CANDIDATES SPRINTING FOR RUNOFF

FDR Opens Frontier Centennial

Lemke Undisturbed By Townsend Move

FINAL WEEK OF CAMPAIGN DRIVE OPENS

Wednesday Last Date To Cast Absentee Ballot in Person

Candidates for political offices throughout Texas today entered their final campaign week before the first primary election next Saturday, with indications that this week may bring out the hottest part of the campaign in several of the races.

Wednesday is the last date on which absentee ballots may be cast in person. Thursday is the final date they may be cast by mail.

Among the state races that for governor holds the spotlight, with Governor Alfred, Tom Hunter, and F. W. Fischer waging the strongest campaigns. Other candidates are Pierce Brooks and Senator Roy Sanderford.

Allred continues to claim enough votes for election in the first primary, but he is generally picked by political observers to be in the runoff with either Hunter or Fischer. The governor's itinerary for this week includes cities in south and southwest Texas, with a closing address in Wichita Falls, his and Hunter's home town. Fischer will close his campaign at Houston.

William Lemke, union party candidate for president, Saturday was undisturbed over the decision of the national Townsend convention to endorse no presidential or vice-presidential candidate. "That won't hurt my candidacy a bit," he said, although it was believed he had counted on the Townsends support.

FFA SELECTS 4 DELEGATES

To Attend Convention At Stephenville

Delegates from the two Cisco chapters to the state Future Farmers convention at Stephenville Wednesday and Thursday were announced Saturday by T. G. Caudle, vocational agriculture teacher and sponsor of the chapters.

Morris White and Levon Dill were selected to represent the Cisco high school chapter at a meeting held Saturday afternoon. Orville Davis and Avery Holt will be the delegates for the Lutheran part-time chapter.

In addition to the regular convention work, Caudle said that plans will be made during the two-day meeting for the annual FFA encampment to be held at Lake Cisco August 6, 7 and 8. A number of committees are to be selected for the camp arrangements.

Karkalits to Leave For Clovis Position

C. S. Karkalits, Jr., assistant manager of the Laguna hotel, will leave Monday for Clovis, N. M., where he will become assistant manager of the Clovis hotel. Dal-late Wales, formerly manager of the Laguna, is manager of the Clovis.

J. H. Pickens has arrived from Muskogee, Okla., to become room clerk at the Laguna in the place of Karkalits.

Nances Visiting Automobile Plant

A telegram from Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Nance to Garland Nance, their son, at the Nance Motor company said Thursday that they were at Detroit visiting the Ford Motor company plant. They planned to go to Niagara Falls Friday, on their way to Providence, R. I., and the convention of Lions International.

OARP NOT TO ENDORSE ANY CANDIDATES

Answers Question Of Throwing Votes In President's Race

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 18 (AP)—The Townsend national convention adopted a resolution today declaring that the pension organization "shall not at any time during the campaign directly or indirectly endorse any presidential or vice-presidential candidate."

This was an answer to the question as to which way the "Townsend Family" would throw its vote in November. A few delegates said that they wanted to endorse a specific candidate. These were obviously in the minority, since there were only a few scattered "Noes" as the resolution was adopted.

Dr. F. E. Townsend told news men that he would not attempt to "coerce" followers but that he would personally support and work for, or "help elect" Representative Lemke, union party presidential candidate.

MOVE DOESN'T HURT SAYS LEMKE

CHICAGO, Ill., July 18. (AP)—Representative William Lemke commented: "That doesn't hurt my candidacy a bit" when he was informed today that at the Cleveland convention the Townsend organization had voted against organization in the endorsement of presidential and vice-presidential candidates. He added "The Resolution doesn't say anything about individuals."

Carbon Test Down To 950-Foot Level

EASTLAND, July 18.—The Atkins & Flowers deep test near Carbon has been drilled to 950 feet, it was reported Friday. The well is to be drilled to over 3000 feet.

New Ordovician Test Scheduled In Shackelford

Another ordovician test for the southeastern area of Shackelford county is in the making as a rig is being moved on location for the third Pitzer and West-Humble Oil and Refining company well on the Geo. DeLafosse ranch midway between Breckenridge and Albany.

The third well will be drilled to a contract depth of 4,500 feet testing the Ellenberger from which the original deep well was said to be good for 200 barrels daily before a shot ruined it. The second well, drilled north and west of the first, got a bare showing. The new test will be sunk 440 feet south and 440 east of the first.

Church Leader Held In Slaying of Wife, Baby

ERIE, Penn., July 18. (AP)—The wife of a Sunday school teacher and her baby, 2, were found beaten to death in their home. A second child who was badly injured may not live.

The police detained Samuel C. Weed, 40, the father and husband of the woman and children. He was found two squares from the house where a driver of an automobile said that he tried to jump in front of the car. Patrolman Carl Malinowski said that Weed told him that he struck his wife and children. He quoted Weed as saying, "Have they gone to heaven yet? That's where I wanted to send them."

Neighbors said that Weed had an excellent reputation. He is a Sunday school teacher in the Nazarene Mission church in Wesleyville, a suburb.

Nine Are Killed As Car Strikes Train

DUNDEE, Mich., July 18. (AP)—Nine persons were killed when their automobile struck an Ann Arbor railroad passenger locomotive, hurling the automobile into the Raisin River today.

The victims were en route to their homes in Pennsylvania after a visit here. They were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schuster and three daughters of Wheaton, Penn., and four others who were unidentified.

Crowds Jam Frontier Centennial Opening

Gates of the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial were thrown open Saturday to admit thousands of Texans coming for the first day. Bess Harris, at the top, is shown boldly traveling in "Sunset Trail" in a modern covered wagon, mustering into service Mr. Star, Indian youth whose Hopi reservation is the Centennial grounds, pausing for refreshment at a pump presided over by Miss Yellow Spider. In the center is Nikki Allen taking time out from Sally Rand's Nude Ranch.

BILLY ROSE'S FANTASY BIDS RECOGNITION

Opening Ceremony Is Held Saturday At Show Grounds

FORT WORTH, Texas, July 18 (AP)—Billy Rose's fantastic Frontier Centennial, a bizarre array of Broadway spectacles attuned to the colorful southwest, made its bid for recognition today.

President Roosevelt, who is fishing off Nova Scotia opened the Frontier exposition gates by pressing a button on the ship Potomac, transmitting a wireless impulse to Fort Worth.

United States Senator Tom Connally, Governor James V. Allred, and R. L. Thornton, Dallas, chairman of the executive committee of the Central Centennial Exposition, were the principal speakers at the brief dedication ceremonies. It was staged at the foot of the hills built for "The Last Frontier," one of the major attractions at the Frontier Centennial. Cowboys, soldiers, and Indians of several tribes with stage coaches and covered wagons were participants in the re-roaring introduction to the Frontier Centennial.

Entertainments
The four major entertainments are the Casa Manana revue, "Jumbo," "The Honky-Tonk Revue," and "The Last Frontier."

Museum exhibits along Sunset Trail here completed with installation of period costumes in the Astor House Hotel, labelling and arranging the Indian exhibit of W. J. Wayland of Cleburne, and installation of an old-fashioned cracker barrel and coffee grinder for the general store.

Represent Cisco At Dedication Of Westex Exhibit

Charles J. Kleiner and B. A. Butler will represent the Cisco chamber of commerce at the dedication of the All-West Texas exhibit at the frontier centennial exposition in Fort Worth Monday.

They will also represent the chamber of commerce at the West Texas citizens dinner at the Fort Worth club honoring Amon G. Carter.

The Cisco Daily Press was represented at the southwestern newspapermen's dinner and preview of the frontier centennial Friday evening by Frank Langston.

Secretary J. E. Spencer of the chamber of commerce said Saturday that eight or 10 members of the Eastland organization would attend the dedication and dinner Monday night and that the Ranger high school band would play at the opening of the exhibit.

Danzig Dictatorship Is Foreseen With Decrees

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, July 18. (AP)—Doctor Arthur Karl Greiser, president of the Danzig senate, began a series of administrative decrees today virtually setting aside the city's constitution.

In keeping his threat of July 6 he crushed opposition to the Danzig Nazi party government without infracting a letter of the constitution. Nevertheless he practically set it aside. Diplomatic circles were concerned over the attitude being taken by Sean Lester, high commissioner of the League of Nations.

Polish indignation was vented in the unofficial demands that Polish residents be safeguarded in their constitutional rights by Warsaw troops or at least by police.

TO REPORT ON COMEBACK OF EDISON DRIVE SOFTBALL DUE

Park Purchased; Club Being Sought

Possibility of a comeback for softball in Cisco was seen here this week-end when Cisco merchants purchased the softball park at the corner of East Sixteenth street and A avenue from D. E. Perry.

Following purchase of the field, the business men named a committee in charge and began seeking a club to operate the park.

Edward Lee, Dick Giles, and A. D. Anderson were named on the committee. "We don't intend to make anything out of the park," one of the members said. "We want only the money invested. Any above that will go to the club operating the field."

Ciscoans Attending School Homecoming

Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Lee are spending the week-end in Rising Star attending the homecoming of the Brooks and Macedonia schools. The ex-teachers and students of the last 30 years are expected to come from all parts of the state.

Mrs. Lee, a former teacher, will appear on the program. Dinner and a watermelon feast will feature the noon program today.

By GEORGE

To substantiate his account of a battle with a 26-inch-long bass weighing more than eight pounds in Schlepfer's draw Friday morning, C. A. Shockey Saturday exhibited the head of the big fish and a pair of bruised hands. The fish, viewed by Bob McCrary who declared it the largest he had ever seen or heard of having been caught in the lake, was taken by Shockey with a mallow. He was using an 18-pound test line when the big fish, which had as much fight in it as a yearling bass, took the bait and started going places. Its struggle snapped off the cane sole Shockey was using and he grabbed the line to keep it taut. The fish darted under the boat and tangled the line in the propeller of the outboard motor so that it broke. With the line wrapped around his hands, Shockey managed to get the big fellow into the boat where another battle ensued. The fish was so slippery it was hard to hold, and for a while Shockey had to come near turning the boat over grappling for it. He finally got his hand down its mouth and hooked his fingers in the gills to hold it. Even then its flapping and struggling rasped his hands with the teeth around the edges of the mouth.

He showed the gaping mouth of the specimen at the Press Saturday morning and promised to exhibit it here when it has been properly cured, varnished and mounted. A big man could easily double his fist and run it down the throat. The fish, disemboweled, weighed eight pounds.

T. F. Petty, chief geologist for the Humble Oil and Refining company here, has been transferred to the production district headquarters at Wichita Falls. Pete Booth is also being transferred, he said. Petty has been at work out of the Wichita office for the past week but is just now moving his family.

Cisco certainly regrets to see these boys go. I hope their prediction that they will be transferred back here soon comes true. The production department district headquarters was long ago transferred from Cisco to Wichita to be consolidated with another district production office. That was because of the retrenchment in the company's drilling program.

The pipe line company district headquarters still remains here.

J. E. Proctor Saturday received word from his father, J. M. Proctor, at Stamford, that the father had been shot in the left arm by a stray bullet. A colored servant in the home next door was practising with a pistol when the bullet struck the elder Proctor inflicting a flesh wound which the letter said was not believed to be very serious. The bullet was removed at the Stamford hospital.

Board Considering Strike in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, July 17 (AP)—The board of conciliation met today to consider the legality of a paralyzing strike of electric power workers in the federal district and parts of five adjacent states.

No direct word had been received from President Lazaro Cardenas, who was understood to have interrupted his tour north to fly to the capital where he would use his personal influence to end the walkout.

It was estimated that 3,200 shops were closed and 60,000 workers were idle because of the strike.

MURDER TONIGHT

BY LAURENCE W. MEYNEIL

SYNOPSIS: Inspector Hylton just has had the discouraging experience of having a perfectly good man evaporate on him. He has thought Lumsdale's mysterious disappearance from the post office must have had something to do with the still more mysterious death of Arthur Burdett—and all the parcels contained in still under suspicion, and Mrs. Reeves, pretty and frisk, seems likewise under a cloud. Nevertheless, Lumsdale, who was the murdered man's servant, is not entirely out of the woods.

Chapter 22 THE REEVES

Except as curiosities the photographs could hardly be said to interest him. In his time, in Paris, that Sant and the bad quarter of Versailles, he had come across some pretty filthy representations, but he had never seen the equal of what he handled now in the old fashioned kitchen of Enderton Court. He felt slightly sick.

"What's all this?" he asked. "Mister, those cards haven't anything to do with me," Lumsdale said so earnestly as to carry conviction. "I'll swear to that on oath. Those are what the old fool used to like to look at. I had to get them for him. When I first came here he told me that he had important parcels coming from France—Paris they came from—and he wanted me to give the name of Langley at the post office and collect anything as came.

"At first I thought it was all right, but after a bit I saw one or two of these lying about and I soon tumbled to it. Well, if the old fool wanted the things, I wasn't going to lose my job by refusing to get them from the post office; but when the business happened on Monday and I had to give a timetable like of what I was doing, I left out my visit to the post office. It didn't have anything to do with the murder, and I thought if you found out about it I'd get into trouble."

Hylton thought for a moment. "What are these filthy things doing in a drawer in the kitchen?" he asked suddenly.

"Well, an don't suppose you'll believe about that, Mister, but this is how it is. When I came back on Monday and found the old boy dead almost the first thing I thought about was these here photographs. I thought 'Police'll search everything in this room, and then it'll get out about the old fool having these.' Somehow I didn't like to think of it, so before ever I went down to fetch the Sergeant I cleared the drawer out and brought them here.

Hylton watched the process in silence.

"Why didn't you burn 'em?" "I'm going to Mister, but I hadn't seen 'em all, and an suppose a man's human like everybody else."

"Pitch 'em on the fire now," Hylton ordered curtly. "It makes me almost ashamed to be human when I see stuff like that."

Lumsdale obediently gathered the mass of pornography together and fed the flames with it. Hylton watched the process in silence and when it was over asked abruptly: "Did Mrs. Reeves ever come here?"

"Once or twice she did."

"And her husband?"

"I've never known him come."

"Um." The Inspector got up and made for the door, but before he reached it he turned round.

"Now look here, Lumsdale," he said, "you're still in a nasty position, and if you want to keep out of trouble just go on telling the truth. Do you get that?"

A somewhat chastened Andrew Lumsdale nodded. "All right, Mister."

Twenty minutes later Kingsley

Hylton was being smiled at by the maid at Ferney House. Yes, Mrs. Reeves was in, and the Captain would be pleased to come in.

The Inspector found Captain Reeves and his wife sitting in the drawing room with a copy of "Horse & Hound" open between them. Mrs. Reeves gave the Inspector an affable welcome; the Captain looked at him and grunted.

Hylton refused the offer of tea. "No; no tea, thank you. I've come on business."

"About old Burdett?" Reeves asked.

"About the murder."

"Then in that case my wife better leave us."

"I'd rather she didn't. It's Mrs. Reeves that I went to see at the moment."

"And what the devil do you suppose a woman can have to do with that business?"

"Pat, please—" Nellie Reeves put in.

"Captain Reeves," Hylton said, "I daresay you pride yourself on being a loyal, law-abiding citizen, don't you?"

"What's that got to do with anything?"

"Just this, that at present you are behaving either like a criminal, and not a clever one at that, or a sulky schoolboy."

"I've already told you that I went to the Court on Monday afternoon."

"And refused to say why you went there."

"That's my business."

"And the law's. However, at present all I ask is for you to be quiet whilst I ask your wife a few questions."

"Pat, for heaven's sake don't make things more awkward than they are," his wife begged. "Go on, Mr. Hylton, we may as well get this over, what is it you want?"

"Have you ever been to Enderton Court, Mrs. Reeves?"

Nellie Reeves darted a distressed look across the room at her husband before answering. "Yes—I have—twice."

"Were you there on Monday the 18th?"

"Last Monday? No."

Hylton let that pass for the moment. "Tell me," he said, "were these visits of your to the Court just in the ordinary way of social calls?"

Again that troubled look shot across the room.

"I really don't see that you can pry into private business like that," Reeves broke in angrily, and almost as sharply his wife answered. "Oh, Pat, for goodness sake let's get the wretched thing cleared up and done with."

"Not a bad idea," Hylton concurred. "Do you mind if I smoke?"

"Sorry—where are the cigarets, Pat?"

"No thanks, I'll have one of these." Carefully he selected and lit one of his thin cigars. "Now lets have it, Mrs. Reeves," he urged.

"Well, it's a beastly story, though of course, in a way, it had nothing to do with me. I'm secretary of the poultry and damage fund in the hunt, and of course a good deal of the land we hunt over belongs to old Burdett."

Tomorrow, oddly, Reeves apologizes to the Inspector.

Stop-Go Lights For Dentists Devised

LONDON, July 18. (AP)—Miniature traffic signals by which the patient advises his dentist exactly how he feels as the drill sinks, have been invented by a London practitioner.

A "stop-caution-go" apparatus is on the wall before the dentist, the patient handling the controls from the chair. He gives the doctor red, amber or green lights without jerking some throbbing instrument from his mouth in order to voice his feelings.

The lights were suggested to the inventor as a joke. In perfecting the system he found the set-up had a strong psychological effect upon the patient, usually giving him such reassurance that the dentist seldom gets the stop sign. Children sometimes become so absorbed in working the signals that the tooth is out before they decide to cry.

W. S. ADAMSON

Qualifications For Office Given By W. S. Adamson

TO THE VOTERS OF EASTLAND COUNTY:

In announcing my candidacy for the office of County Judge of Eastland county I did so with the knowledge that it is one of the most important offices in your county. His duties require him to preside over the county court in the trial of civil and criminal cases, the probating of wills, administration of the estates of deceased persons, guardianship of minors and many other matters, all of which are legal proceedings. He is also the presiding officer of the commissioners' court, which has charge of the finances of your county, supervises the construction and maintenance of your roads, sets your tax rate, sits as a board of equalization in placing a value upon your property for taxable purposes and many other duties.

He should be a man who is well informed in the laws of the state, of sound and mature judgment, and one who has the interest of the citizens of the county at heart.

I have a college education, studied law three years and was admitted to the bar, have been a practicing attorney for twenty-two years, the past fifteen years I have practiced law in Ranger, Texas. During my twenty-two years in the study and practice of law I have devoted considerable time to the study of law pertaining to county and city governments and have a thorough knowledge of the law and procedure of the county court and county affairs.

I served four years as county judge of Scurry county during which time I met with and solved many of the difficult and perplexing problems that come before a county judge and a commissioners' court and from this experience I have gained a knowledge of the handling of county affairs that cannot be obtained from any other sources.

The past three years I have served as a commissioner of the city of Ranger during which time I have assisted with my counsel and advice in the management of the city's affairs. I represented the city in federal court in the suit brought by the bond holders on its bonds and secured a judgment refunding the bonded indebtedness of the city on a basis of 80 per cent of their original face value. We have paid cash to our employes for their services, for supplies and equipment that we have purchased, met the interest payment on our bonded indebtedness and set aside the required amount in a sinking fund to retire those bonds at maturity and have approximately $30,000 in cash in the various funds and the city is in the best financial condition it has been in many years.

My friends, I believe from my twenty-two years in the study and practice of law, my four years experience as county judge and my three years experience as a city commissioner has prepared, equipped and qualified me to be of real capable service to you as your county judge.

If I am elected your county judge it will not be placing a man in that office inexperienced and untried, but one who has a thorough knowledge of the law and who has been seasoned by actual experience.

If elected your county judge I shall at all times cooperate with your county commissioners in the handling of your county affairs and shall counsel with and advise them upon all legal matters coming before that court.

I shall be fair and just to every person who comes before me as county judge and the humblest citizen of the county may feel free to come to me with problems of the county, his precinct, or even his personal affairs with the assurance that he shall receive a sympathetic and courteous hearing and it will be my earnest desire to help, aid and assist him in solving those problems.

I have visited every home and farm in the county and have made

Traveling Stages Show Nazi Dramas On German Farms

BERLIN, July 18. (AP)—To familiarize isolated German rural communities with Nazi trends in dramatic art, traveling theatrical companies have been sent to shed educational light in the corners of the Reich.

These touring companies are not to be confused with the barnstormers of old; nor are they "guests" from large city casts. Their purpose is to place the German drama in a worthy manner before country audiences who live a diligent effort to see every voter, solicit their vote and express my appreciation for their vote and support, and I wish to state now that there is no one in this race who will be more grateful to you for your vote and support than I, and if elected I promise you in return faithful, honest and efficient service.

Very sincerely,
W. S. ADAMSON.

too far away from towns to do good acting.

The latest mechanical and lighting devices for staging a play creditably in a barn or village have been adapted, in miniature or simplified form. A few towers and a Greek landscape change into an interior scene, and the scene is being built.

The program includes Nazi products, folklore dramas and classical works by Goethe, Schiller and Lesing.

Richer Shades In Swim Suits Dot Surf And Sands

Ready for a dip in the surf or an hour's lounging on sunny sands, this pair of trim bathing suits illustrates the richer colors and more conservative design noted this summer on some beaches. The slim-skirted model on the left is of wine colored chenille knit wool and is worn with a cord cap. Knitted shoulder straps cross in the back to adjust the fit. The double-breasted suit on the right is of blue novelty wool finished with white wood buttons and buckle caught in a darker blue cord belt. Blue visor cap and white sandals go with it.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The spirit of truth is come, he will guide you into all truth; for he shall not speak of himself, but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak; and he will show you things to come. All things that the Father hath are mine.—John 16: 13, 15.

I know not what my needs may be, My needs apart from wayward wants. All that the worldly heart desires, All that the pride of error vaunts— All these would lead my steps astray, Didst thou not guide me in thy way. —MADGE ELDER.

Whatever the nature of the difficulty from which mankind is suffering, the way of deliverance from it must be through turning in thought to divine Mind as the only source of the "moral and spiritual progress." There is no problem which cannot adequately be solved through recourse to, and understanding of the "free spirit" of God, infinite good, which, because it is universal and omnipresent, is available to all.—George Shaw Cook.

Hull Answers Critics

CRITICS of the reciprocal trade treaty policy of the national administration who would discredit the value of these treaties to the American farmer have been answered by Secretary of State Cordell Hull in one of the first, if not the first political utterance of the secretary in this campaign. Hull asserted that critics of his program for the development of American foreign trade through reciprocal agreements were making misleading use of statistics to convince the farmer that he was being discriminated against and that the trade agreements act was operating to the injury of agriculture in United States. To disprove these charges the secretary points out that in the case of the Cuban-U. S. reciprocal tariff treaty, exports of American lard to Cuba had tripled in value since the treaty, and that other agricultural exports had benefitted to a great extent. He also said that in the case of similar treaties with other countries substantial concessions on agricultural exports to those countries had been secured with virtually no concessions for importation of farm products into the United States. Effectively, the secretary pointed out that for the period covered by the statistics which critics of his policy used, only four reciprocal trade treaties were in effect—those with Cuba, Haiti, Sweden and Belgium.

THE question of the revival of American foreign trade hinges on the issue of reciprocity. If the United States sells its goods abroad, it must buy from abroad. There is no getting around this fact. The solution to the problem is the striking of a proper balance in the exchange of goods and services. Everything can't flow all the way all the time. Even the water that goes down the river must be drawn up by evaporation and deposited on the river drainage area again.

THE Hull policy of reciprocal trade treaties is one of the most statesmanlike of all the programs of the national administration. It will bring about the most mutually beneficial relationships between this country and other countries. Cordell Hull is one of the most unobtrusive men in the administration. But he is a quiet force whose influence will be felt in enduring accomplishments in the reconstruction of the economic prosperity of this nation.

The $19 Apportionment

THE increased per capita apportionment of $19 for 1936-37 voted by the state board of education will mean approximately $4,000 to the Cisco schools if the apportionment is sustained. The "if" may appear surprising to most people, although it is quite authentic in view of the statutory mandate which prohibits the state automatic tax board from fixing a state tax rate that will raise more than $17.50 per capita for the state school maintenance fund. The present rate of 20 cents on the $100 ad valorem valuation produced a surplus in the fund and enabled the state board to distribute an additional dollar. It was believed by the majority of the state board in setting the record apportionment figure that the present tax rate need not be increased to produce the amount of revenue essential to paying the $19, although others are skeptical of the estimates and predict a 22 1/2-cent levy will be required.

BUT in order to fix any rate to raise $19 legally, the legislature will be called upon to act. The mandate which limits the automatic tax board to a rate that will produce no more than a $17.50 apportionment is statutory and may be modified by simple legislation action. The action of the state board in fixing the apportionment at $19 indicates its faith in the favorable attitude of the legislature on the question. The reasoning seems to be that there will be no serious objection to continuing the 20-cent levy if a higher per capita payment can be made.

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

The World Moves Slowly

LATE in life Great-aunt Peabody came down from her New Hampshire farm to visit her niece in New York. A week of sight-seeing culminated in a theatre party.

The choice of the play was left to the guest of honor. She chose a revival of "The Merchant of Venice." Thirty years before, she said, she had attended a performance of that play and all through her days in the country she had cherished a desire some day to witness another rendition of the piece which in her youth had made so profound an impression upon her.

As the curtain fell on the last act one of the group turned to ask what she thought of the production as compared with the one she had witnessed back in 1894.

"Well," answered Mrs. Peabody, "so far as Venice is concerned they seem to have made some very nice improvements in it. But that Shylock is still just the same grasping miserable creature that he used to be."

(American News Features, Inc.)

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Senator Borah, seeking re-election, faces a political battle he expects will be tougher than any he has faced.

He has little doubt the republican nomination will come to him in the primary in August but expects a democratic opponent who has broken many precedents and announces he will break another by defeating Borah.

The opponent, who virtually conceded the democratic nomination, is Governor C. Ben Ross, the first native born Idahoan to be elected governor, and the first to win a third term.

Ross is expecting a former political foe to help him defeat Borah. Byron Defenbach reputedly is contemplating a stout independent campaign for the senate at the head of a Townsendite ticket. Defenbach once ran as a republican for governor and was beaten by Ross. Now, however, Ross is looking to Defenbach to pull some of the republican votes away from Borah.

Two Differ Greatly Idahoans seem a bit puzzled by the type of campaign in prospect. Borah always has talked on national and international issues. He talks to his political meetings on state matters only very incidentally.

In sharp contrast, Ross talks only of state and lesser governmental affairs, as they have been his chief interests during his experience in state, city and county government, which has been continuing for a quarter century.

Like Borah, Ross has a sense for timing in his addresses which wins him audiences in Idaho equal to Borah's. Where Borah speaks once or perhaps twice a day, Ross may speak as many as eight times.

Pope Troubles Ross But Ross has his own party leadership. He is at odds over party leadership with Senator Pope. His wing of the party lost to Pope's wing in the selection of committee officials at the national convention at Philadelphia.

Some of Pope's supporters have expressed a wish to see Ross crushingly defeated by Borah so he could not present such a formidable front to Pope in 1938.

Republican leaders in Idaho are confident Borah will be re-elected. "Ross' supporters see prospects of a victory if President Roosevelt should run strongly in the mountain territory.

Talk at one time that the democratic national organization would step in to help Ross apparently faded in the face of threats by certain democratic senators to campaign for the Idaho senator if such a step was taken.

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE COUNTY CLERK Licensed to Marry The following have been issued

Frankly Speaking

By FRANK LANGSTON

Along with 1,000 other newspapermen of the Southwest I was a guest of the Fort Worth frontier centennial at a press dinner and the final dress rehearsal of the centennial shows Friday night.

Billy Rose has been praised as a creator of spectacles on a vast scale. The commentators have not done him justice. Anything that can bring together and entertain 1,000 newspaper men and women for five or six hours is bound to be successful, for there is no more critical group on earth than American journalists.

The frontier centennial cannot compete with the central exposition at Dallas. It does not attempt to. But it certainly can compete with anything anywhere else that aims solely at amusement. It and the Dallas exposition should serve as complements to each other.

Billy Rose came from New York to Texas to build the greatest revolving stage in the world, the greatest theater-restaurant, and the greatest frontier show. His Casa Manana restaurant theater is so large that it dwarfs Paul Whiteman's orchestra and the King of Jazz stands 50 yards away from the musicians and waves a flashlight as a baton to attract their attention.

The candidates are entering their final week of campaigning before the first primary election next Saturday. This week is due to be the hottest, politically, before the votes are cast.

Congressman Thos. L. Blanton will speak here Monday night at 8:30, while at the same time Judge Clyde L. Garrett, his principal opponent, will invade the congressman's own territory to speak on the federal lawn at Abilene.

The county candidates will hold rallies in the three principal cities of the county this week, at Cisco Wednesday, at Ranger Thursday, and Eastland Friday night.

PARIS (AP)—Lack of symmetry in an ecrú linen blouse made it interesting. One collar corner was embroidered with a red anchor, the other with a blue sailor cap. The belt fastened with a blue anchor through a red ring, and of the four buttons down the front two were red and two were blue. A nautical style and pretty well balanced at that.

Jane Darwell, the character actress, has had to learn to smoke a pipe for a movie role.

BELTS GETTING GIDDY PARIS (AP)—Belts are getting giddy. Green canvas ones seen in Paris go in for country life appliques in painted leather. Cows, carts, peasants, dogs, tour around them, and one realistic horse appeared cut out of pony skin. The Tyrolean influence is strongly suspected in this whimsical belt business.

Buck, the dog star, has changed to his summer diet, eating four pounds of food daily instead of six.

tion, with Congressman Thomas L. Blanton and Judge Clyde L. Garrett scheduled to invade each other's territory. Congressman Blanton will speak at Cisco Monday evening at 8:30, after addressing a crowd at Nimrod during the afternoon. Blanton will spend much of the week in Eastland county. Garrett will speak on the federal lawn at Abilene Monday night but will move on over the district for the rest of the week.

The state senatorial race is three corners, with Senator Wilbourne B. Collier opposed by Harry Tom King of Abilene and Y. L. Thomas of Haskell. King spoke in Cisco Saturday afternoon.

Cecil A. Lotief, candidate for re-election as floral representative, held a rally on the city hall lawn here Saturday afternoon. One of his opponents, Eg. Curry, spoke at the same meeting, as did George A. Davison, Jr., of the Eastland county district 106. Davison is opposed by Ed T. Cox, Sr.

County Rallies County candidates will speak at Flatwood Monday, Cisco Wednesday, Ranger Thursday, and Eastland Friday. Each rally is scheduled for 8:30 p. m.

In the county races there are four which stand out as likely to be particularly close. Grady Owen and Earl Conner, Jr., are candidates for district attorney. T. L. Cooper, W. D. R. Owen, and W. S. Adamson are seeking the county judge's position vacated by Clyde L. Garrett.

There are six candidates for sheriff, A. D. Carroll, J. W. Nobles, A. D. McFarland, G. W. Rust, Loss Woods, and Steele Hill. Clyde S. Karkalits and C. H. O'Brien are seeking the place as county tax assessor-collector.

Three candidates, R. V. Galloway, R. L. Davenport, and T. M. Collier, are campaigning for county clerk. For Commissioner Robert Tucker, Joe Clements, Charlie Wende, and Arch Birt are seeking the place of county commissioner of precinct four, while Grant Daniels and Lee Barton are candidates for constable in this precinct.

The two district judges, B. W. Patterson and George Davenport, are unopposed, as are John White for treasurer, P. L. Crossley for district clerk, Bill Shirriff for county surveyor, Joe Wilson for justice of peace, Oscar Lyerla for county democratic chairman, and W. J. Armstrong for precinct six chairman.

Richer Shades In Swim Suits Dot Surf And Sands

Ready for a dip in the surf or an hour's lounging on sunny sands, this pair of trim bathing suits illustrates the richer colors and more conservative design noted this summer on some beaches. The slim-skirted model on the left is of wine colored chenille knit wool and is worn with a

cord cap. Knitted shoulder straps cross in the back to adjust the fit. The double-breasted suit on the right is of blue novelty wool finished with white wood buttons and buckle caught in a darker blue cord belt. Blue visor cap and white sandals go with it.

tural exports had benefitted to a great extent. He also said that in the case of similar treaties with other countries substantial concessions on agricultural exports to those countries had been secured with virtually no concessions for importation of farm products into the United States.

THE question of the revival of American foreign trade hinges on the issue of reciprocity. If the United States sells its goods aboard, it must buy from abroad.

THE Hull policy of reciprocal trade treaties is one of the most statesmanlike of all the programs of the national administration. It will bring about the most mutually beneficial relationships between this country and other countries.

LATE in life Great-aunt Peabody came down from her New Hampshire farm to visit her niece in New York. A week of sight-seeing culminated in a theatre party.

The choice of the play was left to the guest of honor. She chose a revival of 'The Merchant of Venice.' Thirty years before, she said, she had attended a performance of that play and all through her days in the country she had cherished a desire some day to witness another rendition of the piece which in her youth had made so profound an impression upon her.

As the curtain fell on the last act one of the group turned to ask what she thought of the production as compared with the one she had witnessed back in 1894.

"Well," answered Mrs. Peabody, "so far as Venice is concerned they seem to have made some very nice improvements in it. But that Shylock is still just the same grasping miserable creature that he used to be."

Aid for Insane In Jail Promise Of F. W. Fischer

(Special to The Daily Press)
 FT. WORTH, July 18.—In a speech here at Capps Park, F. W. Fischer, Tyler candidate for governor, said that if he is elected, he would see to it that the helpless insane be now lying in jails, are properly cared for. He also reiterated his stand for the adoption of the child labor amendment and minimum wage law for women, in order to prevent the exploitation of helpless women and children by the barons of industry.

"I am against use of convict labor for the manufacture of articles that come into competition with the labor of law-abiding citizens who are trying to support their families," said the candidate.

The East Texas candidate went on record again for a train limit law to safeguard the lives of railway employees. "This will result in the trebling of the number of railway employees, and may call for a slight increase in freight rates, but this result will be more than offset by the relief obtained in taxation to care for the unemployed who desire to work for an honest living.

Opening the final week of his campaign, the Tyler lawyer and oil producer, heads into South

Human and Other Nature

By W. F. BRUCE

The lesson for today throws light upon the "share the wealth" question. At certain prosperous times in the early church those that believed had "all things common." The practice was so all-inclusive that not a one of them called his possessions his own; as many as were possessors sold lands or houses and turned over the proceeds to the apostles, laying it at their feet as evidence of absolute relinquishment. The motive was apparently the desire to share with others of their company so that their new found interest in the gospel might be experienced together. Comparing Acts 2 with Acts 4 and other chapters in the New Testament we conclude that their assembly together was frequent and prolonged. There must be some assurance that no one would suffer while engaged in Christian service. The distribution of goods was not according to each man's contribution of labor or goods; but "according as any one had need." In view of what we know of human nature that was a bold and risky experiment, we are apt to think.

The management of the plan seems to have been voluntary and unsystematized at first; but differences arose that led to organized distribution (Acts 6). These difficulties, which were based on racial distinctions in this instance, must also have arisen out of individual differences, economic and social differences, and other conditions. Experiments in socialized living have nearly always ended in failure from such insurmountable difficulties. Let us notice more closely this movement in the first century.

This practice undoubtedly grew out of the spirit of brotherhood that was prompted by the teachings of Jesus. The giving up of possessions was evidently voluntary and not compulsory. Barnabas is named as one of the prominent disciples to make such a contribution. Ananias is asked specifically if his goods and their price after sale were not in his own power. It is a rhetorical question. (Acts 5, 4). Not only is the giver of these goods prompted by the highest motive, love of his fellows, but the beneficiary of this benevolence was filled with the same emotion, for they are all described together. Paul very strikingly describes a principle that underlies giving, in II Corinthians 8: 13, 14; not that one may be eased and another burdened, but that the abundance of one at one time may supply another's want, while at another time the other's abundance may supply the want of the one. But if any one will not work, then let him not eat, as Paul says at a later time (II Thes. 3: 10). The working of a scheme for sharing of goods depends upon the fair and willing attitude of every individual, whether giver or receiver. The first thing we need in order to bring the world around to the working of such an attractive program is to convert men to the state of mind that will make it workable. Then there would be no place for either drones or parasites. But there would be plenty of room for individual initiative, and plenty of challenge for every man to do his best.

TIME TO CHANGE TO Cool Cookery

• The thousands of women who have bought Hotpoint Electric Ranges have embarked on a new experience of happy, clean, carefree housework.

Overheated summer kitchens are a thing of the past with "Miracle Cookery." Thick insulation keeps heat in the oven, where it belongs. And, in surface cookery, Hotpoint Calrod coils concentrate all heat on the utensil and do not diffuse it into the air of the kitchen. And, of course, with electricity as the fuel, immaculate cleanliness is possible. Even the bottoms of pans do not become blackened.

Imagine spending all day away from home—then arriving just before dinner time to find the entire meal perfectly cooked, waiting in the oven, ready for serving. You see, in the morning you can make the food ready for cooking, then put it in the oven, set the temperature control, set the "Chef's Brain" (automatic timer) for the time it is to begin cooking and the time it should be finished—and then forget it until dinner is to be served.

Come in and see the beautiful new Hotpoint Electric Ranges. Discover how you can join the parade of modern women and save money at the same time.

HOTPOINT CALROD

What Mazda means to light, Calrod means to cookery. Calrod is the name given to Hotpoint's hi-speed sealed-in metal cooking coil which has revolutionized electric cookery. It brings new speed, new cleanliness and new economy to the kitchen.

THRIFT COOKER

Economical. Uses only about as much current as the kitchen light. Cooks an entire meal of meat, vegetables, dessert—or bakes small quantities, like a few potatoes, without need for heating up the oven.

THE CAMBRIDGE—A new Hotpoint Electric Range. All porcelain enamel with chromium trim. Table-top model. Full size oven. Spacious storage drawer. Calrod units and Thrift Cooker.

Using Office To Own Gain Charged By W. H. McDonald

(Special to The Daily Press) CLEBURNE, July 18.—After drawing up a claim in the capacity of a lawyer and receiving a fee for the service, a clerk in the state land office then passed favorably upon his own case, deeded W. H. McDonald of Eastland county, candidate for state land commissioner, here Saturday.

"It is the most amazing transaction in the history of Texas—unless it was the deal whereby the land office took a slice of rich oil land off a farmer's place after he had carried out the very instructions that the land office gave him," McDonald said.

He related that a land office clerk resigned, went to West Texas and accepted employment as an attorney to draw up a claim for a vacancy; that the former clerk was so interested in the case accepted a fee from the claimants for drawing up the claim.

"Then this man went back to Austin, applied for reappointment and got his land office job back. In the course of events, the very claim that he had prepared and for which he had received a fee came before him and, instead of turning it over to some impartial clerk, he passed on the matter himself—and upheld the claim of his client."

McDonald gave, as his qualifications, business experience, legal training, service in public position and knowledge of the oil industry; the chief work of the land office being to safeguard the state's oil rights. He pointed out that his only previous opponents are both campaigning for him actively in this race.

EDITOR'S NOTE—Opinions expressed in this column are the personal ones of the "Judge" and do not necessarily reflect the editorial policy of the Cisco Daily Press. DEMONSTRATION OF EQUALITY OF SEXES

That most of the barriers heretofore existing between the sexes are being broken down is being most forcibly demonstrated by the activities in social, business and industrial pursuits. Especially is this seen in recent decisions of the courts, in which the death sentence being, and has been imposed. Time was, in the memory of many now living, that the death penalty was inflicted upon women only in the rarest cases, regardless of the fact that the motive and method of the crime may have been most heinous.

And when a woman was executed the news was heralded all over the land.

Jealousy Motivates Murder
Now, not only is death penalty being inflicted upon women who do murder, with comparable frequency, but there is seen a breaking down of the sex barriers in the motives that prompt the slayings. Jealousy, on the part of the women, as a crime motive, is not dissimilar to that which arouses the crime complex in men.

Only last Thursday Mrs. Frances Creighton and her alleged lover-conspirator, Everett C. Applegate, were electrocuted in Sing Sing after conviction of poisoning the wife of Applegate.

Thursday another woman, Mrs. Mildred Bolton, was sentenced to death by a Chicago jury, composed of 11 married men and one widower.

for the alleged shooting of her husband to death.

Here, too, was the absence of the sex barrier manifest, as she acted on the "unwritten law" in the "eternal triangle" just the same as mere man. She said she bought the weapon to commit suicide in his presence on account of his infidelity, but decided to shoot him instead of herself.

Lack of Reserve
But the absence of and breaking down of the sex barrier is manifest in practically every walk of life, social, business and industrial.

In conversation the former respect and reserve that prompted the man to guard his speech in the presence of the "gentler sex" is conspicuous by its absence. And there is a lack of reserve in the social relations that formerly was exhibited. Some of the emancipated girls do not disdain nor resent the proffer of a drink of spirits from their boy friends.

Many women are today occupying positions heretofore filled by men. In this there is little to censure, as many of the girls and women have to make their own living, and as marriageable men, with positions that would justify them taking on the responsibilities of husbands, have reduced the eligibles to the minimum.

Nor does one hear so much talk about the inequality of the sexes, and the "double standard," that was heard a few years ago, and, I suppose, the reason is that there is no longer such a standard, or at least, it is of lesser proportions than in years that are gone.

October 1 Is Final 4-H Club Entry Date

DALLAS, July 18.—October 1 was today set as the final date for entries in the national 4-H club dairy cattle judging and dairy products demonstrations to be held October 12-14 at the Texas centennial exposition.

Word to this effect was received by Prof. W. L. Stangel, exposition livestock director, from G. L. Noble, Chicago, executive secretary, national committee on boys and girls club work.

The contests will be held in connection with the national dairy show that opens at the $25,000,000 World's Fair October 10 and closes October 18. The dairy show will distribute $19,500 in cash prizes, the largest amount offered during its twenty-seven years.

On Sunday, October 11, the exposition will hold a special vesper service on the 200 acre fair grounds for the competing club members, their coaches and leaders.

MAGIC CHEF Gas Ranges Will Greet MRS. MODERN at the TEXAS CENTENNIAL

A CENTURY AGO, when Texas was born, no one dreamed of the amazing beauty and convenience that is yours in Magic Chef today. They never dreamed of fuel flowing through pipes, of hot blue flames spurting from small openings. Of quickly cleaned enamel surfaces. Or automatic heat control. Or oven burners lighted and extinguished by a clock.

Magic Chef . . . the gas range of today . . . has all these features . . . and more. Top burners light themselves as you turn on the gas. Complete insulation. Red Wheel Oven Regulator controls the temperature accurately. Come in now and select one of the same Magic Chefs chosen for the model homes at the Centennial.

Look for the RED WHEEL When You Buy a MAGIC CHEF

WE MUST NOT REMAIN IN THE OPEN MORE THAN A FEW SECONDS-- THE TEMPERATURE AT THIS ELEVATION IS EIGHTY BELOW ZERO!

SIXTY MILES ABOVE THE EARTH--UPHELD BY THE POWERFUL "REDDITE" RAYS-- FLOATS CELESTIUM THE CROCODILE'S CITY IN THE SKY--

-- AND REMEMBER THAT THE AIR IS FAR TOO THIN TO SUPPORT LIFE-- TAKE A DEEP BREATH BEFORE PLUNGING OUTSIDE-- NOW, ARE YOU READY?

PROTECTED FROM THE SEARING ULTRA-VIOLET RAYS OF THE SUN UNDER THE CROCODILE'S UMBRELLA THEY RUSH FOR THE NEAREST SHELTER--

BR-R-R! YOU'RE SURE IT'S ONLY EIGHTY BELOW OUT THERE?

IT NEVER CHANGES--NOW FOLLOW ME ALOFT

HEY! WHAT'S ALL THIS?

--THE BEGINNING OF YOUR INSTRUCTION-- WE ARE MOUNTING TO AN OBSERVATION PLATFORM--

FOR YOUR DUTIES YOU MUST BECOME FAMILIAR WITH EVERY DETAIL OF MY SKY CITY--

NOW WAIT A MINUTE!

WHAT'S YOUR RACKET, MISTER CROCODILE? AND HOW DO WE FIT INTO THIS FANTASTIC ENTERPRISE?

I HAVE DECIDED TO FOUND AN EMPIRE ON THE EARTH-- ONE BY ONE ALL COUNTRIES WILL FALL INTO MY HANDS ---AND FIRST OF ALL YOU TWO ARE TO HELP ME ANNEX THE PHILIPPINES!!

WHY DO BLUEJACKETS' TROUSERS HAVE BELL BOTTOMS?

- TWO REASONS--
- (1) THEY'RE MORE EASILY ROLLED UP FOR DECK WORK--
 - (2) A MAN SWEEP OVERBOARD CAN KICK THEM OFF IN AN INSTANT

NEAR THE BED-SIDE OF THE AGED CAPT BELL THE ADMIRAL HAS FOUND A MANUSCRIPT-- THE TRAGIC STORY OF VOLCANIC ISLAND

IT TELLS OF THE GRADUAL COMING OF EVERLASTING WINTER AND THE VAIN EFFORTS OF PREPARATION IN THE VILLAGE

"AS THE TEMPERATURE KEPT SINKING MEMBERS OF MY CREW BROUGHT BAD NEWS

CAP'N, THE NATIVES ARE DYIN' LIKE FLIES!

IT'S PNEUMONIA-- THEY CAN'T STAND THE COLD!

I'M AFRAID THEY'RE DOOMED

WE FOUND VICTIMS IN EVERY HOUSEHOLD--

IT'S HOPELESS! WE CAN'T SAVE THEM!

IN A FEW WEEKS WE HAD CARRIED ALL OUR NATIVE FRIENDS TO THE SNOW-COVERED BURYING GROUND--

THERE FOLLOWS A COUNCIL OF WAR AMONG US-- THE HARDIER SURVIVORS--

CAP'N, IT'S NO USE TO STAY HERE

WE'LL NEVER BE RESCUED

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO DO, THEN?

I'M FOR BUILDIN' A SLEDGE--LOADIN' IT WITH SUPPLIES AND HEADIN' SOUTH!

AYE! IT'S OUR ONLY CHANCE!

I ARGUED THAT SUCH A COURSE WAS SURE DEATH BUT THEY WOULDN'T LISTEN--"

JUST AS ADMIRAL JONES IS REACHING FOR THE LAST PAGE OF CAPT. BELL'S MANUSCRIPT THE FIRST AID PARTY FROM THE DIRIGIBLE ARRIVES ON THE SCENE

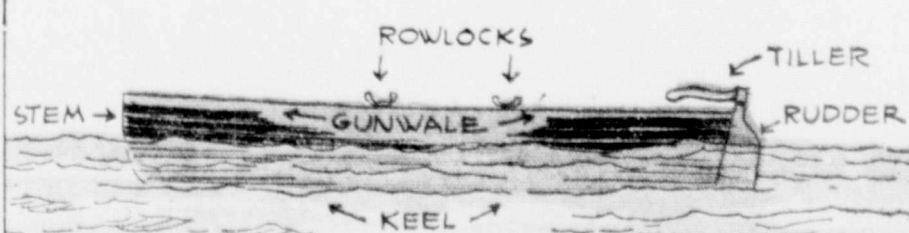

THERE'S THE SPOT

I HOPE THE DOCTOR'S IN TIME TO SAVE POOR OLD CAPTAIN BELL!
