SIXTY-TWO INJURED IN MANILA QUAKES

Merchants Fast Motor Group Picnicking Here

Through the Editor's Spectacles
By GEORGE

The old saying that there is more than one way to kill a cat or whip a mule was recalled in the Cisco Daily Press office Saturday when it was revealed that one rural subscriber paid her subscription with two canary birds. The birds were sold to a Cisco lady and the subscriber's subscription was paid in full. We have had numerous instances in which subscribers have traded produce, poultry, eggs, etc., for the Press, but this is the first time that the paper was ever sold for a couple of songbirds.

It is not necessary to say that we are mighty glad of the opportunity to do so.

W. E. Dean is having his first experience with picnics on a large scale and like the cartoon king of the Popeye series, he is doing a mighty good job of worrying over it. He came into the office Saturday afternoon with his head between his knees and an expression as woe-begone as the back side of the Statue of Liberty. With a barbecue for 600 people on his hands, it looked mighty like rain. Of all the days it could rain, mourned Dean, it had to pick his day. He was prognosticating, of course, because Sunday hadn't arrived and there was still the possibility that the day would come clear and bright, bringing the 600 people to eat the barbecue that Bob Mancill had prepared.

Nevertheless Abilene had had six inches of rain, he said the Abilene agent had telephoned him, and that was enough to predict a change in the weather in Cisco. How in the world he ever got the idea that Cisco and the Taylor county capital have anything in common is beyond me. Even the Merchants Fast Motor lines couldn't make that possible.

Back in the fever of the World War days it was certain to invite public contempt to do or say anything against enlistment. Such was the patriotic fever of the time that an able-bodied young man had to have a mighty creditable excuse for not going merrily off the trenches of Flanders to be shot or stuck in the stomach with a bayonet. Nowadays, however, the laconic sobriety of the hereinafter mentioned farmer youth can be generously appreciated.

During the war an intensely patriotic old lady passed a farmer's barn one day and observed a young man milking a cow. He looked old enough to be in the army, and the old lady was indignant. He saw her but went calmly on with his milking.

"Why aren't you at the front?" demanded the indignant patriot. "Cause thar aint no milk at that end," was the quick retort.

WEST TEXAS: Probably local showers in south tonight and Sunday. Warmer in panhandle Sunday.

EAST TEXAS: Probably local showers except on lower coast tonight and Sunday.

War, Fire Continue Damage in Shanghai

Japan Claims no Connection With Shelling of American Cruiser Augusta

SHANGHAI, Aug. 21 (AP)—War and fire continued to lay waste in Shanghai today, foreign police estimating about 11 square miles of the city had been destroyed.

Three Chinese warplanes dived over the smoking ruins today, aiming bombs at the Japanese consulate. Projectiles fell wide, but killed one Chinese and one Japanese, wounding 13 others, all believed to be Japanese.

Japanese diplomatic sources declared their forces were in no way connected with the shelling of the United States cruiser Augusta, flagship of the Asiatic fleet, resulting in the death of one sailor.

Wheeler Throws Charge at Guffey

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Senator Wheeler of Montana told the senate today Senator Guffey of Pennsylvania didn't write the caustic radio address he delivered Friday night and that he was "afraid" to deliver it on the senate floor.

Wheeler's remarks came while a quiet movement began to unofficially dispose Guffey from chairmanship of the democratic senatorial committee. Guffey's demand that senators who opposed President Roosevelt's court reorganization be defeated, aroused bitter feeling among the opponents, participating in one of the most explosive political situations known this session, a few hours before adjournment.

Former Baseball Star to Preach Here Next Sunday

The Rev. Joseph Cohen, former baseball star on a Boston team and a converted Christian, will speak Sunday, August 29 at the First Baptist church, delivering both the morning and evening services, it was said Saturday.

The Rev. Cohen makes no charges for his services, giving his time and talents to the evangelizing of the Jews. The congregation is urged to attend the services. The minister makes no charges for services, but receives what free-will offerings the people desire to make.

The Rev. Cohen's subject for the morning sermon will be "Christ and the Jew" and in the evening there will be a demonstration of the feast of the Passover and the story of the conversion.

Compromise Housing Bill Is Approved

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—The house, moving rapidly toward adjournment approved today a compromise form of the Wagner housing bill.

The senate must agree to the compromise before the measure goes to the White House. Senate and house conferees failed to agree on the $150,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill which the senate increased nearly 50 million dollars above figures. So little other business was left House Leader Rayburn predicted adjournment by nightfall.

PREACHES TODAY

The Rev. T. R. Gathright, pastor of the Second Christian church in Houston, will preach today at both the morning and evening hour at the First Christian church. The entire membership is urged to attend these services.

COUNTRY CLUB DANCE STARTS ANNUAL EVENT

Over 500 Expected to Gather at Lake For Celebration Today

A dance Saturday night at the Cisco Country club served as an opening to the annual Merchants Fast Motor lines picnic to be held here today.

Plans for the event, to draw between 600 and 800, were completed Friday by W. E. Dean, local agent and W. A. Chapin, Abilene agent.

This morning was to be spent in swimming, skating, boating, sightseeing or taking in other Lake Cisco attractions.

The picnic will begin at 9 o'clock, it was said.

One principal feature of the day will be an address at 2 p. m. by City Attorney R. E. Grantham, welcoming the hundreds of visitors. T. M. Berry of Fort Worth will introduce guests. A special number by Miss Ardith Ann Ethridge of Abilene will precede a series of talks by J. A. Fadell, vice president and general manager of the company, Fort Worth; W. N. Adams, safety engineer of the Commercial Standard Insurance company, Fort Worth; B. A. Butler of the Cisco Daily Press, and D. G. Sanders, president of the Merchants Fast Motor lines, Ft. Worth.

Gratifying response to invitations sent out by the local agent.

Country Club Stag Supper Monday Night

Those in charge of the stag supper to be held for members of the Cisco Country club Monday night announced Saturday that plans for the event were practically complete and that a large group of members would be prepared for.

Tickets to the event, to be held at the club house, will be 50 cents, it was said and a good supper for those who are present was promised.

The event will begin at 7:30 and following the meal it was expected that a discussion of the coming first Eastland county golf tournament to be at the Cisco course August 29 to September 4, will be held.

Among those preparing for the occasion are Nick Miller, Rex Carrothers, W. R. Miller and K. N. Greer.

OVERPASS BIDS DUE AUGUST 27

Construction to Start September 15

Bids on the construction of the overpass to carry Highway No. 1 over the Katy railroad on Eighth street, will be received at Austin on Friday, August 27. Construction is due to begin about September 15.

Early letting of contract for the structure was made possible by a balance left in the 1936 grade separation fund made up of surpluses from other allocations. This total was nearer the $135,000 required for the construction of the Cisco project than any other, so the local project was selected.

Letting of contract on the east half of the relocation of the highway over Eighth street is due to be done about 30 or 60 days later. This will come out of new fiscal year allocations.

The overpass will be a four-lane passage of beautiful design, constructed of concrete and steel.

Cisco Lions Club Loses to Ranger

The Cisco Lions club, accepting the challenge of the Ranger club, Friday night invaded Ranger where they fell by 19 to 14.

Reports here Saturday said the game was close all the way with neither team holding a large lead and that the outcome was not certain until the end of the game.

BULLETIN

Gordon Sherman advanced to the semi-finals of the Cisco tennis tournament late Saturday by winning two straight sets over Gene Abbott, 6-1 6-2.

With expectation that the tennis tournament will be completed and the winners decided within the next few days, Saturday the most interest was in the Gordon Sherman-Gene Abbott battle.

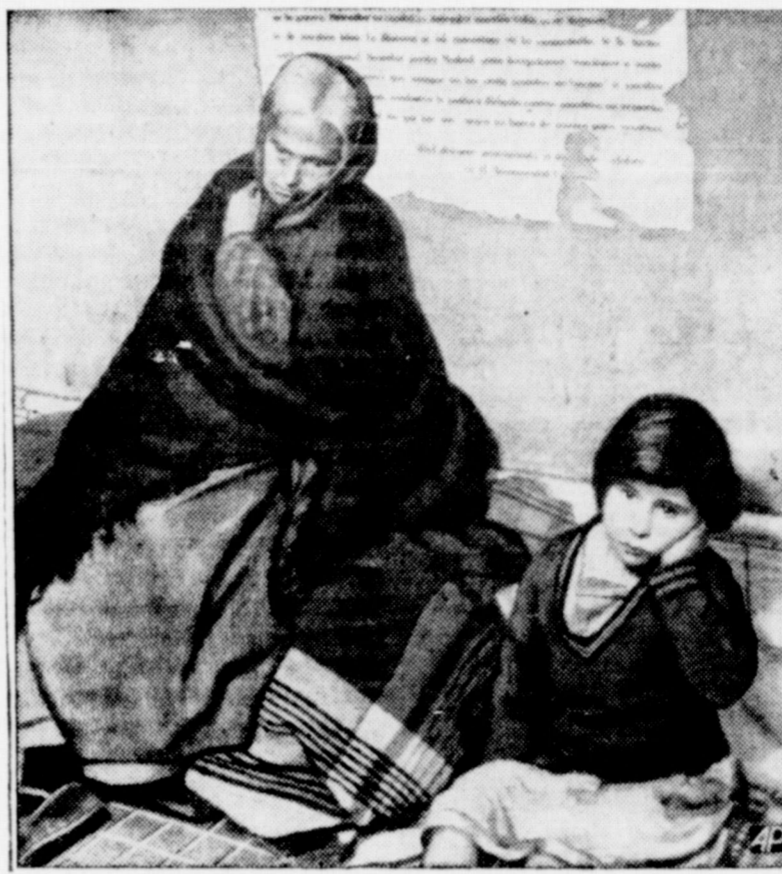

Abbott, with two smashing victories has advanced to the quarter-finals. He licked Livius Lankford 6-1 6-1 and then trounced on Melvin Hicks 6-1 6-0 to enter the quarter finals.

Gordon Sherman defeated Jack Blanton 6-1 6-3 although the quality of play was much closer than the score indicates. Sherman had previously drawn a bye.

Providing he beats Abbott, and that is the general opinion, then he will play the winner of the Jere Lofton-Rev. Riese match to see who represents the top bracket in the finals.

WHAT TO DO--

If War Breaks Out While You're Abroad

1. Hurry to the nearest American diplomat.
2. If warred in time, establish a bank account in a neighboring country that promises to be peaceful.
3. Lay in a week's food supply. Any more would be futile for no telling which way the bombing will turn.
4. Notify the nearest American foreign service man where you are so he can throw out the life-line if it becomes necessary.

(By the AP Feature Service)
Should war break out unexpectedly, says the United States state department, its every man for himself until he reaches the protective wing of the nearest American ambassador, minister, consul or vice consul. Then it's up to the diplomat.

He will know local food handlers. He will know the military leader who moves in, and the people with autos and wagons, and with milk for the babies. He will be judge, parent, consoler, doctor and information service. He will get you safe passage to water and will have somebody's battleship waiting there. You will pile on with other war refugees and ride to the nearest safe spot in another country. At that port another American foreign service officer will be ready to cable the folks for a little cash to buy you a ticket home.

Officials Prepare For Special Vote

County commissioners Friday were having the ballot boxes and election equipment distributed Friday and Saturday to the various voting boxes of the county for the election on six constitutional amendments to be held Monday.

Texas voters will go to the polls tomorrow to vote on adoption or rejection of six proposed amendments to the constitution of the state of Texas. The same election officials who served here during the previous general election will serve for this special one, it has been announced.

W. W. Wallace, C. L. Gilmore, W. C. Huestis and John Dill formed the election board for the East Cisco Precinct No. 5, while Fred Grist, Lee Owen, D. E. Waters and J. S. Stockard were the board for the West Cisco Precinct No. 6. Mr. Stockard has moved from Cisco, however, and will not be able to serve Monday.

The amendments upon which the electorate will cast their ballots Monday provide for:

1. Amending the constitution to provide for the amount of the

W. W. Eddleman Is Appointed Constable

(By Staff Correspondent)
EASTLAND, Aug. 21.—The commissioners court Friday made a new constable for precinct 6, Cisco, when that body accepted the resignation of Constable E. O. Gustafson and appointed to this position W. W. Eddleman, who was an applicant.

The new officer is the son of Jim Eddleman, well known farmer living north of Cisco near the Stephens county line. He is also a nephew of Mrs. Joe Wilson, wife of Justice of the Peace Wilson, of the court young Eddleman will serve.

He is a former captain of one of the Cisco Lobo football teams.

REPORT MANY MORE HURT IN OTHER AREAS

Casualties Follow Two Shocks That Rocked City Friday

MANILA, Aug. 21 (AP)—Sixty-two persons were known injured in Manila alone after two severe earthquakes Friday and scores of others were reported hurt in the Tayabas province.

No deaths from injuries were reported.

Thousands of Manila's 400,000 residents spent the night in parks. Authorities today began clearing the debris of toppled and cracked buildings.

Reports from provinces showed narrow escapes from mass tragedies such as instances where church roofs fell a few minutes after congregations left.

The Manila city treasurer's vault was cracked and a crack ran the length of the municipal pier, the largest pier in the far east.

Weather observers predicted lesser shocks to continue for some time.

The earthquakes hit the city Friday about the time the American refugees from the war-stricken China arrived and they too were endangered by the shocks.

The quakes that caused so much damage were far from the expected relief from the war that the Americans had expected when they reached Manila.

Funeral For Son Of Former Cisco Girl To Be Today

BULLETIN
Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Campbell, grandparents of Richard White, arrived in Abilene Saturday afternoon at 6 o'clock, returning from their vacation trip. They did not know of the boy's death until they arrived in Abilene.

Funeral services for Richard White, 18-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. White and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Campbell of Abilene, will be held at Mt. Pleasant Sunday at 3:30 p. m., it was announced Saturday.

The child was drowned when he fell into a fish pond at the Magnolia Camp at Talco Friday morning.

The mother is the former Lincoise Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Campbell. She was raised in Cisco and graduated from the Cisco high school while Mr. Campbell, now traffic manager of the West Texas Utilities company, was here as district manager for the company.

The child had been playing with a group of children in a park at the Magnolia camp, where Mr. White is office manager. He was missed and 30 minutes later his body was found in the pond.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are vacationing in New Mexico and had not been located Saturday.

Kaufman Minister at Baptist Church

Dr. A. B. White and Mrs. White of Kaufman arrived Saturday and Dr. White will occupy the pulpit Sunday at the First Baptist church at both the morning and evening hours. The subject for the morning service will be "The Eternal God or the Trinity Explained." At the evening hour the subject will be, "The Pearl of Great Prices." By request Dr. White will sing a solo, "Down from His Glory" accompanied by Mrs. White at the piano.

Miss Mary Beth Langston has returned from a visit in San Antonio.

28 Families Carving Farms In South Texas

ALICE, Aug. 21. (P)—A little group that otherwise might be among those "drifting about the highways of California in vain search for farm work," this week were successfully carving farms for themselves among the mesquite thickets of Jim Wells county, says a statement by the resettlement administration.

One hundred miles south of San Antonio 28 farm families arrived early this summer to take possession of land leased for 10 years with the aid of the resettlement administration, the lease carrying an option to buy at $35 an acre. The families, which had failed for five successive years to make a crop in the "dust bowl," the statement said, pooled the loans for clearing made them by resettlement and bought a $7,000 outfit consisting of a tractor, plow and "bulldozer." The equipment uproots the mesquites with one heave and is clearing 15 acres daily. The homesteaders trail to stack or burn.

The clearing job is costing less than $1 an acre above the homesteaders' labor, the statement said, and they will receive a credit of $8 to $9 an acre from their landlords. This will give them a net profit for two or three years at the $3 an acre annual rent.

Wooded With Mesquite

Out of a $2,500 loan made each homesteader by RA, some $1,200 was paid to the owner of the land with which to erect a house and out-buildings. The homesteader was hired by the landlord at $1.50 a day to help build the house, the statement said.

The homesteaders drove through almost impassable mesquite to reach their new homes. With the tractor and "bulldozer" in action, however, houses are becoming visible amid fertile clearings. Within six months, the statement said, the entire 2,300-acre tract, or 80 acres for each family, will be cleared.

The machinery is being moved to a different man's land each day and savings in the cost of clearing with the machine will almost pay the machine's cost, the homesteaders say. They will use the machinery for cultivation when the clearing job is done, but also are planning to clear land for other farmers outside their group. They have received an offer of $10 an acre to clear a 600-acre tract, the statement said.

In addition to cash advance on rent, which allowed the landlord to put up the buildings, the resettlement administration advance to these homesteaders enough to buy essential equipment and livestock, including five cows for each family.

It is not the policy of the federal government to break new land into cultivation on the one hand, while seeking production limits on the other. For this reason the Jim Wells county group helped by RA is not being duplicated anywhere else, at least not in Texas. The project is experimental.

Last year, the statement said, 6,685 Texans of the farm class entered California in 1,440 automobiles seeking employment, or third among such state groups. Meanwhile, the Texas farm population decreased 26,000, notwithstanding that births exceeded deaths on Texas farms by some 33,000.

The decrease was heaviest in areas like that around Corpus Christi. In the piney woods of East Texas and in the Rio Grande Valley and Winter Garden areas, where conditions are more favorable to small farming there has been an increase in the farm population. There has also been an increase in the areas close to cities, where part-time farming is practical for workers whose main jobs lie within the city.

The resettlement administration's experimental projects are among the government's steps to provide guidance and stabilization for this great drift of farm population. Loans also have been made by RA to 180 Texas groups, including some 4,000 farmers, for purchase of tractors or other machinery, or facilities which can be used co-operatively.

A COCKNEY from the Limehouse district entered a restaurant in London and instructed the waiter to bring him a square meal of meat.

The flunkey was back with the order in less than three minutes. "Ere's something nourishin' wot will stick to your ribs and do you a lot of good," he announced.

The patron hacked at the food for a spell and then, in a loud voice called the waiter:

"Wot do you call this duffie?" he demanded. "I been a-sawin' of it and a-rendin' of it and it won't come apart. 'Ow the 'ell can I tell wot it is? I ask you, blokie, is it mutton or veal?"

"Carn't you tell the difference?" inquired the waiter.

"I cannot," stormed the epicure.

"Well, then, why are you worried abaht it?"

Under the Courthouse Roof

ELEVENTH COURT OF CIVIL APPEALS

While the court of civil appeals of the eleventh supreme district is still in recess, and the justices are vacationing, Justices Funderburk and Grissom have returned to Eastland and are assembling the business on hand for adjudication when the court reconvenes September 6 by arranging the docket for the coming session.

THE EIGHTY-EIGHTH DISTRICT COURT

(Judge Patterson, Presiding)

Cases Filed

Ex parte Willard Vance Rominger, minor, adoption was the only new case filed in the 88th court during the past week.

Judgments and Orders

Judge Patterson handed down the following orders in the 88th court:

State vs. Bill Daniels, habeas corpus. Judgment for defendant and order of release decreed. The defendant brought action for writ of habeas corpus which was granted, and Sheriff Loss Woods was ordered to produce the defendant into court, who was held in jail on a writ of capias profumum issued by the justice of the peace of precinct 6, in connection with a charge of disturbing the peace. In his application for a writ of habeas corpus allegations were made that a fine was assessed against him while in the custody of officers and that he was denied the right to make bond and the right of trial. After hearing the evidence the court discharged the defendant as he deemed the evidence was not sufficient to hold him in jail.

Ex Parte Willard Vance Rominger, adoption. Petition of M. M. Bowman for letters of adoption was granted after the report of Connie Davis, appointed to investigate the worthiness of petitioner Bowman to have the custody of said minor. It was the order of the court that M. M. Bowman be issued letters of adoption of said minor, and all relationship, rights and duties of his natural parents should cease, and that he be deemed for every purpose the child of the said Bowman.

Ex parte L. B. Wells, removal of disabilities of non-age. It was the order of the court that the disabilities of minority be thereby removed, and the said L. B. Wells be deemed and held for all legal purposes to be of full age.

Among the government's steps to provide guidance and stabilization for this great drift of farm population. Loans also have been made by RA to 180 Texas groups, including some 4,000 farmers, for purchase of tractors or other machinery, or facilities which can be used co-operatively.

except the right of franchise to vote.

Marie Gustafson vs. E. O. Gustafson, divorce. Transferred on the court's own motion to the 91st court.

THE NINETY-FIRST DISTRICT COURT

With Judge Davenport still absent from his court, and Judge Patterson presiding in emergency cases, this court continued without orders the past week. There is a dearth of litigation at this time of year at all times, as few cases are ever tried in July and August, and this has been no exception.

However, two cases were docketed the past week for adjudication in the 91st court. These were Jennie Elizabeth Tolbert vs. J. R. Tolbert, trespass to try title and damages. Ollie Dulia vs. W. R. Dulia, Jr., divorce and custody of minor child.

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE COUNTY COURT Renamed Depository

The Commercial State bank of Ranger has been redesignated county depository for Eastland county. It was the order of the commissioners court that the bank enter into a new pledge contract for pledging securities to indemnify the county against any possible loss of the funds of the county. The contract will provide for ample security for all county, school and trust funds.

Friendship Votes Tax

After canvassing the returns of the election in school precinct No. 20 (Friendship) for the purpose of supplementing the school fund apportionment by raising the tax from 20 cents to 50 cents on $100 valuation of property, the commissioners court found that the majority of the votes cast August 14 favored the increased tax declared the results accordingly. It was ordered that a levy of 50 cents on the $100 valuation of property in school district No. 20 be levied for the year of 1937.

Licensed to Marry

The following couples were issued licenses to marry by the county clerk during the past week:

Johnnie Roberts, Olden and Miss L. G. Tucker, Eastland.

John H. Shrader and Miss Bobbie Allen, Cisco route 4.

William Beal Cheatham and Miss Inez McGlothlin, Eastland.

James M. Chambers and Miss Ona Mae Richey, May.

Abel Calvert Butts, Marshall and May Ella Collier, col., Cisco.

W. O. Weeks and Miss Fannie Pearl Griffith, Ranger.

$54,772 in Pensions

The list of pensioners in Eastland county, according to the old age pension list on file in the county clerk's office for July was 942, being just six less than those on the list in June, the highest number since the enactment of the old age assistance law. June was also the peak month in the amount of pension money distributed in Eastland county, $13,924, against $13,841 paid in July, showing July payments to be just $83 less than the amount distributed in June. The payments for Dec., 1936, and Jan., Feb. and March 1937, are difficult to obtain, as only the amount paid by the state is shown on the lists filed, that allotted by the federal government is not shown. The months of April, May, June and July shows there was paid to the aged needy of Eastland county the sum of $54,772. Number of pensioners in April were 889; amount $13,157. In May there were 944, increase over April, 55; amount paid in May $13,850; increase, $693. June pensioners, 948; increase over May 4; amount paid, $13,924; increase over May, $64. July pensioners, 942; decrease under June, 6; amount paid $13,841; decrease under June, $83. It will be seen that the increases and decreases have been insignificant, showing, so far as Eastland county is an example, that both the number of pensioners and the amounts distributed appear practically settled to a staple basis.

Matters in Probate

The following probate matters have been disposed of in the probate court:

Ethel Lucile Pegues, guardian of Philip Thomas Pegues, minor, petition for a designated amount for educating and support of her ward. In this petition the guardian sets out that her ward is the beneficiary of the United States veterans' bureau of an allowance of $36 per month from October 12, 1936, to August 21, 1939, and an allowance of $12 per month from August 1939 to August 1931, and there has accumulated in the hands of this guardian, for the benefit of her ward, the sum of $346.80. The petitioner states that the interest on this amount, if invested, would be insufficient for the support and education of her ward, and in attending school the distance is too great for him to walk, therefore it is necessary for him to have a bicycle for his transportation to school. She shows in her petition that it will require at least $50 to purchase the bicycle and clothing to prepare her ward to enter school, and the further sum of $25 per month for his support and education. She requests the court to set a time for a hearing on this petition. At the same time a waiver of service of citation was filed by Eric Eads, attorney for the veterans' administration, agreeing to the hearing at the pleasure and convenience of the court.

Application of Zora Clark, daughter, to probate will of Mrs. Josie Atterberry, deceased, and that letters testamentary be issued to the applicant as administratrix of the state for the purpose of settlement and distribution of the bequest of the late S. E. Hittson, guardian of Josie Lee Hittson, annual report of Mrs. Addie Stone, deceased, Agreement to take deposition without filing notice of intention to apply for commission, In the matter of the estate of J. R. Wood, deceased. Petitioner Mrs. Rose Wood, surviving widow, to designate homestead. It appeared to the court that a permanent administrator was necessary to administer the estate. Temporary administration, here-

LOADING RUBBER ON SMALL COATS IN LIBERIA FOR TRANSPORTATION TO OCEAN FREIGHTERS

From the Firestone plantations in Liberia comes an extra-sure quality of the world's finest rubber. Money saved here and in manufacturing and distribution enable Firestone to sell a safer, first-quality tire at lower prices.

Why FIRESTONE MAKES A SAFER TIRE AT A LOWER PRICE

PRICES AS LOW AS $6.40

IN THE Firestone Standard Tire, you get extra value in the form of extra safety. It costs more money to build a safer tire. But Firestone can build a first-quality tire made of top grade materials and sell it for less money, because Firestone controls rubber and cotton supplies at their sources, manufactures with greater efficiency and distributes at lower cost.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every fiber of every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts dangerous internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

You need all of these features to make your car tire-safe on your week-end or vacation trip. Firestone gives them to you at lower cost. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires—today's top tire value.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE ON SMOOTH WORN TIRES! DO YOU KNOW THAT last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 38,000 men, women and children? That a million more were injured? That more than 40,000 of these deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures, blowouts and skidding due to smooth, worn, unsafe tires?

Monkeys Guinea Pigs In War On Paralysis

MONKEYS SUBMIT TO THIS . . .
Experiments on monkeys demonstrate that infantile paralysis attacks only through the nose.

SO LITTLE BOYS WON'T GO THROUGH THIS
Only immediate hope of preventing other children from suffering like this boy from infantile paralysis is through use of nose sprays.

Nasal Spray Proposed to Curb Disease

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

AP Science Editor
PALO ALTO, Calif., Aug. 21. (AP)—Two Stanford university scientists propose a new nasal spray to curb the outbreak of infantile paralysis which has been moving in mild form northeastward from Texas through Ohio and Kentucky.

Nasal sprays two years ago proved to be a complete protection against monkeys catching the disease. One of these sprays, picric acid, notable in wartime explosives, was tried on human beings in Alabama last summer. The experiment showed that a layman cannot well protect himself by spraying with an atomizer. Medical skill was needed to place the spray in exactly the right spot. More effective sprays were also sought and this the Californians report they have apparently discovered.

Anesthetic Used
The new spray is zinc sulphate. It is familiar as an eye wash. But for infantile paralysis prevention it is given in a concentration painful unless a local anesthetic is used. The Californians, E. W. Schultz, W.D., and L. P. Gebhardt, report they have now found an anesthetic, pontocaine, which does not harm the spray.

The picric acid used last summer they found to afford continued protection for a month after spraying. But the zinc sulphate phate on rhesus monkeys thus remained effective two and sometimes three months.

"The remarkable protection," they report, "in animals suggests the desirability of carrying the investigation over to man. We say 'investigation' advisedly, for it does not necessarily follow that the results which have been obtained in monkeys apply equally to man."

Attacks Through Nerves
Nose sprays offer at present the only scientific hope of preventing this child scourge. In monkeys it has been demonstrated completely that the paralysis attacks only through the nose. It enters through the nerves of smell, whose endings, tiny "hairs" are the only exposed nerves of the body.

Physicians regard it as almost certain that human beings also catch the paralysis only through these same nerves. The disease is known to travel in the nerves, and to affect only nerves. This is the reason why immune serum is not always an effective preventive. The serum has to be given in the blood. It causes formation of protective substances, antibodies, but they do not get into the nerves, or at least not quickly enough.

Cook peas and green beans uncovered if you want them to retain their color. Be careful not to over-cook green vegetables.

The term "jocko," applied to monkeys, is a corruption of "enjeco," a native African name for the chimpanzee.

Sugar cane, now rivaled by sugar beets, was for centuries the only source of commercial sugar.

NEFF NO. 5 CASEY
MAKES 25 BARRELS

The shallow oil pool 4 miles northeast of Albany in the Sanders-Casey area received a nice boost this week with G. M. Neff No. 5, Z. W. Casey pumping 25 barrels daily from the 520 foot Tannehill sand and being a quarter mile in advance of production between the Sanders pool which was developed this year by T. W. Lee and H. P. Key and the Casey pool that has produced for several years. The new well is located 1250 feet from southeast and 450 feet from south lines of TE&L survey 581, and Wood and Schkade No. 2 Lee A. Sanders is preparing to spud today 600 feet southeast of the new producer, being on survey 586.

This Tannehill sand discovery on the Sanders ranch in survey 586, has proved to be one of the richest shallow finds in the Shackelford county shallow oil areas during recent years, with the Lee and Key seven producers making an allowable 67 barrels daily.

Wood and Schkade No. 1 J. Leschbor in center Northwest 100 acres TE&T survey 545 six miles northeast of Albany is drilling at 500 feet and will test the Cook horizon around 750 feet, being northwest of two producers drilled by Mack Hays of Albany on the same survey in the Cook sand.

Abilene Pipe & Supply Co. (John Korp estate) Loggie & Arndt Oil Co. No. 4, Mary O. Harbaugh et al, seven miles northeast of Albany in south 80 acres TE&L survey 397 was completed as a 15 barrel pumper in sand 588 to 590 feet and the same operators No. 5 has spudded in location 816 feet from Southwest and 450 feet from northwest line of south 80 acres of survey 397, in the southwest side of a small shallow pool that was abandoned a few months back.

In western Shackelford, one wildcat test two miles east of Bluff Creek pool being drilled by Westexas Oil & Royalty Corp.-L. C. Heltzel No. 2A, Dawson & Conway in southeast corner of section 186, ETRy at 1400 feet is being watched with much interest.

On south side of Bluff Creek pool, Roeser & Pendleton, Inc. No. 40 Dawson & Conway made 225 barrels in 10 hours on test in center south half section 202, ETRy just north of M-K-T railroad and on the same lease the No. 38 is drilling at 2700 feet in an attempt to test the Caddo lime and with hole in fair condition the operators expect to attain the 3,200 foot depth, making the first test for the area below the King sand.

Old Texas-Cushing Oil Co. No. 1, J. M. Proctor recorded show of oil in the 3242 foot sand when drilled 20 years ago, in northwest corner section 188, ETRy, a mile east of the producing areas of Bluff Creek pool in western Shackelford.

Another test in western Shackelford being carried to the lower formations that have not been tested, is the Healey Drilling Co. No. 3, Lewis J. Ackers in northwest quarter section 15, block 13, T&P lands, now drilling at 2300 feet and will attempt to test Caddo lime around 3100 feet.

Two miles north of Albany, Hickok & Reynolds No. 22, J. A. Matthews is a new location in center east half section 31, ETRy in advance east of the pool that has been producing there for four years. Nine miles east of Albany, Floyd W. Holder No. 1, Jno. F. Sedwick caught a thin sand and is plugged at 580 feet in southeast corner TN&L survey 1562.

Florida has 134 usable airports.

Leg Band Was His Safe Deposit Vault

DENVER, Aug. 21. (AP)—Baldwin Gertz, 68, objected when attendants at a hospital attempted to remove an elastic appliance around his left leg, but the doctors insisted because the leg had been fractured in an automobile accident. Nurses soon discovered why Gertz protested. Under the elastic was $880 in currency.

STAY IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD

BUT

STEP UP TO THE V-8 CLASS

WHEN you are asked to pay "Just a Few Dollars More" than Ford prices, go slow. Be sure you're actually getting more car and bigger value—and not just a bigger bill. It may be easy to spend more money, but it's not easy to get more car at anywhere near the same prices.

When you pay more, you should get performance at least as flashing as Ford performance. You should get at least an 8-cylinder engine. You should get positive brakes that will stop the car at least as quickly and smoothly as Ford brakes do. Will you get all these? Will you get at least as much room? Most cars that boast a little longer wheelbase, waste space under the hood with a much longer engine. The Ford V-8 gives you room in the body where you can use it.

Check claims. Get facts. Make sure that any extra amount you plan to pay brings you corresponding extra value above the price of the Ford.

Finally, remember that the real reason why more than a million 1937 Ford V-8s have already been built is that America recognizes it as an outstanding car and the outstanding value for 1937.

FLAME TRAIL

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD

SYNOPSIS: Kay Crandon of the Lazy Nine impulsively hires Ted Gaynor, a jobless puncher. He helps her fight Josh Hastings, a "friendly" neighbor, who wants to get her ranch and marry Kay. Ted and Scrap Johnson, a cow-hand who molests Kay, shoot it out, wounding each other. Hastings sneaks up and kills Scrap with Ted's gun. Arrested, Ted is tried for Scrap's murder, but Kay stops the trial by technical protest. When the posse is taking Ted back to Montana for a second trial, he escapes and races to rescue Kay, whom Hastings has kidnaped and locked in a cellar, trying to force her into marriage.

Chapter 45 Proof at Last!

Kay clung to him with muffled sobs as his grasp involuntarily tightened.

"Ted! Ted! It isn't you! It can't be you!"

"There, there," he soothed, and again following his involuntary impulse, he kissed her hair.

With a breathless gasp of happiness, Kay raised her lips to meet the kiss that must next inevitably find its way to that goal, but with a startled oath, as though awakening from a dream, Ted drew back.

"I've got to get you out of here," he said gruffly. And before Kay could answer, he stooped and grasped her about the knees, raising her to the ceiling opening.

"Hang on," he ordered, "and I'll hit you up."

Puzzled and hurt, Kay grasped the edge of the opening, and the next minute found herself on the floor above. A second or two, and Ted was beside her.

"Quick!" He grasped her hand and pulled her to her feet. "The first thing is to get out of here."

Together they made for the dim opening that led to the starlit night outside. As they stepped into the street, Ted shoved Kay sharply to the right.

Glancing down to discover the reason for his abrupt movement, Kay's eye caught sight of the crumpled black form, slumped against the edge of the road. She shrank back against Ted, clutching his hand still more tightly.

"Is it Josh Hastings?"

"No. Worse luck," Ted growled, leading the way to his mount.

Kay hesitated as he motioned her to the saddle. "What are you going to do?" she whispered, in sudden fear for him, as the significance of his appearance became clear to her. "How did you come here? Have you escaped? They'll get you again!"

"Never mind that now." As she still hesitated, he stooped and lifted her bodily into the saddle, swinging up behind her. The next moment, they were headed for the open range.

A Note of Bitterness

A wild thrill ran through Kay as she remembered that former ride with him. For the second time, he had saved her! She felt again that certainty that he cared for her as she did for him, and she relaxed in his arms. What did it matter where she was going, as long as it was with him?

For some minutes they rode on without speaking, Ted walking his horse so as to make the least possible noise. The silence of the mesa closed over them like a caress, and as Kay looked up at the stars, a great happiness and peace stole over her. It didn't matter if neither of them ever spoke again! Nothing mattered but that this moment should stretch out to eternity!

"I'm taking you to Cedar Gulch," Ted broke the silence at last, and his voice had a strained, unreal sound. "A train goes through there at 4 a. m. It will stop if you flag it. Get back to Seth and the ranch as quick as you can."

"And you?" Kay breathed.

"I'm clearing out. There's nothing to stay here for, except to be framed for a necktie party." His tone had a note of bitterness that made Kay shrink back as though he had struck her.

She made no comment, and again they lapsed into silence, but this time the magic was gone from it. Once more Kay felt the bewildered hurt that Ted's inexplicable change of mood gave her. Inexplicable, at least, except from one angle: that he was in love with Marion Howell, and that what he did for her was simply accepting the chivalrous necessity of getting her out of a mess.

If that was the case, she certainly wasn't going to let him guess her feeling for him. Kay told herself proudly. She drew slightly away, and straightened up.

"How far is it to Cedar Gulch?"

"About seven miles."

"You haven't told me how you escaped," Kay said after another long pause.

In a few words, Ted related his getaway from Farley's posse.

"After I leave you, I'm going back to the mountains to lie low until the hunt lets up. First I've got to see that everything's all right with Marion Howell, though. I've got a hunch something's mighty wrong." These last words came out in a musing tone, almost as though he was talking to himself. He gave a sudden start as he heard them uttered aloud. "That's a dangerous thing to tell you though isn't it?" he added bitterly. "Maybe you'll want to use it again."

"What do you mean?" Kay's voice was both hurt and indignant. "I don't understand you!"

Kay winced at his biting irony. "I don't!" she declared hotly. "What do you mean?"

"I haven't thanked you for thinking up that clever way to get me a delay!" Ted abruptly changed the subject. "And you haven't told me how you got into Josh Hastings' hands."

Kay told her story in her turn, starting with her finding the steel nail head, and tracing it to Josh Hastings' gauntlet.

Ted gave a sharp exclamation. "That fits in! Right along, I've been sure that while I was lying wounded by the water there, I came to, and looked up to find him bending over me!"

"And he said you were by the water!" Kay excitedly repeated Josh Hastings' slip to her. "Ted! Do you suppose—"

"I haven't a doubt that he murdered Scrap Johnson," Ted declared. "But what can you do about it? Or about what he did to you?"

"I can show him up to the whole world!" Kay asserted recklessly.

Ted slowly shook his head. "You can't do it! It'll be only your word against his, and he'll talk you down."

"But you can witness I was there, in the cellar of that blacksmith shop!"

"I won't be here. And he could easily point out that I have only your word for it that he was the one to bring you there."

Dead Girl's Diary
A sudden memory of the notebook she had found flashed over Kay. Reaching in her pocket, she drew it out. She explained to Ted how she had found it, and also repeated what Josh Hastings had said in his rage about having used that place before.

"He said that!" Ted's very muscle tensed, and his voice vibrated with so strong an emotion of some sort that Kay twisted around in surprise. "My God! I wonder—"

He reached for the notebook. "I've got to see this!"

He pulled his mount to a halt and swung out of the saddle. Gathering up some dry bits of brush he struck a spark against a stone with a flint he had in his pocket.

Kay slid down beside him, and with bated breath leaned over his shoulder as he opened the notebook and read it by the flickering light of the tiny blaze.

The first pages seemed to be shopping lists and bits of unrelated memoranda. Then, suddenly, the writing became cramped and uneven, the lines sometimes crossing, as though it had been written at random in the dark.

It was all incoherent and meaningless to Kay, but Ted muttered a curse as he turned the pages. When he finally closed the book and spoke, his voice trembled.

"Proof at last!" He turned to Kay. "This changes everything! I'll be there for the trial! But you've got to let me have this! I've got Hastings where I want him."

"What is it?" Kay begged. "You must tell me!"

"It was written by a girl he kept prisoner there in that cellar just as he meant to keep you. She knew he had committed a murder—the murder of the son of the man I was working for. When she finally got out, she was insane and she committed suicide. He managed to pin it on me, at least enough so I had to clear out." He suddenly grasped Kay's hand.

"Look here! Do you want to help me now? In spite of what you did before?"

"Yes, yes!" In Kay's eagerness, she overlooked the last part of his sentence. "What can I do?"

"Get back to Seth, and keep in hiding so Josh Hastings won't know where you are. I've got to see that Marion's all right. Then, I'll give myself up to Zeke Farley. You keep out of sight until the trial. Then turn up and tell your story. Will you do that?"

"Yes," Kay promised quickly. "Then hurry!" Ted glanced up at the stars. "We mustn't miss that train."

Swinging her up before him again, he raced at full speed for Cedar Gulch. At the outskirts of the town, he pulled his mount in and lifted Kay to the ground.

"I don't dare go any farther," he said. "The station's at the end of this street. You can't miss it."

Being Triplet Is Bore to These 3

LORAIN, O. Aug. 21.—Being a triplet might be considered fun by some folks, but it's just a bore to Joy, Jean and Janet Mills, 11-year-old daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Mills.

"Too many people ask you your name too many times," says Joy. "The mother of the blonde, blue-eyed girls says she, too, has had some trouble with their similarity."

"I tell one of them to do something and forget which one I told," Mrs. Mills says, "so I've arranged a 'chore chart' to keep track of them."

The thing that irritates the children most, however, is the common greeting of schoolmates: "Hey, Trip."

He swung into the saddle and grabbed the reins. Wheeling his horse, he headed for the mountains.

"Remember!" he called back over his shoulder. Then without waiting for an answer, he was off at a hard gallop.

Auto-Trailer Vacations in U. S. Increase

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The American who seeks his vacation on rubber is going stronger than ever this summer with an increased number of private cars, trailers and buses roaming highways and byways.

About 20,000,000 private cars have been, or soon will be, used as the chosen conveyance of several times as many persons for getting away from home and business.

Interesting sidelights on the vacationing motorists are provided in the American Automobile association's frequent questionnaires to members and its system of keeping records of inquiries it receives. Incidentally, these inquiries showed a 3.8 per cent increase at all A.A.A. offices for the first seven months of this year as compared with last.

One questionnaire brought out that the average motoring vacation is 13 1-2 days, covering about 2,000 miles and costing slightly more than $900 for bed, food and gas. It is estimated 82 per cent of the registered passenger cars in the country, which totaled 24,197,685 in 1936, are used on vacations.

Trailers Increase
If this year's increase in passenger cars is equal to that of last year—A.A.A. officials surmise that better times indicate it will be greater—this year's registration will total at least 25,800,000. New York, with 2,134,000; California, with 2,060,000, and Pennsylvania, with 1,918,000, lead the states in the latest figures. But in proportion to population, Nevada and California are tied for first place with a car to every 2.6 persons. New York has one to 5.7 and Mississippi, at the bottom of the list, has one to 9.75.

The number of trailers on the road are believed to have increased as there were 869,000 (including commercial) registered last year as compared with only 193,644 in 1929 (when the private trailer was almost unknown). The latest figures put Michigan in the trailer lead with 119,000, followed by California, 112,000; Ohio, 103,000; Iowa, 58,000, and Indiana, 52,000.

Cheap transportation on buses is a lure to vacationists in every state with more than 2,500 companies operating lines outside cities. They took 475,000,000 fares in 1936, of which about 35 per cent was summer traffic. Bus officials estimate a fifth of these were vacationers. Traffic on sight-seeing buses exclusively, from those operating in national parks to those in cities, totaled 4,700,000.

"All-expense tours" are now offered by bus lines, the two national systems, the Greyhound Lines and the Trailways, issuing booklets with a great variety of choices. Canadian bus lines offer combination tours with boat trips on the St. Lawrence.

Far West Travel Heavier
Far western travel was heavier in June this year but the July percentage was down to 6.9 as compared with 19.7 in July last year. Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Washington, D. C., combined in the A.A.A. report, dropped from 12.1 to 9.3.

One of the most attractive of new offerings to the highway vacationists this year is the newly opened highway along the Pacific coast shore from Astoria, Ore., to Golden Gate Bridge at San Francisco.

The Pan-American Highway, opened a year ago to Mexico, D. F., began getting heavy traffic for the first time this year.

Lincoln Highway, the famous route that carries No. 30 from Atlantic City, N. J., to Astoria, Ore., is now 92 per cent hard surface. Only a few years ago thousands of transcontinental travelers found it slippery going on bumbo mud whenever it rained on western belts of that road.

Next year another well known cross-country highway, the National Old Trail, No. 40, will have new surfacing from Denver to San Francisco. Atlantic City, whose chamber of commerce must have been busy when highway marking was done, is also the terminus of this road in the East, although it is generally regarded as starting at Baltimore.

Most popular transcontinental route is "Broadway of America" Routes 70 and 80, because it is an all-year highway. There are no snow-blocked passes on its course from New York to Los Angeles via the Shenandoah valley, Memphis, Dallas, Fort Worth and El Paso.

Roosevelt Highway with Provincetown, Mass., as a terminus, is popular in the East because of its concrete route through Northern Pennsylvania. Its No. 5 marker is going up west of Omaha to Los Angeles via Arrowhead Trail.

Americans are so accustomed to being able to drive almost anywhere that nowadays the A.A.A. has found some inquiries very indignant when they had to be told that there is no road to Labrador for Alaska. But the Alaska road, which will be an expensive project because of the rough country, is being planned.

Asking For Money ---It's an Old Story

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 21. (AP)—College students wrote home for money in 1788.

Dr. H. M. J. Klein, professor of history at Franklin and Marshall college, found a letter written one year after the college was founded in which the student made an appeal to his father for funds.

The father was Peter Rhoads, Sr., member of the Pennsylvania assembly.

The request was written by Rhoads, Jr., who was graduated from Franklin and Marshall in 1790, and later became president of the Northampton bank.

The son wrote:

"Dear Father:
Your favor of the 13th last I received on the 8th. . . Gibson's surveying is not immediately necessary, but it (the book) would greatly assist me. In this you may please yourself, and I am satisfied. I will, with the help of God, learn that the money you have advanced me shall not be lost."

The Fiji islands number more than 200.

He Serves 'Term' All by Mistake

KELLYS ISLAND, O., Aug. 21. (AP)—Kenneth Erney swears that the next time he gets into jail it will be with some provocation.

Erney and Edwin Ludwig, county investigators for the old age pension system, came to this island village in Lake Erie to check up on applicants. Their duties took them to the town jail, where Erney noticed an open cell. He walked in to inspect it, and the steel-barred door clanged shut, locking him in.

Ludwig went for help, only to learn that the town marshal had the cell key and had gone off on a fishing trip. Several hours passed, with Erney helplessly rattling the bars and Ludwig hunting a key. Late in the day, the mayor managed to locate a spare key and freed the accidental prisoner.

When Edgar Allan Poe reviewed books, he often included disparaging remarks about the authors' characters.

Path to Heaven: A Chicago Alley

CHICAGO, Aug. 21. (AP)—Police Officers Barchard and Dean entered the dark alley with pistols drawn to investigate complaints that a man lurked in the shadows.

"Put up your hands," they shouted when they spied a figure moving in the deepest shadows. Then they turned their flashlights on the man.

There stood Paul Haradon, Chicago amateur astronomer, with his homemade telescope trained on the constellations.

"I was just making some heavenly observations," he stammered. "I picked this alley so the street lights would not interfere with the light from the stars."

The policeman left him there.

ABOLISHES BOWLING
NEW LONDON, O., Aug. 21. (AP)—This northern Ohio village went back to the days of Merrie England five years ago and established a bowling green in the town park. Now, by a three to two vote, the council has decided to abolish the green as unsightly and unpopular. It will be replaced by sidewalks and sod as of yore.

Germany's Stork

No trouble at all for this plane to get off the ground. It takes off so fast that it seems to stand on its tail.

Speedy Life, Slow Landing Combined In New Air Taxi

KASSEL, Germany, Aug. 21. (AP)—An air-taxi built to compete with the wind-mill plane in ease of landing with ordinary airplanes in speed has been developed here.

The Stork, as Gerhard Fieseler calls his plane, takes off so steeply that it seems to stand on its tail. It can trottle down to from 130 to 30 miles an hour in straight flight and land at 24 miles an hour.

Small supplementary wings, "trap" the air stream from the propeller and force it to exert a greater lifting power.

In landing tests the Stork has been brought to a halt less than seven yards after its wheels touched ground. In take-off tests it has attained an altitude of 50 feet within 100 yards from a standing start.

Hope For 6 Russian Fliers' Safety Dim

BARROW, Alaska, Aug. 21 (AP)—Hope of finding six missing Russian transport fliers alive dimmed today when Jimmie Mattern of Texas reported he found impossible landing conditions in a 400-mile flight over the Arctic ocean.

Mattern, leading aviators of three nations, flew over the Arctic Friday, landing near Barrow with his gasoline tanks empty.

and Billy Hanson will play to see who enters the finals from that bracket.

Young Hanson beat Darcy Bruce 6-1 6-0 and then went on to wallop W. E. Cooper 6-0 6-0 to enter the quarter-finals. Hanson is the only quarter-finalist in the lower bracket so far decided.

Cooper had downed T. C. Williams 6-3 4-6 6-3.

F. B. Altman looms strong for the title. He beat Rev. Patterson 6-2 6-0 and that is all the matches played so far. That leaves all four quarter-finalists of the top bracket decided and one in the lower.

In the women's division a hot final match is in prospect with Louise Statham already in the finals, waiting for the other finalist to be decided.

Mary Louise Sherman is favored to reach the finals to meet Louise. Mary Louise will play the winner of the Zona Maude Surles-Katherine Loftin contest to see who enters the finals.

Zona Maude won a 7-9 6-4 6-3 match from Enojane Hazlewood and Katherine defeated Marion Jacobs 6-4 in a one-set match to enter the quarter-finals.

Young Student Nurse Killed by Rapist Saturday

CHICAGO, Aug. 21 (AP)—A rapist, wielding a brick, stole into a Chicago hospital on southside today and ravished and killed Anna Kuchta, 18, student nurse. Her bruised, bloody body was found on the floor near her bed, her skull crushed by blows from the brick. Her crumpled uniform was nearby. Three other women have been slain by the same brutal methods in the last two years. Two killings were solved, one negro rapist dying in the electric chair and another imprisoned.

Two women have been assaulted by a negro armed with a brick in hotel rooms here in the last two weeks. Police believe him to be the nurse's slayer.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For who hath known the mind of the Lord? ... For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever" (Romans 11:34, 36). The lesson-sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine metaphysics, as revealed to spiritual understanding, shows clearly that all is mind, and that mind is God, omnipotence, omnipresence, omniscience,—that is, all power, all presence, all science. Hence all is in reality the manifestation of mind" (page 275).
