Today, Thursday, July 4, is Independence Day. For me to attempt to point out the importance of the day would be a task that I am not capable of completing. On this day we celebrate the birth of a new nation and it is fitting and proper that we pay homage, not only to the Founding Fathers, but to the innumerable patriots who have given of their time and their lives to safeguard the privileges and opportunities that we inherit as citizens of the United States.

As we approach the third century in our history as a nation we can be thankful that with each succeeding generation leaders have appeared on the scene particularly suited for the needs of the time. What was originally called a "noble experiment" has evolved into the most powerful and most envied nation in world history.

Democracy is no longer a noble experiment. It has proven to be a permanent type of government that can withstand the stresses and strains, of whatever magnitude, from within and without. On July 4, we not only celebrate the Birth of a Nation we celebrate the beginning of a new way of life for all mankind wherever our example is emulated.

According to recent news stories some 59 American students have gone to Cuba despite warning from the government that they were making the trip illegally and that they would be prosecuted when they return home. Spokesmen for the group are singing the praises of the Castro regime in Cuba and seem to think the Cubans have a good thing going for them. People that are old enough to attend college and who are able to make an ocean voyage to Cuba by way of Europe, should know what they like and dislike and what is good for them. Instead of prosecuting the group when they return home, if I was running the show, I would cancel their passes and leave them in Cuba. Their kind of people belong with Castro.

Only time will tell, but on the face of things, present indications are that President Kennedy's trip to Europe will be of lasting value. In every country he visited his receptions were tremendous and no doubt will add to the solidarity of the Western Powers. Not only his visit but his promises reassured our NATO allies of our steadfast aim to protect and assist freedom loving nations, not only in Western Europe, but the world over.

About 10 a.m. Sunday Jones arrested Leroy Nava who had been driving the alleged stolen car. Owner of the car would not file complaint said investigating officer. Nava was fined $100 for operating motor vehicle without driver's license and drinking. Jimenez was fined $100 for drunk in control of motor vehicle.

Congressman Writes About Independence Day

THE FOURTH OF JULY

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all Men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness. . . ." So declared the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, on July 4, 1776.

Not only did these brave forefathers of ours thereby dedicate themselves to freeing the young country from the yoke of British oppression, but also by their Declaration of Independence they laid down a philosophy of government that has been of paramount influence through all the days of the Republic.

On this occasion of the 187th anniversary of that first Fourth of July, Independence Day, let us pause a moment to remember that Thomas Jefferson and the other "Representatives of the United States of America" were declaring their intention to establish a government more in keeping with distinctly American ideals than that government which had exercised such tyrannous power over the colonies and their peoples. The founders were not declaring their intention to do away with government, to substitute anarchy for "absolute Despotism." They declared it was their "Right . . . their Duty" to be free of British rule "and to provide new Guards for their future Security."

The "new Guards" were, of course, to be a new Government. The founders of our Nation said

WE will provide for ourselves as a self-governing United States, a government to be characterized in the immortal words of Abraham Lincoln, commemorating a battle fought 100 years ago this Independence Day, as ". . . of the people, by the people, for the people."

Those Americans who declared Independence and then fought to make it stick were opposing a government of such little regard for American feelings and desires that their leaders, from King George III through the Parliament, were

THEY— and not WE.

This early-American feeling that THEY— not WE— constituted the governing authority persists in some quarters today. Despite the demonstrable fact that through history our representative form of National government has remained responsive to the will of the majority while providing protections to minority rights, there are many Americans who decline to regard themselves as members of their government as citizens holding the franchise, the right of free speech, the right of petition and other rights assured by the Constitution. How many times on this Fourth of July will orators remind their audiences that WE Americans control our destiny through OUR voice in government, that the government is of US and is OURS. Many times, I hope, because that continues to be as true today as when the drafters of the Constitution chose to begin its magnificent expression with the words: "WE the People of the United States. . . ." Unfortunately, many citizens have fallen into the THEY habit in thinking of the government. On this Fourth of July, I would commend to them a re-reading of the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, and any good, thorough history of the United States.

As a boy, like most American youngsters, I expended more pennies than I should have in buying firecrackers to commemorate Independence Day. Now, many States and most cities have enacted laws to protect citizens from the dangers of pyrotechnic celebrating. Noting this fact, and to provide an appropriate substitute, the Senate and House this week enacted a resolution declaring that "the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence should be observed each year by the ringing of bells throughout the United States at the hour of 2 o'clock, eastern daylight time, in the afternoon of the 4th day of July, or at such other time on that day as many be determined by local authority."

The tolling of the Liberty Bell at Independence Hall in Philadelphia at 2 o'clock on the 4th day of July, 1776, proclaimed the signing of the Declaration of Independence. We've had Fourth of July bell-ringing since that time, and I'm glad the Congress has provided through the new resolution further encouragement of that practice.

In the Panhandle, 2 o'clock, eastern daylight time, will fall at noon. I hope everyone within reach of a bell goes forth to ring it proudly and that a great, if non-explosive, din will ensue.

In the top of the third, Cards blasted home three runs with the help of two walks, two hits and an error.

Yankees nicked the Cards in the bottom of third off two runs. Yanks got two base on balls and a hit. Cards came back fighting in the fourth to bring in two more runs on a walk, single and a double. Gene Schmucker was responsible for all the important double.

The Yanks scored one run in the fourth on a double by Melvin Wehington and a single by Carol Gerber. Yanks came up with three big runs in the bottom of the fifth to tie up the game, 7-7. Three costly Cardinal errors plus two walks and two singles caused the tie.

Cards started the sixth with determination and came through with the winning run a double by Kevin Wilhelm and an expensive Yankee error and a single by J. C. Pohlmeier.

Braves Pick Up Eighth Victory

Dimmitt Braves got by their arch rival, the Gold Sox Tuesday night by scoring four unearned runs in the top of the sixth inning to post a 5-3 victory.

Bobby Baker picked up the win after relieving Mark Wohlgenuth in the fourth inning. Danny Battles was credited with the loss when he relieved Larry Gambles in the fourth inning. Wohlgenuth walked one, struck out four, gave up three hits and two runs during his three innings on the mound and left trailing 2-1. Baker came in and walked one, struck out 4 and gave up one run to be credited with the win. Gambles walked four, struck out four and gave up only two hits and left the game with a 2-1 lead. Battles walked only two, struck out five, allowed three hits but gave up four runs with faulty backing in the last inning and got credit for the loss.

The Braves scored one run in the top of the second on a single, two walks and a wild pitch but the Gold Sox came right back in the bottom of the third and scored two runs on a single, triple and an error to go ahead for the first time in the game. They scored again in the bottom of the fifth on a walk and a single to up their lead to 3-1 going into the last inning.

The Braves took advantage of five Gold Sox errors in the sixth inning to score for runs. After they had scored one and had one out, Jerry Birdwell stole home when Mark Wohlgenuth struck out and the catcher missed the ball. This tied the game up at 3-3. Matthews scored the go-ahead run on a hit by Jerry Killingsworth and then Duke Chapman circled the bases for a three-error home run. Chapman hit the ball, it bounced over the pitcher's head and the short stop tried to throw him out at first but the throw was wild, Chapman ran to second and the second base man missed the ball and it went into left field and the runner went into third. When the left fielder threw the ball to third base it was abain missed and Chapman scored the last run of the game.

It was a hard loss for the Gold Sox who have been playing near perfect ball under Coach Murray Hall after getting off to a slow start.

Friday night, the Braves again scored the winning run in the last inning to edge the Nazareth Cardinals 6-5.

David Land pitched five innings in this game to get credit for the win. He gave up only 2 hits, three walks and struck out ten. Duke Chapman relieved him in the sixth and gave up two hits, 1 walk and one run but got out of the inning when two Cardinal runners were trapped at third base for a double play.

Land helped his own cause by getting two hits and making an unassisted double play in the sixth inning while playing at shortstop.

This makes the Braves record for the season stand at eight wins and one loss. They have a tied game that went eight innings to finish with the Red legs. The Red legs are the only team to defeat the Braves and this 4-4 tie game will be picked up later by starting at the top of the ninth inning where it left off. The Braves are the home team in this game and must win it to stay in contention with the Redlegs who are undefeated this season.

"Looking Through The Knot Hole"

With Myrtle

Good morning to you! Well I told you all about the pretty and serviceable Tappan Stoves and Dishwashers last week. Now I must tell about those fine Ideal cabinets, that you will want to finish your kitchen in high style.

Willson & Nichols have been selling the Ideal cabinets for many years, and they are much improved over the first ones.

The kitchen cabinets are made from such fine woods as the Blond Birch, Dark Philippine Mahogany or Maple.

You may want the plain wood cabinets put in and then paint them in your favorite color to match the color. Tappan Stove and Dishwasher.

I am liking the yellow colors now, such a cheerful color, especially on the north, but, those dark polished woods, with the smooth mill work using the copper toned Tappan stoves, refrigerator and dishwasher would be simply beautiful. Now don't forget the red and brown mixture in a pebble design Armstrong lineum for the cabinets tops. Let John Nichols show you his brochures on kitchen styles and colors.

I think you just might like a white kitchen, using the Ideal cabinets, Tappan accessories, and then use color in the Kertile floor.

Ideas are as many as there are folks ???

You will surely enjoy the Lady Flair cabinets, they are designed to help you create storage, facilities that are beautiful. They are made in many sizes to fit the big wall space or a small cabinet for the odd corner. These Ideal cabinets can be refinished to blend in with new decoration, when you grow tired of the old.

The doors and drawers operate smoothly and quietly and the edges are shaped at an angle to accent shadow lines. Is there a more aggravating thing than drawers that won't open or shut?, or drawers that stick? These all have the magnetic catches and semi concealed hinges; pulls are not furnished, so that you may choose from the many Ajax styles.

You might prefer the straight lines of the modern, while I might like the traditional of Provincial. These Ideal cabinets are very sturdy and are made through the use of mass production techniques in one of the nations largest mill work plants, making it possible for every one to enjoy these fine products.

Did you know that Ideal makes storage cabinet for the bathroom? Well they do, in all of the colors and sizes that you might need. Let me describe one bathroom. Use a rich purple Cook's paint on the base cabinet; the white Formica top with the walls painted a lovely soft orchid, use a mirror framed in white with drawer pulls and towel holder in gold. Purple accessories, use the lavender or white bath room units as the tub and bowl, etc. This color style would be different. These booklets surely do set your decorative mind to work. So why not go to John's store and let he, Bob or Lester show you these new ideas.

Bye now. (Pd. Adv.)

Jaycee Newsletter

By Carl V. Jowell

The last meeting of June was devoted to business and projects which will come up in the remaining summer months.

A letter from the National Jaycee office, branch on governmental affairs, was read and quoted on by Dr. Blackburn. The letter concerned was asking for support of this club of a "Domestic Peace Corp." Since the Jaycees of Dimmitt are a non-political organization we voted to table the issue pending further investigation.

Bob DuLaney was put in charge of the annual "Jaycee Air Show." Be sure to watch for the date of this event for Bob is planning for the greatest show ever for the Dimmitt area. Trophies were discussed for the "almost here" golf tournament. (If you haven't entered do it now.) There's going to be some beautiful trophies awarded in all divisions—and a world of fun and competition.

A number of our local merchants have been contacted about purchasing signs at our baseball park. If you haven't been called on and would like a good but inexpensive sign advertising your business then please contact the Jaycees.

There has been a slight "holdup" on the Junior Bowling Tournament but we feel the kinks are about ironed out and hope to see this event start shortly.

It was our great pleasure to have the Rev. Hugh Blaylock of the First Methodist Church of Dimmitt and Thain Roberts, a specialty salesman from Amarillo, as our guests last Thursday. We hope that you gentlemen will return soon.

The Jaycees are devoted to bettering our community through civic activities and charitable work. This is a task we all strive for—but as any organization, we need the help not only of members within the club but of the community itself. We are always looking for new members also. See you next week.

Sale Of Farm Is Taxable

The sale of a farm is taxable, says Elton W. Davidson, Administrative Officer at the Plainview office of Internal Revenue. Mr. Davidson points out that farmers must pay tax on any gain on the sale of their farm or other capital items, even though they may turn around and use the money to buy another farm or similar item.

In a letter to County Agricultural Agents, the District Director of Internal Revenue in Dallas asked the County Agents to help IRS correct the erroneous thinking. The tax man advised farmers to check the tax consequences before they sell, trade, or swap.

Mr. Hottel, the local County Agent, has pointed out that farmers can get a good general idea of taxes owned by reading the farmers tax guide furnished free by the Internal Revenue Service.

The Wright Slant On Washington

By Congressman Jim Wright
IT IS TIME FOR some very plain words on the subject of civil rights. May they be both sober and clear.

It is not a time for harsh name calling or for bitter recriminations. It is not a time to see who can shout the loudest.

It is a time when the hasty, intemperate expression can be like a lighted firecracker carelessly thrown into a tank of gasoline. It is not a time to get stampeded. It is a time for sanity.

IN THE FIELD of civil rights, we are dealing with matters which go to the very heart of our Constitution and its guarantees of individual freedom.

These rights cannot be vouchsafed only to those people we like. They would be less than worthless if they acted to protect only those with whom we agree. Either the Constitution is for all, or it is for none.

I feel sure I was not the only American who shuddered deeply when the infamous Nazi Oppressor, Adolph Eichmann, was executed by an Israeli court. Surely the man has committed despicable moral crimes against humanity, but as an American I rebelled instinctively against his being sentenced under a law and a jurisdiction which had not existed at the time of his misdeeds. For this amounted to an Ex Post Facto law, forbidden in this country under our Constitution. And the shining genius of American jurisprudence is that here even an Eichmann is entitled to equal protection under the law.

Thus we had the spectacle last year of the American Civil Liberties Union coming to the defense of Mr. Edwin A. Walker on the ground that he was being held illegally and denied due process. Philosophically or ideologically, there was little in common between the political views of the former General and those of the organization that spoke up for him. The points is that unless we can exert ourselves to protect the rights of other American citizens with whom we disagree, we really don't believe very profoundly in the Constitutional liberties.

And that is something to be pondered by the hotheads on both extremes of the current civil rights disturbances.

LAST WEDNESDAY the President sent a civil rights message to Congress. He proposed a number of new legal approaches which he considers necessary to protect human rights.

Among other things, he requested a law which would guarantee to people of all racial groups the full and equal use not only of our tax Schools and parks and libraries, but of private business establishments as well. It would require the corner grocer, the cafe down the block, the hotel downtown, to serve all races equally whether they want to or not.

Laying aside the moral and ethical obligation of a store owner to extend hospitality to any one who enters his doors, the question is: Does the government really have a right to force him to do so against his will?

Let us remember that the store owner also has some constitutional rights and one of them is the right of private property.

THERE IS a very basic difference between publicly owned facilities and privately owned facilities. There is a difference between rights and conveniences. They are not the same.

I have supported legislation to guarantee unmoled voting rights to all Americans regardless race. There really can be no doubt that a few States still unlawfully employ subtleties to deprive American citizens of the right to vote. Surely by the rule of reason a person who has completed six grades of school must be presumed to be literate. The right to vote is a basic, fundamental, sacred thing. The convenience of attending a certain theatre or eating in a certain cafe, while understandably important to people, is legally another matter.

On tax supported institutions, the government has not only the right but the duty to insist that the same rights be accorded to all of our citizens.

Fifteen years ago, the Supreme Court ruled that Texas had to admit qualified Negro students to our State University. In solemn respect for the law, Texas did so. . . without incident and without subsequent disadvantage to any Texan. I think Texas was absolutely right to do so. . . morally, legally, anyway you want to look at it.

Our State universities are built and operated by our tax dollars, and they belong to all of us together.

BUT MY neighbor's store does not belong to me, nor to all of us together. It belongs to him. I enter his door only at his pleasure. Even though my trade, and that of my other neighbors, may be the only thing that keeps him in business, it still is his right to deny me service if he wishes. . . however offensive that decision might be to me.

Obviously, it is offensive. . . indeed, repugnant. . . to be turned away from an establishment through no fault of one's own. Someone to whom it has never happened probably can't know how deeply offensive it is.

The point was made by the President that Negro citizens traveling across the county on our highways cannot find places to stop, sleep or eat through certain whole sections. And that is truly deplorable.

Yet this could be remedied by means other than legal coercion. Perhaps the Small Business Administration should make loans available to individuals who would like to provide such business services in areas where they are lacking. The Commerce Department might even distribute road maps identifying establishments where such service can be obtained.

BY THE voluntary method, literally thousands of private establishments during the past few years have willingly opened their doors for the first time to Negro citizens.

Surely it must be more satisfying to anyone to know that he enters another person's property, not because some law commands his admission, but because he is welcome.

We have come a long way, and we have a way yet to go before all Americans will be treated with respect and decency. Part of it has to be earned; part of it has to be learned. It cannot always be commanded by law. We make no permanent gain in rights by violating rights of others. Our rights rest in the Constitution, but the Constitution rests upon the voluntary willingness of the citizenry to protect the rights of other people. . . and on our mutual ability to solve our problems by reason and not by riot.

Senator YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

Dear Fellow Texan:

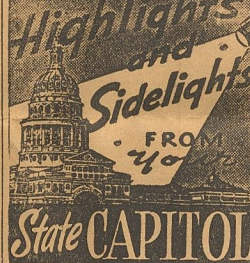

We have had real progress this week on one of my key measures, S. 5, the Cold War GI Bill. This bill was voted out of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee two to one with a recommendation that the senate pass it. The bill is on the way. Thirty-nine senators are co-sponsoring it. Senator Ernest Gruening of Alaska spoke out on the Senate floor last week, and Senator Jennings Randolph of West Virginia and Wayne Morse of Oregon spoke for it in the committee. More and more senators are rallying to this, the most-needed, best educational bill pending in the Congress.

Why is it the best bill? Because its value is already proven. Under the GI Bills of World War II and the Korean Conflict, 10 million young Americans went to school. They gave us the margin in science and engineering that is helping keep us ahead of the Soviet Union in the broad fields of science and engineering today. Right now, the Soviet Union is graduating about three times as many scientists and engineers and four times as many doctors every year as we are. They are closing the gap.

Too many young men of America today just can't afford these long years of study. This GI Bill would help our young veterans come out of the service and make up some of the lost time. It is a readjustment bill to help them catch up with the civilian economy that passed them by while they were serving for more than two years.

What does this bill provide? First and most importantly, educational opportunity with a day and a half of education for each day of service up to three years. It provides for high school, to help them finish high school, for college, for on-the-job training, business training, on-the-farm training and also has guarantee and direct loan assistance for the purchase of homes, including the farm or ranch home.

Creation of many new lakes in Texas has resulted in a money problem for the State Highway Commission.

Commission Chairman Herb Petry Jr. of Carrizo Springs expounded on the situation when a Nacogdoches delegation headed by Carl Monk and County Judge F.L. Harris came to Austin to ask for a farm-to-market road from Nacogdoches to McGee Bend Reservoir, now 59 per cent complete. Petry said cities and lakes are draining heavily on state road funds. He pointed out that the State Highway Department worked up a plan for access roads to McGee Bend in 1959. That work has been proceeding in cooperation with the surrounding counties. But there was no new Nacogdoches County road in the plan.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer stated that the farm-to-market road law specifically authorizes use of that money for building roads to recreation areas. Petry said some people call these fish-to-market roads.

PADRE'S DEED— Lawyers have drawn up the deed by which state-owned land in Laguna Madre will be transferred to the United States. This land is to become a part of the Padre Island National Seashore.

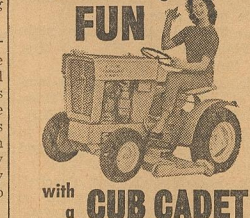

But deed can't be signed by the School Land Board until the law authorizing the transfer takes effect on August 23.

VACATION— Gov. John Connally and his family took off for the family ranch at Floresville for a brief vacation. So far his vacation has been interrupted twice for speeches in Austin and Dallas.

Connally also took along a pile of work to do. He has many appointments to state boards, commissions and courts to make. He gathered up a file of letters containing recommendations. These will help him decide whom to name to the two new Courts of Civil Appeals (at Corpus Christi and Tyler), to the new Parks and Wildlife Commission, and to many other state boards.

He also obtained no opinion from Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, saying that the six new justices he will name need not live in the districts at the time of their appointments. Only requirement is that they move into the district before they take oath of office.
