lemonade were served to the following:—Misses Marguerite Calloway, Willie Mae Culberson, Irene Smith, Polly Monroe; Messrs. Wortham Odum, Jesse Freeman, Edwin Near, Lawrence and Reagan Conally, Sammy Osborn, Tom Monroe.

For a Chicken Law.

If the present agitation on the part of a few citizens of the town for a chicken law is the portent of concerted action in that direction, it is quite certain that the new council will be asked to frame such a law. It is just a little hard to classify those making objection to the chickens running at large about the town as the circumstances seem to vary in each case. Many of the objections of course come from the man who believes that his wife should not be molested in her spring garden operations, while there are others who take the other angle and contend that a town is no place anyway in which to raise hogs, chickens, dogs, etc. The Herald man is in the latter bunch, and believes that a good wholesome town does not contemplate a barnyard and dog kennel, and that the man who has such tendencies and can't get rid of them should either move to the country or else enclose his premises so his barnyard stock will not be a menace to his neighbors. There is probably nothing known to the average man as exasperating as to have his neighbor's chickens ravaging upon his flower beds, garden truck and other things which should be done about a home to make it attractive in its surroundings, and when we have rid ourselves of the chicken nuisance, or abated it by some form of regulation, we may rest assured that we have advanced another step in the ascent to an ideal city.

Portales Wants New Depot.

The following letter dated March 25th was handed us by Commercial Club Secretary, R. G. Bryan:

"Replying to yours of the 3rd instant in regard to construction of new station at Portales:

"We have carried on our prospective appropriation for the past two years a passenger station for that point and were in hopes that conditions this year would be such that its construction could be undertaken. There are no prospects at this time, however, of doing this. With the decreased earnings due to extraordinary drought in the western country during the past three years, and with the enforced increase in salaries to all our employes, there are no prospects at this time for securing capital for that purpose. We appreciate fully the necessity of better station facilities in your city and wish to assure you that as soon as money for the purpose can be procured that a station which will be a credit to your town will be erected.

Yours truly, F. C. Fox."

Convention of Woman's Clubs.

By Mrs. S. J. NIXON.
The first convention of Women's Clubs for New Mexico was held at Las Cruces, March 13th and 14th. The purpose of this convention was to form a State Federation of Clubs for New Mexico, which, we are glad to say, was speedily and successfully accomplished. The delegates present represented the strongest clubs of the Territory, and the result of the efforts they put forth was very gratifying.

We considered it a great honor and rare pleasure to have with us Mrs. Philip N. Moore, President of the general Federation of Women's Clubs, of St. Louis, who kindly and materially assisted us in every way in the forming of this Club Federation. Her able and inspiring address the first day of the convention, together with her earnest efforts in our behalf, won for her the deepest admiration and appreciation of all present. Mrs. Moore possesses a splendid intellect, a clear, forceful and convincing expression of thought which, together with her keen executive ability and charming personality places her in the position she so justly deserves, a leader among women. She spoke broadly of the progress of woman, intellectually, the uplifting influence of clubs and club federations, both state and national, pointing out clearly that this great concerted movement of woman was in nowise a political organization, but that its chief aim, desire and motive power was the further elevation, advancement and development of the highest and truest type of American Motherhood and Womanhood. To all these inspiring expressions and many others pertaining to our own individual aims as an organization, there was a silent, but sympathetic response from our own little New Mexico Delegation.

It might be interesting to say that we were the last state in the Union to form a federation, Arizona being next to last, having formed a state federation one month previous to ours. At the last Biennial of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs held at Cincinnati, Mrs. George W. Frenger of Las Cruces was made General Federation Secretary for our Territory, to start the work and arouse interest in Federation for New Mexico, and we take pleasure in saying that it was due to the noble and untiring efforts of Mrs. Frenger, and her capable and wise method of procedure, that this organization was made possible; and we feel that these strenuous efforts she put forth and the work that she accomplished can never be forgotten, but will be more and more appreciated as the years go by and our organization grows stronger and better and its influence for good is felt in all the homes of our bright sunny land.

fluence for good is felt in all the homes of our bright sunny land.

This organization starts with about 50 clubs and over 2000 members; many other clubs are expected to come in during the next 30 days as by so doing, they will have the advantage of Charter membership.

The convention was in session two days, and very busy days they were. Meetings were held at Elks' Hall, in Las Cruces, which was beautifully and tastefully decorated with the native evergreens and cut flowers in profusion, some of which were sent from florists of other towns complimentary for the occasion. The citizens of Las Cruces spared neither effort nor expense in arrangements for our entertainment and comfort. The address of welcome from the Mayor, Mr. Young, made us feel that the welcome was indeed warm and heartfelt.

The reception Monday night was much enjoyed by all. The musical given to Mrs. Moore and the delegates Tuesday evening by the Las Cruces Music Club was a rare pleasure indeed. Their splendid classical programme, so excellently rendered, displayed the most exquisite musical taste and skill we have ever seen in the West.

One of the most enjoyable features was an automobile ride for the delegates, during which we saw some old historical points, as well as their broad alfalfa and fruit farms and irrigation system. During this ride we were taken to the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Mesilla Park, where to our pleasant surprise we were informed lunch awaited us, and on entering the spacious dining hall of the main building, we were met by the girls of the Domestic Science department, who prepared and served a most elegant and delicious five course luncheon, which was surely enjoyed, and called forth many expressions of appreciation from all the guests. The President, Dr. Garrison, and Mrs. Garrison, also, were with us during the time, and extended friendly words of greeting to us.

At the last executive session the following State officers were elected:—President, Mrs. S. E. Johnson, Roswell; Vice-President, Mrs. Ray, Albuquerque; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Mason, Roswell; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Sam J. Nixon, Portales; Treasurer, Mrs. Skeen, Artesia; Auditor, Mrs. Fugate, Las Vegas; General Federation Secretary, Mrs. Frenger, Las Cruces. These officers constitute the Executive Board of the State Federation and at executive session after the adjournment of the Convention, this board outlined a strong and progressive policy which will be speedily communicated to all club organizations in the Territory, and which we trust will help to further the cause of education in our land, and the advancement of ourselves intellectually and morally.

A Sanitary Soda Fountain.

C. M. Dobbs has just recently installed the most modern appliances for his soda fountain, consisting of sewer and water connections which will enable this popular resort to meet the most advanced demands for sanitary utilities. One pleasing feature of the improvements is a fountain with strong pressure for the cleansing of all vessels in which beverages are served, thus insuring to the man who wants a cold soda, lemonade or other popular drink, a perfectly clean glass. Those who appreciate pure and wholesome cold drinks served in the most approved manner will not fail to make rendezvous at Dobbs' Fountain.

Porter Deen, head grocer, man at Joyce-Pruit's, spent a few days of the first of the week on a business visit to Roswell.

The next Convention will be held in Roswell, March, 1912.

How to Improve Them

Profitable Pork Production

Breed, Breeding and Feeding the Foundation of Success. Management of the Sow and Young Pigs
By PROF. G. C. HUMPHREY
Wisconsin College of Agriculture

Copyright, 1920, by Western Newspaper Union

At the present time there is considerable controversy as to the merits of the lard type and the bacon type swine. The long, narrow, thin-boned bacon type, which dresses 70 to 75 per cent. on butchering, as compared with the lard type, which dresses 84 to 87 per cent., meets with the favor in some sections. In fact, mature and unfinished lard hogs satisfy most of the bacon demands. On the other hand, the lard type, which is low, deep, broad, heavily-fleshed, and including the Poland China, Duroc Jersey, Berkshire and Chester White breeds, is always in demand.

Selection of Breed.
The selection of a breed is due rather to personal preference than to the superiority of one of the four varieties of lard hogs. Efficient management will succeed in the long run, no matter what breed is selected as the foundation stock. The market itself does not differentiate between breeds, rather requires uniformity in type combined with superior finish and quality. The best plan for each farmer to follow is to select the breed that most closely corresponds to his particular conditions as determined by personal preference, method of production, local popularity of the breed and the market demands.

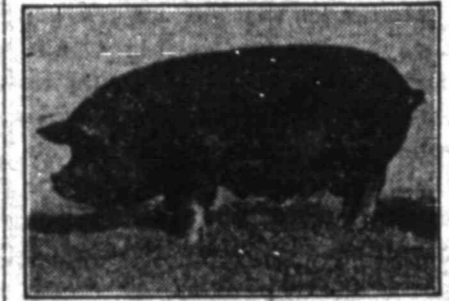

Due to the fact of the rapid increase in the introduction of superior blood and the ready retention and transmission of acquired characteristics among the swine family, the upgrading and improvement of the scrub herd is a relatively simple matter. There is no excuse for any farmer maintaining a herd of inferior scrub hogs on his farm. By the use of a good, pure-bred sire anyone can, in a few years and at little expense, establish a grade herd equal to a pure-bred herd as regards pork production. Of course, this necessitates the rejection of all inferior animals from the breeding herd and the maintenance of only the improved types.

Importance of the Boar.
The herd boar should be a pure-bred, prepotent sire strongly evincing the breed characteristics and possessing the necessary market confirmation. He should be short and broad are being fattened for market, without danger of causing digestive disorders. The oil meal in this ration not only gives consistency and uniformity to the slop, but it also regulates the digestive organs and improves the quality of skin and hair.

A good brood sow ration consists of cornmeal 23 pounds, ground oats 23, wheat middlings 23, wheat bran 23, oil meal 6 and salt 2. This is an excellent ration, the wheat bran giving it bulk and increasing its laxative effects.

A good ration for small pigs includes ground oats (free from hulls) 35 pounds, wheat middlings 35, cornmeal 20, oil meal 8 and salt 2. This should be supplemented with warm skim-milk for young pigs, fed just before and after weaning time. A good plan is to feed small quantities of this ration to four-week-old pigs for two weeks and then wean them and gradually accustom them to the growing ration.

In the case of the first two rations oats may be omitted and the same amounts of corn and wheat middlings increased or barley may replace the corn, as it is excellent for bacon production. Corn and clover pasture produce excellent gains towards the end of the fattening process. In the brood sow ration bran may be replaced by roots and oats may be omitted, providing the sows have abundant exercise. After the farrowing period sows need the growing ration for the maintenance of large litters.

Care at Farrowing and Weaning.
The sows should be housed in comfortable, sanitary quarters and fed as usual up to the date when to farrow. Knowing the date the sow was bred, and that the period of gestation for swine is 112 to 116 days, it is easy to approximate the date of farrowing. When the sow's udder becomes distended and milk can be drawn from her teats she is due to farrow within 24 hours. After farrowing, the sow should be fed the slop ration and laxative feeds to keep the bowels open. She should be bedded with oat straw or shredded corn fodder, which furnishes a dry, dustless bedding.

Dust of any kind will cause coughs or pneumonia among the little pigs. Keep the sow quiet immediately after farrowing, allowing her only cold water, and at the end of 24 hours give her a light bran mash. After this the feed can be increased gradually up to the fifth day, when a liberal ration may be fed. Judicious feeding prevents milk fever in sows and scours in pigs.

At the age of four weeks pigs begin to eat, and it is well to have them feeding well before weaning time. Fresh milk added to the small pig ration satisfies their demands. The ration should be fed in an easily cleaned V-shaped trough. Shelled corn should be kept in a dry place before the pigs, and they will soon learn to eat it.

The main point to be considered in feeding young pigs is to grow them and not to fatten them. They should thrive on a well-relished ration and grow steadily. Weaning can be completed at six to eight weeks of age. Where only one litter of pigs is raised annually it is possible to let the pigs run with their dam for ten to twelve weeks, while in other cases only part of the litter is taken away from the sow and the rest left with their dam to gradually dry off her milk flow.

Sod for Orchard.
The pear orchard will do best when allowed to grow up in soil. Slow and hardy growth in sod makes pear trees more resistant to disease. Blue grass makes a good sod for the pear orchard.

City Rube Shows Foolish Curiosity

CHICAGO.—When the gentleman from the rural districts arrives in the city and gazes in amazement at the high buildings and looks with awe into the subway he is immediately set down as a Rube with hayseed in his hair and given the merry laugh by the wise city guy who will then proceed down the street and stand for half an hour on a curbstone to watch an automobilist inflate a punctured tire, or proceed to murder a perfectly good quarter of an hour watching a cook browning the wheats in a restaurant window.

But for absolutely pure and undiluted inquisitiveness you've got to hand it to the city man, for he is right there with his research stuff. He will poke fun at his wife for her knowledge on the subject of the neighbor's dog, but he can show more genuine interest in absolutely nothing that you can imagine, and nothing out of the ordinary run of things in city streets is too small to claim his attention. He will let his dinner get cold any day to watch a man sitting on the head of a fallen horse or to stare into a hardware store window where some demonstrator is busily engaged whittling on a stick of cordwood with a razor.

He will send the shoeing vendor on his way before he has got his foot fairly inside the threshold of the office door, but will stop upon the street at any time to listen to the remarks of another vendor, who is wildly demonstrating a patent collar button.

He is amused as a child with a new toy when he can come across a broken-down ice wagon or watch a man laying gold letters upon a store window.

He will turn himself inside out to get a glimpse of a picture carried under the arm of some citizen, which picture he would never glance at were it hung in some prominent place.

Many a visitor to a city has been badly stung by the simple tastes of the natives in the matter of something exciting. A stranger, coming up one of the main thoroughfares and seeing a crowd of a couple of hundred people, naturally looks for some sort of a catastrophe, and after working his way to the center of the crowd to see them gazing at some new-fangled motor cycle, or watching a laborer ascending from a manhole, is naturally chagrined.

Doctors Want a National Leprosaria

NEW YORK.—Nine lepers, inmates of institutions in the vicinity of this city, were exhibited the other night for public examination at a gathering of physicians in the Academy of Medicine. One of the patients, a Chinaman, was from Paterson, N. J.; two were from Brooklyn, two from the city hospital, three from the skin and cancer hospital. The purpose of exhibiting the lepers is stated to be the beginning of an effort "to educate the public away from the hysterical attitude it has heretofore shown whenever the presence of a leper becomes a matter of general knowledge."

It was declared that the attitude of the people in general toward lepers has not in the least advanced since the middle ages, and that, as a result, many lepers, in fear and terror, conceal the fact that they are suffering from the disease instead of applying for and receiving humane and intelligent treatment. There are at present 25 cases of leprosy under treatment in New York and vicinity. Many of these patients, it is said, make occasional visits to the shopping district, to banks, or to hospitals, riding openly in trams, street cars and ferry boats.

Six physicians from different parts of the United States and the American colonial possessions discussed leprosy at the meeting, and all agreed that in New York city there is no likelihood of infection. They declare in favor of a national leprosaria, with stations in Florida and San Francisco, urging in favor of such an institution that it was impracticable for the states to take action on account of the small number of cases in each state and it was unfair from a national standpoint to allow one state to drive its lepers across the border into other states. There are now on record, it was asserted, 278 cases in the United States, 178 of them being men and 102 women. Five seaboard states contain almost all of the recorded cases, New York, South Carolina, Florida, California and Massachusetts leading in the order named.

Dr. Charles W. Duval of Tulane university, New Orleans, described his experiments in segregating the bacilli of the disease and his final success in propagating the germs outside of the human body.

Reno Divorce Colony Is Threatened

RENO, NEV.—One of Nevada's chief industries—the granting of divorce while you wait—is in danger of destruction because the gamblers of the state have been put out of business. The legislature will be asked to repeal the law that makes the gamblers go to work, and, if this cannot be accomplished, a bill will be introduced amending the present divorce law and making it as hard to get a divorce here as it is in other states.

Under the present law six months' residence is all that is required, and the divorce colony, all of them good spenders and unemployed while here waiting for the time to tell the court about matrimonial troubles, are a fine source of income.

Not even the most enthusiastic Nevada believes that these well-to-do, fashionable people of the east come out here because they like the climate, scenery or residents. They come because it offers the shortest route by half of any that leads from matrimony.

In any other state a year's residence is required and Reno is preferred by those in a hurry to living a year under more congenial surroundings.

It is expected that an effort will be made to effect a compromise with those who insist upon this action as retaliation for driving the gambling houses out of the state.

Southern counties are clamoring for the raising of the gambling lid and say they cannot get along without the gambling houses to attract men to town. Reno and Carson City, where the divorce business is liveliest, are determined there shall be no tinkering with the divorce laws. The hotel men,ivery men and lawyers are panic-stricken at the prospect of losing business from the colony of women and men who have nothing to do during the six months they are here but spend money.

Mules Run Away With Blazing Cotton

GUTHRIE, OKLA.—With lint cotton selling at $75 a bale, thefts of cotton are frequent in Oklahoma. A bale is rolled from a car into the weeds, or taken from a farmer's barn into his field, and at night the thieves return with a wagon and team and haul the cotton to a nearby town, where it finds ready sale.

Two bales of cotton were found in a ravine at the roadside near Guthrie. The fact was reported to the sheriff, who placed night guards to arrest the persons that came for the cotton. Shortly after midnight three men approached a bale and began rolling it down the highway. When the thieves were commanded to halt, under arrest, they fed and the officers opened fire. One of the thieves, all negroes, was captured, the others escaping.

News of the arrest was telephoned to the sheriff, who got out of bed and started for the scene. The two fugitives had returned with a wagon, and were loading in the cotton when they were surprised and arrested by the sheriff. The other officers came up, and the three captives were handcuffed and put into their wagons. On the way to town one of the negroes stepped on his gun, concealed at the bottom of the wagon, and it exploded, the bullet narrowly missing one of the mules ahead, and the mules ran away.

By the time they were stopped the bale of cotton was on fire, and a strong wind was blowing, with no water near. It was decided to make a fast drive to town, and call out the fire department. The faster the mules ran the higher burned the blazing cotton, scorching one of the negroes. The wagon next caught fire. The fire department put out the flames, but the cotton was destroyed and the wagon ruined.

In 1623, a copy of Shakespeare sold for $5. In 1886 Oliver Wendell Holmes was offered this same book for $4,000. But had $5 been put out at compound interest (4 per cent.) in 1623, it would have amounted in 1886 to $160,000.

An Excursion to Cuba for 10c.

The museum car "Cuba on Wheels" which represents the Department of Agriculture, Industry & Commerce of the Cuban Government, and has been en route since the St. Louis Fair, being also an exhibit at Jamestown, and various other Expositions, will be on exhibition in Portales Friday and Saturday, April 7 and 8, at the Santa Fe depot. The car will be open to visitors daily from 10 o'clock morning to 10 at night. Admission (to help defray expenses en route) 10c. School classes with teachers 5c. Remember, you will see the real articles from Cuba in this Car. It is in no way a "land car," but an Exposition exhibit from a foreign country and the chance of a lifetime to "visit Cuba" without crossing the water. The Agricultural and Manufacturing exhibits interest business men, the handwork of Cuban women, and odd exhibits, such as the $100 fan, etc., entertain ladies, while the entire exhibit is educational for school children, and the Cuban monkey and alligator interest the little folks. The relics from the wrecked Battleship Maine, are, of course interesting to everyone.

Not the largest but the best at the lowest prices is the combination offered in the grocery, feed and sale stables of E. S. Boucher. Try it and be convinced.

I'D RATHER BE A PRINTER.

By W. ALLEN HELLER.
I'd rather be a printer,
With ink spots in my hair,
Than to be a wealthy miser
With money everywhere.
I'd rather be an editor,
And sit up late at night
Writing up a story
For the paper Friday night
Than to be a dazzling lawyer,
Whose thoughts must needs run high,
For 'tis he who saves the criminal
From being doomed to die.
I'd rather be a printer,
And a stickin' type all day,
Than to be a happy farmer
In the field a pitchin' hay.
I'd rather be a printer
And a mover of the press,
Than to be a pious preacher
With a thousand souls to bless.
I'd rather be an editor
And spread the news abroad
Of a crooked politician Whose wealth was gained by fraud.
Yes, I'd rather be a printer
And an editor, by Joe,
Than to be an ugly rascal
With my pockets full of dough.
Whether Portales gets an ice manufacturing plant this season or not is a matter of indifferent concern to those who need ice.
It is sufficient to know that Connally Coal Co. can supply you with any quantity on call. Delivered to any part of the city.

The Killing at Kenna.

William Zumwalt and his brother, A. Zumwalt shot and killed Thomas and Edward Hall, brothers, Sunday morning five miles northwest of Kenna in Chaves county. Trouble had been brewing for several days and all four were armed with six-shooters. All were stockmen. The Zumwalts went into Kenna and surrendered, and Sheriff C. L. Ballard was notified and left with Justice of the Peace M. W. Witt and Prosecuting Attorney L. O. Fullen to hold the inquest and preliminary hearing. R. T. McClung went up also as Associated Press correspondent.

The dead Hall brothers fell in a herd of 500 cattle that was under the supervision of William Zumwalt and was the property of Dee R. Harkey, of Carlsbad. Thomas Hall was riddled with bullets, being shot five times in the legs and through the body. His brother, Edward, received one fatal shot, in the side waist, through and through.

It is said the only witness was a nester boy. W. A. Bryant, the liveryman, brought the bodies into Kenna and placed them in Frick's store.

Reports say that Will Zumwalt had an automatic forty-one and his brother a .45, Thomas Hall a .38 and his brother Edward a .45. There were five shots out of the .38 and one empty chamber in Edward Hall's revolver, but no exploded shell, showing that the dead man had not fired any shots. The plea of the Zumwalt brothers will be self defense.—Roswell Record.

Fire at Elida Sunday.

The feed store of Jim Taylor, on the public square at Elida, was destroyed by fire which originated in a defective flue at one o'clock Sunday morning. The loss was probably $2,000 on building and stock, with no insurance. This was the last frame building on the public square at Elida, all those that were burned last summer having been replaced with concrete buildings. It was one of the pioneer buildings of the town.—Roswell Record.

The "Children" Entertained.

"Backward, turn backward, Oh, Time, in thy flight, Make me a child again Just for tonight!"

On Tuesday evening, March 28, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Williams entertained the "children" of the town for their "small" son Earle and his "little" friends, Flora Minnie (Miss Cooper) and Maud Evangeline (Miss Brandon), at their beautiful and hospitable home in south Portales.

The childish costumes of the arriving guests, some very becoming, brought forth peals of laughter or showers of compliments, and soon all were busily playing games of their childhood such as marbles, snap, wink 'em, etc., informally addressing each the other by their given names.

Prizes (a little doll for the girl, and a Buster Brown belt with sword and scabbard attached for the boy) were given to the "best" boy and girl, the judges deciding in favor of Mr. Flick and Miss Foglesong. Miss Foglesong responded to the persistent call of, "Speech! Speech!" with an amusing reading in which she mimicked to perfection a child "ketchin' a whippin'."

Several flashlight pictures were taken of the crowd.

Animal shaped and big round cookies, and stick candy were served before the "children" left which was just in time for their mamma's to tuck them snugly in bed before the lights went out.

Others present were:—Misses Roberta Bryant, Lula Anderson, Cornie Smith, Jim Rowland, Jim Dobbs, Bonnie and Minnie Freeman, Helen and Hazel Keightley, Bula and Georgia Stewart, Ruby Huffman, Ora Kuykendall, Marguerite Patterson, Edna Carter, Nannie and Edna Farmer, Nannie Osborn, Nettie Chesher, Sara Monroe. William C. Stanford Dead.

William C. Stanford aged 80 years, 9 months and 8 days, died at his residence 9 miles southeast of Portales March 2, 1911. Mr. Stanford had been feeling unwell for quite a length of time, but was never bedfast, in fact he was walking about the place until within a few minutes of his death. He leaves a wife, two sons and one daughter, besides a host of relatives and friends to mourn his sudden demise. The funeral and burial services were held at Elida cemetery March 4th at 3 p. m.

William C. Stanford, son of Elijah and Nancy Stanford was born June 24th 1830 in Marion county Alabama (now Lamar county). When 13 years of age he moved to Tontotos county, Miss. In 1946 at the age of 16 years he volunteered in Captain Bradford's company to go to Mexico, the term of service required was only 31 days. He moved to Rusk county, Texas in 1849 in which county he resided until 1872 when he moved to Grayson county, Texas and from there in 1901 to Hale county, Texas. He moved to New Mexico four years ago.

In the democracy of the dead, all men at last are equal. There is neither rank, station nor prerogative in the republic of the grave. The poor man is as rich as the richest, and the rich man poor as the pauper; the invalid needs no physician, and the laborer rests from unrequited toil. Here at last is Nature's final decree in equality. The mightiest captian succumbs to the invincible adversary who disarms alike the victor and the vanquished.

J. C. DAVIS.

Note of Thanks.

I wish to express my heartfelt thanks to my many friends and neighbors for their various acts of kindness, and for their kindly assistance during my late bereavement in the death of my husband, Mrs. Sarah Stanford.

Portales Socialists Protest.

(PUBLISHED BY REQUEST.)

At a meeting of citizens of Portales and vicinity which convened in the Armory building on March 18, the following resolution was passed:

Whereas the American army is being mobilized in Texas at great expense to the public and, as we believe, against the popular will of the American people, and where, as we believe, the fight in Mexico is a struggle of patriots against a tyrannical and despotic administration, and believing that there can be no permanent peace in Mexico until its people shall establish a mere just and liberal government for themselves; and further believing that the mobilization of the army on the Mexican border is more in accord with the interest of some dozens of American millionaires rather than it is in accord with some dozens of millions of American people; and as a token of our loyalty to the interests of the working class of the world in its international struggle for emancipation, we submit the following resolution: Be it resolved that we this day enter one protest against the present concentration of the army on the Mexican border.

Artesia Booster Visited Portales.

Gayle Talbot of Artesia spent a Sunday in Portales with his brother-in-law, Milton Brown, and while here looked over the irrigation plant and saw some of its fruits in the impetus which has been given this section since its installation. Mr. Talbot is a booster of several years residence in the Pecos Valley, having been connected for the greater part of this time with the Advocate at Artesia. He said that it appeared to him that the people little appreciated the immense advantages which could be derived from the development of our lands under irrigation for, as he pointed out, there is no better soil anywhere than right here and the water problem was settled beyond the peradventure of a doubt. He said that it was highly important that the people who own these lands endeavor to make a demonstration of the productivity of their soil at once, for this was the surest means of attracting those who contemplated investments in a newly developed section. Portales would like to conscript Mr. Talbot for a few years and press him into service as a booster.

Plenty of Water Says McGill.

"We have had lots of rain and snow over in eastern New Mexico and expect a prosperous season," said Judge W. R. McGill, of La Lande, N. M., in this city yesterday. Judge McGill, who is one of the old Democratic warriors of that part of New Mexico, says that conditions generally are very satisfactory, the ground is soaked down deep and the farmers believe prosperity is sure this year.

The judge still cherishes the idea that New Mexico is going to be a rock-ribbed Democratic state. "Over in my country most of us are from Texas, where you have to put it in our hand," said Judge McGill, "and there are more of the same brand of Democrats coming in all the time. The Republicans may win out in the first round under statehood, but New Mexico is going to be a Democratic state as sure as guns. Mark my word."—Albuquerque Journal.
