There must be a reason, but I don't know what it could be, for the difference in voting opinions of wheat and cotton farmers in regards to production quotas. Wheat farmers rejected wheat quotas in the last referendum while cotton farmers always give a preponderant majority in favor for cotton quotas. The history of farming, so far as the so-called basic commodities are concerned, is identical economically. When cotton was selling for five cents a pound wheat was going at twenty-five cents a bushel, certainly this is not a situation that is easy to forget. For the first time in history a government program was evolved to give the agricultural industry some semblance of economic stability, and from the beginning it has been left up to the farmers to accept or reject production quotas.

It may be argued that wheat farmers are more independent, sometimes referred to as rugged individualism, than cotton farmers but it is doubtful that cotton farmers would be any more bankrupt than would wheat farmers if the price of commodities was allowed to drop to depression day levels. Cotton farmers passed the recent quota referendum by an overwhelming majority and by so doing protected their independence and enhanced their status in the nation's economic structure.

Mr. Edwin (Goose) Ramey attempted to sweeten the disposition of the News family last week with a liberal gift of home-grown honey. When Viola tasted that honey she registered the most pleased expression I have seen on her face since the kids left home. I guess it is what is called comb-honey, it still has that goosy snuff mixed in the flavor is delicious and the stinking and holding properties, on dentures, is all that could be expected. Thanks Mr. Ramey.

MONEY-CREDIT CONFERENCE CONCLUDED SUCCESSFULLY

First speaker on the agenda at the Money-Credit Conference held last Thursday morning in the Legion Hall here was James Murphrey, Area Farm Management Specialist of Amarillo.

He spoke to the group on 'Managing the Farm Business.' The speaker pointed out the three main money concerns of the individual are earning money, spending money and investing or saving money.

Murphrey said, "We like to get a return per dollar invested." He told the group that successful farmers would use their resources wisely, check their capital and have a manager's ability.

In checking capital Murphrey said 'Size of your operation will determine what your unit per production is.'

He continued, "Determine whether we can produce the commodity at economic profit to us."

The specialist pointed out the marks of a good farm manager. They include good knowledge and practical use of economic production, use of persuasive powers, must have a good knowledge of mechanical and technical skills of today, concern for people around you and look after legal arrangements.

Argen Draper, Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Agent was one of the guest speakers for the conference. She talked to the group about credit and family living.

Mrs. Draper commented, "Young people should discuss money before marriage but few do." She said, "First quarrels are usually over money."

She pointed out that the average income of American families with five members is $6,000 year. This rate is even higher in Castro County.

A few tips given by the speaker included the establishment of a family council, keeping of records and a savings account for the family.

She said, "Only use credit when the benefit justifies the cause or risk involved."

The H.D Agent declared, "Assume no more debt than the family can manage on present budget."

The interesting speaker pointed out that credit is man's confidence in man.

"In America 65 per cent of major durable goods reach the family by credit," Mrs. Draper explained.

She gave a rule of thumb applying to credit. "If debts are more than 40 per cent of assets, the family is in dangerous financial health."

A simple rule for installment buying according to Mrs. Draper is to buy only two things on the credit and when you have paid these items off then purchase two more things, etc.

Mrs. Draper pointed out when it is smart to use credit: when buying something that will last for years, when buying a necessity not a luxury and when you don't have to pay extra for it.

She said, "To determine your credit needs make a net income record."

Establish a good credit rating. Shop or credit as you shop for other things. Shop for the credit that fits your needs," declared to the speaker.

Requirements for credit according to Mrs. Draper are the individual credit reference and insurance to cover indebtedness. She said, "Character and repaying abilities are major factors in securing good credit."

She concluded, "Credit is a useful tool if you stay in command of it."

Presbyterians To Present Seasonal Program, Sunday

Presbyterian Church will present a Christmas program Sunday evening, December 20 at 7 p.m. announced Burr Morris, pastor today.

A special Christmas Eve midnight communion service is also being planned, according to the pastor for December 24 at 11:30 p.m. This will be second annual observance of a special tradition started by this rather new church.

"It is believed to be the only such Protestant rite of its kind in Dimmitt; therefore, the whole community is invited to participate," states Mr. Morris, pastor.

Lynn Parks, specialist in Consumer Education at Texas A & M Agricultural Extension Service gave the third talk of the morning on 'Consumer Information Relating to Textiles and Clothing.'

She opened her address with the pertinent fact that in 1963 expenditures for textiles and clothing were $31 billion.

Miss Parks told the group, "Clothing prices are greatly affected by perishability of the item."

She commented, "Consumer's are major considerations in clothing industry, quality often suffers."

She commented, "Consumer's interest can be left behind in the rush to market by producers."

The speaker pointed out some guarantees which should be noted by consumers: how the fabric will perform, are there any special finishes, how to use the fabric or garment, how to care fabric or garment and name of retail store who produced it.

Mrs. Lula McAdams, mother of Mrs. Floyd Stanford of Dimmitt, passed away at 12:17 p.m. Sunday in Amarillo Osteopathic Hospital Mrs. McAdams was 79.

Miss Parks said, "Manufacturers sometimes tell the consumer all the good qualities of his product but fail to point out the weak spots. The consumer is allowed to find out for himself."

Allen Roberson of Merrill-Lynch-Pierce-Penner and Smith, Inc. of Amarillo spoke to the group about "Your Investment Dollar."

Mr. Roberson said, Investment in stocks should only be made with surplus money.

He answered the question "How much money can you expect to make in common stocks?"

He pointed out that common stocks pay off in dividends and change of value in your shares in the company.

"Your money can be doubled, tripled in a year, six months or overnight on the stock market. You can also lose your money in the same way," the speaker pointed out.

Roberson declared, "Stocks depend on what you buy, when you buy and when you sell."

In planning a long range stock program, you need to go to a professional.

Local Post Office To Receive First Class Rating Soon

According to an official notice, Dimmitt Post Office will be identified as First Class post office effective January 2, 1965 announces Postmaster Ernest Davis.

Dimmitt moved from a second class rating to a first class rating due to gain in receipts of gross revenue. "The change is based on gross revenue for fiscal year 1964," states Postmaster Davis.

Gross revenue for the government fiscal year (July 1, 1963 through June 30, 1964) at the Dimmitt Post Office was $62,324.24.

The official change to first class will be July 1, 1965. On January 2, 1965 the local post office will only be identified as first class.

The Postmaster's official title will be Postmaster First Class office, KP-27.

This new rating will affect the box rent rates. They will be increased by a small margin according to Davis.

Hospital Chaplain Program Slated

A volunteer Hospital Chaplain program was announced Monday by the Ministerial Association of Castro County.

Beginning Monday, December 21, the Chaplain will visit each patient offering help of the churches and will contact the patient's minister or church. He will also be on call for any emergency, day or night.

In the past, many ministers have not been contacted for several days after the patient entered. Accident victims and their families needing counseling and other help always found it ready available. A room is being provided for prayer and meditation, according to Don Newman, hospital administrator.

Fourteen ministers of the county are already scheduled to participate in this program, under the leadership of Hugh Blaylock, minister of the Methodist Church in Dimmitt, and president of the association.

Cotton Farmers Approve 1965 Marketing Quotas

Castro County cotton farmers approved marketing quotas on the 1965 crop by a heavy margin of 88.59 per cent in a turnout of 284 voters across the county.

The local ASCS office give the following returns: Flagg DNE 29, For 3, Against Easter B 34, For 4, Against Nazareth A & E 40, For 3, Against Dimmitt C 61, For 7, Against Hart E, 52, For 1, Against Sunnyside D & E 22, For 6, Against Arney A 10, For 5, Against.

Voters cast a total of 284 votes. There were 248 for and 29 against with 7 disqualified.

Approval of the quotas nationally Tuesday will mean that price supports will be available next year at 65 to 90 per cent of parity to growers who comply with their acreage allotment.

An additional price support payment, not to exceed 15 per cent of the base support rate, also will be available to growers who comply with their domestic allotments which for 1965 will be 65 per cent of the base or original farm allotment.

Price support levels on the 1965 crop are not expected to be announced until early next year.

The outcome of the referendum Tuesday also will mean that marketing quota penalties, equal to 50 per cent of the cotton parity price as of next June 15, will apply to growers who exceed their acreage allotments.

This penalty on "excess" cotton this year was 20.4 cents per pound. Growers who exceed their acreage allotments when marketing quotas are in effect also are not eligible for price support loans.

Postal Patrons Urged To Mail Now

"It's too late to mail early, so please mail now," Postmaster Davis said today.

"The biggest mail explosion in history is upon us and we need the cooperation of everyone to make sure that the holiday mail is all delivered before Christmas," the Dimmitt Postmaster said.

Mr. Davis suggested the use of air mail and special delivery to guarantee pre-Christmas delivery, especially for out-of-town mail.

In all instances, the use of ZIP Codes will be helpful. The codes generally mean that mail moves in a more direct route and is handled fewer times. Parcels with Zipped address may be delivered 24 hours or more before others going to the same destination which do not include the five digit code.

Postmaster Davis announced that Only special delivery mail will be holiday schedule Christmas Day. Only Special delivery mail will be delivered on Dec. 25. Mr. Davis thanked all the citizens for their cooperation in the 'Shop and Mail Early' campaign. However, there still is a small mountain of holiday mail which must be delivered," he said.

Eleven County Accidents Occur During November

There were eleven rural traffic accidents in Castro County during the month of November, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

From these crashes resulted eleven persons injured and a loss of $6,455.00 in property damage.

Summarizing rural traffic accidents from January through November of 1964, the picture shows 117 wrecks, four persons killed, eleven persons injured and $64,428.00 in property damage.

The most deadly month of the year is here again. The Patrol Supervisor stated that during each month of the past five years there was only one month higher than the month of December. Of the 12,171 persons killed during the last five years over 10 per cent of them were killed during the month of December.

Of the 1,246 persons killed in traffic accidents during the month of December over the past five years over 30 per cent were killed during the Christmas holidays. This means that the Christmas holidays are about three times as deadly as the remaining days during the month of December.

The month of December for 1963 was the most deadly month in the history of Texas. The Sergeant appealed to every motorist and pedestrian, "Please do not let this become a reality again."

Fallen Leaves Con Boost Next Year's Garden

Jack Frost and freezing weather and the leaves come tumbling down. Naturally, they clutter yards and gardens but can be a boost to next year's flower or vegetable garden if handled properly.

Put them in a compost pile, says Dr. Charles D. Welch, soil chemist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Although it may be easier to burn them, the extra time required to put the leaves in a compost pile will return big dividends.

The compost can be used next year to increase organic matter in the soil or for mulching flowers, shrubs or vegetables. Organic matter increases the soil's ability to hold water and plant nutrients and makes the soil easier to work, explains Welch. Mulches are valuable for controlling soil temperature and conserving moisture.

Making a compost pile is a simple operation. Scrap lumber or a few feet of net wire and four posts will take care of the enclosure, the chemist points out. Starting with a six-inch layer of leaves—for a four-foot square enclosure—enclosure—dissolve about three-fourths cup of commercial fertilizer such as 12-12-12 in water and sprinkle the solution over the leaves. For each 50 square feet, spread about one pint of fertilizer over each six-inch layer.

Alternate layers should be added until the pile reaches the desired height, suggests Welch. The top layer should be left somewhat saucer-shaped to aid in holding water on the leaves.

Decomposition will be enhanced if the leaves are turned and mixed occasionally and if water is added during dry periods. In areas where soils are acid, the chemist recommends adding a cup of lime to the fertilizer before spreading it on the leaves.

Tax Man Sam Sez

Farmers who are through gathering their crops need to do a little more plowing before January 1. The County Agents or the Internal Revenue Service have the free 1965 "Farmer's Tax Guides" in. Most farmers will find it profitable to get down there and get a copy and plow through the 67 page book. It is to late to do anything about your taxes after the end of the year. (Of course, it won't be too late to pay the taxes you owe.)

Money-Credit-

fessional broker according to the speaker.
Roberson pointed out the pitfalls to watch for: rumor or tip that certain stock is going to do big things in near future, attempt to buy stock no one knows about and do not let price of stock stop you from buying it.

Roberson commented, "Do not be afraid of Wall St. This is the place where money can be made."
Edd McLeroy, vice-president of local First State Bank concluded the conference with a 15-minute talk about the banker and the farmer.

McLeroy said, "Both the banker and farmer are faced with higher operating costs and narrower margin returns."
He continued, "Both banker and farmer in agricultural area need each other in order to produce."

The vice-president pointed that the banker must satisfy the conflicting demands of five groups of people. They are stock holders, depositors, borrowers, employees and government.

The local Bank reports, "Farm loan amounts on cultivated acres have doubled since 1957."
"What does the banker think when the farmer comes in and applies for a loan?"

McLeroy says, "We look at the six C's of credit which are character, capabilities, collateral, capital, coverage and circumstances."
He commented, "If the score is low on first three C's then the borrower must do a real selling job to the banker."

The speaker said, "Today, the character and capabilities carry a large amount of weight with the banker."
McLeroy pointed out records a farmer should have for banker and himself: annual financial statement inventory of fixed assets and operating statement.

The speaker gave the rules of sound credit for farmers: borrow only for purposes which will add farm income, keep debt in line with equity, keep debt in line with probable income and limit your borrowing from enterprises you do not fully understand.

McLeroy declared, "Farming today is the most capitalistic of any American industry."
"Proper use of money and credit has not kept pace with other advancements in modern technologies comments McLeroy.

Xmas Extravaganza

ing white satin dresses and golden wings portrayed the appearance of the angels on that first Christmas night long ago. Angel were Deana Hargrove, Elaine Cook, Shery Bruelgel, Judy Birdwell, Donna Gilreath, Jane Bates, Ronda Tidwell and Rebecca Stanford.
Doing a good job as shepherds were Calvin Jackson, Mike Stringer and Terry Sofie. The wise men were ably portrayed by David Schaeffer, Clay Armstrong and Jerry Gray as they brought their gifts to the Christ Child.

With hearty voices the fifth grade choir sang Styne's arrangement of "Let It Snow" to conclude the fourth unit of the program.
In a grand finale of Christmas spirit the choirs rendered several musical numbers. The colored children of Mrs. Doss' and Mrs. Porter's room sang the rhythmic Christmas spiritual "Go Tell it on the Mountain."

Fourth grade presented her impressive "Little Drummer Boy" followed by the fifth grade choir singing the rollicking tune of "Jingle Bells."
Sixth grade choir gave Wilson's arrangement of "Pine Cones and Holly Berries" followed by "It's Beginning to Look Like Christmas."

The three grades combined to sing the all-time favorite White Christmas. The 330-voice choir closed the program with A Merry Texas Christmas, You All!"
Kathleen Robinson is to be commended for her striking performance of directing with such delicate skill the 330-voice grade school choir. Also to be praised for their able assistance are Courtney Armstrong and James W. Bates. Hard work and plenty of talent sums up the directors of the "Christmas Extravaganza."

Mrs. Keith Howard gave a talented performance in her organ accompaniments. Others on the program included Jimmy Green as Santa Claus and Bob Duke in charge as Santa Claus and Bob Duke in charge of sleigh bells.

G. W. PFEIFFENBERGER

Pfeiffenberger, Friend Of Cotton Industry Dies

George William Pfeiffenberger, 56 year old Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc and one of cotton's greatest benefactors, died of cancer at 7:30 a. m. December 15 in St. Mary's Hospital, Lubbock. He underwent surgery on June 5 of this year and was readmitted to the hospital December 6. A resident of 2301 60 th Street, Lubbock, he is survived by his wife, Charlotte; a daughter, Ann, of Lubbock, and a son, Will, who is teaching physics in the U. S. Naval Graduate School Monterey, California.

Services will be held today at 10:30 a.m. in Christ the King Catholic Church.
Pfeiffenberger, a native of Dayton, Ohio, accepted the position at Plains Cotton Growers when it was organized in 1956 and built it to one of the largest and most effective cotton producer organizations in the U. S. In 1961 he was chosen "Cotton's Man of the Year" by Cotton Digest Magazine and in May of this year was awarded an Honorary Doctor of Science Degree by Texas Technological College for outstanding service to the cotton industry and to the High Plains area. He was most recently selected as "South-wide Man of the Year in Southern Agriculture" by Progressive Farmer Magazine and will be featured in that publication's January issue.

Pfeiffenberger was known and respected around the world for his research work in the development of fiber testing instrumentation milling techniques and has written two textbooks for International Correspondence Schools on cotton opening and picking at textile mills. He has published many articles in the Textile Research Journal, Cotton Gin and Oil Mill Press, Cotton Trade Journal, Cotton Digest, Extension Magazine, Careers magazine and numerous other publications. Lectures given by Pfeiffenberger in some 25 states and 10 foreign countries have been translated into three foreign languages.

Under Pfeiffenberger's direction Plains Cotton Growers has gained such major benefits for the high Plains cotton industry as a separate and higher price for light spotted cotton; uniform humidification of classing offices at Lamesa, Brownfield and Lubbock; release and reapportionment of cotton acreage allotments; reactivation and modernization of the Textile Research Laboratories at Texas Tech; Specialized Agricultural Weather Service; instigation of the Boll Weevil Control Program and many, many, others.
Pfeiffenberger's entire adult life in 1930 when he was one of the first cotton technologists in the newly formed Cotton Fiber Laboratory of the U.S.D.A. in Washington D. C. This was the beginning in the United States of the first real program of cotton fiber research on a scientific basis. In this capacity he learned the basic structure of fibers and the measurements of their chemical and physical properties, and collaborated in developing the first uses of color instruments to determine fiber color qualities, and helped develop color measurements as an important and integral part of establishing government cotton standards for trading of cotton in commerce.
From 1930 to 1945 while in the Cotton Division of the U.S.D.A., Pfeiffenberger was a staff member of the Washington Laboratory, Stoneville, Mississippi Ginning Laboratory, and College Station, Texas as Spinning Laboratory, thus following cotton and developing techniques or research from fiber through ginning and spinning. He received on-the-job training in textiles in Olonson College in 1938, at that time one of the leading textile schools. During this period he developed keen interest in instrument design and contributed to group improvement of instruments for fiber research, cotton drying lint cleaning machinery, moisture and seed test methods and the setting up of ginning and spinning research techniques. He also did on-the-job study and training in Statistics and technical writing for analyzing research data and writing reports for publication.
In 1945 he accepted the position for Cotton Research Director for the Chicopee Manufacturing Corporation (a subsidiary of Johnson & Johnson; in Lubbock, Texas and later in Chicopee Falls, Massachusetts. This was a new phase, in which the setting up of a pilot plant at Texas Tech, and its operation, was the key point. Here he carried out large scale research operations in the pilot plant and converted the results of this research into full scale mill operations of vive Chicopee Mills in New England and the Southeast. This involved cotton purchasing and certain phases of mill management and many of the basic things learned in the scientific laboratories in prior years were here appleated in commercial operators. During his time, approximately 194 Mr. Pfeiffenberger developed an air-flow instrument for cotton fineness, rapid enough for large volume testing and commercial use, which ante-dated the Micronaire by about two years. He also perfected lint cleaning machines for textile mills and contributed ideas and assistance in gin lint cleaner development.

Consumers Show More Interest In Research

Consumers are becoming more concerned with research. The purchases they make in the market place are the basic criterion used by industry as indicator of demand and the key guide for further research.

Consumers also are becoming more sophisticated and selective, says Mrs. Eula J. Newman, Extension Service home management specialist at Texas A & M University. They're doing more label-reading and packing-investigation before buying at the market. For example, the words "instant" and "convenience" means different things. Comparative costs of different forms of the same food get more attention.

Consumers are benefiting from a highly mechanized, technologically-oriented society. The multiple effects of change creates economic growth. Consumers in Nebraska can have on their table in any season the same food as those in Maine and Florida.

The primary goal of researchers is to improve the income position of producers and the satisfaction of the consumer. This is done through improved quality and amount of products, greater convenience in use and even lower prices.

New York, N.Y.
September 18, 1897

Dear Editor:
I am 8 years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, "If you see it in the Sun it's so." Please tell me the truth - is there a Santa Claus?
Yours truly,
Virginia O'Hanlon

Yes, Virginia

Yes, indeed!
Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age—they do not believe except what they see—they think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible to their little minds.
"All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little."
"In this great universe of ours, man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence, capable of grasping the whole truth and knowledge."
"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus."
"He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal fight with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished."
"Not believe in Santa Claus? You might as well not believe in fairies!"
"You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus—the most real things in the world are those neither children nor men can see.

"Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there—nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders that are unseen and unseeable in the world."
"You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, or even the united strength of all the strongest men, that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside the curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty of all glory beyond."
"Is it all real?—ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding."
"No Santa Claus! Thank God! he lives, and he lives forever—a thousand years, from now, Virginia, nay, ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the hearts of childhood."

Charles Harris To Represent DHS On TV Debate Program

This is the topic which will be discussed on the KFDD-TV and KFDW-TV teenage discussion show which will start December 20. Charles Harris will represent Dimmitt High School on the debate team. He will do a video tape on December 19, and can see the show at home the following day. Each student will state his reasons pro and con on cars, clothes, money and other items which are 'status symbols' to teenagers of America today.

We would like to congratulate Charles on this fine honor. We know he will represent our school with dignity.

Mid-Term Nears

Have you, the students of DHS realized that mid-term will soon be here? Half of our school year has nearly passed. The seniors realized this on the morning of December 10th. What brought their attention to this fact? They ordered their invitations. Each senior suddenly realized that the 'eventful day' is drawing near. Graduation. How wonderful it will be. Many say, 'It will be a pleasure to graduate,' but will it? They will not have the opportunity to come to school each day and study and work with their classmates. However, college is the next step for many of our seniors. Here they will meet new friends. But no senior will forget the wonderful memories that have been left behind in the halls of old DHS. Yes, we can truly say, 'the time is drawing near.'

Around The Campus

What is all the excitement? Oh, the seniors are still exchanging pictures which arrived last Thursday. —Well, finally Miss Britten is back. We surely are glad. We will have to take it easy for a little while so that she can fully recuperate.

—Last Thursday the seniors also ordered graduation invitations. That is just one indication that 'that' time is not far from now. If you have an inquisitive nature, ask Miss Griffing what that rice policeman had to say. Then ask Kerry Struve who followed him around all day Sunday. And if you really want to know, ask Donny Stokes what he did all last week.

Homemaking Girls Give Style Show Last Thursday

On Thursday, December 4, at 7:30 p.m., the Homemaking III and IV girls gave a style show of the garments they constructed in class. They gave the show in the speech room for the Young Homemakers.

Some of the things that the girls made were suits, coats, party dresses, and formals. Four of these girls who made suits were Ginger Kemp, Irene Thornton, Glenda Smiley, and Johnnie Holcomb. Ginger wore a green wool blazer with matching skirt. She wore a yellow blouse and had black accessories. Irene made a greenwool suit with an 'A' line skirt. Her green and brown print blouse and green accessories complemented her outfit. Glenda modeled a basic black with matching accessories. She added extra color with her pastel pink blouse. Johnnie looked very attractive in her bright red wool suit with a blazer jacket. She accented her suit with black patent accessories.

Two of the Homemaking IV girls constructed new winter coats. They were Joanie Hammonds and Sue Hendrix. Joanie wore a full length white wool coat with three-quarter length sleeves. She wore a white knit dress under her coat and accented her garment with red patent accessories. Sue modeled a red wool walking suit fashioned from the 'Vogue'. Her three-quarter length coat was worn over a fitted skirt and she wore black accessories.

Donna Carmichael wore a blue velvet sheath with a blue lace overskirt. She had matching blue lace covered shoes. Linda Davis made a party dress for her home experience. It was a blue brocade sheath with matching jacket. She wore white accessories.

Four girls - Valeria Millsap, Linda Kuntz, Patty Catoe, and Janis Moore - made formals. Valeria made a floor length white formal of peau de soie. The bodice was made of royal blue velvet with a matching lace overblouse. Linda Kuntz made a tan floor length formal. Her bodice with made of taffeta and the skirt was tan bro-

Who's Who

This weeks 'Who's Who' is one of the up and coming members of the junior class. She was born on July 7, 1948, in Amherst, Texas. 'Squeaky' moved to our community with her family in 1954, and has lived here since. Her telephone number begins with 6 and ends with 9.

This young lady is known throughout DHS for her pleasant personality and keen sense of humor. She is a fair student, and is well liked by everyone. Who could she be?

cade. Patty constructed a white floor length formal of peau de soie. She wore a white lace overblouse over it. Janis Moore modeled her pastel aqua formal. The entire dress was made of whipped cream. The floor length dress was slim and had had a draped neckline.

Surprise Birthday Party Given To Madelyn Smith

After school Monday afternoon there was a surprise party given at Linda Davis' house for Madelyn Smith on her eighteenth birthday. After Madelyn had arrived and was greeted with a great big 'Surprise', she opened her presents and then refreshments were served. Hostesses for the party were Linda Davis, Alice Acker and Kathy Huckabay. There was sixteen girls attending the party. We hope Madelyn had a very happy birthday.

Aunt Mahitabel

Dear Aunt Mahitabel: Recently you have received a letter from me telling you of the 'tragic love affair.' You said it was fake—no, phony was the word I believe you used. But, apparently, you are too old to know the misfortunes of young lovers. You have probably had a few lovers in your time—some living as far away as Hereford. But this is 'hearsay'. If you have had but one lover you have just got to understand my situation. Please don't tell me I am a fraud. Give me some advice.

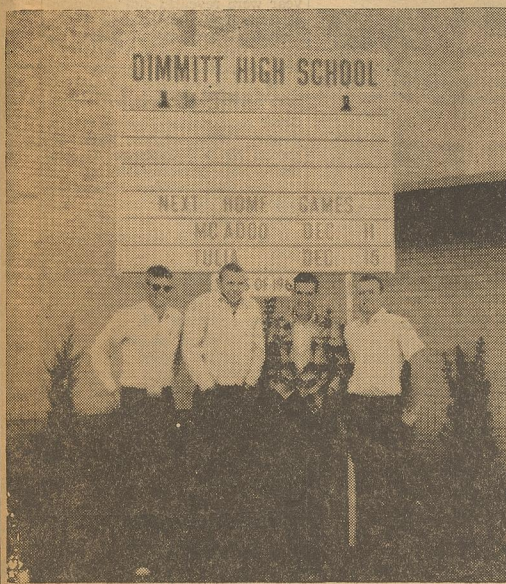

Lost Lover, P.S. My lost love is now going with a boy from Hereford, named John. Dear Lost Lover, Please accept my most humble apologies for saying that your letter was phony. We are all inclined to make mistakes, and I made a big one, I am truly sorry.

Now, about your problem—From what your last letter says, I am inclined to believe that your ex-lover is no longer going with your best friend, which is a point in your favor. It seems as if she is rather, ficklehearted, and she goes from one boyfriend to another. Now, you say, she has jumped clear to Hereford. She may find out that this John isn't exactly what she thought he would be. If she is really as fickle as she seems, you might as well try to forget her. It will probably be a long time before she gets back around to you. Date other girls. It will be hard at first, but time heals all wounds. I know—I've been there.

Aunt Mahitabel, Dear Aunt Mahitabel, We know this boy who has a terrible problem!! We just have to help this poor boy. He just doesn't get out of life what other people get out of it!! He is very odd, and very sentimental and since this other girl and I are so understanding we would like to help him understand life!! !!No one else is as helpful as this other girl and we were wondering if you could give us some advice on such an odd case as this. It really is getting to be a problem!!!

Thank you, Two Understanding Females Dear Two Understanding Females Leave the boy alone. He will get from life what he puts into it. Let him live his own life—you can't live it for him. Aunt Mahitabel

Bobcat Tale Philosopher Individuality In The Classroom

We fail to realize at times how different each of us are and how this can affect our ways of doing things.

For instance, different teachers can present the same material to their classes and put over same thoughts and ideas but in such diametrically opposite manners that the students of these classes might not even recognize the teachings of one instructor after having studied under another.

It is also true that different classes, being made up of all types of students, progress at various speeds, and, therefore, one group, usually a smaller one or one with several quick-to-learn students, progresses much faster than a large class or one with slower students.

We as students should realize this more fully and understand why we do not have the same identical lessons as those of another class, perhaps of the same name but under a different instructor.

Annual Shipment Arrives Today Today the second annual shipment arrives in Dallas. It was shipped on Tuesday, December 15. This shipment contained many of the advertising and elementary school pages as well as the high school pages.

After seven weeks of frantic work-finiting, checking, typing, and re-checking pages and trying to find absentees—we happily waved good-bye to our second shipment of pages for this year's annual.

Personality of the Week On December 2, 1947, the J. S. Scarborough home was blessed with a baby girl, who was soon given the name of Laura Ann. Ann is now a junior in Dimmitt High School and enjoys it very much.

She tells us that her favorite food is Spanish. The colors that are most becoming to Ann's eyes are yellow and brown, but she tells us that red is the best color for a car. Of course all teenagers like cars and Ann's favorite is the Chevrolet Impala. In this Impala there must be a radio so Ann can hear Andy Williams, her favorite singer, sing 'Dear Heart.'

Every now and then Ann gets a chance to see her favorite actors, Sandra Dee and Gregory Peck, play in a movie. Out of all the shows, 'Rome Adventure' pleases Ann the most. Ann gets along very well in school, but she does not like people who place themselves on a pedestal above all others.

After graduating from high school Ann plans to attend Texas Tech and major in home economics. Good luck in the future, Ann!!!

Classes Decorate The Halls Of DHS

Each class will be responsible for decorating one of the halls of DHS. The classes will decide upon the kind of decorations they will use. The Seniors were given the north hall, the Juniors were asked to decorate the south hall, the Sophomores were put in charge of the east hall and the Freshman are busy working on the west hall. The All-School Christmas Party will be held on December 22. All those attending are asked to bring food and clothes, which will be taken to a needy family. The recreation committee has planned to have several pool tables, ping pong tables, chess games, card games, and other table games. The whole student body is urged to attend this party.

Gov. John Connally's delayed second inaugural program may set some records for simplicity.

The Legislature, in an informal poll, has agreed to postpone the inauguration from January 19 to January 26. This to avoid conflict with the swearing-in of President Johnson in Washington on January 20. Formal approval of the delay will be necessary after lawmakers convene on January 12.

There will be no parade, inaugural ball or all-night reception for Connally.

Governor Connally and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith will take the oath of office at high noon at the state capitol. An afternoon reception will follow at three governor's mansion.

Dancing and entertainment is scheduled the night before—at a big Democratic victory dinner in Austin's Municipal Auditorium.

More than 500 Texans are expected to make the pilgrimage to Washington to see President Johnson sworn in. Texas officials, state college and university band and marching group will have a prominent place in the Washington festivities.

COURTS SPEAK—
State Supreme Court held it had no jurisdiction in a suit questioning ownership of famed Spindletop oil field. Lower courts would not disturb title to the Jefferson County lands.

Third Court of Civil Appeals heard arguments that a district court should grant a full trial of oyster fishermen's challenge of increased shell dredging in Trinity and Galveston Bays. Attorney for oystermen say State Parks and Wildlife Commission has violated constitutional process. They refer to an October, 1963, ruling. It allowed dredging within 300 feet of live oyster reefs. Fifteen-hundred feet was the old limit. An Austin district court has held oystermen cannot bring the suit because they have no vested interest in oysters in state waters.

Third Court set a May 19 hearing on suit of Houston tobacco dealer Mair J. Schepps to regain his license to distribute cigarettes. Comptroller Robert S. Calvert revoked the license on October 30.

HOSPITAL PROBE ASKED—
Rep. Paul B. Haring of Goliad has urged that House and Senate general investigating committees begin an immediate probe of the state hospital system, starting with Austin State Hospital.

Haring submitted to Lieutenant Governor Smith and House Speaker Byron Tunnell of Tyler statements by former Austin State Hospital employees alleging improper behavior by a doctor there. He claimed two of the employees were fired for complaining.

State hospital authorities denied the allegations. There was no comment from Smith or Tunnell.

AG OPINIONS—
Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has ruled that State Railroad Commission's Motor Transportation Division is without authority to regulate transportation of dead human bodies.

Bodies, Carr said, are not to be considered "property" or commodities within language of the motor of the motor carrier statute.

In another opinion, the Attorney General held Texas State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers has no authority to reopen an application it rejected 26 years ago and issue a certificate.

JOBLESS RATE DECLINES—
Unemployment in Texas during October dropped to 133,000, 3.5 per cent of the labor force, Texas Employment Commission reports. This is 3,000 below the September level and 20,000 under October, 1963.

TEC also reports that the state fund finished the year in the black for the first time in eight years due to the decline in joblessness. Number of claimants for unemployment insurance dropped 12 per cent.

UT LAND LEASE—
University of Texas leases of 47,770 acres of land brought $2,076,000 or an average of $43.46 an acre at the 49th public auction.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler reports that bidding was active on 140 of the 169 tracts offered. Tracts included acreage located in Reagan, Crockett, Schleicher, Terrell and Ward Counties.

REGENTS PRESSURE DENIED—
Governor Connally heatedly denied he pressured University of Texas regents into withdrawing appointment of an El Paso architectural firm to plan a new building.

Regent John S. Redditt of Lufkin resigned from the board. He was quoted as saying he quit because of Connally's "dictation to the board" and regents' bowing to pressure.

"I categorically deny I have ever attempted to dictate to senator Redditt or any member of the board with respect to any matter concerning the University," Connally told reporters.

A rider to the appropriations bill last year gave the governor authority to approve or disapprove appointment of architects for state buildings. Connally said he did not ask the power but would "live up to it."

He stated he did not act one way or another" on regents proposal to hire the El Paso firm of Nesmith, Lane and Associates to plan a $2,000,000 science-mathematics building at Texas Western College. Rea Nesmith, head of the firm, is an active Republican and has charged Connally withheld approval of the selection of political reasons.

TRANSPORTATION PLAN PRESENTED—

Texas Highway Department has presented to Corpus Christi city council the nation's first comprehensive transportation plan to comply with Federal Aid Highway Act of 1962.

Study was conducted by highway department, City of Corpus Christi, Nueces County and U.S. Department of Commerce Bureau of Public Roads. Present and foreseeable traffic problems are pinpointed to provide a basis for development of highway routes, city streets and county roads in the Gulf Coast port area for the next 20 years.

LORA PROTESTS DAM—
Lower Colorado River Authority has protested construction of a dam on the Colorado River near Robert Lee at a Texas Water Commission hearing.

Colorado River Municipal Water District of Big Spring proposes to build the dam in Coke County for city water supply purposes. LCRA maintains it would stop 50,000-acre feet of water per year from flowing into Lake Buchanan and affect six other Highland Lakes in the Central Texas area.

COURT PLANS PROPOSED—
Texas Civil Judicial Council has proposed plans for regular district court reappointment and involuntary retirement of judges.

Council, advisory group on courts to the governor, Supreme Court and Legislature suggests creation of boards to handle the jobs of redistricting where the Legislature fails to act and to process cases involving judge replacement. Supreme Court would have final say on the later under council's plans.

WATER PROJECT—
Texas Water Commission has declared that the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation's Palmetto Bend water project for the Jackson County Flood Control District is feasible. But it questions the district's ability to finance Stage 1 of the project.

Commission suggested that the U.S. Congress authorize construction of Stage 1. Cost would run $29,500,000. However, the commission did advise that authorization should provide a method of automatic de-authorization within five years. This, in case local interest fails to approve a cost-allocation contract.

SHORT SNORTS
Sen. Murray Watson of Mart has requested the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity to consider location of a job corps training camp at Connally Air Force Base near Waco after it is closed in 1966. Draft quota for January is 229 men, compared with 280 for December.

Governor Connally said he has no intention of asking the Legislature to change teacher accreditation procedures.

State Treasury reports the general revenue fund balance is up $25,100,000 from October.

No attempt to limit enrollment in any state senior college has been made, according to Ray A. Fowler, finance director for the Texas Commission on Higher Education, and he does not believe that many youngsters have been refused admission.

Report Issued From Industrial Arts

This year, as last year, Dimmitt High School is fortunate to have Al Blalock as teacher for power mechanics and for woodworking. In these classes he teaches many things the students would know little about if they had not taken the course. The student learns many things through personal experience even though it takes a lot of study.

In power mechanics the class has taken an old car that was wrecked, and has shortened the body. The frame was shortened and now the class is working to get it in operating condition. When finished, the students will be able to observe most of the important parts of the car. It will be used for demonstrations to the future classes and in teaching the students a few of the everyday problems automobile owners run into.

In the woodworking class, the students have finished one project. This project is the one required of the students, and now they are working on their personal projects. Some of these are book cases, work benches, and podiums. This course provides the students with experience that they will be able to use throughout their lives.

Pointers Given For Planting Roses Grown In Containers

Container-grown rose plants can be planted any time of the year, but many are set out during the winter and early spring months. To insure proper growth response, several things should be considered.

Cut the container down to the bottom on both sides if the nurseryman has not already done so. Then dig a hole about six inches larger than the diameter and equal to the depth of the container. Remove the plant from the slit container and place it in the hole so that the bud union is about even with the soil surface.

Hybrid tea roses should be planted 24 to 30 inches apart, and floribundas should be set 1 to 24 inches apart. Newly planted roses, whether bare-root or from containers, should be watered often enough to keep the soil moist.

In areas where plants are exposed to prevailing winds or in other windy locations, it may be desirable to stake them temporarily until new root systems develop to anchor the bushes securely in the soil.

Using a two-to-three-inch mulch over rose beds is highly recommended. Such a mulch will reduce the frequency of watering, keep the soil cooler to reduce both winter injury and summer drying and tend to keep down weed growth during mulches, keep the material about four inches from the bud union.

Good healthy roses, planted properly, will thrive with minimum care. The most important consideration is to keep them from drying out during the growing season.

One precautionary measure contrary to many old-time recommendations and the beliefs of many gardeners is this: Never put fertilizer on roses at the time of planting. This means no fertilizer of any type should be placed below or around the roots or on top of the soil surface. Any excess of fertilizer around a newly planted rose bush may do more to prevent or retard root growth than to promote it.

A good rule is to withhold fertilizer until new feeder roots are well-established and plants can assimilate nutrients without ruining themselves.

Close observation will show when plants begin to grow well. If more than three or four roses are planted, do not become concerned if several do not break out and grow as rapidly as some of the others.

Newly planted roses often begin growth at different rates. Give all plants sufficient time and water them at frequent intervals to keep the soil uniformly moist but not wet. Once all are established, those that were slow in starting will soon catch up.

After the plants have become established, keep them well-watered or mulch them to a depth of two to three inches to prevent drying out. Follow a regular fertilizing and spraying program to keep them healthy and productive.

The simplest and best schedule to follow is to feed the plants about every 30 days with a complete, commercially prepared fertilizer, using it at the rate recommended by the manufacturer.

When applying fertilizer to roses, follow these simple rules:

1. Wet down the soil the day before fertilizing to avoid burning the roots.
2. Scatter the fertilizer over the root system area, keeping it at least four inches away from the plant stems. (If mulching is not practiced, the soil can be loosely scratched before the fertilizer is applied. This must be done lightly and carefully to avoid injury to the roots.)
3. Water the soil well after applying the fertilizer.

Use an all-purpose rose spray to control insects and diseases. Unless frequent rains make it imperative to spray more frequently, an application once a month is usually sufficient to keep roses in good condition. If dusts are used, they must be applied at much shorter intervals.

A regular program of feeding and preventive pest control will take much of the tiresome work out of growing good roses.

Walter Rogers' WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

OUR COMMUNICATIONS

One of the greatest weapons for peace is mankind's developing ability to communicate swiftly and accurately by telephone, telegraph, television and radio. Just as next-door neighbors must be able to communicate with each other in order to understand each other, so must the peoples of the world. In the dramatic advances now taking place in world wide communications systems lies one of our best hopes for future progress and understanding.

Through the effort of American private enterprise we are taking the lead in linking the world more closely together. Our scientific genius made possible the communications satellites now circling in space, providing reliable transoceanic relays for communications signals of every type. But as public attention has focused on the "Comsat" program, Americans have led similarly impressive developments in undersea cable communications.

Not until eight years ago was it possible for Americans to speak directly by telephone to persons in England. In 1927, the Bell System had introduced radio-telephone service between New York and London but weather and atmospheric conditions occasionally barred intelligible transmissions. In 1956, the Bell System completed a submarine telephone cable across the Atlantic, and the cable made telephone calls between the United States and Great Britain as clear as those from across the street. Cables were laid later to Alaska, Hawaii, to France, to Bermuda, to Puerto Rico. Recently a cable link was completed between this country and Japan.

That first transatlantic telephone cable had a capacity to carry 48 telephone conversations at once. As it was being laid, Bell was perfecting a new cable design, one providing 128 circuits. This is the type now being laid. Relatively light and easily handled, the one-and-a-quarter inch cable contains a core of steel wires for strength and a coaxial conductor covered by a black plastic jacket.

So great is the demand for improved international communications, Bell commissioned construction of a new ship to lay the new cable. Last year the "C.S. Long Lines" went to sea for the first time. It was my privilege to inspect the "C.S. Long Lines" recently at the Port of Baltimore, Md. Just before she sailed to begin laying telephone cable between Florida and St. Thomas, Virgin Islands. The ship is designed from keel to mast to perform its assignment; it is functional but truly beautiful to see. The "Long Lines" is 511 feet long, displaces 17,000 tons, cruises at 15 knots with a range of 10,000 miles, and can carry more than 1,800 miles of the new cable and 116 amplifiers or repeaters. In future years you will be hearing a great deal about the accomplishments of the "C. S. Long Lines," operated by the Long Lines Department of American Telephone & Telegraph Company, and its highly skilled crew. With overseas telephone calls increasing at the rate of 15 percent a year, there is no end to the work ahead.

Meanwhile, Bell scientists are perfecting other remarkable communications products. Undersea transistORIZED cable now being developed will provide capacity not only for 720 simultaneous voice transmissions but also for television signals. Our imagination also is challenged by experiments to develop high speed data transmission at rates close to one-and-a-half million words per minute—a rate so fast that the king James Version of the Holy Bible could be transmitted in less than one minute. Western Electric Company scientists estimate that by 1969 fully 81 per cent of communications products being manufactured will

Can Christmas really be dangerous? It certainly can.

The Christmas tree-focal point of festivities can be a serious hazard. Every year you hear about a holiday "accident" when a tree is ignited and someone is burned.

Help protect your family by taking some precautions when you get your tree.

If you live in the part of the country where you "cut your own," choose a growing tree—not a dead one.

If you purchase your tree, select one which has not been allowed to dry out by prolonged storage. Test it for freshness by bouncing the butt-end hard on the ground, pulling at the needles at the end of the branch and rubbing your finger across the stump. The tree is fresh if the needles do not shower down, the needles have good resistance and if the stump is sticky with resin.

When you take it home, stand the tree in water or snow outdoors until you are ready to use it. Bring the tree indoors just before Christmas and remove it as soon as it has served its purpose.

The larger the tree, the greater the hazard, so avoid selecting one any larger than you need.

Just before setting up the tree, saw off the trunk at an angle at least one inch above the original cut.

Support the tree well with a sturdy, broad base.

On the market today are some fireproof aluminum foil trees. Unfortunately, these have their potential hazards, too.

If you choose one of these trees, light them from a distance. Use colored spot lights or some similar lighting. Avoid putting regular ornamental lights on this type tree. The foil is an excellent conductor of electricity. If there is the slightest short of fraying of insulation, the tree itself becomes charged with a full current of electricity.

Traditional icicles, however, are relatively safe to hang on your tree. They are made of metallic tin and metallic lead. But if your youngster eats them, they are insoluble and should cause no great harm.

As the holidays approach, make preparation for your family to have a safe Christmas.

be entirely new as compared with those being made 10 years earlier. Such is the pace of development.

It is important to remember that these advances are being made by private American business—not by government. The Bell System in its transoceanic cable operations has made its own private agreements with foreign nations involved. Our government is not a party to these agreements. Our taxpayers do not subsidize the system. As new communications nets reach out to bind the world together, to develop and underdeveloped countries and continents, all Americans and all peoples are the beneficiaries.

There is a new boat design around that is unquestionably superior for certain kinds of fishing. It is called the deep V.

In a V-bottom boat, the bottom of the boat at the bow has a deep V that slices into the waves. Then the angle of the V flattens out toward the middle of the boat. Finally, at the stern, the boat's bottom is flat, or very nearly so. In a deep-V hull, however, the V goes all the way along the bottom. At the stern it is still a severe V shape.

Since at planning speeds a boat is riding on the aft section, the deep V produces two things: a softer ride in rough seas but less lift.

Along come the designer Roy Hunt, however, to solve the problem of the design's inability to plane and lift. His thought was to add little ridges that stick out and go the length of the hull. These not only help stabilize the boat like a keel, but are so constructed that water pressure will push the hull up into a planing position.

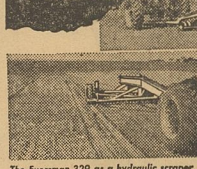

"The main advantage of this deep-V design is its ability to cruise comfortably at a speed much, much higher than can conventional boats of the same size," points out Zack Taylor, Boats Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. This capacity for speed in rough water has brought the deep-V design winning moment in major ocean races. It has also won the enthusiasm of fishermen who continually seek farther horizons in their fishing.

It should be remembered, however, that the deep V is no panacea. A boat can have a deep V and still be a dog, through lack of balance, trim and plenty of other factors. A manufacturer whose reputation you can trust and a dealer whose judgment and integrity have been demonstrated are a heck of a sight more important than any one hull-design feature.

Our busy week started on Monday, with a surprise birthday party for Madelyn Smith at Linda Davis's home about 15 girls attended, Davis' home.

Tuesday night was the ballgame. The people seen there were: Don Minchew and Joanie Hammonds, Mikeal Woglemuth and Paul Eastwood, Pat Moran, Linda Davis, Arlene Reid, and many other of our classmates.

Wednesdays are usually most exciting for Alice Acker and Kay Hilburn who get phone calls from their plussers at college.

Our Bobcats beat the McAdoo Eagles Friday night at our basketball game. The gym was rather full, and a lot of people attended the game, including Mikeal Woglemuth and Arlen Reid, Don Minchew and Joannie Hammonds, Connie Sheffy, Irene Thornton, Paula Birdwell, A'llan Webb, Genita Aldridge, Janice Baldridge, Carolyn Simpson, Kenneth Oldham, Bob Sanders, Jim Aldridge and Rene Brooks were seen also.

Saturday night was a litfe less exciting. The morning and afternoon had been filled with the decorating of the halls. All the halls are nicely done and are appreciated by the faculty and students. Paul Easterwood and Peggy Ott, Jean Nelson and Dan Petty, Patty Catoe and Landol Frazier, Penny Hays and Don Moore were seen playing around.

Sunday was a day full of surprises and fun. The biggest shock was that of Charles Summers' and Kenneth Oldham's new plussers. It seems that Charles has picked up a few hints from Gerard, because Charles was certainly getting along well with Paula Birdwell, Kenneth was using lots of charm on Nancy Howard. This foursome was seen again Sunday night at the show. Glenda Smiley and Jacky Dunn, Margaret Chapman and Richard Catoe, Alice Acker and Eugene Oldham, Arlene Reid, Franciose, Pat Moran, Linda Davis, and Jane Cleavinger, Ginger Kemp and Dennis Lytle, and Don Moore and Penny Hays were seen at the show. After the show, Mikeal's car was

"Accidental Death Alert" Issued For '64 Holidays

The Texas Safety Association today issued its annual "Accidental Death Alert" for the 1964 Christmas-New Year holiday period.

The 11-day alert begins at 12:01 a.m. Thursday, December 24. It coincides with the annual death watch of the Department of Public Safety.

In appealing to all citizens to be on the alert for hazards, TSA President Quincy V. Tuma of Houston, said it is estimated that 105 persons will be killed in traffic and 45 persons in other accidents.

"However, this tragic toll can be reduced if everyone will put out safety first—at home, at work or behind-the-wheel," he added.

He challenged citizens to accept their moral responsibility to conduct themselves in a safe manner and to practice the Golden Rule. "Be thy brother's keeper."

Last year, during a nine-day holiday period, 132 persons lost their lives in accidents in Texas. There were 84 persons killed in traffic and 48 persons killed in other types of accident.

Christmas Eve took the heaviest toll in traffic deaths—14 persons. Christmas Day and New Year's Day had 13 traffic fatalities for the year.

The Association President pointed out that traffic fatalities for the first 11 months of this year increased about 12 percent over the same period in 1963.

"This trend, plus the fact that December is one of the most dangerous months of the year for traffic and that both Christmas Day and New Year's Day this year occur on a Friday, increasing the possibilities of highway travel, could bring the total figure for 1964 traffic deaths to the 3,000 mark."

In 1963, traffic deaths reached a record-high with 2,729 persons killed. As of December 4th this year, traffic fatalities were only 87 short of that figure.

Last year, December was the most deadly month of the year.

YOU SHOULD KNOW NOBLE HOWARD

In addition to 312 traffic deaths, there were 180 deaths from home accidents, 34 deaths from work accidents, 69 deaths from public accidents, and 50 deaths from other types of accidents.

In non-motor vehicle deaths, fires took the highest toll with 75 persons killed in home fires and 6 in fires in public places. Falls took 68 lives, 43 in home accidents and 18 in public places. Poisoning by gases and vapors took 13 lives in the home and suffocation took 10 lives.

The total accidental deaths for 1963 was 5,999.

In closing, Tuma said: "If we are to stop this needless loss of human lives, we must accept our moral responsibilities for the safety of fellow citizen - and, we must stay alert to stay alive."

Wool Marketing Program For '64 Ends December 31

Producers were reminded today that the 1964 marketing year under the national wool program ends December 31. According to Charles E. Hill, Office Manager, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Castro County Committee, this means that payments for the current 1964 year will depend on completing all details of marketing either wool or lambs by that date. Marketings completed after Dec. 31, 1964, will be eligible for payments for the 1965 marketing year.

Mr. Hill explained that the 1964 marketing year under the wool program is the first full year to operate on a calendar-year basis. Producers are urged not to let the deadline slip by, thinking that the current program's end is several months away, as under earlier programs.

Producers should make sure that all details of the 1964 sales are completed not later than Dec. 31, 1964. This includes passing title to buyer, delivering the wool to the buyer, and having available all the information needed to determine the buyer's total purchase price.

Applications for the 1964 marketing year payments under the National Wool Act may be filed with ASCS County Office any time between now and the end of January 1965. The 1964 payments will likely begin in April of next year.

The National Wool Act was enacted in 1954 to encourage the domestic production of wool.

Dimmitt Municipal Veteran Officials Earn Certificates

An official State Health Department certificate of competency has been earned by Lonnie Lee Cork and Rex Cowart, veteran officials of the Dimmitt municipal water department.

Signed by the State Commissioner of Health and authorities of the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association, the citation was given to Cork and Cowart after they successfully passed examinations to prove their skill in plant management and their understanding of the work's influence on public health.

Under terms of the health agency' a operator certification program, candidates for certification must have acquired a prescribed amount of actual work experience, and must have shown a satisfactory record of attendance at state and regional short schools at which principles of modern plant management are taught.

Plant operators often attend such schools at their own expense and on their own time as a means of enhancing their efficiency as key community utility workers.

The schools are conducted under sponsorship of the State Health Department, Texas A and M University, and the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association. TWSWA officials characterize recipients of the certificates as "technical specialists any community could be proud of."

Braddock's Brown Swiss Makes An Outstanding Record

Vincent Braddock's of Dimmitt, Texas has registered Brown Swiss cows that recently completed 2X records of over 14,000 lbs. of milk and or 550 lbs. of butterfat in 305 days or less. This is nearly twice the amount of milk produced in a year by the average cow being milked in the United States today.

According to the Brown Swiss Cattle Breeders' Association, Beloit, Wis., the registered Brown Swiss cows in this herd tested under the Official Dairy Herd Improvement Registry program that made these outstanding records are as follows:

Brad-Lou Kayvaks Maundine 409276 Age, 3y6m, lbs. Milk, 15510, lbs. Fat 631.

Brown Swiss cows are noted for the production of a large volume of top quality milk high in protein and because of their excellent dispositions, well attached udders and strong sound feet and legs Brown Swiss are well adopted to both the family sized farm or the large commercial operation.

The weighing and testing of the milk while these records were being made was under supervision of the local DHA Supervisor and Texas A&M College.
