SUGAR BEETS WILL BE TRIED

Out in Portales Valley this Year and, if Successful, Gigantic Beet Sugar Refineries Will be Erected Next Year.

Mr. Farmer, Its Up to You to Play Up to the Warm Side of this Sugar Beet Proposition. Get Busy Now.

A matter of more than passing interest to the people of the Portales Valley was the receipt of a car load of sugar beet seed and implements at the local freight office a fortnight ago. The coming of these, the first requirement looking toward the launch of the establishment of the beet sugar industry in the Portales Valley, carries with it a weight of evidence which far exceeds mere words. In fact, it is but visible evidence that the coming period, which is said to precede all great movements, has passed, as far as the actual operations can supply such credence. This statement is not designed to depreciate the value of the "talking period" in the inception of the beet industry in this section, for there must first needs to be the period of planning, the formulation of plans, or the laying of the foundation of the superstructure from which is to emerge the completed project, so to speak. And without the counting of the cost in an element which should be considered in this, as in all great movements and enterprises.

Let us accept the above premises and deduce some facts which are clearly apparent and which should make for our encouragement in this sugar beet project which has been launched by the Garden City beet sugar refinery. Its representative, Mr. F. A. Gillespie. In the first place these people want a new virgin acreage for the culture of beets for their factory, as do all the refineries, that matter, operating in the United States. This is, in the first place, made necessary by the falling away of the acreage where plants are maintained, this decrease in the acreage which has heretofore been grown to beets not being any fault of the industry to make dividends for the grower and the manufacturer of sugar, but simply because the lands have prospered to owners to such an extent that they are now feeling as gay as a pig on Emancipation day and are thinking of growing products which are commensurate with their means. It is needless to remark here and now, that Portales Valley lands have not yet reached the stage of development, but it is not impossible, in fact, it is highly probable, that such a thing will be hailed, even in this section, not many years hence. However, this may be, it is a well known fact that we are taking our first steps in the development of the lands and, for that reason, we should all the more encourage the industry which is fraught with tidings of peace and good will from other sections where the experimental period has resolved itself into known facts.

It will be noticed that the first steps taken by these people was the securing of sufficient land in the valley on which to really ascertain if sugar beets could be successfully grown here. True, it is a matter of common belief among our people that they can be produced here in our soils and, in fact, that nature designed our rich chocolate loam for the culture of sugar beets, but the crucial test for the sugar content of the specimens which we have produced at hap-hazard has never been thoroughly made. We must first ascertain beyond the peradventure of a doubt, if beets can be produced here which will analyze the desired saccharine matter, both as a matter of protection to the prospective grower as well as the manufacturers. If we cannot grow beets, it would be foolish to establish the industry, with all its trimmings, in our community, from a grower's standpoint. This would be, perhaps, doubly disastrous to the manufacturer who would install a million dollar plant here in advance of the knowledge that beets could be successfully grown in the field. So then it may be an accepted fact that these people are pursuing the logical course in initiating the enterprise and our farmers, who have the water for their lands, should not hesitate to avail themselves of all the knowledge they can possibly acquire to make the test this year with the well defined purpose of encouraging the process, not only for what it may mean to this section this good year, but for what the experiment holds out for the future.

In the first place the man who makes a test of this crop this year can be assured of the fact that if it is demonstrated that beets can be successfully grown in the valley, there will be no speculation about the matter of getting a factory right here on the ground to take care of the output next year. This is as reasonably certain as the certainty that people require sugar in their coffee and in their toddy. Another feature in connection with this project is the absolute responsibility of the people behind it. They are men of affairs; an association of capitalists who are noted for their ability to do things. They are now successfully operating beet sugar factories in other sections of the United States, and are reaching out after more territory. In other words, these Garden City people can be depended upon to do just exactly as they promise. If they say that they will build a factory after it has been demonstrated that beets can be grown in the valley, it is reasonably certain that a factory will be built.

This waiting period, then, cannot be otherwise construed than the part of wisdom of people who have reckoned the cost of their house before they constructed it, and are not content until they sound the solid rock below the shifting sands of speculation. Mr. Farmer, it's up to you! Get all there is to be had in this demonstration. It is purely a matter of using the opportunity which has been presented and which may contain multiplied blessings for the future. Give the experiment the glad hand and every mother's son will crown you for the effort.

Mollie Bailey's Show Coming.

The town is billed for the appearance of Mollie Bailey's show next Monday. This makes the second appearance of the tent show which made Texas famous, (according to the small boy's idea of fame) as Mrs. Bailey was only prevailed upon by her sons to give New Mexico a try out last year. The itinerary was made, much to the satisfaction of the management, and Portales may now count herself on the map for the annual visit of this wholesome little show. The Herald writer has a tender place in his heart for the Mollie Bailey show for, as a Texas lad he was never denied a seat in the little tent, even if he had spent his quarter for candy instead of buying a ticket. If we must have shows for our amusement and to separate us from our quarters we know of no better entertainment afforded for the money than Mollie Bailey is capable of putting on.

Miss Margaret Schweickhard left Friday for Hutchinson, Kansas, to accept a position in the Stewart Hospital as nurse.

Attorney W. F. Schenck, of Lubbock, Texas, was a business visitor in Portales Thursday and Friday of last week.

OUR IRRIGATION PROJECT A DANDY

Says U. G. Merrill, an Expert from Mabton, Washington, Where He Owns a Large Irrigated Farm.

He Thinks the Corrugated System of Getting the Water on the Land is the Most Practical Method.

U. G. Merrill, of Mabton, Washington, brother of Santa Fe Agent W. S. Merrill, arrived in Portales on Friday of last week, and will remain here visiting with his brother for some time. The visit of Mr. Merrill with his brother, at this time, will probably mean more to W. S. than the delights of social intercourse and the renewing of boyhood memories, for, in addition to this pleasure, the latter will be the benefactor of some first-hand knowledge in the gentle art of irrigation. The Washington brother is an experienced irrigator from a section of that state where irrigation has been placed on an exact and scientific basis, and his fund of knowledge and experience will be largely drawn on by W. S., who is known to have troubles other than being almost the whole show in a Santa Fe station. The Portales brother owns a splendid tract of irrigated land out west of town with W. T. Jackson, and the two have already made a showing that is worth while for beginners in irrigation methods.

Mr. U. G. Merrill is fairly carried away with conditions here and he says that we have the opportunities in the Portales Valley for the ideal irrigation development. Of course he could not but be impressed with the ideally smooth land which stretches out like a great floor in this broad expanse of irrigable possibilities, albeit, we had not yet approached the high degree of perfection in the knowledge of just how and when to apply the water by methods which will, at once, conserve the moisture and, at the same time, furnish the desired quantity for plant life, as had been attained in his home state by long years of experience. In the district where Mr. Merrill comes from, for example, the land is more or less hilly and rolling though, of course, not as precipitous as the farm on which Mark Twain had some experiences. In the Portales Valley, however, the land is level and smooth, requiring little, if any, work in leveling, and the turf is easily broken with a good pony team.

In speaking of our irrigation system Mr. Merrill said that it was, the finest proposition he had ever seen. That it would only require about one-third as much water here to produce crops as was necessary to obtain the same result where he came from. He also stated that he had some investments under the Portales project, of which he was very proud and which he will develop to the highest state of productiveness.

It will be a source of profit to our farmers to converse with Mr. Merrill on the topic of irrigation, as it is always a pleasure to talk with a man on most any intelligent line of thought when he happens to know what he is talking about. He will remain here for some time putting his brother's land in order, and the valley is sure to profit by the plans which he will inaugurate for the future development of this tract of land.

S. A. Morrison's Pumping Plant.

The pumping plant on S. A. Morrison's place, just west of Portales, is now completed and in operation, and has proved the greatest success, in the way of an individual irrigation system, of anything in the valley. The plant consists of a twenty-five horse power solar oil engine, of the Fairbanks-Morse make, and a six inch Gould centrifugal pump. The pump is submerged thus avoiding the trouble of priming every time you want to use it. The connection from the engine to the pump is made by means of a perpendicular shaft extending from the pump to the surface of the ground, where it is equipped with a pulley and supplied with power by an eight inch belt from the engine.

There being no solar oil in town at this time, the engine was put to work with a mixture of coal oil, gasoline and water and, even with this kind of a handicap, it performed its part of the work in a highly satisfactory manner. The pump, apparently, was no load, at all, for this matchless machine and, probably, it would have pulled twice the load without any apparent extra effort.

The well was a new one and not developed, consequently, it is difficult to predict just how much water this plant will put above the ground, but it is safe to say not less than twelve to fifteen hundred gallons per minute. The discharge pipe is a six inch affair turned horizontally at the top with an elbow, and the water not only filled this pipe but it also showed force in its expulsion. In this preliminary test, the output was between eight and nine hundred gallons per minute. Mr. Morrison had not anticipated the equipment furnishing any such volume of water at the start, and his ditches were inadequate to carry off the miniature Mississippi which suddenly sprang into existence with the starting of the machinery and, though three or four men worked industriously to keep this rivulet within its banks, their efforts were unavailing and the road and countryside were soon flooded.

This initial test has thoroughly demonstrated the superiority of the Fairbanks-Morse solar oil engine and the Gould pump over all gasoline, coal oil or other oil burning pumping machinery. Mr. Blankenship, resident agent for this equipment, says that he is now prepared to make very attractive propositions to the owners of dry land in the shallow water belt.

A. A. Williams has gone to Roswell where he has secured work at the builder's trade.

Notice of Change.

The Herald Printing company this week makes a change in the personnel of its staff and ownership, H. B. Ryther acquiring the interest heretofore controlled by E. P. Alldredge. This change has been made desirable from the fact that Mr. Alldredge has assumed duties which require his undivided attention in other lines of endeavor, thus presenting to Mr. Ryther the opportunity to again be associated with the paper whose policies he, at one time in the years gone by, directed. Mr. Ryther is so well known to people of Portales that any introduction on our part would be superfluous but, suffice to say, that the management of the Herald appreciates the addition of his services to the newspaper and mechanical duties, which had become onerous through the loss of Mr. Alldredge's personal attention, and it would only serve as a mild boost for the enterprise to assume that the paper's success will be continuous and even more permanent than otherwise. It is a matter of common knowledge that Mr. Ryther is a mechanic of pronounced ability and that he wields a stylus peculiarly his own.

It is appropriate in this connection to say that, in the retirement of Mr. Alldredge, the management suffers an irreparable loss in many particulars, and that our association with him has been one of both pleasure and profit. He is the only preacher we ever knew who could earn his salt in a print shop, which is but another way to accredit the man with a versatility which is wholesome and a delight in this life which, sometimes, tends to monotony. He has made his quota of mistakes, of course, but there is not an unbiased citizen of Portales who can conscientiously say that his connection with the Herald has not proven a benediction to the best interests of the town. So, with feeling the gain, in some particulars, in this change, we cannot but, also, express our appreciation of the manly and princely partner who is to give place to another.

Shall We Celebrate?

L. W. Ficus, manager of the Portales Concert Band, is quite anxious that Portales citizens get busy on some plan of a Fourth of July celebration at once or else decide that they will let Independence Day pass by without their demonstration as the band boys are anxious to engage their services either locally or abroad for the occasion. Of course they prefer to remain at home and furnish the patriotic, soul-stirring melodies of the great National Day, but if Portales citizens do not intend to observe the day it would be best to notify the boys at once so that they may accept an engagement in some of the nearby towns which have already signified their desire and purpose to put on a grand celebration. Lubbock, Texas, is out with her announcement of a great gala day and has already secured low railroad rates for the occasion. It is time to get busy so that we may either engage our home band or else release them from any obligation in the matter.

The band boys purpose to have their uniforms by the time the Fourth rolls around and they would certainly be pleased, we are sure, to make the display of their natty costumes and joy music at home rather than go among strangers. Get busy!

A FIVE O'CLOCK LUNCHEON

Mrs. Sam J. Nixon entertained a small party of ladies on last Friday in that delightful manner which is peculiarly and altogether her own. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion in roses, than which there is nothing more beautiful, more fragrant or more festive. Interesting games and music added greatly to the pleasure of the affair and at five o'clock the following elaborate 4-course luncheon was served:

Fruit Cocktail Mint Jelly
Chicken Croquettes Nut Bread Brown Bread
Tomato Salad Olives Mayonnaise
Pineapple Sherbet Almonds
Black Coffee Orange Straws Cake Marguerites

The dining table was resplendent in handsome cut glass service and exquisite china. A mass of fullbloom roses formed the center decoration, while at each plate was placed a single perfect long stemmed rose bud, the favors of the occasion.

Those enjoying Mrs. Nixon's hospitality were Mesdames A. T. Monroe, Ed. J. Neer, Milton Brown, S. Edwin Ward and T. G. Lomax.

O. U. T. F. C.!!

It is our understanding that "T. F. C." has been interpreted by some to mean "TAKE FIRST CHANCE." Be that as it may and INTENDED as it may, it is very evident that the T. F. C. girls not only take the first chance, but jump at every chance to have a little fun. Last Tuesday night their merry-making spirit would not be suppressed and they went forth in quest of one more good time. The result was what might be termed a surprise party given at the home of Miss Cornie Smith to Miss Jim Rowland as a kind of "starter off" on her visit to St. Louis. The affair was indeed a surprise to Miss Rowland who was spending the evening with Miss Smith when the PARTY arrived. For lack of a happier expression, perhaps the word "gay" will in a small measure convey some idea of the jolly good time that followed. About the most mentionable stunt was a general candy making and the evening hours passed off "sweetly" and altogether too suddenly.

On Saturday night the T. F. C.'s held a business meeting with Miss Edna Farmer at which time Miss Mabel Martin was taken in to the order to fill the vacancy occasioned by the marriage of Mrs. Prue Connally (nee Harris).

O. S. G. MEETING.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy have a way of judiciously mixing business with pleasure in a manner that is altogether admirable. On Tuesday, May 10th, the Society met with Mrs. W. I. Luikart. After the usual business of the order was disposed of, the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to a pleasant social round, the most delightful feature of the occasion being the dainty pineapple ice and wafers with which the hostess refreshed the ladies. The guests of the afternoon were Mesdames Molinari, Larson, and Fritts, of Kansas City.

The next regular meeting of the Daughters will be held on Tuesday, May 30th, at the home of Mrs. T. J. Molinari, who, tho' not a member of this society, has graciously extended to them this highly appreciated invitation.

O. K. A.'s ENTERTAINED.

On Friday afternoon Miss Fannie Williamson was hostess for the B. K. A. Club, which probably means "Boys Keep Away," as this is strictly a Girl's Sewing Society. Misses Culberson, Connally and Stewart were voted upon and accepted as new members and the afternoon was very profitably spent in embroidery work of various and beautiful designs. Miss Williamson served strawberries, whipped cream and nabiscoes and the society adjourned to meet the following Friday with Miss Irene Smith. The young ladies of this little club should be complimented upon and encouraged in this wholesome, beneficial and pleasant manner of spending one afternoon out of each week.

THE YOUNGER SET

Miss Polly Monroe entertained the younger set in her bright and charming manner last Saturday night. Cards and dancing, songs and laughter sped the merry hours along, while delicious fruit punch from time to time was served to regale the already ardent spirits of the merry-makers.

Again on Monday evening the Williamson parlors were thrown open for dancing to these same young people, who are firm believers in the theory that a person can never get too much of a good thing. Now speaking of the social "whirl", the Portales younger set is clearly in the "swim" however mixed and "unclear" that metaphor may be.

Dobbs makes more lemonades and better ones than ever before.

Miss Maud Brandon returned home yesterday from a month's stay at Canyon City, Texas and resumed her duties at the Herald office.

Miss Jim Rowland left Saturday for her old home at Nocona, Texas, and from there will go to Missouri, where she will visit for some two months.

Dr. W. T. Murphy will leave Friday in his auto for a summer's outing in the mountains. He will go from here to Colorado Springs via Raton.

Mrs. R. J. Hand who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jeff Hightower, for the past two months, left Tuesday for her home at Mineral Wells, Texas.

The ladies of the Christian church gave an ice-cream supper in the Hardy building Tuesday afternoon and evening which was a success in every way.

W. O. Dunlap immigration booster and railway promoter, left Tuesday for the East where he will do some stunts in the boosting art for the Portales Valley.

E. W. Reagan and wife of Clovis, came down Tuesday and will visit B. J. Reagan and family. The two Reagans are brothers and they look like chips off the same block.

Go to Dobbs' Confectionery for your cold drinks. Before the show or after the show—always ready to serve. And say, those lemonades are fine—in fact they have made Dobbs famous.

Joe Beasley, Bent Clayton, G. M. Williamson and M. S. Servis spent last week in Roswell in attendance at court in the case of the Territory vs. Zumwalt Bros. for the killing of the Hall brothers.

Send or order your clothes to be sent to the Walter Farmer clothes cleaning and pressing parlors for prompt service. Every garment turned out is a standing advertisement of the merit of my work.

The cemetery committee desires to announce that May 30th will be observed as Decoration day. It is the request of this committee that all persons who have relatives buried here are especially requested to come and identify their graves. It is very important that this request be complied with. A program has been arranged for the afternoon at 2 o'clock, after which the graves will be decorated.

School Board Elect Teachers.

The school board composed of A. J. Smith, chairman, Inda Humphrey, clerk, and Will Smith have made a selection of some of the teachers to complete the faculty for the coming term, the election up to date being as follows: R. A. Deen, superintendent and principal; O. S. Strickland, 9th and 10th grades; Miss Pearl Hutchinson, 8th grade; Miss Grace Foglesong, 7th grade; Miss Willie Leahy, 3rd grade; Miss Lula Anderson, 2nd grade; and Miss Ora Kuykendall, 1st or primary grade. All of these selections have not as yet been confirmed by the acceptance of the teachers, only some three of the number making definite engagement with the board. It will be seen from the selections so made and the grades to which they will be assigned in the event acceptance is made that the 4th, 5th and 6th grades will yet remain to be supplied and some other changes in the arrangement may also take place. For example the board anticipates combining two grades in probably two instances which they hope will save the salaries of two teachers, thereby giving a longer term by one to two months or more. This expectation is further based on the presumption that the assessed valuation of properties which pay taxes for the maintenance of school in this district for the year 1911 will equal that of the year just passed.

Another noteworthy fact in connection with the selection of teachers for this year is the policy of the board to make their choice from among the capable teachers of our own county where possible as for example the two gentlemen who are to shoulder the responsibility for the management and the higher studies of the school, as well as the capable young ladies of the list who are thoroughly identified with the educational interests of the town and county. The Herald believes that we are going to have a good term of school for '11-'12.

That Rabbit Drive.

On last Friday evening a very successful and highly amusing rabbit drive was pulled off by about eighteen or twenty of the hunting fraternity of Portales.

The movement was inaugurated by Dr. L. R. Hough and the invitation to participate was extended to all. The party were taken to the scene of slaughter, about three miles east of town, in autos and buggies at about 4 o'clock p. m. and shortly thereafter the annihilation of the "house of Bunny" was commenced. The hunters were armed with rifles and shot guns of automatic, pump and double barreled varieties. The total in killed was over one hundred and the wounded and maimed reached an aggregate unimag-inable.

Revival At Christian Church

The local congregation of the Central Christian church are making ready for a revival effort to commence next Sunday morning, the Rev. F. F. Grim to conduct the meetings. There will be morning and evening services and the song service will be a feature of the meeting. Members and friends of the congregation solicit the co-operation of the christian people of the town in these meetings and request the Herald to so announce.

R. A. Larson, of the firm of Trout & Larson, realty and insurance agents, left Tuesday for Springdale, Ark., to look after some business matters. He will return home in about a week.

To every customer buying $5.00 worth of dry goods for cash during our sale, will be presented with a beautiful Picture or a nice piece of china.—Joyce-Fruit Co.

Brown-Wagon nuptials.

At the residence of the groom's brother, City Marshal Ed. Brown, Sunday afternoon, at three o'clock, Mr. Bert E. Brown of Arch and Miss Lettie Estell Wagon of Givens were united in the bonds of holy wedlock, Mr. E. P. Alldredge officiating. The wedding came as surprise to all concerned, for although the young people have lived in their respective communities for some three years and are of the most highly respected families, neither they themselves nor any of their people expected to bring off the wedding this early. But the driving was good toward Portales and they kept coming and on securing the proper papers, were married in the presence of quite a number of their admiring friends who offered them many hearty congratulations. Mr. Brown, or better still "Bert" has been engaged on the Yellow House L.F.D. ranch for some time and will likely take regular work with these people soon again. The Herald extends its hearty wishes to the splendid young people.

J. O. Wood a Portales Citizen.

J. O. Wood, of La Lande, has been in Portales the past few days and, while here, negotiated for the Farmer boarding house and will conduct the same, beginning about the first of July. Some important changes are to be made in the building in the nature of additions, which will be calculated to improve the service of the house under the new management. Some five more rooms will be added and the dining room will be considerably enlarged. Mr. Wood will remain here and direct the work pending the time when he shall take full charge of the house. It is sufficient introduction and recommendation of Mr. Wood to Portales people to say that he is a Democrat of the galvanized type and has "fit and bled" in many noted campaigns in the county with the distinction of having, in most every instance, been on the right side though, perchance, his cause did not always receive the crown of victory in the little item of votes. The Herald welcomes this addition to the citizenship of Portales.

An Example Of Pioneer Grit.

Mrs. Florence J. Kinman, who owns a place some 13 miles southeast of Portales, made one of her regular visits to town Monday. Nothing startling in this announcement, perhaps, but when it's stated that Mrs. Kinman made the journey in 24 hours by the pedestrian route and has 62 years of age to her credit, it will at least occur to those who do not pose as a Weston that this is some foot work itself. This is but one example of the determination of the woman, for she cultivates some 40 acres of land on her place with a hoe, the neighbors coming in occasionally to do the plowing. Mrs. Kinman comes to Portales regularly by foot travel and easily makes the trip from and to her place in a day.

Prof. R. F. Asplund, assistant territorial superintendent, spent yesterday in Portales looking after educational matters and while here addressed the Woman's Club in the afternoon at the Commercial Club rooms and a mixed audience at 7:30 from the band stand at the court house. This audience was also addressed by Maude L. Greene, the chalk-talker of the national W. C. T. U. The Portales Concert band furnished music for the evening.

To every customer buying $10 worth of groceries for cash during our sale will be presented with a beautiful Picture or a nice piece of china.—Joyce-Fruit Co.

Attorney W. A. Gillenwater went over to Albuquerque Monday to attend to some legal matters.

An Ideal Pumping Plant

R. G. Bryant, secretary of the Portales Commercial Club is "ticked to death" at the manner in which his pumping plant is working out and had the Herald man to inspect the system on Monday. He has installed a 6-horse power Fairbanks-Morse engine with a 2-inch centrifugal pump and the way the water spouts out of the 3-inch discharge pipe is calculated to keep R. G. busy at odd times making ditches and other incidentals about a model irrigated farm. Mr. Bryant has what is familiarly known as the Wilsford place in the southeast part of the town and is an ideal spot for a city man who wants to combine the suburban pleasures with the strenuous life of the town. He will put his acreage in truck and alfalfa and probably will grow some two acres of sugar beets as an experiment, as it will afford easy access to town people who are at present enthused over the culture of this crop. The people of Portales would do well to go down to this place and look at the plant in operation as it is really a wonder how much water can be developed with this size equipment.

J. P. Stone enlarges the list of Portales citizens who are to possess an automobile as this gentleman only last week purchased the handsome touring car recently brought here and owned by C. H. Rittehouse. Mr. Stone will use the machine for making joy-rides and hurry-up trips to his ranching properties in Texas. This acquisition on the part of Mr. Stone guarantees the Herald man one more vehicle in which to ride when he wants to see the sights about the Portales Valley.

J. D. McGee, who lives near Inez, was married to Mrs. Etta Morgan last Friday afternoon, Rev. Calloway performing the ceremony. Mrs. Morgan joined Mr. McGee at the Pecos Valley Hotel in Portales where they were married. The couple is not new to the matrimonial life, both parties having been united by marital bonds in their past. They will make Roosevelt county their home.

Moody & Sweazea have leased the room adjoining the Hardy Hardware store and will move their stock of dry goods into it about the first of the month. Watch the Herald for their announcements.

Cabbage, tomato and sweet potato plants now ready. Clovis Green House, Phone 242, Box 29, Clovis, N. M. 4-27-4t

The New Superintendent's Assistant

The newly elected superintendent of the Portales school who is proprietor of the Clovernook Stock Farm at Delphos, is fortunate in the arrival of an assistant and pedagogue at his home in the person of a talented young baby girl. It does however impress Mr. Deen's friends with a feeling of his genuine misfortune in his having been called to the strenuous life of directing a large school when he could have pursued the even tenor of his way out on the Clovernook farm where he could mingle with those splendid saddle and harness horses, high grade milk cows, poland chickens and white game chickens in which he takes such a keen delight and have the family soon crowned by the presence of that new baby girl. But some people don't seem to appreciate a good thing when they have it in their possession.

Mrs. C. E. Fritts, of Kansas City, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. T. J. Molinari, for the past two weeks, left Monday for her home in response to a message that her husband was quite sick. Her visit was cut short a fortnight by this sad intelligence and she said that she had enjoyed every minute of her stay in Portales.

Reagan Connally will go to Canyon City, Texas, tomorrow where he will attend the commencement exercises of the West Texas Normal which are to crown the first year's work of this new institution in that fair little city.

A wire this morning from Coe Howard at Lebanon, Tenn. to his father, Joe Howard, conveyed the news that he and Lon Blenkinship had successfully passed their examinations in law school there.

Sweazea & Moody are making some more prices on dry goods, in the T. M. Littlejohn store.

Call the garage, 45-2r, when in need of automobile repairs and accessories, oils and etc.

The ties for a siding to the irrigation power house were unloaded yesterday.
