...A Word With You...

THIS is the oldest National Bank in Roosevelt County and its success in the past is the best guarantee of its future. But three or four years ago the combined deposits of all the banks in the county amounted to less than one hundred thousand dollars, at present we, alone, have deposits in excess of a quarter of a million. We believe that, in connection with the general prosperity of this section of the country, our uniformly fair and conservative methods have gone far toward attaining this splendid result. We solicit your business, whether it is great or small, and promise the same careful, courteous consideration that is accorded the largest accounts. We invite you to call in and get acquainted with our people and our methods.

CELEBRATION A SUCCESS

Portales Furnished Plenty of Meat for Everybody

A Crowd of 3000 or 4000 Were Gathered Here

The celebration at Portales July 4th was the biggest and most successful event of the kind ever held here. Barring a few accidents and only one serious, it was a grand success. The speaking by Rev. Lawrence Russell, Judge G. L. Reese and Green B. Patterson were splendid patriotic efforts and did justice to the occasion and credit to the gentlemen.

Perhaps the greatest feature of the celebration was the barbecue and it was immense. There was provided 3,546 pounds of beef, the cattle being killed were also yearlings except a few two-year-olds and it was a fine quality of beef. The quantity too was amply sufficient and everybody present was provided with all they could eat. The cooking was done to perfection, nearly everybody saying it was the finest barbecued meat they ever eat. Culberson brothers did the cooking.

The Indian and cow boy chase was a good display and was well performed. Mrs. Ursi Keene, the lady in the chase, did remarkably good riding. It was carried out without an accident except the Indian chief got shot in the face, and though very brazen faced, he was badly powder burned. The rabbit and hound chase didn't amount to much as the rabbits which had been held in captivity for the occasion wouldn't run.

Two balloon ascensions were made. At first trial the balloon did not get sufficiently inflated to make it go up any distance. The second trial it went up pretty well, but not high enough to make a parachute leap.

The number of people present were estimated to be between 3000 and 4000 and it was as jolly, well behaved crowd as was ever seen anywhere.

A Boy Gets His Leg Broken

One very sad and deplorable accident happened on the evening of the Fourth, the result being that the little son of Peter Brooke got his leg broken. One of the long poles erected to hold the balloon up while it was being inflated and which was dropped to release the balloon just before it started, struck the poor little boy. He saw it coming just in time to throw himself to one side and the pole struck his leg between the ankle and knee, horribly crushing it, breaking the bones and cutting the flesh. The boy never uttered a scream and bravely started to crawl away. He was at once carried to a doctor and his leg dressed and set, and it is believed his leg can be saved. The boy's age is about 10 or 11 years and his folks live three miles north of town. He was taken out home that night.

Leslie Smith and A. I. Kuykendall went to Carlsbad Tuesday to take in the big celebration and look after some business interests there. They both have some property there. Mr. Smith has six acres one and one-half miles this side of town which is all set out to fruit and alfalfa. Mr. Smith is a son-in-law of J. H. Gee, whom he will visit while there.

John V. Allen, who has about eleven hundred sheep, twenty miles southwest of Portales, has this week been hauling his clip of wool to Portales. He has about 4000 pounds of wool and is having it stored here till he sells, which will probably be soon.

The many friends of Mrs. M. M. Scott will be glad to learn that she is improving, after being so dangerously sick the past few weeks. The last two weeks of her sickness she was in the care of Doctors White and Bryan.

The new officers of the I. O. O. F. lodge installed last night by District Deputy G. M. Munger, are as follows: Wm. Faggard, noble grand; W. L. McLaughlin, secretary; Oscar Preusser, treasurer.

Miss Laura Laster, sister of T. M. Laster, returned with him from Alabama for an extended visit here.

Eating Stew Through Straws.

Doing as my Indian friends did, I seized in my turn a chunk of mutton from the kettle and proceeded to eat it. How I was to get my share of the stew, however, I could not conceive, as licking one's fingers is a slow process and inadequately nourishing. On the floor table, however, was a pile of what looked like dark blue lead pencils. The governor took one, stuck it into the kettle and peacefully sucked until he was satisfied. It was simply sucking—not lemonade—but mutton stew, through a straw. Then he carefully proceeded to eat the straw. Sucking the stew through it had softened and flavored it for eating. I mastered the game at the first trial, writes Frederick Mosen in the Craftsman, and from that time was a devoted adherent to piki bread, as well as to many other dishes and customs of my good friends, the Hopi.

Saved.

M. Jaques Bonhomme et sa femme were entertaining a company of select friends. They had just got seated at table when Baptiste, the waiter, rushed into the room in a state of wild alarm, exclaiming: "Quick! a glass of wine." Everybody stared, but his wish was complied with, and Baptiste swallowed at one gulp a glass of wine poured out by the lady of the house, who inquired what was the matter with him. "Oh, madam, I am dreadfully upset. That glass of wine has done me good; it has brought me round. Only think! I have just had the misfortune to break your two large dessert dishes of Sevres porcelain."

Cargoes Worth a Fortune.

It might be supposed that the great ocean liners bring in the most valuable cargoes. They don't. The little steamers that ply between here and the mighty Amazon river bring the richest cargoes that reach the port. It is safe to say that $500,000 is the value of an average ocean liner's cargo. The steamship Graaenge recently brought 4,369 cases of rubber. On a basis of $500 per case this alone was worth $2,184,500. This is outside the value of the skins, nuts and cocoa on board. Sometimes the ships bring egret plumes that are worth a fortune.

Easily Adjusted.

Chairman Knapp of the Interstate commerce commission, told in New York the other day a French railway story. "A traffic manager," he said, "came to the president of the line and exclaimed disconsolately: 'We are having no end of trouble with the public, sir, about those old dark blue cars. Everybody says they bump so frightfully in comparison with the new light blue ones, which, of course, run very smooth.' 'Humph,' said the president; 'we must attend to this matter at once. Have all the old cars painted light blue immediately.'"

At the Literary Club.

"How did everything come off at the literary last night?" "Well, the barbecued beef was tiptop, and the Brunswick stew couldn't be beat, while the corn licker had enough beads on it to make a pearl necklace look sick." "But—was there no literary discussion?" "Lemme see, now—I believe the president did hit the vice president 'side the head with a copy of Bunyan's 'Pilgrim's Progress.'—Atlanta Constitution.

Loaded.

The old man looked reflectively at the brass tip of his wooden leg. "Then," he said, "the surgeons took me up and laid me carefully in the ammunition wagon, and—" "Hold on, captain," said a listener. "You don't mean the ammunition wagon. You mean the ambulance wagon." But the captain shook his head. "No," he insisted; "I was so full of bullets that they decided I belonged to the ammunition wagon."

Putting It Mildly.

"You resent that critic's opinions?" "Not at all," answered Mr. Stormington Barnes. "What I resent is his egotistic presumption in considering his opinions to sufficient importance to warrant their public expression."

RIVER MADE HIM INSURE.

Got Tired of Falling into Water and Bought Protection.

One of our men selling insurance tells of an instance where a special manifestation and a moving of the spirit and the flesh were necessary to make a New Madrid man take out a policy, says an insurance man in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. He had a place on the river bank below the town. His little shack was perched on a bluff which jutted far out over the water. There had been a good many landslides down there, caused by the disintegration of the bank. The agent sighted the shack the first thing when he made the town and that afternoon he went up there to talk business. There was nothing doing. The old fellow was a fatalist and he didn't believe in insurance. "I go as the spirit moves me," he said, solemnly. The agent was persistent. "You might fall in the river some day," he said. "Well, I tell you all, honey, I ain't never fell in yet. When I've done fell in you can come around and see me." Five months later the agent made the town again. He sighted the shack, but it wasn't where it had been. It was a mile or so back from the bluff. But the man who lived there was waiting at the gang-plank. He grabbed the agent's hand and said: "I thought maybe you was on the boat and I came down to wait for you all." After an awkward pause he added: "I guess maybe I'll take that policy. I've done fell in three times. You'd better put a policy on the shack, too. I'm tired of fishin' it outen the river an' totin' it up the hill."

HER SENSE OF COLOR.

It Was a Happy Match and She Wanted Harmony Complete.

'Twas the first day of the honeymoon, which the happy young couple were spending at one of the quietest of seaside places, and the extent of their beatitude was immeasurable. He made it his duty that her every wish should be his; and, like a loyal little woman, she paid him back in his own coin, so that their life sped on as merrily as the proverbial marriage bell. "John, dear," said the sweet little woman to her husband one day, "do me a favor to night?" "With the greatest pleasure, love," was his instant reply. "What is it?" "I wish, darling," went on his bride, "that you would put on your red necktie for dinner." For the first time John winced, for that particular necktie, the gift of his mother-in-law, was the one trial of his flesh. "Wh—why, dearest?" he queried. "O, do, John, dearest?" he queried. "O, do, John, you to wear it. You see, I have just found out from the menu that we are to have radishes, tomatoes, strawberries and claret!"—Stray Stories.

ONE OF WOMEN'S CHARMS.

Sense of Reserve Said to Add Much to Attractiveness.

A woman, especially to be attractive, must preserve a sense of reserve; she must, so to speak, keep up a certain amount of mystery about herself. There is a folklore tale of a woman who, finding her married life unhappy, went to a white witch for a charm against the trouble. She received a flask filled with a colorless liquid, which she was directed to take and hold in her mouth whenever she was disposed to quarrel with her husband. She obeyed directions, and, delighted with the effect of the charm, went back to the witch for a fresh supply when that was exhausted. "The liquid was merely water," said the wise woman. "The virtue of the remedy consists simply in holding your tongue in keeping back angry answers." To adopt the rule, says Woman's Life, once given to a gushing girl by a friend who knew the world, "Never speak of yourself, and never say anything which is uncalculated for," would at first seem likely to make Trappists of all the world; yet it is to be questioned whether, after all, the advice was not wise. There always are people who like to talk, whose favor is to be won by interested listening, and good listeners are rare.

CHANCE FOR A HOME-RUN.

Schoolboy's Comment on Absence of Attraction of Gravitation.

A clever teacher, who has the power of calling out originality in her pupils, says that she would have no use for text books if she took time to answer all the startling questions asked in the classroom. One day the attraction of gravitation was under discussion, when one of the boys said that he didn't see any need of it, anyway. "It seems to me," said he, "there's no particular use in having the earth attract things. Now, when the apple fell, and made Newton think out the reason for it, that apple might just as well have stayed where it was until somebody gathered it." "You play ball, don't you?" asked the teacher. "Well, suppose you knock the ball very high, what happens?" "It falls." "But if there were no attraction towards the earth, it wouldn't fall. Don't you think that might prove inconvenient?" "My!" cried the boy; "what a bully chance for a home-run!"

By Proxy.

He was a man with a large rotund personality, and he stood at the head of a large line of impatient men, women and children who were waiting for a chance to pay their fares and get past the turnstile of the elevated railway at Madison and Wabash, says the Chicago Tribune.

He was searching leisurely in his pockets for the necessary nickel, and it wasn't in any of them. Finally he produced a five-dollar bill, which he slowly and methodically unfolded and passed over to the monopolist inside the ticket office. "Dom his bastely hide!" fervently exclaimed a man with a strong Tipperary accent, half way down the line. "O, you mustn't talk that way!" said a sweet feminine voice directly behind him; "but thank you very much!"

Tobacco Smoke Poisonous.

It is often said that tobacco smoke is a powerful germicide. The composition of tobacco smoke is complex, the principal constituents being oils of a tarry nature. Nicotine itself is a strong germicide, but the quantity of this poison in tobacco smoke is minute. The oil matter which accumulates in a tobacco pipe is highly poisonous, but does not contain any appreciable quantity of nicotine, the chief constituent of residue being a very poisonous oil known as pyridine. Tobacco smoke contains a decided quantity of carbon monoxide, which is a preservative and which must possess germicidal properties. Recently it has been observed that one of the principal constituents accounting for the germicidal properties of tobacco smoke is the powerful antiseptic formaldehyde.

High Class Reporting.

English sporting reporters will have to look to their laurels, says the London Tatler. Rex Beach thus relates in Everybody's Magazine an episode in a prize fight at Tonopah in Nevada on New Year's day: "In a quiet interval between rounds I heard a reporter dictating high-class pugilistic literature: 'Herman's work in the fifth was classy and he fought all over the place. He stabbed the Dingo in the food-hopper three times and all but got his goat, then missed a right swing to the butler's pantry by an inch. If he had coupled it would have been the sunset glow for Dahomey, but Gans didn't fall for the gag, not hardly. He ripped an upper through the Yiddish lad and put him on the hop with a right cross.'"

The World His Oyster.

The novelist of to-day has one great advantage over his fellow of half a century ago. The telegraph, the newspaper and the illustrated weeklies and magazines have opened up the whole world to him and made it contributory to his talent. He can go to the uttermost points of the earth and the knowledge of the reader has preceded him. It acts as a fillip to the imagination; it certifies the correctness of the description; it adds always to the interest. The minute a place is mentioned, the mind of the reader gets at work and thus reinforces the novelist in a most vital point, that of atmosphere.

What More Could Be Asked?

"On the way down here from up home I saw your advertisement in the paper," said "Ozzy" Hitchcock, as he entered the office of the New Notion company in his Sunday suit, his boots creaking at every step. "I'm here in the city to get work." "I hardly think you're just the man we need now," and the clerk in charge surveyed his caller with an unflattering gaze. "You spoke of wanting a young man with a good address," said "Ozzy," in his loud, clear, district-school voice. "I guess Laneville, N. H., is as good as any you could find, and father has the only store in the place."—Youths' Companion.

Quality of Trustworthiness.

People would try harder for trustworthiness if they knew how lovable a quality it is. When you know you can rely upon anyone, that whatever they undertake to do will be done, that you can really pass over a share of your load to them, you cannot help liking them. On the other hand, it does not matter how amiable men be, if they are forgetful, if they are unpunctual, if they habitually neglect, they become sources of such annoyance that one's liking is apt to die out.—W. R. Nicoll.

JIM TURNER.

A Sunday school picnic was held at Adobe school house, southeast of town, last Sunday, which was attended by four or five hundred people. A very interesting program was rendered after which a grand feast was indulged in by the multitude and it was found that an ample sufficiency had been provided for all. Genuine good old fashioned hospitality prevailed and all report a very enjoyable social time. A number of people attended from Portales.

Captain Jack Wright and wife, of Comanche county, Texas, arrived on Friday of last week to visit their daughter, Mrs. F. M. McDermott, who lives south of town. Captain Jack Wright is an old plainsman and passed through this part of New Mexico before the war with a bunch of cattle, enroute from Texas to California. He has served as captain of a company of rangers in Texas and is an old Indian fighter. Many old friends and acquaintances of Captain Wright live here who were glad to see him.

Mrs. Lemings, wife of Dr. Lemings, died Sunday, June 30, at 10 p. m., at the home of her nephew, Luther Lemings, near Carter. She leaves a husband and two small children. She had only been here about three weeks, the family having come here for her health, her trouble being consumption. The remains were brought to Portales Monday night and shipped to their old home in Arkansas Tuesday, for interment, accompanied by the sorrowing husband and children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hurley arrived back home at Portales, Monday, after having been down in southern Texas about a month. They went on account of Mr. Hurley's health and expected to remain if they found it agreeable. When they left they sold their household goods and rented their residence, so they evidently did not expect to return very soon. However, they seemed very glad to get back to Portales and say they expect to remain here, as far as they know, as long as they live. They say the weather was so hot there when they left they did not see how anybody could live. Their verdict is that Roosevelt county is the best place to live that they know of.

N. Bingham planted grain for L. C.
Tolliver Friday.

H. M. Baker and family were Portales
visitors Thursday.

J. W. Smith, of Roswell, came in for a week's visit with friends Thursday.

Thomas Lenard is cleaning out his well this week which caved in recently.

the home of Mrs. Lucy Spears and sons Mesdames O. M. Ferrin, J. Vander-ver and N. Bingham and wife called on
A. W. Ferrin and wife Sunday.

Charley Coleman and family left the first of the week for Fort Worth, Texas,
where they will spend the summer.

Quite a number of our young people attended the dance at Norvin Depuy's Friday night, and all report a merry time.

Mrs. Robertson and three children, of Central, Texas, came in last week for a visit with her parents,
Thomas Hammond and wife.

The road west of Floyd was the scene of a lively runaway Thursday morning when the mules of W. C. Adams became unmanagable and run for some distance, damaging the wagon quite a good deal.

Arch Items.
BY DAISY.

Most all our people took in the 4th
at Portales.

Mrs. J. K. Burks is now improving.
She has been sick for several days.

Mr. King is staying a few days with his family and trying the farmer life.

D. F. English left Monday for Arkansas, to visit relatives and on business also.

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Byers are the proud parents of a new girl which came to their home July 1st.

Most all the young people of our vicinity took in the big Sunday school picnic at Adobe last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Foy, of Texas, are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McEnturf. They will return home in a few days.

Our little store at Arch is doing quite a little business. We wish the owners success as it is such a help to us who are busy with our crops.

Glad to say that Grandma Beachem, who has been crippled so long, is able to be moved down to her place near Arch, to stay a few days.

Uncle Jimmy Williams is wearing a long smile nowadays as he has a new wind mill erected on his place and will irrigate his truck patches.

Our crops are looking fine and the farmers are busy cleaning their crops of weeds. The beautiful rains have made the weeds grow as well as the crops.

Bethel Budget.
BY ROMULUS

Lewie Anderson returned from the sheep camp last week.

Arthur Woodburne and sister, Mrs.
Bilberry, were here this week visiting relatives and friends.

Crops are growing very rapidly and most everyone is getting pretty well up with their work.

Mr. Cockrell and family, of Breckenridge, Texas, are here visiting their son, John Cockrell and family.

The rabbit drive last Saturday was a success and between one and two hundred rabbits were caught and killed.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Guye, of Brisbane county, Texas, are stopping with their old friends, H. J. Farnava and family.

Elder S. W. Smith will commence a protracted meeting at the Bethel school house, Saturday before the fourth Sunday in this month, to continue indefinitely. Everyone is invited to attend.

The rabbit club will make another drive today and it is expected to be the most successful drive yet made. The net will be set at the Cook place, about two and one-half miles northwest of Bethel.

The postoffice at this place has been discontinued and the store building in which it was located has been torn down and Mr. Morris will move it to Roosevelt. The people here will get their mail at Portales until the rural route is established.

Go to Reagan & Davis for fresh and cured meats.

Carter Cullings
BY CARTERRETT

O. B. Carter is cutting wheat.
Most everybody went to Portales
the 4th.

Quite a high wind visited us Monday night.

Mrs. Maples is on the sick list at this writing.

Eddie Jones and family left for Missouri last week.

E. D. Fortner is carrying the mail
for Loramsey Christain.

Harley Alford, of Portales, is spending a few days visiting his parents.

Mrs. Kendall and daughters, from near Fairview, visited at W. F.
Marsh's Monday.

Several attended the closing exercises of the Fairview school and report an excellent program.

A few more seats have been made for the Emminence school house by the neighborhood men which were much needed.

Sunday school has been organized at the Carter school house for Sunday at 3 p. m. Mr. Maples was elected superintendent.

Mr. Rose, one of our most prominent farmers, planted three and one-half bushels of potatoes this spring and has already dug twenty-six bushels from them. Who can beat this at the present time?

Mrs. Dr. Lemmings of Clinton county, Arkansas, died of consumption at the home of her nephew, Dr. Luther Lemmings, on Sunday night. The remains were taken to Portales Monday night preparatory for shipping to her home in Arkansas for interment. Mrs.
Lemmings had come here for her health.

Call Reagan & Davis, phone No. 45,
they will deliver you fresh and cured
meats.

The Herd Law Question.

The question as to whether or not there is a herd law in New Mexico,
and if so, whether or not the same applies to the county of Roosevelt, is one that is causing not only the laymen considerable worry, but is also a very perplexing problem for those learned in the law. The statute books of our territory are full of legislative enactments and of subsequent repeals thereof.
These enactments, in themselves, are vague, indefinite and contradictory and tend only to confuse those seeking a solution of the question. Last week some of the farmers living near Carter took up a bunch of cattle belonging to the D Z people and attempted to hold them for damages done to an unfenced crop. The justice of the peace and all who aided in the attempt to hold the cattle were arrested and given a preliminary before Esquire Morris. Judge W. E. Lindsey represented the prosecution and George L. Reese the defense. The defendants were released.
This preliminary hearing failed to throw any light on the question and the situation remains in the same condition as before. The relations of the parties are friendly and devoid of that bitterness engendered by like contests in other localities. The idea of both sides appears to be to get an intelligent understanding of the law, if any there be, and this can scarcely be had short of the supreme court.

Farmers, bring your chickens and eggs to the P. V. restaurant and receive cash for them.

Davis-Shields

Texico Democrat, Tuesday, July 2nd.
Mr. Will A. Davis and Miss Lou Shields, of Roswell, were married yesterday morning in Roswell at the home of the bride's parents. The young people left Roswell on the early morning train, arriving at Texico at 1:50, going to the home of Mr. and Mrs.
B. D. Oldham.

They will be at home in Clovis to their friends August 1st.

Mr. Davis is one of the best known young business men in this part of the country, having been associated with the First National Bank of Portales
three years, and then came to Texico
to accept a position with the Texico National Bank. He has been elected to the position of cashier of the First National Bank of Clovis and will take charge of that institution in a few days.

The bride has resided in Roswell for a number of years, taking a leading part in the social life of the city.
She is a talented lady and is a favorite with all who know her.

Mrs. Garrett is closing out her summer hats. Get one cheap.

Pabst
Purity

The way Pabst secures absolutely pure
yeast for fermenting beer proves the care that surrounds
every step in making Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer.

To secure an abso-

mentation, Pabst takes a single cell from its millions of fellows in
the drop of pure yeast,
and from this one cell
grows or cultivates the yeast required for each brew.

Flashlights from Melrose.
 From Melrose Enterprises.
 A certain local man went to the depot a few days ago and told the agent he wanted a ticket, and when asked "where to," replied "all the way to hell and return." The agent informed him that "the train had just left for Texico."

While at Texico last week, O. L. James went into a restaurant and when the waiter came around to get his order James told him he "wanted half a dozen eggs." The waiter asked him "how he would have them cooked," and was asked in return "if they could be cooked in any way desired," to which the waiter replied "yes." The order was given something like this: "One fried, one poached, one scrambled, one boiled and the other two — He never finished the order — but there are other restaurants in Texico so he decided to put in an order for "ham and eggs" at the next place.

"Uncle Josh" (J. E.) Morrison, the Roosevelt county tax assessor, tells a good one on a Texico man: "Uncle Josh," it seems was perambulating along the commons near Texico last week, when he met a man with eight or ten barrels on his wagon. (Now, most anyone would naturally conclude that the man was hauling water) so he asked him what he was doing. The man replied "hauling water." Of course "Uncle Josh" wanted to know how far he had to haul it, so he asked him "how far do you have to haul water?" To which he replied "seven miles." Naturally "Uncle Josh" had to keep the conversation going, so he asked him "how much he saved by hauling water instead of boring a well." The man replied "one half mile." The thing we have been unable to decide is whether the joke is on the Texico man or "Uncle Josh."

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, on my book on either dyspepsia, the heart or the kidneys, troubles of the stomach, heart or kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment and not the cause. Weak stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean stomach weakness, always. And the heart, and kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free book. Constipation
 Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.
 The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingenious and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.
 No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

District court, Roosevelt county, New Mexico. To W. J. Stuart, defendant in the above cause: You are hereby notified that suit has been filed in the district court of Roosevelt county, New Mexico, by Ida M. Stuart as plaintiff, and against you as defendant, wherein plaintiff alleges that she is a bona fide resident of the territory of New Mexico, and Roosevelt county, and that she has been a recent resident of said territory for more than one year next preceding the filing of said suit, and that you are a non-resident of said territory; that she was legally married to you at Vernon, Texas, on the 3rd day of April, 1905, and lived with you as your wife till Sept. 15, 1905, when you deserted her; that during all the time you lived together, she was to you a dutiful wife; that, at the time of said marriage, she was possessed of about $400 and that, as long as said money lasted, you made no effort whatever to support her, and that while you so lived together you were guilty of cruel and inhuman treatment toward her, rendering life with you insupportable; that one child, a boy, was the issue of said marriage. She asks a decree of said court dissolving the bonds of matrimony existing between you, and for the custody of said child. Unless you appear and answer said complaint on or before the 29th day of August, 1907, plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in said complaint. Plaintiff's attorney is J. S. Fitzhugh, whose address is Portales, New Mexico. Witness my hand and the seal of said court this 13th day of May, 1907. S. I. ROBERTS, Clerk. By R. Y. Gregg, Deputy. 7-4-5t
