THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF ROOSEVELT COUNTY

PORTALES, NEW MEXICO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 5 1920

Volume XVIII, Number 14

SPECIAL SESSION TO BE HELD FEBRUARY 16

Governor Larrazolo has issued a proclamation fixing Monday, February 16th, as the day for the special session of the Legislature to convene. He names the following subjects to be taken up by the body:

1. To enact laws and to provide funds for the suppression of insurrection and for the public defense.

2. To consider and to act upon the question of the ratification by the legislature, of the Joint Resolution of the Sixty-Sixth Congress of the United States of America, proposing an amendment to the federal constitution, extending the right of suffrage to women.

3. To enact such legislation as may be deemed sufficient, authorizing the county of Hidalgo, in the state of New Mexico, to levy a special tax for the purpose of transcribing the records properly belonging to said county, from the offices or office of the county clerks or clerk of the counties or county from which said county of Hidalgo was created.

4. To enact such legislation as may be deemed sufficient in order to enable the boards of county commissioners of the various counties in the state, the city councils and boards of trustees of incorporated municipalities in the state, at their option, and whenever they may deem it necessary and in the interest of the public health, to make special levies for the purpose of aiding the state Department of Health to carry into effect such rules, regulations and measures as they may consider necessary in preventing disease and in the preservation of the public health in their respective counties or localities.

5. To amend Chapter 123 of the laws of the Fourth Regular Session of the Legislature of the State of New Mexico, being "An Act to provide for taxation of incomes, prescribing penalties and enforcement of delinquent Income Tax Assessments," in such manner as to make said law non-discriminative, and otherwise to make it conformable to the constitutional limitations on that subject, or else to take such other legislative action in regard thereto as to the legislature may appear to be wise and proper.

6. To amend Chapter 127 of the laws of the Fourth Regular Session of the Legislature of this state, being "An Act providing for co-operation between the state and United States in the settlement of soldiers, sailors, marines and others upon state lands and lands acquired under this act; creating a soldier settlement board, defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation therefor," by providing available funds to carry into effect the provisions of said act, and otherwise as the legislature may see fit and proper.

7. To provide funds for the payment of salaries now due and which remain unpaid, for lack of funds, to the officers and employees of the Soldier Settlement Board.

8. To enact such laws as may be sufficient to authorize the boards of county commissioners of the counties of Sierra and Grant in the state of New Mexico, to levy a special road tax for the purpose of providing funds for the construction and maintenance of that portion of the highway from Elephant Butte, in Sierra county, New Mexico, to the Arizona state line, as lies in the respective counties of Sierra and Grant.

9. To enact such legislation as may be necessary in order to authorize boards of county commissioners of the county of Socorro, in the state of New Mexico, to levy a special road tax for the purpose of constructing, improving and maintaining state highway No. 5, from the town of Socorro, through Magdalena, Datil and Quemado to the Arizona state line, being a portion of the highway known as the "Ocean to Ocean Highway."

10. To appropriate the necessary funds to defray the expenses of the special session hereby called.

Gail Hamilton, local manager of the telephone exchange, made an overland trip to Artesia the latter part of last week, returning Tuesday afternoon. He was accompanied by his father and sister and they visited with friends.

R. H. GRISSOM

Pursuant to my announcement for the office of county clerk of the county of Roosevelt, and following the time honored custom of each candidate furnishing his obituary, as some may designate it, I will endeavor to tell a few of the things that the voters will be sure to find out anyway. I was born in the state of Kentucky, and the town of Columbia, and the name I go by now is the same as the one I was known by at the place of my birth. Have lived in Roosevelt county since July, 1906. Am a Democrat now and have always been. As to my qualifications for the office sought, I believe that I am fully competent to do any or all work that may come with the office. I will endeavor to keep the expenses of that portion of the county work as low as efficient service may be rendered for, putting in all of my own time at actual duty. I will appreciate the influence and support of those of my friends who may find me qualified.

R. H. GRISSOM,

Elida, New Mexico,
Candidate for County Clerk.

S. W. Davis, of Clovis, and C. O. Dungan, of Roswell are in the city this week assisting Mr. Hamilton with some telephone improvements.

AT THE COSY SOON

Lovers of pure entertainment will be glad to learn that Mr. Adams, of the Cosy Theater, has booked Mr. Thos. Elmore Lucey for an appearance in Portales in the near future.

Mr. Lucey, who, by the way, is a descendant of Sir Thomas Lucey, famed in the Shakespeare deer-poaching episode of Stratford, has traveled in many lands, and embodies the best things he has seen and heard in his charming entertainments, personating in rapid make-up such celebrities as Twain, Riley, Poe, Lincoln, Pope Leo, Gough, Nye and many others, interspersing with a charming flow of wit, mimicry and ludicrous fun, and sending the audience home radiantly happy for "A Night in a Poet's Workshop."

Watch for further announcement and dates. It

Rev. and Mrs. Callaway left Wednesday for Austin, Texas, where they will visit for awhile with their daughter, Mrs. Henry Waggoner. Rev. Callaway says that he is going to look for a location, and we predict that he will find right here in Portales within the next three months.

We extend thanks to our many friends of Portales and surrounding country for their kindness during the seemingly unbearable loss of our son and brother.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stephenson and Family.

J. W. McMinn this week purchased the John W. Ballow residence in the south part of town. Mr. Ballow has bought the Peggy Neal property.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Kenyon arrived this week from Burkburnett, Texas, for a visit in the parental A. G. Kenyon home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Siegner left last week for Siloam Springs, Arkansas, to make their home.—Clovis News.

QUITE A BIT OF FLU IN ROOSEVELT COUNTY

There are a number of cases of influenza in Roosevelt county at the present time. However the health officer sees no cause for alarm and states that if the people will take the necessary precautions to guard against the disease, and observe strictly the rules laid down by the State Board of Health, the disease should not become epidemic.

As a means of guarding against the influenza, the Silver City Independent published some good suggestions which if followed will be of much benefit in the fight against the epidemic. Following is what they have to say:

The State Department of Health believes that the people of the state should be promptly and fully informed as to the daily prevalence of influenza and to that end has instructed all health officers to wire daily to the department the number of cases appearing in their jurisdiction. This information will be given to the press as received.

Naturally, the question arises, What should be done to avoid infection? The best answer that can be given to this query is to guard the avenues of entrance as far as possible. It appears that the disease finds access to the body through the mouth and nose. Therefore, the following precautions should be observed:

1. Avoid crowds, especially in closed rooms, where the infective organisms are likely to be sprayed into the air by coughing, sneezing, laughing or talking. This applies to large and small gatherings alike.

2. Avoid those persons who are so ill-mannered and selfish as to cough and sneeze without covering the face, or turning the head away.

3. As many articles such as door-knobs, paper, money, etc., are soiled by secretions of the nose and mouth from the fingers of those who handle them, be sure to wash the hands thoroughly before they are allowed to touch the nose, lips or articles of food.

4. While vaccination against influenza does not appear to be of much value in preventing the disease, yet preliminary vaccination against pneumonia does seem to reduce that complication to a considerable extent. However, those suffering from tuberculosis should not take the vaccine without the full consent of their attending physician.

The best single measure for prevention is the prompt isolation of all persons exposed to a case of influenza. If every person who knows that he has been exposed would stay at home for four days after the exposure, his neighbor would be spared much sickness and possible death in many cases.

But in spite of all precautions, some persons will become infected in order to make as complete a recovery as possible and to avoid complications, should one develop suspicious symptoms, such as a headache, backache, fever and cold, the following precautions may be of material help:

1. Go to bed promptly and stay there until all symptoms have been absent for at least five days.

2. Call the best doctor you can get and follow his directions absolutely.

3. Get all the fresh air you can.

The outstanding features of the pandemic influenza last year was the urgent need of community provision for nursing, feeding and medical care on a large scale. In order that the people might be prepared, the State Department of Health issued a complete plan of organization, sending a copy to every health officer last fall. This plan provided for local committees of public-spirited citizens who would band themselves together to furnish the necessary relief work. The department urges that these committees be prepared at once and that all preliminary steps be taken so that if the scourge should once more fall upon this state, it shall not be found in a helpless condition of unpreparedness such as demoralized the communities last winter.

REINSTATEMENT OF WAR INSURANCE HOLDS GOOD

To relieve any confusion that may exist in the minds of former service men on account of the special provision of lapsed War Term Insurance which authorized reinstatement up to December 31, 1919, regardless of date of discharge, announcement is made by Director E. G. Cholmeley-Jones of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance that the provisions for reinstatement of lapsed or cancelled insurance, within 18 months from date of discharge, upon payment of only two months' premiums on the amount of insurance to be reinstated, provided the insured is in as good health as at the date of discharge or expiration of the grace period whichever is the later date, and so states in his application, still holds good.

The provisions that discharged service men are permitted to reinstate at any time within three calendar months following the month of discharge by merely paying two months' premiums, without making a formal application or a statement as to health is also still in force.

The provisions for reinstatement do not protect a man until he actually reinstates. If he waits he may not be in as good health as he was at the time of discharge and consequently may not be able to secure reinstatement.

Don't put off reinstatement. Do it now!

M. M. McGee, the income tax man, is in the city this week.

CAVALRY TROOP FOR PORTALES

Portales has been named as one of the four towns in the state for a squadron of cavalry for New Mexico under the new organization of the National Guard.

Capt. T. J. Molinari has been asked to recruit the necessary men. If seventy men are found who will sign up the government will build the stables, furnish the horses, feed them and pay the men to drill. Many have already signified their desire to get into the new organization and it is expected that the required number will be secured within a short time.

The pie supper held at Fairfield last Saturday night was certainly a success, the proceeds amounting to $206.75. This will be used to purchase a piano for church and school use. The Fairfield people wish to thank all those who attended and especially those from Portales. Burl Johnson acted as auctioneer.

A SAD ACCIDENT

One of the saddest accidents which has occurred in Portales in a long time took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Stephenson in the south part of town last Saturday evening, when their son, Arch, was accidentally killed.

Arch and his brother-in-law, Joe Wolforth Jr. were at the Stephenson home and had been working on Mr. Stephenson's car and had finished their work when during the course of happenings some differences came up between the two which brought on a fist fight. Only a few blows were struck when Arch fell striking his head against the car which broke his neck.

A coroner's jury was summoned and after the inquest the body was taken to Neer's Undertaking Parlor where it was prepared for burial.

Mr. Wolforth immediately came to town and told the officers what had taken place and was released on bond. He was given a preliminary hearing Wednesday and bound over to await the action of the grand jury at the March term of the District Court.

The many friends of both parties are very sorry for the misfortune as it was purely accidental and the families have the sympathy of the entire community.

Rev. J. C. Newman has resigned as pastor of the Baptist church at this place and will leave with his family next week for Gilmer, Texas, at which place he has accepted a call. Rev. Newman and family have made many warm friends during the few months they have lived in Portales and are sorry to lose but who wish them well in their new location. Rev. Newman will preach his farewell sermon at the church next Sunday and all are cordially invited to attend.

A CORRECTION

In last week's issue of the News we ran a notice of the marriage of Mr. W. A. Strickland and Mrs. Willie D. Stuart. The latter should have been Mrs. Willie D. Pruet, and we gladly make the correction.

The Silver Tea given by the Woman's Missionary Society at the home of Mrs. Dickbreder, Thursday afternoon, January 29, was a decided success. Mrs. J. D. White was leader. A reading by Mrs. Dennison was fine. Some of the program was omitted on account of sickness. Following the program a dainty refreshment course was served and a social good time had. About fifty ladies attended. Next meeting will be a business meeting at the home of Mrs. E. N. Wheeler, Thursday afternoon, February 12th. All members are urged to be present.

ARCH STEPHENSON

On last Saturday afternoon, the tragical death of Arch Stephenson was a severe shock not only to Portales, but was far reaching in its poignant horror as he was a young man of sterling worth and fine sensibilities. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stephenson pioneers of this county, and well known throughout Eastern New Mexico.

Young Mr. Stephenson served in the U. S. Navy from December 10, 1917 to February, 1919. He made four trips across the ocean and was on the Cruiser Santa Avo when it was sunk, and remained three and one-half hours in the water, an account of which was given in the Portales Valley News at the time. Later he was transferred to the Transport Mercury, where he remained until his discharge.

He was a Master Mason for more than a year and had presented himself for membership to the American Legion.

Though not quite 24 years old he had assumed a quiet business attitude toward life and was the soul of honor in his business dealings with mankind.

The Masonic Lodge of Portales conducted the funeral with Rev. Slaughter as Chaplain. Miss Hallie Mitchell sang "Lead Kindly Light," assisted by Miss Leta Smith at the piano. Interment in the City cemetery was an expression of love and respect. Added to the honors of the Masonic Lodge was a touching military display with the bugle call, played by Leg Greene, sounding its funeral dirge as the body was lowered in the grave.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. S. N. Hancock, Leon Jones, Lee Carter, Harold Rogers, Howard Leach and M. K. Smith.

The beautiful floral offerings! How gentle in their sympathies! It was impossible to read their language, but we knew that their mission in life had been fulfilled as they seemed to try in their innocence to typify the close of the young life that had left its early pilgrimage.

The deceased leaves a father, mother, one brother and six sisters, besides a host of friends to mourn his loss. One sister, Mrs. Beulah Tubbs, of Farmington, N. M., was unable to attend the funeral.

Dear loved ones, the aching in your hearts is an emblem of what his life meant to you. All that kind and loving friends can say or do will not fill the vacancy caused by his departure. It is ours to ask God's blessings upon you. Look to Him, He has promised to help us in our adversities.

Jack Callaway, of Wilson, Texas, arrived today to visit with his parents and friends for a few days. When he arrived he learned that his parents had left the day before for Austin, Texas.

Roy Austin and family left the latter part of last week for Chandler, Arizona, where they will make their home in the future. They made the trip in their car.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Anderson are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine boy who arrived at their home last Saturday, January 31st.

Chas. W. Yoachum arrived the latter part of last week from Burkburnett, Texas, and will visit with his family for some ten days.

Mrs. Allen Nelson, Ollie Ratliff and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Nelson of Clovis, were visitors at the Charley Nelson home this week.

Joe Howard returned today from Hobart, Oklahoma, where he has been for several weeks looking after business interests.

Mrs. Maude Smith and daughter, Miss Leta, are in Kansas City this week taking in the sights.

Sends Word From Mexico That He Will Face Trial and Fight Dempsey.

Mexico City.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight pugilistic champion of the world, plans to return to the United States at once to face charges pending against him in Chicago, Ill., according to a letter shown The Associated Press by Johnson.

The letter was written by him to Charles F. Clynne, United States district attorney at Chicago.

Johnson asserted that he weighed 213 pounds but would go into training immediately after reaching the United States and would be able to easily make his old fighting weight.

Johnson's indictment grew out of allegations that he paid the railroad fare of a woman from Pittsburg to Chicago.

HOME SWEET HOME AT LAST

M'GRAW HAS NOW WITHDRAWN

LEAVING CLEAR FIELD FOR HAMON

Church Issue Credited With Defeating Republican National Committee.

Oklahoma City.—James J. McGraw has definitely withdrawn from the race for republican national committee from Oklahoma, ending the bitterest party fight for an office that pays prestige but no salary since Oklahoma became a state.

Defeated overwhelmingly in the county conventions in the sixth district, recalling the loss of the seventh district at Hobart last week and appreciating that he was fighting a hopeless defensive against the wave of anti-Roman Catholic sentiment developed, McGraw resigned the field to Jake Hamon of Ardmore and announced that he is off to Chicago to participate in the national party for General Leonard Wood for president, of which organization McGraw is vice-chairman.

The withdrawal of McGraw insures the selection of uninstructed delegates to the national convention.

Health Warning Issued By Houston. Houston.—Although there have been no serious indications of the approach of an influenza epidemic here, the city health officer has issued warnings to hotels to exercise every care.

JUROR CHANGED HIS MIND

After He Had Been Whipped And Ducked In The Mud.

Monroe, La.—When a dissenting juror M. C. Hooter refused to agree to the verdict of guilty in the trial of Alvin Calhoun, negro, for the murder of N. H. Arnold, January, at Tallulah, La., he was publicly whipped and then dipped in a mud hole, according to reports from Tallulah reaching here.

When the jury returned to its quarters in the courthouse, escorting the downcast, mud-covered dissenting juror, a verdict of guilty of first degree murder was agreed upon, and the jury then appeared in the court room and reported its findings. The dissenting juror was later waited upon by committee and ordered to leave Tallulah.

Calhoun confessed to the murder of Arnold, a young farmer who had emigrated south from Danville, Ky., several months ago.

WHISKEY FOR FLU PATIENTS

REVENUE COLLECTOR AUTHORIZES ISSUE OF RUM RATIONS

EPIDEMIC IS ON THE INCREASE

Although Not Yet Violent Enough In Oklahoma To Cause Any Public Apprehension.

Oklahoma City.—That it is an ill wind that blows no good was the opinion of influenza patients in Oklahoma City when Hubert L. Bolen, United States internal revenue collector, signed a permit for Dr. J. T. Martin, superintendent of the city health department, to issue prescriptions for federal whiskey for persons suffering from influenza.

The maximum amount which can be prescribed for one patient is one pint for each period of ten days.

Authority from Capitol. The permit was issued by Bolen on authority received from Daniel C. Roper, commissioner of internal revenue.

The prescriptions will be filled from the supply of confiscated whiskey being held by the United States marshal here. Bolen said he believed no charge would be made for the whiskey.

Some attorneys in the city held the opinion that distribution of whiskey to influenza patients under the plan would violate the state prohibitory law.

Following the announcement that whiskey will be issued, the reports of cases in the city jumped from thirty-four to 123 within a few hours.

No Prescriptions For Colds. "There is to be a close distinction between bad colds and the 'flu' and only regular 'flu' cases will receive the prescription," said Dr. W. H. Miles, assistant city physician. "The real 'flu' is developing rapidly but so far only one death has been due directly, and two indirectly, to the disease."

That the city should begin at once to prohibit congregation of persons in places of amusement was the opinion expressed by some physicians.

Health Warning Issued By Houston. Houston.—Although there have been no serious indications of the approach of an influenza epidemic here, the city health officer has issued warnings to hotels to exercise every care.

Public eating houses, hotels and rooming houses must observe the city health ordinances to the letter, the health officer declared.

DEBS' SPEECH IS IN RECORD

Revolutionary Remarks Read To Assembly Committee.

Albany, N. Y.—Eugene V. Debs' last speech before his voice was silenced by a penitentiary sentence of ten years for violating the espionage act, was read into the record at the trial of the five suspended socialist assemblymen being tried by the judiciary committee on charges of disloyalty.

In his speech made before socialists in Cleveland last March, Debs declaring he spoke "as a socialist, revolutionist and a bolshevik," praised Lenin and Trotsky "as the greatest statesmen in the modern world" and expressed defiance to the laws of this country and the supreme court. The speech was distributed in pamphlet form "by the city committee of the socialist party of Greater New York," according to the prosecution.

Asserting that only part of the "working class" was allowed to play in the making of peace was through a "second-hand representative—Sam Gompers," Debs in his speech said: "I am opposed to the system under which we live; I am opposed to its government, which compels the great majority to pay tribute to the insignificant few."

Erzberger's Wound Grows Serious. Berlin.—The condition of Dr. Mathias Erzberger the finance minister who was shot by an assassin was considerably worse and dispelled the hope of his colleagues that he would be able to resume work in a few days.

German Prisoners Leaving France. Paris.—Repatriation of German prisoners of war, which began last week, is proceeding rapidly. Trains have left from Valenciennes, Cambrai, Toul, Verdun and other concentration points.

Newberry Jury Is Selected. Grand Rapids.—Twelve jurors, all accepted for service filled the box in the trial of Senator Truman H. Newberry and 123 political aides in the senatorial campaign of 1918. Taking of evidence has begun.

Nevada To Have Special Session. Reno.—Governor Boyle issued a call for a special session of the legislature to consider ratification of the federal suffrage amendment. The legislature is to convene for one day, February 7, in the figures received.

To Deport Communists. Washington.—The communist party of America was held by Secretary of Labor Wilson to be "a revolutionary party," within the meaning of the statutes providing for deportation of aliens who affiliate with such organizations. In the case of Englebert Preis, an Austrian, arrested in recent raids, execution of a deportation warrant was ordered by Mr. Wilson, paying the way for deportation of many aliens now in custody and against whom similar charges have been brought.

RAIL EXECUTIVE IS TO RETIRE

PARTY RESCUE AVIATORS

Two Fliers Stranded Thirty Miles South of Rio Grande.

Brownsville, Texas.—Several aviators of the Eighth aero squadron at McAllen, Texas, were awaiting permission from the Mexican government to cross the international boundary and carry oil and gasoline to Lieuts. E. F. Davis and G. E. Grimes, who made a forced landing thirty miles below the Zapata county, Texas, border.

Major Torres, acting commander of Mexican troops in the Matamoros district telegraphed the Mexican war department recommending such permission be granted. So far as known here no reply had been received.

Grimes and Davis still are in Guerrero, a Mexican village 140 miles west of Matamoros, according to latest advices at Fort Brown. It was said the two fliers probably would remain there until they are able to bring out their machine, the landing of which was forced by exhaustion of the supply of gasoline after the aviators had become lost in a fog. They are not prisoners, except in a technical sense, it was said at Fort Brown, and are being shown every courtesy by Mexican officials.

Let "Danderine" check nasty scurf and stop hair falling out.

To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair usually stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff. Soon every hair on your scalp shows new life, vigor, brightness, thickness and more color.—Adv.

M'GRAW HAS NOW WITHDRAWN

LEAVING CLEAR FIELD FOR HAMON

Church Issue Credited With Defeating Republican National Committee.

Oklahoma City.—James J. McGraw has definitely withdrawn from the race for republican national committee from Oklahoma, ending the bitterest party fight for an office that pays prestige but no salary since Oklahoma became a state.

Defeated overwhelmingly in the county conventions in the sixth district, recalling the loss of the seventh district at Hobart last week and appreciating that he was fighting a hopeless defensive against the wave of anti-Roman Catholic sentiment developed, McGraw resigned the field to Jake Hamon of Ardmore and announced that he is off to Chicago to participate in the national party for General Leonard Wood for president, of which organization McGraw is vice-chairman.

The withdrawal of McGraw insures the selection of uninstructed delegates to the national convention.

BARRETT GOES TO BORDER

To Investigate River Bed Troubles for Gov. Robertson.

Oklahoma City.—Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett and Col. E. H. Markham, commander of the Second Oklahoma Infantry, left for Grandfield to investigate the boundary dispute which is disturbing claimants of the oil-producing bed of the Red river between Oklahoma and Texas.

Authority to commission as many deputies as might be necessary to preserve the peace of the state and enforce the orders of the Oklahoma court was given by telegram by Governor Robertson to Austin Perryman, sheriff of Tillman county.

Oklahomans still are holding the Burk-Divide well, over which the contest is going on now in greatest intensity. A. M. Stewart said. In spite of opposition by Texas rangers, a telegram reported to him, Oklahomans went forward with the erection of a tank for the storage of oil from the well. It is estimated the well is flowing at the rate of 5,000 barrels a day, all of which is running down the bed of the river.

Lane Determined To Resign. Washington.—Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, has not reconsidered his decision to retire from the cabinet at an early date.

Roumania Files Protest. Paris.—Roumania is the first of the allied powers to protest against decisions of the peace conference on the ground that the United States has not yet ratified the treaty and is not participating in the enforcement of its terms. The Roumanians have submitted a memorandum declaring that the decisions of the inter-allied Danube commission "are null and void because there was no American report upon the organization." The commission held sessions at Belgrade, throughout December.

Huns Ask Allies To Waive Demands. Paris.—The peace conference received a note from Germany asking the allies to waive their demand for the extradition of war criminals.

U. S. Women Told To Leave Siberia. Vladivostok.—American army authorities believe it will be March 15 before the last American soldiers and Red Cross workers are out of Siberia. Orders have been sent that all American women be hurried out of trans-Baikalia which is in the path of the advancing anarchist army.

YugoSlavs Bow To Ally Demand. Berne.—A Belgrade dispatch says that the Yugo-Slav government has decided to accept the allied ultimatum with regard to settlement of the Adriatic controversy.

Houston Succeeds Glass. Washington.—David F. Houston of St. Louis, now secretary of agriculture, was nominated by President Wilson to be secretary of the treasury. At the same time Edwin T. Meredith of Des Moines, Iowa, was nominated to succeed Mr. Houston.

Louis W. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern railroad and son of the late James J. Hill, will retire from active management of the road shortly after it is restored to private ownership. His stated that Ralph Budd would direct the management.

PARTY RESCUE AVIATORS

Two Fliers Stranded Thirty Miles South of Rio Grande.

Brownsville, Texas.—Several aviators of the Eighth aero squadron at McAllen, Texas, were awaiting permission from the Mexican government to cross the international boundary and carry oil and gasoline to Lieuts. E. F. Davis and G. E. Grimes, who made a forced landing thirty miles below the Zapata county, Texas, border.

Major Torres, acting commander of Mexican troops in the Matamoros district telegraphed the Mexican war department recommending such permission be granted. So far as known here no reply had been received.

Grimes and Davis still are in Guerrero, a Mexican village 140 miles west of Matamoros, according to latest advices at Fort Brown. It was said the two fliers probably would remain there until they are able to bring out their machine, the landing of which was forced by exhaustion of the supply of gasoline after the aviators had become lost in a fog. They are not prisoners, except in a technical sense, it was said at Fort Brown, and are being shown every courtesy by Mexican officials.

Why suffer from a bad back? from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary ills? Portales people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Could you ask for stronger proof of merit?
Edwin M. Rowden, carpenter, 411 N. Redding St., Clovis, N. M., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are now all right. My kidneys were in a bad way years ago and I don't know what caused the trouble, but it surely did bother me. My back was lame and stiff and made bending or stooping almost impossible. The action of my kidneys was irregular, too. Dizzy spells often bothered me and I felt badly all over. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and right from the start, they helped me. Two boxes cured me of the trouble. Anyone who doubts the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills should see me personally."

CHARLES ANGLIN GAINS 18 POUNDS
Was Almost a Physical Wreck Before Taking Tanlac—Feels Fine Now.
About the luckiest day of my life was when I began taking Tanlac," said Charles E. Anglin of 152 Beale Ave., Memphis, Tenn.
"Several years ago," he continued, "while living at Jonesboro, Arkansas, I had such a terrible attack of acute indigestion that I came near playing out. My stomach was in an awful fix and I just had to be most careful about my food, and even then I suffered nearly every day. My trouble pulled me down in strength and weight till I was almost a physical wreck and had to quit work entirely. I couldn't eat or sleep to do any good and would roll and toss in misery all night long. The medicines I took gave me only temporary relief and I was soon as bad off as I was before, if not even worse."
"My wife advised me to try Tanlac, as we had been reading so much about it, so I started on it and a few bottles of this medicine frightened me out fine. In fact, before I had finished my first bottle of Tanlac I was eating anything I wanted and improved so much that I was soon back at work feeling all right. I picked up eighteen pounds in weight and my clothes were getting too tight for me. Tanlac is a wonder and I don't believe it has an equal in the world."
Tanlac is sold in Portales by Ed J. Neer.

The Subbie Burst.
Young Tom was spending Christmas in the country and had been invited to the beautiful home of a sweet young thing named Agnes.
"What a charming place!" he said enthusiastically, to Agnes' proud parents. "Does it go as far as those woods over there?"
"It does," remarked the somewhat unsympathetic father.
"Ah," said Tom, still cheerily; "and to that old stone wall over there, sir?"
"It does," came the gruff answer; "and it goes as far as the river on the south, and to the main road on the north."
"Beautiful!" put in Tom.
"Yes," went on the old man, "but it doesn't go with Agnes!"
Then Tom faded peacefully from view.

Stockings for Christmas Only.
The Christmas stocking as generally known is one taken from the bureau supply for daily wear. In certain parts of the country, however, the Christmas stocking is never in use except to be "hung from the chimney with care." The New England stocking of this kind is usually long in the leg and knitted from woolen yarn. There are stockings on Cape Cod which have been used by four generations of children. Once emptied of their treasure on Christmas morning they are rolled up and marked and laid away for the next year's festivities.

The Question of Importance.
Millionaire—Till me, child, that young man who wants to marry you this Christmas, has he got any money?
Miss Innocence—Money, father? Why, he has just given me a cluster diamond ring studded with pearls.
Millionaire—Yes, I know. Has he any money left?

CHILLS, COLDS, FEVERISHNESS

Black-Draught Is Used by Virginia Lady for Colds, Fever and Other Troubles With Fine Results.

Rocky Mount, Va.—Miss Mae Chittwood, of this place, recently stated: "I have used Black-Draught for colds and stomach trouble and certainly have found it very satisfactory.

When I would feel bad and feverish, as though I was taking a fresh cold, I would make a good cup of Black-Draught tea and it would soon set me all right.

I can recommend it as a splendid laxative and gladly do so. You may publish my statement."

When you feel chilly, tired, feverish, headachy and fear that you are taking cold, take a good dose of the old, reliable, liver medicine you have heard so much about—Thedford's Black-Draught. It is made from purely vegetable ingredients, acts in a gentle, natural way, and by helping to drive out poisonous waste matter from your system, it will often, if taken in time, prevent a chill from developing into a cold.

Thousands of people, during the past 70 years, have found Black-Draught of benefit in such cases.

Try it, the next time you chill or sneeze.—Adv.

Get rid of Indigestion and Stomach Worries with "Pape's Diapepsin"

"Really does" put weak, disordered stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness due to acid fermentation—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach antacid and regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments and turns sour, you belch gas and eructate undigested food or water; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness. A box of Pape's Diapepsin tablets costs so little at drug stores too.—Adv.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh.—Adv.

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND SWAMP-ROOT

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do.

Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

CHAPTER III—Continued

"By the way, dear king," I said, assuming a casual manner, "do you happen to have a son?"

"No!" he answered. "Calypso is my only child."

"Very strange!" I said, "we met a whimsical lad in our travels whom I would have sworn was her brother."

"That's odd!" said the "king" imperceptibly, "but no! I have no son," and he seemed to say it with a certain sadness.

Then Calypso came in to join my audience, having, meanwhile, taken the opportunity of twining a scarlet sibilus among her luxuriant dark curls. I should certainly have told the story better without her, yet I was glad—how glad!—to have her seated there, an attentive presence in a simple gown, white as the sea foam—from which, there was no further doubt in my mind, she had magically sprung.

I gave them the whole story, such as I had told it in John Saunders' snigger—John P. Tobias, Jr.; dear old Tom and his sucking fish, his ghosts, sharks, skeletons, and all; and when I had finished, I found that the interest of my story was once more chiefly centered in my pock-marked friend of "the wonderful works of God."

"I should like to meet your pock-marked friend," said King Alcinoos, "and I have a notion that, with you as a bait, I shall not long be denied the pleasure."

"I am inclined to think that I have seen him already," said Calypso, using her honey-golden voice for the base purpose of mentioning him.

"Impossible!" I cried; "he is long since safe in Nassau jail."

"Oh, not lately," she answered to my interposed surprise, and giving a swift embarrassed look at her father, which I at once connected with the secret of the doubloons.

"Seriously, Calypso?" asked her father, with a certain stern affection, as thinking of her safety. "On one of your errands to town?"

And then, turning to me, he said: "Sir Ulysses, you have spoken well, and your speech has been that free, open-hearted speech that wins its way alike among the Hyperboreans that dwell in frozen twilight near the northern star, and those dwarfed and swarthy intelligences that blacken in the fierce sunlight of that fearful axle we call the equator. Therefore, I will make return to you of speech no less frank and true..."

He took a puff at his cigar, and then continued:

"I should not risk this confession, but that it is easy to see that you belong to the race of Eternal Children, to which, you may have realized, my daughter and I also belong. This adventure of yours after buried treasure has not seriously been for the doubloons and pieces of eight, the million dollars, and the million and a half dollars themselves, but for the fun of going after them, sailing the unknown seas, coral islands, and all that sort of blessed moonshine. Well, Calypso and I are just like that, and I am going to tell you something exciting—we too have our buried treasure. It is nothing like so magnificent in amount as yours, or your Henry P. Tobias—and where it is at this particular moment I know as little as yourself. In fact it is Calypso's secret..."

I looked across at Calypso, but her eyes were far beyond capture, in unplumeted seas.

"I will show you presently where I found it, among the rocks near by—now a haunt of wild bees."

"Can you ever forget that passage in the Georgics? It makes the honey taste sweeter to me every time I taste it. We must have some of it for dinner, by the way, Calypso."

I could not help laughing, and so, for a moment, breaking up the story. The dear fellow! Was there any business of human importance from which he could not be diverted by a quotation from Homer or Virgil or Shakespeare? But he was soon in the saddle again.

"Well," he resumed, "one day, some seven years ago, in a little cave below the orange trees, grubbing about as I am fond of doing, I came upon a beautiful old box of beaten copper, sunk deep among the roots of a fig tree. It was strong, but it seemed too dainty for a pirate—some great lady's jewel box more likely—Calypso shall show it to us presently. On opening it—what do you think? It spilled over with golden doubloons—among which were submerged some fine jewels, such as this tie ring you see me wearing. Actually, it was no great treasure, at a monetary calculation—certainly no fortune—but from our romantic point of view, as belonging to the race of Eternal Children, it was El Dorado, Aladdin's lamp, the mines of Peru, the whole sunken Spanish Main, glistening fifty fathoms deep in mother-of-pearl and the moon. It was the very Secret Rose of Romance; and, also, mark you, it was some money—oh, perhaps, all told, it might be some five thousand guineas, or—what would you say?—twenty-five odd thousand dollars; Calypso knows better than I, and she, as I said, alone knows where it is now hid, and how much of it now remains."

He paused to relight his cigar, while Calypso and I—Well, he began again: "Now my daughter and I," and he paused to look at her fondly, "though of the race of Eternal Children, are not without some of the innocent wisdom which Holy Writ countenances as the self-protection of the innocent—Calypso, I may say, is particularly endowed with this quality, needing it as she does especially for the guardianship for her foolish talkative old father, who, by the way, is almost at the end of his tale. So, when this old chest flashed its bewildering dazzle upon us, we, being poor folk, were not more dazzled than afraid. For—like the poor man in the fable—such good fortune was all too likely to be our undoing, should it come to the ears of the great, or the indigent criminal. The 'great' in our thought was, I am ashamed to say, the sacred British treasury, by an ancient law of which, forty per cent of all 'treasure-trove' belongs to his majesty the king. The 'indigent criminal' was represented by—well, our colored (and not so very much colored) neighbors. Of course we ought to have sent the whole treasure to your friend, John Saunders of his Britannic majesty's government at Nassau, but—Well, he didn't. Some day, perhaps, you will put in a word for us with him, as you drink his old port, in the snuggery. Meanwhile, we had an idea, Calypso and I—"

He paused for Calypso had involuntarily made a gesture, as though pleading to be spared the whole revelation—and then with a smile, continued:

"We determined to hide away our little hoard where it would be safe from our neighbors, and dispose of it according to our needs with a certain tradesman in the town whom we thought we could trust—a tradesman, who, by the way, quite naturally levies a little tax upon us for his security. No blame to him! I have lived far too long to be hard on human nature."

"John Sweeney?" I asked, looking over at Calypso with eyes that dared at last to smile.

"The very same, my Lord Ulysses," answered my friend.

And so I came to understand that Mr. Sweeney's reluctance in selling me that doubloon was not so sinister as it seemed. I sprang toward her; but she was too quick for me, and laughingly vanished through an opening in the trees. I was not to kiss her that day.

Calypso was so long coming back that I began to grow anxious—was, indeed, on the point of going down into the town in search of her, when she suddenly appeared, rather out of breath and evidently a little excited—as though, in fact, she had been running away from something. She caught me by the arm with a laugh.

"Do you want to see your friend Tobias?" she said.

"Tobias? Impossible!"

"Come here," and she led me a yard or two back the way she had come, and then looked through the trees.

"Gone!" she said, "but he was there a minute or two ago—or at least someone that is his photograph—and of course he's there yet, hidden in the brush, and probably got his eyes on us all the time. Did you see that seven-year apple tree move?"

"His favorite tree?" I laughed.

"Hardly strong enough to hang him on, though." And I realized that she was King Alcinoos' daughter.

We crouched lower for a moment or two but the seven-year apple tree didn't move again, and we agreed that there was no use in waiting for Tobias to show his hand.

"But what made you think it was Tobias?" I asked, "and how did it all happen?"

"I could hardly fail to recognize him from your flattering description," she answered, "and indeed it all happened rather like another experience of mine. I had gone into Sweeney's store—you remember—and was just paying my bill."

"I came Upon a Beautiful Old Box of Beaten Copper."

had, at the moment, appeared; that it had in fact come of a loyalty which was already for me the most precious of loyalties.

"Then," said I, "as a fitting conclusion to the confidence you have reposed in me, my Lord Alcinoos, if Miss Calypso would have the kindness to let us have a sight of that chest of beaten copper of which you spoke, I would like to restore this, that was once a part of its contents, wherever the rest of them" (and I confess that I paused a moment) "may be in hiding."

And I took from my pocket the sacred doubloon that I had bought from John Sweeney—may Heaven have mercy upon his soul!—for sixteen dollars and seventy-five cents, on that immortal evening.

CHAPTER IV.

In Which the "King" Dreams a Dream—and Tells Us About It.

The afternoon, under the spell of its various magic, had been passing all too swiftly, and at length I grew reluctantly aware that it was time for me to go. King Alcinoos raised his hand with a gesture that could not well be denied. That led me—his invitation being accepted without further parley—to mention the idea I had conceived as I came along, of exploring those curious old ruined buildings.

"Tomorrow," he announced, "tomorrow we shall begin—there is not a moment to lose. We will send Samson with a message to your captain—there is no need for you to go yourself; time is too precious—and in a week, who knows but that Monte Cristo shall seem like a pauper and a penny gaff in comparison with the fantasies of our fearful wealth."

So, for that evening, all was laughingly decided. In a week's time, it was agreed, we should have difficulty in recognizing each other. We should be so disguised in cloth of gold, and so blinding to look upon with rings and ropes of pearls.

When we met at breakfast next morning, glad to see one another again as few people are at breakfast, it was evident that, as far as the "king" was concerned, our dream had lost nothing in the night watches. On the contrary, its wings had grown to an amazing span and iridescence.

Calypso, it transpired, had certain household matters—of which the "king" of course was ever divinely oblivious—that would take her on an errand into the town. Those disposed of, we two eternal children were at liberty to be as foolish as we pleased. The "king" bowed his uncrowned head, as kings, from time immemorial have bowed their diadems before the quiet command of the domesticities; and it was arranged that I should be Calypso's escort on her errand.

So we set forth in the freshness of the morning, and the woods that had been so black and bewildering at my coming opened before us in equal paths, and all that tropical equator that had been foul with sweat and insects seemed strangely vernal to me, so that I could hardly believe that I had trodden that way before. And for our companion all the way along—or, at least for my other companion—was the Wonder of the World, the beautiful strangeness of living, and that marvel of a man's days upon the earth which lies in not knowing what a day shall bring forth, if only we have a little patience with Time—Time, with those gold keys at his girdle, ready, at any turn of the ways, to unlock the hidden treasure that is to be the meaning of our lives.

"How should I try to express what it was to walk by her side, knowing all that we both knew?—knowing, or giddily believing that I knew, how her heart, with every breath she took, vibrated like a living flower, with waves of color, changing from moment to moment like a happy, trembling dawn. To know—yet not to say! Yes! we were both at that divine moment which hangs like a dewdrop in the morning sun—ah! all too ready to fall. Oh! keep it poised, in that miraculous balance, 'twixt time and eternity—for this crystal made of light and dew is the meaning of the life of man and woman upon the earth."

As we came to the borders of the wood near the edge of the little town we called a counsel of two. As the outcome of it we concluded that, having in mind the "king's" ambitious plans for our cloth-of-gold future, and for other obvious reasons, it was better that she went into the town alone—I to await her in the shadow of the mahogany tree.

As she turned to leave me she drew up from her bosom a little bag that hung by a silver chain, and opening it drew out, with a laugh—a golden doubloon!

I sprang toward her; but she was too quick for me, and laughingly vanished through an opening in the trees. I was not to kiss her that day.

Calypso was so long coming back that I began to grow anxious—was, indeed, on the point of going down into the town in search of her, when she suddenly appeared, rather out of breath and evidently a little excited—as though, in fact, she had been running away from something. She caught me by the arm with a laugh.

"Do you want to see your friend Tobias?" she said.

"Tobias? Impossible!"

"Come here," and she led me a yard or two back the way she had come, and then looked through the trees.

"Gone!" she said, "but he was there a minute or two ago—or at least someone that is his photograph—and of course he's there yet, hidden in the brush, and probably got his eyes on us all the time. Did you see that seven-year apple tree move?"

"His favorite tree?" I laughed.

"Hardly strong enough to hang him on, though." And I realized that she was King Alcinoos' daughter.

We crouched lower for a moment or two but the seven-year apple tree didn't move again, and we agreed that there was no use in waiting for Tobias to show his hand.

"But what made you think it was Tobias?" I asked, "and how did it all happen?"

"I could hardly fail to recognize him from your flattering description," she answered, "and indeed it all happened rather like another experience of mine. I had gone into Sweeney's store—you remember—and was just paying my bill."

"In the usual coinage?" I ventured. She gave me a long, whimsical smile—once more her father's daughter.

"That, I'm afraid, was the trouble," she answered; "for as I laid my money down on the counter I suddenly noticed that there was a person at the back of the store."

"A person?" I interrupted. "Yes! Suppose we say 'a pock-marked person'; was it you?"

"What a memory you have for details," I parried; "and then?"

"Well! I took my change and managed to whisper a word to Sweeney—a good friend, remember—and came out. I took a short cut back, but the 'person' that had stood in the back of the store seemed to know the way almost better than I—so well that he got ahead of me. He was walking quietly this way and so slowly that I had at last to overtake him. He said nothing, just watched me as if interested in the way I was going—but, I'm ashamed to say, he rather frightened me! And here I am."

"Well, then," I said, "let's hurry home and talk it over with the 'king.'"

The "king," as I had realized, was a practical "romantic" and at once took the matter seriously, leaving—as might have surprised some of those who had only heard him talk—his conversational fantasies on the theme to come later.

Calypso, however, had the first word.

"I always told you, dad," she said—and the word "dad" on the lips of that statuesque girl—who always seemed ready to take that inspired framework of rags and bones and talking music into her protecting arms—seemed quite the quaintest of paradoxes—"I always told you, dad, what would happen, with your fairy tales of the doubloons."

"Quite true, my dear," he answered, "but isn't a fairy tale worth paying for?—worth a little trouble? And remember, if you will allow me, two things about fairy tales: there must always be some evil fairy in them, some dragon or such like; and there is always a happy ending. Now the dragon enters at last—in the form of Tobias; and we should be happy on that very account. It shows that the race of dragons is not, as I feared, extinct. And as for the happy ending, we will arrange it, after lunch—for which, by the way, you are somewhat late."

After lunch the "king" resumed, but in a brief and entirely practical vein:

"We are about to be besieged," he said. "The woods, probably, are already thick with spies. For the moment we must suspend operations on our Golconda"—his name for the ruins that we were to excavate—"and, as our present purpose—yours no less than ours, friend Ulysses—is to confuse Tobias, my suggestion is this: that you walk with me a mile or two to the northward. There is an entertaining mangrove swamp I should like to show you, and also you can give me your opinion of an idea of mine that you will understand all the better when I have taken you over the ground."

So we walked beyond the pines, down onto a long, interminable flat land of marl marshes and mangrove trees—so like that in which Charlie Webster had shot the snake and the wild duck—that only Charlie could have seen any difference.

"Now," said the "king," "do you see a sort of pier there, overgrown with mangroves and palmettos?"

"Yes," I answered, "almost—though it's so choked up it's almost impossible to say."

"Well," said the "king," "that's the idea; you haven't forgotten those old ruins we are going to explore. You remember how choked up they are. Well, this was the covered waterway, the secret creek, by which the pirates—John Teach, or whoever it was; perhaps John P. Tobias himself—used to land their loot. It's so overgrown nowadays that no one can find the entrance but myself and a friend or two; do you understand?"

We walked a little farther, and then at length came to the bank of the creek the "king" had indicated. This we followed for half a mile or so till we heard the murmur of the sea.

A WONDERFUL REMEDY FOR KIDNEYS, BLADDER URIC ACID

Through failure of kidneys to act, through congestion, inflammation, any person's condition is ripe for disease to fasten its hold upon the system.

At Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., there has been tested for the past few years a new remedy for kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles, rheumatism, gout, and such ailments as follow, and so many cases, both acute and stubborn, have yielded to this wonderful remedy, that Dr. Pierce decided to name it Anuric, and arrange for its distribution to the public through medicine dealers everywhere. You will find it many times more active than lithia, dissolving uric acid as water does sugar.

Obtain a bottle of these tablets today from your druggist. Simply ask for Anuric Tablets (anti-uric acid) and notice the gratifying results.

PERSONAL MENTION

Stroud, Okla.—"I suffered for a year with kidney trouble. I saw Dr. Pierce's advertisement in the paper and wrote for a trial package of 'Anuric.' It helped me so much I went to the drug store and bought a supply of Dr. Pierce's medicines. I bought four bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' one package of the 'Anuric Tablets' and a vial of the 'Pleasant Pellets.' The 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Pellets' cured me of bowel trouble, and the 'Anuric' of the kidney trouble."—Mrs. Mary Jane Fisher, Route 5.

Republican leaders and organs have been vociferous for months on the thesis that as their party controlled the United States Senate its representatives in that branch of Congress had a right to determine what sort of qualifications should be made to this country's acceptance of the treaty with Germany. If these authorities were correct in this contention they are wrong now in attempting to shift or disclaim responsibility for some action looking to a disposition of the treaty and a return to peace.

With the right for which the Republican majority contended there went also duties and obligations. They are bound by their own logic as well as by their preponderance in the Senate to undertake ratification. They can not excuse their own inaction by pretending that others decline to co-operate. A majority which "packed" the Foreign Relations committee, which distributed all the patronage in the Senatorial organization, which has passed partisan measures in the face of opposition can hardly expect the people to believe it is now unable to adopt some program of ratification.

It is true that a faction of this majority dictated the course of hostility to which it attempted to commit all Republican Senators
 It is conceded that Mr. Lodge's personal spites and piques rather than the best interests of the country or of the Republican party inspired and shaped the Senate majority's course with reference to the treaty of peace and the League of Nations. But this only emphasizes the present duty of that majority to acknowledge past mistakes, reject unworthy leadership and to substitute patriotic motives for partisan maneuvering in an effort to end the war and put the country on a parity with the other late ene-

Big Value in Tires for Small Cars

Back of the manufacture of Goodyear Tires for small cars is the same purpose to supply high value in the product that is behind the manufacture of the Goodyear Tires that equip the most expensive automobiles built.

This purpose is expressed by the enormous resources, extraordinary skill and scrupulous care applied to the manufacture of Goodyear
 Tires in the largest tire factory in the world devoted solely to the 30x3-, 30x3½- and 31x4-inch sizes.

The effect of this endeavor is noted in the fact that last year more cars using these sizes were factory-equipped with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

It is also noted in the fact that, if you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car requiring the sizes mentioned, you can secure Goodyear Tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist
 Tubes at the nearest Goodyear Service Station.

30 x 3½ Goodyear Double-Cure
 Fabric, All-Weather Tread $20.00

30 x 3½ Goodyear Single-Cure
 Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread $17.65

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are thick, strong tubes that reinforce casings properly. Why risk a good casing with a cheap tube? Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost little more than tubes of less merit. 30x3½ size in water- $3.90

GOOD YEAR

In the District Court of Roosevelt County, New Mexico.

John C. Read, Plaintiff, vs.
O. B. Willis, Susie V. Willis, No. 1512,
W. A. Heath, and T. A. Sussany, Defendants.

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE:

Whereas, on the 9th day of December, 1919, in case No. 1512 pending in the District Court of the Fifth Judicial District of the State of New Mexico, in and for the county of Roosevelt, wherein John C. Read, plaintiff, and O. B. Willis, Susie V. Willis, W. A. Heath and T. A. Sussany are defendants, plaintiff recovered a judgment for balance due on six (6) certain promissory notes and the interest thereon, the said promissory notes having been executed by defendants O. B. Willis and Susie V. Willis, husband and wife, on April 24th, 1915, payable to the order of the Bonner Loan Investment Company of Dallas, Texas; and the said O. B. Willis and Susie V. Willis having also on the same date executed their mortgage deed securing payment of the said promissory notes, the said mortgage deed being upon the Northeast quarter of section fourteen in township two south of range thirty-three east, New Mexico Meridian, in New Mexico, the said promissory notes and the said mortgage deed being afterwards, to-wit: On August 1, 1915, duly assigned and transferred by the said Bonner Loan and Investment Company, of Dallas, Texas, to plaintiff John C. Read for a good and valuable consideration. And, whereas, the said judgment found that there was due to plaintiff for principal and interest upon the said notes and the said mortgage deed the sum of $1036.69 to the date of said judgment, and interest thereon at the rate of 9 per cent. per annum from the said date until the same was paid and satisfied, also the sum of $15.50 costs as taxed by the Clerk of the Court and the further sum of $03.66 as counsel fees in the foreclosure proceedings together with interest on the said costs and attorney's fees from the date of the judgment until paid and expended by plaintiff for the payment of past due taxes on the said mortgaged premises together with interest thereon from October 30, 1919 until paid and satisfied; and whereas the said judgment and decree provides that all the said indebtedness is a prior and superior lien upon the said mortgaged premises by reason of the said promissory notes and the said mortgage deed and the assignment thereof in favor of the plaintiff, that the said property be sold in due and lawful course for the satisfaction of the same; and whereas, the said judgment and the interest thereon to the date of sale hereinafter fixed will amount to the sum of $1,211.21, besides the further costs of suit and sale of said mortgaged premises; and whereas Helen M. Lindsey was appointed by the court, in the said judgment and decree, commissioner to advertise and sell the said property according to law and apply the proceeds of such sale to the satisfaction of the said judgment and the costs of the sale; therefore, in virtue of said judgment and decree, as aforesaid, and by the authority vested in me as such commissioner to sell, I will, on the 15th day of March, 1920, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day at the northeast front door of the courthouse in the town of Portales, Roosevelt county, New Mexico, sell the said mortgaged premises and property at public auction for cash to the highest bidder therefor, for the purpose of satisfying said judgment, the interest thereon and further accruing costs of the proceeding to sell.

Witness my hand this 23rd day of January, 1920.

HELEN M. LINDSEY,
Commissioner to Sell.

PUTTING RURAL COMMUNITIES ON MAP BY CO-OPERATION IS MOST EXCELLENT PLAN

Many Country Neighborhoods Are Coming to Realize the Value of Community Gatherings From a Commercial as Well as a Social Standpoint.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Communities, as well as firms and individuals, can reap legitimate profits through advertising. In her day Rome was a big advertiser and kept at it so persistently that eventually all roads led to that metropolis. From the standpoint of legitimate municipal publicity, America has several Romes. But this sort of co-operative advertising is not monopolized by the big centers. Indeed there are scores of communities—rural and semirural—that have put themselves on the map in big red letters. Their fame has not been restricted by their small size. The secret lies in their emphasizing some local product which the community is well suited to produce, and getting all interested persons to do their very best in that line.

A purse is trash compared with a good name, according to Shakespeare, and many towns recognizing the inestimable value of a good name have built up reputations that have lined the purses of those forming the community. For example, Monroe county, in southern Wisconsin, has built up a national reputation for the fine quality of its cheese. Not the least factor in winning and keeping leadership in this line has been the annual cheese day, a splendid community event at which quantities of the delicious product of the region are given away in sandwiches and in other forms to thousands who share in the occasion.

What Monroe county has done with cheese, Carrizo Springs, Tex., has done with strawberries. The whole countryside in the vicinity of this village joins in honoring its favorite product each season. Distinguished citizens come from miles around to take part in the activities. The governor of the state sends it a privilege to be present.

Plowing Made a Fine Art.

That the humblest of farm tasks can be honored and exalted by community effort and the community in turn greatly profit thereby is shown by the record of the Wheatland plowing match in northern Illinois. This annual event, instituted something like half a century ago along lines followed by the founders' ancestors in Scotland, attracts annually 10,000 to 15,000 people. Here plowmen of all ages are divided into classes, the members of which compete for prizes offered for the best work done with riding, walking and tractor plows. The reputation for skill in agriculture created by this annual event has been worth an incalculable amount to the farmers of this region, and partly because of it Wheatland farms and Wheatland products are considered

HELPS IN MARKETING WOODLAND PRODUCTS

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Get prices for various wood products from as many sawmills and other wood-using plants as possible.

Before selling, consult neighbors who have sold timber, and benefit from their experience.

Investigate local timber requirements and prices. Your products may be worth more locally because transportation is saved.

Advertise in papers and otherwise secure outside competition for your product.

Secure bids, if practicable, both by the lump and by log-scale measure.

Be sure that you are selling to responsible purchasers.

Get a reliable estimate of the amount and value of the material before selling.

Market the higher grades of timber and use the cheaper for farm purposes.

Remember that standing timber can wait over a period of low prices without rapid deterioration.

Use a written agreement in selling timber, especially if the cutting is to be done by the purchaser.

among the best in the whole Mississippi valley.

The orange growers of California have learned a similar lesson. Each year they hold a magnificent orange festival which is one of the big events of the Pacific coast, attracting as many as 25,000 people, some of them from distant states. The rivalry for honors has done much to raise and maintain high standards among the orange growers of the region.

A community celebration of a somewhat different character but equally effective in its advertising power, is the Ground-Hog day picnic at Punxsutawney, Pa. At this novel annual event farmers, politicians and former residents to the number of many thousands gather to share in eating a splendid repast, the principal feature of which is ground-hog meat. The meat is cooked in barbecue fashion and invariably wins the praise of the celebrants. Speeches and informal hearty greetings of old friends occupy the afternoon. While this event is not designed to advertise a farm product, its distinctive character and the fine spirit of hospitality that obtains puts Punxsutawney and the surrounding country on the map.

Texas Turkey Drives Famous.

The little town of Cuero, Tex., has won fame from ocean to ocean because of its turkey drives. Drivers of turkeys within a radius of 100 to 150 miles bring in flocks of birds on foot. The fowls travel at a slow rate during daylight and at dusk instinctively huddle together, while their drivers camp by the roadside until dawn, when the journey toward Cuero, a Mecca of turkeydom, is resumed. The culminating feature of this event is the turkey parade in which all of the drivers lead their flocks through the principal streets of the town. On a recent turkey day no less than 28,000 birds were in the procession. Following the parade the turkeys are loaded on cars and shipped to markets in all parts of the country.

There are thousands of communities which might undertake a celebration similar to these cited. In some cases the spring is the appropriate season, in others the fall or summer is the logical time. The first need is for an association or individual to gather together persons interested in promoting this idea. The winter days, when the farm work is less strenuous, offer an opportunity for preliminary conferences. The office of farm management of the United States department of agriculture will be glad to offer any inquiries suggestions regarding the best methods of promoting such events.

CUT BADLY DISEASED TREES

Excellent Forestry Practice to Use All Inferior Specimens in Wood Lot for Fuel.

It is an excellent forestry practice to cut out the badly diseased, crooked, overcrowded, inferior trees in a wood lot for fuel wood, giving more growing space to the straight, promising young trees, according to forestry specialists of the United States department of agriculture. In some cases, such as in stands of old pines, a few large trees should be left for seed to restock the land, unless the area is to be cleared. In many sections of the country the present high prices of coal have made profitable a renewal of the wood fuel industry so that many farmers are finding it worth their while to clear out the less desirable trees in cordwood or shorter lengths.

FATES ATTEND BABY'S BIRTH

Peculiar Superstition That Has Strong Hold on the Poorer Classes of Greece.

Almost every nation has some particular superstition or belief about babies, and these result in actions which vary all the way from the utterly absurd to the terribly tragic. The peasantry of Greece firmly believe that the future of every child is determined by three fates, known as the Moral. In the popular mind these fates are three old women, whose habitation is a mountain cave and they come together to a house where there is a new-born child. In preparation for them, all furniture is set aside, that their tottering footsteps may not be impeded, and refreshments in the shape of honey, bread, cakes and wine are set out for these important though invisible guests. Money, too, is placed on the table, as a bribe, for it is believed that in the gift of these fates all good things as well as bad. Under no circumstances must a child's beauty be alluded to while the Moral may be in the house, or they will certainly make its good looks disappear.

"I was just going to ask if I was the only girl that would have you?"

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 8
PETER AT LYDDA AND JOPPA.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 9:32-43.
GOLDEN TEXT—The prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up.—James 5:15.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Luke 8:17-26; 8:40-56.
PRIMARY TOPIC—What a Kind Woman Did.
JUNIOR TOPIC—What Peter Did at Lydda and Joppa.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Beauty and Influence of an Unselfish Life.

In order to grasp the significance of this lesson, we should recall the condition which prevailed in the church as suggested in verse 31. Three characteristics are outstanding:

1. Freedom From Persecution.
2. Spiritual Growth and Development.

The real meaning of the word "edified" is "built up." This does not mean merely that the members were being instructed and comforted, but that strenuous efforts on the part of the individual members, as well as the body as a whole, were being made for the advancement of the divine life. The word "edify" contains the metaphor of some grand building or structure. As suggested by another, this metaphor involves (1) a foundation. This is Jesus Christ—no other dare be laid (1 Cor. 3:12-16). (2) A continuous progress. This means that a Christian's activities are purposeful and that the work he undertakes moves forward with the proper progress. (3) Persistent effort. This means that the present day's work begins the foundation upon which tomorrow's work must be built. Thus day by day his life is being raised higher and higher, as each separate round of material is being laid by strenuous efforts. (4) A completion. Finally the work is done, the building is completed, the top stone is brought forth and placed.

3. Outward Growth.
Building up within the church causes the whole work to be admired and respected by those without, inducing them to come and identify themselves with the cause. There can be no forward movement without unless there be a corresponding movement within.

Our lesson today is the record of two stupendous miracles. They are the greatest signs wrought since the day of Christ. The dreadful malady of palsy is vanquished, and a corpse is reanimated by the departed soul. The occurrence here of this miracle is in keeping with the movements of the church at this time. The Lord had promised these signs as they went forth with the gospel message. They were given as encouragements to the disciples, to convince them that the gospel did not lose any of its power by being spread, but rather that its power increased. As the church goes everywhere preaching the Word there will be a corresponding manifestation of power.

I. The Healing of Eneas (vv. 32-35).
This man's needy condition appealed to Peter, just as men today should appeal to us in their semi-dead state. Like his Master, Peter could not refuse the needed help. In this he did not direct attention to himself, but confidently appealed to the power in the name of Christ: "Jesus Christ heal thee." The man who had kept his bed for eight long years immediately arose and made his bed. When the Lord heals it is done instantly. Peter wisely kept this miracle from being the end by making it the means to the end. That end was the preaching of the gospel. This brought most gratifying results, for "all that dwelt in Lydda and Sharon saw him and turned to the Lord."

II. The Raising of Dorcas (vv. 36-43).
This woman was full of good works and aims-deeds which she did, not talked of. She was a practical Christian woman of the kind that gets down to the practical way of showing her love by doing deeds of helpfulness. Her death was a real loss, as was evidenced by the mourning of those who had been helped. When this good woman fell sick and died the disciples sent for Peter. Peter put them all forth. At his command her soul came back to live in her body. This again caused them to believe on the Lord.

TURNUED THE LIGHT ON HER

Timed Illumination That Was Not at All Pleasing to the Central Figure.

A few years ago we drove to the East and camped along the way. The first night's camp was made in a field along a side road, far enough from the main road to avoid many passersby.

However, in the midst of our bedtime preparations a car with bright lights turned off the main road and came toward us. My wife, who was in the rear seat of our car for her boudoir, gathered her kimono about her and ran around in front of our machine in case the spotlight from the other car should be turned in our direction.

At the same time another member of our party reached for the switch buttons to extinguish one small light which we were using. Imagine his consternation, my wife's horror, and the shouts of laughter from the passing car, as he pushed the wrong button and turned the powerful lights of our car full on my wife's thinly clad form.

Artificial Scents.
The great bulk of perfumes are chemical productions. The Wall Street Journal says the commercial problem is whether the American perfumer of the future is to be an artisan or an artist. Shall he deal with the fragrance of flowers or chemical odors and scents? The idea of the layman is that the cosmetic chemist seeks the odor of flowers; but as a matter of fact synthetic chemistry not only crowns his work with the crushed oil of roses, violets and jessamine, but seeks to rival the fragrance of flowers with superior scents originating wholly within the laboratory and trademarked as such.

Bring Another.
A returned warrior was relating his experiences to a number of old friends in the village inn. After exhausting his supply of tales, he was asked: "Did they use any high explosives over there?" "Well, I ain't sure about that. But when our battalion was up the line once, a shell struck our dugout, lifting everything into the air and when the sandbags came down they were all covered with snow."

Let us be frank and admit that we are all somewhat gossipy.

Service.
Joe, Frank and Warren were discussing Christmas in Eastern avenue. "I've been working all day decorating our house for Santa Claus," said Warren, with a knowing wink at Frank. "Yes, sir," quickly exclaimed Joe, the youngest of the three. "Santa will fix our tree. We've got service at our house."—Detroit Free Press.

Dried Snow.
Little Mary Louise saw snowflakes falling and said to her mother, "Let's hurry and put up our Christmas decorations, it's Christmas." In a little while she went outside to play, but soon returned to the house, for the air was so cold. Her mother noticed something that looked like clay on her shoe, and said to her: "What is that on your shoe, dear?" "The snow dried on there," answered the five-year-old.

Squashed the Salesman.
"Pardon me, sir," said the salesman, in his superior way, "but this is not the hat you should have, at all. Now here is one much more becoming to you. The price is only two dollars more, and—"

"If a colored man with a wooden leg should ask for a seventy-five cent pink, purple or polka-dotted hat you would sell it to him if you had it, wouldn't you?" Interrupted old Festus Pester. "Yes, sir, but—"

"Then please treat me as kindly as you would a colored man with a wooden leg."—Kansas City Star.

HEADACHE Often Caused by Acid-Stomach

Yes, indeed, more often than you think. Because ACID-STOMACH, starting with indigestion, heartburn, belching, food-repeating, bloating and gas, if not checked, will eventually affect every vital organ of the body. Severe, blinding, splitting headaches are, therefore, of frequent occurrence as a result of this upset condition.

Take EATONIC. It quickly banishes acid-stomach with its sour, bitter, pain and gas. It aids digestion—helps the stomach get full strength from every mouthful of food you eat. Millions of people are miserable, weak, sick and ailing because of ACID-STOMACH. Poisons, created by partly digested food charged with acid, are absorbed into the blood and distributed throughout the entire system. This often causes rheumatism, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, heart trouble, stroke and even cancer of the stomach. It robs its victims of their health, undermines the strength of the most vigorous.

If you want to get back your physical and mental strength—be full of vim and vigor—enjoy life and be happy, you must get rid of your acid-stomach.

In EATONIC you will find the very help you need and it's guaranteed. So get a big 50c box from your druggist today. If it fails to please you, return it and he will refund your money.

CHARLES ANGLIN GAINS 18 POUNDS

Was Almost a Physical Wreck Before Taking Tanlac— Feels Fine Now.

About the luckiest day of my life was when I began taking Tanlac," said Charles E. Anglin of 152 Beale Ave., Memphis, Tenn.

"Several years ago," he continued, "while living at Jonesboro, Arkansas, I had such a terrible attack of acute indigestion that I came near playing out. My stomach was in an awful fix and I just had to be most careful about my food, and even then I suffered nearly every day. My trouble pulled me down in strength and weight till I was almost a physical wreck and had to quit work entirely. I couldn't eat or sleep to do any good and would roll and toss in misery all night long. The medicines I took gave me only temporary relief and I was soon as bad off as I was before, if not even worse.

"My wife advised me to try Tanlac, as we had been reading so much about it, so I started on it and a few bottles of this medicine straightened me out fine. In fact, before I had finished my first bottle of Tanlac I was eating anything I wanted and improved so much that I was soon back at work feeling all right. I picked up eighteen pounds in weight and my clothes were getting too tight for me. Tanlac is a wonder and I don't believe it has an equal in the world."

Tanlac is sold in Portales by Ed J. Neer.

The Watkins man is passing through the Causey community this week.

David Little has purchased his father's house and has been very busy the past week.

Walter Scott has been hauling feed to the Ely ranch for the past two weeks.

The singing at Mr. Scott's was quite a success last Sunday night and a large crowd attended.

Several of the Causey young folks attended Sunday school and preaching at Roebuck Sunday. Brother Little of the Causey community preached.

Lizzie Swoape, Grace Blakey and Henry Price spent Saturday night with Lorene and Roy Little.

There will be a singing at D. Z. Little's next Sunday night. Everyone invited.

Most of the Causey people have their new phones up.

SALE BILLS

Messrs. Gerard and Hagerling were business visitors in Clovis Thursday morning.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Taylor, Wednesday, February 4, a 9½ pound girl.

WHY SUFFER SO?
Why suffer from a bad back? from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary ills? Portales people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Could you ask for stronger proof of merit!

Edwin M. Rowden, carpenter, 411 N. Redding St. Clovis, N. M., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are now all right. My kidneys were in a bad way years ago and I don't know what caused the trouble, but it surely did bother me. My back was lame and stiff and made bending or stooping almost impossible. The action of my kidneys was irregular, too. Dizzy spells often bothered me and I felt badly all over. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and right from the start, they helped me. Two boxes cured me of the trouble. Anyone who doubts the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills should see me personally."

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

To the business man, retail or wholesale; to the manufacturer; to the commission man; to the trucking company, the Ford Model T One Ton Truck makes an irresistible appeal because it has in its chassis all the merits of the original Ford car; the wonderful Ford Model T Motor, the dependable Vanadium steel chassis, and the manganese bronze worm-drive. A strongly built truck that serves satisfactorily and lasts in service. If these statements were not true, the demand for Ford Trucks wouldn't be so constantly on the increase. We will be pleased to take your order for one or more Ford Trucks, will see that you get reasonably prompt delivery, and will give you an after service that insures the constant service of the Truck. But don't wait too long. Get your order in promptly.
