PEOPLE ARE TOO CARELESS

Dr. W. P. Lee, city health officer, warns citizens with regard to keeping stock confined in lots in Cisco, saying that unless these lots are kept very clean—raked and sprinkled with lime each day—and horses will create filth that will become harboring and breeding places for disease and contagion.

The fact that many cows and a few horses are being thus confined in close quarters makes this warning necessary, Dr. Lee said. A number of complaints have come regarding stock being staked so that they are able to reach the streets, making hazards to driving. In some cases these cows have broken loose and damaged gardens. Care should be exercised in staking stock.

The health officer also calls attention to the fact that mosquito and fly time is here. Any kind of filth will breed flies and stagnant water will breed mosquitoes. Citizens are asked to report any standing water anywhere in the city so that the pool or container may be drained.

"If we are to keep our town healthy and make it a pleasant and safe place in which to live and rear our families, we must all cooperate to keep it clean. Let's maintain our reputation of being one of the cleanest cities in Texas," said Dr. Lee.

LONG LIFE OF SERVICE HAS ENDED

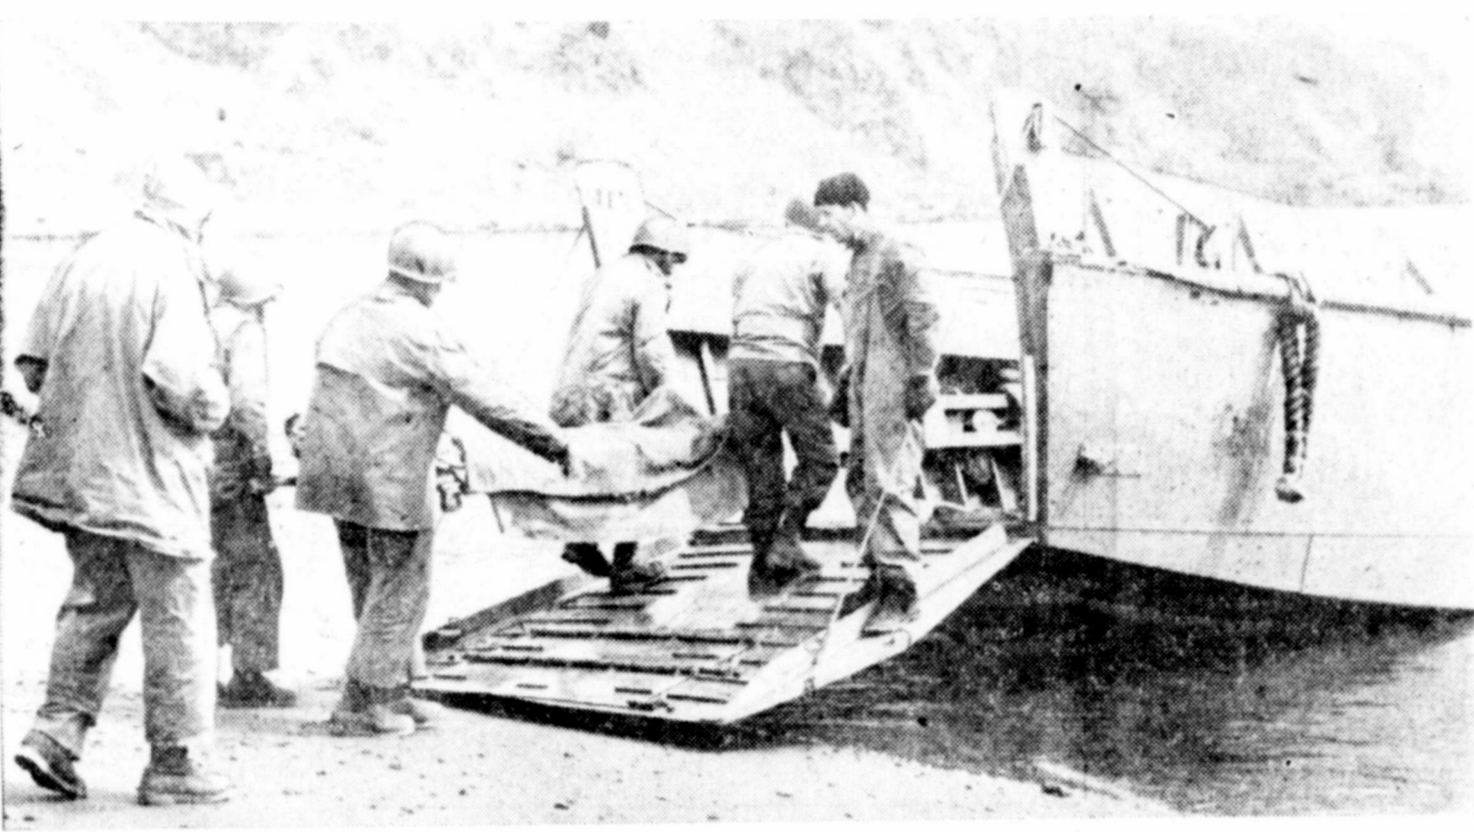

A woman passed away and a noble life given entirely to service to the children of her neighbors, ended Saturday afternoon when she departed from the tired and wasted body of Miss Attie Stevens, quietly and without struggle, as her soul went to its maker and the rest eternal that is promised.

Hundreds of men and women have passed under the instruction of the public school teacher, who had labored without ceasing for almost a quarter of a century to instill principles of nobility of living into the minds of her pupils, who had always gone to her in their tender and formative years. Since beginning her childhood life as a student in Cisco public schools, she had been absent from study or teaching only four days and that was when her mother was buried in April, 1928.

Since her illness became known and the accident which sent her sister, Miss Fannie Stevens, to the hospital by being struck by a bicycle, has been publicized, cards and letters from all parts of the world have poured in expressing sympathy and appreciation to both these women for what they have been to the writers of those missives. Soldier boys have recalled that they attended school under these women and they expressed the hope that both would soon recover.

But these wishes for Miss Attie were in vain. She had finished the school term this year on pure nerve, for when the last lesson was said she declined rapidly and seemed to crumble away, despite the aid of her physician. Her work was completed and finished had been written at the end of her book of mortal life.

Deceased was born at Coffeeville, Texas, and moved with her parents to Moran in early childhood. She attended school in Cisco and then began to teach

WAR'S TOLL—Deeds of valor evoke applause and victories are always glorious. But in the background is war's toll of the wounded and dead. Barren, gray mountains form a setting for this tiny procession that bears a wounded man on a stretcher to a landing boat on the shore of Holtz Bay, Attu Island. Japs got this American in recent fighting.

SUMMER CAMP TO OPEN

The summer conference session of the Presbyterian encampment at Lake Cisco will begin Monday with a Pioneer group of young people from Fort Worth and Brownwood presbyteries, numbering about 120. However, any young person in Cisco between the ages of 12 and 14 is invited to attend.

This conference will last one week, adjourning next Saturday morning. Rev. Clifford Williams of Sweetwater will be the camp director and Dr. Gary L. Smith will be business manager.

The Senior camp conference, with ages from 15 through 17, will begin Monday, June 28, and will also be in session one week. Camp director of this group will be Rev. Frank Crown of Rule, with Rev. Thomas Currie of Fort Worth as assistant director. Dr. Smith will also be business manager of this conference. About eighty attended this conference last year.

From advance registrations, there seems no probability of any falling off in numbers for either of the conference encampments, said Dr. Smith. In fact, an increase is expected.

In her favorite sphere, the kindergarten in connection with Cisco public schools, and for the past 23 or more years she had not missed a day, except as mentioned above.

Miss Stevens is survived by three sisters and one brother; two half brothers and a half sister and several nieces and nephews.

The sisters are Miss Fannie Stevens, herself a teacher of many useful years, now in Graham hospital; Mrs. Ed Chisholm of Moran and Mrs. Walter Hoek of Lorraine. The brother is Grover Stevens of Freeport. The half-brothers are Ovie Stevens of Oklahoma and Walter Stevens of Dallas. The half-sister is Mrs. Lula Dunkin of Dallas.

Funeral services will be held at the late home, 701 W. Tenth street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, with burial in the Moran cemetery. The Green funeral home has charge of the remains.

The situation has deteriorated since Shakespeare. His times were out of nothing except joint.

NICKEL WILL SEND CIGARETTES ABROAD

In order to give the public a chance to contribute to the cigaret fund created and fathered by the Cisco post of the American Legion, jars have been placed at 16 local business places, says Rex Moore.

So far the response has been excellent, he added. Each five cents placed in the jars guarantees the delivery of one package of cigarets to some Yank in foreign service. And on each package mailed out for the local Legion will be a printed slip showing the gift came from Cisco, Texas, Mr. Moore stated.

GRAHAMS MADE PLANE TRIP TO NEW YORK

A letter received at Graham Sanitarium Saturday morning said Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Graham would leave New York City the first of this week. Conditions of transportation will determine just when they will arrive in Cisco. Dr. and Mrs. Graham left Cisco June 12 for the physician to attend a special clinic being held

OPA AND OWI SCALPS ARE IN DANGER

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The senate today received a house challenge of President Roosevelt's home-front leadership in a bill threatening the very existence of the office of price administration and abolishing the domestic functions of the office of war information.

The challenge was in house amendments to the $2,898,941,504 war agencies appropriation bill. The senate will consider them next week.

The full fury of an angry house was unleashed in a 10-hour session on the politically unpopular OPA and OWI.

When the house recessed near 9 o'clock Friday night, the casualties—unless the senate restores them—included some of the administration's pet anti-inflation projects such as the rollback-subsidy program and some of congress' pet peevs.

MINERAL LEASES.

AUSTIN, June 19.—Land Commissioner Giles announced that $1,096,550 in cash bonuses were paid at an auction here for mineral leases on University of Texas lands in West Texas. Leases were sold on 120 tracts containing approximately 32,000 acres, Giles said.

BOWIE TO FURNISH MUSICAL FEATURE, 4TH

A musical program from Camp Bowie is to be a feature of the July 4 celebration at Lake Cisco, according to Manager Monroe Sweeney, who states that Maj. Roy Bradley, executive officer for the camp, has assured him that the program would be furnished.

TAKE INFORMAL POLL.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—While wildcat strikes spread through the coal fields, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers Saturday postponed a meeting of his policy committee for five hours while aids conducted a poll among rank and file miners to determine whether they want to stage a third general war-time strike.

INTERMENT CAMP.

DENISON, June 19.—Another enemy internment camp will be constructed soon in Texas, the award of a contract to the J. W. Bateson company of Dallas by the Denison District Army Engineers disclosed Saturday. The camp will include 170 frame buildings and will be at Camp Howze.

LOUISVILLE MEATLESS.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 19.—Louisville was virtually without beef today after two major packing companies announced they had "killed for the last time until the government subsidies insure us against loss."

CRASH OF ARMIES IS IMMINENT

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Next 90 days of war may be decisive. The arena is set; crash of armies may come at any moment. Make your own guesses about what our side will do, but here's the best dope on Hitler: He doesn't dare put all his good eggs in the Russian basket. Instead he will stage a terrific attack on a limited front. If he breaks through, and it looks as though he might be able to destroy the bulk of the Soviet armies, he will throw in more. Otherwise not. Behind this strategy may be two factors: First, a Hitler hunch that the Allies will not be able to set up a second front in western Europe until late summer or early autumn. Second, a fear that this hunch might turn sour—in which case, to be completely tied up in Russia would be fatal.

Odds improve that Turkey will come in on our side. Great question is when she'll become convinced victory is in the bag for us. If she comes in early enough and spearheads a Balkan invasion, she will deserve—and get—much credit. If she delays too long her peace-table influence will be less.

War in the Pacific may depend on that Hitler drive in Russia. Japs wait, culture-like, to see how Hitler makes out. If Russia shows signs of collapse, they'll pounce on Vladivostok and maritime Siberia. The thought of our using Siberia air bases terrifies them. But chances are slim that Russia will let us use them. She's not ready to fight a major war against Japan. Which points up what Mme. Chiang Kai-shek said about China bases being the sine qua non of victory over Japan. For brass hats seem to agree it would take 50 years to reach Tokyo by island-hopping.

Chicago Tribune inspired the recent poll of House Republicans on their presidential preferences in which Dewey led with 54 votes and Wilkie was a poor fourth with only 13. The paper's been looking for someone to stop Wilkie. For a time it plugged MacArthur, who ran second in the poll with 32 votes. Now it's reported switching to Dewey. New York Republicans talk up a Dewey-and-Warner-of-California ticket.

Democratic Chairman Frank Walker takes a leaf from the Roosevelt book, invites groups of freshmen congressmen to his office to talk patronage, politics. It's a good way to get acquainted—and Walker gets a good cross-section of fourth-term sentiment. Note: Tennessee Boss Ed Crump and Sen. McKellar, his lieutenant here, are resigned to Roosevelt renomination, give no comfort to Southern anti-New Deal revolt. Crump is influential with Southern politics, particularly in convention maneuvers. (And he usually guesses right.)

McCREA LAD VICTIM OF A SEVERE HURT

Lewellyn McCrea, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Yancy McCrea, fell from a gate at the McCrea ranch north of Cisco late Friday and broke his lower right arm, probably in several places. The break was so bad that it was decided to take the little fellow to a Ft. Worth specialist to have it set.

No news was expected until the return of Mr. and Mrs. McCrea, last night.

MUSSOLINI PUTS 700 MILES COAST LINE UNDER MARTIAL LAW; CITIZENS QUIT TOWNS

Allied aerial might greater than the force that knocked out Pantelleria put Sicily and Sardinia under intensified bombardment as Benito Mussolini cleared his invasion coasts and clamped martial law on southern Italy.

Never before had the assault on Europe's south seemed so imminent.

Planes swarming from Allied bases in Africa pummeled Italy's islands, beating down their communications and defenses.

A dispatch from an advance airdrome said formation after formation of heavy, medium and fighter-bombers swept across the Mediterranean to keep the two stepping stone islands under a constant rain of bombs.

The raiders ran into swarms of German and Italian fighters and fierce aerial dogfights ensued. When the day ended, however, 39 enemy fighters had been shot down and only eight Allied planes were lost, a communique reported.

Radio Algiers said that Allied High Command had warned Italy's civilians to get to safety before ever-increasing bomb loads showered down on Italian industries and vital linking lines with the thoroughness that characterized the African campaign.

Flying Fortresses led the forays, slamming at Messina, the ferry terminal on the north-eastern tip of Sicily. Other planes hit Sicily and Sardinia airports. Six ships were sunk, damaged or set afire. Eight Allied planes were lost in this sudden rise of activity after two days of routine patrolling.

The eight Fascist mainland provinces from the toe of the Italian boot northward went under martial law as zones of operations, Swiss and Axis reports said.

The orders from Mussolini affected 700 miles of coastline that might be hit by an Allied landing. In addition, he was reported to have ordered civilians from Naples and all of Sicily's larger towns by July 10. The evacuation of Sardinia already was said to be in progress.

An Axis report quoted Mussolini's own newspaper, Popolo d'Italia, as saying that the bell had sounded for the "last round." Algiers Radio said Germany had put its Marshal Albert Besseling in command of the Italian Air Force.

1,200 JARS OF VEGETABLES ARE CANNED

The Rural War Production Training Program, which in Cisco is emphasizing canning and food conservation, reports a very successful season thus far. M. D. Fox is supervisor of the center and Mrs. Jimmy Allen is instructor in charge.

Mrs. Allen reports about 1,200 jars already processed, consisting mainly of greens, beans, peas, beets, squash, with some roasts and chickens. Orders for corn processing are already coming in and a big run of corn canning is expected this week.

Mrs. Allen says the canning center has been well received by the citizens who have patronized it, saying that since they do not have pressure cookers, the canning service and instruction is truly an asset.

JAPS GOT IT.

PARKER, Ariz., June 19.—Testimony that Japanese engineers, shortly before Pearl Harbor, were given technical data on the $200,000,000 Colorado River aqueduct that furnishes water to Southern California, has been given to a Dies subcommittee.

CITY IN RUINS.

LONDON, June 19.—The air ministry Saturday said Duesseldorf "is in ruins," with more than 1,000 acres devastated after the great attack by RAF heavy bombers June 11.

DANGEROUS.

There seems to be a prevalent notion that retail distributors can operate like agencies of government—regardless of profit (losing and then back prices are tossed at them in wintering clouds and market in summer). While one government official is playing with prices, another stops the production of everything from clothes to coffee, and another steps in and using government-issued money, at various intervals, to buy up the goods. The result is that the army doesn't get the shippable. In spite of all, the merchant as the link through which the goods flow can be set and broken as supposed to carry on as usual.

In response to queries on the effect of latest price ceilings and other government orders, the food chain representative remarked: "You ask what food distributors are thinking. They never think. They are just waiting for the first impulse they get to hold up—but they shoulder responsibility to the public, their associates and employees in their stockholders. The loyalty and patriotism and sense of duty of these people may have made their retirement—escape them impossible. Food chain operators can't let them down now. People must be fed. Organized distributors must meet their duties like these."

This attitude is typical of the entire organized retail distribution industry. It explains in a large measure why so far the buying power has hardly felt the effect of price ceilings. Retailers have managed to keep an unbroken flow of necessities moving to consumers. They know that maximum war production depends on their continuing effort.

At present the government is attempting to limit the flow of goods the merchant sells without effectively limiting the cost of production of these goods. Even a school child is taught the futility of such reasoning.

DOOM.

Those great lumbering starting back and forth between Britain and the Continent with their deadly burdens, day and night, week after week, heading us down in intensity are omens of the doom that is coming to Germany.

As they weave their fatal patterns in the clouds, they suggest the Three Fates that the ancients thought of as presiding over human destiny. And they keep on bringing to mind lines from "Villa Franca" by the poet Lowell:

"Spin, Spin, Cloth, spin!
Luthesis twist and Atropis cover!
In the shadow, year out year in,
The silent neansman waits for ever."

The spinning and chattering grow faster as the Fates settle down to their work. All the time pieces of the war, in thought at least, press into the picture and ring in the patterns that is woven. It won't be long now.

HEADWORK.

Indispensable equipment in playing baseball would seem to be two arms and two legs to say nothing of a head.

Not absolutely so, however, for the Memphis team in the Southern Association has in Pete Gray a one-armed outfielder. He has been doing all right, too, in his professional career. Last year, playing in the Canadian-American League, he hit for an average of .381, leading the league.

A good many people with such a handicap would be back and let some one else support them. Pete shames us all.

OVERCOME.

"Spurios versenkt" was a famous phrase during the last war. It was the German report of U-boat success: "Sunk without a trace. In this war the submarine has been even more of a pest than in the last. But as before, the threat has at last been overcome. The Allies are slowly but surely winning the U-boat war.

During the year 1942, the weekly average of losses was ten ships, or 100,000 tons. Now, at the beginning of 1943, the average has fallen to four or five ships. And the recent week saw entirely no loss of ships, with one ship sunk. More ships will be lost, and the Germans will make every effort to raise the average again. But not for nothing, we are not too far from the bottom of the U-boat campaign in Europe. It is far too soon to hope that there will be many weeks without a single sinking. It is not merely hope, however, but certainty that the back of the U-boat campaign is broken.

FRONTS.

A second front? We have eight. Secretary Knox recently told the graduating class at Annapolis: "They are Western Mediterranean, Eastern Mediterranean, Atlantic, South Atlantic, South Pacific, North Pacific, Russia and China. To these fronts the motto of Daniel, Three Musketeers applies: All for one, and one for all."

CROSS PLAINS

Cross Plains Review: Word has been received that L. D. (Whimpy) Westerman, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Dow Westerman, who live south of Cross Plains, suffered a broken leg and arm in the American conquest of Attu Island, and that he is now in a California hospital.

In a letter to his parents, Westerman wrote that he had been among the first group—the Commandos—to land on Attu and help to form the beachhead. He was a machine gunner.

The Cross Plains youth had very little to say of his part in the battle, but he kept bragging about his exploits.

"The captain," he wrote, "pigeon me to the front line. I ever knew, and I was as busy as they could be, and I was killed as many many times in that unit."

"Through 'Whimpy' was captured by shell fire or feared that he was a goner, he was captured by his helmet and another light through the cover of his rifle."

"They say the average life of an exposed machine gunner is about five minutes in battle, but I was back with me. I think that is days," he wrote.

"I wish I could get the whole thing. I've been bragging that I will never forget. I never did get to sleep, and I never did get any sleep, and I never did get any sleep."

The young man's legs have been placed in casts and it is estimated that he will not walk for six months, however, amputation will not be necessary, and complete recovery is expected.

News dispatches one of which Whimpy sent to his parents here, declare that the battle of Attu was fought in 46 below weather, and that the reason there were so few prisoners taken was that the Japanese had a habit of shooting their men who wanted to surrender.

PEOPLE ARE TOO CARELESS

Dr. W. P. Lee, city health officer, warns citizens with regard to keeping stock confined in lots in Cisco, saying that unless these lots are kept very clean—raked and sprinkled with lime each day—and horses will create conditions that will become harboring breeding places for disease and contagion.

The fact that many cows and other animals are being thus confined in these quarters makes this warning necessary. Dr. Lee said a number of complaints have been received regarding stock being staked in places where they are able to reach the streets, making hazards to drivers. In some cases these cows have broken loose and damaged property. Care should be exercised in staking stock.

The health officer also calls attention to the fact that mosquito breeding time is here. Any kind of water will breed flies and stagnant water will breed mosquitoes. Citizens are asked to report any standing water anywhere in the city so that the pool or container can be eliminated.

If we are to keep our town healthy and make it a pleasant and safe place in which to live and raise our families, we must all cooperate to keep it clean. Let's maintain our reputation of being one of the cleanest cities in Texas," said Dr. Lee.

LONG LIFE OF SERVICE HAS ENDED

A fine woman passed away and a long life, given entirely to service to the children of her neighborhood, ended Saturday afternoon when she departed from the tired and wasted body of Miss Attie Stevens, quietly and without struggle, as her soul went to its maker and the rest eternal that is promised.

Hundreds of men and women have passed under the instruction of this public school teacher, who labored without ceasing for almost a quarter of a century to implant principles of nobility of living into the minds of her pupils who had always gone to her for their tender and formative years. Since beginning her Cisco life as a student in Cisco public schools, she had been absent from study or teaching only four days and that was when her mother was buried in April, 1928. Since her illness became known and the accident which sent her to the hospital by being struck by a bicycle, has been publicized, cards and letters from all parts of the world have poured in expressing sympathy and appreciation to both these women for what they have been to the writers of those missives. Soldier boys have recalled that they attended school under these women and they expressed the hope that both would soon recover.

But these wishes for Miss Attie were in vain. She had finished the school term this year on pure nerve, for when the last lesson was said she declined rapidly and soon to crumble away, despite the aid of her physician. Her work was completed and finished was written at the end of the book of mortal life.

Deceased was born at Coffeeville, Texas, and moved with her parents to Moran in early childhood. She attended school in Cisco and then began to teach

WAR'S TOLL—Deeds of valor evoke applause and victories are always glorious. But in the background is war's toll of the wounded and dead. Barren, gray mountains form a setting for this tiny procession that bears a wounded man on a stretcher to a landing boat on the shore of Holtz Bay, Attu Island. Japs got this American in recent fighting.

SUMMER CAMP TO OPEN

The summer conference session of the Presbyterian encampment at Lake Cisco will begin Monday with a Pioneer group of young people from Fort Worth and Brownwood presbyteries, numbering about 120. However, any young person in Cisco between the ages of 12 and 14 is invited to attend.

This conference will last one week, adjourning next Saturday morning. Rev. Clifford Williams of Sweetwater will be the camp director and Dr. Gary L. Smith will be business manager.

The Senior camp conference, with ages from 15 through 17, will begin Monday, June 28, and will also be in session one week. Camp director of this group will be Rev. Frank Crown of Rule, with Rev. Thomas Currie of Fort Worth as assistant director. Dr. Smith will also be business manager of this conference. About eighty attended this conference last year.

From advance registrations, there seems no probability of any falling off in numbers for either of the conference encampments, said Dr. Smith. In fact, an increase is expected.

in her favorite sphere, the kindergarten in connection with Cisco public schools, and for the past 23 or more years she had not missed a day, except as mentioned above.

Miss Stevens is survived by three sisters and one brother; two half brothers and a half sister and several nieces and nephews.

The sisters are Miss Fannie Stevens, herself a teacher of many useful years, now in Graham hospital; Mrs. Ed Chisholm of Morpitt; Mrs. Ed Chisholm of Morpitt; and Mrs. Walter Hoek of Lorraine. The brother is Grover Stevens of Freeport. The half-brothers are Ovie Stevens of Oklahoma and Walter Stevens of Dallas. The half-sister is Mrs. Lila Dunkin of Dallas.

In order to give the public a chance to contribute to the cigarette fund created and fathered by the Cisco post of the American Legion, jars have been placed at 16 local business places, says Rex Moore. So far the response has been excellent, he added.

Each five cents placed in the jars guarantees the delivery of one package of cigarettes to some Yank in foreign service. And on each package mailed out for the local Legion will be a printed slip showing the gift came from Cisco, Texas, Mr. Moore stated.

GRAHAMS MADE PLANE TRIP TO NEW YORK

A letter received at Graham Sanitarium Saturday morning said Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Graham would leave New York City the first of this week. Conditions of transportation will determine just when they will arrive in Cisco.

OPA AND OWI SCALPS ARE IN DANGER

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The senate today received a house challenge of President Roosevelt's home-front leadership in a bill threatening the very existence of the office of price administration and abolishing the domestic functions of the office of war information.

The challenge was in house amendments to the $2,898,941,504 war agencies appropriation bill. The senate will consider them next week.

When the house recessed near 9 o'clock Friday night, the casualties—unless the senate restores them—included some of the administration's pet anti-inflation projects such as the rollback-subsidy program and some of congress' pet peevs.

CRASH OF ARMIES IS IMMINENT

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Next 90 days of war may be decisive. The arena is set; crash of armies may come at any moment. Make your own guesses about what our side will do, but here's the best dope on Hitler: He doesn't dare put all his good eggs in the Russian basket. Instead he will stage a terrific attack on a limited front. If he breaks through, and it looks as though he might be able to destroy the bulk of the Soviet armies, he will throw in more. Otherwise not. Behind this strategy may be two factors: First, a Hitler hunch that the Allies will not be able to set up a second front in western Europe until late summer or early autumn. Second, a fear that this hunch might turn sour—in which case, to be completely tied up in Russia would be fatal.

Odds improve that Turkey will come in on our side. Great question is when she'll become convinced victory is in the bag for us. If she comes in early enough and spearheads a Balkan invasion, she will deserve—and get—much credit. If she delays too long her peace-able influence will be less.

War in the Pacific may depend on that Hitler drive in Russia. Japs wait, vulture-like, to see how Hitler makes out. If Russia shows signs of collapse, they'll pounce on Vladivostok and maritime Siberia. The thought of our using Siberia air bases terrifies them. But chances are slim that Russia will let us use them. She's not ready to fight a major war against Japan. Which points up what Mrs. Chiang Kai-shek said about China bases being the sine qua non of victory over Japan. For brass hats seem to agree it would take 50 years to reach Tokyo by island-hopping.

McCREA LAD VICTIM OF A SEVERE HURT

Lewellyn McCrea, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Yancy McCrea, fell from a gate at the McCrea ranch north of Cisco late Friday and broke his lower right arm, probably in several places.

The break was so bad that it was decided to take the little fellow to a Ft. Worth specialist to have it set.

No news was expected until the return of Mr. and Mrs. McCrea, last night.

MUSSOLINI PUTS 700 MILES COAST LINE UNDER MARTIAL LAW; CITIZENS QUIT TOWNS

Allied aerial might greater than the force that knocked out Pantelleria put Sicily and Sardinia under intensified bombardment as Benito Mussolini cleared his invasion coasts and clamped martial law on southern Italy.

Never before had the assault on Europe's south seemed so imminent.

Planes swarming from Allied bases in Africa pummeled Italy's islands, beating down their communications and defenses.

A dispatch from an advance airdrome said formation after formation of heavy, medium and fighter-bombers swept across the Mediterranean to keep the two stepping stone islands under a constant rain of bombs.

The raiders ran into swarms of German and Italian fighters and fierce aerial dogfights ensued. When the day ended, however, 39 enemy fighters had been shot down and only eight Allied planes were lost, a communique reported.

Radio Algiers said that Allied High Command had warned Italy's civilians to get to safety before ever-increasing bomb loads showered down on Italian industries and vital linking lines with the thoroughness that characterized the African campaign.

Flying Fortresses led the forays, slamming at Messina, the ferry terminal on the northeastern tip of Sicily. Other planes hit Sicily and Sardinia airports. Six ships were sunk, damaged or set afire. Eight Allied planes were lost in this sudden rise of activity after two days of routine patrolling.

The eight Fascist mainland provinces from the toe of the Italian boot northward went under martial law as zones of operations, Swiss and Axis reports said.

The orders from Mussolini affected 700 miles of coastline that might be hit by an Allied landing. In addition, he was reported to have ordered civilians from Naples and all of Sicily's larger towns by July 10. The evacuation of Sardinia already was said to be in progress.

An Axis report quoted Mussolini's own newspaper, Popolo d'Italia, as saying that the bell had sounded for the "last round." Algiers Radio said Germany had put its Marshal Albert Besseling in command of the Italian Air Force.

1,200 JARS OF VEGETABLES ARE CANNED

The Rural War Production Training Program, which in Cisco is emphasizing canning and food conservation, reports a very successful season thus far. M. D. Fox is supervisor of the center and Mrs. Jimmy Allen is instructor in charge.

Mrs. Allen reports about 1,200 jars already processed, consisting mainly of greens, beans, peas, beets, squash, with some roasts and chickens. Orders for corn processing are already coming in and a big run of corn canning is expected this week.

Mrs. Allen says the canning center has been well received by the citizens who have patronized it, saying that since they do not have pressure cookers, the canning service and instruction is truly an asset.

The center opens each morning at 9:30 in the Stuard building at 1108 D avenue.

DANGEROUS.

There seems to be a prevalent notion that retail distributors can operate like agencies of government—regardless of profit ceilings and "roll back" prices are tossed at them in withering clouds, and margins are hammered. While one government authority is playing with prices, another stops the production of everything from clothes pins to refrigerators. To catch the case, a few cars step in and swing around—rattled maynagers, all trained veteran personnel, with the result that if the army doesn't get experienced store employees, the shipyards do. In spite of it all, the merchant, as the only retailer through which the retail population can be fed and clothed, is supposed to carry on as usual.

In response to queries on the effect of latest price ceilings and other government decrees, one food chain representative remarked: "You ask what the distributors are thinking of? The nerves, their patience are shattered. The first impulse may be to fold up—but they recognize a responsibility to the public, to their associates and employees, to their shareholders. The loyalty, faithful patronage and service of these people may have made their retirement—escape—then almost impossible. Food chain operators can't let them down now. People must be fed. Organized distributors must feed them in times like these.

This attitude is typical of the entire organized retail distribution industry. It explains in a large measure why so far the buying public has hardly felt the effect of war. Retailers have managed to keep an unbroken flow of necessities moving to consumers. They show that maximum war production depends on their continuing effort.

At present the government is attempting to limit the use of goods the merchant sells without effectively limiting the cost and production of those goods. Even a rubber shoe is bought the only at such reasoning.

DOOM.

Those great bombers clattering back and forth between Britain and the Continent, with their deadly payloads, day and night, week after week, steadily growing in intensity, are omens of the doom that is coming to Germany.

As they weave their fatal patterns in the clouds, they suggest the Three Fates that the ancient thought of as presiding over human destiny. And they keep on hanging to their lines from 'Vladimir' by the poet Lowell.

"Spin, Spin, Chatter spin" the Lachesis (weal and Atypha) sever! In the shadow year of year in the silent heavenman wails the woe.

The spinning and chattering grow faster as the Fates settle down to their work. All the live people of the earth, in thought at least, press into the picture and help in the pattern that is woven. It won't be long now.

HEADWORK.

Indispensable equipment for playing baseball would seem to be two arms and two legs to say nothing of a head.

Not absolutely so, however, for the Memphis team in the Southern Association has in Pete Gray a one-armed outfielder. He has been doing all right, too, in his professional career. Last year, playing in the Canadian-American League, he hit for an average of .381, leading the league.

OVERCOME.

"Spurlus versenkt" was a famous phrase during the last war. It was the German report of U-boat success: "Sunk without a trace." In this war the submarine has been even more of a peril than in the last. But as before, the threat has at last been overcome. The Allies are slowly but surely winning the U-boat war.

During the year 1942, the weekly average of losses was ten ships per week. Since the beginning of 1943 the average has sunk to four per week. And one recent week was entirely in the clear with no ships sunk.

This is not the end. More ships will be lost, and the Germans will make every effort to raise the average again. But not for nothing goes on all that bombing of the submarine bases on the Continent of Europe. It is far too much to hope that there will be many weeks without a single sinking. It is not merely hope, however, but certainty, that the lack of the U-boat campaign is broken.

FRONTS.

A second front? We have eight. Secretary Knox recently told the graduating class at Annapolis. They are Western Mediterranean, Eastern Mediterranean, Atlantic, South Atlantic, South Pacific, North Pacific, Russia and China. To these fronts the motto of "Duma! Three Musketeers applies: "All for one, and one for all."

CROSS PLAINS

Cross Plains Review: Word has been received that L. D. Whiteman, Westernman, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Dow Westernman, who lives south of Cross Plains suffers from foot and was in the American conquest of Attu Island, and that he is now in a California hospital.

In a letter to his parents, Westernman writes that he had been among the last group—the "Commandos"—to land on Attu and to burn to form the beach head. He was a machine gunner.

The Cross Plains youth had very little to say of his part in the battle, but heaped praise upon his buddies.

"Our captain," he wrote, "was one of the finest men I ever knew and brave as they come—he was killed as were many others in our unit."

Although "Whip" was injured by shell fire, he related that a 30 caliber machine gun bullet perforated his helmet and another ripped through the sleeve of his coat.

"They say the average life of an exposed machine gunner is about five minutes in battle, however, back with me. I stuck it out 10 days," he wrote.

"I wish I could forget the whole thing. I've seen things that I will never forget. I never had time to close my eyes, but in war you've got to do it."

The young man's legs have been placed in casts and it is estimated that he will not walk for six months. However, amputation will not be necessary, and complete recovery is expected.

News dispatches, one of which Whip sent to his parents here, declare that the battle of Attu was fought in 30 below weather, and that the reason there were so few prisoners taken was that the Japanese had a habit of shooting their men who wanted to surrender.
