TOM MAXWELL FOR MER CITIZEN, IS DEAD

Tom Maxwell, 41, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Maxwell and former well known and popular Cisco resident, died suddenly in Houston Saturday. His death came while on a visit to his sisters in Houston—Mrs. Emma Ruth and Misses Elizabeth and Ruth Maxwell. His widow and the three sisters are the only immediate survivors.

News of Mr. Maxwell's death came in a telephone message from Mrs. Butler to Mr. and Mrs. George P. Fee, with the added information that the body would be shipped to Cisco for burial.

Funeral will be held at the first Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon with interment in Oakwood cemetery. Rev. Leslie W. Seymour will officiate.

The body will arrive here on the Sunshine Sunday afternoon and will rest at Green funeral home until Monday afternoon.

ROMINGER SERIOUSLY HURT ON WAR FRONT

Mr. G. R. Whitney of Breckenridge has received word that his son, Capt. James C. Rominger, 27 years old and a native of Cisco, was seriously wounded in action on the Italian front.

Captain Rominger, a grandson of Mrs. Mattie Robinson of Cisco, was born and reared here but is a graduate of Breckenridge high school and graduated from A. and M. college in 1941. He immediately joined the colors and received further training at Fort Sill. He has been overseas two years.

Captain Rominger's father, C. V. Rominger, has made his home in California for a number of years.

MEGLASSON AT HOME.

Mr. George Meglasson, native of Cisco and son of Mrs. C. E. Meglasson, who arrived Wednesday from his former station at Camp Wallace, Tex., will depart Monday for his new assignment at Camp Stewart, Ga., where he will be attached to the anti-aircraft artillery training center. Camp Wallace is gradually being liquidated, the Ciscoan said, while Camp Stewart is becoming one of the larger training centers.

Mrs. Curtis Cofield of Dallas visited her cousin, Mrs. A. P. Clayton here Wednesday and Thursday. The visitor's husband, Major Cofield, a bomber pilot, is now stationed in England.

HAT'S IN RING—The major parties may not have selected their candidates yet, but the National Prohibition Party is set for the 1944 presidential race with Claude Watson of Los Angeles nominated to fight the "liquor power."

CITIZENS SHOW APPRECIATION IN NICE WAY

In a nice gesture of gratitude to the volunteer fire department of Cisco for its good work in saving their home from destruction by fire recently, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clements entertained members of that body at dinner at the Mobley Hotel Friday evening. A few other invited guests were present, among them Mayor Edward Lee, Fire Commissioner George Boyd and City Secretary George W. Downie.

During the excellent turkey dinner, Mr. Clements thanked the firemen for their quick response and skilled work whereby their home was only partially damaged when it might easily have been wiped out completely at a time when homes and home furnishings are so difficult to replace.

Fred Grist, fire chief, made a brief but very appropriate response and the mayor and fire commissioner also made timely remarks.

Cisco volunteer fire department at present consists of 22 men and 19 were present, as follows: Fred Grist, chief; Arlin Agnew, assistant chief; H. O. Anderson, C. L. Tume, A. W. Watson, J. J. Collins, Howell Sledge, C. R. Hightower, Jodie Baker, Jack Norman, Joe Britain, Clyde Weathers, W. W. Sledge, Jay Garrett, E. S. Townsend, Don Rupe, Charles Perce, Charles Huntington and S. B. Parks. Firemen unable to be present were J. T. Waddell, John Sledge and Charles Dendy.

HEALTH DATA SHOWS CISCO AREA TIPTOP

In a report to Cisco city commission, Dr. W. P. Lee, city health officer, submitted the following communication relative to Cisco and the surrounding area:

At present there are numerous cases of colds and flu in Cisco and nearby areas. They are quite severe in some cases, but no deaths from these causes have been reported. As far as I have been able to learn, pneumonia has seldom followed the catarrhal affection. Present epidemic in no way approaches in severity the epidemic of 1917-18.

During 1942 there were 80 births and 45 deaths in Cisco; 19 births and eight deaths in justice precinct 6.

In 1943 there were 87 births and 56 deaths in Cisco; 15 births and 12 deaths in justice precinct 6.

In 1942 five homes were quarantined—five for scarlet fever and four for diphtheria.

In 1943 six homes were quarantined—one for scarlet fever and five for diphtheria.

People are slowly learning that prevention is better than cure and are overcoming their fear of serums and taking advantage of treatments offered.

Complaints of unsanitary conditions are few and those reported have been corrected.

I wish to thank city officials and all others with whom I have dealt as health officer for their help and cooperation during 1943. I shall strive to do my whole duty as I see it and will consider it a favor to be allowed to consult with any one and hear suggestions on how to improve the sanitary condition of Cisco.

DR. W. P. LEE,
City Health Officer.

TRAINING CLINIC.

The annual training union clinic will be held at First Baptist church Wednesday, starting at 2 p. m. The meeting will be conducted by Mr. Hearne of Nashville, Tenn. Other workers will include Rev. and Mrs. Henry Littleton and Rev. L. L. Trott, the latter a district training union leader.

COMMISSIONED—Staff members of Chinese Blood Bank in New York receive officers' commissions in the Chinese Army from Consul General Dr. Tsune-Chi Yu. Bank, staff and equipment will leave for China to be set up on Yunnan front.

MANPOWER—Leathernecks and Coastguardsmen pull a jeep through surf at Cape Gloucester, New Britain, while Marine driver at wheel is ready to take over on land. Other vehicles await their turn to splash down ramp of LST.

P. C. KING IS DEAD.

Former Cisco friends will regret to learn of the death of P. C. King, 53, who lived here from early childhood until his removal from the city in 1923. He died at his home at Harmony, near Brownfield, very suddenly, and

BERLIN BY SUMMER.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Allied invasion forces from the west will be in Berlin by Summer, ahead of the Russians, Maj. Peter W. Ranier, 55, of the famous British 8th Army, said Friday. The major, retired because of age, is in the U. S. on a lecture tour.

JAP UNIVERSITY TEACHER WILL ADDRESS LIONS

Next Wednesday's Lion luncheon has been "cleared" open house so far as anyone in Cisco being invited to attend, according to the mandate of President R. W. McCauley. He especially emphasized the fact that ladies are expected to be present and hear an outstanding visitor, Prof. James N. Course of Fair Worth, who is to be the guest speaker.

Prof. Course is a veteran of World War I. In 1928 he went to Japan to teach and lecture in various universities there. He had just returned to the United States a few days when the sneak attack was made on Pearl Harbor.

As a professor of economics, English and foreign trade in the Methodist college at Tokyo, the Japanese University of Tokyo, this distinguished man had a ring-side seat at the fight for control between the Japanese army and the liberal government. He saw the fight grow more bitter until the army finally won out to carry Japan into a war with America against civilization.

So many people had expressed a desire to hear the speaker that President McCauley decided on a meeting open to all who cared to attend the luncheon. Price of the luncheon is 50 cents. The club meets at 12:10 at Hotel Laguna.

DALLAS, Jan. 14.—More than 500 Dallas businessmen are expected to hear Governor Stevenson speak at a dinner meeting of the Dallas Citizens' Council Tuesday night. Theme of the meeting will be "God grants liberty only to those who love it and are always ready to guard and defend it."

MESSERSCHMIDT PLANE FACTORY THE TARGET OF HEAVY EXPLOSIVES AND FIRE BOMBS

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Britain's biggest bombers, following up the devastating American assault, dropped more than 2240 tons of explosives and fire bombs on the German aircraft center of Brunswick last night while Mosquitoes pounded Berlin and Madgeburg.

Hundreds of the RAF's four-engined heavyweights blasted and seared Brunswick from end to end in an assault obviously designed to erase the city of some 200,000 persons and its Messerschmitt aircraft plant.

While American bombers concentrated their entire weight of bombs on the Messerschmitt factory and probably destroyed all but one plant in their record precision attack Tuesday, the British night raiders sought to blot out Brunswick's housing, communications, warehouses and subsidiary industries, as well as to complete the destruction of the plane works.

Huge fires were left burning, the Air Ministry announced.

The big night bombers again feinted toward Berlin in an attempt to confuse enemy defenses, then suddenly hit Brunswick, 125 miles to the west, while Mosquitoes went on to hit the Nazi capital and Madgeburg, 80 miles southwest of Berlin.

Thirty-eight bombers were lost in all raids, the Air Ministry said.

Air raid sirens sounded in Berlin shortly after 8 p. m., the Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet said, and the attack lasted about a half hour. Damage appeared concentrated in the southern suburbs.

The raids on Brunswick was believed one of the most concentrated ever made by the RAF with about a ton of bombs dropped for every 100 persons in the city. In addition to its Messerschmitt works, the city has a number of engineering and armament plants and factories turning out tractors, motorcycles, and railway signals.

British bombers also attacked the French invasion coast last night in a follow-up to yesterday's 1100-plane daylight assault, which a joint U. S. Army-British Air Ministry communique said achieved "good results."

A single German plane, striking back at London last night, dropped a bomb on a theater where 3500 persons were watching a movie, but only seven persons were killed and 31 injured. The bomb, apparently of small caliber, crashed through the roof and exploded in the center of the orchestra.

MOSCOW, Jan. 15.—Russian armored shock troops swept more than 20 miles through the Pripet Marshes beyond captured Mozyr today, wiping out the remnants of the fleeing garrison and setting a trap for thousands of additional Germans.

Marshal Rokossovsky sent one column of his White Russian forces rolling west along the Mozyr-Pinsk highway, another surging along the parallel Kalinkovichi-Pinsk railway and a third fanning out southwest toward a junction with the 1st Ukrainian Army that would encircle perhaps tens of thousands of the enemy.

Both Mozyr and Kalinkovichi, the latter six miles to the north were captured by Rokossovsky yesterday and his cavalry and ski patrols, striking deep into the enemy rear, killed nearly all of the German survivors who had escaped from the twin cities at the gateway to the Pinsk corridor through the Pripet Marshes.

Pressing on in hot pursuit, Rokossovsky's main forces seized Skrygalovo, 20 miles southwest of Mozyr on the highway to Pinsk, Kotsury, 13 miles west of Kalinkovichi on the Gomel-Pinsk railway, and 40 other towns and villages in lightning blows that pulverized the last enemy strongholds in southern White Russia.

While the White Russian spearheads smashed to within 115 miles east of Pinsk at Skrygalovo, Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's 1st Ukrainian Army pushed up the Sarny-Pinsk railway to within 40 miles of the regional center from the south, gradually tightening a noose around enemy forces floundering through the marshes.

Front dispatches said Russian patrols and guerillas, in daring night raids, were slaying Germans by the hundreds in the bogs and woods of the marshlands. Hundreds of others drowned as they sought escape across thinly-iced bogs.

GROWTH OF CITIES.

Dean Walter T. MacCormack of our school of administration at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, addressing a group of students, remarked that in 1900 only 22% of the United States had a population as great as 250,000. That great 250,000 was then a city of 250,000. Now there are 2200 cities, five of more than a million, 17 of more than 500,000. The urban areas have increased from five per cent of the population to 56 per cent.

Dean MacCormack asked: "How do we control cities? How do we permit our people to live in conditions of overcrowding when there is no green space left in our cities?" He readily admits that many people live in conditions of overcrowding at home, but under conditions of bright light, moving through air and a general feeling of freedom to other folks. So the architect planning for the future must consider the human requirements which bring to give every family enough space and health.

Two other factors contribute to the growth of cities. One is that people go where jobs are. Factories and mills tend to centralize the living of those who work in them, and one factory tends to attract another. The other factor is the comparative ease of city living. The country compares with the city only when it offers something better in the home and good roads to get people to most other people. It needs low overhead, schools, stores and amusements.

ARCTIC OIL.

Petroleum has always been scarce, and it seems as if there always has to be some kind of unusual conquest with new oil fields. But it would be unfortunate if possible worlds about the Canadian oil program should produce the American public against oil ventures in general. For when and howsoever we can see there really are extensive petroleum fields in northern Canada, which are destined to become important to the Arctic region. William E. Frost has an interesting article about it in the January Harper's Magazine, which will hardly be supposed of any improper look-up with an explanation.

There must have been a time when the Alaskan was hunted up against the Arctic Circle. The facts are plentiful "oil messages" and other occurrences of a tropical climate millions of years ago. The region around St. Barrow and Mackenzie Bay would hardly have been regarded by the United States Navy to the extent of 20,000 square miles if there were not pretty good reasons for it. The Russians and Canadians are interested too, in the oil resources in their territories along the Arctic Circle. Mr. Frost says Alaska is a very interesting area for oil, and that petroleum "has contained an area of 20,000 square miles along their Arctic coastline, regarded as promising for petroleum."

LOU HENRY HOOVER.

With the passing of Mrs. Herbert Hoover there leaves the American scene not only a devoted lady who charmed all who knew her, but one of the first women in public life who was not only a wife to the old-fashioned sense, but a real partner of her husband in the intellectual side. Mrs. Hoover was collaborated with her husband in a famous translation of a sixteenth century work on metallurgy. Their marriage was based on a community of interest in far more than the ordinary sense.

As the education of women comes nearer par with that of men, more wives work with their husbands in some exalted activity. More marriages grow out of work co-operative labors. The Hoovers are illustrative examples of this tendency, but they have many humbler followers in equally successful matrimonial unions.

The nation extends sympathy to ex-President Hoover. It, too, is the poorer for the passing of Lou Henry Hoover, but the richer for her having lived.

There Is No Substitute for Safety---

It is not always wise to take the short cut. At first thought it may appear convenient and cheaper to do so, but that depends on the risk involved. For example, it is both dangerous and costly to take the short cut and purchase lands and town properties without knowing something about the title. Play safe. Buy only good titles proved to be good by the abstract.

DEMOCRACY IN THE CRUCIBLE TOPIC TONIGHT

The series of forum discussions at First Methodist church began last Sunday night with very encouraging enthusiasm, says the pastor, Rev. Leslie Seymour. The general theme of these evening meetings is "The Coming Peace and the Prince of Peace," which is a topic of major emphasis throughout the Methodist church in America.

Tonight at 7:30 the specific theme for discussion will be "Democracy in the Crucible." Three lay members will bring brief talks, followed by an informal period of questions and comments from the congregation. The service will open with the usual order of songs and prayers. These discussions are not mere political considerations of current affairs, but an effort to relate the thinking of Christian people to the pressing problems which are inescapable, said Mr. Seymour.

Next Sunday night the theme will be "Better Understanding between the Races of the World."

A TIME FOR TAKING STOCK FOR NEW YEAR ACTIVITIES

Preparatory to beginning the farm activities, the farmer sees to it that his machinery and equipment is in good repair --- ready for the year's work. He goes over his tractor and other farm tools, mending them where needed so that when the real work of ploughing or other uses come, there will be no necessity for stopping.

As businessmen, we have work to do. We must see to it that everything is in readiness for the year's business. Stocks and inventories must be taken and diminished supplies renewed if possible. Orders must be written and all obligations wiped out, if possible, so that the businessman may not be handicapped by lack of credit.

In addition to our regular business we also have a war to win. Extra efforts must be made to provide for the bonds and taxes that must be paid in order that our government may be able to carry on. We must be ready for the duties and obligations that will develop. Are we ready?

Let's "All" Back the Attack

Again, we of the Motion Picture Industry consider ourselves privileged to do a job. A job important beyond measure on the home front, but insignificant and small by comparison with the sacrifice other Americans are making on every front—dying in mud and grime in the struggle for your freedom and mine. None of us are looking for glory or cheers. We're just trying to do our duty and live up to the right of calling ourselves Americans.

Let's do a job which will make all of us proud. Then, when the boys come home, we can look them straight in the eye, knowing that we, too, did our duty.

It is our job to sell Bonds, millions of them, and it's up to you, Mr. and Mrs. Public, to buy them and, starting January 18, every time you enter this Theater, BUY A BOND. WON'T YOU?

-FREE!-

We will give FREE Movie Tickets with every Bond you buy.
