Wesper Daniels To Be Buried in Lakewood Today

Wesper Daniels, who resided at 10 D avenue, Cisco, died in a hospital Saturday morning. He had been ill for several weeks and in hospital about two weeks.

Daniels was a stock man and was born at Scranton, Pa., May 9, 1892. He was well known throughout the county. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon, with burial in Lakewood cemetery. Officiating ministers will be Rev. Mart Agnew and Rev. Arthur Johnson. Survivors are the wife and three daughters, Mrs. L. A. Horn, Shawnee, Okla.; Mrs. Jack Gary and Mrs. Jessie Lenz, Cisco. There are five grandchildren.

Walter Brooks Died at Ranger Thursday

Walter Brooks, an employee of the Star Gas company at Ranger for several years, was found at his home in that city Friday morning. The funeral will be held at Killingsworth funeral chapel, Ranger, today, after which the body will be conveyed to Grandbury, Tex., for burial.

Brooks was a twin brother of E. Brooks, Cisco manager of the Western Bell Telephone Co. Other survivors are the widow and a daughter, Miss Doris Brooks, and two half sisters. Relatives from a distance here for the last rites are the daughter from Camp Karson, Colo.; Mr. Mrs. J. B. Lynn, Mrs. Horace McKinley, Mrs. J. Ruch, Grandbury, Okla.; Mrs. Margaret Fronczak of Lawton, Okla.

Ted Miles as Cisco Visitor Saturday

Ted Miles, whose home is in Monroe, La., for more than a year, instructing cadets in art of air navigation, has been invited to Houston for similar work with returned overseas aviators.

The huge C-47s are used in Houston school.

Senator Miles, a visitor in Cisco Saturday, visited the Daily Press office and renewed his acquaintance with the paper.

It will be remembered that Miles opposed State Senator Pat Bullock at the election of last July when Senator Bullock was named to office for a second term, though the final vote was close—16,581 for Bullock and 16,516 for Miles.

Binion to Breck

Wanda Binion, Cisco high school athletic coach for the past 12 months, has resigned and will go to Breckenridge as assistant to Cooper Robbins, Breckenridge high school coach. The men were together at North Side high school, Worth, before Mr. Binion came to Cisco. Binion resigned his connection here to go to Port Arthur, he says, but Coach Robbins persuaded him to change his mind.

Ruppert to Reopen

Ruppert's Bakery, which closed its doors about 60 days ago for lack of labor, will reopen Monday. George Ruppert stated Saturday. During their enforced absence, Mr. and Mrs. Ruppert spent some time with friends and relatives in New Orleans.

Romney Man Died in Car Wreck Saturday Near Cisco

Worley Denton, 37, a resident of Romney and an interior decorator by trade, was instantly killed early Saturday morning near Bettis Grove, on the Rising Star highway and just outside of Cisco.

Mr. Denton, driving a 1937 Chevrolet coupe, left his home at Romney about 5 o'clock to come to Cisco. Something went wrong with the car as he was approaching the city limits and the vehicle took to the ditch, traveling about 146 yards before it stopped. The unfortunate man, badly mutilated about the head, was thrown from the coupe and must have died instantly.

Justice of the Peace E. E. Woods of Eastland held an inquest and rendered a verdict of accidental death. C. A. Barker, Cisco-Cross Plains mail carrier, discovered the body. Deceased was discharged from the army on Nov. 15, 1943.

Survivors include the wife, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Denton; two brothers, Walter and Warren, all of Romney; three sisters, Mrs. E. E. Rogers, Ft. Worth; Mrs. Dellie Walker and Mrs. Lillie Moore, Rising Star.

The funeral will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at First Christian church in Moran, birthplace of deceased. Rev. Cole Jackson will be the officiating minister and burial will be in Moran cemetery. Thomas funeral home is in charge of the body.

Nazis in Mood to Fold Up, But Much Work Ahead

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Optimism about European war is unmistakable here, despite official efforts to play it down. Nimitz conferences indicate our high command was confident even before the Rhine crossing, that time had come for making detailed plans for the Pacific knockout. Strategy, movement of troops, ships, supplies are being talked as well as new command set-up. More than a million men now fighting in Europe will be sent to the Pacific, as soon as Hitler folds. This will create some tough morale problems among soldiers and their families especially since the men will be shipped through the U. S. on their way to the second war.

One safe bet: You can count on more and more heavy war production. Appropriations after VE day will prove there's still a lot of war to fight in the Pacific. Navy will ask, in its budget for fiscal '46, a total of about 23 billion in cash, plus large amount for contract authorizations. This compares with approximately 26 billion this year, plus contract authorizations of 32 billion. All this in spite of the fact that our Navy believes the Jap navy has lost from one-third to one-half the ships it had at Pearl Harbor time.

German surrender will bring repercussions on the labor front, despite all that can be done to convince union leaders and industrialists that there's another man-size war yet to be won. Feeling here is that management and labor will be disposed to retrieve the ball bats they've been more or less hiding behind the door since Pearl Harbor, and to start swinging at each other. Unions, already talking about rescinding the no-strike pledge, may decide all such restraints are off. Displeasure of both AFL and CIO with the War Labor Board is likely to boil over into a real effort to make it ease wartime wage controls.

Crucified Man Is Recovering

CHICAGO, March 10.—Three unidentified men, principals in the first crucifixion in Chicago police history, are hunted as authorities seek to solve the weird case.

Police said they had evidence that Fred Walcher, 46, found nailed to a huge cross beneath an elevated railway structure, apparently was the victim of his own idea to gain attention for a world peace scheme.

The officers, said that Walcher, Austrian-born lens grinder and porter, apparently had offered only "passive resistance" to being nailed to a cross and that he had known a crucifixion had been arranged. Walcher related that he planned to gain publicity for a Utopian economic plan in which he was interested but he was surprised when he was selected for the role of a martyr to his suggestion of a crucifixion. Walcher, nailed to the cross through both hands, will recover.

YEAR-OLD INDUSTRY ENTERTAINS

Wednesday, March 8, 1944, the Cisco plant of The Boss Manufacturing Co. started actual operations in the manufacture of gloves by employing its first sewing operator.

Friday afternoon of this week the plant celebrated the first anniversary of this event with an informal employe party in the canteen of the plant.

Manager N. C. Cutler and Mrs. Cutler were hosts to the group, serving coffee, soft drinks and cake. Mayor Edward Lee and B. A. Butler, chamber of commerce secretary, each made brief talks, expressing the appreciation of Cisco for the splendid work the employes are doing, not only in helping win the war by the production of gloves needed in the manufacture of munitions of war, but for the fact that they are "pioneering" a new industrial development in west Texas, which will make possible the establishing of payrolls in many towns of the section and the assurance of more jobs after the war. The cake served at the party was furnished with the compliments of the Osburn Bakery of Cisco.

The Boss plant, located in the former C&NE railroad headquarters on the Breckenridge highway—a building which has been thoroughly remodeled and made into an ideal factory home—has grown steadily since its beginning a year ago.

Many thousands of pairs of work gloves have gone out of the plant, by far the greater part of them going to the army and navy establishments and to war plants. The production of gloves is constantly increasing as the skill of the women making them improves. Production of these gloves requires a skill which takes time to master, and plant officials are pleased with the progress the women of this section are making in this technique.

The war manpower commission and other agencies devoted to the best use of worker resources and materials, are greatly interested in the progress of the plant and have pointed out that its production is closely associated with the war effort as a whole.

SIX COURT MARTIALED

ABILENE, March 10.—The war department reported yesterday from Washington that six Seventh Day Adventists at Camp Berkeley had been court martialed for refusing to obey an officer's command. The announcement came after inquiry by Senator Briggs (D-Mo) who received complaints that Charles O. Eastham, Poplar Bluff, Mo., had been sentenced to six months at hard labor for refusing to drill on his Sabbath.

HUGE DIAMOND FOUND

LONDON, March 10.—The largest diamond ever discovered in East Africa was found recently in the Shinyanga district of Tanganyika, the colonial office said Saturday. It weighs about 120 carats, and is valued at $60,000 in its raw state.

DALLAS GIRL HONORED

AUSTIN, March 10.—Anna Buchanan of Dallas Saturday was the first co-ed to become president of the Students' Association at the University of Texas.

COUNTY TO LOSE ONE DIST. COURT

In the legislature at Austin Thursday a substitute bill abolishing five regular district courts of the state was favorably reported for passage by the house committee on judicial districts, and it passed as written in committee, will abolish the 91st district court of Eastland county, of which George L. Davenport is judge, and retain the 88th (the oldest court), of which Burette W. Patterson, formerly of Cisco, is judge.

This bill was recommended unanimously by the committee of 11 representatives and the bill in substance is said to have the approval of the governor and the legislative committee of the state bar. It is now to be considered by the house and can be amended, passed or killed.

Representatives R. N. Grisham, of Eastland and L. R. Pearson of Ranger requested the committee (if one court had to be eliminated) to have the bill provide that the 88th court be abolished and the 91st retained. However, since the committee failed to comply with their request, the two Eastland county representatives told the Daily Press Saturday morning that they expected to do what they could to retain Judge Davenport's court when the bill comes up for final action. But they emphasized in the telephone talks that they would prefer to see both courts retained and would exert themselves to that end.

Each judge of these courts was elected last fall for a term of four years, beginning January 1 of this year. Davenport has been judge of the 91st since it was created in June, 1920. Patterson has been judge of the 88th since January 1, 1933.

The 88th court was created in 1919, out of the 42d court, which was composed of Eastland, Stephens, Callahan, Shackelford and Taylor counties.

There has been some friendly criticism of the county's two legislative representatives by members of the Eastland county bar for not fighting harder before the house committee for retention of both courts, rather than seeking to change the committee's mind as to which court should be eliminated.

TUCKED IN SAFELY

MANILA, March 10.—Silent on Japanese reports that big Mindanao Island has been invaded, General MacArthur disclosed Saturday that several thousand Nipponese have been sealed up and suffocated in caves of Manila by Americans operating with phosphorous grenades, flamethrowers and demolition charges.

SUCCEEDS DEMOCRAT

BISMARCK, N. D., March 10. Milton R. Young, 47-year-old Republican and farmer, is North Dakota's new United States senator. He was appointed by Gov. Fred G. Aandahl, Republican, to succeed the late Senator John Moses, Democrat, who died last Saturday at Rochester, Minn., after a long illness. Young will serve until the 1946 elections.

ABILENE RETIRES BONDS

ABILENE, March 10.—Fifty-eight city bonds are to be retired by city commissioners when they approve a voucher for $120,588.75. This payment will leave the city with a total bonded indebtedness of $4,295,000.

RHINE BRIDGEHEAD DEEPENED; SOME OBSERVERS SAY GERMANS MAY TOSS IN SPONGE ANY DAY

PARIS, March 10.—Reinforced American First Army troops beat off weak German counter-blows against their deepening Rhine bridgehead today and joined with U. S. Third Army forces west of the river in a mass roundup of perhaps 50,000 Germans trapped in the Eifel mountains.

Radio Paris broadcast an unconfirmed but possibly correct report that the 1st Army already had stabbed eight miles or more east of the Rhine, to cut the broad, high-speed military highway linking the Ruhr and Rhineland to Berlin and Central Germany.

The university city of Bonn, on the west bank of the Rhine, 13 miles north of Remagen and 12 miles south of Cologne, was captured by the 1st Army's 1st Infantry Division yesterday, along with Bad Godesberg, three miles to the south.

Bonn fell after a savage street battle in which casualties on both sides were reported heavy. The Rhine bridge in the town was blown up, however, before the Germans quit.

Unofficial information reaching headquarters from the blackout 1st Army front across the Rhine said the bridgehead opposite Remagen last night covered an area of more than 50 square miles and was being built up steadily against sporadic and still disorganized German resistance.

The Rhine breakthrough revived rumors that Field Marshal Karl von Rundstedt had again been removed from the German western front command and had been replaced by Field Marshal Walther von Model.

The Americans were fanning out rapidly through the rolling hills overlooking the Ludendorff bridge from the east, northeast and southeast, clearing their invasion gate from the direct fire of German artillery.

Front dispatches said a swelling tide of men, guns and tanks was rushing across the bridge under heavy but ineffective enemy shellfire.

Seven German fighter-bombers struck at the Ludendorff bridge yesterday in a futile attempt to choke off the flow of American men and armor into the German hinterland. Six of them were shot down in flames by hundreds of anti-aircraft guns massed around the bridge, and not a single bomb hit was scored on the vital invasion gate.

Shells from German long-range guns emplaced east of the river raked Remagen continually yesterday and in the early morning hours today.

American possession of the hills just east of the Rhine prevented direct German observation, however, and made it impossible for the Nazis to lay a plunging fire on the bridge.

Field dispatches from the now-joined American First and Third Army lines revealed a picture of spreading chaos and demoralization in the ranks of pocketed Germans. Cut off from the Rhine crossings and with American armor closing in on them from all sides, the Germans appeared to have abandoned all semblance of order and were trying desperately to break through the southern arm of the trap and escape across the Mosel.

More than 12,000 prisoners were captured on the western front yesterday.

Russians Knock at the Doors of Important Stettin

LONDON, March 10.—Soviet troops and tanks were reported battling today through the streets of Aldam, directly across the Oder river from Germany's great Baltic port of Stettin.

Nazi accounts indicated the northern army of Marshal Zhukov's First White Russian Army already had seized several streets in the east-bank suburb, as well as valuable ground from which Soviet guns can pour shells directly into Stettin.

Far to the east, Moscow dispatches said, Marshal Rokossovsky's Second White Russian Army pushed into the southern outskirts on Danzig. One Second Army column east of Danzig was heading toward the former Polish naval base of Gdynia, 13 miles north of Danzig.

The Soviet High Command continued its security blackout on developments along the embattled Berlin front pending a decisive development.

COAL PROBLEM.

Organized labor, logically considered, seems to be a sort of organized magic. The head of a strong labor union is a master magician. And such magicians themselves seem to depend more and more on the aid of governmental magic to keep industry operating in spite of handicaps. The system may still seem a little awkward, because it hasn't been operating very long according to this plan, but it will probably smooth out and become regular procedure.

These observations are made with special application to the biennial eruption of the national coal wage problem, now under consideration. It is mostly expected that the pattern set two years ago will be followed again. That is, the government may take over the expiration of the wage contract at the end of this month, thus acquiring technical authority to dictate disputable points of hours and wages. John L. Lewis, acting for the miners, will make new and larger demands. The government will oppose, but probably yield to most of them, in the customary New Deal way.

It is hoped, by most citizens who have their eyes on this particular industrial game, that the "royalty" on every ton of coal mined—which Mr. Lewis asks for the union's treasury—will not be granted.

If yielded to, it would most certainly start a landslide which would give unions in general still greater dictatorial powers, ultimately wrecking normal industry.

CHAPULTEPEC.

The essence of the Act of Chapultepec is agreement among the American nations to act together to preserve the peace of the western hemisphere.

Most of the Spanish colonies in America threw off the Spanish yolk early in the 19th century, not long after we set ourselves free from England. Argentina's revolution took place in 1810, with several others in that year or near it. In 1821, Russia, which then owned Alaska, drew a line around fishing waters in the north Atlantic, and shortly afterward an alliance of Austria, Russia, Prussia and France tried to "put an end to representative government" and to oppose any new government made of the old Spanish colonies.

This led to the Monroe Doctrine—the statement by President James Monroe in 1823 that there after any attempt by any foreign power to establish itself on the shores of the American continent would be considered dangerous to the United States. This statement, known to be backed by Great Britain, stopped colonization and gave the infant governments a chance at life. It was a paternal move.

Now the children have grown up and take an adult and democratic part in a general agreement. It will not eliminate squabbles, pulling and hauling. Human nature remains the same despite agreements.

But human nature acts better with agreements and ideals to shoot at than it does in anarchy and chaos. So the chances for lasting peace among the Americas are better with the Act than before.

County Attorney W. J. Barnes was here Saturday morning to conduct the hearing of the incendiary cases before Justice McDonald, filed late Wednesday afternoon in connection with the burning of the Hardy Moseley home in the Nimrod community, Wednesday morning. Before the hearing opened the complaining witness, Hardy Moseley, recommended to County Attorney Barnes and the court that the case against Rev. Ben Sandel, Baptist minister, be dismissed, as this complaint was filed upon information which he had ascertained to be groundless. The court therefore dismissed the case against Mr. Sandel.

Bishop James H. Dickey of the M. E. Church, south, delivered a masterful address in the First Methodist church in Cisco Sunday evening after his return from Breckenridge, where he dedicated the new Methodist church in that city in the morning. He was accompanied by several members of the Cisco church, and a large congregation of Breckenridge folk greeted the bishop on that occasion. During his address here Bishop Dickey expressed himself strongly in opposition to the proposed plan of unification of the north and south branches of the church. Speaking informally after his address at the church the bishop stated that the action of the Baltimore conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, in defeating the unification plan by a vote of 141 to 137 may be taken as indicative of the defeat of the proposed union by the Methodist church south. "Under the proposed plan there is nothing that unifies the two churches," he declared. "It would bind without uniting. Neither church gives any ground or cedes any territory, but by the adoption of the unification plan in the conferences of our church, the southern Methodist church would for the first time recognize the jurisdiction of the northern church. I think that unification would retard the development of the southern Methodist church. We would lose our influence on our southern constituency. Many persons in the south, now belonging to the southern Methodist church because it has preserved its identity, would go to other denominations." Bishop Dickey will speak next Sunday morning at First Methodist church on the unification subject.
