5TH WAR QUOTA IS $725,000

$300,000 OF COUNTY'S TOTAL MUST BE OF SERIES E BONDS; CISCO'S PORTION, $164,600

Eastland, Tex., June 6, 1944. Cisco Daily Press:

By now every reading or listening citizen in this county knows that the Treasury of the United States has started the Fifth War Loan drive to sell 16 billion dollars worth of securities during the months of June and July, 1944.

This is the biggest single financial undertaking in the history of our nation.

Eastland county's part of this quota is $725,000, $300,000 of which is to be secured through the sale of Series E Bonds.

Here you may be interested in knowing that our quota for the months of January and February, 1944, for the Fourth War Loan drive, was $559,000, $275,000 of which was allotted to Series E Bonds. During that drive Eastland county purchased $740,000 of securities, $342,000 of which was represented by Series E Bonds. Here again it may be said that the county oversubscribed her third, second and first war loan quotas, and has oversubscribed each and every monthly quota from Pearl Harbor up to and including the month of May. The amounts of each and all of these last mentioned quotas are not deemed important in this connection.

The chairmen of the respective communities of this county, together with the bankers, met in Eastland on June 1 to discuss the amount and allocation of the Fifth War Loan quota and ways and means of putting the drive over with dispatch. It was the unanimous opinion of all present that the county can fully subscribe the quota and all agreed that the finances of the citizens of the county are such as to cause no undue burden on the citizenship in fully subscribing the assigned quota.

The Texas & Pacific Railway company subscribed $50,000 to be allotted to the county as a whole on each of the third and fourth war loans and your committee assumed that they would make a similar subscription for the Fifth War Loan drive. Deducting the $50,000 allotted to the Texas & Pacific Railway from the $725,000 quota leaves $675,000 which was broken down and assigned by your committee to the different communities in Eastland county, as follows:

Cisco	$164,600.00
Ranger	164,600.00
Eastland	164,600.00
Gorman	86,496.00
Rising Star	78,600.00
Carben	6,972.00
Olden	3,870.00
Desdemona	3,306.00
Pioneer	1,466.40
Scranton	489.60

The Series E quota of $300,000 was broken down and assigned as follows:

Cisco	$73,250.00
Ranger	73,250.00
Eastland	73,250.00
Gorman	38,100.00
Rising Star	34,500.00
Carben	3,100.00
Olden	1,800.00
Desdemona	1,500.00
Pioneer	700.00
Scranton	500.00

The following securities will be offered for sale:

United States Savings Bonds, Series E, F and G.

Treasury Savings Notes of Series C.

2 1/2% Treasury Bonds of 1965-70, dated February 1, 1944, bearing interest from June 26, 1944.

Treasury Bonds of 1942-54, dated June 26, 1944, maturing June 15, 1954.

1 1/4% Treasury Notes of Series B-1947, dated June 26, 1944, maturing March 15, 1947.

3/8% Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness of Series C-1945, dated June 26, 1944, maturing June 1, 1945.

Sales of Savings Bonds of Series E, F and G and Savings Notes of Series C for which settlement is made at the federal reserve banks or branches or at the treasury department between June 1 and July 31, 1944, will be counted in the drive figures. None of the other issues will be credited after July 31, 1944, to the Fifth War Loan drive. Your banker or postmaster will gladly discuss with you all the details concerning each issue and will furnish you a folder that you can take home with you fully discussing each and all of the eight securities offered.

Credit for sales of Series F and G Savings Bonds will be given to the address shown in the inscription on the bond. Sales of Series E Bonds will be credited to the location of the issuing agent except in the case of payroll employer-employee purchases which, if properly handled, by the employer, will give credit to the county in which lives the purchasing employee. Direct sales of Series E Bonds by federal reserve bank will be credited to the address shown in the inscription on the bond.

Concurrently with the Fifth War Loan drive, but not as a part of it, commercial banks will be permitted to make certain subscriptions concerning which they will be directly informed by the federal reserve bank.

Any individual, partnership, corporation or other authorized purchaser who expects to purchase any of the securities other than Series E, F, G and Savings Notes of Series C wants to be sure that you place your order with your banker in time for him to clear your application and purchase with the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, not later than July 8. In all instances, regardless of the security that you are purchasing, caution your banker or postmaster to list your purchase in such a way as your town or community will receive credit for the same.

The great push across the English Channel has started. Rome has already fallen to the onrushing armies of the Allies. This is the first great world capital taken by the Allies in this war. Many more will have to be added to the captured list before world war two can be terminated. Already our soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines have won lasting glory in battles extending to the four corners of the globe and throughout the seven seas. Many lives have already paid the supreme price. Many have been wounded and many have been taken prisoners, and yet the task immediately ahead will take greater tolls at the front and bring more and more heartaches to those at home. But the die has been cast. There will be no turning back, and we know our armed forces will do their duty as they arise from hour to hour and day to day in this awful conflict.

We who are privileged to remain at home should not delay one moment in performing any service that will help those over there. Each and every one of us now have an opportunity to perform a service and that is to go at once to our bank or post office and make arrangements to purchase our fair share of the Fifth War Loan quota for this county. In this connection the government is asking every employed person in Eastland county to invest at least $100 during the months of June and July in Series E Bonds. This is the least that is expected of anyone. Those who are able to buy more should purchase to

BAPTIST REVIVAL STARTS 8:30 TONIGHT

With all advance preparations completed, the annual revival will begin tonight at First Baptist church, when Rev. V. G. Miles, evangelist, and Joe Trussell, singer, will take charge.

Lovers of good church music who know Mr. Trussell are looking forward to hearing him again. Though the preacher,

REV. V. G. MILES.

JOE TRUSSELL.

Rev. Mr. Miles, is new to Cisco, it is predicted by Pastor Waters that he will be fully appreciated when he has been heard.

Services will be held each evening at 8:30 and each morning at 10. The meeting will continue through Sunday, June 18. A cordial welcome is extended to all, said Mr. Waters.

the full extent of their current funds and timely credit.

COMMUNITY CHAIRMAN.

Mrs. Paul M. Woods is chairman for the women's section for Eastland county and the following are the chairmen for the respective communities of Eastland county:

Ranger, W. F. Croager; Eastland, V. T. Seaberry; Cisco, R. L. Ponsler; Rising Star, W. E. Tyler; Pioneer, Lawson Cash; Scranton, J. D. Pittman; Gorman, T. G. Jackson; Gorman, Iva Underwood; Desdemona, C. S. Eldridge; Olden, Stella Jarrett.

Each and every one of these named will be glad to consult with you at any time about your security purchases.

We wish to snap into this drive and put the same over at the earliest possible moment. We are now calling on all preachers, churches, civic clubs, farm organizations, lodges, Boy Scouts and other patriotic groups of every kind and character to at once get behind this drive and make it the drive of each and every one named and of every citizen in the county until Eastland county has subscribed her quota so that the news may be flashed to the boys and girls at the front to let them know that we are backing their attack by the purchase of more bonds than ever before!

Very kindly yours,
CYRUS B. FROST,
Eastland County Chairman.
MRS. PAUL M. WOODS,
Chairman Women's Division.

Henry T. Stamey, about 39 years of age and a brother of O. L. Stamey, principal of the Cisco schools, died in a veteran's hospital at Palo Alto, Calif., at 2:25 a. m. today. He was a soldier of the first world war and had been an invalid since he was mustered out of the service after the armistice.

Mr. Stamey was born at Sipe Springs, Tex., and the body will be shipped to Cisco, care of Thomas funeral home, with burial probably at Sipe Springs, where the bodies of his parents rest.

Deceased was unmarried and immediate survivors consist of three brothers—O. L. Stamey, Cisco; C. D. and J. B. Stamey, New Orleans; two sisters—Mrs. D. W. Westerfield of Kingsville and Mrs. J. Roy Moses of Sinton, Tex.

The Cisco Lions club voted today to rescind a former action in which it voted to require meals as well as dues to be paid one month in advance, with no refunds for meals missed by absentees.

The club also gave its final vote for new officers for the year who are to take office on July 1. President L. W. Seymour stated that a special program would be given on the last luncheon day in June when these officers would be installed. Carlos J. Turner was presented a membership key by W. H. LaRoque.

Rev. James R. Wright was the guest of H. H. Tompkins, but declined to make a speech, saying he was only a visitor.

Jay Garrett made a report of his visit to the Rotary club last week, when that club declined to take action in the scrap paper drive. Acting on Lion Garrett's request for further instructions, the Lions tabled the matter for the present.

Officers elected were Carlos J. Turner, president; Harry W. Schmidt, vice-president; Geo. W. Downie, secretary; Charles Clark, assistant secretary; J. T. Egan, treasurer; A. R. Westfall, Lion tamer; M. D. Fox, tail twister; Jay Garrett, assistant tail twister; Barbara Grist, pianist; C. M. Neill and H. H. Tompkins, directors.

CHIROPRACTIC LAW VOID.

AUSTIN, June 7.—The court of criminal appeals today held that the bitterly-contested chiropractic regulatory law, passed by the last session of the legislature, is unconstitutional and void.

PARKS IN NEW GUINEA.

Corp. Gerald Parks, writing to his sister Miss Billie Parks from somewhere in New Guinea, said he was in good health and very well satisfied, though missing friends and home folks. The Cisco boy said they were getting fixed up over there and now have electric lights in all tents, a radio and a record playing machine, with a nice day room and good books to read. The letter was written May 21.

MOPPING UP—Foxhole full of dead Japs looms in front of Yank infantrymen who landed with invasion force on Wakde Island, Dutch New Guinea. Taking no chances, this American soldier keeps his Tommy gun on the alert in case Nips are playing possum.

WAVES OF ALLIED PARACHUTISTS AND MILES OF GLIDER TROOPS LAND ON FRENCH SOIL

LONDON, June 7.—Five great waves of aerial troop carriers, including a sky-train 50 miles long, poured reinforcements into the Allied beachheads in Normandy during the night, and the invasion forces were reported pushing inland today against increasingly fierce German resistance.

Another fleet of tow planes and gliders ferried additional equipment to the Cherbourg peninsula. From the night and day operations 12 gliders and 12 C-47 transport planes were missing.

American, British and Canadian assault forces firmly held pockets of undisclosed size and location along a 60-mile stretch of the northwest coast of France between Cherbourg and the Seine, and were tightening their grip on them and expanding them in heavy fighting.

A spokesman at Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters said the fighting was very heavy in some sectors of the Normandy invasion zone, and Berlin claimed that the German reserves had massed around the Allied lines during the night and now were attacking with "terrific ferocity."

Communique No. 3 of Allied Supreme Headquarters announced that "satisfactory progress has been made" and reinforcements were moving steadily into the first Allied pockets carved out of the Nazi Atlantic wall, which was penetrated in the first few hours of the invasion.

For good reasons the Allies were not telling anyone much about the invasion. If they did, it would be a godsend to the German High Command, which still does not know whether more landings are coming, and if so whether they will overshadow the current fighting.

There still was no specific word fixing the extent of the Allied successes beyond Prime Minister Winston Churchill's word yesterday that fighting was going on in the town of Caen, 9 1/2 miles inland.

British tanks and infantry were revealed to have taken a 25-mile stretch of the Normandy coast and pushed inland nearly 3 1/2 miles to cut a coast road vital to the Nazis movement of reserves.

Berlin acknowledged that the Allies had established one beachhead—possibly the one credited to the British armor troops—from Caen, 28 miles southwest of Le Havre, to Bayeux, 22 miles to the northwest.

The German Transocean Agency said the Allies had occupied a circular area between Valognes and Carentan, on the eastern side of the Cherbourg peninsula, and opened a corridor to the coast. The forces holding the pocket were reinforced by sea and air, Transocean said, but claimed German forces were counter-attacking from three sides and narrowing the pocket.

American Thunderbolt pilots returning from flights over the invasion zone said they saw Allied tanks rolling into the outskirts of one town, which was in flames.

NAPLES—Allied 5th Army columns drove more than 10 miles north and 12 miles west of Rome today, beating down disorganized Nazi rear guards in their path, and Gen. Alexander confidently declared that the strength of the German armies in central Italy has been broken.

British and American armored forces raced northward along highway 2 toward Lake Bracciano 15 miles above Rome, while infantry units swung out to the west over the Aurelian Way to within sight of the Tyrrhenian Sea, almost 15 miles north of the Tiber estuary.

Scattered German rear guards were battling to stem the advance with anti-tank guns and tank destroyers, but front reports said most of these troops were stragglers left behind by the fleeing 14th Army and rounded up for a suicide stand by their officers.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Japanese forces were thrown back on the Asia Continent and in Dutch New Guinea today by steady Allied ground attacks which sent the enemy fleeing from the Kohima area in India and brought troops of the American Sixth Army to within a mile and one half of important Mokmer airdrome on Biak Island. American columns, supported by Liberator bombers, were converging on the cliffs overlooking the approaches to Mokmer airdrome after routing Japanese snipers and machine gun nests on Mokmer Ridge.

Allied planes were active throughout the northwestern Dutch New Guinea sector, sinking two more enemy vessels west of Manokwari and shooting down one and probably three other Japanese planes over Biak.

INDUSTRIAL HUMILITY.

"We can be perfectly sure that everything we are doing is wrong," says the head of an electric company speaking of "the future of welding." And why this frank admission that an apparently successful concern is composed of mere babes in the wood? Because, he explains, industrial progress moves so fast nowadays, and it has been demonstrated so often that there is always a better technique, design or method than the one currently in use.

If all the occupations and professions had this spirit of humility, and were more interested in finding better ways than clinging to the old methods and traditions, this little old world and its people would be much farther along than they are now, in solving problems and improving life.

DO AMERICANS READ?

Are Americans a reading people? The popular idea is that they are, but Dr. George Gallup, out of his experience with polls, doubts it.

"Relatively few people, even college-educated people, read more than one book a month," he says. "It is important to bear in mind that this is the average. A few read as many as a dozen or 15 books in a month. Only one half of the college people in the country in any given week will spend any time reading a book, and for those who do, the average number of hours spent will be four."

There are, of course, other forms of reading, such as magazines and newspapers. There are also other ways of getting information, like the radio. Still Dr. Gallup's figures are disturbing. Our American form of government depends on intelligence, and in a wise utterance, now current, "a man's intelligence is no better than his information."

It is quite possible to read too much. Probably the man who reads ten books a month knows very little about what is in any of them when he gets through. But surely six or seven good books per year is not more than enough to keep the mind well-oiled and the information growing.

HELP THE SOLDIERS.

How many American citizens would be willing to sneak up to a neighbor's car after dark and siphon out his gasoline to use in their own cars? Not many, certainly, outside of a small group who make a living by stealing things and generally wind up receiving free board in the penitentiary. There may even be professional burglars and pick-pockets who wouldn't knowingly steal gasoline from a housewife who has to take her children to school, a doctor who has to visit patients, or a workman who has to get to his job.

But a citizen who deals with the black market in gasoline actually is stealing gasoline from those who need it. The total gasoline supply for the United States is limited. The deficiency is natural and is no longer due to lack of transportation. War is drinking up petroleum products—and we dare not let our war machines get thirsty for gasoline for fear that the deficit will have to be made up in blood. The black market takes from the honest who need gasoline to give to the dishonest who don't need it. It takes the equivalent of about 45 miles' driving a month from the hardest-hit motorists—those who have to depend on "A" rations.

The overwhelming majority of American motorists are honest and patriotic. So are the overwhelming majority of gasoline dealers. Neither group wants to see gasoline distribution turned into a racket. Whenever this truth is driven home, black market operations dwindle. Punishment of the guilty can help and is helping, but the real victory depends on the private and community conscience.

If every motorist limits himself to coupons lawfully issued by his Ration Board, doesn't buy gasoline without using such lawful coupons, and endorses every coupon with his license number the black market menace can be and will be killed.—Contributed by Writers' War Board.

RADIO PRAYER SERVED AS THE BENEDICTION

With President Roosevelt's prayer for the nation over the radio serving as the benediction, more than a hundred persons who had assembled at First Baptist church last evening for prayer, filed silently out of the building with a feeling in their hearts that God would guide our nation and bless our fighting men, said Rev. Cooper Waters, the pastor. Extreme seriousness because of the nature of the occasion marked the prayers, songs and talks. The pastor also stated that many churches have adopted the charged.

plan of dedicating their mid-week prayer meetings to the service men. It was unanimously agreed that this church would begin that plan the first Wednesday evening after the close of the revival meeting, which begins tonight and that an effort would be made to have at least two civilians present for each man in the service. At present there are 70 men in the service who hold membership in First Baptist church.

FAVORS COURT REVIEW.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The senate has approved, 48 to 26, an amendment to the Price Control Extension Act, the OPA bill, which would permit a person convicted in a civil price violation proceeding to challenge the validity of the regulation under which he was charged.

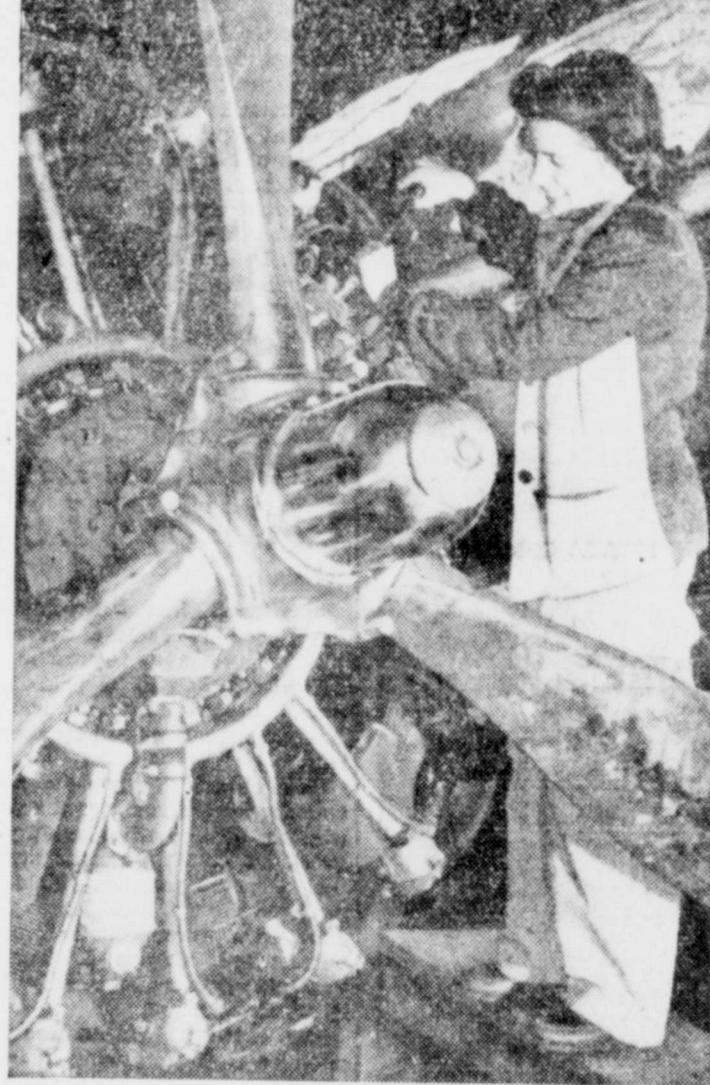

I remember from school.

I once had to do a composition about the world's greatest invention being wheels. Just think of gear-wheels, water-wheels, and especially all the wheels for transportation! But right now the greatest thing of all, I'd say, is to keep wheels going; keeping your car in service, for instance. There's this and that to help you. There's one motor oil and another. Now from what I know, the explosions in any engine must produce acids, which brings up the bright idea of safely OIL-PLATING your engine's insides with Conoco Nth motor oil. You want to prevent damage from acids... internal corrosion! Some things are especially good at fighting corrosion, and OIL-PLATING comes in that class. Even chromium plating, just for comparison, couldn't stay closer to working parts than this protective OIL-PLATING. It battles corrosion, so as to help you preserve your transportation as soon as you switch to Conoco Nth oil.

Battle Needs for Gasoline Come FIRST

What's left must take care of essential needs such as buses, trucks, farms, industry, etc. . . before your wants can be considered.

THE reasons are simple: Our military machine—mightiest in history—gets first call on the nation's available gasoline, of course. You wouldn't have it otherwise. And that vital need is tremendous . . . FOUR times greater than in 1942, and increasing in direct ratio to our intensified military activity.

Remember what the papers had to say the other day about a 4000-plane raid on Hitler's Berlin? That mission alone took more than 5 million gallons of high octane aviation gasoline—and it's only one small phase of an ever increasing military tempo. An armored division requires 25,000 gallons to move one hundred miles; to train a pilot requires 12,500 gallons—enough to last the average automobile 18 years. It takes more than a ton of gasoline to "deliver" a one-ton bomb.

After these tremendous military needs are met, there simply isn't enough gas left to keep civilian cars running "as usual." The only way to make the available supply go around is through rationing. The importance of a gasoline rationing system that really works is going to be increasingly great as the military needs for gasoline continue to multiply. Unfortunately, we have to face that fact. Rationing is no fun—but a failure of our present system would have dire results. It is to your interest as a good American citizen to fight the "black market" and help make rationing succeed. This is the only way you can be sure of gasoline for your own use in the months to come.

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP: Don't apply for more gas than you really need. Get into a ride-sharing club and stick to it. Endorse all your gas coupons now. Don't take extra coupons from or offer them to anyone.
