Volume XVII, Number 50

OIL MEN FILL TOWN

Scouts for Big Companies and Representatives for Outside Capitalists Securing Leases For New Wells.

Oil men are flocking into Roosevelt county by the scores since the Nu-Mex Oil Company and the Mesa Oil and Gas Company have started drilling. Not a day passes that does not show representatives of the big operators on the ground which shows that the oil fraternity is following closely development in the new field.

Harry S. Lewis and J. F. Hallwegen from Chicago, are here securing leases with a view of starting another well. Owen Beck and Charles R. Borek, engineers from Roswell, have been going over the Roosevelt county formations for Texas capitalists. The town is crowded with new comers and many people are finding it hard to get a place to sleep and the overflow are going to Clovis.

The Nu-Mex Oil Company is down 400 feet and the Mesa Oil and Gas Company is 100 feet. Both companies are working hard night and day. Superintendent Webb, of the Nu-Mex expects to hit the first sand around 1200 feet. The geologists who have examined this field say that three sands will be encountered in the Permian rock at approximately 1200, 1900 and 2500 feet.

George E. Montgomery of Amarillo, who has given a bond to drill south of Portales, will make his location in a few days. His office at Amarillo showing pictures of the barbecue when Portales celebrated oil day, is crowded with oil men from every section of the country and they say that never in their experience has there been so many people present at a well at one time. The oil and gas showings at Amarillo seem to indicate that New Mexico is next in line for an oil excitement. Roosevelt county is ready for anything that comes this way and our citizens are prepared to cooperate in every possible manner.

BAPTISTS PLAN RECONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

BODY CHARGED WITH DUTY OF OUTLINING HOW 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN CAN PROMOTE THAT TASK REACHES FIELD—DR. LOVE OUTLINES THE NEED AND ISSUES CALL

DR. J.F. LOVE
SECRETARY
MISSION BOARD

DR. Z.T. CODY
EDITOR
BAPTIST
COURIER

REV. EVERETT GILL
MISSIONARY AT ROME

To make a general survey of the economic, social and religious conditions in Europe with a view to recommending to the Baptists of the South where and how they can aid most effectively in the reconstruction of that continent through the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, a commission, composed of Dr. J. F. Love, secretary of the Foreign Mission Board at Richmond, Va.; Dr. Z. T. Cody, editor Baptist Courier, Greenville, S. C., and Rev. Everett Gill, missionary at Rome, Italy, who is returning after a leave of absence in this country, and who will serve as guide and interpreter to the other members, is now in England for a conference with the Baptists of Great Britain and will go from there for an inspection of France and Belgium.

Another brief conference will be held with the Baptists of Switzerland, after which a trip will be made through Italy and a survey of the new republic of Czechoslovakia conducted. From Prague, capital of Bohemia, the commission will go into such parts of Russia as are open, and the foreign trip will be concluded with an inspection of Palestine, where the missionary work formerly done in Syria, Persia and Galilee by the Illinois Baptist Association has been turned over to the Foreign Mission Board.

There are approximately 4,250 Baptist churches in Europe today, with 3,000 pastors and missionaries and 566,800 church members. It is announced by the headquarters of the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, and a considerable sum from this campaign will go toward succoring needy families of Baptists and others in the war-torn regions as was as in the propagation of the gospel and the establishment of Christian institutions there. It is announced before sailing on the Adriatic on his European mission, Dr. Love made the following statement outlining the purpose of the commission:

"When the call came to help save, promote and secure democracy in Europe there came a louder call to help save, promote and secure evangelical Christianity in Europe. That which alone will now preserve and perfect the democracy for which brave men have died on the battlefield of Europe, is the Christianity of the New Testament. Southern Baptists can no longer profess New Testament Christianity and decline a challenge like that which is now presented to them to bear witness to their faith among the peoples of Europe. Our people never before faced such a challenge and such a responsibility.

Of course we can not go to the men and women of Europe who have been stripped of earthly fortune and reduced to direst necessity with a message of Christian love and brotherhood if we decline "in our abundance to carry some substantial pledge of our love and compassion. Mothers will not be able to stay the crying of their little ones to hear us preach if we decline to practice the gospel of compassion and feed these little ones and build fires at which they can during the coming winter warm their frosted toes. Southern Baptists are under the most solemn obligation to help relieve the want and suffering of Europe. But if there were no reconstruction work in Europe, Southern Baptists have motives numerous enough and strong enough to compel them to make a complete success of the Baptist 75 Million Campaign. I would therefore, as my parting word to my brothers and sisters of the South, implore them to give themselves to this campaign and carry it to a triumphant conclusion during Victory Week, November 30-December 7."

HOUSEWORK IS A BURDEN

Woman's lot is a weary one at best. But with backache and other distressing kidney ills life indeed becomes a burden. Doan's Kidney Pills have made life brighter for many Portales women. Read what Mrs. John P. Pyeatt, Box 113, Portales, says:

"My back certainly bothered me a great deal. I felt all run down and miserable and never seemed to have ambition enough to do my housework. When I tried to bend over, sharp pains caught me in my back. My kidneys bothered me also and many times I had dizzy spells. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and tried them. I received immediate relief and soon felt like myself again. I still use Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally to regulate my kidneys and they have kept them strong and healthy."

Fully $60,000 will be needed with which to finance the work planned by that organization for 1920. Part of that sum will be raised through the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals during the month of December. Buy and use the seals and help win the fight against tuberculosis.

DISTRICT COURT IN SESSION THIS WEEK

The regular term of the District Court convened in Portales Monday morning with Judge C. R. Brice in the chair.

The Grand Jury was in session just two days and made their final report Tuesday evening. They investigated fifteen different cases and returned into court six true bills and three no bills.

Several cases of long standing were dismissed by the court, some of which has been on the docket since 1911. The Court also passed on several cases of minor importance.

There has only been two jury cases brought up as yet. The case of Ed Robertson, of Elida, charged with violating the Pharmacy law, was tried and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Thomas Beall, of Tolar, charged with assault with a deadly weapon plead guilty and was fined $50.00 and costs.

The case of C. E. Wantland, charged with the murder of John Trotter is on trial now.

There is several out of town lawyers in the city, besides numerous persons from different parts of the county, who are in attendance.

SOME FINE ONIONS

Some of the finest onions ever raised in any country were those raised by J. B. Crow of this place this season. As for flavor, we can vouch for that as Mr. Crow remembered us with a big nice juicy one which lasted us for something like a week. Mr. Crow picked out a few of the nicest ones and had a picture made of them which would make a nice piece of advertising for this Valley, as they averaged about three pounds each.

Mr. Crow planted four-fifths of an acre in Denia onions and gathered 14,570 pounds which brought him $585.00 cash, besides he gave away quite a lot and sent some to folks back east. We are in hopes that oil is struck in this Valley, but in case it should not be, onions seem to be the next best bet.

THE FUTURE OF OIL

A nationally prominent oil man says: "The fear of a possible over-expansion of the oil industry is not well based. Last year the United States produced 341,000,000 barrels of oil, but this was 42,000,000 barrels short of consumption, which had to be imported from Mexico.

"Eliminating the war increase and taking the ten years preceding the war we find that the average annual increase in consumption, if continued, will in eight years require every oil refinery in the United States to double its capacity.

"The ten-year pre-war increase occurred before the airplane and the submarine began using large quantities; before conversions from coal to oil as fuel for ships became frequent, and while the automobile industry was just getting into its stride. In ensuing years the demand from these sources for oil will increase tremendously. The possibilities in use of oil as vessel fuel alone can be appreciated from the fact that three 5000 ton cargo boats burning oil can do the work of four same size vessels using coal, and at less expense per boat."

Is it any wonder that far seeing men are striving for a national policy and legislation encouraging to, rather than discouraging to further the development of our oil lands?

Reefer's More Egg Tonic will increase your egg production. Tried by many of your neighbors last year. Some claimed it doubled their egg production. All of them using again this fall. Give it a trial. G. G. Henderson, Agent.

CINCINNATI WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

MORAN'S TEAM WINS FIVE OF THE EIGHT GAMES

WINNERS GET $5,201.01 EACH

While the Losing Team Members' Shares Will Be $3,254.36—Total Receipts Three-Quarters Million.

Chicago.—The world's baseball championship pennant for 1919 will fly from Redland field, Cincinnati, next season. Pat Moran's athletes invaded hostile territory and annexed the eighth and deciding game against the Chicago White Sox, 10 to 5.

The Reds, after dropping two games on their grounds, having permitted the Sox to get back in the running for the big emblem, started after the deciding game at the onset. They descended on Claude Williams' lefthanded offerings with a determination which set him into seclusion before the third man was out and Bill James, who hurled from the other side, was trotted out. Three runs were scored off Williams and one off James. It was the latter's first appearance in the series, and he led a terrible life until the sixth, when with two men on the sacks he was given the beckoning finger by Manager Gleason and Roy Wilkinson, also a right hander, came forth to remain through the holocaust.

The players on the Cincinnati team, by annexing the final game and thereby capturing the series, will receive $117,157.68, which divided into 22 1/2 shares, will net each share $5,201.01.

The White Sox will draw down $78,104.70, and each of the twenty-four players will receive $3,254.36.

The national commission obtained $72,341.40, or one-tenth of the total receipts of $723,414 taken in, exclusive of war tax on all eight games.

BAUER SLAPS GRAFTERS

German Chancellor Decries Present Lack of Common Honesty.

Berlin.—"Graft and corruption, which are among the destructive heritages of the war are in full bloom in Germany and show no signs of decreasing," said Chancellor Bauer in a speech before the national assembly, in which he outlined the government's program of wiping out these evils which form one of the most striking phenomena of the revolution and the present scope of which cannot be exaggerated.

"Nearly everything still has its price," said Herr Bauer. "It is a moral disease which must be combated in every strata. Every means must be mercilessly employed, regardless of the station of the culprit."

The premier declared it especially necessary to prevent the spread of this "moral sickness" in the minor officialdom which in Germany has been hitherto proverbially proof against corruption.

U. C. V. FOR THE LEAGUE

Veterans Hold Annual Convention at Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga.—Ratification of the German peace treaty and the league of nations' covenant without amendments or textual reservations was asked of the senate in resolutions adopted here at the annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans.

Officers of the organization were re-elected including:

General K. M. Van Zand' of Fort Worth, Texas, commander in chief.

Gen. C. B. Vance, commander of the army of Tennessee.

Gen. Julian S. Karr, commander of the army of Northern Virginia.

Gen. Virgil Y. Cook, commander of the trans-Mississippi department.

The request that the federal government pay pensions to former confederate soldiers was made on the ground that $68,000,000 worth of cotton was illegally confiscated by the United States government during and after the war and never paid for; that the south for more than thirty years has paid four millions of dollars towards pensions for federal soldiers and that the federal government owes the south an unpaid debt of $25,000,000 for captured property which was sold.

Bulgaria is Arming.

London.—"The Bulgarian government is supporting the movement against the signing of the peace treaty and has begun to arm the population," said a dispatch from Vienna.

REGIMENT OF TROOPS TO GARY SITUATION IS THREATENING WHEN STRIKERS PARADE

Workers Who Went Back To Jobs Are Quartered in Steel Mills.

Gary, Ind.—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, in command of federal troops here, issued an order placing the town of Gary under martial law.

East Chicago and Indiana Harbor were also placed under martial law. Governor Goodrich of Indiana issued the proclamation after a conference between Adjutant General Smith and the sheriff of Lake county.

A regiment of United States troops mostly overseas veterans, reached the district to reinforce the state militia. Maj. Gen. Wood was in personal command. The troops were from Fort Sheridan and were ordered out by the war department after an appeal had been made for them by Mayor Hodges, Adjutant General Smith and Governor Goodrich.

In defiance of a proclamation issued by Mayor Hodges 10,000 strikers held a parade and open meeting. Agitators urged municipal and military authorities in Gary be deposed. It was after this meeting that the appeal was made by the authorities for federal aid.

Besides 1,000 regulars there are twelve companies of Indiana state troops in Gary, Indiana Harbor and East Chicago. The federals are equipped with machine guns, three 3-inch field guns and the infantrymen carry rifles with fixed bayonets.

Defections from the ranks of the strikers were greater than at any one time since the strike started. At Indiana Harbor 4,000 were reported to have returned to work. The numbers returning here ran into the hundreds and there was increased evidence of operations around the mills.

Workers who returned to the mills were housed within the buildings. It was said the mill operators had a two-fold object in view—to prevent a possible attack by union men and sympathizers when workmen fled out of the gates and to prevent pickets from working on the sympathies of their men.

Many Strikers Return To Work.

Gary, Ind.—The presence of federal and state troops in the Calumet steel district prevented a recurrence of rioting by the steel strikers and hundreds of workers returned to their posts in the mills.

Eight hundred strikers attempted to hold a mass meeting here but on orders from five patrolmen, disbanded peacefully. At South Chicago 10,000 strikers paraded through the streets. The wives and children of many were in the procession. South Chicago is in Illinois and not under martial law.

The establishment of martial law at Gary followed similar measures at Indiana Harbor and East Chicago. Checkers at the Gary mills reported the morning shift had been increased by 600 men. In Indiana Harbor and East Chicago six big plants, which had been almost completely closed since the strike began two weeks ago, opened their gates to thousands of workers.

LABOR CONFERENCE IS ON

Franklin K. Lane Chosen To Act As Chairman.

Washington.—Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior will be proposed as permanent chairman of the industrial conference which got under way here.

Sixty-two men and women answered the call of the roll and included in this number were the leaders of the four railroad brotherhoods. The delegates gathered in the hall of the Americas, a spacious meeting place, whose four corners bear shields with the word "pax" upon them.

Without a dissenting voice the organization committee composed of representatives of capital, labor and public, agreed on Mr. Lane's name. The spirit of concord shown in the committee meeting was taken as good omen of the future of the conference called by President Wilson to attempt to settle the problems and difficulties now existing between wealth and that which makes wealth possible.

Arkansas Negroes Taken By Soldiers. Elaine, Ark.—Thirty-five negroes were taken into custody for investigation by soldiers who covered an area of about thirty-five square miles near here in an effort to capture leaders of the negro uprising of last week in the southern part of Phillips county. Neither Ed. Ware, alleged ringleader who was believed to be in the section, nor any of the other negro chiefs were captured, according to military authorities, the prisoners being taken chiefly to question. A number of shotguns and rifles were seized.

Ammunition is Seized. Memphis.—Acting upon the suggestion of Sam O. Bates, county attorney general, who called attention to a state law making unlawful the sale in Tennessee of any weapon or ammunition for a weapon smaller than the standard army pistol, the police confiscated 130 pistols and about 25,000 rounds of ammunition found in several retail establishments here. This action followed rumors current for several days that arms and ammunition were being bought rather freely by negroes.

HERE'S REAL AIR RACE

Chicago.—East and west met in the air at North Platte, Neb. for the first time when the leaders of the west-bound and east-bound fliers in the trans-continent reliability race landed there. Lieut. B. W. Maynard, the "flying parson," was at Cheyenne, Wyo., hundreds of miles ahead of the other west-bound aviators, and Capt. Lowell H. Smith, well in the lead of the contingent from the west, was at Omaha for the night.

Fifty-three airplanes, piloted, with one exception, by American military aviators, started from Mincola, N. Y. to blaze an aerial trail of 5,400 miles across the continent and return in the greatest speed, endurance and reliability contest in history, while from San Francisco, 15 planes took the air for the east. Rev. Maynard reached Chicago the first day.

Eight accidents in which three persons were killed and one injured had been reported the first day to the headquarters of the American Flying club here, which is co-operating with the army air service in conducting the contest.

Maj. H. D. Crissey, was instantly killed and his observer, Sergt. Virgil Thomas, received injuries from which he later died when the plane in which they had left San Francisco crashed in attempting to land at Salt Lake City.

Sergt. W. W. H. Nevitt died of injuries received when a plane in which he and Col. Gerard Brandt were riding fell to the ground at Deposit, N. Y.. Col. Brandt was reported to be not seriously injured.

THE PRESIDENT IS RECOVERING IMPROVEMENT IN WILSON'S CONDITION

Daughters Leave White House for Home, Indicating Crisis Has Passed.

Washington.—President Wilson felt so much better that two of his daughters, Mrs. William G. McAdoo and Mrs. Francis Sayre, who hurried to the White House last week when he was taken dangerously ill, were able to return to their homes.

The following bulletin on the president's condition was given out by Dr. Grayson: "The president has had a comfortable day and is slightly improved."

A cool, east wind, which banished the excessive heat of the past three days, came out of the ocean and helped the president in his process of progress. The good reports emanating from the White House caused Secretary of the Interior Lane, who is the chairman of the industrial conference, to express the hope to the delegates that the president might address them before they completed their labors. Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, the president's personal physician, will not consent to this, however, for he does not believe his patient to be entirely out of danger as yet.

The industrial conference by unanimous vote, adopted a resolution expressing its sympathy for the president and the hope of a speedy, complete recovery. The first bulletin from the White House corps of physicians, was issued and read as follows: "The president's improvement has continued. His appetite is decidedly better and he is sleeping well."

Negro Leaders Held for Uprising. Little Rock.—Four negroes, leaders of the negro uprising in Phillips county last week were arrested at Winchester, Ark., according to a dispatch from that place. Officers believe that one of the prisoners, T. L. Dixon, owner of considerable land, is the man known in literature of the Progressive Farmers and Household Union as T. L. Duker, president of the union. Another named Rogers, local secretary of the organization at Winchester. The other two prisoners are W. M. Mixon and Henry Davis.

Aliens Rush Back Home. Chicago.—Foreigners are leaving Chicago for their home countries at the rate of 1,000 a day, according to a report issued by special deputy collector Hopper, whose duty it is to vise their passports. The majority are Roumanians. Most of the others are Italians, Greeks and Czech-Slovaks. It is estimated that they are taking $3,000,000 a month with them. "There is no liberty in the United States—why, you can't even get a drink of beer or wine," is their invariable reason for leaving.

League Meeting Delayed. London.—It is now believed impossible to hold the first meeting of the league of nations at Washington in November, as was planned. The general opinion is that the session will have to be postponed at least until January.

Huns March On Riga. London.—The Germans are marching on Riga, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from its Helmsingfors correspondent.

The General Fertilizer Company of Carlsbad, N. M., expects to open up its guano caves southeast of there in the near future. The company claims to have the almost inexhaustible supply of the fertilizer, as it is estimated that the cave contains over 75,000 tons. The guano is mostly shipped to California where it is used to fertilize the orange trees in that part of the country.

Another oil well will be put down near Clayton in the near future by the Mesa Oil Company, who have large holdings on the Hart-Patton tract southwest of Clovis.

SPECIAL SESSION IN JANUARY OKLAHOMA LEGISLATURE WILL BE CALLED

To Arrange For Constitutional Convention and Ratify Female Suffrage.

Oklahoma City.—Close friends and advisers of Governor Robertson admit at the capital that demands for an extra session of the legislature are increasing, and declared that a call to convene the lawmakers in January is assured.

Suffrage leaders have renewed their efforts during the past few days for an extra session to ratify the federal suffrage amendment, and the fact that they claim to have a majority of the members of both houses pledged to vote for ratification and to work without pay, is beginning to impress itself upon the governor, his friends declare.

The fact that the governor recently declared in favor of complete revision of the constitution, which can be done only by the calling of a constitutional convention, is another matter that officials declare indicates an extra session will be held.

Although opposing an extra session for the specific purpose of ratifying the suffrage amendment, the governor has said all along that an extra session may be called for some other purpose, and in this connection his statement favoring revision of the constitution is considered highly significant.

The only way by which the governor's desire for revision of the organic law can be carried out is by legislative action, submitting the question of calling a constitutional convention to a vote of the people. The question of revising the constitution must be submitted to the people at least once in every twenty years, and it was pointed out if the governor wants this accomplished during his administration the question ought to get before the people some time next year.

Lawyers and legislators generally are of the opinion, it is said, that the need for revision of the constitution is great. The state has outgrown many of its provisions, which at present are operating as a barrier against progress along certain lines, it is declared.

The high cost of building material, which has put an end to the state building program, is another matter that figures prominently in extra session consideration. No decline in the cost of building material is expected by the board of affairs within the next year, and the only way by which the building program can be carried out is increased appropriations by an extra session, or the creation of huge deficiencies by the governor.

SUP. COURT IS IN SESSION

Hundred Motions for Review of Decisions Filed.

Washington.—The fall term of the supreme court of the United States is open.

All the justices are present, but no decisions were announced. Because of the illness of President Wilson the court abandoned its custom of calling on the president following its reconvening for a new term.

More than 100 motions for review of decisions in the lower courts were pending before the supreme court when it convened, and attorneys in the cases took up considerable time when the court opened in entering their appearances.

Attorney-General Palmer and Solicitor-General King moved to advance the government liquor cases to test the validity of 2.75 per cent beer, the appeal coming from a decision of Federal Judge Rose, of the Baltimore circuit court.

The anthracite anti-trust coal case will be called by the court at once. It was understood that this case would be submitted on briefs and without oral arguments. Following this case the court is expected to take up the steel corporation anti-trust case, which is to be argued.

The government moved to advance the child labor test case which is an appeal from a decision of the North Carolina federal court declaring unconstitutional the act of February 14, 1919, imposing a tax on the employment of child labor.

The department of justice moved to postpone the arguments in the Eastman Kodak and Quaker Oats anti-trust cases, set for immediate hearing, at the request of counsel in these cases, who desire to submit additional evidence.

GET READY FOR "FLU"

Keep Your Liver Active, Your System Purified and Free From Colds by Taking Calotabs, the Nauseless Calomel Tablets, that are Delightful, Safe and Sure.

Physicians and Druggists are advising their friends to keep their systems purified and their organs in perfect working order as a protection against the return of influenza. They know that a clogged up system and a liver favor colds, influenza and serious complications.

To cut short a cold overnight and to prevent serious complications take one Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea, no griping, no sickening after effects. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified and refreshed and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Every druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not perfectly delighted with Calotabs.—(Adv.)

"Booker Time" is Cheerful. The term a "booker time," which the Australians use to describe a cheerful leave, comes home to its birthplace, little altered. "Booky," with a similar meaning, was an English colloquialism in the eighteenth century. And "booky" is still current slang with us, but implying too generous use of the wine cup. There is one phrase in the book of slang which is decidedly pleasing, "Australian grip." It stands for that best of greetings, the honest, hearty hand shake.—London Chronicle.

SHOOK WITH NERVOUSNESS

A Lady Was Flat On Her Back With Terrible Spells, But Her Husband Got Cardui,— And Now She is Grateful.

McKinney, Texas.—Mrs. Mary Stephenson, of this place, states: "About a year and a half ago I was down in bed for six weeks, not able to sit up. I was flat on my back and had terrible spells. . . . Why, it looked like I would die. At times I didn't know anything. I would get nervous, I couldn't bear anyone to talk to me. —I would just jerk and shook with nervousness. . . . across my back was so sore and ached me all the time. I would have a dizzy feeling. My limbs ached me and I would get numb and feel so weak. . . . I said to my husband I knew Cardui was good and I believed I had best try it.

He got me a bottle of Cardui, and when I had only taken one-half bottle of Cardui I felt stronger. I took a half a dozen bottles altogether, then in two weeks after I began taking I was up, in three I was doing my work. I praise Cardui for I believe it saved my life and I am grateful."

For over 40 years Cardui has been helping weak, sick women back to health and strength. Try it.—Adv.

Disgusted Gob. Mother—Did you wipe your feet dear?

Junior Gob—Aw, what's the use of being in the navy if you hafta wipe your feet?—Judge.

A SUMMER COLD

A cold in the summer time, as everybody knows, is the hardest kind of cold to get rid of. The best and quickest way is to go to bed and stay there if you can, with a bottle of "Boesche's Syrup" handy to insure a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectoration in the morning.

But if you can't stay in bed you must keep out of draughts, avoid sudden changes, eat sparingly of simple food and take occasional doses of Boesche's Syrup, which you can buy at any store where medicine is sold, a safe and efficient remedy, made in America for more than fifty years. Keep it handy.—Adv.

A LEOPARD CANNOT CHANGE ITS SPOTS

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tonic" Man, Tells the Treachery of Calomel.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quick-silver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tonic which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.—Adv.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle.

CHAPTER XXII.

The Crew Decides.

Except that many of the men remained armed there was no suggestion of violence. But for the gleaming cartridge trained on the main hatch, and the small group of gunners clustered about it, the scene was peaceable enough, resembling the deck of some merchant ship.

"Stand by to reef topsails," I shouted. "We're all one watch now. Go at it lively, lads, and when the job is over we'll eat, and decide together what our next move. Two of you will be enough to guard the hatch and one of you go into the cabin and relieve the girl there. Keep your eyes open. I'll be down presently. Aloft with you and see how quick a job you can make of it."

Watkins led the way up the mainmast ratlines, and Cole was first into the fore shrouds, the others following eagerly. I watched them lay out on the yards and was heartened to hear the fellows sing as they worked, the canvas melting away as if by magic.

"What's all this about?" he asked. "That's no storm cloud yonder." "There is always danger in fog," I answered coldly, "and besides there is no use carrying on until we know where we are bound. My purpose is to keep the men busy, and then talk the situation over with them. Have you any criticism of this plan, Senior LeVere?"

He hesitated, but his eyes were narrowed, and ugly. "You'll do as you please, but you told me we sailed for Porto Grande. Was that a lie?"

"Not necessarily," and I smiled grimly. "Although I should not have hesitated to tell one under the circumstances. I mean to leave that decision to the men themselves. It is their lives that are in danger."

"That scum! half of them are English and French. All they want is to get away; they will never go back to Porto Grande without you make them."

"How make them?" "By false observations; there is no navigator forward. It is a trick easy enough to play with a little nerve. I would never have taken part in this mutiny if I had supposed you meant to play into the hands of the men."

"It is very little part you took Senior LeVere, judging from what I saw. You seemed quite content to stand aft here and look on. However you are in it just as deeply as I am, and are going to play the game out with me to the end. Do you understand that?" "What you mean, senior—play it out?"

"Go on with the rest of us; take your chance with the men and do your duty. I am captain here. The first sign of treachery on your part will send you below with those others. I don't trust you, and all I want is an excuse to put you out of the way—so be careful what you do."

I turned and walked away from him toward the forward rail. The men were still aloft but coming in from off the yards. Below me in the door of the companion, stood Dorothy, her eyes peering curiously at the deserted deck. She glanced up and saw me.

"May I come up there?" she asked. "Certainly; let me help you. Stand here beside me, and you can see all that is being done. That's all, lads; breakfast is ready; lay down all except the lookout."

We watched while they streamed down the ratlines and gathered forward of the galley, squatting in groups on the deck. To all appearances the fellows had not a care in the world, or any thought of the stirring scenes just passed through. The girl's hand touched my sleeve, and I turned and looked into her face.

"Have you considered Captain Sanchez?" she asked. "Why no," in surprise, "he is helpless below, badly wounded."

"Not so badly as you suppose," she said swiftly. "He is able to be up and about his stateroom. I heard him moving, and I believe the steward has told him what has occurred on board, and endeavored to bear a message from him to those men amidships. I held my pistol to his head and locked him in the pantry. He is there now, with the sailor you sent on guard. That is what I came on deck to tell you."

"He is a danger, of course, but not a serious one," I said confidently. "It is safe enough to leave him undisturbed at present. The first thing I need to do is to satisfy those men. I'll attend to that now, and then see to the proper securing of Sanchez. Remain here with LeVere while I go forward, and watch that he does not attempt to go below."

The fellows had not finished mess, but I felt the danger of further delay, and talked to them as they sat on deck, explaining briefly the entire situation, and the causes leading up to the mutiny. I dealt with the matter in plain terms, making no apparent effort to influence them, yet forcibly compelling each individual to realize what would be the result of our capture. They listened earnestly, asking an occasional question, and passing comments back and forth freely among themselves.

I sent Watkins to the cabin for a roll of charts, and spreading these out, endeavored as well as I could, to make clear our probable position and the nearest point of land. When I had completed the explanation, and stood before them awaiting decision, it was Haines who acted as their spokesman.

"This yere is Cape Howarth," he asked, a grimy thumb on the point indicated. "An' yer say it's 'bout a hundred and fifty miles west?"

"Yes, about that?" "An' thar's no settlement?" "Some colonists fifty miles north is all."

"That's 'bout right." He turned to the others. "Say mates, this is how I figure. We can't go on no long cruise with all those bloody rats in the hold. They're bound ter find some way out if we give 'em time 'nough. Fer as I'm concerned, I'm fer dividin' up what we've got, and ter bell with piratin'."

There was a chorus of approval sufficient in volume to satisfy me, and I accepted this as a decision.

"All right, lads," I said briefly. "In my judgment your choice is a wise

The Stricken Sailor Told the Whole Story.

one. I'll have an observation as soon as the fog clears and we'll head in for the Cape?"

"When do we divide the swag?" "Fifty miles off the coast. That's fair enough, isn't it? And my share goes to you."

There was a straggling cheer, but I broke it up with a sharp order.

"Now stand by for work, all of you. Watkins and Carter, I want you aft."

CHAPTER XXIII.

The Prisoners Escape.

The two men followed me silently as far as the companion, where we paused a moment staring blindly about us into the fog. Even the guard at the main hatch was invisible.

"Carter, guard this after deck until Watkins and I come back. Under no circumstances permit LeVere to enter the cabin."

With the door closed, we were plunged into a darkness which rendered the interior invisible. I wondered dimly why the man on guard had not lighted the swinging lantern. I stumbled over something on the deck, as I groped forward, but did not pause until I had lighted the lantern. It blazed up brightly enough, its yellow flame illuminating the cabin and the first thing I saw was the outstretched figure of the sailor almost between my feet.

We needed to ask no questions. Imagine nothing—the overturned chair, the stricken sailor told the whole story. He had been treacherously stuck from behind, the blade driven home by a strong hand, and was dead before he fell to the deck. It had been silent, vengeful murder, and the assassin had left no trace. Who could it have been? Not Gonsales surely—the steward lacked both nerve and strength for such a deed. Then there was but one to suspect—Sanchez!

I lunged open the pantry door, but one glance inside told me that Gonsales had vanished. On the deck lay the strands of rope with which he had been secured—they had been severed by a sharp knife, the ends discolored with blood stains. I held these out to Watkins.

"Cut since the murder," I said, "and by the same knife. What do you make of it, Tom?"

"Well, sir, the thing he'd most likely try fer wud be ter release them lads amidships. My idea is, sir, he thought he'd have time ter git the bulkhead door open, before anybody cum below—he an' the steward, who'd know whar the tools wuz. That was the scheme, only we busted in too quick. Thar's whar they both are—skulkin' back in their shadows."

He fitted the smoking lantern back onto the shelf to have his hands free for action, and drew a cutlass out of the arm rack, running one leathery thumb along the blade to test its sharpness. His eyes sought mine questioningly.

"Probably your guess is the right one," I said soberly. "We'll give it a trial."

Murder had been committed for a purpose—it was the first step in an effort to retake the ship. If we were to retain our advantage there was no time to be lost; we were pitted now against Silva Sanchez, and he was a leader not to be despised or temporized with; no cowardly, brainless fool.

The passage leading forward was wide enough to permit our advancing together and for a few steps the light dribbled in past us quite sufficient for guidance. I had been down the bulkhead not far away, but the few steps necessary plunged us into profound darkness, through which we advanced cautiously with outstretched hands. No slightest sound warned of danger and I was already convinced in my own mind that the refugees were not hiding there, when it happened. Within an instant we were fighting for our lives, fronted not by two men, but by a score, who flung themselves cursing upon us. Their very numbers and the narrowness of the passage was our only salvation. At first our resistance was blind enough, guided only by the senses of touch and sound. We could see nothing of our antagonists, although their fierce rush hurled us backward. I fired into the mass, as Watkins slashed madly with his cutlass, both managing in some way to keep our feet. Hands gripped for us, a bedlam of oaths splitting the air; yet, even in that moment of pandemonium, I was quick to realize the fellows were weaponless, seeking only to reach and crush us with bare hands.

The same discovery must have come to the mind of the sailor, for he yelled it out defiantly, every stroke of his blade drawing blood. I joined him, striking with the butt of the pistol. We killed and wounded, the curses of hate changed into sharp cries of agony, but those behind pressed the advance forward, and we were inevitably swept back into the light of the cabin lamp.

Then I saw faces, hideous in the glare, demoniacal in their expression of hatred—a mass of them, unrecognizable, largely of a wild, half-Indian type, with here and there a bearded white. Nor were they all bare-handed; in many a grip flashed a knife, and directly fronting me, with a meat cleaver uplifted to strike, Sanchez yelled his orders. Ignoring all others I leaped straight at him, crying to Watkins as I sprang.

"Back lad; dash out that light; I'll hold these devils here a minute!" I did—God knows how! It was like no fighting ever I had done before, a mad, furious melee, amid which I lost all consciousness of action, all guidance of thought, struggling as a wild brute, with all the reckless strength of insanity. It is a dim, vague recollection; I am sure I felt Sanchez with one blow of my pistol butt; in some way that deadly cleaver came into my hands and I trod on his body, swinging the sharp blade with all my might into those scowling faces. They gave sullenly backward; they had to, yelping and snarling like a pack of wolves, hacking at me with their short knives. I was cut again and again. I stood on quivering flesh, crazed with blood, and seeking only to kill. I saw faces crushed in, arms severed, the sudden spurting of blood from ghastly wounds. Oaths mingled with cries of agony and shouts of hate. Then in an instant the light was dashed out and all was darkness.

Mends Granite Ware.

The government suggests we economize on kitchen utensils. To mend a hole in granite ware work a piece of putty until perfectly soft, then take a piece of the putty large enough to cover the hole and put one piece on either side of the metal, pressing together inside and out, smoothing down the edges. Place the vessel in a slow oven and bake until the putty is a deep brown. For containing water the vessel will be as good as new.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 19

JESUS IN PETER'S HOME.

LESSON TEXT—Mark 1:29-34. GOLDEN TEXT—Jesus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house.—Luke 19:9. ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Matt. 21:12; Luke 4:34-44.

I. Healing of Simon's Wife's Mother (vv. 29-31).

1. A loved one ill (v. 30). From the synagogue Jesus with James and John went to the home of Peter and Andrew where he found Peter's mother-in-law prostrate with a burning fever. Among the closest followers there are suffering ones and anxious and burdened hearts, but to all such he comes with loving sympathy and power to help. His power is the same in the quietude of the home as in the public meeting place.

2. They tell him of her (v. 31). This was the proper thing to do. We should bring to our Saviour's attention those of our families who have need, of both bodily and spiritual healing.

3. He healed her (v. 31). "He came and took her by the hand and lifted her up." This act showed the nearness, sympathetic tenderness and power of Jesus. At his touch the fever departed and strength was imparted to her body so that she was at once able to minister unto them.

4. She ministered to them (v. 31). This act shows that (1) the cure was instantaneous and complete. When Jesus heals there is no halfway business. It is the same with spiritual healing. (2) Gratitude on the part of the one healed. Those who have experienced the healing power of Jesus will express their gratitude in loving service to the Lord and his disciples.

II. Christ's Ministry at Sunset (vv. 32-34).

It became noted about that a notable miracle had been wrought in Peter's home, therefore as soon as the Sabbath drew to a close many demon-possessed and diseased were brought to him to be healed. If we would have the crowds to gather today we must be able to show that Jesus is at work among us. Our testimony should be backed by the healed body or soul.

1. He healed those of divers diseases (v. 34). Jesus can heal any disease. Many of the cures spoken of today are temperamental, but the cures wrought by Jesus were of all sorts. No malady ever baffled him.

2. Cast out many devils (v. 34). The devils obey him. There is no record of a demon ever disputing the authority of Jesus. At his command they rendered instant obedience.

3. Suffered not the devils to speak (v. 34). He bids the saved soul witness of his saving power, but will not allow the devils to speak in challenge of his authority or in witness of the truth of his deity.

III. Jesus Retires to Pray (vv. 35-37).

The arduous service of the day made it desirable to be alone with the Father in prayer. Shut out from man—alone with God. How necessary the hush of the eternal, the calm of God! There is great need of private prayer.

IV. Preaching Throughout Galilee (vv. 38, 39).

He continued steadfastly to preach, for this was his supreme business. His miraculous works were but aids to his testimony. Preaching the gospel is the chief concern of all who would follow Jesus.

Harmony.

It is a beautiful and blessed world we live in. The flowers blossom in obedience to the same law that keeps the stars in their places. Each bird song is an echo of the universal harmony. It is humanity which thrusts discords, and false and jarring notes into the days. We go out into the beautiful morning carrying our useless loads of frets and worries, our leftover resentments and our faithless fears. The sunshine assures us that the world is still moving safely in its appointed course and God has not forgotten us; the birds lift their cheering notes of rejoicing that they have found food for the day, but we lift complaining voices because we have not found provisions for years to come. Our moody spirits and jarring tempers hurt the love on earth and in heaven. But they hurt our own souls most of all, for they put us out of tune with the music of the universe.

Success.

The great highroad of human welfare lies along the old highway of steadfast well-doing; and they who are the most persistent, and work in the truest spirit, will invariably be the most successful; success treads on the heels of every effort.—S. Smiles.

Honest Prayer.

We must be often, and alone, with God, and there at his feet we must pour out our hearts and ask his richest blessing upon our united endeavor. "To pray," says Fenelon, "is to desire; but it is to desire what God would have us desire. He who desires not, from the bottom of his heart, offers a deceitful prayer."

No Greater Enemy.

Though all things do to harm with him what they can, no greater enemy to himself than man. —Barri of Stritig

AN ADVOCATE OF DEMOCRACY

If the Republican majority in Congress continues to procrastinate in legislating for the soldiers the latter will become eligible for old-age pensions before anything is done for them.

Senator Penrose proposes to defer until after the next Presidential election the enactment of a new tariff law. This suggests either the Senator's pessimism after contemplating his Republican Congress for the last three months, or an undue optimism concerning the results in 1920.

$4,800,000 TO BE RAISED FOR HOSPITALS

A modern hospital illustrative of the type of buildings Southern Baptists are employing in the relief of human suffering.

In their work of relieving human physical suffering Southern Baptists at present own and control fourteen hospitals and there are under course of construction and about ready to be opened at least two more, with considerable progress made toward the erection of others. All of these institutions are liberally patronized and are self-supporting but all of them need to be enlarged in order to meet the rapidly-growing demands upon them. The demand for charity work is especially urgent and in order to enable them to thus render a needed service to those who are least able to help themselves as well as to provide larger facilities for the regular work the hospitals are doing the sum of $4,800,000 has been apportioned to them from the proceeds to be raised in the Baptist 75 Million Campaign.

This work of relieving the physical infirmities of men, women and children and thus putting them on the road to better health and larger efficiency and usefulness was begun within the bounds of the Southern Baptist convention in 1890 when the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium was opened in St. Louis. From a very small beginning in a residence with less than a dozen beds, this institution has grown into a modern institution with more than 800 beds.

Other Baptist hospitals in the South include Baptist Hospital, Muskogee, Okla.; Baptist Hospital, Miami, Okla.; Baptist Hospital, Cushing, Okla.; Baptist Memorial Hospital, Memphis, Tenn.; Georgia Baptist Hospital, Atlanta; Oklahoma Baptist State Hospital, Oklahoma City; Baptist Hospital, Columbia, S. C.; Texas Baptist Memorial Sanitarium, Dallas; Baptist Hospital, Houston, Tex.; Baptist Hospital, Alexandria, La.; Baptist Hospital, Jackson, Miss.; St. Louis Baptist Hospital, St. Louis, Mo., and the Kansas City Baptist Hospital at Kansas City, Mo.

I have made arrangements so that I can get the cash for your sale notes. V. J. Campbell, Auctioneer, Longs, N. M. 48-1f

SAFE SEEDING DATES RECOMMENDED FOR SAVING WHEAT CROP FROM HESSIAN FLY

Important Stages in the Life Cycle of the Hessian Fly.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The Hessian fly, a minute wheat parasite, less than knee-high to a grasshopper, but gigantic as a fierce lion in its destructiveness, collects $50,000,000 a year from American wheat growers. This mosquito-like fly lays its eggs upon the leaves of wheat, and after the eggs hatch the little maggots live upon the plants' sap which they obtain by gnawing into the soft portion of the stem. Ordinarily two, or sometimes three or more, generations of the insect occur during a year. The main army of flies arrives in the fall and conducts a carnival of despoliation among the newly seeded grain. After the Hessian fly has once thoroughly infested a crop of wheat there is no known means of saving the grain, and the only known method of preventing damage from the fly is to keep such invaders out of the wheat.

Safe Dates for Seeding.

One of the most effective means of escaping fly damage is to defer fall seeding until danger of molestation from the fly is over. Safety dates for seeding wheat in different sections of the country are as follows: Northern Michigan, soon after September 1; in southern Michigan, and northern Ohio, about September 20; in southern Ohio, after the first week in October; in Kentucky and Tennessee, October 10 to 20; in Georgia and South Carolina, October 25 to November 16; in extreme southern Kansas and northern Oklahoma, as well as in Virginia, after the first week in October. October-sown wheat always enjoys the greatest freedom from the fly in Missouri. Practically the same corresponding delay in wheat sowing in the fall should be followed to the southward.

These safety dates are only approximate and serve to show in a general way about the time when the fall brood of the fly will have largely disappeared from the wheat belt east of the Mississippi river. As the larger part of the fall brood appears and is gone within a week, it is possible for a farmer to time his seeding operations so as to avoid the fly.

Rotating Crops is Effective.

Crop rotation is an efficient control as during the season of migration, unless new unaffected fields are near by, most of the insects succumb. Rotating the crops decreases the available supply of new host plants. Destruction of volunteer grain plants by plowing, disking, or other tillage operations must begin before the larvae have matured in order to be effective, as volunteer wheat ordinarily is a prolific distributor of fly infection. Enriching the soil by plowing under the green cover crops and by applying stable manure also aid indirectly in combating the fly because a fertile soil will produce plants that soon attain vigorous, healthy growth and are better able to resist diseases than those grown on thin soils where it is hard to develop sufficient growth to withstand the winter if the wheat is sown late.

Good seed is a prerequisite in securing healthy vigorous growth. Ordinarily the fly is avoided where good seed is sown in a thoroughly prepared fertile soil after the majority of the fall brood has disappeared. It is preferable to sow on ground not devoted to wheat the preceding year. In the case of spring wheat, the earlier the grain is sown the less it will suffer from the Hessian fly, but good seed and a well prepared, fertile soil are as essential in this case as elsewhere.

EFFICIENT MEANS OF PREPARING SEED BED

Use Disk to Prevent Growth of Grass and Weeds.

Plow Land to Depth of 6 or 7 Inches Where Wheat Follows Other Than Cultivated Crop—Keep Topsoil Well Broken Up.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

When wheat follows a cultivated crop that is removed sufficiently early, such as corn or tobacco, the soil can usually be prepared for seeding by the use of a disk and ordinary harrows. As soon as the crop is harvested the land should be gone over with the disk to prevent the growth of grass and weeds. A second disking, followed by harrowing, is given just before the grain is sown. A better seed bed can be prepared in this way than by plowing, and it takes much less time and work. If weeds are plentiful, plowing three or four inches deep may be necessary. Harrowing with an ordinary harrow should follow the plowing.

When wheat follows cotton the stalks should be plowed under as soon as the bolls are all open and picked. Plowing in this case should be deep enough to bury the stalks completely in order to destroy the boll weevil. The land should then be firmed with a roller and the wheat sown with a disk drill. Disking or harrowing is not advisable, as it unearths the buried stalks.

When wheat follows other than a cultivated crop, the seed bed should be prepared by plowing the land to a depth of six or seven inches several weeks before seeding. It should then be harrowed at once and afterwards worked down with a harrow, disk, drag, or roller in such a manner as to kill all weeds that start to grow after the topsoil is well broken up. When it is necessary to plow just before seeding, as when a catch crop of cowpeas is plowed under, the soil should be compacted by rolling and harrowing several times before seeding.

BETTER SWINE AND PROFITS

Farmers Learning to Be More Careful in Selection of Their Breeding Animals.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Farmers throughout the country are using improved hog-breeding stock more generally than ever before, report specialists of the United States department of agriculture, as they are learning that the best stock yields the most profits, and hence are more careful in their selection of breeding animals. Farmers, as a rule, seem to be pleased with the outlook for the hog raiser, and the indications point to a large increase in the number of litters to be farrowed this fall. Much trouble was experienced with the early spring litters because of cold weather at farrowing time and on account of feed shortage and the high price of protein feeds, causing many stockmen to allow their brood sows to get into poor condition, with the result that small and weak litters were farrowed. In the main, these farmers have learned a costly lesson, and henceforward it is presumed that they will provide better housing and farrowing conditions as well as ample food of the right mixture for their porkers.

GENERAL FARM NOTES

- Order clover seed now.
- Dig potatoes on a dry day.
- Sprouts, briars, and bushes cut now are not likely to come out again.
- As soon as the kernels have fairly hardened it will do to cut corn for grain and fodder.
- Many farmers are pooling their interests and purchasing fertilizers to gether in carload lots.
- There are two ways to can corn. One is in cans and the other is in the silo. Can all you can both ways.

Your New Home should be made artistic, sanitary and livable.

Alabastine

Instead of kalsomine or wallpaper. How much better, when you have a new home, to start right than to have to correct errors afterward from former treatment with other materials, when you come to the use of Alabastine, as does nearly every one sooner or later. Once your walls are Alabastined you can use any material over it should you desire, but having used Alabastine you will have no desire for any other treatment. Alabastine is so easy to mix and apply — so lasting in its results — so absolutely sanitary — and so generally recognized as the proper decorative material in a class by itself that it is becoming difficult to manufacture fast enough to supply the demand. Alabastine is a dry powder, put up in five-pound packages, white and beautiful tints, ready to mix and use by the addition of cold water, and with full directions on each package. Every package of genuine Alabastine has cross and circle printed in red. Better write us for hand-made color designs and special suggestions. Give us your decorative problems and let us help you work them out. ALABASTINE COMPANY, Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Hades. Chairman Hays said the other day to a political reporter: "Your attack on the senator was unjust. You misinterpreted the man's words. You were as bad as Villers." "Villers and a young lady were conversing on an ocean pier while the bathers down below sported in the breakers or idly strolled on the beach. Suddenly the young lady said: "Doesn't that skinny bather look like Helen Gray?" "Villers nodded. "She sure does" he said, "but I don't call her bathing suit gray. It's blue."

THE "BLUES"
Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people who worry, are dependent, have spells of mental depression, feel blue and are often melancholy, believe that these conditions are due to outside influences over which they have little or no control. Nearly always, however, they can be traced to an internal source—acid-stomach. Not is it to be wondered at. Acid-stomach, besetting with such well defined symptoms as indigestion, belching, heartburn, bloating, etc., will, if not checked, in time affect to some degree or other all the vital organs. The nervous system becomes deranged. Dizziness, weakness, and general debility ensue. The blood is impoverished. Health and strength are undermined. The victim of acid-stomach, although he may not know the cause of his ailments, feels his hope, courage, ambition and energy slipping. And truly life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman who has acid-stomach! Get rid of it! Don't let acid-stomach hold you back, wreck your health, make your days miserable, make you a victim of the "blues" and gloomy thoughts! There is a marvelous modern remedy called EATONIC that brings, oh! such quick relief from your stomach misery—sets your stomach to rights—makes it strong, cool, sweet and comfortable. Helps you get back your strength, vigor, vitality, enthusiasm and good cheer. So many thousands upon thousands of sufferers have used EATONIC with such marvellously helpful results that we are sure you will feel the same way if you will just give it a trial. Get a big 40 cent box of EATONIC—the good tasting tablets that you eat like a bit of candy—from your druggist today. He will return your money if results are not even more than you expect.

COATS THAT COMBINE CHARM AND UTILITY

Now is the time when the warm coat for midwinter comes up for consideration and the buyer goes cheerfully forth to see what she can see. She is destined to find quite a number of new coatings represented in thick, soft weaves and, if gifted with a retentive mind, she may be able to commit their various names to memory. They all seem to be variations of cloths that we have known in the past as Bolivia, zibeline, duvetyrn rough mixtures and other heavy, wooly fabrics that are cozy looking. Some of them we know to be strong and sturdy, others look as promising. Taken as a whole, coatings are richer looking than they have ever been, which is a pleasant thing to contemplate—and measured by prices they certainly ought to look rich.

Some of the new coats are extravagantly high priced and there has been an increase in nearly all of them. The cheerfulness of the buyer is apt to be somewhat dampened unless her purse is long, for fur-trimmed coats must be classed among the luxuries of the rich. Pile fabrics are warm and rich-looking and have proved to be most durable. Coats of these plushes sell at a reasonable price and so do those of heavy wools that are woven like steamer rugs or army blankets. Leather coats have been introduced to provide warm coats at a medium price.

The two coats shown in the picture above are good examples of styles for all-around general wear. They are cut on the most practical lines with muffler collars, big pockets and roomy sleeves. The coat at the left has a narrow belt of cloth with long ends that loop over at the front. A few bone buttons make themselves useful for fastening at the waistline and collar and ornamenting the cuffs. In the coat at the right, the buttons are cloth-covered and the belt slips through a slide at the front. A luxurious collar of skunk fur may be brought up and fastened at the throat, in the face of stormy weather or before the teeth of an icy wind. These are both attractive coats and types of styles that are soft and becoming as well as warm and durable.

Alluring Veils for Autumn Hats

There is something very alluring about veils. They are among the belongings of women, that are peculiarly their own; mere man having no share in this kind of apparel. The wedding veil is a vision that girlhood cherishes and thrills over. Veils are significant and charming—and have in most cases no other season for existence. But they contribute to neatness, if one must be practical, and they are often very flattering. It is the element of style in them, with becomingness, that makes them dear to the hearts of women and provides us with ever-changing weaves and patterns to choose from.

Some modistes have featured veils as an essential part of the trimming of hats, in their displays of fall millinery. The all-over lace patterns appear to have given place to mesh veils with borders, these borders being often in a lace pattern or having a floral design applied to the mesh. Veils fall about the face and head from small and medium-sized hats in ways that seem casual but are not. They are sometimes draped with the border about the hat and the plain edge hanging down, but this is exceptional; nearly always the plain edge is placed about the shape and the border defines the bottom of the veil.

Among the very elegant veils used on dressy hats those of chantilly lace are conspicuous. The mesh is fine in these, and the border a floral pattern above a scalloped edge usually. Black and taupe gray are the favored colors for veils, either color proving practical for the street and becoming to the

"I had one of the worst cases of kidney complaint long since," says Mrs. Wm. Vogt, 6215 Audrey Ave., Wellston, Mo., "and I was laid up in bed for days at a time."

"My bladder was inflamed and the kidney secretions caused terrible pain. My back was in such bad shape that when I moved the pain was like a knife thrust. I got so dizzy I couldn't stoop and my head just throbbed with pain. Heads of perspiration would stand on my temples, then I would become cold and numb. My heart action was affected and I felt as though I couldn't take another breath. I got so nervous and run down, I felt life wasn't worth living and often wished that I might die so my suffering would be ended. Medicine failed to help me and I was discouraged."

"Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I could tell I was being helped after the first few doses. I kept getting better every day and continued use cured me. My health improved in every way and best of all, the cure has been permanent. I feel that Doan's saved my life."—Signed before me, HENRY B. BURKAMP, Notary Public.

Too Ill to Work

in homes, stores, offices and factories are not fit to be at work. They toil on day after day and year after year suffering with distressing weaknesses and derangements, hoping against hope that they will soon feel better, but how can they hope to do good work or escape permanent invalidism?

Such women are in danger of derangement of women's functions. They owe it to themselves to try that good old fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been restoring American Women to health and strength.

Here is a Notable Example
Joplin, Missouri.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see if it really would do as it was advertised and it sure did, and more. I was weak and could not do much work, had bearing down pains and had to go to bed. I learned about the Vegetable Compound from my mother and my husband told me to get it. After taking one bottle I was able to be on my feet most of the time and do my work again. I have a baby eleven months old and I have done all my own work, even the washing and ironing since she was three weeks old. I certainly recommend your great medicine to everyone who complains of female trouble and I am more than willing for you to use my testimonial."
—Mrs. TIMOTHY GRANEY, 426 Connor Ave., Joplin, Mo.

And Another
Chicago, Illinois.—"I suffered for four years with pains in my sides, hips and legs and a terrible backache. I could not do any work at all. I was treated by many physicians but they did not help me. I read in one of your books where other women have been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I tried it and it helped me very much so that now I can do everything in the house. I have told my friends about Vegetable Compound and you have my permission to use this letter."

For First Time In Two Years Givens is Able to Digest Any Kind of Food.

"If anybody had told me that there was any medicine that would help me as Tanlac has, I would have laughed at them," said H. M. Givens, who lives at Anaheim, Cal., while in Los Angeles, the other day.

Mr. Givens is one of the most prominent men in his section, and has been very successful in operating a large orange grove which he owns.

Continuing, he said, "this medicine is worth its weight in gold, and if the price of it was twenty-five dollars a bottle I would buy it just the same. I began to suffer from stomach trouble about three years ago, and although I had treatment from the best specialists in the country, and took many different kinds of medicine, my condition gradually grew worse all the time. I had reached the point where I could retain but very little of what I ate, and often had bad cramping spells. Then my nerves went back on me, and such a thing as a good night's sleep was out of the question with me. I finally had to give up trying to attend to any business, and came to Los Angeles thinking some of the specialists here might help me. I had my stomach washed out numbers of times, but it didn't do me any good at all, and I just got so weak and rundown that I was hardly able to go at all.

"One night about three or four weeks ago while looking over the paper, I noticed a statement about Tanlac that interested me very much, and after reading this statement, I asked my wife to order me a bottle of this medicine. Well, I commenced taking Tanlac that very night, and sir, by the time I had finished the first bottle I knew that I had at last found a medicine that would overcome my troubles and restore me to health. My wife could hardly believe me when I told her that I was hungry and wanted something substantial to eat, and her surprise was even greater when she saw that I could retain what I ate and that I didn't show any signs of suffering afterwards. I just stuck to Tanlac, and continued to improve until I am now feeling like a different man altogether. Why, I actually sat down and ate a big steak yesterday, and that is something I haven't dared do for over two years. I am getting stronger every day, and gaining in weight right along. My appetite is getting better all the time, and I just eat anything that comes to hand, and what I eat doesn't hurt me at all. Oh! I tell you it's wonderful, and my wife and I are so happy over my great improvement that we have sent the good news broadcast to all our friends and relatives. Tanlac is one medicine that will do all they say it will do, and I am more than glad to recommend it to everybody."
