"WE WILL SMASH THE ENEMY!"

Funeral Service For Alex Spears Polio, a Filth-Borne Disease, Is on Increase Very Impressive

Among massed blossoms of a floral tribute which breathed an eloquent tribute of respect, Cisco Saturday afternoon bid farewell to one of its leading business men, Alex Spears, president and one of the founders of the city's First National Bank.

The services at First Presbyterian church were marked with a classic simplicity, as Mr. Spears himself would have preferred them—a song, a prayer, an anthem and a sermon by Dr. O. L. Savage, which, in the striking effect of an allegory, developed upon the narrative of a successful life a theme of faith and eternal hope.

The minister read a number of passages of scripture and chose as a basis of his sermon the final verses of the fifteenth chapter of St. Paul's first letter to the Corinthians, which begin "O Death where is thy sting?" He sketched in brief outline the personal history of Mr. Spears from the time he was born at Spearsville, La., until his death.

Referring to the fact that Mr. Spears had been taken in the midst of an active life, the minister posed an eternal question. "Somebody who has tried to live decently, dies suddenly. Somebody who has not tried to live decently, lives on. A baby is born into this world and it dies. Do I have the answer? Do you?"

He answered it with the message of hope that Jesus gave when, taken to the bier of the dead Lazarus, he comforted the sisters of the dead youth with the assertion, "He is not dead, but sleepeth." He answered it again with God's apparent abandonment of Jesus to the cross, despite the plea of the dying savior and the power of the Almighty to have removed him. The surrender of the Christ to his fate was testimony of his faith in the great purpose of God," he said.

"The answer is that death is not the end of the street; it is the open door to another and a newer world," said Dr. Savage. "It is such a world as John saw in his visions upon Patmos, when before the opened eyes of the apostle, a new heaven and a new earth descended.

"When Jesus was asked what is the greatest thing in the kingdom of heaven, he set a little child before them. He said to those grownups that lest they become as a little child they could not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

"When Alex got ready to leave, if he could have talked with you or me, he would have talked as that little child. Suppose his grandchild had spoken to him then. Let imagination picture that conversation. Perhaps the child asked him, 'Grandfather, will you die before I do?' And Alex might have answered, 'Yes, for I am so much older than you.' And then that child might have said, 'Grandfather, when you go you just wait over there for me and I'll join you some day.'"

A crowd which filled the auditorium of the church and overflowed into the streets—Cisco friends and neighbors and many friends from all over this section of the state—heard the service. "Rock of Ages" and an anthem, "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes Unto the Hills," were sung by the robed choir, with Mrs. Ernest Hittson at the organ.

Polio, a Filth-Borne Disease, Is on Increase

AUSTIN, June 9.—Noting that polio is believed to be one of the "filth-borne" diseases, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, Saturday urged strict application of personal hygiene and home sanitation measures to aid in its control.

"With poliomyelitis reaching into every section of our state and more than 120 cases already reported, I would like to re-emphasize some personal sanitary measures for its control," said Dr. Cox.

He listed these rules for personal hygiene: Bathe frequently and wear clean clothing. Brush the teeth frequently and use a mild antiseptic mouth wash. Keep the nasal passages clean and correct dental defects such as cavities.

"Give Young Fellows the Glory; They Beat Nazis"

DENVER, June 9.—Bound for a gigantic welcome celebration at Los Angeles, Gen. George S. Patton and Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, together with 50 other returning heroes, took off in army planes from Buckley Field near Denver Saturday.

Both Patton and Doolittle were accompanied by their wives. The party was expected to reach Los Angeles early in the afternoon. Believed them the top-ranking generals left a dazzled Denver, which had turned out thousands of persons to greet them although no official celebration had been scheduled.

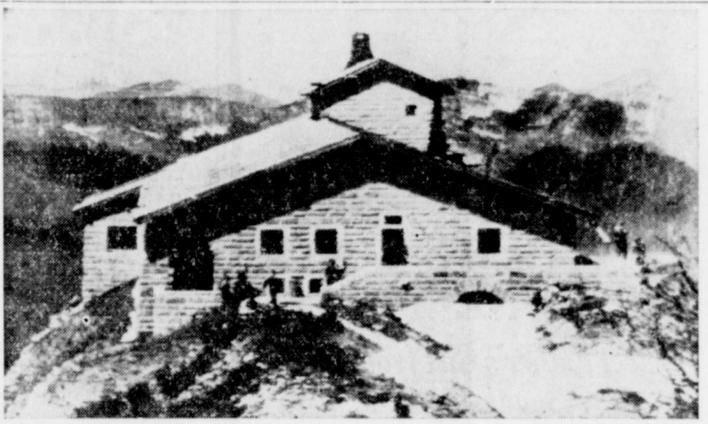

The Patton-Doolittle party spent the night in Denver on its Paris-to-California flight. Patton insisted that the glory for the victory over Germany goes to the enlisted men—not to the generals—saying: "Give the young fellows the glory; they get damn little else out of war. Besides, they're the ones that fought it and they'll be the ones who will have to fight the next one. Old guys like me and Jimmy will be gone—and a general gets enough fame just being a general."

Lieut. Spears Is on Way Home From Pacific on Leave

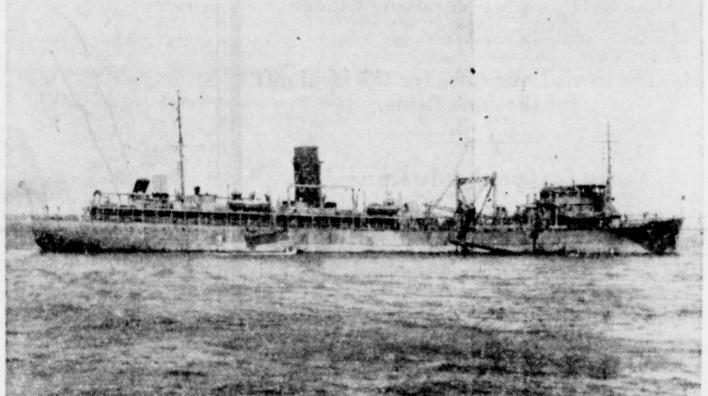

"The First National Bank, closed Friday and Saturday because of the death of its president, Alex Spears, will open for business at the usual hour Monday morning," said E. J. Poe, cashier, Saturday afternoon.

Hoop Jr. Won Ky. Derby in 2:07; 70,000 Saw Event

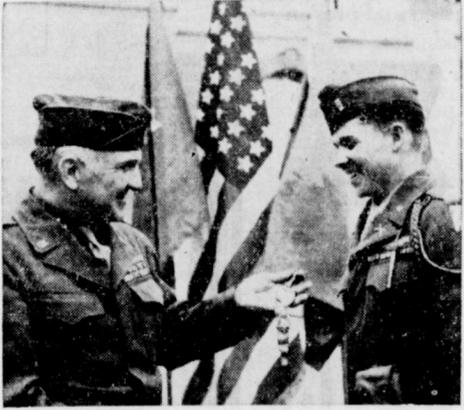

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 9.—Hoop Jr. won the 71st Kentucky derby today, making the mile and a quarter course in 2:07 flat. The track record is 2:01 2/5, which was established by Whirlaway in 1941. Pot o' Luck was second, Darby Dieppe third and Jeep fourth. The race was run on a muddy track, before 70,000 people.

LARGEST OF ITS KIND—Sea-going hopper dredge Goethals, largest of its kind in the world, is at work cleaning up New York harbor. It has two vacuum sweeper-like drag gratings at end of 90-foot pipe, which drag bottom while vessel moves. It insures safe progress for naval ships.

Pfc. Edwin D. Posey, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Posey, 606 west Eleventh street, arrived in Cisco Wednesday night for a thirty-day visit. For the past six months he has been serving with General Patch's Seventh army in France and Germany.

Reds' Veto Right-About Eases Tension of Senators

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Russia's retreat from insistence on veto right on discussions in world peace organization has eased U. S. senate tension. It had been rising for days. Forecasts now indicate much speech making on the organization's imperfections but no large vote against it. One able senator predicts there may not be many more votes against it than there were against last year's Fulbright resolution pledging world co-operation—five, in that case. Two most powerful men on GOP side—Vandenberg and Tamm—will be for it. Those who came out early for U. S. world co-operation and many formerly tagged isolationists are disappointed at structure of the peace charter. However there's general agreement that it's best hope we have against war. But: All this doesn't mean there's no fighting ahead on peace plan. Senate may get into real scrap on question of how much power U. S. delegate on security council will have, a question outside the San Francisco agreement but part of the question Senate must face.

Both sides think Senate battle on granting the Administration authority to cut tariff an additional 50 per cent under present levels will be close, with the odds probably favoring acceptance. Finance committee vote was 10 to 9 against, but Democrats think chances are better in Senate as a whole. If going gets too tough, compromise at something like 25 per cent under present rates is possible.

Hope that Japs soon will surrender unconditionally to prevent further devastation of their cities and industries is fading among military men, congressional sources say. This means long, hard war, many casualties. Nips give no signs of folding. Okinawa, about 350 miles from Jap home islands, will be used as England was used against Nazis. But Okinawa terrain will allow for fewer airfields than we had in England. This, plus distance, means we'll hit Jap with somewhat less air power than we threw against Germany. Never the less, our air war will be greatly stepped up. Japs soon will regret, even more than now, they ever heard of Pearl Harbor.

Lieut. Parks Is Now Stationed at Cherry Point, N. C.

CHERRY POINT, N. C.—Marine Second Lt. Spurgeon B. Parks, son of Mrs. Annie Jane Parks, Cisco, Tex., has reported for duty with the Ninth Marine Aircraft Wing at the Marine corps air station here.

Ranger Rotarians and Lions Form War Bonds Club

RANGER, June 9.—Members of Ranger Rotary and Lion's clubs jointly voted this week to sponsor a $1,000 bond club, for the purpose of helping meet Ranger's Series E bond quota for the Seventh War Loan. The sponsors of the club have announced that the aim of the Lions and Rotarians is one hundred per cent membership in the club. However, membership is not limited and is open to everyone who purchases a one thousand dollar bond.

THAT'S WHAT PREMIER SUZUKI TOLD NIP DIET AFTER EMPEROR HIMSELF OPENED THE SESSION

PEARL HARBOR, June 9.—The Japanese premier promised to fight "to the very last" today even as his homeland was battered by the first three-way Superfortress raid of the Pacific war.

In a speech to an extraordinary session of the Japanese Diet, Premier Kantaro Suzuki rejected unconditional surrender on the grounds it would mean the "complete destruction of Japanese policy and the Japanese race."

Emperor Hirohito himself opened the parliament session, a very unusual move. The government, struggling to keep the country's war efforts together in face of bombardment and blockade, introduced emergency laws which would enable it "to take over completely."

This morning, the B-29 fleet bombarded plants at Osaka, Kobe, and Nagoya.

For the first time since mid-May, the huge planes did not carry the incendiary bombs which had set Japan's great cities ablaze in previous attacks. This time they concentrated their high explosive loads on specific targets—the Kawasaki aircraft works at Osaka, the Kawasaki engine plant at Kobe, and the Aichi company's Astuta parts plant at Nagoya.

Tokyo reported the raids lasted for one hour and 20 minutes, beginning at 7:30 a. m.

While Japanese homefronters worried over the new attacks, their troops on Okinawa were thrown back by new American gains. American troops, led by flamethrowers, blasted into Hahagunuku, the fall of which would outflank the important Yaeju-Bake escarpment. On the western end of the last Japanese defense line, Ioman already was outflanked.

Another Allied landing, the one on the northwest coast of Borneo, was reported without confirmation by Tokyo. A Japanese broadcast said an attempt had been made to land on Labuan Island in

IS IT PROGRESS?

One of the characteristics of the present is its immense destructiveness. This appears especially in our wars, by which one great city after another is left a hopeless ruin.

Another feature is the rapid change in modes of life and ways of doing things. It seems almost as if people merely going off on summer vacations are likely to find notable changes when they get back.

And are these sweeping changes an improvement? Not necessarily. For people—especially Americans—tend more and more to regard change in itself as essential, and pay an unnecessary amount of homage to mere gadgets. Wealth apparently tends more to consist in mere things, rather than greater enlightenment of the mind and spirit of men, and a finer faculty for their cooperating with each other instead of fighting.

In short, with all its merits and abilities, some of our philosophers maintain that what we call progress is an illusion, and in some important ways we are going down instead of up.

FREE ENTERPRISE.

When the United States entered World War II, Germany gloried in her belief in the invincibility of her air power. And at first it did look like an almost impossible task to overcome German air superiority. But Americans are not easily discouraged. We immediately planned airplane production to outstrip Germany. The air superiority which we built might not have been so spectacular, however, if it had not been for our oil industry which smashed record after record, not only in production, but in development of types of gasoline that give our planes power and speed which, in the hands of an air force beyond compare, Germany could not match.

Last year we heard of 100-octane gasoline in terms of billions of gallons, the achievement of individual companies. More aviation gas was produced in 1941 alone than the entire production of all grades of gasoline during the entire period of our participation in the last war.

The German air force was wiped out. The American oil industry which produced the new kind of fuel to power the new types of planes more efficiently, was an agency of destruction. The Germans had not reckoned with. And Japan will learn to her sorrow the meaning of American gasoline and plane production, when in the hands of courageous men. Their volume literally obliterates the rising sun.

(Files of Cisco Citizen, R. W. H. Kennon, Editor.)

The statement of the First National Bank of Cisco called by the comptroller of the currency as of December 31, like every previous statement of this conservative banking institution, shows it to be one of the soundest financial establishments in the state of Texas. While other banks and bankers have had rough sledding during the financial distress that has caused men to grow bald, lose their sleep, and walk the floor in an attempt to solve their financial problems and stem the tide that threatened; and in many instances have caught banking houses in the maelstrom of financial disaster and dragged them down to financial oblivion. The First National Bank has sailed the rough seas of depression safely, riding every breaker encountered without so much as reefing a sail or heaving a ballast. The reason is patent to those familiar with the policy of this institution. A safe and competent pilot, Alex Spears, has ever been at the wheel, directing every course safely over the troubled seas and guiding his craft into the port of safety without a casualty.

Preceding the ceremony Misses Bonnie Jean Wilson, Cathryn Shepard and Dorothy Jean Anderson sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied at the piano by Miss Barbara Grist, who also played Lohengrin's bridal chorus as the wedding party entered. The bride was attended by her aunt Mrs. Clifford Thomas and Ensign Kenneth Huffman, the groom's best man.

The bride wore an attractive dress of white eyelet embroidered pique with corsage of red rosebuds and bonnet of lace. Other members of the house party wore pastel corsages of varied hues.

A reception followed the wedding and refreshments were served in the dining room. The table was covered with a beautiful lace cloth and held as centerpiece a low bowl filled with white gardenias. The three-tier wedding cake stood at a table end and was cut by the bride and groom who were relieved by Miss Cathryn Shepard who then served the guests. Punch was ladled by Misses Dorothy Anderson and Bonnie Jean Wilson. Miss Wanda June Bond presided at the bride's book. Pvt. and Mrs. Johnson left following the reception for a weekend stay in Fort Worth.

Private Johnson graduated from Cisco high school at mid-term and entered the armed forces soon afterward. Mrs. Johnson graduated with the 1943 high school class and is a recent graduate of Cisco Junior college.

Those attending the wedding were Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Johnson, Mrs. Bob Ellison, Misses Betty and Janice Johnson, Ensign Kenneth Huffman, Mrs. Clara Robertson, Mrs. Clifford Thomas, Mrs. Pearl Campbell, Homer Lee Hensley, Misses Cathryn Shepard, Bonnie Jean Wilson, Dorothy Jean Anderson, Wanda June Bond, Barbara Grist, Mrs. H. B. Hensley and two out-of-town guests, Mrs. Joe Robertson and son of Odessa.

CISCO GIRL ON SIX-MONTHS OVERSEAS TOUR.

Distinction follows distinction for one young Cisco artist, who left recently on a six-month tour of war areas with the USO. (Time of leaving and destination concealed by censorship).

She is Miss Gloria Graham, 19-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Graham and a student in the Julliard Graduate School of Music, New York City, the ne plus ultra of musical education institutions in America. Miss Graham's selection as a member of a quartet to appear in USO Camp Shows across is the latest tribute to her talent and training as a musician which already had earned her a number of unusual honors. The first of these was the award of a fellowship in the graduate school of the Julliard institution, despite the fact that no such award is usually made to students entering the undergraduate school at Julliard for the first time. She has since received two additional fellowships, the third of which will begin when she has completed the USO tour.

A pupil of Miss Wilda Dragoo of Eastland, Miss Graham subsequently studied under Carl Venth of Fort Worth and Francis MacMillen, New York virtuoso, in classes both at Fort Worth and in Arkansas. About two years ago she was recommended to the Julliard School of Music. In the chance that she might be admitted to the graduate school of Julliard, she applied for an audition and was refused that opportunity.

on the score that she could not possibly have attained a degree of excellence entitling her to a graduate fellowship without preliminary study in the undergraduate school. Disappointed, she took a private lesson from one of the artists teaching at Julliard, who was so impressed with her playing that he recommended her for an audition, which was granted and resulted in the high distinction of an immediate graduate fellowship. This fellowship carries with it tuition without cost. Her teacher now is Louis Persinger. She is studying other subjects besides the piano and viola, among which are the piano and viola.

The Cisco girl has also appeared with Julliard artists on the Inter-scholastic broadcasting association programs. This association is made up of 17 universities. On May 19, as a member of a Julliard quartet, she appeared on this broadcast from the McMillan theater at Columbia university.

Other members of the Julliard string quartet now on USO tour are Margaret Purvis of Vancouver, B. C., Canada; Genevieve Kenesee of Indiana and Shirley Mesmer of New York.

Mrs. Graham and Emmett Graham, Jr., spent a month in New York with Miss Gloria Graham and were there to see her off on her tour.

The young musicians, who will entertain service personnel of the United States abroad, travel under army regulations, wearing prescribed uniforms and conforming to military authority, just as members of the armed forces.

So proudly we hail the 112,000 girls of the U. S. CADET NURSE CORPS

Opportunities Now Open for Immediate Enlistment

The 112,000 girls of the United States Cadet Nurse Corps are doing one of the most important jobs in the country's war effort.

While they learn as student nurses, Cadets help free graduate nurses for duty with the Army and Navy. 80% of all nursing in hospitals with schools of nursing in 1944 was done by students, working under graduate supervision.

No wonder the U. S. Government is glad to give the Cadet Nurses tuition, room, board, and uniforms free . . . and a monthly spending allowance.

In return, the Cadet Nurse pledges to do only essential nursing—military or civilian, for the duration. If you want free education for this proud profession, check the list at the right. If you can answer "yes" to these questions you may be eligible for membership in the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps.
