Violinist Rabinof at Cisco High Auditorium, April 2

The story of Rabinof, famous violinist who is to appear at Cisco high school auditorium Monday night, April 2, is a success story. It is a story that has brought fame not only in America but in Asia, Africa and Europe as well.

Born in New York he studied with the greatest teachers of the age and at an early age evinced the brilliant talent that has made him a great violinist.

His versatility, his astonishing technique, warm and rich tones—make a Rabinof performance a memorable treat for any group of music lovers. Miss Wilda Drago, well known violin teacher of this city, says: "Music lovers are indeed fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing Rabinof, the top-ranking young musician of the time."

An interesting sidelight of Rabinof's visit to Cisco will be the fact that he will perform on his famous violin, one of three instruments made in 1742 by the world master, Guarnerius.

Eastland County E Bond Assignment Set at $405,000

Cyrus W. Frost, chairman of the war finance committee for Eastland county, furnished the Daily Press with the following facts regarding the Seventh War Loan Drive, which will open April 9:

"The Seventh War Loan Drive opens April 8, and runs the balance of April, May and June. The over-all quota for the nation is 14 billion dollars. This over-all quota has not been broken down yet to the several states and counties and will not be until about May 14, but it is assumed that the over-all quota for Texas and the counties of the state will be about the same as that of the Sixth War Loan.

"The amount assigned to be purchased by individuals in the Seventh War Loan will be 7 billion dollars, or one-half the total loan. This is the largest percentage assigned to individuals since Pearl Harbor. The largest portion of this individual quota is made up of Series E Bonds, 168 million of such being assigned to Texas for the Seventh War Loan as compared to 105 million E Bonds assigned to Texas for the Sixth War Loan.

"Eastland county has been assigned a Series E Bond quota of $405,000. This is the largest quota ever assigned Eastland county of such bonds and compares to the $225,000 assigned Eastland county for the Sixth War Loan.

"However, at this point we can get some cheer out of the fact that our county purchased E Bonds during the Sixth War Loan in the total sum of $378,000. Hence in order to reach our quota for the Seventh War Loan Drive we will have to purchase $22,000 more than we purchased during the Sixth War Loan Drive, which was put over during the months of November and December, 1944.

"Individuals are requested to not purchase any Series E, F, and G Bonds before April 9, 1945, because purchases before that date will not be credited against our individual and Series E quota, and in this connection all banks and postoffices are requested to call this to the attention of any individual who offers to purchase Series E, F, or G Bonds prior to April 9, 1945.

"Your county executive committee, composed of the chairman of the war finance committee of the several communities of the county, the heads of newspapers of the county, and the bankers of the county will be called together at an early date and will break down and assign the $405,000 Series E quota to the several communities of the county as heretofore done. While the quota is assigned to the county as a whole, yet the several communities have had a lot of friendly competition and good results have been obtained by breaking the county quota down and assigning a definite amount to the several towns or communities of the county.

"There will be only one more war bond drive during the calendar year 1945 and it is to be hoped that it will be the last drive that will have to be made in order to finish the financing of World War No. II. The boys and girls in the fighting service are about to finish the drive on the Western Front and it is to be hoped that the drive against Japan can be pushed to a successful conclusion at an early date after the European Victory has been accomplished.

"Mrs. Paul M. Woods of Cisco will again be chairman for the women and all the committees that have been functioning since Pearl Harbor in the several towns and communities are still intact and will take over in this drive as they have in all former drives."

PATTON SAID TO BE HALF WAY ACROSS REICH; HAS CUT VITAL STUTTGART-HANNOVER HIWAY

PARIS, March 27.—First army tanks burst into Weilburg, 244 miles southwest of Berlin, in a mighty breakout east of the Rhine today and the Germans said Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's rampaging Third army had crashed to Lehr, 225 miles from the Reich capital.

Lehr is 40 miles southeast of Frankfurt on the Main, where Patton's troops were fighting, and 21 miles northwest of the Bavarian city of Wuerzburg. The dash appeared to have cut the Stuttgart-Hannover high way, which a Berlin broadcast termed "the most vital communication back of the front."

Lehr lies more than halfway across Germany from Luxembourg to Czechoslovakia. A drive across southern Germany to the Russian lines some 250 miles east would throw a cordon over the top of the reported German "mountain redoubt" in southern Bavaria, northern Italy and Austria and bar access to the fastness for hundreds of thousands of Germans fighting on the violent erupting western and eastern fronts.

Patton's breakthrough gains were shrouded by a security blackout.

The First army, using the greatest tank force ever loosed on the western front, had struck at least 43 miles east of the Rhine and had emerged from high hills near the Rhine onto the flat, sparsely wooded flatlands of central Germany—ideal armored maneuvers.

And to the north, American and British advances against collapsing German resistance in the Ruhr and in Westphalia promised an imminent breakthrough of perhaps even more decisive character.

Gen. Eisenhower's massed armies, seven of them, fighting beyond the Rhine were in sight of ultimate victory. The Seventh army was the latest to cross the Rhine.

Weilburg, a Lahn river town, is northeast of Limburg which was reached yesterday and captured today.

Lt. Gen Courtney Hodges, employing a minimum of five armored divisions east of the original Rhine bridgehead, sent motorized infantry close behind the tanks and self-propelled guns.

Altenkirchen, a secondary traffic center 16 miles north of Coblenz, was captured overnight. The First army caged 4,782 Germans and was estimated to have from 8,000 to 10,000 more streaming to the rear without guards along roads from Field Marshal Kesselring's collapsing armies.

How near the Allies in the West and the massed Russians on the East were from final victory, no one could say.

But the extent to which the reeling wehrmacht would be able to scratch together reserves and hurl them into the path of the onrushes should foretell the outcome within a few days.

Gen. Eisenhower himself said he did not expect his armies to be stopped short of Berlin. Lacking a mobile reserve to rush up from the hollow heart of the Reich, Germany had two chances of any prolonged resistance:

1. She might shift troops from the Russian front and invite disaster there.

2. She might rely on armed civilians to fight town by town to block the Allies. White flags which pilots saw hastily flung out over roadside towns through which American armor was driving, and over road-jamming columns of refugees fleeing east did not seem to presage a citizen army stand.

FDR. Orders Cabinet and Diplomats to Stand By

WASHINGTON, March 27.—President Roosevelt today ordered his Cabinet and all diplomatic representatives to stand by on the alert for a possible victory in Europe.

The White House disclosed that Roosevelt has instructed all diplomatic representatives to remain close to their posts in Europe to be ready to act on any emergency or the speedy collapse of Germany.

The chief executive also urged all Cabinet officers to be on the alert in Washington, to remain at their posts and to make no plans for attending the United Nations conference which begins in San Francisco April 25.

A Million Reds Marching to Bavarian Hideouts

LONDON, March 27.—Red Army forces rushed on across western Hungary and Slovakia to within 20 miles of Austria today, gathering strength and momentum almost by the hour.

Vanguards of Marshal Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian Army, holding down the southern end of the 170-mile offensive front, were less than 73 miles southeast of Vienna.

Altogether, 1,000,000 Red Army men and thousands of tanks were on the march in the new offensive on both sides of the Danube river toward the Austrian and Bavarian Alps, where the Nazis were plotting a stand to the death.

flank along the Sieg river, German resistance has split at the seams.

The tank column that reached Weilburg on the First army's right flank had smashed 33 miles forward in a single day. This was the deepest First army penetration and it placed the First army within 290 miles of Russian lines southeast of Berlin. Patton's Third army was but 250 miles from the Russians at last reports.

ABOUT FOOD.

There is no call for panic about food. True, there will be less meat for the next six months. The difference is at the rate of about 30 pounds per person per year, or 622 pounds per day, or 1.28 ounces, two or three good bites. That's all. Some communities will get a shorter share some weeks, others more, but it will all come out about the same in the end.

It is hard for human beings to realize they cannot have things both ways. War is waste and destruction. It destroys present production and fruits of the labors of the past.

Many Americans now make more dollars than before and begin to think war contributes to wealth.

But it does not. Things they would like to buy with these dollars—houses, washing machines, beefsteaks—are not produced in quantity for all to get what they want.

Sending food to liberated countries is necessary at present, yet these shipments should be closely watched by honest men. Those freed in time for spring planting can raise some food this year and more the next. By the third year they will need little or no food from us. But if we let freed people starve in order that we might have more beefsteaks than we need, we would be losing the war in every spiritual and moral sense, and in an economic sense as well.

No American need go hungry. There is food enough and points enough for adequate nutrition for everybody. As to the noise and bitterness now sounding off in many places, part is due to misunderstanding of the situation, as well as lack of confidence in food dispensers. But part bears all the marks of organized propaganda to make trouble for and among the Allies. It is silly to bite on this bait. Panic over nothing is what our enemies like to stir up.

SCARED SUPERMEN.

The Nazi leaders have been a bold gang of killers, looters and free-booters, but some of them seem to be growing timid. According to Correspondent Louis P. Lochner, the great Marshal Karl Gerd von Rundstedt now has the jitters, from fear of assassination. He is said to be blamed for the failure of the recent Nazi offensive.

The Nazi movement seems to have always been mainly a drive for power and loot, although professing to be based on ideological and patriotic grounds. It was inevitable that sooner or later the supreme gangsters would start fighting each other. The pressure of a sane world, weary of crime and blood, presses upon them more and more. Perhaps, like Eugene Field's famous gingham dog and calico cat, they will "eat each other up." Let's hope.

SUB-HUMAN FRIENDS.

Man's best friends have been, historically, the dog and the horse. The dog especially appears as a friend and servant of man from the beginning of human civilization. But are these sub-human friends destined to survive in the new and more mechanical and hygienic world that we are creating?

Dogs are peculiarly subject to the dreadful disease of rabies, which seems to be spreading in many parts of the country. It is especially prevalent now in northern Ohio, and there is a possibility of placing the whole state under strict quarantine.

No census of dog population in general is available; but it seems likely that, with the present emphasis on human safety and cleanliness, there are fewer dogs than there used to be, in proportion to human beings. It is harder to tell about cats.

As for horses, there are probably thousands of children in our big cities who never saw one. Mechanized transportation has been their doom.

TWO CENTURIES.

By LENA ROTH REPASS.

Two pieces of coral lie on the shelf of the black walnut whatnot in the gracious and sunny front parlor of a very old house in an old town of Pennsylvania. One was brought from the South Seas 75 years ago, by a member of the family sailing a clipper ship. The other came last week, sent to Grandma by a lad fighting in the Pacific.

It has become the fashion to speak slightly of "the good old days." But they were good in some ways; and while enjoying new inventions, why not recognize past values?

Today's Grandma, heard her grandparents tell of conquest of western prairies through winters of blizzard and summers of drought; of isolated settlements linked by transcontinental railroads; or two-year voyages to the Orient around Cape Horn. Influenced by the adventures without realizing an they were to mean, the elders did the job of their day, unconsciously making America what it is. Doing it, they gained and gave strong mental and spiritual powers.

Today's young people have an enormous job before them. Surely they face the tests more confidently because of the sterling qualities of Great-great-grandfather. They hope the beauty of their coral will match his.

POINT-FREE MEAT

Some confusion and misunderstanding exists concerning point requirements for meat processed through our locker plant. To clear up this misunderstanding we wish to explain how federal regulations work concerning the processing of meat at the locker.

- (1) If you owned an animal at least 60 days prior to its slaughter and will sign a statement to that effect we will kill it and put in your locker, point-free.
- (2) If you have put on 35 per cent of the weight of the animal at the time it is killed, regardless of the length of time you owned it, and will sign a statement to that effect, we will kill it and put it in your locker, point free.
- (3) If you have owned an animal from birth, if it is less than 60 days old, we can slaughter it and put it in your locker, point-free.
- (4) Animals killed and dressed before they are brought to us can be delivered to you or your locker, point-free.

We Can No Longer Supply Local Markets

Due to wholesale ceiling prices and the present price of live animals and also to the elimination of a portion of the subsidy, we will no longer be able to supply local markets with beef and with only a small amount of pork.

It is our recommendation that if you do not own a meat animal and wish to secure point-free meat, you buy either a hog or a calf, feed it for 60 days, after which we can process it for you, point-free.

All of our present lockers have been rented. We have room for 48 more small lockers that will rent for $10 per year, and we are now accepting deposits on these lockers. If and when they are all rented, and provided the manufacturers will supply them, these new lockers will be available. These deposits are taken with the specific understanding that we do not guarantee that we will have these lockers. At the end of 90 days if we see that we will not be able to secure them, all deposits will be refunded. If you are interested in one of these lockers, it is our advice to contact us at once. There is no more available space in this locker vault and we do not expect to ever enlarge after installation of these 48 lockers.

MORE ABOUT THE SAME THING
The abstract, contrary to a rather general opinion, does not cure the title, but rather reveals its condition, good or bad. Three things are strived for in the abstract. (1) To locate the property by field notes and plats. (2) To discover the true ownership as the records may reveal it. (3) To detect the liens and encumbrances, if any. The abstract serves many other useful purposes, but these three are most important.

Let's Fly Kites SAFELY!

1. AWAY FROM ELECTRIC WIRES

2. Do use dry cotton string.

3. Don't climb poles to recover Kites.

4. Don't use metal or wire on Kites.

4 GOOD RULES

KITE FLYING THROUGH THE CENTURIES

As far as is known, kites were invented by the Chinese about 400 B. C. In China, the ninth day of the ninth month still is "Kite's Day," when men and boys fly colorful kites of many shapes and designs—birds, beasts, dragons and fish.

Through the years, kites also have been used for meteorological and military purposes. Carrying small cameras to great heights, kites have been flown over forts to obtain "bird's eye" view photos of enemy installations. In 1894, Captain B. F. Baden-Powell of the Scots Guards constructed a series of kites fastened together, with which he lifted a man 100 feet! And in 1905, the Prussian aeronautical observatory flew a kite which attained a height of four miles!

It is not known when or where kite flying was first introduced in America, but the sport has become widespread. The kite-flying season is here again. Youngsters who want to enjoy the sport in safety, should carefully adopt the four good rules urged by Reddy Kilowatt.
