U.S. LETS JAPS MOVE WOUNDED

Russia Makes Thorough Job of Stripping German Plants

BERLIN, July 6.—Reparations kind — a policy agreed to by the Allies before defeat of Germany — already is being carried out on a large scale in the Soviet occupation zone.

In Berlin districts now being taken over by American and British troops factories were stripped of heavy machinery four to eight weeks ago.

Reports from Allied nationals who have been through other German areas whose permanent occupation by the Red army never has been in doubt confirm that similar removal of industrial equipment is in progress there.

A newspaper correspondent visited the vast Rheinmetall-Borsig armament works in the northern suburb of Tegel, which the Russians evacuated last Sunday in anticipation of the arrival of British forces.

Huge shops, which produced everything from gasoline refineries to Tiger tanks until they were severely damaged by American and RAF raids, cover two-block city blocks. At their peak these shops employed 70,000 workers, 40 per cent of them foreign slaves, including 1,000 Soviet women.

Of the 2,500 machines which survived the bombings, less than half have been left behind by Soviet authorities, according to company records.

The Soviet-appointed technical director, Dr. Arthur Zinzin, said the Russians shipped off over twenty-two hundred items of industrial equipment, mostly of a heavier type than those they did confiscate.

What is left in the way of small machine tools have been ordered by the Russians to be operated by the new management of the Rheinmetall-Borsig as the official repair shop for Berlin's city government.

The Soviet dismantling of German industry is not confined to armament works. In the Zehlendorf district, now under American control, a spinning mill, a sugar mill and various other plants have been thoroughly cleaned out.

Factories of all types in the Russian-held areas are reported being combed in the same fashion and machinery needed in the Soviet Union.

Small Towns of Texas Have Good Chance to Grow

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The commerce department made a glowing report on economic opportunities in the South after the war and advised Southerners to concentrate on developing small businesses.

"There is not a village or hamlet in the entire South too small for a small processing plant, provided the raw materials are there and markets are near by," it said.

The department cited these points concerning the South's future: The South is an area with abundant raw materials; it has ample manpower; the war has greatly stepped up its management know how, skills, plants and equipment.

The thirteen states covered by the statistics include Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Will Erect Home For Delinquent Colored Girls

AUSTIN, Texas, July 6.—Site for a delinquent Negro girls' school authorized by the Forty-Ninth legislature has been agreed upon, Weaver Baker, chairman of the State Board of Control, announces.

Baker declined to specify where the institution will be located until all legal transactions have been completed. He said he hoped construction of buildings will begin shortly after Sept. 1, when the $150,000 appropriated by the legislature will be available.

The sum of $60,000 was also appropriated to operate the institution during the biennium starting Sept. 30. Plans call for housing approximately 125 Negro girls.

End of Nazi War Meant Little to Elder and Others

THE 31ST AIR TRANSPORT GROUP, Oxford, England.—Corp. Harmon Elder of Cisco, Texas, was allowed little time to celebrate victory over Germany before his unit of the 302nd Transport Wing called him back to the job of redeploying all air force equipment in France and England to new theaters of war.

There was no need to tell Corporal Elder that the German surrender was only the first phase of the total war being completed against the Japanese in the Pacific. His outfit is part of the air technical service command in Europe — a command responsible for a thousand jobs of major importance.

His transport group continues to pile up thousands of supply miles picking up priority supplies, evacuating patients and liberated war prisoners. The C-47 transport planes carry officials of the American military government as well as Nazi war criminals being flown to England and the United States for interrogation and trial.

Corporal Elder is one of thousands of soldiers still needed to complete the job done by his comrades on the fighting fronts. When his job is finished he will be transferred to a new job, returned to the states for reassignment or discharged, dependent upon the number of points he has accrued on his adjusted service rating card the answer to the army's discharge problem.

Elder, army post exchange clerk, is the son of Jesse E. Elder, 2101 D avenue, Cisco, Texas. He entered the army in July, 1942, and came to England in December, 1943.

PARTIAL ECLIPSE MONDAY.

Ciscoans may view a partial eclipse of the sun at approximately 6:50 Monday morning. The eclipse will be visible however from the time the sun appears at 6:29 until the eclipse passes at 7:45 a. m. In order to protect the eyes, it is suggested that smoked glass or photographic film be used.

TEXAN GETS LIFE.

LONDON, July 6.—Pvt. Ben Herbert Sutherland, 23, of Houston, convicted of shooting a London policeman in the foot and committing a series of other offenses, was sentenced today to life imprisonment. Sutherland was accused of deserting just before D-Day, escaping from a military escort after being captured, stealing an automobile, threatening various persons with a pistol and being in possession of $100 worth of stolen jewelry.

2 Special Handbooks on Safety Cargo Plane Is Be Issued Soon

AUSTIN, July 6.—Forty Texas school administrators and teachers today set themselves the task of saving the lives of nearly a thousand Texas children annually. They hope to save another 3,000 a year from permanent injury.

The spade work, which began at the University of Texas, will last two months. At the end of that time, the educators expect to have two special Texas handbooks on safety for the use of teachers in the public schools.

The books will be offered for use in all city and county schools. Some 20,000 of the handbooks for elementary teachers will be distributed. The state board of education in cooperation with the program is expected to adopt a Driver Education textbook for Junior high schools this September.

The Texas Safety association is assisting financially with the work, having contributed $4,000 to defray part of the expenses of those engaged and the state public safety department is cooperating.

SIX NEW CASES POLIO.

DALLAS, July 6.—Officials of Parkland hospital reported today six new cases of infantile paralysis were admitted to the hospital within the last week. The new cases included two sisters, 11 and 12 years old, from Coppell, a 5-year-old boy from Grand Prairie, and a 7-year-old girl from Wilmer, all of Dallas county, a 7-year-old girl from Morgan Mill, Erath county, and a year-old girl from Gilmer, Upshur county.

Wild Canucks Run Amuck for Second Night in England

ALDERSHOT, Eng., July 6.—Canadian army headquarters announced today that soldiers who smashed up Aldershot for two straight nights will be moved to ports for homebound embarkation as soon as possible.

Again last night the Canadian troops ran riot through the town for more than two hours, breaking shop windows and causing damage exceeding the $4000 worth in the previous night's disorders.

The only explanation given for the rioting was the soldiers' restlessness over delay in sending them home.

The headquarters announcement that they would be started home as soon as possible also said that those responsible for the trouble would be court martialled. "Firm measures" are being taken to prevent further disorders, the statement said.

"The men in the trouble were paraded today so that suspects might be identified," the statement said. "Already more than 100 men have been taken into custody for further questioning and investigation. Where evidence warrants it, they will be charged and court martialled."

Morgenthau and Judge Roberts Have Resigned

WASHINGTON, July 6.—President Truman, continuing to shake up the cabinet he inherited from Mr. Roosevelt, announces the resignation of Henry Morgenthau, secretary of the treasury since early new deal days and the sixth cabinet official to step out since Mr. Truman took office.

The president also announced that Associate Justice Owen J. Roberts, leading dissenter on the supreme court, will retire July 31 after fifteen years' service on the tribunal.

Morgenthau's resignation, effective after the president returns from Berlin Big Three conferences, leaves of the Roosevelt cabinet only Secretary of War Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Forrestal, Secretary of the Interior Ickes and Secretary of Commerce Wallace.

Of these, it is reported that Stimson is preparing to quit because of his advanced age. He is 77.

Ickes is the only original member of Mr. Roosevelt's first cabinet remaining in his original post. The president told news conference he has a successor for Morgenthau in mind but would not announce his choice until he returns from Europe.

Mr. Truman also refused to say whether Morgenthau would become United States director of the world monetary institution to be created under the Bretton Woods agreements. An informed source said his assignment was in prospect.

Roberts, who passed the permissive retirement age of 70 last May, will receive $20,000 per year, his present salary.

NICE RAINFALL.

The rain gauge at city hall registered seven-tenths of an inch at 2 o'clock this afternoon, said George W. Downie, city secretary. The precipitation began between 2 and 3 a. m. today.

COLONEL AT 25.

AUSTIN, July 6.—Col. Clarence J. Galligan, 25, youngest colonel in the Troop Carrier Command, will take over duties here as executive officer at Bergstrom Air Base, it was announced today. A veteran of 55 missions in the European theater, the decorated youthful colonel is from Asbury Park, N. J.

WAKE ISLAND INCIDENT WAS THE MOST DRAMATICALLY HUMAN ACT OF THE PACIFIC WAR

GUAM, July 6.—A Japanese hospital ship evacuated 974 wounded and sick Japanese soldiers and sailors from Wake Island with the permission of the United States Navy, Pacific Fleet headquarters announced today.

The incident was unprecedented in the Pacific war.

Admiral Nimitz reported that the enemy ship was stopped and searched by an American destroyer as it approached and again as it left Wake Island, where U. S. Marines held out gallantly early in the war until overrun by overwhelming numbers of Japanese assault troops.

American boarding parties found that the bulk of the 974 taken off Wake were suffering from malnutrition, testifying to the effectiveness of the long American air and sea blockade of the island, 1,955 miles southeast of Tokyo. Nipponese medical officers estimated 15 per cent of these wouldn't survive the voyage to Tokyo. Fifteen per cent of the rescued enemy garrison taken off were suffering from tuberculosis. Fourteen were wounded.

The evacuation presumably removed most of the Japanese garrison and was a virtual admission that American forces could take Wake any time they wish.

In one of the most dramatically humane incidents of the Pacific war, the U. S. destroyer Murray intercepted, stopped and searched the Japanese hospital ship Takasago Maru about 300 miles north of Wake.

3,928 ENROLL.

AUSTIN, July 6.—Registration of students for the summer session at the University of Texas totaled 3,928 through Thursday. A total of 3,901 students had enrolled through the first day of registration last summer, and final registration totaled 4,641.

Senate Committee Charges State Department is Lax

WASHINGTON, July 6.—A senate committee today called for speedy return of lend-lease materials to the United States to keep them from being used to promote future wars in Europe and to help cut the cost of the Pacific war.

In a report on its studies in Europe, the Kilgore subcommittee of the Senate War Investigating Committee termed it "deplorable" that officials have not even considered the problem of utilizing lend-lease supplies still abroad.

It charged that lend-lease accounts have become almost "hopelessly confused" and that the role of the State Department in lend-lease "has been anything but a vigorous championing of United States interests."

31ST STRAIGHT DAY.

PEARL HARBOR, July 6.—The pre-invasion bombardment of Japan roared into its 31st straight day today with elements of four American air forces pounding the enemy homeland. While the air war was stepped up, Australian forces on Borneo continued their advances and were near to capturing the Balikpapan suburb of Pandansari, where the biggest oil refinery in the Dutch East Indies is located. They already held all of Balikpapan city and Manggar airfield, 12 miles to the east.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Former Secretary of State Hull was discharged today from the U. S. Naval Hospital at nearby Bethesda, Md., where he had been a patient since last October. Physicians attending the 73-year-old former secretary said hospitalization was no longer necessary in view of his "most satisfactory recovery." He had been undergoing treatment for a throat ailment.

TREATIES AND THE SENATE.

The Senate, debating the San Francisco Charter, is being watched by those who remember only too well that its reputation as to treaties has not always been of the best. The defeat of the Treaty of Versailles seems today far less desirable than it did to 1919's isolationists. Since then adherence to the World Court, despite the support of Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover, was denied by the Senate.

This tendency to reject treaties is by no means modern. When John Hay was ambassador to Great Britain under President McKinley, he wrote, "I do not believe that another important treaty will pass the Senate." When he became secretary of state he drafted a treaty with Great Britain preparing the way for the building of the Panama Canal. This was so drastically modified by the Senate that it was laid on the shelf. Hay wrote, "I felt sure that no one out of a madhouse could fail to see that the advantages were all on our side. But I underrated the power of ignorance and spite, acting upon cowardice."

Fortunately the prospects look much brighter today. The Senate has shown signs of growing beyond such petty action on issues of supreme importance.

ARE INVENTORS CRAZY?

Are inventors necessarily crazy? This seems to be suggested by the testimony of a French alienist who was called in to examine Georges Claude, the inventor of liquid air and of neon lights. Claude is on trial for collaborating with the Nazis, a charge which he himself admits is true. Perhaps this very admission gave the idea that there might be something wrong with him.

At any rate the alienist said, "Claude's mentality is that of the inventor, which is closely akin to a paranoid mentality as shown by errors of judgment, exaltation of one's personality, pride and vanity and social inadaptability." This is a formidable diagnosis for one patient. Inventors generally will resent the assumption that all inventors are paranoid. Among others, they can cite the example of Edison.

OTHER EDITORS

He's Too Harsh.

S. A. Beard of Dallas, writing to the Dallas News, says: "Your editorial, The World of Fashion, in your issue of June 30, endorsing the untidy and indecent practice of women discarding their hose, exposing her nude waist and appearing in public with less than five ounces of materials to cover her nude body put you on the spot as being wholly indecent and immoral at heart. "It certainly is a pity that Dallas has a newspaper that turns from decency and pure morals and lends its support wholeheartedly to immorality and indecency, especially at a time when the world is already going to hell with a downhill pull on account of such immoral and indecent conduct."

One hundred and seventeen tax-paying citizens of Cisco—the most of whom are D-avenue business men—have signed a petition asking Mayor J. M. Williamson and the city commissioners to proceed with the paving program as outlined some months ago. The petition will be presented to the commission at a meeting to be held next Monday night. The program as originally outlined and ordered by the city commission included some sixty-five or seventy blocks in the residence section of both the east and west side and was ordered on request of more than 80 per cent of the property owners on the streets in question. Various matters have arisen from time to time to delay the work, among them the untimely death of Contractor Pet Brown, but a large portion of the merchants believe it would be good business to start and carry on the work of improvement during the dull summer months, thus giving employment to a large force of men when work is most needed.

The Cisco Banking company entertained its stockholders, directors, employees and one or two invited friends at a fine chicken barbecue, Tuesday night. The barbecue was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mancill. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. R. Q. Lee and family, A. Webster and children, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Dabney, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hittson, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Stark, P. C. O'Laughlin, Lee Owen, Mrs. C. Owen, Mrs. B. F. Jones, Mrs. B. W. Patterson, Bus-umphey, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mancill and family, Dr. W. E. Mancill, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morse and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Spears. During the evening Bob Mancill by special request told his famous "Black Leg" story, with new variations. He was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. R. Q. Lee.

At a gathering of friends at the home of Judge and Mrs. L. H. McCrea, this afternoon, the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lucile McCrea, to Mr. Silliman Evans, of Fort Worth, will be announced. The wedding date is November 12, at the First Methodist church, Cisco. Following the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Evans

GRANDMOTHER.

The love of a maid is a selfish pride; My mother, my friend, my Christ who died.

The love of the bride is a love for two, No room in her heart but for "me and you."

The love of the mother, unselfish, warm, She gives unstinted to each wee form.

But when babes are children, and children men, And mother becomes grandmother then Her heart opens wide to each erring son, And she is mother to everyone. —C. C. W.

IT'S GREAT TO GET BACK FROM NATURE

Poison ivy, mosquitoes, ants, sunburn, rain—Roughing it on a camping trip is great stuff. For a week or so. Then you begin to long for the comforts of home.

A good light to read by . . . a hot shower . . . your electric razor . . . an electric range . . . and, of course, your radio.

It's surprising the number of every-day conveniences made possible by electricity. You take them for granted—until you have to get along without 'em.

The big reason why you forget 'em is because electric service is so good and so cheap. Electricity is still available at low pre-war prices. There have been no shortages.

And you can be sure there will be plenty of power for the post-war electric era—thanks to the practical experience and sound business management of America's light and power companies.

Ultimate Costs, Seen and Unseen . . .

. . . are all paid for by the consumer. The farmer sells his bale of cotton for $100.00, and we buy it back in suits of clothes for $1,000.00. Same old cotton except the looks, design, color, wage, transportation, rent, storage, interest, commission, profits and taxes—many kinds of them. Like the bale of cotton, the abstract, too, must bear its myriad of operating costs but well worth it as it is the basis of your title security and your protection against fraud.
