Bulgarian scientist visits Wright farm

The large degree of mechanization in agriculture and the small numbers of people required to work large tracts of land are the most impressive things about area agriculture according to Constantine Rakov, a Bulgarian soil scientist who visited the county last Wednesday.

RAKOV, a native of Sophia, Bulgaria, visited the Donald Wright farm east of Dimmitt along with Harry Rucker, area conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service in Amarillo. His stop at the Wright farm was one of many Rakov has made during his tour in America, sponsored by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

The scientist is studying American farming methods and doing research on heavy clay soils.

According to Rakov, 50 people might be engaged in farming the same amount of land which Wright farms with five — 3,200 acres.

Rakov, who managed a 250,000 acre farm in Bulgaria said, "There are about 8 1/2 million acres of agricultural land in Bulgaria, but only 70 farms. Around 30 percent of the population lives on farms. We grow a lot of vegetables, strawberries and tomatoes."

BULGARIA HAS made rapid progress in the field of agriculture, Rakov explained. In 1957 harvesting was still done by hand, but now it is mechanized.

Each Bulgarian farm is self-sustaining, everything needed on the farm is produced or is purchased from another farm through trading. These farms raise wheat, corn, sugar beets, vegetables and alfalfa.

"All of the land is farmed," said Rakov. "One acre is reserved for each family and on this acre the families can grow anything they want. Most people keep some cattle or pigs so they grow corn on this land. There is no cattle industry and the fields are not grazed," he added.

Approximately 30 percent of the land is irrigated from the Danube River.

RAKOV, 39 is married and has a daughter. He has been in the US since December 31. He spent his first two months in the country in a language school in Washington familiarizing himself with the English language. He also speaks Russian and German.

He came to Bushland in March and has been doing research there on heavy clay soils. Approximately ten percent of the land in Bulgaria is heavy clay soil, and this soil structure has presented some problems according to the scientist. His visit to the county was for the purpose of observing some of the equipment used in farming such soils.

Rakov explained that only one out of every ten people in his country who desire to attend a university are allowed to do so. "Only the top people are allowed to attend the university, the government pays for everything while you attend school and when you get out the government assigns you a job which you perform to repay the debt," he said.

ACCORDING TO Rakov, retirement age for men in his country is 60, and retirement age for women is 55. Retired workers receive 90 percent of the wage they received while working.

Rakov pointed out that American food is rather bland compared to the spicy foods of Bulgaria and that there are big differences in the way that food is prepared.

"Every person in my country eats more than a pound of bread a day," he said.

The Bulgarian visitor will visit Temple and Weslaco and be in Washington Aug. 10-16. He will then go to West Germany for two weeks before returning home.

Vegetable theft runs high

Vegetable farmers found themselves plagued by rain and mounting thievery as they continue efforts to harvest onion, potato and carrot crops this week.

CARL BRUEGEL of Dimmitt reported that $1,500 to $2,000 worth of vegetables have been stolen from his fields so far.

"I guess the higher price of groceries has something to do with it," said Bruegel. "I've lost over a hundred sacks of onions along the highway in just one day. I don't know if the people taking them are selling them or what," he added.

Bruegel reported that onions are taken after they are sacked but the thieves are digging potatoes by hand.

"They'll get 15 sacks of potatoes at a time if you don't catch them," he said.

BRUEGEL ALSO reported that three rooms of furniture had been stolen from a hired hand's house and clothing and tools have been stolen too. He has reported the thefts to the sheriff's office.

Homer West of La Mantia Cullum Collier & Co. reported that the theft happens pretty regularly during vegetable harvest, but is probably worse now than it has been.

"A lot of people see the sacks in the field and think that the farmer's not going to miss them," said West. "It's no different than someone walking into a clothing store and taking a suit, but some people don't look at it that way. For some reason people seem to think they've got a right to (See VEGETABLE, Page 7)

WRECK SCENE AT SUNNYSIDE BRIDGE SUNDAY NIGHT
 ... Three men injured, but none critically

Three men injured Sunday in 2 car head-on collision

Three men were hurt, but not none critically, in a two-car, head-on collision late Sunday night at the Sunnyside bridge 14 miles south of Dimmitt.

INJURED in the wreck were Gary Lynn Webb, 19, of Dimmitt, who was alone in a 1973 Chevrolet El Camino pickup; Santos Fuentes, 28-year-old farm worker from Uvalde, driver of a 1969 Chevrolet two-door sedan; and Fuentes' passenger, Nicholas Garcia, 36.

The accident occurred at 11 p.m. Sunday on US 385, just 40 feet north of the bridge that spans the Running Water Draw in Sunnyside.

Highway Patrolman Dyrle Maples and Bill Scott said Webb was driving north toward Dimmitt and had just exited from the bridge when his El Camino collided with Fuentes' south-bound car.

THE TWO vehicles collided in the west lane, partially over the center stripe, and came to a dead stop at the point of impact, officers said.

Officers said both vehicles' skid marks started in the east lane, indicating Fuentes had been in the left lane and steered right to avoid the collision at the same time Webb steered left after coming off the bridge.

"Webb told us he thought the Fuentes car was going to pull off the road east at the Diamond-A Cattle Co. because it was on the left side of the road, but it didn't," Maples said.

The patrolman added, "The only things that kept us from having three fatalities were that the cars hit at a slight angle instead of headlight to headlight, and they weren't going very fast at the time of impact." He estimated the speed of each vehicle at 40 to 45 mph.

ALL THREE men were conscious when highway patrolmen arrived at the wreck scene. Both vehicles were total losses.

Webb and Fuentes were taken by Dennis Ambulance Service to Plains Memorial Hospital, and Deputy Sheriff Granville Martin transported Garcia to the local hospital moments later.

GARCIA was the worst injured, receiving broken ribs, facial bruises, a scalp laceration and bruised knee. Fuentes received severe bruises of the chest, face, hip and legs.

Webb, who was wearing his seat belt, received a severe hip bruise and lip laceration.

Fuentes was dismissed from Plains Memorial Hospital Tuesday, and Webb and Garcia were both reported to be in satisfactory condition.

The Texas Highway Patrol charged Fuentes with driving while intoxicated and filed a drunkenness charge against Garcia.

Dickey rites held Saturday

Funeral services were held Saturday at Restland Memorial Chapel in Dallas for Floyd W. Dickey, father of Floyd P. Dickey of Dimmitt.

Mr. Dickey, a Dallas resident for 43 years, died Thursday at Presbyterian Hospital after a lengthy illness. A retired automobile dealer, he was 76.

Survivors include his wife, Vesta, of the home; a brother, Robert W. Dickey of Rockwall; two granddaughters, Mrs. Marilyn Beam of Amarillo and Mrs. Suzanne Axe of Dallas; and five great grandchildren.

Burial was in Restland Memorial Park in Dallas.

Final meeting on '73 Roundup slated tonight

The County Activities Committee will meet in the courthouse, community room at 7:30 tonight (Thursday) to iron out final details of the 1973 Roundup, review the budget and elect officers for 1974.

THIS WILL be the last meeting of the committee before Roundup Week, which kicks off Aug. 11. The committee, which includes representatives of all clubs and communities in the county, has been meeting monthly since May to plan new events, assign sponsors, work out financing and fix the Roundup Week schedule.

"Sponsors have been secured for all Roundup events, including a lot of new activities, and the trophies, ribbons and other items needed are all on order," Activities Chairman Don Nelson reported. "The Roundup is mainly in the hands of these sponsoring organizations now, and plans are looking good for a celebration that will have something for people of all ages."

Nelson asked that organizations sponsoring events submit complete written details at tonight's meeting for publicity use along with final budget requests.

OFFICERS to be elected tonight will include a chairman to head up the 1974 Roundup vice-chairmen from different communities, and a secretary-treasurer. Darrell McLain already has been elected vice-chairman from Hart for 1974.

Officers of the Activities Committee this year have been Nelson, chairman; Gary Gerber of Nazareth and Harley Wilke of Hart, vice-chairmen; and Mrs. Bill Behrends of Dimmitt, secretary-treasurer.

Old fiddlers' contest is added as Hart Day plans are finalized

An old fiddlers' contest was added to the Hart Day schedule at the final planning session Monday night.

THE HART celebration Aug. 11 will kick off the 1973 Roundup Week in the county.

Herb Mayfield is in charge of contacting old fiddlers' groups and securing judges for the Hart Day contest. The competition will be open to all fiddlers from all area counties who want to take part, Mayfield said.

The Lions Club will get the annual Hart Day event off to an early start when it opens its Lionburger stand and game booths next Thursday evening. The Lions Club concession stands — and possibly other game and food booths — will also be open on Hart Day Eve, Friday night. Planners also are trying to book a carnival for Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Planners met with Hart Day Chairman, Bob Reed in the Farmers State Bank community room Monday night to draw up the final schedule for Hart Day.

HERE'S THE slate of events:

10 a.m. — Registration and reception conducted by the Goodneighbor Club, Farmers State Bank.

10 a.m. — Old Fiddlers' Contest begins downtown.

11 a.m. — Merchants' Drawing for free gifts during breaks in Old Fiddlers' Contest.

Morning — Dress Contest, with prizes for best-dressed man and woman present. Contestants are to report to reception at bank.

ALL DAY — Food booths and game booths to be operated by individual clubs in downtown area.

2 p.m. — Hart Day Parade.

After Parade — Playday at R. G. Henderson Arena.

9 p.m. — Crowning of Miss Hart Day at city hall.

A couple of questions that I would like for one of the senators to ask in the Watergate hearings are what were the sensitive Pentagon papers doing in the custody of the Rand Corporation, and why did the President depend so heavily on the advice of a young lawyer and a young advertising executive, instead of the time-honored practice of looking to his cabinet heads for advice and council. They are the people that the Congress puts the stamp of approval on to run the executive branch of the government.

Stamp sales due to begin today

Sale of food stamps will begin today (Thursday) at 9:50 a.m. at the commodity office, according to W. E. Scarlett, regional administrator for the State Department of Public Welfare.

STAMPS will be sold to people who have been certified as eligible by the State Department of Public Welfare and have received their Authorization to Purchase card in the mail.

A schedule of the selling dates for the month of August will be posted Thursday morning.

Mary Robbins is local coordinator of the Food Stamp program. Her office is located on the second floor of the courthouse.

DISPLAYS NEW BEEPER — Don Shrum, manager of TG&Y demonstrates one of the "beepers" located in the newly expanded store here. Whenever a customer needs help he flips the switch and a revolving light and beeper alert clerks to the customer's location.

New goods offered by expanded TG&Y

"We have had a lot of compliments on our expansion, people have been saying they are glad Dimmitt has a store like Lubbock or Amarillo," commented Don Shrum, manager of the local TG&Y expanded variety store following last week's grand opening.

AFTER THE completion of a major expansion project which more than doubled floor display space, TG&Y held its second grand opening last week, and local response was "real good" according to Shrum.

"There has been a steady stream of customers coming in," he added.

The store, which has been in Dimmitt since 1963 originally opened its doors with 6,500 square feet of floor display space, making it one of the largest variety stores in this area. The expansion project, which began in March increased floor display space to 13,600 square feet and overall building space to 15,000 square feet, making the Dimmitt store one of the largest expanded variety stores in the TG&Y system.

"This store has always been one of the state's best TG&Y stores," said Shrum. "Dimmitt's response warranted our expansion," he added.

According to Shrum, several departments in the store have expanded and some new ones have been added.

"Our hardware and dry goods departments have been greatly expanded, we have increased the drapes and curtains on display, expanded the sheets and towels and have added bed spreads," he said.

Plumbing supplies have been added in the hardware department and building supplies have been expanded.

Something new for the local TG&Y, an automotive accessory department, has been added. The department features motor oil, tune-up kits, spark plugs, filters and other items.

"Our clothing departments have expanded somewhat, we have some additional ladies' wear and have added shirts, pants and work clothes in the men's department," said Shrum.

Bicycle supplies and accessories have also been added, in addition to several ten speed bicycles.

As an aid to shoppers the store now features special switches located next to the aisles, which the customer flips on when he needs help.

THESE SWITCHES turn on a "beeper" and flashing yellow light which aids clerks in finding customers who need help," said Shrum.

The local store will eventually employ 17-20 persons according to Shrum.

We all thrill to a... FAMILIAR TUNE It is so soothing, comforting, and pleasing to listen to our favorite tunes when played by capable artists. These tunes can make our minds wander back to pleasant memories of days gone by, and also awake us to new joys. Each Sunday we have the opportunity to be thrilled by the preaching of God's word, and the story of God's great love for us. Attend church Sunday and enjoy worshiping God with others. The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God. VFW NEWS
By GERALD BROADSTREET

Greetings Comrades,
If you didn't go to the dance at the post home last Saturday night you sure missed a good one. We had a real nice crowd, and a large one at that.
On behalf of Commander Charles Wilkerson and all the officers we want to say a big "Thank You" to all those who attended and made this event the success it was. I must say our band, the "Crystal Airmen", did a mighty fine job for us as they kept the dance floor packed. Maybe we can have them back sometime in the near future.

SAY PEOPLE, did you notice the new tile on the floor of our entrance room when you came in Saturday night? Our Commander and Howard Cook selected the design and bought it Friday, then Saturday morning Charles Wilkerson and Herman Acker installed it while I looked on and got in their way. I think it looks real sharp and the color and design really adds to the wall paneling.

I know everyone noticed the new paint job on the outside of our entrance room and trim on the building plus our restrooms have a new coat of paint. All this is the work of our "Patriotic Painter" Comrade H. K. "Red" Hill.

Thanks a lot men, everything looks so nice and believe me we do appreciate your time and effort in helping make our post look nice.

COMRADES, next Monday night, Aug. 6, is our regular monthly meeting. Please make a big effort to attend, as we have much to discuss and plan. Our District Convention will be the 25th and 26th and Roundup week will be just before that. Remember, our meetings start at 8 o'clock now and we have a covered dish supper immediately afterwards compliments of the Ladies Auxiliary. So please come out and support your officers and help them with their programs, so we can make this one of the best years we've ever had.

I'M SURE everyone has received their 1974 dues notice in the mail from National Headquarters. Please do me a personal favor and use the handy convenient form and envelope and pay your dues today.

When you pay your dues early you are helping yourself and your post, not to mention how much easier it makes my job as Quartermaster.

This coming year we will be observing our 75th Anniversary and I would like to see our post really come through and win as many honors as possible. Paying your dues early will get us off to a good start for our motto for the 73-74 year is "Let's do more in '74."

COMRADES, this has been a busy week for me. I visited Post 3576 in Muleshoe last Monday, the 23rd. Their commander, Phillip Wilcox, is a Vietnam veteran and I'm convinced he is going to do a good job. I expect them to be an "Honor Roll" post this year. I enjoy visiting Muleshoe and if you get a chance stop by and see them. They are real good people.

The next day I made an official visit to Post 4854 Littlefield, and would you believe their commander, Royce Bussey, is a Vietnam veteran also? Royce is the son of our immediate past District Comm. Roy Bussey. I always enjoy going to Littlefield. They are a great bunch of men to know. Royce seems pretty confident that their post is going to win the "Traveling Plaque" at the District Convention in August, but you can't ever tell.

VETERANS' SERVICES

By BEDFORD W. SMITH
County Service Officer

Many veterans are unaware of the fact that they may be eligible for dental care at Government expense after they are released from the Armed Forces.

UNDER THE current Veterans Administration dental care program, a veteran qualifies for one episode of dental care, provided he applies to the VA within one year following discharge or release from military service. "One episode" for this purpose means the veteran may receive a dental program only once, sufficient to correct all cavities and other dental defects revealed by the dental examination.

Dental care for eligible veterans may be authorized and paid by the Veterans Administration, and may be rendered by a private dentist in the veteran's home town. An exception might be the veteran who lives within easy commuting distance of a VA dental clinic, in which case the work would be done by a VA dentist.

When a veteran is discharged or released from military service, and he finds that dental care is needed, he should report to his local Service Officer and file an application with the VA. If he is found to be eligible, the Veterans Administration will authorize the necessary examination and treatment. The veteran should not obligate himself for any dental care expense, since the Veterans Administration will pay for any service which is authorized.

Dental care at VA expense is generally available, without any time limit, for former prisoners of war. The Government may also provide care when a dental condition is aggravating a service-connected medical disability.

INFORMATION on how to get G.I. education allowance checks sooner is being mailed to prospective students by VA.

Last November, the agency started paying education allowances before, rather than after each month's training.

VA Regional Director Jack Coker pointed out today that this was one of two provisions of Public Law 92-540 (Oct. '72). Starting Aug. 1, 1973, advance payment checks will be mailed to the claimant in care of the school, covering the first month or portion thereof, plus the succeeding month. In order for advance payments to be received before final enrollment, the enrollment information must be received by the Veterans Administration no later than Aug. 15, 1973.

Coker said more than two million veterans are expected to train under the G.I. Bill in Fiscal Year 1974, and the two new payment systems will make funds available to trainees during early weeks of training.

HE EXPLAINED that advance payments are available upon request to the school for persons who enroll in institutions on at least a one-half time basis. Servicemen will receive lump sum advance payments for the entire term, quarter or semester.

The law excludes persons who plan to take correspondence courses, flight training, home-bound training or independent instructor courses. These are not eligible for advance payments.

Current trainees who apply for advance payments must first notify schools that they plan to reenroll in the fall. After schools complete and forward reenrollment certificates to VA, the agency will mail checks to schools. Checks will be delivered to trainees at time of final registration, but not earlier than 30 days before beginning of enrollment periods.

Coker also explained that when an eligible person planning to enter training for the first time applies for advance payment, he should notify the VA that he has been accepted by a school, the number of semester or quarter hours he will take, and the beginning and ending dates of his enrollment. The same procedure should be followed by trainees who plan to change schools.

See the County Veterans Service Officer to secure eligibility certification.

Here are week's best food buys

Food prices will stay relatively high because of three factors, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

SHE CITED "increased production costs, strong consumer buying and the general inflation we are experiencing" as food-cost boosters.

"Fryer chickens and eggs, released from the price freeze, will undoubtedly have price increases in order to reach a better balance between production and marketing these items," the specialist predicted.

"Egg prices already have increased — and in most instances, best values will be found on medium and small-sized eggs."

"Avoid buying eggs stacked several inches above the top of coolers or displayed on tables — the quality of these eggs will drop rapidly."

TURNING TO meats, Mrs. Clyatt noted that they are selling at or near ceiling prices. "Generally best beef values will be chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, ground beef and beef liver. Some markets offer ground beef with soy protein at attractive prices."

"Park is scarce. "Smoked cuts getting special attention are boneless hams — both whole and portion, and the five-pound canned ham."

THE SPECIALIST said prices will fluctuate on fresh fruits and vegetables, but most will be on the high side. Items in best supply at the most reasonable prices include bananas, cantaloupes, watermelons, plums, peaches, grapes, nectarines, pineapples and cherries.

Also cabbage, carrots, hard shell squash, corn, purple hull peas, Southern varieties of peas, radishes, okra and green onions.

SPEAKS ON FLEECES — Paul Ablos of Hereford spoke to the Dimmitt Kiwanis Club Monday at their noon meeting about merchandise used to fleece Mexican-American people. Among the items he listed were cheaply made religious statues which are sold at high prices, netting the dealer a big return on a minimal investment.

Ablos tells Kiwanians of fleece merchandise

"Mexican American people are being fleeced on a lot of merchandise due to their beliefs and superstitions," Paul Ablos, liaison man for the Hereford Public Schools told Dimmitt Kiwanians Monday at their noon meeting.

ABLOS, WHO has worked as a school teacher and is employed with KPAN radio in Hereford, in addition to working with migrants as a community specialist, explained that many of the people who buy items due to their superstitions or beliefs cannot really afford them.

"Not all Mexican-Americans practice these beliefs or buy such merchandise, but the ones who can least afford to are usually the ones who buy," he said.

Ablos showed Kiwanians a great variety of merchandise sold for its "good luck" powers. Among the items were aerosol cans of herb essence, supposed to do away with jinxes. Another spray solution advertised that it would bring good luck.

THREE OUNCE bars of good luck soap and gambler's soap were priced at $1.25. A brand of expensive tea was purported to have power to heal ailments.

Other items which were on display included snake, skunk and coon oil and various "charmed" perfumes in half ounce bottles priced at $1.29.

"Many people believe in the 'evil eye' spell which they feel can be cast on their baby," explained Ablos. "They may believe the child is under the effects of such a spell when he cries and won't eat or sleep. So they put deer eyes inside the child's diaper to overcome the spell, so there is a big market for false deer eyes," he added.

STATUES WITH religious themes are another big sales item according to Ablos. The actual cost of making the statues may be as little as 35 cents, and they will sell for around $13.50 he reported.

"Everything is geared for sale to people with strong faith, or people who are after something for nothing," said Ablos. "It is not necessarily the Anglos taking advantage of these people, much of this material comes from South America. We can't condemn these people for their beliefs, but 95 percent of those buying these products are the less fortunate people who can't afford them," he added.

According to Ablos, much of the material is advertised via Spanish radio, and he feels there is a great need to limit the advertising of such items over the air. He said there are five stations in the area that advertise these items and from Lubbock northward there are approximately 50 people who sell such goods, with one dealer located in Dimmitt.

"This is a million dollar industry, I have been offered as much as $100 a day to promote such items over the radio," replied Ablos.

"WE CAN'T really blame the businessman for selling these things, as long as people demand these items he must provide them or lose business," he said.

"However, we can educate these people about such items. When the people can't afford to buy this junk in the first place, it's time for education to begin. We can also try to stop the radio advertising about such overrated items," he concluded.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Finley

Tom Finley is new deputy here; nephew of former county sheriff

A law officer who was born and raised in Dimmitt has returned to Castro County to join the sheriff's department which his uncle once headed.

HE IS Tom Finley, 42, who has 14 years' experience in law enforcement.

A 1950 graduate of Dimmitt High School, Finley is the nephew of the late E. D. "Peck" Weyer, who was the sheriff of Castro County in 1948-50.

Finley and his family live two miles west of Nazareth, and he generally alternates his duty hours between Nazareth and the sheriff's office in Dimmitt.

After graduating from high school here in 1950, Finley served three years in the US Army, stationed with the 2nd Armored Division in Germany. When he completed his military service he entered law enforcement, joining the Hereford Police Dept.

HE HAS since served as a city policeman or deputy sheriff at Lamesa, Fort Worth and Plainview.

Finley came back to Castro County from New Mexico, where he had spent four years ranching.

"We're glad to have Tom back in Castro County," Sheriff

Jack Cartwright said. "He knows the area, knows the people and knows the work."

However, Finley commented, "It's changed a whole lot since I lived here as a boy."

Finley and his wife, Georgia (a native of Brownfield), have two daughters — Melissa, 5, and Melinda, 3.

Fund drive for ranch under way

A fund drive is currently underway to establish a Texas Boys Ranch near Matador according to Robert Daniel, drive chairman for Castro County. CITIZENS IN the Matador area are purchasing the land for the proposed site and donating it to the project.

The ranch would eventually become a home for boys who are considered by courts to need a new environment, according to Daniel. Last year more than 700 boys in Lubbock alone were ordered into foster homes and other facilities. There are not enough facilities to handle all the boys in need of an environmental change.

The proposed ranch will begin with ten boys and will become "as large as possible with the money and facilities available" according to Daniels. Individuals donating $100 or more will receive Texas-shaped plaques. Donations of $1 or more per month can be authorized for monthly drafts.

DANIEL POINTED out that the ranch must raise half a million dollars before it can open its doors.

KITCHEN CARPET needs to be vacuumed frequently. Figure on cleaning it about once a week per family member, says Patricia A. Bradshaw, housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS
AS HEARD BY HEARD

Morality At The Top

A continual complaint received from independent business people by the National Federation of Independent Business is over the failure of people to pay their bills. This raises a question of morality.

There are probably very few dead in the wool dealers. In fact, the late A. P. Giannini founded what has become the world's biggest bank on the premise that 98 per cent of the people are honest. The problem of defaulting debtors is undoubtedly largely due to promising to pay more than they can afford, and they get in over their heads.

But there is a king sized question as to just who should set the moral tone. It is hard to have a moral people with immoral government, and that is perhaps the chief cause of today's problem.

Michigan attacked this problem of fiscal morality by voting in a new Constitution that forbids the state from spending more than it takes in.

Now California's Governor Ronald Reagan is advocating a program to reduce and limit the taxes the state can levy over a 15 year period.

He says that in 1930 government was extracting only 15 cents from every dollar earned. Today, he claims, that bite has jumped to 43 cents which he feels is leading to chaos.

Of course, he is running into opposition, and there will undoubtedly be the usual snide comments about his former role as a movie actor. In the opinion of this writer, which was not shared by millions of movie goers, he was not a great actor.

Actually, he worked his way through Wheaton college waiting on tables and won a degree in economics at a time when there was little demand for economists, so in the tradition of those pre-welfare days, he turned to anything that promised a chance to earn an honest dollar. Supreme Court Justice White returned from England as a Rhodes scholar and he, too, turned to professional football until such time as it was possible to pursue a law career.

Probably the biggest grudge held against Governor Reagan is the fact that he jumped into major political office without previously being a politician.

Past administrations had driven the state to near-bankruptcy. It is now solvent.

The Governor would like to see it stay that way.

It seems quite a simple rationale. A moral people cannot be expected under an immoral government. Perhaps, because he was not a professional politician, Governor Reagan understands this principle. And that is perhaps a source of the pain he imparts to professional politicians.

Small rains helpful in limiting moisture stress

By LARRY O. STARNES

Corn, milo, cotton and sugar beet growth is progressing well. Due to the help of several small rains, few fields have experienced a moisture stress up to the present.

MOISTURE STRESS in these crops has been anticipated due to increased acreages planted under the 1973 farm program. With the additional moisture we received last week these crops should get well into their peak use periods with little or no moisture stress.

Weed control this year appears to be less effective than normal. The extra moisture this year appears to have limited the effectiveness of some herbicides as well as provide excellent growing conditions for weeds. Johnsongrass and barnyard grass in corn fields is especially a problem.

Vegetable harvest is well underway and most yields are reported to be good. Irrigated pastures are responding well to the additional moisture and warm weather, especially where adequate fertilizer has been applied.

RANGE GRASSES provided early grazing this year but forage production was severely cut by a heavy infestation of weeds and annual grasses, which took the moisture early, completed their growth cycle, and died. This left the native grasses without sufficient moisture to produce normal forage growth. The recent moisture will help but will be too late to be very effective.

Farm commodity prices are much better this year, but none too early for area farmers. With many of the area crops costing in excess of $100 per acre to produce, former prices would often not cover cost of production, let alone provide a fair return on the farmer's labor and investment.

Dimmitt man attends school

Ronald Montgomery, a member of the Dimmitt Volunteer Fire Department attended the 44th annual Texas Firemen's Training School last week on the Texas A&M University campus.

THE CASTRO County Farm Bureau sponsored Montgomery's trip to the school.

The school was attended by approximately 1,200 students representing 480 cities from 20 states.

County Farm Bureaus and the Texas Farm Bureau companies in the statewide program sponsored 102 firemen at the school.

GRAND OPENING SHOPPERS — These young shoppers were busy looking over merchandise during the grand opening of TG&Y last week. Business was good during the opening according to Don Shrum, manager. The store's expansion makes it one of the largest variety stores in the area.

Wise shopping helps stretch beef dollars

Beef-hungry consumers can follow seven guidelines to keep meat on the table in spite of the "shrinking buck," a livestock marketing specialist said this week.

DR. EDWARD Uyacek Jr., with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, cited careful spending of meat dollars as the key.

— Compare meat cuts on a cost-per-serving basis, rather than price per pound.

— For example, you can get about four servings from a pound of ground beef, but only two and a half servings from a sirloin steak. For them to be equal on a cost-per-serving basis — when sirloin brings $1.49 per pound, ground beef could sell for as much as $2.38 per pound," the specialist explained.

— A brisket at $1.19 a pound will cost as much per serving as a boneless chuck at 99 cents a pound, or shortribs at 79 cent a pound.

— "BONELESS chuck roast at $1.09 a pound and shortribs at 88 cents a pound have exactly the same cost per serving, but a T-bone steak at $1.59 a pound costs twice as much per serving as liver at the same price."

Uyacek also advised homemakers — when substituting other meats such as broiler chickens for beef — to remember that most of them have very low servings per pound. "For example, a ready-to-cook broiler at 59 cents a pound is slightly more expensive per serving than brisket or rolled rump at $1.29 a pound."

— Don't pay extra for minor conveniences.

— "PRE-FORMED ground beef patties are pretty — but expensive. The amount of work in making a hamburger patty is pretty negligible.

— Similar types of conveniences — at a cost — are built into such items as tenderized or formed steaks, cubed stewing beef, breaded chicken-fried steaks and precooked cuts. Do the work yourself, and save a bundle," he added.

— Carefully compare prices for beef cuts in different stores. "All retailers don't charge the same price for individual cuts. In fact, it's not unusual to have very substantial variations in retail prices between stores — even in a small town.

— "SHOP AROUND. Don't always buy your beef in the same old store, simply because that's where the watermelons are cheaper."

— Get your money's worth in quality. "Unless you're an expert, the easiest way to insure consistent acceptability and quality is to buy only USDA Choice beef. "It's either labeled as such, or has a purple shield with the word 'Choice' inside of it, stamped on the outside of the meat cut.

— "LOOK FOR this before you buy. You could buy US Good beef, but it's not as safe a bet in terms of quality."

— Don't be ashamed to return an unsatisfactory piece of meat.

— "Most retailers, particularly larger chains, flaunt a money-back guarantee. Use it. If not completely satisfied, return it. Don't assume your cooking was bad.

— "In some cases, cooking can intensify the problem (like well-done steaks), but, in general, you need a good piece of beef to begin with."

— LEARN SOME of the basic cuts of beef.

— "Several different names are used for the same cut because of regional preferences. Just a little study will show you, for example, that a rib eye steak is the same and probably cheaper than a Delmonico.

— "Similarly, a rib steak and a club steak are basically the same. Sirloin steak is a much more tender piece of meat than round steak.

— "Also, take a little time to learn the recommended cooking method for each cut — which should be broiled, braised, roasted, pot-roasted. It will pay — in satisfaction."

— BUY ON sales — usually the weekend sales will save you money.

— "Be cautious on double-stamp days and during mid-week, non-sales days.

— "Don't be ashamed of buying just the sales items at several stores that might be close to each other. It's your money — so make the most of it."

ENCOURAGEMENT, explanation, patience and awareness from adults can make already exciting experiences more worthwhile and meaningful to the child says Jane Fleischer of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

LARRY DRIVER ROCKS
... And rocks, and rocks, and ...

Driver rocks to second in 85 hours, 15 minutes

Floy Driver, owner of Driver's Mobil in Dimmitt, had a quaint reason for going home from work sick Tuesday. He had hardly slept for three nights while helping keep his son, Larry, rocking in the Hereford Diamond Jubilee Rocking Chair Marathon.

LARRY, 19, rocked continuously for 85 hours and 15 minutes, breaking the old state record. But he had to settle for second place in the Hereford marathon.

His rocking-mate, Eugene Suttle, 19, won the marathon and set a new Texas rocking chair record of 91 hours, 21 minutes.

The two boyhood friends had entered the marathon together and had outlasted 50 other entries who ranged in age from 4 to 67. Both youths were shooting for the world record of 150 hours, 18 minutes — which would have kept them rocking until 2:49 a.m. Friday — but after four days and three nights of continuous rocking outdoors while contending with heavy rains, deteriorating chairs and extreme fatigue, they settled for the state record.

SUTTLE EARNED $1,262 in prize money and Driver received $229. The youths both plan to use their prize money to help pay college expenses. Driver is a sophomore at Austin College in Sherman. Suttle, who attended the US Military Academy at West Point last year, will enroll in Texas Tech this fall.

It was a grueling contest for everyone involved — the contestants, the sponsoring Hereford Jaycees, and the people who helped keep the contestants awake, fed, clothed and rocking.

"I came to work Tuesday but got sick and had to go home," Floy Driver said after the contest was over. "I had been up since 4 o'clock Monday morning working with Larry, and had gotten only three hours' sleep Saturday night. I'm not as tough as those boys, I'll tell you."

HOW DO YOU keep someone going in a rocking chair marathon?

"We had to talk to them about every 30 seconds," Driver said, "and I splashed water on them with a plastic pump bottle. We had to make sure they had plenty to eat and drink, and changes of clothes and things. But mainly, you just had to stay with them all the time."

After the marathon ended, Driver said, "Larry still couldn't wind down. He'd be sitting there talking to you and would just start rocking, and I'd have to tell him about it or put a hand on his shoulder to stop him. He was eating soup Tuesday night and started rocking at the table, soup spoon and all. It's amazing to me that they could punish their bodies that much."

WHEN YOU rock around the clock continuously for several days and nights, strange things begin to happen. "Both boys lost their sense of reason," Driver said. "Larry's laughing about it now, about how he and Gene went daffy-like, but they both went bananas toward the end. They never did really quit rocking — they both dreamed up some wild reasons to get out of their chairs, and when they did they were disqualified."

Hamburgers at dawn, huge bottles of soda pop, quick clothes changes, huge crowds of people, contestants going "off their rockers" with fatigue, seven-minute breaks — all were part of the weird marathon scene.

"LARRY ALMOST got disqualified earlier in the contest when he nearly quit rocking without realizing it," Driver recalled. "He was sitting there brushing his teeth and rocking at 4 o'clock in the morning and his rocker almost quit. His body was still rocking, but he had put his feet on the runners of his chair. They had to warn him then, and he put his feet back on the ground and got the chair going again."

"He wore out the runners on his rocker. It was a steel rocker. He said he noticed that it went flat on him, and I checked it after the contest and he had worn that rocker out."

"And Gene had a left rear blowout — he broke off the back part of the runner on his chair. We got behind him and told him how far back he could rock, and during the seven-minute break he got some wire and tied the runner back together."

"NEITHER BOY had a single pill during the whole marathon, and they didn't really eat much. Larry had a lot of Cokes, and a few hot dogs and hamburgers. They set up living quarters around every

The company operates stores of three classes; one is the expanded variety store which primarily handles convenience merchandise ranging to about 15,000 square feet and carrying limited junior department store lines. The family center unit ranges from 20,000 to 30,000 square feet and the larger family center unit ranges from 40,000 to 80,000 square feet.

Kains have also posed a problem for vegetable producers. Recent showers have stymied the onion harvest but a few potato fields remain dry enough for harvest to continue.

WEST REPORTED that the rain will cause some losses in the onion crop due to root rot, especially in fields where onions were ready for harvest.

"We won't know the full extent of the damage until it gets dry enough to get into the fields and have a look," he said.

Vegetable growers in the Hart area reported that rains will delay the harvest but haven't damaged the crop.

Onion prices remain good, better than last year according to West with jumbo yellows selling at $4.50 for a 50 pound sack.

WEST REPORTED that potato prices are also substantially higher than last year.

Growers are waiting impatiently to get back into the now wet fields to conclude the harvest of what appears to be a bumper vegetable crop, and they are hoping that when they return the losses will not be high and the thieves will not return.

THE FAMILY has a function of developing socially desirable character traits in its members, says Dorothy Taylor, specialist in family life education, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

SETTING THE air-conditioner thermostat even two degrees lower than necessary wastes energy, emphasizes Mrs. Doris Myers, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Gas dealers taking action to stretch allocations

The fuel shortage still isn't at a critical stage in Dimmitt according to several local gasoline dealers but most have taken some form of action to stretch present gas allotments.

JOE BENSON, Texaco consignee reported that his supply of gas has been rather limited.

"We have closed early some nights and one time we closed on Sunday, but overall we have had an adequate supply of gas," said Benson. "Toward the end of the month it gets a little fuzzy though. Sometimes we have to deliver smaller amounts to our customers than they originally ordered but we have always left enough to keep them going and so far as we know no one has had to shut down."

Al Gibbs of Dimmitt Consumers reported Tuesday that he ran short of regular, but added that the supply at the end of the month is always tight. "Our schedule hasn't changed any and we haven't had to close at any time. We'll probably get extra fuel for the upcoming harvest," he said.

Harley Dodd of Gulf Wholesale reported that hours have been shortened.

"WE RUN a little short on regular at the end of the month," reported Dodd. "We are receiving the same amount of gas that we had at this time last year," he added.

Walter Spinhirne of Dimmitt Shell reported that he has been closing on Sunday, but not because of a lack of gas.

"There haven't been any problems in obtaining gas so far, we're getting all we can sell," said Spinhirne.

"We just thought we could afford to take Sunday off so we have been closing," he added.

BENSON STATED that he felt the reason so many dealers run short of regular is the fact that regular gasoline is a higher volume product. "The average station sells two to three times more regular gasoline than ethyl," he said. Benson was confident that a good supply of gasoline will remain available in Dimmitt. "I don't think that we'll run out locally," he said. "Someone in town is going to have some gasoline."

One Sunday morning recently, fifth and sixth graders from Earth came and presented entertainment. The sponsors were Mrs. Judith Jones and Joan Rodgers from the United Methodist Church.

Canning workshop slated for Aug. 8

By IRENE KEATING Time certainly does fly. Here it is already August. Many of us will be real busy with our canning and freezing soon. Thank you to Mary Acker for the sweet corn. Helen Oldham has also give me some good squash and cucumbers, as has Beverly Durham. We will be having a home canning workshop starting at 9:00 a.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 8 and lasting all day. We'll meet in the Assembly Room of the courthouse. Nell Ingram will be furnishing the produce and conducting the workshop. Bring a salad for lunch.

Our 4-H girls did very well at the District Dress Revue in Amarillo last week. Cuca Ortega won a red ribbon, Patti Hochstein won a blue ribbon and second place in best synthetic garment division and Elaine Acker tied for second place in the 12-13 year age group with her blue ribbon garment.

MANY OF YOU have been asking for pickle recipes. We have had many people requesting Mrs. Iris Ballard's French Pickle Relish recipe so I'll share it with you.

FRENCH PICKLE RELISH 2 quarts chopped cabbage 1 quart ground onions 4 large green peppers 1 bunch celery, diced 2 quarts chopped tomatoes 1 quart ground pickles of cucumbers 4 large red peppers

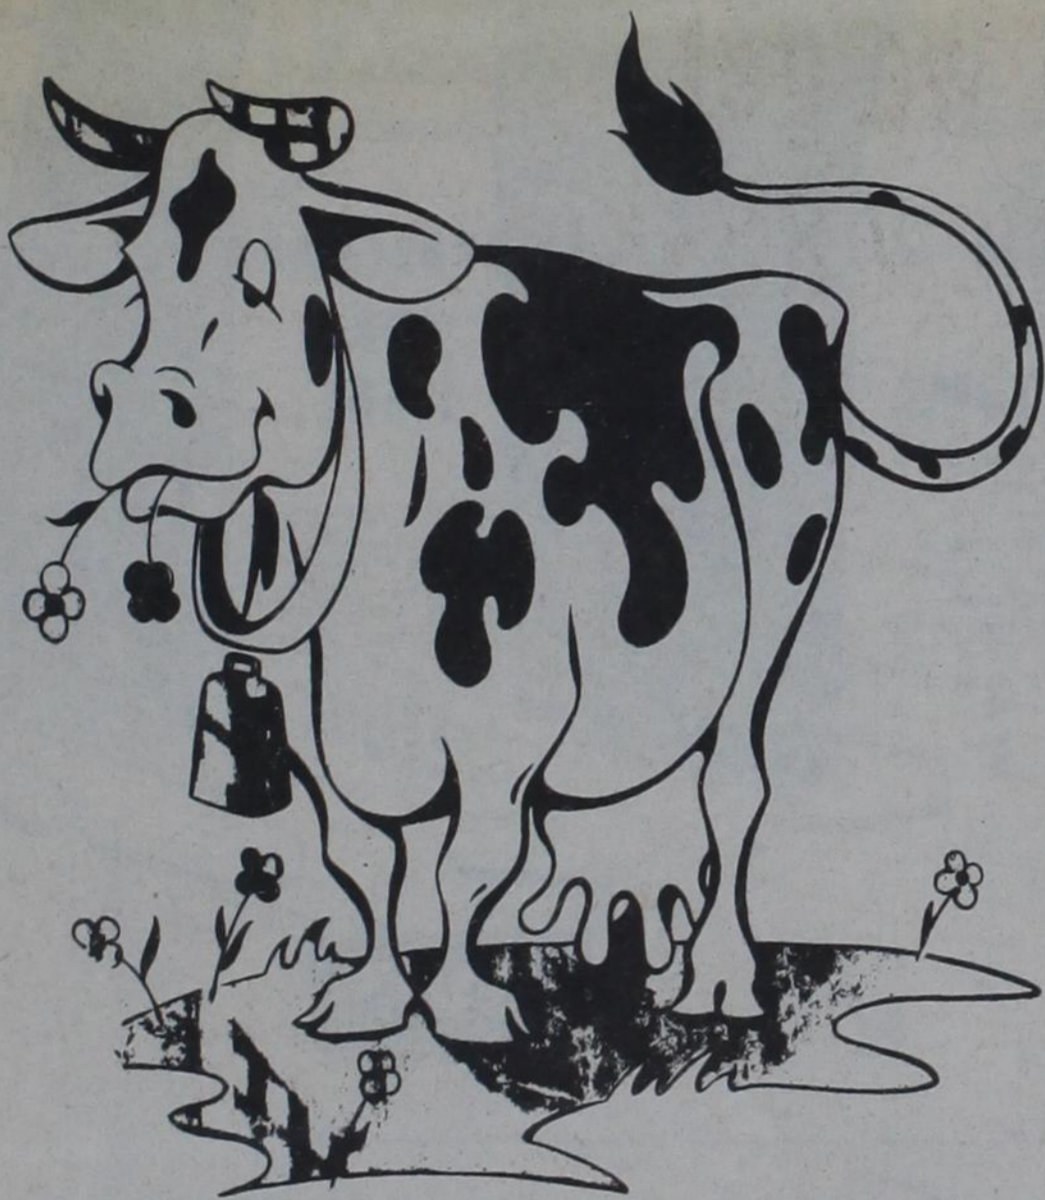

Combine the ingredients and sprinkle with a handful of salt and let stand. After a short while, boil in brine 15 to 20 minutes. Drain. Mix to make paste: 1 cup flour, 4 cups sugar, 4 teaspoons ground mustard and 1 teaspoon turmeric powder. Boil 2 quarts vinegar and 1 pint water. Pour over paste and cook. Add to pickles. Flavor with 2 teaspoons celery seed, heat and seal.

Mrs. Ballard said her family likes a sweeter relish and she uses 5 or 6 cups of sugar instead of the 4 cups.

HERE IS another good recipe you might like to try. This one comes from: Mary Acker.

PICKLED ONIONS 1 gallon small white onions 5 cups white vinegar 2 tablespoons mixed pickling

Milton Hardy — This Is Your Life!

Milton Hardy, a Castro County resident since 1917, lived his early childhood in the "Indian territory" which later became the state of Oklahoma.

"I was two years old when we moved to Lubbock county territory," says Hardy. He moved to Lubbock county in 1892, where he lived until coming to Castro County in 1917.

"There was very little farming when I came to Lubbock county, everything was in grass," he explains. I farmed 7 miles northeast of Dimmitt for 25 years after I came to the county, I broke sod on the farm there in 1917 and put down a well there in 1937. It was a good eight inch well, all the wells had eight inch water then," he added.

In 1939 Hardy moved to a farm near Hart where he worked until 1948 when he sold the farm and retired.

Speaking on how the county has changed, Hardy explains that now "there is little grazing land in the county, everything is done with machinery, things we used to do with horses," he adds.

According to Hardy, social life was rather slow when he first came to the county.

"There wasn't much going on, once in a while the neighbors would meet at a lake if it had any water in it and have a fish fry, and everyone would get together at church on Sunday," he says.

Three of Hardy's four children are Dimmitt residents. They include Pat Hardy, Jonnie Boothe and Kathleen Butler. Another daughter, Josephine Wood, resides at Muleshoe.

Hardy, who is acquainted with a number of county residents says that South Hills Manor is "just like home."

"The people who work here are wonderful, the place couldn't be better," he says.

Hardy has seen Castro County grow into a leading agricultural area and has been involved in that growth. At the same time he has become the friend of a host of county citizens. Next time you are in Dimmitt stop by South Hills Manor and visit him in Room 4, Hall F and "renew an old friendship, or start a new one."

Split mourning dove season set by Parks and Wildlife Department

A second experimental split mourning dove season was set in a July 12 meeting of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department Commission.

THE COMMISSIONERS acted on the recommendations of the department staff for a fall North Zone season of Sept. 1-Oct. 14, 1973; and a fall South Zone season of Sept. 22 - Nov. 4, 1973.

The winter hunting season in both zones is slated to run Jan. 5 - 20, 1974, with the exception of the Trans-Pecos Regulatory District where the winter season will be Jan. 5 - 15, 1974.

In those counties of the South Zone which have white-winged dove hunting, the mourning dove season will be concurrent with the Sept. 1 - 2, Sept. 8 - 9 whitewing season with additional mourning dove hunting Sept. 22 - Oct. 31, 1973.

Bag and possession limits on both mourning and whitewing doves remain the same as they were last year — 10 and 20 respectively.

HUNTING HOURS for both species of doves are noon to sunset.

Originally, the split mourning dove season was proposed as a one-year experiment to evaluate the effects of winter hunting on dove populations and harvest.

The commission approved a second year for the experimental split season because inclement weather across most of Texas in the January segment curtailed hunting.

Some 91 percent of the 7.1 million doves harvested last year were taken during the fall portion of the season.

SEASONS WERE also set on rails, woodcocks, Wilson's snipe or jacksnipe, gallinules and teal ducks of all species. — Rails: Sept. 1 - Nov. 9, 1973; exception is the Trans-Pecos Regulatory District where the season will close on Oct. 31.

Bag limit on king and clapper rails is 15 in the aggregate, possession limit of 30 in the aggregate. Bag and possession limit on sora and Virginia rails is 25 in the aggregate. — Woodcocks: Nov. 17, 1973 - Jan. 20, 1974.

BAG LIMIT on woodcocks is five birds, possession limit is 10.

Wilson's snipe or jacksnipe: Dec. 26, 1973 - Feb. 28, 1974. Bag and possession limit of eight and 16 respectively.

Gallinules: Sept. 1 - Nov. 9, 1973, with the exception of the Trans-Pecos District where the season will end Oct. 31. Bag limit is 15, possession limit of 30.

Teal ducks of all species: Sept. 15 - 23, bag limit of four in the aggregate, possession limit of eight in the aggregate.

HUNTING HOURS on rails, woodcocks, Wilson's snipe or jacksnipe and gallinules are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Teal may be hunted from sunrise to sunset.

IN AN ELECTION contest, on notice of appeal, district clerks should prepare a transcript and forward it to the court of civil appeals clerk before delivering it to attorneys for the appellant.

See what we get with the new Ruskin Circle Swim Club!

I'm so excited about using the new indoor pool for swimming lessons this year. We never have time for anything other than beginning swimming during the summer months. Now I can have time for an adult's class or advanced classes or even a mother-baby class. We could just work out our own schedule for whatever swimming everyone wants. Kevin can hardly wait to try out the slide in the pool. With indoor swimming he may grow SCALES vet, and Todd Touchstone could develop into another Mark Spitz. I could use the Sony closed-circuit TV to show Tricia Touchstone how she can improve that dive she has worked so hard to develop.

Swimming (or trying) uses about 500 calories an hour—just think what even one hour a week could do for the waistline. No matter how much will-power we have, exercise classes are just easier when someone tells you to do it and others are groaning sympathetically with you. Now with all those inches-off machines we can get a head start on those holiday sweets. Besides looking better, exercise just makes us more mentally and physically alert.

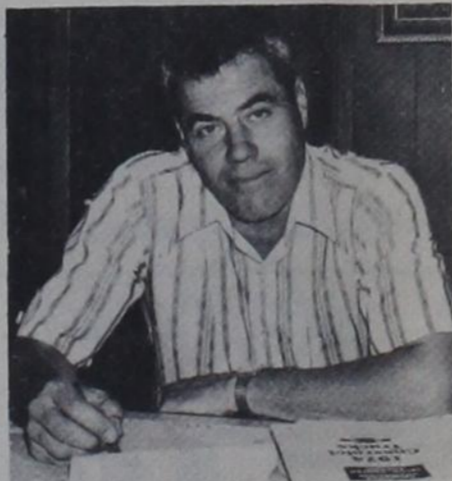

The pool can be scheduled for different ages so hairdos won't get splashed by cannon balls off the board, and even noontime swims by our Dimmitt business tycoons to renew vim and vigor. Seriously, swimming is one of the best ways to tone up and lose inches besides relaxing those tense muscles. Even the Bechtel girls can renew those gorgeous tans in the winter with the sun lamps.

You know the cost of one night out in Amarillo for the family would give you nearly two months' use of the pool-exercise rooms, sauna and tennis courts. Just imagine how nice a swim on a cold dreary winter day will be—and visiting while exercising would be a lovely way to spend a morning—finishing up in the pool or sauna (with a roll in the snow for the hardy). Besides swimming and trimming, we can entertain with poolside parties, gas barbecues and a built-in ice machine. I can't think of a nicer way to give every member of the family a full year's gift of fun, entertainment, healthful exercise and enjoyment.

State Capitol Highlights

Present system of government may be better than cabinet

Texas may be better off under its present type of government than the so-called cabinet form being advanced in preparation for constitutional revision, according to Texas Research League

LEAGUE STAFF members in a new report to the Constitutional Revision Commission point to advantages of the present system and offer these key observations:

While there is room for improvement, Texas government is not the "administrative jungle" portrayed by critics. There are 174 legal entities which might qualify as state agencies, but fewer than 30 of them control 99 percent of money and personnel in state government.

Texas still has one of the most economical big state governments in the nation. Ohio and Missouri rate slightly lower, but Texas spends more in support of its schools than those two states. Major suggestions by the League for economies have been in the areas of education and welfare financing. Overhead administration and control functions cost 1.9 percent of Texas' total budget, while the national average is 2.6 percent.

Major Texas agencies such as the Highway Department, Education Agency, Department of Corrections and Department of Public Safety rate high nationally. The League found few agencies in other states "clearly superior" to Texas counterparts.

WHILE ADVOCATES of the cabinet theory claim it provides for holding the governor accountable for all aspects of government administration, political realities dictate that he can be held accountable at the polls only once or twice. Further, it is difficult for voters to assess thousands of acts by the chief executive during any four years.

Whether authority to appoint 20 cabinet officials but no sub-cabinet-level personnel would strengthen the governor in policy-making is debatable. Merit system employment to insulate state employees from the spoils system is considered part of the cabinet theory. This means echelons below the cabinet level are beyond the governor's control.

The present pattern of part-time boards, according to the League, provides opportunity for participation in government by many key citizens, who, in turn, provide a powerful reservoir of support for a governor's policies. The League suggests more fiscal power for the governor and authority to order governmental reorganization subject to legislative veto.

TOP 100 PRESCRIPTIONS STUDIED

Computers are being used by the Texas Pharmacy Board to determine the top 100 prescription drugs being sold in this state.

Under new state law, H. B. 750, druggists must post the prices of the 100 most prescribed drugs at their counters this fall.

The new law will also prohibit advertising about "wholesale" "cut rate" prices, and limit drug stores to advertising about services, keeping "family records" and dangers of mixing certain types of drugs.

Consumers will be able to check the prices of the top 100 most common drugs at each prescription counter, states Joe Arnette, Texas Pharmacy Board, who is using the computer method to make the state-wide survey.

AUTO RATES CUT

True to its promise, the State Board of Insurance ordered an average statewide reduction of 4.3 percent in private auto coverage premiums, esti-imating 90 percent of motorists will save at least $25 million. New rates are effective Aug. 27.

Further, according to Board Chairman Joe Christie, the competitive rating law Sept. 1 will mean further savings for many. Christie said one company has indicated it will ask authority to cut its rates 15 percent across the board when the competitive rating law takes effect.

Another law passed by the legislature this year, however, may cancel out the savings for some and actually bring a slight increase. The personal injury protection coverage of at least $2,500 for medical expenses and lost earnings or services due to accident, regardless of who was at fault, will be added to all policies automatically unless motorists reject it in writing.

Christie said even rejections written on "brown paper sacks" will be considered valid. P.I.P. coverage costs $22 to $44, but many will substitute it for medical coverage which already costs $15 to $22 a year.

WATER QUALITY STANDARDS APPROVED

Texas Water Quality Board agreed on compromise standards hopefully tailored to meet federal Environmental Protection Agency approval.

If the EPA rejects the state standards, presumably it would take over issuing waste discharge permits, leaving the state agency little to do but take samples and offer recommendations.

A main point at issue is whether the state's fines for violators are high enough to amount to a "substantial economic deterrent." The Texas maximum civil penalty is $1,000 a day, and the federal agency wants civil penalty fines up to $25,000 a day and maximum criminal penalties of $10,000 a day.

The state Air Control Board's proposed standards have been rejected by EPA.

COURTS SPEAK

A Palestine parking plant worker who was fired from light work as a supervisor after he was injured in his earlier job cannot force his employer to keep him on, the Supreme Court held. The worker accepted the supervisory job as part of an agreement not to seek workmen's compensation.

In other actions, the high court held: — A cigarette distributor whose stock was stolen from his warehouse is entitled to review of his case for state tax forgiveness.

— Grown sons and daughters of a Dallas woman are entitled to $10,000 damages each from an undertaker whose work embalming her body "shocked and revolted" them.

AG OPINIONS

Occupants of a boat floating in tidal water, even though over submerged private property are not trespassing, Atty. Gen. John Hill states.

Hill's opinion held private property submerged by lake or waterway construction, in absence of some special provision affecting title, remains private property, however.

In another recent opinion, Hill concluded a bill abolishing the office of Culberson County auditor is an unconstitutional special or local act "attempting to achieve what must be achieved by general legislation."

PRICES SOARING

Disruption of normal buying habits is pushing poultry prices up to the level of some cuts of beef, Texas Dept. of Agriculture reported.

Broiler prices are expected to reach the 80-cent bracket this week, according to the department's projections.

"Hoarding" and "panic buying" are contributing to runaway prices, commented Mike Walton, Agriculture Dept. market news chief. Walton said a return to normal buying habits will help return prices to more-normal levels.

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION RECOMMENDATIONS EYED

All seven sub-committees of the Texas Constitutional Revision Commission reported their tentative recommendations at a three-day meeting near here last weekend.

Proposals were taken under advisement along with suggestions of 3,000 advisory committee members in 19 areas. Actual voting by the full, 37-member commission on matters for inclusion in its report to the legislature will begin next month. Meanwhile, House and Senate planning committee members held their first joint meeting in preparation for the 1974 constitutional convention.

Disaster unemployment assistance will be paid to those unemployed as a result of storms and flooding in Jefferson, Orange, Red River and Upshur counties last March 23-April 30.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe advised those who think they are eligible to apply to their nearest Texas Employment Commission office. Applications must be filed within 30 days of July 24 when Briscoe made his announcement of the assistance offer.

The Summer Reading Program is almost over! We will have two more weeks. This will give the fast readers enough time to read at least 12 books. The program will end Aug. 15 and the party will be held Aug. 17, hopefully in the new building. We have had 51 read 12 books or more who will be eligible to attend the party and receive a certificate from the Texas State Library. We will not give prizes this year and since we announced that earlier in the summer, I believe it has affected our book circulation because our total circulation is down from last year.

MORE DONATING books: Kay Kellar brought in two boxes of good used books and Hazel Merritt donated several more new books. Some of these were: "America, This Land of Ours", "America's Historic Houses", "World Furniture", "The U.S.A." and "The National Parks of America".

Interesting people in the library: Mrs. Deryl Clevenger from Hart was waiting for her car so she came in and read a book here in the library. That will be more fun when we move into the new building. Mary Acker, Leora Little, Hazel Merritt, and Jack Miller, all these board members, came in on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Jackie Smotherman and her four boys, Mike, Terry, Jason, and Mark, came in to check out some books. Mrs. Ross and her three girls have been using the library this summer. Dyrle Maples and his family came in last week.

IF YOU have any long overdue books at your house PLEASE return them NOW!! You may take them to the new library building and put them in the book drop there if it will be more convenient for you — anything to get all these books back for our new library. We need every book in order to help fill our new shelves.

WALLEYES ARE ideal for the night fishermen too. They like to chase minnows in the shallow water in the cool of the evening.

Noah Spencer, was complimented with a pre-bridal courtesy in the community room of the Farmers State Bank on Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6 p.m.

The table was covered with a white lace cloth over white, centered with a floral arrangement of blue and white daisies, crystal and silver appointments.

Mrs. Robbie Hawkins presided at the guest register and Mrs. Vic Nelson served.
