BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

If thine heart be wise, my heart shall rejoice; yea, my reins shall rejoice when thy lips speak right things.

Then give to the world the best you have; And the best will come back to you.

The Whipping Post

MANY reformists may regard the ancient Maryland law under which a man convicted of wife-beating was subjected to a lashing at a whipping post...

A GOOD deal can be said of the whipping post. For one thing it seems to provide a more effective dose of the best corrective along with the physical pain it inflicts.

NO honest man wants coddling, says an editorial in the Rotary magazine. All he asks is a fair chance to help himself.

WHAT IT MEANS: Smashing The Atom

There has been so much talk about smashing the atom and we have skimmed through so many stories...

It means opening a reservoir containing 99 per cent of all the matter in the universe.

Projectiles Too Small Only the particles could hit and smash an atom. But these particles...

is not to do something for him, but to enable him to do something for himself.

THAT sound philosophy seems to have lost its reality during the past few years. And no doubt that fact lies at the root of all this depression and repression trouble.

OTHER OPINIONS

Modernized Law Enforcement

THERE is reassurance for law-abiding citizens and a warning for criminals in the Associated Press description of how the state department of public safety conducts a man hunt.

Within a few minutes after a crime is reported the department is able to throw a network of state and local officers around the locality where it was committed.

The department depends fully as much, however, upon local officers as it does upon highway patrolmen and rangers when it is spreading nets for fugitives.

Recently a state highway patrolman was wounded on a road in Robertson county. The department went into action and within two hours the suspect was caught.

A few years ago the federal bureau of investigation complained that Texas was a haven of comparative safety for interstate criminals.

Progress already made toward making Texas unsafe for criminals amply proves the worth of the central police force created by merging the old ranger force and the newer state highway patrol.

China used to execute her opium addicts. Now she makes them join the army. That's questionable mercy.

icles was the first great answer to what it means to smash an atom. All known substances, when their atoms were smashed, proved to be made of exactly the same fundamental particles.

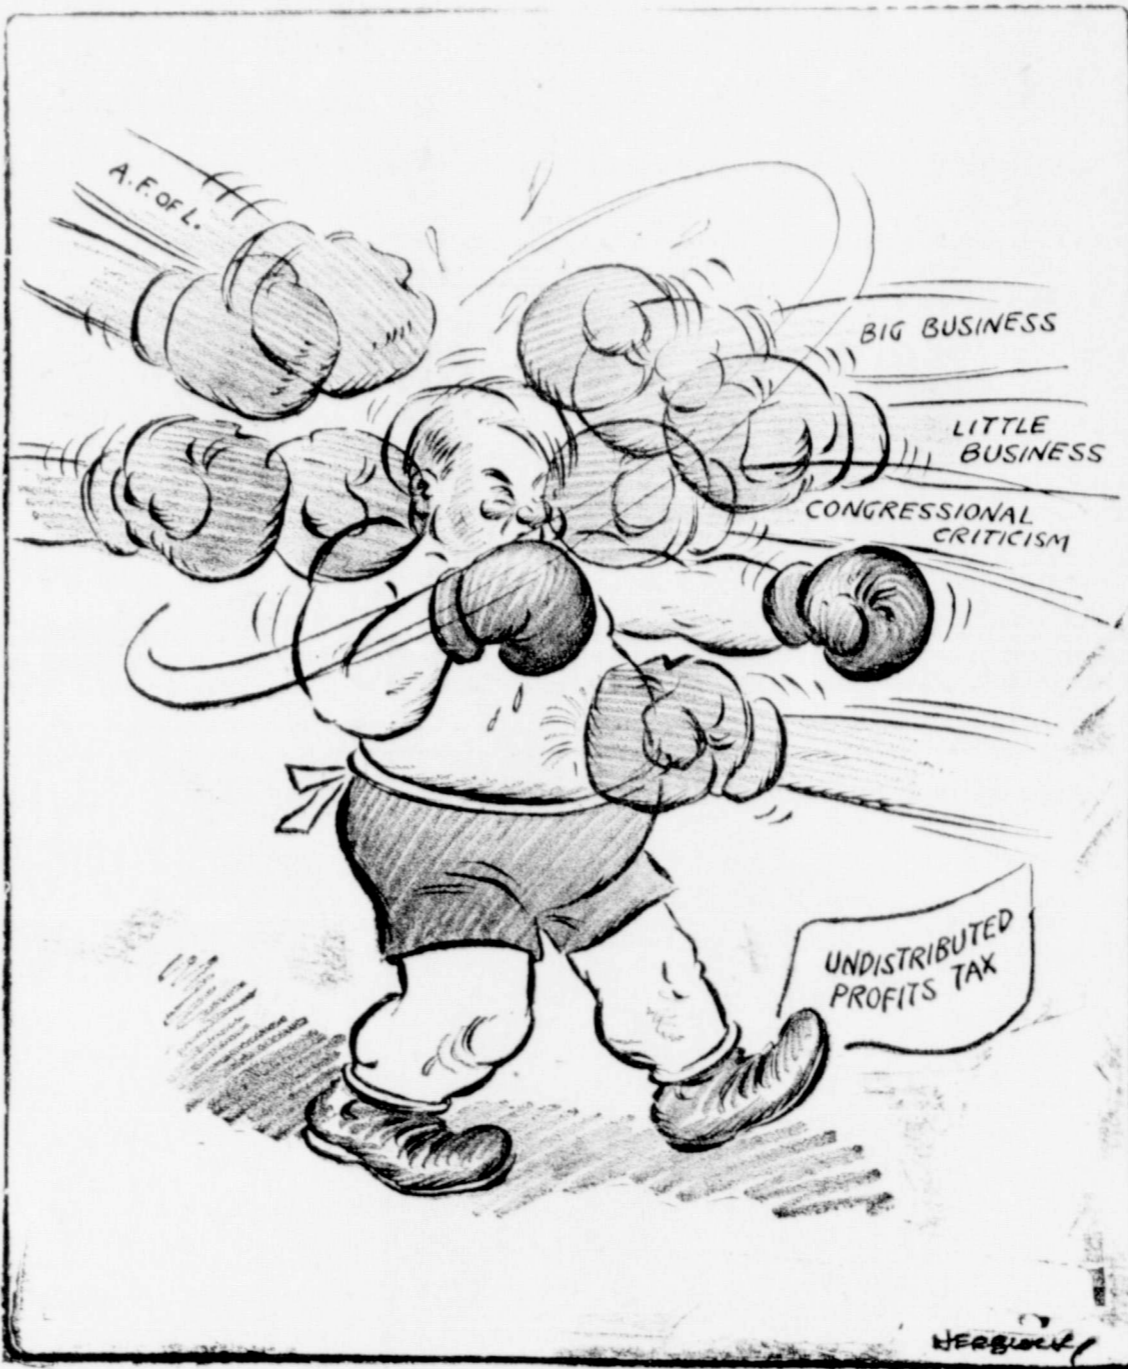

This showed the universe really is constructed of a few (to date only four are known) fundamental particles. Gold differs from oxygen, or any other substance, only in the arrangement of the particles forming its atoms.

Next it was found that smashing the atom meant breaking its nucleus, or center. In this center is 99 per cent of all the atom's weight.

Then nature furnished a third source, more powerful than anything man has invented—projectiles that run up to fifteen billion volts each.

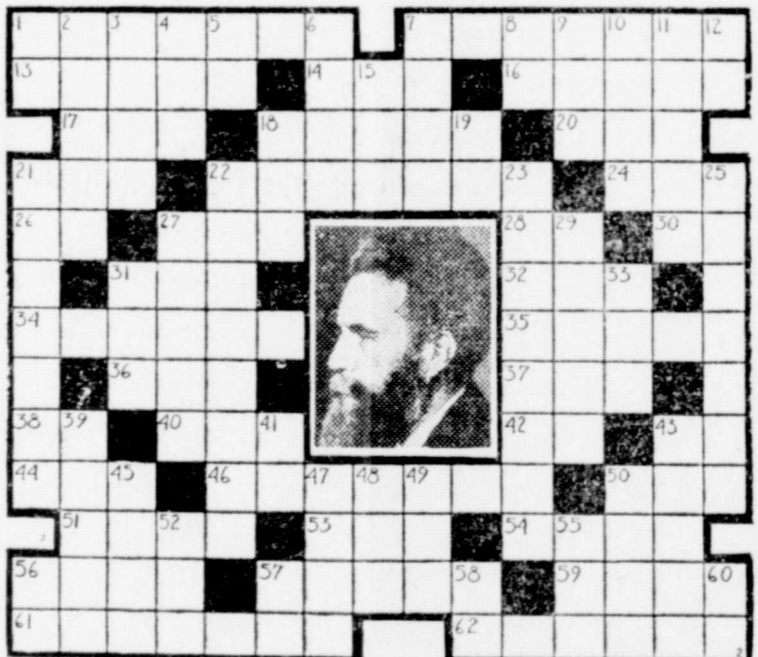

An Arrangement The similarity of all these parimals and plants by use of the non-material rays given off by smashed particles. This gave one clue to the mechanisms of evolution.

In the little hard knots forming the atomic nucleus are energies surpassing the dreams of Atlas. There is a force of attraction estimated at one million times gravitation. Particles from the smashed atoms come out with energies that would dwarf dynamite, but no scientist has been able even to predict how these energies can be used.

NORODY'S BUSINESS BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN, March 3.—Participants in the Texas political circus, and observers of that biennial phenomenon likewise, have come to the Isles of Marsh with the situation regarding the race for Governor badly muddled, and Gov. Allred, the key-man, still declining to clarify it by himself in or out of the race for a third term.

The senate investigating committee, after a three day session in Dallas, was to resume here Wednesday, with Attorney General Bill McCraw, and Mrs. McCraw, appearing by invitation of the committee, on McCraw's demand. Political observers here agreed that McCraw's appearance before the committee will effect in shaping up the situation definitely, for it is likely that McCraw, an avowed but as yet unannounced candidate, will make public his formal announcement and his platform. Allred claims he is waiting "to see the platform" before he makes his declaration.

Violence in Tijuana as Troops Balked Lynching

These dramatic photos depict graphically the rioting that occurred in Tijuana, Mexico, as a mob of 1500 stormed the military prison in an attempt to lynch a soldier accused of the attack-murder of an 8-year-old girl. Two men and a boy were killed when soldiers opened fire as the mob attempted to enter the prison. The picture at left above shows the troops firing on the mob. Note the man in civilian clothes firing a revolver over the soldiers' heads. After being repulsed by the military, the mob burned and otherwise damaged public buildings throughout the city. The photo at the right shows men breaking windows in the governor's palace.

Super-Race Is Possible Says Noted Scientist

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—The race of human beings possessing the intellectual ability of Einstein or Aristotle can be produced, a prominent geneticist said Tuesday if human selection could be placed on a scientific basis.

Instead, it is tending the other way, Paul Popenoe of Los Angeles declared in an article in the Journal of Heredity. Present trends in human genetics, he said, point toward the production of a race of super-idiots who will "be too stupid to live."

"If a super-man could arrange human marriages at will, he could produce results that by present standards are almost incredible," Popenoe said.

"Humanly speaking, there are almost no limits to the possibilities of selection for intelligence, and a race could be produced, the least intelligent individual of which would have a greater intellect than Aristotle, Goethe or Newton."

Recent experiments with rats have shown that by breeding the most intelligent animals, it is possible to develop super-intelligence.

A similar experiment in which the dullest rats in each generation were selected produced a strain of idiots. The most intelligent rat of the latter group could not perform half so well as the dullest individual of the intelligent strain.

The intelligence of every human being is the direct result of the quality of genes he or she inherits from his or her parents, Popenoe declared.

"As in playing bridge," he added, "a person may get all clubs or all spades, but he may also get such a bad assortment of cards

Lives Lost In Accidents

CISCO, March 2—One hundred and four lives were lost on streets and highways in accidents, state police reported today; a decrease of 14 from the same month of last year.

State police reported that officers believed the drop was the result of favorable weather conditions, lessened traffic, and an increased tempo of the statewide campaign for safer roads.

State police joined local police in a drive to lower the accident rates at places where most accidents were happening.

The January figures showed that 1,378 persons were injured in 1,355 accidents reported. There were 216 pedestrians involved in the mishaps—49 of them were killed. Two of the listed dead received their fatal injuries in December, bringing the actual January toll down to 142, state officers said.

Police—commenting upon drunken driving—said there was a large increase in the January reports on the number of intoxicated drivers against whom complaints were filed. Of the 1,647 drivers involved, 117 were charged with intoxication. Increased public sentiment against this type of driver was believed to have contributed to the filing of complaints.

A new type of accident was reported to state headquarters in the latter part of January and the first two weeks of February. Nine persons were injured in attempting to close automobile doors while the cars were in motion. The injured were thrown to the highway.

The House of Tudor, which ruled England throughout the 16th century, was founded by Owen Tudor, a Welshman, who married Catherine of France, the widow of Henry V of England.

Back From 'Grave'

Mrs. Elizabeth Fitzgerald Cossey, above, walked into a White Plains, N. Y., courtroom just as her husband, Stephen D., was expressing sorrow over her "death." The judge who was hearing Cossey's plea for an Enoch Arden dissolution of his marriage became suspicious of the man's assertions that he had not heard from his wife for ten years. An investigator, assigned by the court, found Mrs. Cossey in New Jersey. Cossey was held for the grand jury on a perjury charge.

Official Gauge of Poindexter Delayed

BAIRD, March 2—Tank connections were not completed yesterday on the Hal Hughes at No. 1 Poindexter, southwestern Callahan county ordovician discovery near Oplin, and operators were unable to begin the first official gauge on the well.

Flowline connections are due to be tied into the 500-barrel tank by noon today, operators said, and the well will probably begin first gauged flow this afternoon.

Production is from sandy lime at 4,368-89 feet, total depth. The well is 330 feet out of the northeast corner of George Hancock survey No. 350.

For a lovely, radiant skin here's a simple Beauty Recipe that works

When your skin is kept clean with warm water and a gentle, pure soap it is well fortified, so authorities tell us, against bluish infections, coarse pores, oiliness, sallow color and aging dryness. Being in the gas business, we know little about soap but lots about hot water.

For a hot water system that works just as satisfactorily as this beauty recipe there's nothing like a modern automatic gas heater. It supplies hot water the moment you want it at exactly the right temperature without any attention on your part. And it has a capacity to supply any amount whether hot water is wanted for a facial or a big spring house-cleaning job. Why not step-up your hot water service with one of these modern gas-operated automatics?

* Rock-bottom down payment, easy monthly terms and trade-in allowance are available on newest automatic water heaters now. Investigate and see how little money it takes to have the finest hot water service.

What's The World Coming To? Fewer Clothes Will Make the Man -- Or Woman -- Of Years to Come

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
AP Feature Service Writer

These fashion experts who are not afraid to go out on a limb to forecast America's future in clothing styles are predicting that:

1. Women will wear less and less clothing, the simplicity and the comfort of sports apparel becoming more and more popular.

2. Men, too, will be wearing far fewer clothes 25 years hence. (The hot weather town suit of 1933 may well be washable shorts, shirt and jacket like the Tyrolean mountaineer's costume.)

3. The familiar collar and tie may be supplanted by a jabbing, modernized tunic, with perhaps a soft neckerchief for prominent Adam's apple concealment.

4. Fabrics which resist rain, perspiration or spilled drinks, will be in common use.

5. Glass raincoats may serve also as protectors from lightning.

Stylists observe that Empress Eugenie may pop up here and there to put their feeting stamp on the fashion world but it is the Helen Willis Moody of the future who will set the pace for the long pull.

Not that the ladies have much left to shed. And from diaper to dinner gown, garments are becoming more streamlined. The slim silhouette dress is in vogue from bungalow boudoir to Biarritz ballroom. Baby rompers are going more Hollywoodish. As the flair for sports and play clothes becomes stronger among girls, an increase in the percentage of more natural, healthy figures is expected.

Corsets Going, Going--
This trend will result in a diminishing need for "compressor" garments such as corsets. And some stylists believe even the girdle may vanish. Clothes of today are especially designed for quick and easy dressing.

Twenty-five years have whirled by since handsome young John Barrymore in an English suit, gates-scar collar and a streamlined derby had the "sweet, young thing" goggle-eyed with admiration. But though there have been gains along the "comfort" line, masculine attire has seen no great transition in a quarter-century.

Man, however, is becoming less self-conscious in abbreviated sportswear and is appearing in shorts on the tennis courts, at the beach and at the lawn mower.

Accustomed to showing off his shanks at summer colonies he may become emboldened to expose more or less knobby knees in office and shop.

Further improvements are expected in water-repellent fabrics. Materials made from grass, glass and milk are here. Crownless hats are made of cellophane.

Lightning-Rod Coats
The present glass cloth withstands high temperatures, is resistant to corrosive chemicals, does not absorb water and is said to be a highly effective electrical insulator. In the future we may be wearing glass raincoats to shield us from lightning.

The current trend to short skirts is expected to continue for some time but extremely abbreviated skirts are considered unlikely.

New casual clothes of the softly tailored or spectator sports type will be important in spring fashions for 1934. Popularity is forecast for suits and jacket costumes. Designers predict new versions of the fitted waists, modified so that it is easier to wear.

It Couldn't Have Happened--But It Did

MINERAL WELLS, March 2 (Sp.)—Believe it or not, but there was a family in Mineral Wells from far into west Texas Sunday afternoon, they parked their car on the streets for a few hours stay. The wife was driving, so she hid the key after parking in a favorite hiding place within the car. Later she came back, found the key, and away the family went en route to their home.

When some several hundred miles west, the woman driving, the man enjoying the ride, as they usually do when they can get out of work and make the wife do it, he began to notice things and finally suggested that he did not believe that it was their car—and

Auto Theft Charge Proves Serious

EASTLAND, March 2—Conviction on a charge of stealing a car Dec. 26 last year from Dr. George W. Blackwell of Gorman is proving far more serious than Alton Loggins possibly thought at the time of the occurrence.

For Monday, in 91st district court, a jury found him guilty of theft of the automobile and found other offenses in other courts previously and assessed him a life sentence under the habitual criminal law.

Other convictions, it was shown at the trial, were for burglary in Stonewall county and burglary in Callahan county. J. T. Poe was jury foreman.

The jury was recalled for service Thursday. Cases to be called then are against Jonah White and L. W. Westerman, both charged with driving intoxicated.

For Love of Polly

By RACHEL MACK Copyright, 1936, N.E.A. Service, Inc.

to Philadelphia, and from the latter city she would have no trouble reaching home.

When they had entered Baltimore harbor Jerry went to Polly who stood at the bulwark watching the men drop anchor. "Go below and get ready now, Polly. A sailor's wife must be brisk."

"To go ashore, my sweet, with your dog and trunk?" "But, Jerry! You'd not put me ashore in Maryland when I belong in Connecticut?" Her face showed honest amazement.

"Didn't you know, Polly, that I'd put you ashore at the first port? Did you suppose I'd keep you an hour longer at sea than I had to?"

"Oh, Jerry! I'd not figured it out, but I supposed you'd take me home to Lyme after you got your papers. I might as well be honest and say I hoped you'd decide to keep me on board, Jerry. The way some of the skippers out of New England used to keep their wives aboard. I know an old woman at home who's been around the Horn on her husband's ship seven times."

"This is war time, Polly." He spoke with finality and with such regret that she could not make it harder for him.

"All right, Jerry. But it's going to take Cabell a couple of days to go to Washington and back. Can I stay here till then?" "I'd thought to put you on a stage coach, Polly, and see you started on your way. I'd feel easier about you."

But he could not resist her pleading arm that stole around his neck, nor the prospect of an extra day and night with her on a deserted ship in a friendly port. He said, "I reckon I've earned another sunset and sunrise with you, Polly. Stay if you will."

That night when the sailors went ashore and Cabell was in Washington, the Gray Gull was their own. They stood at its bulwarks and watched the lights of Baltimore. Polly made one more effort to snatch at happiness.

"You've brought the Gull home, Jerry, and it wasn't easy. Cabell couldn't have done it without you. Every man aboard owes you his life or his liberty."

"It may be true, Polly. But what of it?" "This. You've done your part. If Cabell's so set on going to sea again, let him find another mate for his clipper. You come home to New England."

"Polly, what are you saying?" He held her shoulders and looked down into her face. "I'm saying you don't belong to the navy by rights," she answered fiercely. "Why must you go out there and let an English long gun tear you to pieces?"

"This is every American's fight as I look at it, Polly. It's our way of backing up those that died in the Revolution. Our men walked shoeless in the snow and ice till their feet bled, that war. That's how much they wanted freedom. Well, that freedom's being questioned. This time on the sea."

"Oh, I know," said Polly brokenly. "I must have been crazy for a minute, Jerry. . . . Remind me to mend your coat before I leave tomorrow. You've torn the sleeve."

BEFORE noon the following day Cabell returned from Washington, having traveled most of the night. He was jubilant. Mr. Madison had consented to see him in person and had readily given him all the papers necessary to turn the Gray Gull into a privateer to harass British craft.

"He says he's thankful to see so many New Englanders turning out to fight. He thinks our hope lies almost entirely in privateers. . . . Hello, Polly! Where are you going with your bonnet on?"

"Home," said Polly, holding out her hand. "Jerry wants to get me started."

"Won't tomorrow do? I thought a little dinner in Baltimore to-night. . . . It's quite a place, I hear."

Jerry said, "All our crew came aboard this morning. Cabell, and about 20 extras they were able to recruit. The rumor's out that the Chesapeake's going to be bottled. You'll want to go out with the tide tonight. I'm taking Polly ashore now."

Two hours later Polly was jolted out of Baltimore on the road to Philadelphia. She rode atop the coach. Nuisance shared her seat and her dejection.

The driver, a genial soul, said, "You appear sad to part from your young man, Miss. Is he a sailor?"

"Yes. A mate on a privateer. He's going to sea tonight. . . . I wonder what name this war will have?"

"Why, Miss, maybe they'll just call it the war of 1812. I figger we'll have the British licked before Christmas and maybe annex Canada."

Polly snorted derisively. "Have you ever seen a British man-of-war coming down on you with all sails spread?"

"Well, no, Miss. I'm an inland man, rightly. Horses is my line."

"Then don't try to be a prophet!" snapped Polly vehemently and began to weep into her handkerchief. . . . Never to see Jerry again. Could she endure it?

Snow Flight to a Crown

Running behind a brilliant international field in the open ski-jumping tournament at Brattleboro, Vt., Birger Rued, Norway's Olympic and world champion ski star, extended himself for the 215-foot leap pictured above. This jump added the U. S. Open championship to the Norwegian's other ski-ing honors.

Lashing With Cat-o-Nine Tails Is Punishment for Wife-Beater

BALTIMORE, March 2 (AP)—Twenty lashes from a cat-o-nine tails seared the bare back of Clyde Miller before 50 witnesses at the city jail Tuesday as part of his sentence of six months imprisonment for beating his wife last Thursday night.

Sheriff Joseph C. Deegan, six feet, two inches tall and weighing 220 pounds, wielded the whip on the 37-year-old, 245-pound prisoner.

Miller cringed under the first blow but gave no sound. At the third, he whimpered, and thereafter at each blow he gave way to an uncontrolled sob.

Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, 23, who had said she would take someone along to describe the flogging if her blackened eyes still remained closed, was not there.

At 11:05 a. m. five minutes after the scheduled time, Miller was brought into the three-story lobby of the big city jail, where the black whipping post and the witnesses stood. He wore a gray blanket draped around his bare shoulders and prison dungarees.

As the guards strapped his bandaged wrists to the cross-trees and belted his legs and waist to the post, he watched silently. At 11:10, the final adjustments were made and Sheriff Deegan, who flogged two men for wife-beating in 1931, came in and took the whip from an attendant. The prison physician counted the strokes.

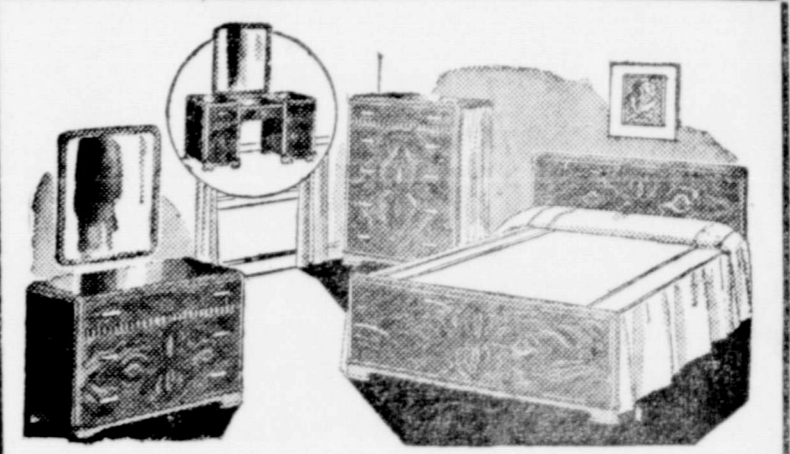

"He is the only one I have flogged that really showed the effects and seemed to be in agony," the sheriff said later.

The whipping post, used exclusively for wife beaters, was revived in 1882, and the flogging today was the heaviest since 1889 when 13 lashes were applied to a prisoner.

Ten has been the usual sentence. Miller was sentenced Friday by Judge J. Abner Saylor after pleading guilty as a second offender to the beating of his wife, whose eyes were closed, her lips, cheeks and nose, cut and bleeding, and her forehead colored by bruises, as she testified against him.

March 20 Proclaimed "Wildlife Week"

AUSTIN, March 2 (AP)—Governor James V. Alfred, noting the state's wildlife resources were valued at $93,000,000 annually, Tuesday proclaimed the week of March 20 "wildlife week" in Texas in coordination with a national observance.

The governor called upon the citizenry to "recognize the importance of problems of wildlife conservation" and urged practical action in behalf of "our invaluable but inarticulate friends of field and stream."

Simultaneously, President T. O. Walton of Texas A. & M. college, state wildlife week chairman, named 26 additional chairmen who will arrange education programs in their counties. By counties, they include:

Knox—Dr. R. C. Edwards, Knox City; Throckmorton—B. Everett, Throckmorton; Haskell—Jess Johnson, Haskell.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

If thine heart be wise, my heart shall rejoice; yea, my reins shall rejoice when thy lips speak right things.—Prov., xxiii, 15, 16.

Then give to the world the best you have. And the best will come back to you! Give love, and love to your heart will flow. A strength in your utmost needs; Have faith and a score of hearts will show Their faith in your word and deed.

Religion in its true sense is the most joyous thing the human soul can know; and when the real religion is realized we will find that it will be an agent of peace, joy, and of happiness.—R. W. Trine.

The Whipping Post

MANY reformists may regard the ancient Maryland law under which a man convicted of wife-beating was subjected to a lashing at a whipping post in punishment as a brutal relic of medieval days. But under such a thesis all punishment is brutal in varying degrees and the conclusion naturally follows that it should be abolished in favor of scientific measures of mental correction. But unfortunately humanity has not arrived at the point where it is possible to employ the ideal scientific concept and society must continue to be brutal and realistic.

A GOOD deal can be said of the whipping post. For one thing it seems to provide a more effective dose of the best corrective along with the physical pain it inflicts. That corrective is the element of shame. A whipped criminal does not long feel the sting of the blows. But the ignominy of having been publicly whipped does endure. The whipping post is a symbol of realism in dealing with crime. Perhaps if we had more of this in other forms of punishment and less of sentimentalism there would be less major criminality.

Real Charity Reversed

NO honest man wants coddling, says an editorial in the Rotary magazine. All he asks is a fair chance to help himself. Blind, deaf or crippled, still for himself he asks no more. The greatest gift one person can give another, Helen Keller has said over and over,

WHAT IT MEANS: Smashing The Atom

There has been so much talk about smashing the atom that we have skimmed through so many stories telling the ways and means, that we asked the AP Science Editor at last to tell us what it was all about. Here is his lucid explanation. By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Editor. What does it mean to smash an atom? It means opening a reservoir containing 99 per cent of all the matter in the universe. It means something you can see with your own eyes. Atoms smash when they are hit by the right kind of projectiles. Both the projectile and the explosion can be seen in trails of vapor inside a cloud chamber—an airtight tank containing moisture under expansion. In 1919 the late Lord Rutherford discovered the first projectiles and the first smash. The projectiles were some of the rays of radium. The element, radium, gives off three kinds of rays—gamma or short-wave light, and two kinds of particles.

Projectiles Too Small Only the particles could hit and smash an atom. But these particles is not to do something for him, but to enable him to do something for himself.

THAT sound philosophy seems to have lost its reality during the past few years. And no doubt that fact lies at the root of all this depression and repression trouble. There is too much dependence and not enough independence. We are all to blame. From the national government on down the country has been obsessed with the idea of doing something for people rather than enabling people to do something for themselves. Until that idea is reversed and emphasis placed on the individual and individual responsibility, where it belongs, we are not going to get very far along with recovery.

OTHER OPINIONS

Modernized Law Enforcement

THERE is reassurance for law-abiding citizens and a warning for criminals in the Associated Press description of how the state department of public safety conducts a man hunt. The success of this system is due largely to central direction and quick communication.

Within a few minutes after a crime is reported the department is able to throw a network of state and local officers around the locality where it was committed. Department headquarters in Austin keeps in constant touch with its own organization by means of teletype and radio. District patrol officers throughout the state are connected by teletype. Radio connects district officers with officers patrolling the highways.

The department depends fully as much, however, upon local officers as it does upon highway patrolmen and rangers when it is spreading nets for fugitives. Municipal police radio systems form a vital link in the system of communication. The department's aim is to have every local officer function as a state officer—and in most cases local officers furnish valuable co-operation.

Recently a state highway patrolman was wounded on a road in Robertson county. The department went into action and within two hours the suspect was caught. The hunt involved 200 officers in 19 counties. Two local officers stopped the fugitive's car 50 miles from the scene of the crime.

A few years ago the federal bureau of investigation complained that Texas was a haven of comparative safety for interstate criminals. Those were the days when the Barrow-Parker team and other notorious criminals were running wild in Texas. Although Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker finally were ambushed and killed by Texas officers in Louisiana, it is safe to say that their criminal careers would have been much shorter if the present system had been in operation.

Progress already made toward making Texas unsafe for criminals amply proves the worth of the central police force created by merging the old ranger force and the newer state highway patrol. Further improvements in prospect promises to eliminate the last trace of conditions which formerly made the nation's biggest state a happy hunting ground for predatory criminals. Our frontier law enforcement is catching up with the times.—Galveston News.

China used to execute her opium addicts. Now she makes them join the army. That's questionable mercy.

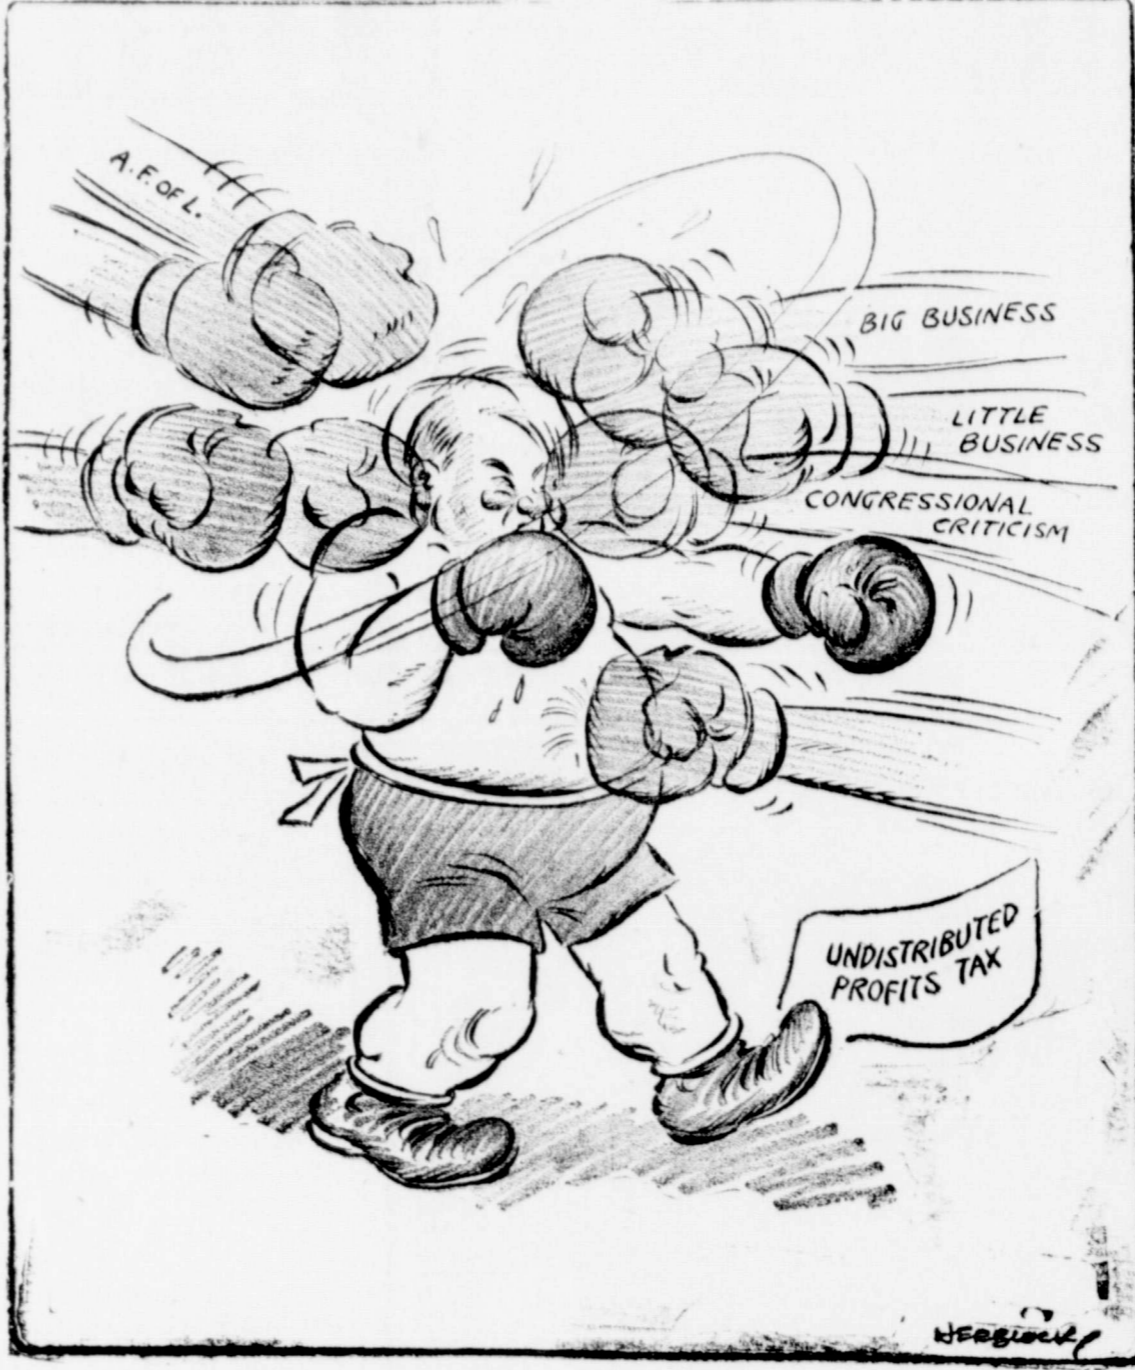

It was the first great answer to what it means to smash an atom. All known substances, when their atoms were smashed, proved to be made of exactly the same fundamental particles.

This showed the universe really is constructed of a few (to date only four are known) fundamental particles. Gold differs from oxygen, or any other substance, only in the arrangement of the particles forming its atoms. Next it was found that smashing the atom meant breaking its nucleus, or center. In this center is 99 per cent of all the atom's weight. Man's chemistry and all his other inventions never had touched anything but the exteriors of atoms, the superficial one per cent of their substance.

The first practical result came quickly. It was real alchemy. The particles of smashed atoms immediately come together again, and sometimes make a different kind of atom. Platinum atoms, for example, changed to gold. That was not useful because too few could be changed with available electrical energy.

Creating New Species But many substances changed into new kinds of radio-active matter, something that acted like radium, but was sometimes different. These few forms of radio activity are undergoing practical medical experiments. Geneticists discovered they could create new species of ani-

Saturday—"General Washington's Dilemma," by Katherine Mayo is a reconstruction of a drama rising out of the resentment between Tory and Rebel in the Revolution—not biography, not history, not a novel. Just Mayo. (Harcourt, Brace; $2.50.)

NOBODY'S BUSINESS BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN, March 2—Participants in the Texas political circus, and observers of that biennial phenomenon likewise, have come to the Ides of March with the situation regarding the race for Governor badly muddled, and Gov. Allred, the key-man, still declining to clarify it by himself in or out of the race for a third term.

The senate investigating committee, after a three day session in Dallas, was to resume here Wednesday, with Attorney General Bill McCraw, and Mrs. McCraw, appearing by invitation to the committee, on McCraw's demand. Political observers here agreed that McCraw's appearance before the committee will likely have a quick and decisive effect in shaping up the situation definitely, for it is likely that McCraw, an avowed but as yet unannounced candidate, will make public his formal announcement and his platform. Allred claims he is waiting "to see the platforms" before he makes his declaration. The action of Jim Ferguson is expected to hinge on what Allred decides to do about running. And Ernest Thompson, an announced candidate, is quietly making hay by filling speaking engagements and laying down in these speeches a political philosophy which his friends say embodies his forthcoming platform.

Just what the senate's probing committee, headed by the conservative Holbrook of Galveston as chairman, and the erratic Joe Hill of Henderson acting as prosecutor, may do next, and what its effect upon the political fortunes of the various candidates may be remained a matter of speculation. Holbrook, denying any political intentions on the part of himself, pointed out his well-known enmity for Allred, and declared he was ready to summon anybody

Allen Is Dored Upon Birthday

February 27, relatives and friends of J. W. Allen, a resident of the Nimrod community, gathered at the old home to celebrate the seventieth anniversary of his birth. About 40 relatives and friends were present. Allen was born in Lee, Alabama in 1861 but had his part of Texas for the years.

Present to felicitate him on the occasion included seven children—J. H. Allen, Aug. on the home place, and Mrs. D. L. Allen and family of Mrs. Mary Shook and Miss Star, with whom he has been making his home; Mrs. U. C. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baird; Mr. and Mrs. Harl Eastland; Mr. and Mrs. McBeth of Cisco, the latter's daughter, Mrs. Hiram Cook; Mrs. L. B. Hamilton; Ed Maddux of Atwell; L. Maddux of Nimrod; and Mrs. Galesnor of

Violence in Tijuana as Troops Balked Lynching

These dramatic photos depict graphically the rioting that occurred in Tijuana, Mexico, as a mob of 1500 stormed the military prison in an attempt to lynch a soldier accused of the attack-murder of an 8-year-old girl. Two men and a boy were killed when soldiers opened fire as the mob attempted to enter the prison. The picture at left above shows the troops firing on the mob. Note the man in civilian clothes firing a revolver over the soldiers' heads. After being repulsed by the military, the mob burned and otherwise damaged public buildings throughout the city. The photo at the right shows men breaking windows in the governor's palace.

Lives Lost In Accidents

March 2—One hundred and forty-four lives were lost on streets and highways in accidents, state police report today; a decrease of 14 from the same month of officers believed the drop was to be the result of favorable weather conditions, lessened and an increased tempo statewide campaign for safer State police joined local last November in a campaign to lower the accident rates at places where most accidents were happening.

The January figures showed that 1,378 persons were injured in the 1,355 accidents reported. There were 216 pedestrians involved in the mishaps—40 of them were killed. Two of the listed dead received their fatal injuries in December, bringing the actual January toll down to 142, state officers said.

Police—commenting upon drunken driving—said there was a large increase in the January reports on the number of intoxicated drivers against whom complaints were filed. Of the 1,647 drivers involved, 117 were charged with intoxication. Increased public sentiment against this type of driver was believed to have contributed to the filing of complaints.

A new type of accident was reported to state headquarters in the latter part of January and the first two weeks of February. Nine persons were injured in attempting to close automobile doors while the cars were in motion. The injured were thrown to the highway.

The House of Tudor, which ruled England throughout the 16th century, was founded by Owen Tudor, a Welshman, who married Catherine of France, the widow of Henry V of England.

Back From 'Grave'

Mrs. Elizabeth Fitzgerald Cossey, above, walked into a White Plains, N. Y., courtroom just as her husband, Stephen D., was expressing sorrow over her "death." The judge who was hearing Cossey's plea for an Enoch Arden dissolution of his marriage became suspicious of the man's assertions that he had not heard from his wife for ten years. An investigator, assigned by the court, found Mrs. Cossey in New Jersey. Cossey was held for the grand jury on a perjury charge.

Official Gauge of Poindexter Delayed

BAIRD, March 2—Tank connections were not completed yesterday on the Hal Hughes et al No. 1 Poindexter, southwestern Callahan county ordovician discovery near Qplin, and operators were unable to begin the first official gauge on the well.

Flowline connections are due to be tied into the 500-barrel tank by noon today, operators said, and the well will probably begin first gauged flow this afternoon.

Production is from sandy lime at 4,368-89 feet, total depth. The well is 330 feet out of the northeast corner of George Hancock survey No. 350.

Super-Race Is Possible Says Noted Scientist

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—The race of human beings possessing the intellectual ability of Einstein or Aristotle can be produced, a prominent geneticist said Tuesday if human selection could be placed on a scientific basis.

Instead, it is tending the other way, Paul Popenoe of Los Angeles declared in an article in the Journal of Heredity. Present trends in human genetics, he said, point toward the production of a race of super-idiots who will "be too stupid to live."

"If a super-man could arrange human marriages at will, he could produce results that by present standards are almost incredible," Popenoe said.

"Humanly speaking, there are almost no limits to the possibilities of selection for intelligence, and a race could be produced, the least intelligent individual of which would have a greater intellect than Aristotle, Goethe or Newton."

Recent experiments with rats have shown that by breeding the most intelligent animals, it is possible to develop super-intelligence.

A similar experiment in which the dullest rats in each generation were selected produced a strain of idiots. The most intelligent rat of the latter group could not perform half so well as the dullest individual of the intelligent strain.

The intelligence of every human being is the direct result of the quality of genes he or she inherits from his or her parents, Popenoe declared.

"As in playing bridge," he added, "a person may get all clubs or all spades, but he may also get such a bad assortment of cards

"Litch Is Still Going Places"

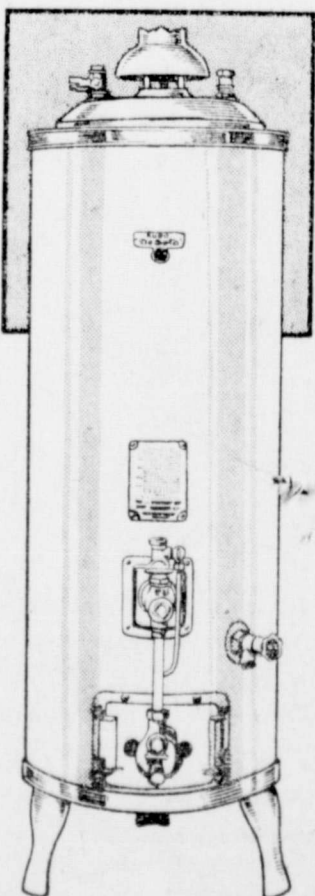

For a lovely, radiant skin here's a simple Beauty Recipe that works

When your skin is kept clean with warm water and a gentle, pure soap it is well fortified, so authorities tell us, against blemish infections, coarse pores, oiliness, sallow color and aging dryness. Being in the gas business, we know little about soap but lots about hot water.

For a hot water system that works just as satisfactorily as this beauty recipe there's nothing like a modern automatic gas heater. It supplies hot water the moment you want it at exactly the right temperature without any attention on your part. And it has a capacity to supply any amount whether hot water is wanted for a facial or a big spring house-cleaning job. Why not step-up your hot water service with one of these modern gas-operated automatics?

• Rock-bottom down payment, easy monthly terms and trade-in allowance are available on newest automatic water heaters now. Investigate and see how little money it takes to have the finest hot water service.

What's The World Coming To? Fewer Clothes Will Make the Man -- Or Woman -- Of Years to Come

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
AP Feature Service Writer

Those fashion experts who are not afraid to go out in a limo to forecast America's future in clothing styles are predicting that:

1. Women will wear less and less clothing, the simplicity and the comfort of sports apparel becoming more and more popular.
  2. Men, too, will be wearing far fewer clothes 25 years hence. (The hot weather town suit of 1943 may well be washable shorts, shirt and jacket like the Tyrolean mountaineer's costume.)
  3. The familiar collar and tie may be supplanted by a less-binding, modernized tunic, with perhaps a soft neckerchief for prominent Adam's apple concealment.
  4. Fabrics which resist rain, perspiration or spilled drinks, will be in common use.
  5. Glass raincoats may serve also as protectors from lightning.
- Style advisers say Empress Eugenie may pop up here and there to put their fleeting stamp on the fashion world but it is the Helen Wills Moodys of the future who will set the pace for the long haul.
- Not that the ladies have much left to shed. And from diaper to dinner gown, garments are becoming more streamlined. The slim silhouette dress is in vogue from bungalow boudoir to Biarritz ballroom. Baby rompers are going more Hollywoodish. As the floor for sports and play clothes becomes stronger among girls, an increase in the percentage of more natural, healthy figures is expected.

Corsets Going, Going—
This trend will result in a diminishing need for "compressor" garments such as corsets. And some stylists believe even the girdle may vanish. Clothes of today are especially designed for quick and easy dressing.

Twenty-five years have whirled by since handsome young John Barrymore in an English suit, gate-scar collar and a streamlined derby had the "sweet young things" goggle-eyed with admiration. But though there have been gains along the comfort line, masculine attire has seen no great transition in a quarter-century.

Men, however, is becoming less self-conscious in abbreviated sportswear and is appearing in shorts on the tennis courts, at the beach and at the lawn mower. Accustomed to showing off his skirts is expected to continue for some time but extremely abbreviated skirts are considered unlikely.

New casual clothes of the softly tailored or spectator sports types will be important in spring fashions for 1938. Popularity is forecast for suits and jacket costumes. Designers predict new versions of the fitted waistline, modified so that it is easier to wear.

It Couldn't Have Happened--But It Did

MINERAL WELLS, March 2 (Spe.)—Believe it or not, but there was a family in Mineral Wells from far into west Texas Sunday afternoon, they parked their car on the streets for a few hours stay. The wife was driving, so she hid the key after parking in a favorite hiding place within the car. Later she came back, found the key, and away the family went en route to their home.

Auto Theft Charge Proves Serious

EASTLAND, March 2.—Conviction on a charge of stealing a car Dec. 26 last year from Dr. George W. Blackwell of Garman is proving far more serious than Alton Loggins possibly thought at the time of the occurrence.

For Monday, in 91st district court, a jury found him guilty of theft of the automobile and found other offenses in other courts previously and assessed him a life sentence under the habitual criminal law.

Other convictions, it was shown at the trial, were for burglary in Stonewall county and burglary in Callahan county. J. T. Poe was jury foreman.

The jury was recalled for service Thursday. Cases to be called then are against Jonah White and L. W. Westerman, both charged with driving intoxicated.
