Commercial Club Elect Officers.

The Commercial Club met in gular session last Thursday ight and elected its staff of ofcers for the coming year, all the incumbents being re-elected with the exception of the presient, J. B. Priddy, who resigned. G. M. Williamson was elected president of the club; J. P. Stone, e elected vice president; R. G. Bryant, secretary; A. F. Jones.

The club has accomplished far more during its organization than the average citizen knows as its work has been done quiet ly though thoroughly. It has initiated and will carry on to fruition many plans which will mean a greater and a better Portales and the Herald is only speaking a good word for the town when it offers the club its encouragement and urges all citizens who are interested in the common weal to unite in the organization for the diffusion of the boosting energy.

A Work Of Art.

Two beautiful paintings of the old abode ruins at the H—Ranch are being used this week to decorate the windows of the Warren Fooshee store during their big ale, the work being from the brush of Mrs. E. P. Alldredge. These paintings are truly works of art and it would be paying a mild tribute to the talent display. ed by this excellent lady to say that the hand of an artist is exhibited in the creation and the effect of these old local historic ruins, on canvas. This ancient andmark and its surroundings s fraught with many memories of the early days in Portales Valley when the cowman wielded his scepter over this broad domain.

Broom Corn Being Shipped Out.

The streets of Portales presented a busy appearance on Friday of last week in the transportation of broom corn, the Herald at one time counting some ten wagon loads of the article which adorns the business end of a woman's weapon. Carl Moss consigned two cars to dealers at Wichita, Kans., and the Joyce-Pruit Co. shipped two cars to Amarillo, Texas. The price of the staple is somewhat lower than when the season opened up, in fact about one half less.

The Valley will have on its dress parade clothes at this time of the year and it will be an opportune season for inviting the stranger from abroad into our midst. The visitors will have the contrast of climate forcibly brought to his mind by a visit here at that time of the year, to the infinite advantage of the Portales Valley and its interests, of course He will be enabled to snatch a brief respite from the swelter of a less favored clime and meantime behold the fruits which will be multiplied at this, the second anniversary of irrigation era which has been ushered into this section. To see the some 70 odd wells under this project belching forth their thousands of gallons of the sparkling liquid every minute, and what is more, to see the indisputable wealth of all this rich virgin Valley shaking proudly in its broad fields of alfalfa, maize, kaffir and Indian corn and other field crops and the sugar beets, irish pota toes and other countless staples which will at that time be drawing their nourishment from the bosom of its fertile acres is a spectacle which should be provided for the denizens of the North and East who are hearing much about us, but who are biding their time when they can visit the field and verify for themselves the reports which have gone out from Portales concerning the resources of this great domain.

If the suggestion of this humble medium is worthy of acceptation why not outline some plan of ac tion looking to the achievement of such purpose? The business people of the town should get busy on this proposition.

Death to the Weeds!

The city marshal has set about this week to enforce an old ordinance of the town which requires property owners and tenants to clear their premises of noxious weeds and other growth, which, if complied with, will make a material improvement in the appearance of the streets and alleys. The council proposes to do some grading on the streets about the business district, as well as supply some form of crossings to connect with the sidewalks from the moneys derived by the collection of the street tax and this matter will be considered at some length tomorrow night.

So the youth brought home the horses and the farmer said they looked good to him.

At the end of six months the son said to his father: "I have been using these horses every day, and my mind is now made up. Five of them are excellent, but one is no good at all. He balks and soldiers and kicks things to pieces. We must get rid of him. But the farmer said: "I am

'Well for the love of Mike!' exclaimed his son. "I was competent to buy the horses, unsight, unseen, wasn't I; and am I not competent now, after I have watched them working for six months, to decide what ones are no good?" "Certainly not," said the farmer, "that is different." Then the son went around behind the barn, kicked himself three times and said sotly: "My father is a chump."-Wichita (Kan.) Beacon.

It is true the Republican press working in the interest of the of the territory has on many occasions declared that the constitution was easily amended, and the great and mighty Morning two-thirds of the senators, necessary to submit to the people an amendment to the constitution." Then it will be further seen that, if under these conditions, anamendmentis is offered, a majority of the electors, voting on the amendment must of course vote for it and, in addition to this majority must it consist of 40 per cent of the total vote, to secure adoption. Thus it will be seen that if an amendment is submitted at a general election at which 25,000 votes are cast, and only 10,000 votes are cast upon the amendment, 9,000 votes in favor of it and 1,000 against it, the amendment would be lost because 40 per cent of all the votes cast at the election were not for the amendment. Or again, if the amendment was popular in twelve of the twenty-six counties and unpopular in the other fourteen, 15,000 votes might be cast for it and none against it in the twelve counties, and 3,500 votes for it in the other fourteen counties, and 6,500 against it, and yet an amendment upon which there might have been 18,500 votes cast for, and 6,500 votes against, would be lost. It is only necessary to call attention to such provisions to secure their condemnation. Thus it will be seen that the constitution is not only difficult, but almost impossible of amendment, notwithstanding the fact that the great and mighty Morning Journal has said that anyone who said it was not easily amended was a liar. It remains to be seen if the Journal will be anxious to extend his unlady-like language to the congressional committee who filed the above report, or will it have the courage to come out from under its mask and do as A. B. Fall did before said committee, when he confessed that he voted for the pernicious Hawkins railroad bill, which the Journal has had much to say with common decency for the Journal to take refuge in the padded cells referred to by it a ratified by the people? short time since when speaking unkindly of the Democratic com mittee who was in Washington

It was an example of the successful effect of tones, and judging from the model and from numerous photographs and plane the village itself is very succonsful in its general design. The village stands on rising ground, and one of the principal streets leads up to an irregular market place with a fountain, in the picturesque style which is so much in vogue in modern German street planning.

There are in addition two schools, an inn and a store. The plan of the village shows that the works do not form part of the village, as in Bournville and Port Sunlight, but are situated a short distance away.

In the design of some of the houses there is to be noticed, though not to such a great extent as elsewhere, the German ornateness of roof lines. Probably the tendency, which is so reof heavy and full of detail is partly explained by the proximity of timber rendering possible what would be reled out in this country on ground of cost, if not of artistic fitness.—The London Builder.

T. F. C. HAPPENINGS.

Last Friday night Miss Marguerite Patterson invited the club to accompany her to the picture show. Nine of the girls joyously accepted the invitation, and accompanied by Mrs. A.T. Monroe in the capacity of chaperone, hastened to the Wonderland where an hour was pleasantly spent. The show over, the parlor and refreshed with that very seasonable delicacy. Miss Patterson is a very charming hostess, and it was with heartfelt words of appreciation that the girls bade her goodnight.

On Tuesday night, the club held its regular meeting with Miss Georgia Stewart. The girls were met and welcomed by the pretty hostess and conducted ed to the punch bowl which was presided over by the popular president, Miss Edna Farmer, and the club's nightingale and honorary member, Mrs. Roy Connally. In the midst of merrymaking, Messrs. Jim Twiggs, Earle Williams and George Monroe sought admittance and invited the crowd to attend the show under their chaperonage. Surviving with their usual quicktrayed on the canvas, the girls were then escorted by these gallant gentlemen to the cold quenched for that evening at least. The hostess and host, Mr. Twiggs, gracefully acknowledged the "I had an awful good time" expressions that filled the air that beautiful moon-lit night, and declared that they, too, had greatly enjoyed the evening. The club girls present were, Misses Edna and Nannie Farmer. Bula Stewart, Mabel Martin. court Cornie Smith, Maud Brandon, Sara Monroe, Marguerite Patterson, Mrs. Connally. Misses Keightly were guests of honor.

WOMAN'S CLUB HAVE MUSICAL PROGRAM.

At their usual gathering of a girl. place, the Commercial Club rooms, the Woman's Club had its last regular meeting for the summer yesterday. This closing program was a musical one, and those present report it a rare treat. The program rendered was as follows:

Piano Duet-Mesdames Anderson and Nixon.

Quartette-Mesdames Ward, Nixon, Kohl and Miss Carter. Vocal Solo-Mrs. Will Smith. Piano Solo-Miss Pearl Leach.

Vocal Solo-Mrs. Roy Connally Piano Solo-Mrs. C. I. Anderson.

Vocal Solo-Mrs. Ward. Piano Duet-Mesdames Anderson and Nixon.

Quartette-Mesdames Nixon,

Ward, Kohl and Miss Carter At the close of the program the club had a business session at which pending amendments to its constitution were adopted, and some very gratifying final committee reports heard. The semi-monthly meetings will be discontinued until in September, but on Wednesday two weeks hence there will be a called business meeting at which some newly created offices will be filled and an election made to fill the office of secretary made is the method followed: vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Arthur Jones. Other important matters looking to the mapping out of plans for the year's work beginning in the fall and the compiling of the year book will be attended to. The work the past year has been successful far beyond that of clubs of its size and the plans for the future are bigger and broader than ever before and the personnel of its Board of Managers insures their successful consummation.

Capitulates To Cupid's Wiles

A romance of long standing was consummated last Saturday evening by Edward McMinn leading Miss Virginia Hoggard to Hymen's altar, the knot being tied by Judge H. F. Jones in the presence of a circle of friends and relatives of the contracting parties. This event has been long looked for by those who have observed the progress of the courtship and dame rumor had them married many times over within the past year. With fonly occasional interruptions party was taken to the cream and obstruction of the path of love which is said to be rugged at best, this courtship has ripened and cemented in a tie that could only be satiated in wedlock.

There is no question about the intrinsic value of the prize which Mr. McMinn has captured for he has chosen an helpmeet who has displayed an ability to cope with many adversities in earning her own livelihood, when sheer force of circumstances required that she call into use her own native talent and resources. As stenoggrapher in the business offices of our thriving town and, also, in the print shops, Miss Jennie has been able to demonstrate that she was in no wise dependent on mere man for her sup port'and now that she has seen fit to take chances in double harness is a venture which she can only estimate approximately at first and can only know its full power in the promotion of peace and happiness by experience. Mr. McMinn is a young man who has reached his majority since his residence here and is at present manager of a tailoring couple, the only admonition which could be offered the young man is that he endeavor to go the young lady one better by show ing her that he is somewhat of: hustler himself and he would have to go some to do this. How ever, he is capable and now has a coach which is second to none within our knowledge for we have yet to see a young lady who an edge up a better string in a some more

DAINTY THEATER WAIST.

This dainty waist is of blue mousseline de soie, with band and corsiet of beautiful pearly embroidery.

The Stem Stitch. Stem stitch may be embroidered on the machine as well as by hand. Here

Sew with rather a short stitch along the stamped lines. Be sure to follow pattern directly. Then thread a needle with embroidery silk and pass the needle and thread, eye first, under each stitch. Keep on the upper side of the material. If it is thin fabric, put paper underneath before working. This method results in a well-raised cord that is obtained in much quicker time than by hand embroidery, and is, besides, quite as effective.

Home-Made Frogs. Frogs for coats are in such vogue this winter that the merchants can scarcely supply the demand. Many women, therefore, buy either plain or fancy braid and make their own frogs, using medium-sized cord for the loops and crochet buttons according to the width of the frogs. These when made up are often prettier and much less exconsive than the ready-made articles

Laid To Rest

Sunday afternoon at 4:30 at the cemetery at Portales, all that was mortal of Mrs. L. V. Brown, formerly a resident of Portales, but lately of Arch community, was laid to rest, with appropriate department of this prominent cermonies conducted by Mr. E.P. school. Coe has anticipated the Alldredge. The deceased was well and favorably known in Porgraduating in law and obtaining tales, where she will be lost with a diploma in a short application deep sorrow. Mrs. Brown was almost fifty-one years old, having been raised in Alexandria, Va., just across the river from Wash-While Mr. Howard has not ington City. Nearly thirty-one made known his future plans as years ago she was married to to taking up the profession of Mr. L. V. Brown, who with six or seven children, survive her, though one small child passed on before the mother some years ago. Mrs. Brown was a great sufferer having been afflicted with a nervous trouble for twenty years and having been almost bed ridden since last October. Only recently, however, it was thought that she had had a turn for the better and hopes for her recovery became bright. Two days before her death, however, a sudden reaction set in. She sent for her husband to come into the house and told him that she must go. She was a devoted Christian mother, and member of the Methodist Church, and before going called her family about her and took her leave of them as if she were off for a journey; and then with that confidence born of a triumphant faith, she expressed herself ready to go and anxious for her relief from her great suffering. Then as Irving has so beautifully expressed it:

> She folded the drapery of her couch about her,

And lay down to pleasant dreams."

Peace to her ashes; blessings upon her memory and comfort to the sorrowing bereaved ones.
