JAP SEAPLANE BASE IN PACIFIC WIPED OUT

FRANCO'S NAZI MORALE IS EBBING AT ANZIO; REDS ANNIHILATING THE FOE IN SOUTHERN UKRAINE

American airmen, in widespread sweeps over the Pacific, are said to have destroyed the main town on Ponape, Japanese island base 450 miles east of Truk, and opened assaults on enemy positions near newly-conquered Talasea on the Willaumez Peninsula of New Britain.

Ponape, with a population of 10,000 on the island of the same name, was knocked out in raids which started Feb. 21 with an incendiary bomb attack. The seaplane base was wrecked so completely that it has been decommissioned.

Every building at the seaplane base, together with its concrete ramp, was reported destroyed or damaged in the heaviest raid on the island, Feb. 25. Seventh Air Force Liberators hit the island again Wednesday for the fifth time in eight days, concentrating on Ponape's fighter base and dock facilities.

On New Britain, approximately 700 miles to the south-west in the Bismarck Archipelago, American fliers attacked enemy positions below Talasea, which U. S. Marines captured Thursday in a rapid four-way conquest of northern Willaumez Peninsula.

Seizure of the peninsula's principal base gave the Americans their third base on New Britain in the drive toward Rabaul, 170 miles to the northeast at the tip of the island.

The Marines also held positions at Rein Bay, 58 miles from Cape Gloucester on the north coast, and at a point 35 miles from Arawe on the south coast. The entire southern coast was bombed by American pilots, who concluded their sweep by dumping 134 tons of bombs on Rabaul.

The Japanese attacked American positions near Empress Augusta Bay on Bougainville in the Solomons, but were thrown back after they broke through barbed-wire entanglements and occupied a few machinegun pillboxes.

The American lines quickly were re-established and during the fighting U. S. artillery silenced or destroyed an estimated 27 enemy guns.

NAPLES, March 11.—American troops have beaten back another enemy infiltration attack southeast of Aprilia, it was disclosed today as Nazi prisoners reported that German morale had sunk to a low ebb as a result of their failure to fulfill Adolf Hitler's order to eliminate the Anzio beachhead.

The American 45th Division and the British Second Field Regiment of Royal Artillery "have distinguished themselves" in recent fighting on the beachhead, it was announced officially.

Activity on the beachhead was limited with moderate harassing by opposing artillery. A German patrol of 11 men was captured in the vicinity of Littoria while two German self-propelled guns firing against Allied positions southeast of Aprilia were forced to withdraw.

Prisoners described the beachhead fighting as "hellish" with the Allied artillery fire said to be worse than that hurled at the Germans on the Russian front, Nazi morale also slipped because of the Luftwaffe's failure over the beachhead where Allied planes dominate the sky.

MOSCOW.—The Russians waged perhaps the greatest battle of annihilation of the war along a 535-mile front in the southern Ukraine today after destroying a major portion if not all of Germany's armor east of Vinnitsa in the third major Soviet breakthrough within a week.

Three Red armies were hammering the Germans back toward Poland, Rumania and the Black Sea in a triple synchronized offensive from Tarnopol, where a fierce street battle was under way, to Khristoforovka, only 21 miles northeast of Nikolaev.

The offensive apparently was designed as the final, supreme effort to clear the enemy completely from the Ukraine.

Marshal Ivan S. Konev's 2nd Ukrainian army was revealed to have joined the all-out campaign five days ago with a smashing drive that penetrated up to 44 miles along a 109-mile front between Vinnitsa and Krivoi Rog.

Konev's forces willed 20,000 Germans, captured 2500, routed 14 infantry, tank and artillery divisions of more than 190,000 men and captured 300 towns and villages. The impact of the Russian thrust, made over swamps and muddy roads, so surprised the Germans that they abandoned their weapons in headlong retreat.

More than 500 tanks and self-propelled guns, including 200 60-ton Tiger Panzers and Ferdinand guns, were captured alone.

Soviet press dispatches said the Russians are hard on the heels of Nazi troops fleeing beyond Uman "in one of the biggest routs the Germans have suffered in the Ukraine." The roads for miles are crowded with abandoned German material, said one dispatch.

M'CANLIES IS MISSING IN ITALY

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. McCannies received a telegram from the war department Friday night that their son, First Lieut. Willard G. McCannies, bomber navigator in Italy, has been missing since February 12. The message expressed regrets and stated that when further information is secured it will be passed to the parents immediately.

Lieutenant McCannies is 28 years of age, was born here and is a graduate of Cisco high school. He came home last September for a visit with his parents and many friends preparatory to going overseas.

McCannies entered the service Feb. 21, 1942, and was first stationed at Camp Crowder, Mo., then at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. From there he was transferred to the air corps, going to Santa Ana, Calif., in July, 1942. In October of 1942 he was sent to Albuquerque, N. M., and received his bombardier wings there in January, 1943. In May, 1943, he received his navigator's wings at Selma Field, La. Before seeing action in Italy, the Ciscoan was briefly in Ireland, England and North Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. McCannies have two other sons in the service and a fourth, Preston Hale McCannies, 33, now in defense work in California, is expected to join the Marines soon. He served with the Marines from 1931 till 1935.

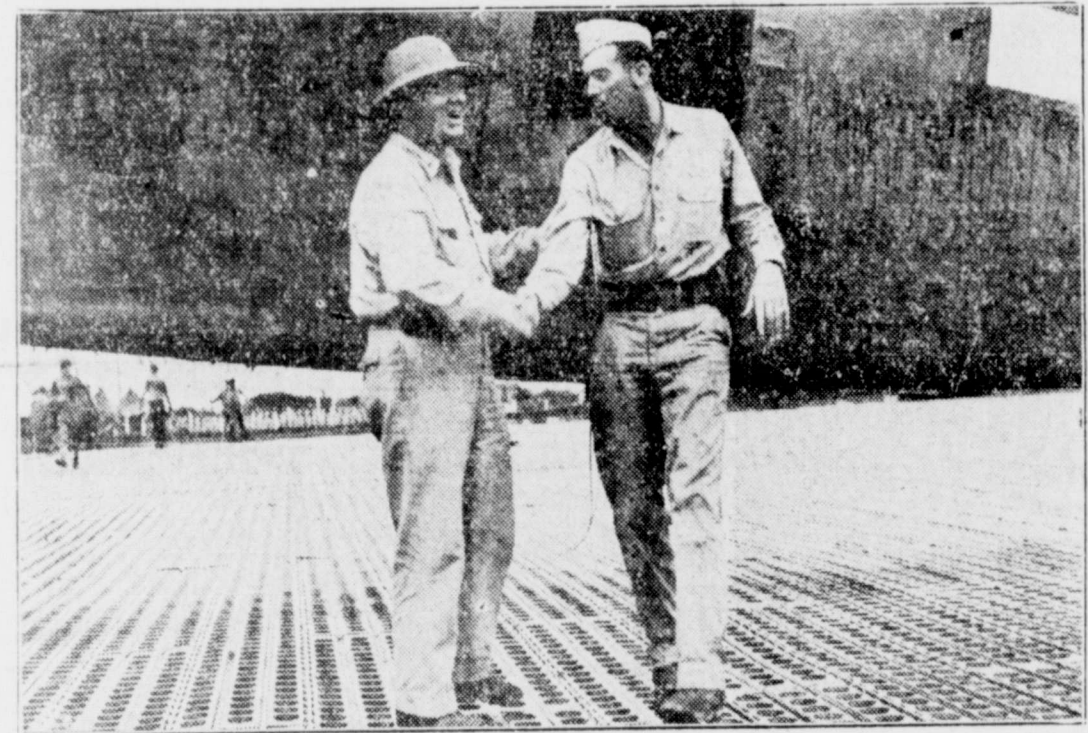

Sgt. Ralph McCannies, 22, is training for an airplane mechanic and is now in school at San Marcos, Tex. John McCannies, 17, is attending a naval air forces school in Missouri.

WATERS TELLS OF AIR LIFE OVER EUROPE

Lieut. James H. Waters of the air forces, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Waters, writes from England as follows: "Things are looking bright over here and I have an oak leaf cluster for my air medal. I have completed half of my combat tour and if the other half is as exciting as the first, I think I will have had my share of thrills and chills for life. Don't worry about me. You should know by this time that your sons are too tough to ever get knocked off by a Jerry or a Jap. "I have been on the two deepest penetration raids yet made on Germany."

INDUSTRIAL VICTORY.

This nation's greatest contributions to the war so far have been industrial and mechanical. It is a reassuring thing that they have been made so largely by the voluntary action of independent manufacturers and independent labor.

There has been, as everybody knows, some enforced or ac-dental idleness, but a rather small fraction in comparison with the big job. The Truman committee, touching on this matter, says:

"Some regulation of war production was necessary as a war measure, to win a war we feared would thrust upon the United States the regimentation of totalitarian principle of Fascist nations. Any attempt to create for peacetime production a regimentation more complicated and more difficult than that which we have had during wartime would be most unfortunate and contrary to the principles of democracy. The committee believes that we should have continued in the operation of the free democracy for which the war is being fought. The committee therefore believes that desires to make and nothing he has the facilities to make."

The testimony of this war shows that American industries won, for itself and our allies, the greatest of its victories.

LOST LEADERS.

Where are the generals of yesterday? Where are Lord

Gort, who led the British army till Dunkirk? Where are Brumby and Keitel, chiefs of the blitzkrieg? What has become of Timoshenko, Budenny and Voroshilov, Russia's earliest commanders? Come, all of them—in some cases still serving behind the lines, in others out of the army, altogether, or even dead. This was no respecter of reputations or of past achievements; and though some of these generals started brilliantly, not one is in command today.

Americans are justly proud of their military leaders; but if the war should run two or three more years and have some setbacks, new faces might be seen even in our own high command.

VALUE OF A CAPITAL.

The constant attacks on Berlin suggest that the United Nations are going to see how long German resistance will survive the destruction of their capital.

It all depends on their will to fight. Berlin was actually captured by the Russians in 1940, during the Seven Years'

War but Prussia fought on, despite the loss of her capital.

And finally won the war. In the first world war, when Paris seemed doomed, Clemenceau, the heroic French premier, said, "I shall fight in front of Paris, I shall fight in Paris,

I shall fight behind Paris." Had the French leaders in 1940 shown like resolution, France need not have lost.

How well can the Nazis stand such adversity? This year

THE UNFAIR TWIST.

A commentator remarked that a certain army hospital treated an officer's dog and it lived. It refused a bed to the young wife of an enlisted man, would not even send an ambulance, she could not get to another hospital, and died. "The implication was that the hospital chose between the officer's dog and private's wife.

The fact might have been that an officer asked a doctor friend whether he could do anything for his pup. The doctor might say he was not, but if the friend would bring the dog around when he was not, but if the friend would bring the dog around when he was not, but if the friend would bring the dog around when he was not, but if the friend would bring the

THIS IS MY COUNTRY.

Here is the dew upon the grass, the sunset past

That curves the shape of summer in the air,

And here the seed I planted comes to be

The yellow giant of corn, the fruited tree

And here the great sea spills riddles on the sand,

Like luminous shadows on the moving grass.

From hidden springs after the winter snow

This is my country. Here the rivers flow

And here the captured music in my hand.

Here is the land of winds, the mighty four

That meet outside the closing of my door;

The western wind that brings the breath of space,

And fans like leaves of green against the face;

Sweet with magnolias started along a lake;

The eastern wind that bends the lily stem

And fans above the sailor at the helm;

And here the northern wind that splits the Arctic night,

And lifts the spine of frost along its flight.

And here the faces turning one by one

Like wondering flowers, following the sun

That travels slowly from the maple tree

To the dim islands of the western sea.

As the sun moves, the myriad voices sing

Between the mountains of the winter

And the morning's spring:

Here is the valley, deep and quiet and green,

The syllable of peace my eyes have seen.

This is my country. Here the mountains say

The words they spoke upon the seventh day.

"Where Most People Trade"

Do you know ALL that the RED CROSS does, for America's loved ones in every phase and branch of the war? For one thing — it provides life-giving blood plasma on the very spot where a man lies wounded. Field directors help to settle family problems. Red Cross directs its efforts to rehabilitating the wounded; getting food and mail to the prisoners of war. Through its offices are recruited Army and Navy nurses. It operates clubmobiles for men at isolated posts; supplies emergency foreign war relief; teaches first aid; trains nurses' aides — and performs many more services that make wartime suffering less horrible — more bearable. When you give to the Red Cross War Fund you make certain that Your RED CROSS is at his side!

A Little Lesson in Abstracting—

The abstract is a written history of the title chain. If carefully prepared it will (1) definitely locate the tract under search. (2) Reveal, if possible, the true ownership. (3) Show liens, if any, and (4) the defects in the deed or other written documents. It may or may not prove the title to be good. This is the reason for the abstract and why it is necessary in every real estate transaction.
