Reinhardt may seek congressional post

Dick Reinhardt, well-known Dimmitt farmer and businessman, confirmed this week that he is considering making the race for the 19th District seat in Congress.

THE SEAT is being vacated by the retirement of Congressman George Mahon, who has held the post since 1934.

"I won't make an announcement yet, but I'm not ruling out the possibility that I may run," Reinhardt told the News.

He said he will decide

"within the next 60 days," and that he has "other priorities" in his farming activities that must be resolved before he makes a decision on the congressional race.

REINHARDT is a veteran of more than 30 years of Democratic Party activities. He has served as precinct chairman and as a delegate to the state Demo convention.

He has interests in farming, livestock, oil, agricultural aviation and investments, and this week became the co-owner of a Dimmitt insurance agency.

"I think I could represent this district as well or better than anyone who has been mentioned as a possibility so far," Reinhardt said. "I'm involved in agriculture, cattle and oil, and those are the three major industries in the 19th District. I have to meet a payroll every week, and I know what the problems of the vast majority of people in this district are."

ALSO mentioned prominently as a potential candidate for Mahon's seat is State Senator Kent Hance of Lubbock, the first Dimmitt native ever elected to the Texas Legislature.

Sen. Hance, who has been tied up in the special session of the legislature, has said he will not decide until mid-August whether to run for the congressional seat or stay in state government.

"We know the Republicans want this congressional seat very badly, and that they're willing to spend a lot of money to campaign for it," an aide to Sen. Hance told the News Wednesday. "Whoever makes the race, it's going to be an expensive one."

THE ONLY announced candidate so far is Republican George Bush Jr. of Midland, who will be in Dimmitt next Thursday morning for a get-acquainted coffee.

Other Republicans reported considering the race are Jim Reese of Odessa, who made a good showing when he ran against Mahon last year; former Lubbock mayor and unsuccessful 1974 gubernatorial candidate Jim Granberry of Lubbock; Midland Mayor Ernest Angelo; and State Representative Tom Craddock of Midland.

Other Democrats considered as potential candidates are Delwin Jones of Lubbock, former four-term state representative, who told the News this week that he is "definitely giving consideration to announcing as a Democratic candidate"; Lubbock Mayor Roy Bass; former Lubbock County District Attorney Travis Shelton; and possibly one or more state representatives from within the 19th District area.

Cox will coach Nazareth HS girls

George N. Cox of Canyon was selected as girls' basketball and track coach at Nazareth High School for the 1977-78 term, at a Nazareth School Board special meeting Saturday night.

COX, WHO will receive his masters degree from West Texas State University Aug. 15, will fill the spot left by Cathy Wilson, who resigned to take the post of head girls' coach at Slaton High School.

The new mentor falls heir to holdover members of the Class B state champion girls' basketball team of the past season, with new material that he expects will enable the Swiftettes to go to state again.

Contacted Tuesday, Cox was enthusiastic about the prospects at Nazareth, for girls' track as well as basketball.

"IFEEL it's an honor to be picked to coach a state championship team, and following Cathy in the job is a challenge to me as I'm sure it would be to any coach," he said. "I have every expectation of getting them back to Austin again."

Cox said he is "really impressed with the material that's still at Nazareth in spite of the loss of some great players by graduation. The girls have been working hard on their own this summer and I expect to find them in shape for first practice."

He said he hopes to see girls' track reach the level of the basketball program at Nazareth and "with the showing made at state last year by Hartman and Pohlmeier, there's no reason we can't reach that goal."

George N. Cox

COX was selected from a strong field of candidates for the coaching position, Nazareth School Supt. Joe King said, with the aim of maintaining a winning program in girls' athletics.

He has had three years of coaching experience, including work with girls. At Miami, Texas, High School he rebuilt in one year a football team that had won only two games in four years, into one with a 4-2-2 record.

When he coached at Canyon the grid team became District 1-AAA champs for the first time in three years. He taught physical education and coached at Jacksonville, Texas in 1972-73, then because of a family need he formed a partnership

385 pre-construction meeting announced

A pre-construction meeting for the paving project on US Hwy 385 south of Dimmitt to the intersection of FM 1524 is scheduled for 10 a.m. Aug. 5 in the basement assembly room of the Castro County Courthouse here.

RHEA E. Bradley of Littlefield, supervising resident engineer with the State Department of Highways, announced the meeting and said all interested citizens are invited to attend.

Purpose of the meeting is "to promote safety to the traveling public and construction personnel, and to discuss the projects plans, specifications and the contractor's plan and schedule of operations," Bradley said.

A contract for the project, which will resurface and widen the 7.785-mile stretch of highway, was let in May to the Lubbock firm of Boswell and Crofton, with work scheduled to begin "in late summer."

Plans call for widening the travel area from 20 feet to 24 feet, paving the shoulders which are presently of dirt construction, and rebuilding the base of the much-worn highway.

Bradley said the contract specifies 260 working days for completion of the work.

Museum plans reunion party

Plans are being made for an old time tea party to be held at the Castro County Museum building Saturday, Aug. 20. Time and details for the tea party will be announced well in advance of the Castro County Reunion to be held on that date.

THE REGULAR monthly membership meeting of the Castro County Museum Association will be held tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock in the museum building. All members who possibly can are urged to be present for the meeting tonight when further plans for the development of the museum will be made.

Work on the erection of the windmill tower, the mill and other pumping equipment was completed this week, giving the museum the authentic appearance of an early day home.

'Weather election' brewing

IN THE MOOD for a good time at the Nazareth German Folk Festival Sunday is James Wilhelm, who helped other members of the Kurlie Q's host the big square dance in the high school gym. The festival also included a baseball game, art show, a big wurst supper and a nightcap dance. Approximately 1,100 persons from Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado, Florida and California enjoyed the festivities.

The long-rumbling controversy over cloud-seeding is spilling out of the halls of state government and into the local ballot-box.

THE ANTI-cloud seeding forces, organized as "Citizens for Natural Weather," started circulating petitions in Castro County this week to call a public election which they hope will force a halt to the hail suppression programs of two weather-modification groups in this area.

Members of Citizens for Natural Weather met with the Castro County Commissioners' Court Monday to learn the procedure for calling an election.

After consulting with County Attorney Robert Buntyn, County Judge Weldon Bradley told them that they must present petitions signed by 10 percent of the county's 4,000-plus registered voters. Also, Bradley said, the CNW must put an estimated $1,000 in escrow to pay the election costs in the event the county voted to continue cloud-seeding here.

But if the public were to vote to prohibit cloud-seeding programs in the county, Bradley said, the election costs would be paid from county funds.

COUNTY commissioners must call the election within 30 days after the signed petitions are presented and the money is placed in escrow, Bradley said.

There's still a dispute over whether the two hail-suppression groups that work in Castro County—Better Weather, Inc., and Plains Weather Improvement Association, Inc.—could be forced by election to stop immediately. Their current permits—issued by the Texas Water Quality Board earlier this summer after another round of heated pro-and-con hearings—authorize the two groups to conduct their cloud-seeding operations until sometime in October.

Judge Bradley commented that he hope the election, if called, "will settle this thing once and for all."

LITTLEFIELD forces opposed to aerial cloud seeding for hail suppression claimed more than 1,250 names on petitions they turned in to the Lamb County clerk's office last week, seeking to have weather modification brought to a vote there.

Briscoe County commissioners agreed earlier this month to call the election, and Swisher County farmers who oppose cloud-seeding met in Tulia to launch their campaign for an election. All are asking for mid-August elections.

Hart Days schedule offers full program

A schedule of events and sponsors for Hart Days, Aug. 5 and 6, was approved at a final planning committee meeting Monday night, with activities crowding both days from the time booths open at 6 p.m. Friday of next week.

LIONS CLUB members will sell hamburgers and be in charge of bingo games starting at that hour.

Miss Hart Pageant will begin at 8:30 p.m. to climax the day. Little Miss Hart will be chosen also, sponsored by the high school senior class. Mary Cariker and June Brown are chairmen for the pageant which has entries sponsored by various clubs and businesses.

Old timers' registration in the school cafeteria at 9 a.m. will begin Saturday activities. Also in the morning a merchants' drawing sponsored by the Zealot Club, Fiddlers Contest, pet show and Ugly Man Contest sponsored by Good Neighbor Club are scheduled.

THE PARADE will begin at 2 p.m. with Richard Franks as marshal. Afterward there will be games such as sack races, Frisbee throw and baseball throw with Mmes. James Jackson, Joe Cariker, Mike Wall and D. L. McLain in charge, then bubble gum guess and other events sponsored by Xi Mu Iota sorority.

Plaques will be given to winners in the parade divisions this year instead of trophies. Divisions are riding clubs, antique cars, farm equipment, decorated bicycles and most unusual entry.

A street dance with music by Big Bird Production of Amarillo is scheduled at 8:30 to close the two-day program. Mrs. Bob Berry and Mrs. Max Marble are co-chairmen.

Rites held for Floyd Reynolds

Floyd Reynolds, 75, longtime resident of Dimmitt, died Thursday night in his home of an apparent heart attack.

MEMORIAL services were conducted Sunday afternoon in the First United Methodist Church of Dimmitt, with Rev. Marvin Roark officiating. Burial followed in Castro Memorial Gardens under the direction of Dennis Funeral Home.

Born in Gorman, Mr. Reynolds moved to Dimmitt in 1920, and lived in this area most of his life. He was a member of the Methodist Church. Before his retirement, he had been manager of Dimmitt Consumers.

He married Willa Mae McBride Sept. 10, 1933 in Amarillo.

HE IS survived by his wife; a daughter, Regene Blair of Taft, Calif.; a brother, Rankin, of North Hollywood, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Alma Umberson of Dimmitt, Mrs. Mary Gollehon and Mrs. Christine Harris, both of Lubbock; and two grandchildren of Taft, Calif.

A son, Charles, preceded him in death Aug. 13, 1950.

Pallbearers were Bob Huckabay, Ivor Bagwell, Howard Hershey, Clark Dobbs, Arthur Oakley and Al Gibbs.

Corn grower balloting set Friday

Corn growers of Castro County are eligible to vote Friday in a referendum to be conducted in the courthouse here, concerning a proposed commodity checkoff to finance a fund for research and promotion of corn use.

NO PRIOR registration is required for this referendum, according to Carl King, president of the Texas Corn Growers Association which is conducting the referendum in this state. Any owner of an interest in a corn crop may vote.

Absentee voting ended Tuesday. Ballots mailed to the county agent's office that day will be counted, and votes may be cast from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Friday in the basement assembly room of the courthouse.

The 18 corn-growing counties of this area of Texas are involved in the referendum, which is being conducted over the nation.

It will determine whether growers wish to pay a small checkoff fee on sale of corn at elevators to set up a fund for promoting the use and export of their product, as well as research on corn.

Two events are added to Roundup

Two more Roundup events have been added to the schedule for Castro County's annual celebration the week of Aug. 16 in addition to the seven already listed, according to Avery Thrasher, chairman of the Activities Committee.

TUESDAY night, Aug. 16, square dance clubs of the county will sponsor a dance on the courthouse square. Dancing will begin at 8 p.m. Gary Cole is in charge of arrangements.

Also an addition to the original program, the Dimmitt Fire Department will sponsor water polo at the City Park at 4 p.m. Aug. 20. Avery Thrasher said trophies will be awarded to the winning teams.

A carnival will be in operation from Aug. 16 to 20 and the Dimmitt Rodeo promises action from Aug. 18-20 with a dance afterward each night. A Kids Pet Show will be held Aug. 19.

Castro County Reunion day is Saturday, Aug. 20, with the Roundup Parade at 2 p.m. and open house after that in the County Historical Museum.

'It's frustrating,' BWI director says

"What's frustrating is that all the hearings before the Texas Water Quality Board have proved with facts and scientific data that weather modification works and is beneficial—but they're still trying to stop the program and blame the drought on us," a board member of Better Weather, Inc., said this week as opponents of cloud-seeding worked to force a public election on the issue.

CHARLES AXTELL of Sunnyside, a director in the farmers' organization that conducts cloud-seeding operations in Castro, Lamb, Bailey and Parmer Counties, charged that opponents of the program "are trying to use political means to accomplish what they can't accomplish in the courts."

"We've had to go before the Texas Water Quality Board for hearings on our permits three times, and the board has ruled in our favor all three times," Axtell said. "So now the opponents have gone the political route, realizing they can't win on the evidence."

He said he thinks most of the opposition to cloud-seeding "comes from the simple fact that the cloud-seeding program is a handy scapegoat to blame the drought on."

"WE'RE getting blamed here for a natural drought that's occurring over a large part of the nation," Axtell said. "Back in the 1950s, they were blaming atom bombs, and now they're blaming us."

"The drought is hard on everyone, but especially on the dryland farmers, and we sympathize with them," Axtell said. "But we haven't contributed to their problem, and we feel we've proved that."

He added, "Anyone who really understands the program is for it."

THE MOST prevalent charge against cloud-seeding is that it causes rain clouds to dissipate, thus cutting down on natural rainfall.

"All the experts who testified at the Lubbock hearing said that any cloud that is of adequate size for seeding—either to reduce hail or stimulate rain—cannot be broken up," Axtell said. "Most people don't realize a lot of factors about cloud formation."

"We have an area that's always short on water," he said. "We're talking about importing water, and that's fine. But we should think also in terms of making better use of the available moisture we have—of making our clouds more efficient. If those fighting the program would put as much energy into helping build the weather modification program, it would benefit all of us."

Two Nazareth girls are seriously injured

Two Nazareth girls are in intensive care units of hospitals in separate cities as the result of unrelated accidents last week.

DONNA ACKER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Acker and a student in Texas Tech University, is in St. Mary's Hospital at Lubbock and Cyrilla Brockman, 16-year-old daughter of the Cyril Brockmans, in Northwest Texas Hospital at Amarillo.

Miss Acker underwent surgery Tuesday after being injured a week earlier when the car she was driving on a Lubbock street was struck by another vehicle at an intersection. She suffered internal injuries including serious spleen injury and a broken ankle.

A relative at Nazareth said

Wednesday morning that a telephoned report from her parents indicated that she was doing well after the surgery.

Miss Acker was a 1976 graduate of Nazareth High School. MISS BROCKMAN'S injury is a head concussion, received when she fell from the back of a pickup on a Nazareth street near midnight Saturday, striking her head on the pavement.

She was brought to Plains Memorial Hospital here and taken at once to the Amarillo hospital.

The accident occurred, witnesses said, when Miss Brockman and another Nazareth girl fell from the tailgate of a pickup on which they were riding with a group of teenagers, as the vehicle turned a corner.

SQUARE DANCERS from half a dozen or more cities enjoy a progressive dance in the Nazareth High School gym Sunday afternoon in one of the lead-off activities of the annual German Folk Festival. After dancing for three hours, the dancers treated themselves to the big wurst supper in the community building, then many stayed for the nightcap dance, which featured the Havlak Polka Band from Rowena.

Sheffy's chatter

Eleven local residents return from Holy Land tour

By MYRTLE SHEFFY

The trippers to the Holy Land came home last week. I was chatting with Rev. John Street, Pastor of the First Baptist Church. He and Dorothy were among the 11 going from here. Others were Mayor Elmer and Mauzee Youts, the Ivor Bagwells, the Virgil Justices and their daughter Mrs. Ava Lewis from Missouri, Irene Carpenter, Mary Edna Hendrix. They went by plane joining the big group going at Dallas, then on to Athens and Corinth in Greece. They saw all the early day ruins of important buildings, then to Israel. Saw all the Bible places. Mrs. Justice says they sang "In the Garden" in the Gethsemane Garden. Then back to beautiful Switzerland, then Rome, too many places to tell me about, then home. Always glad to be here after a trip, of course.

RUSSEL AND Myrtle Lois Moran went to Santa Fe last week, just to see the many interesting things and have a visit with her brother.

Mildred Nita Kyle left here this week for France to attend the wedding of her son Frank (Skip) Kyle and Miss Brigitte Leyrin, Saturday, Aug. 6. The service will be held at the Church of Saint Jean-de-Vaux in a town by the same name. Frank and Brigitte are both students at the University at Albuquerque. The invitation, written in French, has the parents and all the grandparents inviting guests to come at exactly 10:30.

Ina and Jim Cleavinger and sons Tom and Jimmy have moved to the parent Cleavinger's house at 601 West Belsher St. They have done much redecorating.

Butch and Bessie Strickland flew up to Portland, Ore. and their daughter Beth and Jackie Roberts and baby Justin went by car to visit Little Butch and Pam and their baby Nathan. Young Butch is minister of the Valley Baptist Church at McMinville. The friends had several cookouts and home made ice cream for all of the Stricklands. They made several tours, one to the Pacific Ocean beach at Depoe. Jackie and Butch took the cruise but Bessie says she was scared of all that water. Nice and cool, around 70 degrees.

MYRTLE WILLIAMS' guests recently were her grandsons Rodney and Stevie from Vinita, Okla. and Jack and Sheila Lofgren, the boys' parents, were with them. Sheila is the daughter of Vernon Williams and Myrtle's sister-in-law Faye Williams came over from Hereford to visit the family.

Andrew and Vada Bolton of Pueblo, Colo. brought sister-in-law Lottie Bearden home from a few weeks visit out there, and this weekend Lottie's daughter Yvonne and Leonidus Fry and children came up from Port Neches for a visit. They were enroute to the mountains of Colorado for a vacation.

Mrs. Pearl Gass, who lives at South Hills Manor, has had much company lately. Friends, Doris Gillham of Canyon, Mrs. O. G. Hill and Billy Johnson of Hereford visited. Billy moved back to Summerfield from Florida after the death of her husband. She has a trailer house. She sold the big house. There were 11 other folks to see Mrs. Gass, but I didn't get their names.

Elberta Dyer and her friend Oveta White of Hereford flew over the ocean to Hawaii. They went with the TSTI group and they were the only school people from the Panhandle. Went on all the tours, saw everything, including the musical shows and Don Ho. Good food, and they went to the beach but no swimming. The waters were rough. They were much impressed by the flowers and the volcano. Got back to the Lubbock airport and took longer to get to Dimmitt than it did to Hawaii. Harley Dyer, the good husband, thought 9:30 p.m. and the ladies were there at 9:30 a.m.

I DID enjoy my trip to Missouri, but like Harley Dyer, thought it would be 500 or so miles and it is more than 1100 to Mountain View. Bill Sikes, the brother-in-law, chauffeured the car for the four sisters, his wife Bower of Slaton, me, Mary Moore and Ethel Gillham of Claude. We spent the first night at Joplin, Mo. Pretty place. We were on I-40 and went around all the towns. We didn't get to see Oma Simmons at Springfield, but the oak and hickory trees were as thick as the Flagg corn, up hill, down dale. Missouri has many dairies. One man says his milk goes to Dallas in big refrigerated tank trucks.

On Sunday morning we drove 58 miles to Mountain Grove to attend services at the Church of Christ, a small church but pretty. Our nephew Kenny Knox is minister and he is good. Much visiting and eating. Enroute home we turned south to Arkansas through the Ozarks. That is up big hills and down on and on. We didn't go through any of the many caverns, passed the Hillbilly place. All the stops showed the pretty blue and green and crystal-like rocks. Headed home toward Tulsa. We saw in Arkansas the many chicken ranches, also fine horses. Spent the night at Oklahoma City. The next day dinner at Altus, a prosperous looking community. I am glad to be home again and Bill held up well in spite of the back seat drivers. Oh, yes, we came back by Eldorado, Okla., east 20 miles to see our grandpa's old home place.

DELBERT and Jackie Smotherman and boys are home from their long trip. Stopped in Dallas to see grandmother Lula Marsh, on to Dangerfield to visit kin, on north and east to Fleming, Mo. to see friends Ben and Sandra Coleman. He was the TV cable man here a few years back. Then through Arkansas with a stop at Fort Smith to see her folks, the Joe Comers. On to Eureka Springs and the onyx caves, and the Fantastic Caverns near Springfield, Mo. You go through on a jeep. Well, now they are home and Delbert is very sick with mountain spotted fever you get from those wood ticks. He is better now, of course.

Sheriff and Mrs. Granville Martin went to Paducah to attend the funeral of her father L. A. Detwiler. Others going from here were W. W. and Fern Jones and M. C. and Doris McClenney. BARBARA JONES of Thailand and New York is here for a summer visit with her aunt and uncle the Elmer Berryhills. Barbara plans to attend college in New York. Her parents Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jones are Baptist missionaries in Thailand. Mrs. Jones is a sister to Mrs. Berryhill.

Saw Vaudine Giles of Dalhart at the Village Shop. She and Bud had been to Olton to see his folks the Q. Giles. They also took grandchildren Michael and Jill Morrison there to meet their mother Eva, who with husband Gary has moved to Fort Worth from Atlanta, Ga. Gary is still a pilot with Eastern Air Lines.

Bo Jackson and son Bruce of Kansas City are here to visit brother Kenneth and family and mom Ivey Jackson. Bo is also with an airline company, Jack and Jessie Claunch of Fort Worth were here last week to visit Jessie's sister Inez Lee. Mrs. Lee is the mother of Carolyn Moke and Charlene Howell. Inez lives on West Bedford Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Edwards spent Monday night with Don and Carolyn Moke. Then on Tuesday night they were at the Herbert Edwards home. He is Cleo's brother. And the Edwards are from Pampa.

MR. AND MRS. Marshall Young and young one, Darla, had a good vacation trip to Colorado a while back. They camped out some, visited in Salida and with his sister Mary and husband Calvin Brice in Pueblo.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lowrance of Lubbock came up here Wednesday for a visit with friends W. E. and Kate Beecher, and Vada Belle Oldham came with them for a visit with daughter Verbie and Don Nelson.

Claribel Adams has had company this week. Her brother Mack and wife Wanda Patton of Fort Worth, also niece Sue Carol Patton. Claribel's son Jimmy and Judy Adams and three sons of San Diego (he is a Navy man) were here, Cobb and son Steve. All had a cook-out dinner at son Eddie and Cindy's house. Mrs. Cobb (Anita) Adams, Ranette and Sha went to Houston to attend the wedding of her niece Debbie Bryant.

SHEA AND Ramona Brock of Phoenix are here for a few weeks visit with grandparents Raymond and Margaret Wilson Jr. and Jane Ann (Mooney) Burnett have moved to Dimmitt and have leased the Texico station on South Broadway.

Richard and Trudy Jackson and Craig and Nancy Fuller are spending the week at the Jackson family mobile house at Conchas Lake. The babies John and Jason are staying with grandma Ruth and Kenneth Jackson.

Felton Isaacs and Randy Tanager of Canyon came by here Saturday. They both work for Furniture Galleries. Felton finished school here and is the son of Aaron and Gloria Isaacs of Canyon.

LINDY AND Lura Scarbrough of Amarillo came by one day to visit friends Mary Booher and Ruby Coke, who lives at South Hills Manor. They were en route to Melrose, N.M. to be with his brother who is quite ill.

Bob and Jean DuLaney were among the hundreds spending the weekend at Conchas Lake. They saw Sandy and Marge [See CHATTER, Page 9]

OUR USE OF LEISURE

None of us can make our best contribution to life unless we take care of our physical selves. The right kind of recreation renews the body, mind, and spirit.

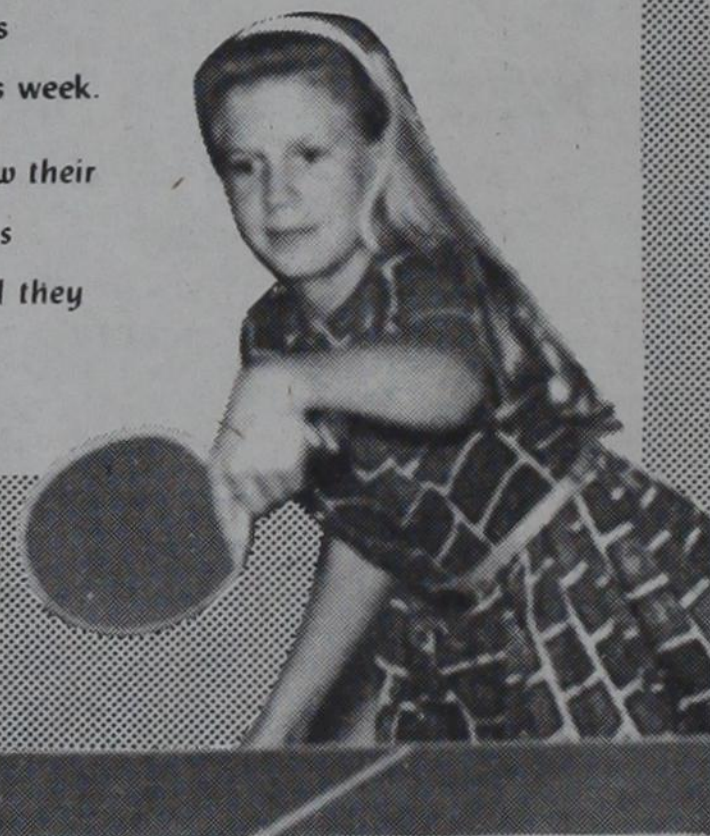

There should be a proper balance and rhythm between work and rest.

Our Lord meant for us to enjoy life and intended no man to punish his body with unrelieved work.

Of course our recreation should be of a kind that would actually re-create our spirits and bodies and make us better able to perform our work.

Part of our leisure time should be spent renewing our spirit by worshiping God in His Church. We invite you to attend services this week.

"But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint." Isaiah 40:31.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

FLB reduces interest rate

Totch Upshaw, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Dimmitt, announced this week that the Federal Land Bank of Houston will reduce the interest billing rate on variable rate loans to 7 1/4%.

THIS reduction will be effective Aug. 1, and will affect $1.04 billion in variable-rate loans to 18,026 Texas farmers and ranchers. This billing rate change will be effective on both farm loans and rural residence loans.

The variable-rate loan was introduced by the Houston Bank in July 1969, and provides for the rate to fluctuate with the variation in the cost of money. A more favorable money market has made this billing reduction possible.

Upshaw stated, "This continues to demonstrate the bank's policy to furnish credit to Texas farmers and ranchers at the lowest possible cost consistent with sound business practices."

The Federal Land Bank of Houston makes long-term real estate loans on farm and ranch land and rural residences throughout Texas and now has $1.3 billion in loans outstanding. The local association makes and services loans in Castro County. Officers and directors of the association are George Sides, president; Richard Hunter, vice-president; Irvin Ott, Doyle Davis, Alphonse Kleman, directors and Upshaw, manager.

Wheat Board sets election

The Texas Wheat Producers Board formed in 1971 to support wheat research and market development will hold its third biennial election Sept. 15, according to Dwight Hamilton of Olney, chairman. The terms of three current board members, elected at the formation of the organization, expiring at that time include Ken Kendrick of Stratford, Otis Harman of Tulia and Dwight Hamilton of Olney. Those with terms expiring drew a six-year stint of two, four and six-year terms in order to establish a rotating board at the initial formation. Board members are eligible for re-election to one additional consecutive term.

ANY WHEAT farmer producing within the 34-county commercial wheat area is eligible to vote for a board member for that district. Counties included are: District I: Dallam, Sherman, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hansford, Roberts, Moore, Hartley, Hutchinson and Gray. District II: Castro, Potter, Oldham, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Briscoe, Swisher, Carson, Parmer, Hale and Floyd. District III: Childress, Hardeman, Foard, Knox, Throckmorton, Haskell, Archer, Baylor, Wilbarger, Wichita, Young and Clay.

HAMILTON points out that any person qualifying to vote in the election may place his name in nomination for membership on the Texas Wheat Producers Board by application to the organization, signed by himself and at least 10 other persons eligible to vote in the election, at least 30 days prior to the election date.

mail ballot, which will be provided to all eligible voters 15 days prior to the election, Hamilton said. He also indicated that any person qualified to vote who does not receive a ballot 15 days before the election date may obtain one at Agricultural Extension Service offices in the 34-county area.

Wheat producers fund TWPB with a one-half cent assessment on their deliveries of wheat at commercial handlers. Proceeds from such participation support such programs as foreign and domestic market expansion, food and feed wheat technical service, insect control demonstrations and other activities designed to strengthen wheat producers income. In addition to Hamilton and the three members with expiring terms, other TWPB members are Delbert Timmons of Peryton, Leo Witkowski of Hereford, Winston Wilson of Quanah, C. L. Edwards of Panhandle, W. R. Moore Jr. of Munday and Troy Sloan of Spearman.

Applications for names to be placed on the ballot should be sent to the organization headquarters office, 600 Bank of the Southwest, Amarillo, 79109.

REMRORSE is the echo of a lost virtue. —Bulwer.

THE CURRENT surpluses may disappear as soon as the weather turns colder this fall, but at the moment there is emergency gas available but no market for it. Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp., which last year saw storage fields drop to dangerous lows, applied for permission from the Federal Power Commission to buy 150 million cu. ft. of emergency gas for its customers from an intrastate pipeline. By the time approval was granted by the FPC, the weather had warmed up, gas was being pumped back into storage and Transco's customers took only 20 million cu. ft.

Pipeline company officials, remembering sleepless nights when they were negotiating for more gas last winter, don't like the present situation any more than they did last year. But they do not have enough storage facilities for any more gas than they are presently taking.

Many gas utilities and distribution companies have long lists of curtailed industrial customers, but it is doubtful that those customers could take any gas immediately if present curtailments were lifted. Many industrial customers along the East Coast were shut off so long that they have converted to alternate fuels. In some markets fuel oil is now cheaper than natural gas. In other instances, industrial customers negotiated directly with the producers in the spot gas market, or have made take or pay contracts for fuel oil good in the summer as well as the winter.

THESE industry fuel conversions have added to the difficulty in the FPC's estimates of winter natural gas shortfalls.

On Wall Street
By Bob Hill

A. G. Edwards & Sons, Inc.

The natural gas industry is faced with an embarrassing predicament—too much gas and no place to keep it. Even though one of the most severe winters in history has just passed, interstate pipelines are being forced to cancel emergency purchase agreements and gas producing states are shipping only 90% of the gas they could produce.

THE COMMISSION recently predicted that next winter's curtailments would amount to 23% of "firm requirements." But those firm requirements were actually the total amount of gas that the pipelines had agreed to deliver to noninterruptible customers under old contracts—most of which were written when gas was readily available. It's doubtful that many large industrial users could take on the surplus gas.

Heavyweight construction and design simplicity key the 496's dependability in all conditions!

The Hesston 496 Direct Harvester has a well earned reputation for dependability. When digging conditions are ideal, no other direct harvester can dig more beets and get them as clean with as little service and maintenance. When fields are muddy and other harvesters bog down, the 496 keeps on going, and still gets beets acceptably clean.

What's the secret? Hesston built the 496 from the ground up to match almost any conceivable harvesting condition. Structural members are built to take the beating varying soils can dish out. Light draft 29" lifter wheels pick up less dirt and allow faster digging with less horsepower. Ejection paddles give positive transfer of beets to the rienc bed, and patented wobble-mounted riencs stay at top cleaning capacity because they clean themselves as they clean the beets.

The spiral design, long length and varying speed of the grab rolls give beets maximum cleaning exposure. So you get low tare beets whether you're operating in muddy or hard, sun-baked soils. For exceptionally rocky fields, an optional rubber grab roll kit can be installed to provide the best cleaning possible in these conditions. In short, Hesston engineers have designed a wide assortment of options and extras to tailor your 496 to almost any unfavorable condition. As a result, you can harvest more beets, get them clean and harvest them fast with either the 496 or 496-Wide. And all this with less time and money spent on maintenance. Isn't that what harvesting beets should be like?

Cleveland loses at Region IX

Vicki Cleveland placed fourth in the 100-meter hurdles at the Region IX Track and Field Championships Saturday in Corpus Christi, just missing a chance to advance to the National AAU Junior Olympics Championships in Lincoln, Neb.

IN THE preliminaries at Corpus, Miss Cleveland ran at 14.44 and was clocked at 14.46 in the finals. She said that the first place winner was a girl from Louisiana, whose time was 14.3. Only the first three places in each event will advance to the national meet.

Miss Cleveland also ran in a 400-meter relay team which placed second, but they were not given a medal or allowed to advance in the competition because one of the team's runners was above the age allowed.

"I don't have any other competitions scheduled for the rest of the summer," Miss Cleveland said, adding that she does plan to run once in a while, but not on the heavy training schedule she had been following.

Miss Cleveland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cleveland of Dimmitt. Her mother and grandmother both accompanied her to Corpus Christi.

View from the Library

By BRICK AUTRY
Librarian

I assume mothers and dads of Castro County know what their children check out to bring home and read, but do they know what they want to explore at the library?

WELL, let me tell you. The staff at Rhoads Memorial Library tries to give every patron who comes in excellent reference service should it be needed. We answer about six to 15 questions a day on all subjects. Some we are able to handle; others we have to refer to bigger libraries. We also try to include younger patrons in this service although, at times, it isn't easy.

Here's an example. Just the other day a bright young lad came in and announced that he would like something on archaeology. "I'm just crazy about books on dinosaurs," he said.

"Which do you want then?" I asked him, "Archaeology or dinosaurs?"

"Dinosaurs," he said, without hesitation.

"Okay," I told him, "but I believe that you mean you want something on paleontology."

"I know, but archaeology is easier to say," he replied.

And so it goes.

MORE OFTEN we get vague requests like, "I don't know the name of that dog book, but my sister had it last week and now I want to read it." When asked for more information on the book so we can get it for her, the child replies, "It has a green cover, I think."

Then we get requests like, "Do you have a children's version of 'War and Peace'?"

Or what about the kid who came in for movies Friday afternoon and suggested we show a Marilyn Monroe film sometime. When I told the little one that he was just showing off his knowledge of film stars, he replied, "Yes, I am a precocious kid. Mama said so."

Some kids come to the library just to make one liners. I am sure of it. One afternoon I found a boy on the table lying down with his muddy boots on. I told him to get off, and for good measure I said, "Don't lie on that table again."

"I will never lie on that table. I will always tell the truth when I'm on that table," he said.

SEE, you just can't win. At times, however, children say very intelligent things. This morning I was adjusting the lights in the gallery next to the meeting room. It was rather easy. I was up on the big ladder and two little boys were watching me. I unscrewed the lights and scooted them over. One light was a little different and I mistook the catch for the light switch, so when I "turned on the light", the thing fell to the floor and made a mess.

One of the little boys said,

"Why did you do that for, dummy?" He thought I was just fooling around.

Marie ran in and asked the same thing. She knew I was fooling around.

The Manpower girls are in the office now and they all said not to write about them. Shucks! There go some of my best stories.

ABSENCE of occupation is not rest; a mind quite vacant is a mind distressed. —Cowper.

GOD'S mill grinds slow but sure. —Herbert.

EAGLE SCOUT DAVID NELSON ... Leaving for National Jamboree in Pennsylvania

Dimmitt Scout off to Jamboree

Eagle Scout David Nelson of Dimmitt left Wednesday morning for the National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America at Moraine State Park, Pa.

HE AND nine other Scouts from the South Plains Council area are traveling as a patrol with the National Jamboree Band director, Bill Nelson of Olton (no relation). All the boys in this patrol are members of the Jamboree Band.

They left from the South Plains Council Service Center in Lubbock at 6 a.m. Wednesday in a van, and will stay overnight at KOA campgrounds along the way. They'll arrive at the Jamboree site Sunday.

More than 80 other Scouts and adult leaders from the South Plains Council area are also en route to the National Jamboree in separate buses, and on different time schedules. Meanwhile, more than 25,000 other Scouts throughout the US are starting similar treks to the National Jamboree.

By opening day next Wednesday the Jamboree site—a newly improved park in Western Pennsylvania—will swell to a tent city of more than 30,000.

NELSON, a 15-year-old sophomore in Dimmitt High School, will play the French horn in the Jamboree Band. The band will be made up of approximately 100 Boy Scouts from nearly all 50 states and Puerto Rico.

The bandmen will rehearse all day Monday, and will sandwich concerts at Butler and New Castle, Pa., between rehearsals the following day. After playing in the Jamboree's opening ceremony Wednesday morning, the band will be on call for concerts, rehearsals and ceremonial affairs all week. The Jamboree Band will perform with the US Navy Band and Burl Ives in the closing program Aug. 9.

Except for his cased horn, Nelson is carrying all his clothing, bedroll and personal gear for the two-week Jamboree trip in the customary Scout way—in his backpack.

Also in his pack are dozens of trade items—small bottles of liquid corn sweetener from the Dimmitt Amstar Plant and a good collection of commemorative shoulder-patches from Scout councils and camps in Texas and Oklahoma. His Scoutmaster, Bill Stephenson, gave him a lot of extra patches to trade for those from other states.

Nelson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Nelson.

MRS. TRUVIS DEAN WISEMAN
The former Kathyna Denise McArthur

McArthur-Wiseman say July vows in Abilene

An early afternoon ceremony in University Church of Christ in Abilene July 2 united in marriage Kathyna Denise McArthur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McArthur of Hamilton, N.Y., and Truvis Dean Wiseman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Wiseman of Dimmitt.

OFFICIATING at the double ring ceremony was Ronnie Parker of Dimmitt. Vows were said before an arch covered with greenery. Candelabra were on each side holding glow candles. Centered under the arch were the unity candles.

Music, including "The Wedding Song," "Follow Me," and "We've Only Just Begun," were sung by a group from Abilene.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length gown of eyelet lace with a fitted Empire bodice, tying in back with a wide sash. Eyelet lace, trimmed the neckline, double bell sleeves and fully gathered skirt. Her white transparent picture hat was strewn with chiffon flowers complementing the eyelet lace of her dress. She wore a gold necklace with a butterfly of opal stones, a gift from the groom. Her bouquet of white daisy pompons and baby's breath was carried on a small white wedding Bible.

LYNN LASH of Hamilton, N.Y., attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Lisa McArthur of Hamilton, sister of the bride. They wore dresses of blue and white gingham, fashioned like the bride's. Their blue straw picture hats had satin ribbon trim and bows. They carried white daisy pompon nosegays.

Candlelighters were Brita McArthur of Hamilton, sister of the bride, and Cheryl Wiseman of Dimmitt, sister of the groom. They were similarly attired to the maid of honor and bridesmaid.

Cliff Parker was best man and Steve Templeton was groomsmen. Both are from Abilene. Ushers were Gary Bernethy of Lubbock and Lelon Ginn of Dimmitt.

A RECEPTION followed the ceremony in the friendship room of the church. Cousins of the bride served cake and punch from a table covered with a white appliqued Dacron cloth. A candelabra in the center of the table was accented with white daisy pompons.

Program given for Tops Club

Marcy Barstow gave the program at this week's meeting of the Dimmitt Tops Club, where 21 members weighed-in and showed a total weight loss of 35 pounds, 4 ounces.

LADY Tops of the week was Karon Moss, who lost 4 pounds, and Male Tops was Dennis Thompson, who dropped 4 pounds, 12 ounces in the week. Pat Shields was KOPS of the week.

Garden vows unite couple

In a morning garden ceremony July 16 in Albany, Jana Kathlene Williams became the bride of Kelly Maurice Moore of Dimmitt.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Williams of Albany, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Moore of Dimmitt.

THE WEDDING was in the garden of the bride's parents amid trees, hanging baskets, ferns and blooming flowers. A pair of white doves in a white bird cage added to the setting.

Performing the double-ring ceremony was Dr. F. M. Churchill, a professor at Abilene Christian University. Special wedding music was provided by Al Young, uncle of the bride.

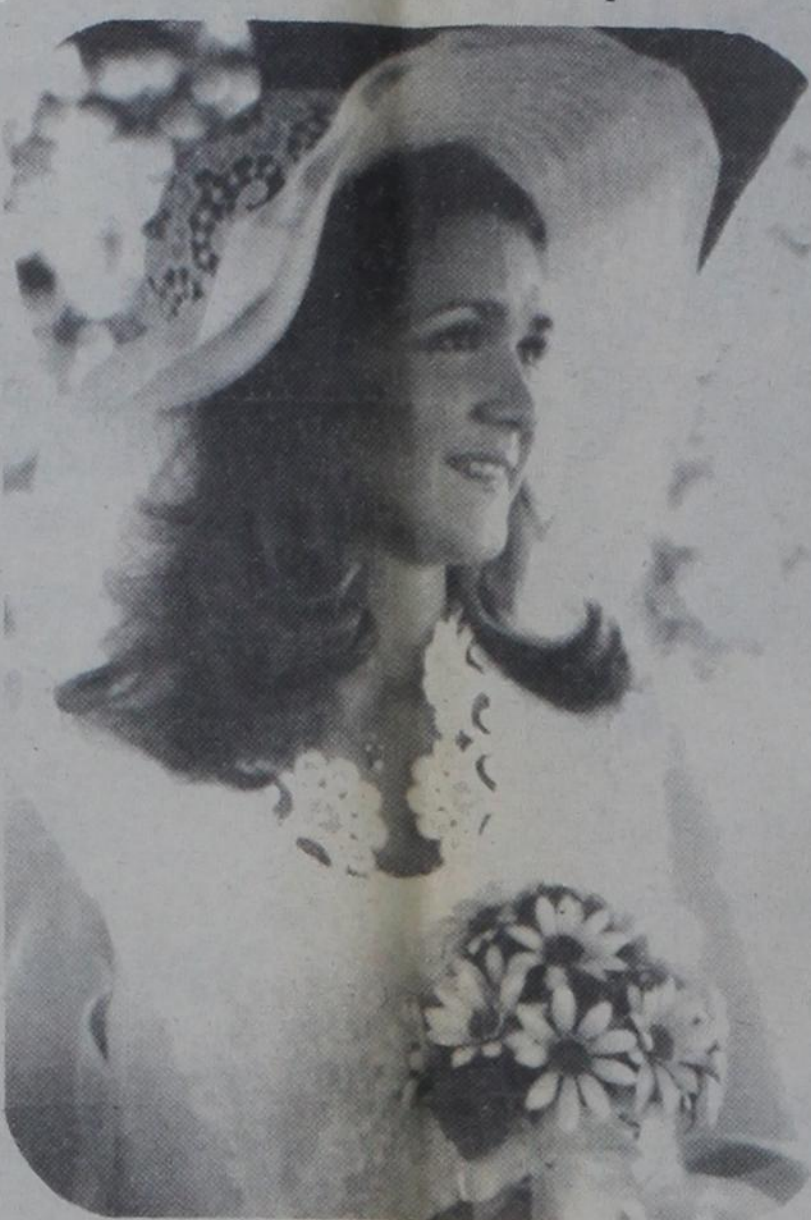

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length gown made by her mother. It was of polyester sophisticated peau de soie with a sheer organza overlay. The scoop-neck bodice had an overlay of heavy lace accented by a row of daisies down the long full sleeves and around the hemline. Her bouquet was of white and yellow daisies with yellow roses and baby's breath.

For the traditional something old she had a little ornamental dove in her bouquet which had been used on her mother's wedding cake. Her something new was a gift from the groom, something borrowed was her mother's opal necklace. She wore the traditional blue garter which was made for her by her aunt. For good luck she wore pennies minted in the years of the couple's birth in her shoes.

SERVING as maid of honor was Gelene Williams, sister of the bride. She wore a sleeveless, yoked long dress with a tie belt made of polyester knit in shades of soft green. Her hat was styled with a bow from the dress fabric accented with three white silk daisies. She carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Registering guests was Debbie Cox of Lake Jackson. Best man was Daryl Hunt of Garwood. Ushers were Gary Brophy of Waco and Greg Broom of Richardson.

Irene's Ideas

Parents should know child's moral stages

By IRENE KEATING

We often label children as our greatest resource. I agree with this statement as do many of you. Therefore, it is important that we do our best to rear them to be good citizens.

Children learn right from wrong mostly at home, during three major periods, researchers say. It is important that parents understand and influence these stages of their children's moral development.

DURING the first stage, from birth to age eight, children can not understand the needs of others. Their main concern is meeting their own needs. However, children are completely dependent on adults for guidance so this is the time to begin teaching obedience, because the child wants to please others.

Firm, but gentle, discipline is the first step in teaching obedience. Other ways include reading stories to young children about real people dealing with real moral decisions.

HOWEVER, excessive amounts of moral reasoning is usually wasted on young children, as they are too young to understand this type of thinking.

In the second stage, between ages 8 and 12, children develop respect for rules. They express this in their play; listen to them say things like "it's not fair" or "but those are the rules." This is a good time for parents to teach children to help out around the house, take responsibility and learn to cooperate with others. Parents must continue to teach their children moral values and judgment during these years or the moral conscience will weaken.

During this stage children begin to establish values which will follow them throughout life. For example, who they will associate with, what kind of living they plan to make, how they will choose friends, and who they feel comfortable with. Such training also will help them weather the storm when adolescence occurs.

THE THIRD stage begins in adolescence and continues to adulthood. What may appear to be "ornerness" during these years is actually the adolescent's striving for independence. He is expanding his own moral awareness and questioning many of the injustices he sees in adults' lives. The question "why?" becomes key in his life.

Adolescents will only accept rules and authority if they believe that the principles behind them are sound.

Discipline for children should be in accordance with the child's development. His parents' expectations of him should be consistent with what the child is capable of understanding.

Knowing these three stages you can better guide your child (or children) in his or her social development.

Pam Barker honored at shower Saturday

Pam Barker, bride-elect of James Crookham, was the honoree Saturday morning at a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. M. A. Tidwell.

IN the receiving line with the honoree were Mrs. Tidwell, her mother, Mrs. Elvis Barker, the prospective groom's mother, Mrs. Donald Crookham of Conroe, and his grandmother, Mrs. Roma Ayers of Midland.

Mrs. Charles Hottel and Mrs. Ricky Mitchell served coffee and spiced tea, small rolls and cakes, and fresh fruit from a pretty table covered with a yellow cloth with daisy trim. The table was centered with a large arrangement of yellow glads and daisies. Silver and china appointments were used.

Another out-of-town guest was Loy Christian of Friona.

Twenty-two ladies assisted with hostess duties. Miss Barker and Crookham will be married in Dimmitt Aug. 27.

BDT leader states view on referendum failure

O. J. Barron Jr. of Spur, chairman of the national Beef Development Taskforce (BDT), has issued a statement concerning the beef referendum which last week fell short of the necessary two-thirds affirmative vote in nation-wide balloting.

A PRELIMINARY count from county ASCS offices indicates that over 100,000 producers, or about 55 percent of those voting, supported the program. In Castro County the vote was 79 to 36 in favor of a fee on cattle sales to use for beef promotion. The BDT, a broad-based group comprised of leaders from nearly every producer organization in the US, has worked over three years for the industry self-help program.

A full text of Barron's statement follows:

"THIS IS a dark day for the American cattle industry. The beef referendum has failed to receive the necessary two-thirds majority. We have passed up an opportunity for a research and information program aimed at helping all cattlemen. This opportunity may never come again.

"Ironically, while it was a self-help program aimed at keeping the government out of our business and producers in control, some opponents falsely labeled it as a government program and scared many cattlemen into voting against it.

"It would be inaccurate to say that cattlemen don't want this program. A majority of all cattlemen voting did want it. And an overwhelming majority of the cattle industry leaders, who had studied our current plight and understood the objectives of this program, vigorously supported it.

"Never before has the cattle industry had more problems than we have now.

"Never before has the industry united behind a program as it did this one.

"AS WE look to the future, we hope that leaders in our industry, who are dedicated to a better future for all cattlemen, will not be too discouraged.

"Also, we hope that other organizations which opposed this self-help program but claim to support research and promotion for commodities, will join with us now in searching for workable solutions to cattlemen's problems.

"We must continue our search for a way to stabilize our industry, to increase profits for all cattlemen and to build a better future—together."

IN THIS world it is not what we take up, but what we give up, that makes us rich.

—H. W. Beecher.

Acreage reports due on all program crops

By Charley E. Hill
County Executive Officer

As we have previously advised you, reports of actual planted acreages of all crops are required by Aug. 1 to keep all farm records current and maintain allotments and yields as currently established.

FAILURE to accurately report your crop by Aug. 1 will mean:

First: Under current legislation, we will be required to reduce your 1978 allotments by 20 percent;

Second: We will be required to reduce your yield by about one-third;

Third: You will be ineligible for disaster consideration if a loss occurs later in the year; and

Fourth: Under proposed legislation, your eligibility to participate in the 1978 programs might be restricted or reduced in some way.

WE HAVE reports from only about one-half of farm operators, so we urge you to come in immediately. You report the acreage on a "field by field" basis, so it will assist in making the report if you keep a record of each field acreage as you are measuring the fields.

Payment to wheat growers expected

Unless there is an increase in wheat prices over the next four months, area wheat farmers will receive federal payments this fall, according to Charley E. Hill, executive director of the Castro County office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

"UNDER THE current wheat program, deficiency payments are to be made to producers if the national average market price for the first five months of the marketing year is less than the target price of $2.47 per bushel," Hill explained.

The preliminary national average wheat price for all farmers was $2 a bushel in June, compared with $2.19 in May. June is the first month of the five-month period used to determine whether deficiency payments will be made to farmers this fall, he said.

"Because many wheat farmers are faced with serious economic problems due to low market prices, it's important that the provisions for this additional income source be reviewed for area wheat farmers. Also, this is the first time such payments would be made to wheat farmers under the 1973 Farm Act," Hill said.

THE DEFICIENCY payment rate is determined by subtracting from the $2.47 target price the higher of the June-October national average price or the national average loan rate. Using the national average wheat loan rate of $2.25 per bushel as an example, the deficiency payment rate would be 22 cents per bushel.

Deficiency payments to farmers are calculated by multiplying the farm's established yield times the farm's allotment acreage, and multiplying the result times the deficiency payment rate.

"For example, if a farmer has an established yield of 25 bushels per acre, a 200-acre allotment, and the deficiency payment rate is 22 cents per bushel, the farmer's deficiency payment would total $1,100 (25 X 200 X $0.22 = $1,100)."

ALL FARMERS having wheat allotments are automatically eligible for deficiency payments, regardless of the disposition of their wheat, Hill said. Whether the wheat has been sold, placed under loan with the Commodity Credit Corporation, or is stored on or off the farm, does not have any bearing on a farmer's eligibility for the payment.

Under farm program legislation currently being considered in both the Senate and the House of Representatives this deficiency payment provision is being continued.

Producers are reminded that both a deficiency and disaster payment may not be made on the same production unit. For example, Hill said, if the above farm produced 2,000 bushels on 200 acres of wheat and was eligible for and received a low yield disaster payment based on the 3,000 bu. loss, the deficiency payment would be $440. (2,000 bu. X .22 = $440.) The low yield disaster payment would be $2,460. (3,000 X .82 = $2,460.)

Texas Wheat Producers directors meet Aug. 2

Directors of the Texas Wheat Producers Association from throughout the commercial wheat producing area of the state will hold their mid-summer meeting Aug. 2 according to Winston Wilson of Quanah, president of the commodity organization. The 1 p.m. session will be conducted at the Hilton Inn, Interstate-40 East in Amarillo.

SPEAKER will be Carl Schwensen of Washington, D.C., executive assistant of the National Association of Wheat Growers, of which Texas is a supporting member.

Schwensen is expected to brief the county directors and area officers on current wheat-related legislative and administrative activities in Washington including new farm legislation, international markets, farm energy considerations, reserve stocks and acreage set-aside developments, as well as the national organization's reorganization and expansion plans.

Wilson said he and TWPA Executive Officer Bill Nelson will also report to the county leaders on the state organization's participation and results in both state and national wheat-related activities during current legislative sessions.

"MARKETING Grain at the Kansas City Board of Trade," a new film, will open the afternoon session. Wilson said the directors will also set a date and location for the association's annual meeting, and he will appoint resolution and nominating committees in preparation for the session expected to be in November.

The Texas Wheat Producers Association is a non-profit, voluntarily-supported organization of wheat producers formed in 1950 for legislative and administrative liaison and was a founding member and current supporter of the National Association of Wheat Growers with state memberships in 16 of the major wheat producing states.

Officers other than Wilson are C. L. Edwards of Panhandle, secretary-treasurer and Otis Harman of Tulia, vice-president. There are 34 directors from throughout the wheat producing area of the state. All sessions of the directors are open to interested wheat producers and to the public.

small talk from South Hills Manor

By DOROTHY HOPSON

We'd like to welcome Mrs. Sally Nelson to Dimmitt and South Hills Manor. She hails from Estelline and is the mother of Ray Nelson, Lillian Schreck and Lanell Tucker of Dimmitt.

THE JUSTICES have recently remodeled the lobby and nurses' station in tones of yellow, and now work has been started on the patients' rooms. Terry Ellison and Elmer Berryhill are the decorators. One thing that really caught my eye is the group of ink sketches over gold leaf done by Patsy Huseman.

Everything is very attractive and the staff is eager to show it off. Come out.

Spirits are high among the staff this week trying to out-guess Walter Maynard, office manager, on who the employees of the month will be for July. We'll keep you posted.

THE LADIES from the Bedford Street Church of Christ honored those having birthdays this week with cake and a picture of each one who has a birthday. Those honored were J. O. Vaughn, Clara Rountree, Esther Galloup, W. C. Flack, Everett Fite, Lucille Pfeuffer, Minnie Vaughan and Ed Duke.

Our own Prudy Black was guest of honor at a tea Sunday afternoon in the newly decorated parlor of the First United Methodist Church of Hereford. Mrs. Black had made possible all of the new furnishings and this was the church's way of saying "thank you." Jane Davis, Mrs. Black's niece from Post, her daughters Cathy and Lee Ina, Marlin and Eva Gilliland escorted Mrs. Black to the party.

Prudy reports that everything was just beautiful. Many old friends came by to express gratitude and it was a perfect day for her.

THOSE IN the hospital are C. W. Boothe, Minnie Simpkins and L. A. Tucker.

I am happy to report that Mrs. Philip Acker has recuperated nicely, and was able to return to her home in Nazareth.

Jess Rountree and Mike Hernandez are nominated as "good guys" this week because they've been keeping the yard pretty and tidy. Thank you, men.

Everyone extends heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Alma Umberson on the loss of her brother, Floyd Reynolds.

NEW GENERATING PLANT—Southwestern Public Service Company's newest generating plant, Harrington Station, is located northeast of Amarillo. It has a generating capability of 356,700 kilowatts and uses coal as its primary fuel. The second 356,700 kilowatt unit at Harrington Station will be completed in mid-1978 and a third unit of the same size is scheduled to go on the line in 1980.

SPS to hold open house at new coal-fired plant

Southwestern Public Service Co. will hold open house at its newest generating facility, Harrington Station, Saturday and Sunday.

THE PLANT, located northeast of Amarillo, one mile north of Nichols Station on Lakeside Drive, will be open to the public Saturday from noon to 6 p.m. and on Sunday from 1 to 6 p.m.

Harrington is the first generating plant on Southwestern's system to use coal as its primary fuel. The first unit, rated at 356,700 kilowatts, was put into service in mid-1976 and is using about 3,500 tons of coal per day. During some of the summer months this consumption will be in excess of 4,000 tons per day.

The second generating unit at Harrington is under construction and is about fifty percent complete. It is scheduled to go on the line next summer and will also have a capability of 356,700 kilowatts. Construction of the third unit of the same size will begin in the next few weeks and is scheduled for completion in 1980. All three of the Harrington generating units will use coal-fired boilers.

THE COAL used at Harrington Station is low-sulphur western coal, mined and brought in by unit train from Gillette, Wyo. The trains have about 110 cars and are designed and built specifically to haul coal. Each train brings about 11,000 tons of coal to the plant on a twice-a-week schedule.

The boilers at Harrington Station are equipped with the most advanced equipment available at this time for preventing objectionable products of combustion from reaching the environment. Both electrostatic precipitators and stack gas scrubbers were installed on the first unit at a cost of approximately $20-million. The No. 2 unit will utilize a fabric filter stack emission control system known as a "baghouse." This environmental control equipment is necessary for compliance with the Texas and Federal air control regulations.

The use of sewage effluent for boiler and cooling water—a practice pioneered by Southwestern Public Service Co. at Jones Station in Lubbock, Nichols Station and Harrington Station in Amarillo—will continue to save millions of gallons of fresh water per day.

THE THREE plants use an average of nine million gallons of sewage effluent a day, saving enough fresh water to serve the residential, commercial and industrial needs of a city of 100,000 people. It takes about 450 gallons of water per month to generate the power for a residential customer using 600 KWH per month. The investment for water quality control equipment was about $6 million.

The principal plant capability of Southwestern Public Service Co. is presently 2,746,800 kilowatts. This includes 2,613,200 in steam plant capability and 133,600 kilowatts in gas turbine and expander turbine capability. With the completion of the No. 2 unit, Harrington Station will become the largest plant of Southwestern's system. In 1980, when the third unit goes on the line, Harrington will have a capability of over a million kilowatts and at that time, approximately 30% of the system generating capability will be coal-fired.

The design, engineering and construction supervision was done by Southwestern's own generating plant design department, under the direction of Jim Matthews, manager of generation and design construction. Missouri Valley Con-

"The children got the idea for staging their event while watching TV personality Paul Archinal, who is promoting Carnivals on his 'T.N.T.' show seen on station KFDD," said Kay Mansell, local chairman for the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America.

Mrs. Mansell said the local group is also sponsoring a coke bottle drive today (Thursday), and that someone will come by and pick up your bottles if you call 647-2572 or 647-4357. Also additional information on the carnival may be obtained by calling one of these numbers.

According to Mrs. Mansell, 42,239 carnivals were held last year by children across the country, and raised $1,372,572 for research and patient service programs.

structors, Inc. of Amarillo, was the mechanical and structural contractor and Budwine Electric Service Co. of Carlsbad was the electrical contractor.

J. B. BOTTOMS was the resident engineer for Southwestern Public Service Co. during the construction of the first unit, and Jerry Hermesmeier is the plant manager. Bottoms will also serve as resident engineer for construction of the second unit.

Harrington Station was named in honor of the late Don Harrington, Amarillo oilman, investor and philanthropist. He served continuously on the SPS board of directors from the time the company was organized in its present form in 1942 until his death April 27, 1974.

More about

'Weather election' . . .

Natural Weather have also vowed to boycott Plainview merchants who support weather modification activities.

ONE OF the cloud-seeding firm, Plains Weather Improvement Association, is based in Plainview. The other, Better Weather, Inc., has Littlefield headquarters and contracts with Atmospheric, Inc., of California for its cloud-seeding program.

Hail suppression in the area has been a boiling controversy at least seven years, with opponents of the cloud-seeding claiming the program has caused drastic changes in the weather for 200 miles.

One of the biggest controversies is whether cloud-seeding decreases or increases rainfall, and how effective it is at suppressing hail.

OPPONENTS say cloud-seeding causes cloud stratification, which tends to produce a mist-like rain that often evaporates before reaching the ground. Because of its evaporation, they say, rainfall is decreased and natural weather patterns are disrupted.

Some area farmers and ranchers have said they have seen the seeding disrupt clouds that in their opinion would have produced rain.

Others cite theories that the anti-hail program does not reduce total rainfall but produces more widespread, less intense rain that means a given area is going to get less rain.

PWIA and BWI began seeding this year on June 2 after they were issued permits to conduct weather modification and control operations in parts of 13 Panhandle-Plains counties.

Dimmitt gets sales tax rebate, $9,962

City sales tax rebates to Dimmitt for the month ending July 1 amounted to $9,962.06, according to the monthly report from the state comptroller's office. This brings 1977 rebates to date up to $78,369.75.

THE CITY of Hart received $869.66 for the month, for a year's total of $8,710.02. Nazareth's rebate was $790.55 and the 1977 total is $5,591.17.

The Dimmitt total for the same month in 1976 was $16,159.80, reflecting the sales tax on materials being purchased for work on the Amstar plant's expansion program.

Hart's total showed an increase over 1976, when the rebate amounted to $823.18. Nazareth received no rebate for the period last year, since taxable sales were low enough to be combined with the totals for another month before payment was made.

Hart school will open August 24

A change in opening date for the 1977-78 school term at Hart, from Aug. 18 to Aug. 24, was made by trustees of the Hart Independent School District at a special meeting Monday.

THE MOVE was made at Hart, as in most schools of this area, after recent state legislation cut the coming school term by five days.

At the board meeting, Carl Neinast of Balmorhea was employed as assistant coach and his wife, Peggy, as an elementary teacher. Both have taught the past two years at Wink, and previously at Balmorhea. Neinast has coached at both places.

The resignation of Rhonda Armstrong, who was employed as an elementary teacher, was accepted.

Bush to visit city as GOP candidate

George Bush Jr., who recently announced as a Republican party candidate for the 19th District Congressional seat being vacated by veteran Legislator George Mahon, will be in Dimmitt for a coffee at 10 a.m. next Thursday at the home of Deanne Clark, 225 NW 12, Castro County Republican chairman.

THE ONLY announced candidate to succeed Mahon, a Democrat, Bush is a resident of Midland.

"George would like to begin getting acquainted with people in this part of the district as soon as possible," Mrs. Clark said, "and I personally want to meet him since I know his parents and think they are fine people."

She invites all residents to drop in for a cup of coffee "and to see how George wants to do it."

BUSH'S brother Neil, a student in Tulane University in New Orleans, who is helping launch his relative's candidacy, visited in Dimmitt Tuesday and conferred briefly with Mrs. Clark.

Bush is an independent oil man at Midland, a graduate of Harvard University with a masters degree in business administration.

"I know this campaign will be an uphill battle," he said of his race, "and I know the job of congressman requires full time dedication. I look forward to the challenge and am enthusiastic about my chances for victory."

Election judges, alternates set by Commissioners

The Castro County Commissioners met Monday and discussed changes in alternates for the precinct election judges, procedures for calling a special election, and traffic safety on rural roads.

DEANNE CLARK, Republican Party chairman for the county, and Leora Little appeared before the commissioners to recommend nine changes in the alternates designated for the election judges of the 16 precincts and absentee balloting.

Five of their recommendations were implemented, making Bill Dannevik the alternate in Pct. 2, Kenneth Frye in Pct. 9, Kim Williamson in Pct. 10, Larry Hausmann in Pct. 11 and Anna Vogler in Pct. 14.

The commissioners also approved a new election judge, Eleanor Haberer in Pct. 11.

"IN EVERY case but two now, either the judge or the alternate is a Republican," said county judge Weldon Bradley. He added that all of the new alternates have been contacted and have agreed to serve.

Also at the Monday meeting, a group from Citizens for Natural Weather came before the commissioners to ask about the proper procedures for calling a special election.

There was also a discussion about traffic safety on rural roads, but no action was taken other than the issuance of a request to everyone to drive safely and with caution on rural roads.

It was mentioned that conditions are particularly bad this time of year, with the corn blocking vision of side roads. The possibility of putting up signs at intersections was discussed, but dismissed as impractical and too expensive.

Commissioner Moss suffers heart attack

County Commissioner Anna Margaret Moss of Precinct 3 suffered a heart attack about 2 a.m. Tuesday in her ranch home north of Dimmitt, and is now in Deaf Smith General Hospital's intensive care unit.

"SHE'S doing all right," said her son, Jeff, 15. "The doctors haven't said anything definite yet, except that it was a heart attack."

Moss said that when his mother first began exhibiting symptoms at 2 a.m., his father, William Moss, tried to work with her, but finally all the family was aroused from sleep and left around 3 a.m. to take her to the hospital in Hereford.

Mrs. Moss is presently in Room 175 of the ICU, and is allowed to have one visitor per visiting period. Moss said the doctors indicated that her stay would probably not be longer than two weeks if there are no complications.
