CLARK DISCOVERY SPURS SHALLOW ACTIVITY

NEW LEASING AND DRILLING TAKING PLACE

Trading Reported Active in Area of New Sand Near Putnam

Significant of the quick interest which the discovery of a new shallow pay at 747 feet on the Dr. F. E. Clark ranch near Putnam by Warren and Kleiner, was the announcement today that a group of independent operators had leased with drilling contract a tract of 80 acres out of the Clark ranch siting the Warren and Kleiner holdings to the north. Dr. Clark withheld names of the operators pending completion of the deal, but said that the deal was assured.

The operators, who have done only deep drilling so far, will drill about one-third of a mile north of the Clark No. 1 discovery. They expect to start immediately and to complete within a month. Meanwhile Charles Kleiner and L. A. Warren, Cisco operators who found production estimated at 35 barrels daily in a new sand at 747 feet—penetrated ten feet—were drilling an offset to the west on the D. A. Williams, et al. tract of 95 acres. Location of the well is in the southeast corner of Section 17, DandA lands, 150 feet from the east and south lines. Payment for the 80-acre lease offsetting the Warren and Kleiner tracts will be in cash and oil. Great interest, particularly among independent operators, is being manifested in the new discovery and leasing activity was considerable. Bringing in of another well of commercial consequence would set off an extensive drilling campaign, it was said. No test has yet been run on the discovery.

JEFFERSON, Tex., Nov. 2 (AP)—Henry T. Nelson, 23, of Linden, brother of Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock died today of injuries suffered in an automobile accident yesterday. M. L. Strange of Dallas, the other occupant of the automobile, was not seriously hurt.

Expect Early Report on Lake Cottage Project

Early action of the WPA office at Washington on the project for building 25 cottages at Lake Cisco is expected by Engineer Buford of Abilene, employed by the city to draft plans for that project and for a large street-paving program, he told the city commission this week.

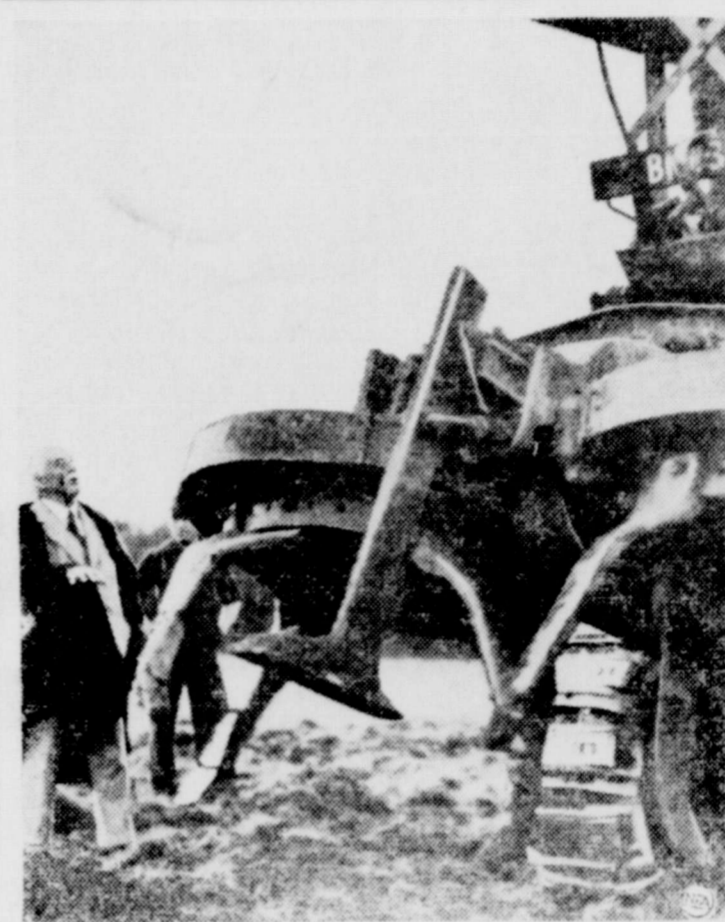

The commission approved final draft of the street project and it has been submitted to the WPA district office. It would involve expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars in street improvements.

The cottage project at Lake Cisco would entail expenditure of about $25,000 in WPA and local funds.

Marland Signs Kenamer Parole

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 2 (AP)—Gov. E. W. Marland today signed a six-month parole for Phil Kenamer, serving 25 years for manslaughter in a sensational Tulsa slaying. He will be released today. Parole sponsors had not decided whether to send an agent with Kenamer to Arizona. Jay Terry of Moran was transacting business here today.

World War Power Now a Farmer

Twenty years ago David Lloyd George was directing the conferences to end the World War. Today he is directing operations on his 169-acre farm near Churt, England. Above, the part-author of the Versailles treaty watches a giant "gyro-tiller" at work.

Bishop Holt Is Banquet Speaker

The church properly serves three functions, Bishop Ivan Leo Holt told an overflow crowd which greeted his first appearance in Cisco at the First Methodist church last night. These are:

1. The care of the poor;
2. Education of youth;
3. The salvation of souls.

Ciscoan Again Heads Young Peoples Society

Re-election of the Rev. Herschel Murphy of Cisco as president of the Nazarene young peoples society of the Texas district took place at Hillsboro yesterday where the Nazarene district assembly opened its sessions Monday. Miss Eunice Hildreth of Pilot Point was re-elected secretary.

Cisco is the district headquarters for the Church of the Nazarene. Headquarters were moved here several months ago, coincident with a general expansion of denominational activities locally. This included removal of the church and parsonage from east Cisco to West Seventh street, enlargement of the church and rock-venering of the walls, installation of air cooling equipment, etc.

The Cisco church, under the pastorate of the Rev. Luther Pryor, has experienced a steady and healthful growth.

Child Bride Ordered to Orphanage

PRESTONBURG, Ky., Nov. 2 (AP)—Kentucky's child bride, Rosie Columbus Tackett, 10, was ordered to an orphanage today by a six-man jury. Rosie's husband, wanted on a warrant signed by Judge Edward Hill charging rape, was still the object of a search by Floyd county deputies.

Spanish Ships Fight Off English Coast

CROMER, Eng., Nov. 2 (AP)—Spanish warships attacked a Spanish freighter off Norfolk today, bringing the civil war within sight and sound of England's east coast. The identities of the ships and the outcome of the one hour bombardment, were unknown.

A. B. McRoberts of Henderson was a visitor here today.

MANCHOUKUAN ROLE IS SEEN FOR ALL CHINA

Japan Announces Plan to Create Economic, Political Bloc

TOKYO, Nov. 2 (AP)—Japan bluntly announced to the world today that she intended to create an economic and political bloc comprising the Japanese empire of Manchoukuo, China, in carrying out her "immutable policy" for Asiatic reconstruction after the war with China. The formal government declaration left a loophole for possible peace with the present government of China "if it were to come forward to join in the establishment of the new order."

"Japan," the statement continued, "is confident the other powers will appreciate correctly her aims and policy and will adapt their attitude to the new conditions prevailing in east Asia. The statement appeared to indicate that Japan expected China's role in Asia's future to be similar to that of Manchoukuo, which was formed from China's Manchurian provinces conquered by Japan between 1931 and 1933.

Accused Robber Trio Taken at San Angelo

DALLAS, Nov. 2 (AP)—Two young men with a fast-growing police record and a woman officer identified as a sister of the late Clyde Barrow were captured near San Angelo today and charged in 13 cases with robbery with firearms. They surrendered to rangers and other officers after a four-mile dash through brushy country near Eden. The men were charged in Dallas in 10 robberies netting them $500.

Chamberlain Asks Okeh of Pact With Duce

LONDON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Premier Chamberlain, declaring today that the Spanish war "no longer is a menace to the peace of Europe," demanded that parliament approve conclusion of his friendship pact with Premier Mussolini. He based argument for such action, which would let him continue search for general European appeasement on the "most definite assurances from Chancellor Hitler and Mussolini at Munich that they wanted no Spanish territory."

Is Speaker for Luncheon Program Today at Noon

Governor Rupert N. Richardson, of District 2-E Lions International of Texas, paid the Cisco Lions club a distinct compliment today when he addressed the body on the subject of, "What Is the Matter With My Club," by saying that this club needed this talk about as little as any group of his district, since it always got along well, had a major activity and a number of lesser ones, and always paid its International dues and other obligations promptly.

Dr. Richardson, active vice-president of Hardin-Simmons university, is an unusually strong and clear speaker. Being at home on his feet, he thinks his way clearly as he proceeds with his discussion. It was so today, when he told of numberless mistakes made by clubs over his and other districts, in the way they tried to conduct their activities.

Outlined in a nut-shell, "Make the club a place to which members want to go, and distribute the work among those members, making all feel they have a part in (CONTINUED ON PAGE FOUR)

Cisco Would Be In AA District With Abilene Under New Alignment

Under a proposed new re-districting of high schools in Texas for interscholastic league football competition, Cisco would be placed in the highest ranking or AA district with Abilene, Brownwood, Breckenridge and Mineral Wells, with the possibility that Ranger, would be voted in.

Under the new alignment as proposed by the league officials and announced by Director R. J. Kidd of the athletic division, high schools with enrollments of 500 students or more for the preceding year would be placed in Class AA. This would eliminate from top-flight competition a number of Class A schools of the current rating, reducing them to what would be a second class rating, although still denominated Class A. Class B would enroll schools of less than 200.

New Top District Schools enrolling from 450 to 499 could be voted into the AA

Atmosphere Chill as Ruth Etting Testifies

Songstress Ruth Etting, left, and Mrs. Alma Alderman, who is suing Miss Etting for $150,000 charging alienation of her former husband's affections, are at great pains in this picture to avoid each other's eyes. They are shown with attorneys as Miss Etting refuted her former statement that she is married to Myrl Alderman. Alderman is recovering from a bullet wound inflicted by Martin (Mac) Snyder, former husband of Miss Etting. Mrs. Alderman now seeks a court order compelling Alderman to tell of his relations with Miss Etting, which the blues-singer described as "platonic." At the time of the shooting in the Etting Hollywood home, she said they married last July.

Among those suggesting changes are the American Federation of Labor, which accused the board of CIO bias, and Donald Richard, former NRA administrator.

DOCTOR FOUND FATALLY SHOT

Object of Search Is Dead in Car

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 2 (AP)—Shot through the head, the body of Dr. David H. Carson, 61, of Kerrville believed kidnaped yesterday, was found today in his automobile 150 yards from the San Antonio-Kerrville highway near here. Apparent powder stains were found on Carson's right hand and forehead. A pistol lay at his feet. Justice of the Peace Raymond Gerhardt said the doctor, for whom officers searched throughout the night, had been dead three or four hours. Sheriff Will Wood said that the marks indicated there was another person in the automobile, believed to have been a former legion hospital patient with whom the doctor was seen at Kerrville yesterday. The patient was said to be a paroled Kansas convict.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

If styling and quality mean anything, the 1937 Fords have it with a capital "I." We saw them yesterday at the formal showing at the State Fair grounds in Dallas and I must say that the Ford has really produced something this year. Ford as always insisted upon quality in its product and there is no denying that the company has always produced an outstanding quality car in the low price class. But this time the Dearborn manufacturers have gone in for the aesthetic in large quantities and the result of their designing is a thing of striking beauty. There are, as usual, two offerings in the V-8 division, the deluxe and the standard. The latter resembles, with improvements in streamlining appointments and mechanical qualities, the deluxe of the 1936 models. It is a thing of pleasing beauty in its own right and would represent, even without the deluxe models of the current series, a decided advance over last year's most desirable selection. All models this year have full hydraulic brakes.

The big news of the showing, however, if we overlook the long upward step in V-8 styling, is the new Mercury, truly an enable car. This product closes the gap in the Ford series between the V-8 and the Zephyr and it is a fitting member of a family which undoubtedly links with anything in the automotive field this season.

If appeal has anything to do with the selling of automobiles this year it ought to be a great asset for the automobile buying public, the motor makers and the business world in general, or imagination cannot easily conceive of anything more beautiful in design, and we all know that the mechanical progress which has been made in automobile manufacture is so great that there is left little to be desired in performance.

The enthusiasm of the dealers or the products that have been placed in their hands this season is great. The confidence which the Fords and other motor manufacturers have exhibited in developing automobiles of such advanced character is reassuring. If the rest of the body politic can catch this infection of optimism, 1937 should not be so bad a year after all.

Poppy Sale to Be Held Next Saturday

Miss Letha Estes, chairman of the American Legion auxiliary poppy sale committee, announced today that the annual poppy sale could be held next Saturday.

The poppies sold at this time are made by disabled veterans in veterans hospitals and the funds derived from the sale are used to bring comfort and cheer to these disabled men.

Cisco has always responded liberally to the sale and Miss Estes appealed to the public to be as generous this year as in the past.

Dictators' Trade Wars Affect All Workingmen

ONE of the things that makes it hard for Americans to figure out the right kind of foreign policy these days is the fact that they have always been great believers in the old virtue of minding their own business.

A cardinal point in the American creed is the belief that any people has a right to the kind of government it chooses, even if that government happens to be atrociously bad. So if the Germans, the Russians, the Italians or any other people feel like saddling themselves with governments which look like holdovers from the era of Genghis Khan, we have never felt called upon to do anything about it.

Up to now, that worked fine. For while the world had some fairly brutal and reactionary dictatorships in the old days, they mostly minded their own business too. They did try to grab up such loose bits of Asia and Africa as weren't nailed down, to be sure, but since we had no vital interests in those spots we could afford to be quite unconcerned.

BUT the picture now is different. The dictatorships are not merely on their muscle; they seem to be doing their very best to create the kind of world in which only dictatorships can survive.

First of all, they arm to the teeth—and brandish their arms about as recklessly as so many drunken two-gun men in a frontier saloon. They regard neither treaties nor international law; they openly say they are going to take what they want and that brute force is the only power they respect.

Yet that is only a starter. They meddle in the internal affairs of their neighbors—meddle constantly, remorselessly and dangerously. They organize, finance and direct revolutionary movements inside of countries with which they are at peace. They try to control the activities of descendants of their own emigrants, no matter how far those people may be removed from any actual tie with the homeland. In every conceivable way they seek to implant their own ideas and their own standards on foreign soil.

ON top of all this, they have introduced a new kind of commercial war to the world. Driving down their own living standards, they defy competition by nations which refuse to reduce their own living standards. They turn international trade into a struggle which creates poverty instead of wealth. They make their internal policies of low wages, long hours and small profits matters which directly affect workers and producers on the other side of the world.

Today's dictatorships are not in the least like the dictatorships of the past. In the old days we could ignore dictatorships, figuring that the world was large enough to contain repression and freedom side by side. Today it is extremely hard to take that attitude—and it is getting harder every day.

It may be that minding our own business will require us to take a very alert and intelligent interest in the kind of government our neighbors treat themselves to. If they insist on creating the kind of world in which a free society could not survive, they can hardly be surprised if we react accordingly.

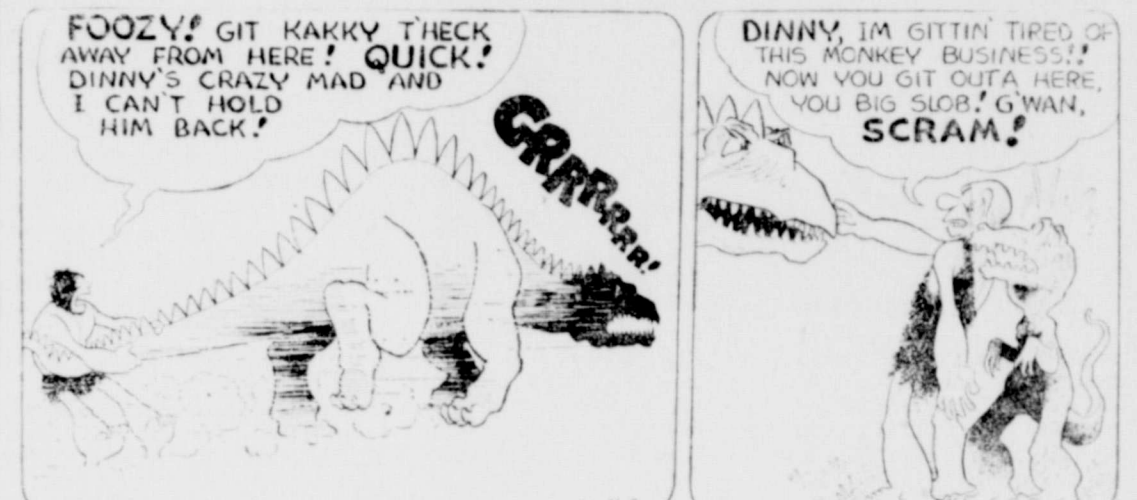

The sea captain who waited to put his trousers on in his cabin when his ship was in danger wasn't going out on a bare limb.

Because his feet were tired a Chicago postman threw away letters instead of delivering them. Disclaiming wordy goods to save his sole, no doubt.

The Texas Nine-Banded Armadillo

(Dasypus novemcinctus texanus, Bailey)
The Texas nine-banded armadillo gets much criticism from sportsmen in general all over Texas. Much of this criticism given to the armadillo is unjustly placed. The armadillo is probably the most conspicuous signmaker of all the "predators," and this is responsible for much of the blame that it receives. There are many who condemn this species without any proof whatsoever to back up the statements made against them. The "hearsay" spreads and as the story is passed on, more is handed to it by guesswork. Let us face some of the facts that have been derived by search and look at this animal from a general viewpoint.

The armadillo is a primitive species and reminds us of prehistoric days on sight. He is a nearly toothless animal and is seen in Texas, Mexico and South America and lately has spread its range into Oklahoma and Arkansas. This animal is a slow moving species, has a hard shell for protection, weak eyes, long tongue and well developed claws adapted to digging and probing for food. The young are born in late spring and summer and each litter, being four in number, are all of the same sex (either all females or all males). The armadillo prefers dense cover, dry (relatively) ground and a place to burrow. This animal may excavate three or four burrows, which it probably occupies on different nights. Many of the armadillo's habits are similar to that of an anteater.

English 40-Seater Airliner Tried Out

LONDON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Imperial Airways new "Ensign" or "E" class 40 seater air-liner was tried out over London recently. A high wing monoplane with four Armstrong-Siddeley engines providing 3,400 H.P. and a top speed of 200 M.P.H. it is 114 feet long and weighs 21½ tons. The machine is the first of 14 to be built for the Imperial Airways Continental and Empire routes.

populations of turkeys because of the destruction of the eggs, and an enemy to chickens. They are also blamed with the destruction of gardens and other farm crops. The fact is that an armadillo cannot break a turkey egg unless he can get it cornered. Some damage is done to quail nests, but this damage is very small when compared with the damage done by other "predators." Of course populations of the armadillo will have something to do with the number of nests that are disturbed.

Food of the Armadillo

The armadillo has poorly adapted teeth for crushing. The snout is elongated and the gape of the mouth small. The armadillo has the habit of probing for food and feeds almost entirely on invertebrates, angle worms, crickets, beetles, beetle larvae, spiders, grasshoppers, and ants. Fifty stomachs were examined by Dr. W. B. Davis, A. & M. college and he found that fifty per cent of the food eaten was angleworms. They also eat caterpillars and berries in season.

Armadillo Benefits Quail

Individually the armadillo is not a serious enemy to quail and quail eggs, because it is only by accident that the promiscuous rooting animal leads to quail nests. The disturbance of the ground due to the armadillo favors croton, a favored quail food. The armadillo's destruction of ants is a very favorable factor of this little animal, as the ants are a serious enemy to young quail at the pipping stage. Give the armadillo some consideration before shooting.

Kill all wild house cats, because they are our birds' worst enemies.

physio-therapy, which was given impetus by the World war and now medical men are simply captivated by it.

An exhibit of the various mechanisms for performing the treatments come to Washington and we looked it over. Strangely, the most important phases are simply advancement of two of mother's old remedies. Hot water bottles, hot baths, and massage.

How to Raise a Fever

But the old fire-side systems won't turn the trick. Masses of hot water bottles can be applied until the skin burns without materially benefitting arthritis. Here is the new principle. Some disease bacteria, such as cause gonorrhea, begin to die off when body temperature reaches 106 to 107 degrees. The new-fangled processes simply produce an artificial fever. The treatment is called fever-therapy.

A spray bath or vapor bath at a temperature of about 110 degrees, applied for an hour or so will bring an artificial temperature of 106 or above and hold it there as long as the physician decides is wise or necessary. It may be two hours; it may be as much as 12. At the end of that time you may be cured of an infection of gonorrhea. Cures may come after treatments in other ailments.

It isn't quackery. Mayo Institute uses it, as do Johns Hopkins, Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, and other major hospitals.

Enter the Radio

But there is another way of doing the same thing. It was discovered that short wave radio waves poured through the body me like a tramp just because I happen to come here."

Tait heard Rogers' voice come through the paneling of the door.
 It was a voice suddenly tight with fear and anger. "Look here, Weeks. If you harm that girl it'll mean the chair for you. Do you understand that? I've a reputation that will hold water—while nobody knows you from Adam.
 If you do anything to hurt Myrna Dombey I'll go straight to the police and swear I never saw you before in my life."

It was difficult for Tait to restrain himself, there in the hallway. Trembling in every nerve fiber, he held out against crashing down the door. Presently he heard Rogers say, quietly, "Is she still at the Belvedere?"

"Yes," George Weeks said. "You don't need to worry."

"How do you know she won't raise the devil and get you into trouble?"

Tait heard Weeks' moronic chuckle. "I've been over that with her. She doesn't know when I leave the other room. And I showed her a gun. I told her that if she so much as turned the knob of the door I'd let her have it.
 Don't worry, Rogers. She's all right."

"Then what are you here for, anyway?"

Weeks' voice grew indolent.
 "Just to see how you're getting along, and whether you might not want to let me have a hundred."

"You'll get what you have coming when your job is finished.
 You'd better get back to the Belvedere and see that the girl is all right. What's wrong with you, Weeks? Have you been drinking?"

Again that moronic chuckle.
 "No, Rogers. But it might interest you to know that I'm going to be featured tonight with The Swingaters."

"What—what do you mean, you fool?"

"I mean that I'm going to play
 'The Cat's Meow' in a feature spot.
 And what's more, a song publisher is going to give me ten thousand for the rights to a new song I wrote."

Tait heard the shuffling of feet behind the door. He could visualize Harris Rogers excitedly grabbing the lapels of Weeks' coat.
 "Look here, you idiot! Stop babbling! What have you been monkeying with The Swingaters for? And what new song did you write? You couldn't make a tune that would set Mother Goose to music!"

"They think I can, though," Weeks said. "And what's more, don't forget they believe I wrote
 'The Cat's Meow'."

"Get out—"

Rogers' voice was choked, maniacal—and Bob Tait waited to hear no more. He fled, literally, fearing that within the next moment George Weeks would be catapulted out that door by an insanely angered Harris Rogers.

Too, he had another goal in mind. Downstairs at the curb he hailed a taxi. "Do you know of a hotel or apartment called the Belvedere?"

The driver cogitated a moment.
 "There's a hotel by that name on Laurel street."

"Is that the only one you know of by that name?"

"Yeah. I don't know of any other."

"Then let's get there as quickly as you can. There's a healthy tip in it."

The taxi driver took Bob Tait at his word. Tait had been through the city on some wild rides—in police cars, in fire trucks, and even in the limousines of suspected gangsters—but this was the wildest. He had hardly settled himself in the seat when the driver leaned back and called,
 "Here y'are, mister. Belvedere Hotel."

Tait looked out. It was a brown frame structure with a cheaply painted sign on the front giving the price of rooms by the night and by the week. He nodded, handed the driver a bill. "There'll be another one of those if you'll hang around a while."

"It's all your show, Cap," the driver said.

Almost inside the doorway Tait was stopped by a frowny, gray-haired woman who wanted to know his business. Beyond her was a small and battered desk and on it a hotel register. Two rocking chairs comprised the furniture of the lobby.

"I'm from headquarters," Tait said. "I want to get into the room of George K. Weeks."

"Weeks?" repeated the woman, her face reddening.

"Weeks it is. And don't stall.
 If I don't get some action from you I'll take you with me."

Protesting bitterly the innocence of her person and her house, the woman led him to the basement floor. Fumbling behind her apron she produced a skeleton key and opened a door near the bottom of the staircase. "There you are,"
 she said. "And you'll find nothing there."

omiss with any lodger in this hotel."

Tait strode to the door across the room. "I want to see in there, too."

"I haven't the key to that," the woman said.

Without further word, Tait stepped back, then crashed his bulk dead against the flimsy door. The lock gave, shattering the door frame. Even as he pushed open the mangled door he could hear the woman's hurried steps on the stairway. But he was not interested in the escape of the Belvedere frowny keeper of the Belvedere Hotel. He was interested in the forlorn figure which lay revealed on the bed in the windowless room. It was Myrna, and as he entered the room she stirred faintly. When he went to her side and lifted her by the shoulders, she looked at him vaguely.

"Bob..." Her voice was weak. Plainly she had been doped, either by Weeks or by the vile, stuffy air of the room.

"Let's get out of here," Tait said. "Can you make it?"

She nodded slowly. "I—I feel so weak, Bob."

He took her by the shoulders, lifted her to her feet. When her knees seemed to give way he lifted her in his arms. But no sooner had he started toward the door than he saw the tall, hulking frame of George Weeks. And in his hand was a gun!

League officials explained some of these might be permitted to play in the new "AA conference" if they had sufficient enrollment and were voted in by schools in their district.

"The re-districting," said R. J. Kidd, league athletic director, "was done solely on an enrollment basis. No consideration whatever was given team strength. It was brought about mainly by the schools themselves, many of whom wanted a re-classification to place competition on a more even and fairer basis."

Under the new rules applying to football only, conference AA will be composed of schools enrolling 500 or more students the previous year. Schools having 450 to 499 might be admitted to the district by a favorable vote of three-fourths the members.

Conference A will include schools of 200 to 500 enrollment with those having 150 to 199 permitted to join the district by a three-fourths vote of the members.

Conference B will include schools of less than 200 enrollment.

Only the "Double-A Conference" will play a state championship, the A conference fighting it out to regional titles and the B conference to bi-district honors.

Bishop Holt--

mitting that there is a definite place for the trained professional in helping to meet personal problems, the Bishop asserted, however, that the scientist, as a scientist, does not know Christ and therefore cannot lead his patient to a vital religious contact with the healing spiritual forces.

Loss of Religion
Quoting the statement of a professional whom he designated the world's leading psychiatrist, Bishop Holt said he was told that in every case where a patient came to this psychiatrist with a personal problem, the origin of the problem was traced to loss of religious faith.

The bishop appeared as the speaker for the quarterly laymen's banquet of the Cisco district over which Presiding Elder J. B. Curry presided. But so greatly did attendance exceed the preparations of the Cisco Women's Missionary society for 310 that the program was moved to the church auditorium. Attendance on the banquet was 410, and a large part of the group were fed in the auditorium. Hundreds came after the banquet to hear the bishop. This was by far the largest that any district banquet has attracted. All were fed, however. Mrs. Bob Sanford is president of the Women's Missionary society, Mrs. J. E. Missionary society, Mrs. Will Reagan was in charge of menu and Mrs. J. E. Crawford of the decorations, which were in the autumn theme. N. C. Packer of the Duncan Coffee company, furnished the coffee for the meal.

Currys Honored
Following the address of Bishop Holt, the Rev. P. W. Walker of Eastland, spoke the admiration of the Cisco district for Presiding Elder J. B. Curry and Mrs. Curry, who are completing their fourth year of service, and Mrs. Ed Sneed of Dublin, district WMS secretary, presented them with a silver table service as a token of district appreciation and esteem.

Guests of Rev. and Mrs. Curry for the evening were Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Hall of Weatherford which the Rev. Mr. Hall is presiding elder of the Weatherford district; President G. C. Boswell of Weatherford college and members of the college faculty; President Tom Brabham of McMurry college, Abilene.

Bishop Holt left at noon today for Corsicana where he will speak

this afternoon and tonight Thursday he will fly to New York to meet with the nominating committee of the World Council of Churches of which he is chairman. He is a past president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

This morning he and the following were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Curry at a dove breakfast at the Curry home; Rev. and Mrs. Hall, Rev. and Mrs. Joe I. Patterson of the Cisco First church;

Rev. and Mrs. Moore of the Cisco Twelfth street car. Mrs. J. E. Crawford, Benie Walker of Eastland and J. D. Hendrickson of Cisco it is a family.

CLARK DISCOVERY SPURS SHALLOW ACTIVITY

Through the Editor's Spectacles
By GEORGE

If styling and quality mean anything, the 1938 Fords have it with a capital "I." We saw them yesterday at the formal showing at the State Fair grounds in Dallas and I must say that the Ford has really produced something this year. Ford has always insisted upon quality in its product and there is no denying that the company has always produced an outstanding quality car in the low price class. But this time the Dearborn manufacturers have gone in for the aesthetic in large quantities and the result of their designing is a thing of striking beauty. There are, as usual, two offerings in the V-8 division, the deluxe and the standard. The latter resembles, with improvements in streamlining appointments and mechanical qualities, the deluxe of the 1938 models. It is a thing of resting beauty in its own right and would represent, even without the deluxe models of the current series, a decided advance over last year's most desirable selection. All models this year have full hydraulic brakes.

The big news of the showing, however, if we overlook the long forward step in V-8 styling, is the new Mercury, truly an engine-stable car. This product closes the gap in the Ford series between the V-8 and the Zephyr and it is a fitting member of a family which undoubtedly has to do with anything in the automotive field this season.

If appeal has anything to do with the selling of automobiles this year it ought to be a great one for the automobile buying public, the motor makers and the business world in general. If imagination cannot easily conceive of anything more beautiful in design, and we all know that the mechanical progress which has been made in automobile manufacture is so great that there is left little to be desired in performance.

The enthusiasm of the dealers or the products that have been placed in their hands this season is great. The confidence which the Fords and other motor manufacturers have exhibited in developing automobiles of such advanced character is reassuring. If the rest of the body politic can catch this infection of optimism, 1938 should not be so bad a year after all.

Miss Letha Estes, chairman of the American Legion auxiliary poppy sale committee, announced today that the annual poppy sale would be held next Saturday. The poppies sold at this time are made by disabled veterans in veterans hospitals and the funds derived from the sale are used to bring comfort and cheer to these disabled men. Cisco has always responded liberally to the sale and Miss Estes appealed to the public to be as generous this year as in the past.

Songstress Ruth Etting, left, and Mrs. Alma Alderman, who is suing Miss Etting for $150,000 charging alienation of her former husband's affections, are at great pains in this picture to avoid each other's eyes. They are shown with attorneys as Miss Etting refuted her former statement that she is married to Myrl Alderman. Alderman is recovering from a bullet wound inflicted by Martin (Moe) Snyder, former husband of Miss Etting. Mrs. Alderman now seeks a court order compelling Alderman to tell of his relations with Miss Etting, which the blues-singer described as "platonic." At the time of the shooting in the Etting Hollywood home, she said they married last July.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Members of the National Labor Relations board told President Roosevelt today they opposed changes in the labor relations act. After a White House conference, Chairman Warren Madden told reporters: "We don't think the act needs amendment." Among those suggesting changes are the American Federation of Labor, which accused the board of CIO bias, and Donald Richberg, former NRA administrator.

DOCTOR FOUND FATALLY SHOT

Object of Search Is Dead in Car

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 2 (AP)—Shot through the head, the body of Dr. David H. Carson, 61, of Kerrville, believed kidnaped yesterday, was found today in his automobile 150 yards from the San Antonio-Kerrville highway near here.

Apparent powder stains were found on Carson's right hand and forehead. A pistol lay at his feet. Justice of the Peace Raymond Gerhardt said the doctor, for whom officers searched throughout the night, had been dead three or four hours. Sheriff Will Wood said that the marks indicated there was another person in the automobile, believed to have been a former legion hospital patient with whom the doctor was seen at Kerrville yesterday. The patient was said to be a paroled Kansas convict.

Several From This County in H-SU

Hardin-Simmons university, at Abilene, founded in 1891, has an increased enrollment for its forty-seventh year, recently begun. The freshman class is the largest in H-SU history, said Dr. J. D. Sandefer, dean of senior college and university heads in Texas, who is beginning his thirtieth year as president at Hardin-Simmons. The student body enrollment includes undergraduates from 105 Texas counties, thirteen states, and foreign countries of Mexico and Brazil. Taylor county, with Abilene as county seat, leads with 266 students. Enumerated by classes, students at H-SU this year from Eastland county are: Lucy Cole, freshman, Cisco; Norma Ghormley, freshman, Cisco; Ross Hayes, freshman, Eastland; Cecil Joe McBeth, freshman, Nimrod; Bobbie McWhorter, freshman, Cisco; Clarine Marsh, sophomore, Eastland; Kathryn Esther Maynard, freshman, Rising Star. Quincy Lee has gone to Austin where he will be permanently located.

Is Speaker for Luncheon Program Today at Noon

Governor Rupert N. Richardson, of District 2-E Lions International of Texas, paid the Cisco Lions club a distinct compliment today when he addressed the body on the subject of "What Is the Matter With My Club," by saying that this club needed this talk about as little as any group of his district, since it always got along well, had a major activity and a number of lesser ones, and always paid its International dues and other obligations promptly.

Dr. Richardson, active vice-president of Hardin-Simmons university, is an unusually strong and clear speaker. Being at home on his feet, he thinks his way clearly as he proceeds with his discussion. It was so today, when he told of numberless mistakes made by clubs over his and other districts, in the way they tried to conduct their activities. Outlined in a nut-shell, "Make the club a place to which members want to go, and distribute the work among those members, making all feel they have a part in

Under a proposed new re-districting of high schools in Texas for interscholastic league football competition, Cisco would be placed in the highest ranking or AA district with Abilene, Brownwood, Breckenridge and Mineral Wells, with the possibility that Ranger, would be voted in. Under the new alignment as proposed by the league officials and announced by Director R. J. Kidd of the athletic division, high schools with enrollments of 500 students or more for the preceding year would be placed in Class AA. This would eliminate from top-flight competition a number of Class A schools of the current rating, reducing them to what would be a second class rating, although still denominated Class A. Class B would enroll schools of less than 200. New Top District Schools enrolling from 450 to 499 could be voted into the AA

Japan Announces Plan to Create Economic, Political Bloc

TOKYO, Nov. 2 (AP)—Japan bluntly announced to the world today that she intended to create an economic and political bloc comprising the Japanese empire of Manchoukuo, China, in carrying out her "immutable policy" for Asiatic reconstruction after the war with China. The formal government declaration left a loophole for possible peace with the present government of China "if it were to come forward to join in the establishment of the new order." "Japan" the statement continued, "is confident the other powers will appreciate correctly her aims and policy and will adapt their attitude to the new conditions prevailing in east Asia." The statement appeared to indicate that Japan expected China's role in Asia's future to be similar to that of Manchoukuo, which was formed from China's Manchurian provinces conquered by Japan between 1931 and 1933.

Accused Robber Trio Taken at San Angelo

DALLAS, Nov. 2 (AP)—Two young men with a last-growing police record and a woman officer identified as a sister of the late Clyde Barrow were captured near San Angelo today and charged in 13 cases with robbery with firearms. They surrendered to rangers and other officers after a four-mile dash through brushy country near Eden. The men were charged in Dallas in 10 robberies netting them $500.

Chamberlain Asks Okeh of Pact With Duce

LONDON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Premier Chamberlain, declaring today that the Spanish war "no longer is a menace to the peace of Europe," demanded that parliament approve conclusion of his friendship pact with Premier Mussolini. He based argument for such action, which would let him continue search for general European appeasement on the "most definite assurances from Chancellor Hitler and Mussolini at Munich that they wanted no Spanish territory."

Bishop Holt Is Banquet Speaker

The church properly serves three functions, Bishop Ivan Lee Holt told an overflow crowd which greeted his first appearance in Cisco at the First Methodist church last night. These are:

1. The care of the poor;
 2. Education of youth;
 3. The salvation of souls.
- Unfortunately, said the bishop, eloquent, internationally known church leader only recently elevated to the episcopacy of the southern Methodist church after twenty years of outstanding pastorate at St. Louis, the church has surrendered the most of these functions to secular agencies. It has, he said, surrendered the care of the poor to the state, the education of the youth to the state and the saving of souls to the psychiatrist. "I do not deny," said the bishop, "that there are agencies which can perform some of these functions to better advantage than the church." But he did maintain that the responsibility of the church to these primary obligations was in no way diminished by this fact.

The identities of the ships and the outcome of the one hour bombardment, were unknown. A. B. McRoberts of Henderson was a visitor here today.

NEW LEASING AND DRILLING TAKING PLACE

Trading Reported Active in Area of New Sand Near Putnam

Significant of the quick interest which the discovery of a new shallow pay at 747 feet on the Dr. F. E. Clark ranch near Putnam by Warren and Kleiner, was the announcement today that a group of independent operators had leased with drilling contract a tract of 80 acres out of the Clark ranch offsetting the Warren and Kleiner holdings to the north. Dr. Clark withheld names of the operators pending completion of the deal, but said that the deal was assured. The operators, who have done only deep drilling so far, will drill about one-third of a mile north of the Clark No. 1 discovery. They expect to start immediately and to complete within a month. Meanwhile Charles Kleiner and L. A. Warren, Cisco operators who found production estimated at 35 barrels daily in a new sand at 747 feet—penetrated ten feet—were drilling an offset to the west on the D. A. Williams, et al. tract of 95 acres. Location of the well is in the southeast corner of Section 17, DandDA lands, 130 feet from the east and south lines. Payment for the 80-acre lease offsetting the Warren and Kleiner tracts will be in cash and oil. Great interest, particularly among independent operators, is being manifest in the new discovery and leasing activity was considerable. Bringing in of another well of commercial consequence would set off an extensive drilling campaign, it was said. No test has yet been run on the discovery.

He told the city commission this week. The commission approved final draft of the street project and it has been submitted to the WPA district office. It would involve expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars in street improvements. The cottage project at Lake Cisco would entail expenditure of about $25,000 in WPA and local funds.

League officials explained some of these might be permitted to play in the new "AA conference" if they had sufficient enrollment and were voted in by schools in their district.

"The re-districting," said R. J. Kidd, league athletic director, "was done solely on an enrollment basis. No consideration whatever was given team strength. It was brought about mainly by the schools themselves, many of whom wanted a re-classification to place competition on a more even and fairer basis."

Under the new rules applying to football only, conference AA will be composed of schools enrolling 500 or more students the previous year. Schools having 450 to 499 might be admitted to the district by a favorable vote of three-fourths the members.

Conference A will include schools of 200 to 500 enrollment with those having 150 to 199 permitted to join the district by a three-fourths vote of the members.

Conference B will include schools of less than 200 enrollment.

Only the "Double-A Conference" will play to a state championship, the A conference fighting it out to regional titles and the B conference to bi-district honors.

mitting that there is a definite place for the trained professional in helping to meet personal problems, the Bishop asserted, however, that the scientist, as a scientist, does not lead his patient to a vital religious contact with the healing spiritual forces.

Loss of Religion
Quoting the statement of a professional whom he designated the world's leading psychiatrist, Bishop Holt said he was told that in every case where a patient came to this psychiatrist with a personal problem, the origin of the problem was traced to loss of religious faith.

The bishop appeared as the speaker for the quarterly laymen's banquet of the Cisco district over which Presiding Elder J. B. Curry presided. But so greatly did attendance exceed the preparations of the Cisco Women's Missionary society for 310 that the program was moved to the church auditorium. Attendance on the banquet was 410, and a large part of the group were fed in the auditorium. Hundreds came after the banquet to hear the bishop. This was by far the largest that any district banquet has attracted. All were fed, however. Mrs. Bob Sanford is president of the Women's Missionary society. Mrs. J. E. Missionary society, Mrs. Will Reagan was in charge of menu and Mrs. J. E. Crawford of the decorations, which were in the autumn theme. N. C. Packer of the Duncan Coffee company, furnished the coffee for the meal.

Currys Honored
Following the address of Bishop Holt, the Rev. P. W. Walker of Eastland, spoke the admiration of the Cisco district for Presiding Elder J. B. Curry and Mrs. Curry, who are completing their fourth year of service, and Mrs. Ed Sneed of Dublin, district WMS secretary, presented them with a silver table service as a token of district appreciation and esteem.

Guests of Rev. and Mrs. Curry for the evening were Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Hall of Weatherford which the Rev. Mr. Hall is presiding elder of the Weatherford district; President G. C. Boswell of Weatherford college and members of the college faculty; President Tom Brabham of McMurry college, Abilene.

Bishop Holt left at noon today for Corsicana where he will speak

this afternoon and tonight Thursday he will fly to New York to meet with the nominating committee of the World Council of Churches of which he is chairman. He is a past president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

This morning he and the following were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Curry at a dove breakfast at the Curry home; Rev. and Mrs. Hall; Rev. and Mrs. Joe L. Patterson of the Cisco First church;
