Eleven Cisco Lads Took Part in Battle For Iwo Jima

John Ed Davis, soundman on the USS. Chincoteague, in a letter to Mr. and Mrs. Sutton Crofts, says he hopes to pay a brief visit to Cisco friends in June. Davis, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Davis, former Ciscoans, is a graduate of Cisco high school and has been in the Pacific war theater for a year or more. He is about 19 years of age. A paragraph in his letter read as follows: "Read the clippings from Cisco Daily Press with much interest, especially the one that gave the names of nine Cisco boys who saw action on Iwo Jima. You may add the names of two other Ciscoans to the list and make it 11 — mine and that of Johnnie Kitching. Best wishes to all my Cisco friends."

Taylor Compared Church and Rotary Attendance

A vocal trio by girls from Howard-Payne college, and a talk by Dr. Tom Taylor, president of that institution, formed the program for Rotary Ann night Thursday, being in charge of Rev. Arthur Johnson, program chairman for the event. Rotarians, their wives and other guests proclaimed the banquet spread one of the best they had enjoyed for some time, and both J. W. Slaughter, president of the club and Dr. Taylor complimented the excellent meal, especially the coffee and hot rolls. Rotarian Johnson introduced the young ladies — Misses Betty Estes, Betty Jo Jenkins and Norma Johnson — in two numbers, and they were encored for a third. Then Dr. Taylor was introduced in a vein of wit, but the esteemed schoolman replied in like manner, which in fact threaded his entire talk, mixing happy humor and the points he emphasized with such force that all present were tensely interested until the last word was spoken. The speaker took club organizations as his theme, with the Rotary club as his special subject, which he said grew out of the guilds and unions of the middle ages. Clubs such as Rotary, the speaker declared, are America's gift to civilization, and he marveled at the spirit of it that made attendance reach high percentages that should put to shame that of the churchgoer. "Why," he said, turning to Rev. Mr. Johnson, "No preacher ever had such consistently high figures of attendance as Rotary clubs roll up constantly over the country." Continuing, the speaker said that "Meet, eat and go home" were unjustified terms applied to Rotary clubs. The idealism bound up in its code of ethics was the thing that made men loyal to their club and its attendance. The business of Rotary is not to reform the community, but to make the man who holds the membership, instead. Speaking of poems, Taylor said he did not like Shakespeare, especially the Merchant of Venice, wherein Shylock, the Jew, who represented the business man in the play, was made to be a grasping, hateful character, instead of a fair-minded merchant who was just in his dealings in a business way. He told the story of a man praying for a turkey to be sent him for his Christmas meal. After praying earnestly for a day, with no turkey placed in the coop, he then decided he had better pray to the Lord to send him after the turkey, instead. So his moral was to go after what one wanted and this he said was the basis of Rotary.

FANATICAL JAPS IN SOUTHERN PART ISLAND FOUGHT 4 U. S. DIVISIONS NEAR TO STANDSTILL

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19. — More than 300 American Superforts blasted Hamamatsu, Japanese war production center 60 miles south of devastated Nagoya, Saturday as fighting reached a bloody deadlock on southern Okinawa. Important Allied victories were scored on four other land fronts. Chinese troops liberated the east coast port of Fochow which Japanese fear may become an American invasion gateway to China. In the Philippines, American troops won two important objectives, the Ipo Dam on Luzon and the Valencia airfield on Mindanao. Australian troops completed the conquest of Tarakan, oil-rich island off the east coast of Borneo. The B-29's hit Mamamatsu at the noon rush hour and rained at least 2100 tons of demolition bombs on the city in a half hour period. The raiders were escorted by Iwo-based fighters. The raid was the third within six days by 300 or more B-29's on prime industrial targets. Previously raids on Nagoya Monday and Thursday left the city one-quarter destroyed. Radio Tokyo said 30 other B-29's sowed mines in Wakasa Bay on the north Honshu coast and 10 more dropped mines in the Beppu channel of the inland sea. Fanatical Japanese defenders on southern Okinawa battled four American divisions almost to a standstill today as the Pacific war's bloodiest campaign went into its 49th day. American forces were inside Naha, Shuri and Honabaru, the three strongholds of the Japanese line but key hills dominating the cities were changing hands as many as four times in 24 hours in the swaying battle. The conquest of Okinawa will put American air forces in a position to isolate Japan from the Chinese mainland, informed observers believe. It also would isolate large numbers of Japanese troops and cut off a rich supply of raw materials flowing to the homeland war industries from Asia. That, it was believed, was the reason the Japanese press has so frankly acknowledged importance of the Okinawa campaign. Radio Tokyo said last night that the Americans had completed an airfield on Ie Shima off Okinawa. Fochow, opposite Formosa and Okinawa, fell yesterday after a bitter week-long battle. The Japanese, believing an American landing imminent, had seized the port last October. The American conquest of all but the southern tip of Okinawa and the neighboring Kerama Islands already has given the Allies a passage through the Ryukyu chain to the East China Sea and Fochow. However, any attempt to force the China Sea now would expose Allied ships to attack by Japanese planes based on Formosa and occupied China. American planes already have started using the two airstrips at Valencia, flying in supplies and carrying out support missions.

Polish Problem Seems to Grow as a Trouble Maker

LONDON, May 19.—Premier Stalin bluntly affirmed Russia's refusal to negotiate with 16 arrested Polish leaders today in a statement which London sources said widened the rift between the Soviets and the western Allies on the Polish issue. Stalin called for solution of the Polish problem and reconstruction of the Polish provisional government at Warsaw in strict accordance with the Crimean decisions. He asserted that the arrests of the 16 Polish leaders — among them men recommended by the United States and Britain for inclusion in the coalition regime — were in "no way connected with the reconstruction" of the government. Neither, he said, had the Russians ever invited the arrested men to discuss formation of the new government. "Soviet authorities do not and will not negotiate with violators of the law on the protection of the rear of the Red Army," he said. The arrested Poles, including Vice-Premier J. S. Jankowski of the Polish Exile Government in London, were held by the Red Army on charges of diversionist activity behind the Russian lines. Stalin's statement was received with anxiety bordering on astonishment in Whitehall and Polish exile government headquarters. Particular surprise was expressed over Stalin's assertion that the 16 arrested Poles had nothing to do with reconstruction of the Polish provisional government. "That almost takes your breath away," commented one British expert.

Stalin Might Get Feet on Earth if Lending Stopped

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Off-again, on-again Russian lend policy started last fall, it's now learned. Machine tool orders were first held up while Russia was still fighting Germans. Reason given was that they apparently were destined to post-war use. In January this policy was reversed, American companies were asked to ship all machine tools they could, including some for Russia's automobile industry. Last week treasury disbursement division again ordered all machine tool shipments halted except out of Seattle and New York — and industry believes even these shipments may be going into storage. Industry theory is that tools are closely tied to Russo-American politics. Total amount of orders involved is less than the $150,000,000 rumored, but more than enough to meet our automobile industry's reconversion requirements. John L. Lewis, about to continue his uninterrupted series of wins by getting a considerable raise for anthracite miners, expects to be back in the AFL, with the seat he wants on the executive council, not later than convention time next October. The AFL counts on his high batting average against government and employers to wear away some CIO units.

Parker Awarded His Wings at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Public relations office of the naval air station at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., informs the Daily Press that G. L. Parker, husband of Mrs. Geneva Parker of Cisco, has been awarded the navy aircrewman wings upon completion of flight training in Avenger torpedo bombers of the type that are making such devastating strikes against the yellow devils of the Pacific. Parker, seaman first class and an aviation machinist's mate striker, was presented his wings by his commanding officer, Capt. Louis E. French, at ceremonies which climaxed months of hard training at Ft. Lauderdale and other naval training schools. A late photo of the Ciscoan accompanied the letter received by the Daily Press. Parker, by the way, was formerly an auto salesman. In 1930 all elections in Texas were held on Sunday.

WILL USE THE AXE.

NEW YORK, May 19.—German civilians condemned to death, after approval by General Eisenhower, will be sent to German prisons, where the execution by beheading will take place, BBC said Saturday.

ELEANOR DECLINED.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The New York Daily Mirror said Saturday that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt had been approached by Democratic leaders and asked whether she would accept nomination as candidate for mayor of New York. Her answer was "No," the Mirror said.

NAZI EDUCATOR NABBED.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, who directed the education of Germany in Nazi precepts, has been arrested by the Allies and placed in jail, the BBC said Saturday in a broadcast heard by NBC. He was reported found in a hospital at Flensburg.

HOME FROM CALIFORNIA.

S. W. Altman of the Altman Style Shop arrived home Friday from a month's trip to California. He reports a wonderful trip, his first to California, but is glad to be back on Texas soil. Mr. Altman — who was born in Arkansas, December 23, 1866, but looks twenty years younger — made the trip alone and spent much of the time in the home of his son, Mason W. Altman, who is attached to the air corps and stationed at Fresno. He also visited in Los Angeles and San Francisco, returning home via Salt Lake City, Utah, and Denver, Colo.

Competent People Needed to Aid In Veteran Program

Care for veterans has been provided generously by congress which voted a half billion dollars for enlarging and building new hospitals, according to Commander Tyrrell Krum, USNR, Washington correspondent of Texas papers. "The whole veterans administration program for veterans' care is seriously endangered by refusal of competent persons to seek and accept employment with the Veterans' Administration," said Col. C. L. Magruder, of the Veterans' hospital, Lisbon, south of Dallas. "Money," the doctor continued, "won't cure a veteran by being slapped on a wound. Money is only good for a sick man when it brings people to run the hospital, give him the service he must have to recover. "Every American has a vital interest in the welfare of present and prospective veterans and their care in the hospitals. Each competent person available for this work is faced with the question, 'shall I do my part in helping veterans recover?'"

HUMPHREY RETURNING.

Public relations office headquarters of the Eighth service command announces that Tech- Sgt Bob Humphrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Humphrey, route two, Cisco, is enroute home for a visit after spending almost nine months in the European theater of war. He will report to Ft. Sam Houston before proceeding to his home.

FAITH OF NIEMOELLER.

In Christianity lies the only hope for the German people. That is the considered opinion of Pastor Martin Niemöller who, almost alone among Germans, dared to defy the brutal ideologies of Nazism and was imprisoned for his pains. Often rumored dead, he has recently been released after eight long years in Sachsenhausen, Dachau and other concentration camps. In an interview with Religious News Service, he continued:

"I believe that this future will be a great one in that our people now know that all false idealisms are worthless. There is no possibility for finding a new ideal base other than in the church. At least, there will be a trial in this direction, and it is a tremendous challenge both to Catholicism and Protestantism not to let our people down at this moment."

There is much in what he says. For until the Germans turn back once more to those Christian tenets of behavior upon which all western civilization is founded, there can be no real peace for anyone. Their hope lies in the leadership of such men as he, whose proved faith and courage in the face of terrible danger are among the few inspiring stories to come from Nazi Germany.

FUTURE SAFETY.

International life nowadays is just one big responsibility after another. Our present concern is mainly in Europe, and we are making a good job of that, along with our British and Russian allies and our smaller friends in the background.

If there is a serious danger ahead, maybe it is our cheerful American tendency to accept prematurely a belief that the current task is finished. There is still a great deal of American cooperation needed in Europe and elsewhere, to help our allies do a clean job that won't have to be done again soon.

We must stand, both now and hereafter, with the free nations of western Europe from whom we derive our own culture and principles of government. This is not only duty, but insurance.

Our second principle of safety is our friendly cooperation with the Latin-American nations of this hemisphere. Less has been said lately about the Monroe Doctrine, accepted by Americans for a century and a half as the key to our main policy of defense. But its principles are as valid as they ever were, and in view of the un-

REEDER PITCHED.

There are probably a thousand stories in any day's news on the war fronts, if you could only get at them. Here is a baseball yarn from Okinawa, relayed from Gordon Cobbleddick, a Cleveland Plain Dealer correspondent.

The Japs, dug in half way down a slope, were operating a knee mortar, which is very effective when lobbing missiles from a hole in a hillside. The dough-boys couldn't reach them by small arms fire, and couldn't throw far enough to get at them.

They appealed to a near-by compatriot, Pfc. Bill Reeder, normally a pitcher for the Texas League. Bill stands six feet four when erect. "Gimme a grenade," he muttered. Then he wound up and let 'er go. The target was no less than 300 feet away, and Bill's missile exploded at the edge of the hole.

So the boys lugged a box of 50 grenades up the hill and put them at Bill's disposal, and then a second box, while the pitcher stood there and pitched as he had never pitched before. When his arm gave out, he would drop to the ground and blaze away with his automatic till he got rested, and then resume the pitching.

Finally he happened to notice that it was very quiet on the hillside, and strolled up to investigate. Nothing was there but two very dead Japs. His arm was sore, but he remarked: "Way I look at it, better have a dead arm on a live body than vice versa."

LET'S MAKE THE MOST OF EVERY BAG

Feed is precious today. No right-minded feeder wants any part of avoidable waste in wartime feeding programs. That is why we suggest:

1. USE PASTURES. They reduce the amount of feed you need to buy.
2. PRACTICE GOOD MANAGEMENT. Live, thrifty well-bred stock pays best returns.
3. HANDLE WITH CARE. Be sure your stock gets all that's in the bag.
4. FEED WITH CARE. Extract the fullest worth of every bag in meat, milk or eggs.
5. GET RID OF RATS. They cost you money, waste feed, spread disease.

Your TEXO Feed Dealer urges you to look on every bag of feed as a potential producer of FIGHTING FOOD . . . needed for VICTORY!
