G. R. PENCE OF THE PUEBLO AREA IS DEAD

G. R. Pence, 54, of route one, Cisco, died at 10 a. m., Monday, in a Banger hospital and was buried in Oakwood cemetery this afternoon, following funeral services at the East Cisco Baptist church, conducted by Rev. Russell Dennis and Rev. Hugh Blair. Mr. Pence was born in Covington county, Tennessee, January 20, 1889, and came to Eastland county when he was three years of age. He was married to Miss Mollie Jackson at the old Tickner home near Cisco on August 12, 1906, and had farmed in the Pueblo area since that time until about four years ago. Until recently he had been driving the Cottonwood school bus. He was a consistent member of the Pueblo Baptist church.

Survivors include the wife, one son and four daughters. Charles Pence is the son and the daughters are Mrs. Lettie Threest, Cisco; Mrs. Vivian Wink, Jal. N. M.; Mrs. Olive Eubank, Hart community; Mrs. Odessa Miller, Amarillo.

The body rested at the home of the son, Charles Pence, 2905 C. avenue, until time for the funeral and was in charge of the Thomas funeral home.

Pallbearers were William Dunham, Carl Elliott, Knute Hagan, Oliver Barnhill, J. W. Booth and Reuben Coates.

EAST CISCO REVIVAL BEGINS FRIDAY

The East Cisco Baptist church will begin its annual revival Friday evening of this week, under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. Russell Dennis. There have been approximately 235 additions to this church during the four years' pastorate of Mr. Dennis, with over 50 percent of them coming by baptism, it is stated.

Mr. Dennis says the church has made plans for and is looking

OLDEST CHURCH MEMBER

The revival at Bethel Methodist church, four and a half miles southwest of Cisco, opened with good attendance Sunday morning and the pastor, Rev. R. A. English, expects a successful meeting. Rev. Tandy Martin of Carbon is assisting the pastor. Mrs. Ed Townsend plays the piano and Mrs. Ed Callahan directs the singing.

What is now known as Bethel church has had a most interesting history, having been established in 1890 as Pisgah church, the ground being donated by J. W. Brown. This building was repaired in 1912 and remained in use until 1937, when it was moved to the present site under the leadership of Rev. G. M. Meglasson, who served as pastor four years, or until his death. The name Bethel was adopted when the church was moved to its present site and the ground on which it is located was donated by Mrs. W. T. Leveridge.

Before the erection of Pisgah church there was a group of Methodists in that area known as the Old Rock Hole organization, which was very active and was composed of many of the leading families of the county. But two of that early-day group are left—Mrs. J. W. Brown and Mrs. A. C. Alvey, both living on route four, Cisco. The latter, better known as Mrs. Betty Alvey, is the oldest member of Bethel church and probably the oldest person in Eastland county, being 97 years of age. She was born May 31, 1846 in Dallas, Ark. and came to Texas when five years of age. She moved to Eastland county when 30 years old and has lived here continuously for 67 years.

Among the names on the Old Rock Hole roster were the following: Major Munn, Doc Mitchell, Joe Brown, Reuben Leveridge, Ira Townsend, Willis Coart, Tom Lane, Sam Speagle, Bob Howard, J. W. Brown and A. C. Alvey.

Pastors serving Pisgah church in the early days included Rev. W. A. Gilliland, 1894; Rev. J. B. Elder, 1895; Rev. A. B. Roberts, 1896; Rev. C. D. West, 1897-98; Rev. C. E. Statham, 1899-1900; E. H. Smith served as elder from 1894 through 1896 and E. F. Boone was elder during 1898 and 1899.

SUNDAY SWIMMING PROGRAM PLEAS'D CROWD

Sunday was a most satisfactory day at Lake Cisco from the point of attendance and patronage of the swimming pool, says Monroe Sweeney, manager. And all present thoroughly enjoyed the swimming and diving program put on by experts from Camp Bowie. The crowd would have been much larger had the transportation facilities been better.

Sgt. Charles Chizmadia, Company B, 35th armored regiment, Camp Bowie, was here for his second appearance and thrilled the crowd with his spectacular performances from the tall diving tower that stands in the center of the 16-foot water at that point.

Staff Sgt. James Sheldon, Company B, 745th tank battalion, also from Camp Bowie, and a former swimming instructor at a Boston (Mass.) Y. M. C. A., was also present and participated in the program to the delight of the audience. Both men are experts in diving and swimming. They will be here again next Sunday, Mr. Sweeney said.

GOVERNOR STEVENSON'S PROCLAMATION URGES RETURN OF DEPOSIT BOTTLES. In the proclamation, just issued by Governor Stevenson, Texans are urged, during the month of August, to conserve the existing supply of returnable deposit bottles by returning them promptly to the dealers. Governor Stevenson's proclamation points out that the general public, by returning idle milk, carbonated beverage, and beer bottles, which can be sterilized for civilian re-use, will permit the glass industry to reuse even more of its facilities for the manufacture of glass containers for food, and other items, required by the armed forces at home and abroad. Mrs. Margaret McDuffie, the Governor's personal secretary, was photographed with him at the time the proclamation was signed.

DESERT SHIPS—No, the camel isn't about to be taken for a ride. His Arab master peers into interior of new A-36 fighter-bomber, somewhere in North Africa, while clinging to the beast's bridle. PRESS WANTS NEWS OF ALL SOLDIER BOYS

The Daily Press has received many compliments in recent months for the amount of space given to the young men of the Cisco area who are serving their country with the armed forces. This information, in many instances, is very difficult to obtain and the task grows harder as reportorial and other newspaper departments are depleted on account of the war. However, the Daily Press herewith renews its solicitation of all news pertaining to soldiers from Eastland and nearby counties. Write the soldier's name plainly, give his age, when inducted, next of kin and all other interesting data as accurately as possible.

Mistakes will always creep into the columns of newspapers, though every effort be made to avoid them. As an example, the article carried in the Press Sunday morning relative to Staff Sgt. J. L. Stafford, just home from England after a wonderful experience with the Army air forces there, stated that Stafford made all of

CAPT. ST. JOHN ACCIDENT VICTIM, N. AFRICA

Friends of Capt. John St. John, 26, who is with the U. S. army forces in North Africa, will be sorry to learn that he was accidentally injured on July 21 and was classed as seriously injured on July 23.

This information was contained in a message received by his wife at the home of her mother, Mrs. N. N. Rosequest, in Eastland. In a telephone conversation with the wife at noon today, she told the Daily Press that no further word had been received regarding her husband, but that she was hopeful.

Captain St. John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Will St. John of Dallas and grandson of the late R. A. St. John of Cisco, was born and reared here and his many local friends trust better news will be forthcoming soon.

ARIZONA VISITOR PUT HIS OK ON CISCO

Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Davis and children of Bisbee, Ariz., who have been visiting his mother, Mrs. D. C. Davis, 1063 W. Tenth street, the past two weeks, departed for home Monday.

This was Dr. Davis' first visit here and he was much impressed with Cisco as a residence town, frankly stating that he thought he would rather live here than anywhere else, were it not for the fact that he has built up a fine practice in Arizona. He is an osteopathic physician.

His mother, 86, who moved here from San Angelo last December and bought a home, is also enthusiastic about the Cisco climate, the unusually fine drinking water and the friendly citizenship. From a health angle she finds a great deal of difference between Cisco and San Angelo, the son stated.

While here, Dr. Davis spent considerable time fishing at Lake Cisco and said he was well rewarded for his fishing efforts.

SON OF FORMER CISCO COUPLE FELL 4 FLOORS

Buster Brown, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Brown, former Ciscoans, fell from a fourth floor window of Cliff Towers hotel, Dallas, late Saturday afternoon and sustained three skull fractures. A flood light is said to have broken the little fellow's fall, else death might have been instantaneous.

No other bones were broken and information received in Cisco is that the fractures are not causing pressure on the brain, which gives hope of recovery, although the child was still unconscious this morning.

The boy is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Rupe of Cisco and his mother is the former Miss Laura Rupe of this city. His father was formerly manager of the Laguna hotel here and is now manager of Cliff Towers hotel. The grandparents have come to Dallas.

LIEUT. MOORE IS SERIOUSLY ILL IN ALASKA

Carl Tom Moore, 25, son of Mrs. W. W. Moore and a second lieutenant with the army air forces in Alaska, is seriously ill as result of an injury received on July 27th.

The government message to Mrs. Moore was received yesterday and stated she would be further advised as reports of the young man's condition are received.

Lieutenant Moore was born in Cisco and graduated from Cisco high school. He entered the air corps in March, 1942, and was sent to Alaska last April. He is one of Cisco's most popular young men and friends join his mother and brothers in the hope that he will soon be on the way back to good health.

PICNIC FOR TWO EMPLOYEES J. C. PENNEY

In a picnic at Lake Cisco last night employees of the J. C. Penney company store honored John C. Penn, who leaves tomorrow for Camp Wolters for induction into the army, and Miss Golda Warren, who leaves the employ of the company August 15 to prepare for entering the University of Texas in September.

Various games were played by the group and some guests until time for the cats, when fried chicken and all the trimmings of salad, cookies and other items were produced.

Mr. Penn has been with the company since 1935 and is now assistant to Manager Austin Flint.

Miss Warren has worked during school vacation periods at various times and is now cashier and bookkeeper. Mr. Flint says he will miss both of these employees on account of the fact that it is very difficult to replace trained and efficient help such as these.

Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. John C. Penn, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Warren and Miss Golda, Miss Eula Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Hope Starr and daughter, Miss Hope; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weiser and daughter, Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Milner and sons Jack and Gene; Mr. and Mrs. Austin Flint and daughter, Jane; Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Rutherford of Terrell, Texas, parents of Mrs. Flint; Mrs. B. B. Sones and Mrs. Jerry; Fred Steffy, Jack Garrett, Mrs. Vida Stephens and Gloria Jean Dixon, guest of Miss Hope Starr.

While here, Dr. Davis spent considerable time fishing at Lake Cisco and said he was well rewarded for his fishing efforts.

LATEST ADVANCES DESCRIBED AS VIRTUALLY OVER A CARPET OF NAZI DEAD; PACE IS FAST

NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 3.—Allied troops plunged through rugged and roadless Eastern Sicily today in a general advance all along the 65-mile Axis defensive arc, crushing stiffened resistance and shoving Italo-German defenders deeper into the island's northeastern corner.

The ground fighting was the fiercest since the Allies first swarmed ashore on the south shore of Sicily a little more than three weeks ago. The latest Allied advances were described in field dispatches as virtually over a carpet of German dead.

Military observers in London said the pace of the Allied advance threatened to overwhelm all Axis resistance in Sicily within the next few days.

Pacing the all-out offensive to drive the Axis forces into the sea, Canadian troops pushed seven miles eastward from Agrig and captured Regabuto, one of the western anchors of the Mt. Etna line, yesterday. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's communique revealed.

Farther north, the U. S. Seventh Army captured Cerami, seven miles northeast of Nicosia, and Capizzi, four miles to the northwest, and drove on toward the vital road junction of Troina, 13 miles farther east and another anchor point on the Mt. Etna line.

Another American force rolling along the northern coastal road toward San Fratello was within 60 air miles of Messina.

The British Eighth Army drove ahead against stern German resistance, bursting out on the western end of the Catania plain at a point north of Rammacca, and widening and deepening their bridgehead on the north bank of the Dittaino river west of Catania.

In the air, British Wellingtons took over the offensive against Italy's big supply and reinforcement port of Naples, blasting its docks, railway yards, and harbor installations with hundreds of block busters, while medium and fighter bombers strafed and bombed troop concentrations and supply roads.

A dispatch from an advanced Allied airdrome said the Germans were blowing up the remaining forward dumps in the Mt. Etna region, an indication that they do not hold out much hope of prolonged resistance. An unusually large number of Axis ships also was reported gathering in Messina Strait, but there was no immediate sign of whether these were to be used for an escape attempt or to reinforce the faltering armies in their last stand.

BOHANAN WAS POLIO VICTIM BADLY WOUND-FATHER FOR ED IN SICILY SECOND TIME

Mrs. Leonard C. Bohanan received a cablegram Saturday announcing that her husband, Sgt. Leonard C. Bohanan, had been seriously wounded in battle. He is with the 45th division in Sicily and was recently awarded the purple heart.

Sergeant Bohanan is a son-in-law of Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Moad and his wife and baby are making their home here with her parents while he is with the colors.

TEN MINUTES BEFORE MIDNIGHT

Charles T. Lacey, staff writer for the New York World Telegram, in describing a ride in the cab of a transcontinental freight locomotive, was painted in words a picture of wartime railroading that hits the imagination with thundering power. "It was 10 minutes short of midnight when the arc of the brakeman's lantern, a flashing pinpoint of light more than a half-mile back, gave the green signal. Slowly the throttle eased back. Thousands of horsepower throbbled in steel casings.

With a barely perceptible start, 7,000,000 pounds of war cargo was rolling. The main was brilliantly full. The big train picked its way through a labyrinth of switches like an elephant wading a tightrope.

To the men in the engine cab, there was nothing dramatic about it. The man at the throttle lit a cigar; his fireman looked back over the crawling train. Here was stuff that in a few days would be feeding into Pacific Coast airplane plants and shipyards and a little later headed out across the ocean to American men waiting for the weapons of war.

Eight miles out and the cabs of the first opposing train showed. Still miles from each other, in a couple of minutes the engines were racing toward each other—on the same track it seemed. The searchlight came straight at us, a giant tracer bullet in the night. The engineer's face was set and none in the cab spoke. Just as it seemed sure to meet us, it roared past on another track.

More than a hundred miles later the steel monster came to rest for a moment and the dazed observer climbed down to record an experience that few people will ever enjoy. He had seen a single train with millions of pounds of priceless war materials snake through mile-and-a-half high passes. He had witnessed the expert touch of the engineer's hand on throttle and brake that nursed those millions of pounds up and down long punishing grades where a miscalculation in speed meant tragedy.

No few of us will ever ride in the cab of a locomotive. But the word picture of the railroads at work, recorded by one man who did, should help us all to grasp the magnitude of present-day railroading.

HARLEM NEGROES CAUSE LOTS DAMAGE

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Six Negroes were killed, 543 persons injured, including forty-four policemen, and more than 500 arrested in sixteen hours of rioting in Harlem Monday. Wild smashing of shop windows and looting of stores owned by both Negroes and whites marked the disorders.

An estimate that Harlem merchants suffered $3,000,000 in property losses through looting and damage to their stores, came from Matthew J. Elder, executive secretary of the uptown chamber of commerce.

He described the damage as five times worse than in similar disorders in 1935, when, he said, damage was estimated at $1,000,000. Rev. A. Clayton Powell, pastor

NIMROD REVIVAL WAS A FINE SUCCESS

The Nimrod Baptist church, Rev. C. R. Myrick pastor, has just closed one of the most successful revivals in its history. The meeting was conducted by Rev. Russell Dennis of Cisco. Pastor Myrick made the statement that "Mr. Dennis is one of the most spiritual preachers I ever worked with, and each message was powerful and carried with it the spirit of a soul winner."

The crowds increased from the first service and it was said by old-timers that the largest crowd ever to attend a revival at Nimrod was present at the Saturday night service. The Sunday school had its full enrollment present Sunday morning, which is unusual. There were 18 additions to the church and twelve of these were for baptism. The Nimrod church is rated as

Martin Fleischmann, German aviator in World War I, is the inventor of a new special steel which enables United Nations airplanes to fly above effective anti-aircraft fire. Upper right shows Fleischmann as he looks today.

SCIENTIST INVENTS NEW STEEL TO BOOST U. S. AIRPLANE CEILINGS!

Was German Aviator In Last War.

CANTON, OHIO. — Forty-six year old, German World War I veteran Martin Fleischmann stood quietly in the background here today watching a huge press forging red-hot steel ingots into the proper shape at The Timken Roller Bearing Company's plant. The steel looked like any other chunk of steel—innocent enough—but it is giving German military strategists, their air force fliers, and anti-aircraft gunners a headache. For a few pounds of it used in a vital part of a turbo-supercharger enable our bombers and fighters to fly at altitudes above the effective range of anti-aircraft fire.

one thousand billion marks were worth 25 American cents. Fleischmann became discouraged with German economy and so disgusted with German politics that he came to America in 1924. He arrived in New York City without friends to help him become established and with only $300 in his pocket. Knowing how to speak English only well enough to mispronounce it, the former Professor of Science became a truck driver's helper. He jumped from one job to another, but finally found employment in his profession with a large Pittsburgh steel company. From Pittsburgh he came to Canton in 1928 to take charge of the Metallographic Laboratory of the Timken Company, where he has made many contributions in the field of metallographic research. Three years ago American aircraft engineers realized that if a special, tough, heat-resistant steel for a vital part of the turbo-supercharger could be developed, it would add thousands of feet to American aircraft ceilings. The call for this steel went out. Fleischmann, remembering the security he enjoyed as a pilot of the German high altitude observation plane, went to work at once to provide the necessary steel. He was successful, even beyond his fondest hopes. So successful that American airplanes now fly above effective anti-aircraft fire. The altitudes they can reach are so great that German fighter planes cannot rise above American planes now rapidly becoming equipped with superchargers made from the ex-German aviator's steel. It is paying tremendous dividends in lives saved and planes that come back to fight again over the empires dominated by Germany and Japan.
