

RAIN, RAIN, AND MORE RAIN

One Solid Week of Cloudy, Rainy Weather—Good Season Over Plains.

We have had rain this and last week, and some more rain. We had our first rain Tuesday, June 3, and since then we have had continuous cloudy, damp weather.

The rain has not been general, but all sections have had more or less rain. The Lockney section has been in the center of rain belt and has received a greater precipitation than any other section.

With future showers, this immediate section has had sufficient rain to make good crops.

Moving Into New Building.

E. P. Thompson is moving this week into his two-story brick business house on Main street. He will have handsome quarters when he gets things straightened out. The upper story will be used for furniture and undertaker's goods, while the lower floor will be occupied by shelf hardware, stoves, etc.

These new buildings are the most handsome of any buildings erected on the plains and is a credit to the town.

Man and Woman Held on Swindling and Theft Charges.

W. T. Haywood and wife, of Oklahoma City, were arrested in Floydada Wednesday about noon by Sheriff Goen, upon information from Sheriff Frank Walker, of Quanah, Hardeman County, where the man is wanted on a charge of swindling, he having, according information from the sheriff's department, given a check for board and money to Quanah parties, on a bank of Oklahoma City.

The woman is accused of theft of a ring at Quanah. She declares however, that she found the ring.

At the time of his arrest Haywood was selling soda fountains and fixtures. He seems to be a business man of good appearance and bearing.

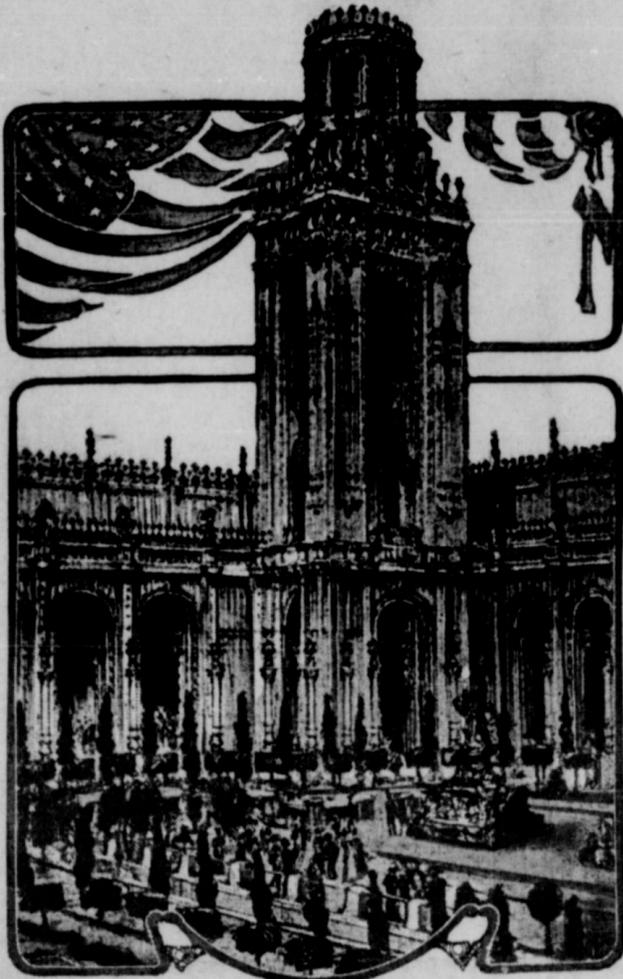

Sheriff Walker of Quanah, will be in Floydada Friday to take charge of the prisoners who will be taken back to that place.

Sheriff Goen says there is no doubt that the parties are the ones which the Hardeman Sheriff wants.—Hesperian.

PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION, SAN FRANCISCO, 1915.

Copyright, 1914, by Panama-Pacific International Exposition. An echo tower in the Festive or East Court. At night the East Court, with its pavements of gold, its great banks of flowers, and its lofty palms, will be flooded with light. Musical masterpieces of the world will be rendered by the chimes in the towers. Great saengerfests and choral festivals will assemble upon the floors of the court. In the Festive Court, the visitor will behold a vision surpassing the richest dreams of Oriental or Moorish architecture. The floors of this court will be in tessellated pavements of gold. In the center of the court will be great groups of sculpture with fauns, dancing nymphs and satyrs. There will be great fountains upon which magic lights will play at night and at night this mystic court, as all others, will be flooded by a glow of indirect light which will resemble a bright moonlight. At the south end of the court will be a huge tower 270 feet in height in which will be a great organ with echo organs in smaller towers of the court. The Festive Court will be a court of music, of acting, and symphonic dancing. Here will assemble many of the great pageants of Oriental nations that will take part during the exposition; here too will come many of the processions from the amusement center, which will be designed to draw visitors from the more serious phases of the exposition.

CHILD MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

Holds Convention At Lubbock

Carl McAdams returned Wednesday from Lubbock where he attended a convention of managers of the McAdams Lumber yards. There were 15 yards represented with the office force from Dallas. The convention was very interesting and profitable, and was the first of its kind held in Texas. No other yards were represented other than the McAdams yards, and was an exclusive McAdams convention.

The delegates were given a car ride over the Lubbock country and visited some of the big wells.

Carl says the Lubbock country has not had the rain we have had, and while the same cloudy, damp weather prevailed, there was a scarcity of rain fall.

Back From the Old Home.

Monday J. E. Burns returned from a visit to his old home at Collinsville, Ala. This was Mr. Burns' first trip back to the old state since 1881, thirty-two years ago. He has several brothers and sisters living back there, and none of them knew him, so great a change had time wrought. He walked in on them unannounced.

Mr. Burns says the old state has undergone many changes since he left, but the same old red hills are there, the same clear spring branches, the clover fields look the same, and the pines are just as tall. But the contrast is great compared to the Plains country. There they farm the hillsides, and have to fertilize the soil, but, says Mr. Burns: "They live well, have Jersey cows, fine horses, and plenty of money in the bank, but they work harder than we Texas people do."

It is the case in all the older states. The people that have stayed with those old hills have prospered in a way, and have been brought up in the rigid school of economy. If Texas people had the thrift and economy that necessity has forced on those people, we would be more prosperous, for there is no comparison in countries.

Mr. Burns says he visited the old home, and stood in the same old-fashioned rooms, with the same old-fashioned fire-places, where he was born. He thinks as he stood before the open hearth of that old home, pleasant memories must have surged over his soul, long forgotten in the busy march of time, he saw things then as of old. In that room where father and mother used to sit before the family circle was broken, and before ambition had led him to the Lone Star State to seek fortune. As he stood there the billows of memory came rushing back and engulfed his soul, and his feelings must have been that of the poet, who said:

"Backward turn backward, Oh! time in thy flight And make me a child again Just for tonight. Back, Oh! mother, at echoless shore.

BIG BALL GAME TOMORROW EVE

Lockney and Petersburg Will Cross Bats on Home Diamond—Good Game Expected

Tomorrow will be a big day in Lockney, the occasion being a match game of base ball between Petersburg and Lockney, which will take place on the home diamond.

Petersburg has a swift ball team this season, but our boys have been hard at practice and are going in to win this game.

Let every body go out and root for the home team. It will be the game of the season.

And hold me in thy arms As of yore."

We always rejoice when it is the good fortune of our friends and neighbors to visit the old scenes after years of absence. It does them good, and they return to the Lone Star State like one that has worshipped at a shrine, and are better equipped and contented to take up their duties as empire builders in this great common wealth.

Earhart Had one Puncture.

Sam Earhart came in yesterday from Dallas. S. G. McAdams, J. Y. Webb and J. T. Lackey, of Dallas; H. M. Lawrence, from Wylie, and J. A. Lester, from Paducah, came in with Mr. Earhart. These gentlemen will begin an invoice of lumber yards of the McAdams Lumber Company over the Plains. A convention of local managers is being held in Lubbock today.

"It was mud all the way after leaving Wichita Falls," Mr. Earhart said. "For a considerable distance one of the men had to walk barefooted in front of the car to pilot us." Mr. Earhart came from Dallas via Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Vernon and Crowell. He made the drive of a little more than 400 miles with only one puncture. His car is a seven-passenger Oakland.—Hale County Herald.

McGEHEE WILL BUILD SILOS

Resident of Lockney Community Says Oats Will Yield 70 Bushels An Acre.

The McGehee well near Lockney is giving convincing proof of increased profits from irrigation. Mr. McGehee is experimenting with a small acreage of oats this year, which he says will make 70 bushels to an acre.

Mr. McGehee is planting 175 acres of kafir and maize, which he will use to fill four silos which he will build this summer. The silos, he thinks, is so valuable that no farmer can afford to be without one.

The Texas Land and Development Company is digging a series of thirty big wells around Lockney.

Mr. McGehee will have one of his silos built by July 4th; so that those coming here on the date of the big barbecue can get some practical information as to the silos; how they are built and etc. — Plainview Herald.

Plans and details have all been worked out for an all-round Panhandle Fair at Amarillo this fall. The Fair association is to be chartered under the laws of Texas, with a paid up capital stock of $50,000. Glenwood Park has been taken over for the use of the Association. We believe the Panhandle and all the Plains country will endorse the proposition and support it liberally. We are for the association.

In Thankfulness to The People.

A few words of thanks to the people of this town and country. We can't thank you people enough for your kindness, sympathy and faithfulness in the trying hour of our loved one's death, which was a sad, sad scene to look upon, for our last view of him was such a hard one, indeed to view his body as it lay on its bed for slumber, with all of life gone; nothing but his lifeless form to view. The Bible says "Watch and pray, for we know not the hour for it might come as a thief in the night," and so it was in the case with him. He knew not the hour was so near at hand when he closed his eyes for sleep on the past night; he knew not that the pillow he lay his head upon that night for rest would be saturated with his own life's blood; he knew not when he closed his eyes that night he would wake up on the Great Beyond. Dear unsaved ones take warning for you know not the hour when you are summonsed to the Great Beyond. You know not what hour the thief may come upon you and may be he will not knock at your door but will enter with a gentle touch and steal your life away. We cannot tell when this sad hour is coming. Three years and eight months ago our family circle was broken and a link taken from us that was so heart-breaking, but the present link which was taken without warning was worst of all. It seems that we can't stand the trials that are on us, but God alone can heal the afflicted, distressed and sorrowing ones. But it seems that this is an awful sorrow to be healed. It seems so hard to stand, and then I look across to others' sorrows, and then think how hard it is for all to endure. May God be the divine healer of all and bless those who was so faithful and kind to us in the hours of our sorrow, in this great tragedy, but God's will be done.

A loved one from us is gone, A voice we loved is stilled, A place is vacant in our hearts Which never can be filled.

Safe in the arms of Jesus, Safe on His gentle breast, There, by his father, his remains Were laid down to rest.

Sleep on dear brother until God shall call his loved ones home on that day of resurrection.

Written for his loved ones, by his sister.

Mrs. Jane Moore.

FLOYD COUNTY VOTES INCREASE

The Voting Strength of the County Has Increased Two Hundred.

The official count by the commissioners' court of Floyd county recently, the number of poll taxes issued for 1913, was 1350, an increase of 200 over 1912.

While in session as a board of Equilization only 12 renditions were raised by Commissioners' Court, these 12 being non-residents.

Rain is General Over South Plains

Rains seem to have been general over the South Plains this week. G. R. Caldwell was in from Floydada and Lockney Wednesday. He says that those sections have not suffered. Grass in Floyd county is being leased for 25c an acre, according to Mr. Caldwell. Reports from Petersburg also indicate heavy showers in that section.

Tuesday night there was 93-100 of an inch rainfall in Plainview, according to local weather bureau reports. A downpour about midnight Wednesday increased the total to about 1 inch. This rain fell slowly and was absorbed. — Hale County Herald.

KICKED IN FACE BY HORSE

Jim Dines Received Painful Injuries Last Saturday.

Last Saturday afternoon Jim Dines was kicked in the face by a horse and received painful injuries. The accident occurred back of Baker's store. Dines was hitching the traces of his team, when the horse kicked him. He received the force of the lick on the chin, which was shattered, and five of the lower teeth were knocked out.

He was taken into the office of Dr. Thomas, where he received medical attention by Drs. Thomas and Guest. Sunday morning he was taken to the Sanitarium at Plainview, and the bone sewed together with steel wire and the wound dressed.

It will be some time before he recovers sufficient to eat, and in the meantime he will have to be feed by means of a quill. He is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

We will trade for anything in the way of second-hand goods. W. D. Mayben.

All-Panhandle Fair.

The Amarillo Chamber of Commerce has announced an All-Panhandle Fair to take place at Amarillo this fall. Boosters interested in the Plains country and Floyd county in particular should get busy and begin laying their plans to maintain a big exhibition there this fall.

The Dallas Fair has done more to advertise Texas than all other agents combined. The resources of the State have been displayed, and have been the means of drawing thousands of people to Texas from other states.

An All-Panhandle Fair will advertise the resources of this great section, the resources of which has never been exploited. Thousands of people will come to Amarillo from other and older sections of the state, as well as out of the State, and after seeing our products will be induced to come and cast their lot with us.

Floyd county, Lockney and Floydada, jointly should maintain an exhibit at the All-Panhandle Fair. With our joint resources we can make a showing unequalled by any other town on the Plains or the Panhandle. Let this exhibit represent Floyd county and not any one section. What do you say to a "get together" proposition of this kind?

New Cancer Remedy.

Cologne, Germany, June 3.—Cancer has been proven to be a contagious disease, caused by a parasite, and it can be healed, according to Dr. Otto Schmidt, a cancer expert, who reported at yesterday's meeting of the medical society here the results of his investigation into the origin and the possibility of curing cancer.

Dr. Schmidt declared that he had proved, through experiments, and had confirmed his findings by means of repeated tests, that the disease was a contagious one, brought about by the presence of a parasite which he had discovered in cancerous growths. He said he had procured a vaccine with which he had healed numerous serious cases of cancer. His treatment, he says, brings about immunization against further attacks.

Dr. Schmidt requested the medical society to appoint a commission to test his processes and promised to place everything at the disposal of the commissioners.

"Thou Shalt Not Bear False Witness."

Ages ago inspiration penned the words, "Thou shalt not bear false witness." This injunction stands fourth today, as of old, a warning to mankind, and no greater injunction was ever laid on the human family. How often has this injunction been violated? How many are the times that evil-minded men and women have bore false witness against their neighbor? The consequences that have followed "bearing false witness" have been fearful. Lives have been darkened; homes wrecked and characters destroyed.

"Bearing false witness," is sometimes unconsciously done. A report is started damaging to one's character; a neighbor hears it and repeats it to some one else; this neighbor tells it, and so on until it becomes accepted as true. The report may be false to start with, and every person that tells it "bears false witness" against the party slandered. The tongue is said to be the most evil of all members, and can cut like a sharp knife.

"Bear not false witness" is violated in all communities. Jealousy and hatred of a neighbor leads one to bear false witness against the party slandered. When a man or woman travels and a character is mentioned, some is wrecked and some is made miserable. It is a false report that ruins a life time to build a character, and it can be destroyed in twenty-four hours.

The wilful "Bearer of false witness" is no better than the libertine, and is as cruel as the assassin's that steals into a home and stains his hands with human gore. The libertine steals the virtue of our women, while the "Bearer of false witness steals the character of men and women. There is no human creature as mean as the man or woman who deliberately slanders his neighbor, he or she takes something they cannot restore—character. Chattels can be stolen and restored, but the character cannot be restored; it is stained and soiled; it has been dragged through the slime of public criticism until the owner is ashamed of it himself.

We would rather fellowship a thief than a slanderer. There is greed of gain to prompt the thief; and the slanderer is actuated by a hell-born desire to destroy, to lay waste, to pollute. The thief is an ornament to society compared with the evil-minded man or woman who circulates reports damaging to his neighbor's character.

Last week we wrote of the libertine, that depraved creature who seeks to destroy virtue, but this article is dedicated to a breed more numerous, and to the crime of character assassination that is practiced in all communities. "Bear not false witness" should not be lightly heeded. It stands fourth as a warning, and he who heeds lightly this injunction will have a fearful account to settle in that awful day when man stands before his Creator.

"Bear not false witness" not only includes the slanderer, but "Busy bodies" in other people's business, that class of cattle who tattle and meddles in other people's affairs, and those that delight in repeating things they hear damaging to their neighbor's reputation.

In conclusion, "Be not bearer's of false witness" but rather seek to cover up the short-comings of your neighbor. Help to restore rather than to tear down, and when you hear things about your neighbor keep it to yourself. Do not run to your friend and say, "Oh, have you heard the latest, etc?" Keep your mouth shut, lest you bear false witness and share their lot in the day of judgment. "He that harboreth a dark thought is benighted, but he that hath a clean conscience may set in the midst of night and enjoy bright day." He whose tongue is permitted to wag, is evil minded, and his course is destruction. Slander not your neighbor, but throw around him good counsel that he may amend his ways.

Floyd County Has Large Families.

The average size of a Texas family is 4.9 compared with 5.4 ten years ago. The average family in Floyd contains 5 persons and we have 923 families residing in this county according to a census report which has just been issued. Floyd is one of the 117 Texas counties whose families are larger than the State's average and if all the families in the State were as large as those of our county Texas' population would be nearer the five million mark.

For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requiring constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Wonderful!

The New 1913 Saginaw With the Patented Angle Steel Rib

Last season's Saginaw Silo was pronounced utterly perfect by dairymen and stockmen all over the country. For 1913 it was wholly unnecessary to attempt improvement. Yet, despite this, we came out with this 1913 Model. The big feature of the 1913 is the ANGLE STEEL RIB. This ingenious invention adds about 50% to the life of a Silo. And that's wonderful, when you consider the Saginaw is already known to be the strongest and most durable Silo ever built.

Doing the "Impossible"

The Angle Steel Rib has done what other Silo makers only a year ago considered impossible. It has given you Dairymen and Stockmen a Silo which the heaviest wind storms can't even SHAKE or TILT. All because the Angle Steel Rib absolutely prevents any wind-down slipping of the staves. Moreover, this marvelous invention forever cuts the remote possibility of your silo caving in when empty.

This Angle Steel Rib is a Structural Steel Reinforcement, curved to the curve of the Silo. It is slidingly received in strong, malleable brackets which are securely attached to alternate staves. Each rib is free to move and adjust itself to any variation in the diameter of the Silo. Built on the same structural principle as the big "I" Beams used in giant steel frame buildings. One Rib reinforces the other. Think of what it means to have these iron-work, unshakable Angle Steel Ribs encircling your Silo! To fully appreciate the patented Angle Steel Rib, you must get our new Free Silo Book, which pictures and explains all.

Other Noted Features

The Saginaw was famous first as "The Silo With the All-Steel Door Frame." Then followed the Saginaw Inner Anchoring Hoop. Next came the celebrated Saginaw Base Anchor. And now comes the Angle Steel Rib—the most astounding feature of all.

5 Big Factories

The Saginaw is far the most popular Silo on the market. Five mammoth Silo factories have had to be built. Last season we received orders for 107 Silos in a single day.

Strong as a Skyscraper

The Saginaw Silo, with its steel frame stands as solid as a modern city skyscraper. It cannot blow down, it cannot twist, it cannot warp; it cannot collapse; it cannot shift on its foundation. Like a Giant Oak, it is rooted to the ground by the Saginaw Anchoring System.

Bright, Clean Silage

No rank, sour silage ever comes out of a Saginaw. It is sweet and pure clear to the edges, right next to the walls. Animals love the cutting flavor and thrive wonderfully on the rich, succulent food. Don't get a Silo that spoils silage.

Get Latest Silo Book

Our latest Book on Silo is about ready for mailing. It not only fully describes the 1913 Saginaw, but also contains a wealth of information on Silo Building and Silage. Don't miss getting it. Write for it—no letter, come in and get your book and we'll talk it over.

Don't Suffer!

"I had been troubled, a little, for nearly 7 years," writes Mrs. L. Fincher, in a letter from Peavy, Ala., "but I was not taken down, until March, when I went to bed and had to have a doctor. He did all he could for me, but I got no better. I hurt all over, and I could not rest. At last, I tried Cardui, and soon I began to improve. Now I am in very good health, and able to do all my housework."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

You may wonder why Cardui is so successful, after other remedies have failed. The answer is that Cardui is successful, because it is composed of scientific ingredients, that act curatively on the womanly system. It is a medicine for women, and for women only. It builds, strengthens, and restores weak and ailing women, to health and happiness.

If you suffer like Mrs. Fincher did, take Cardui. It will surely do for you, what it did for her. At all druggists.

The Silos And Its Value

It is said that there is nothing new under the sun, and the truth of this saying is well brought out in the present agitation among the well informed to induce the farmers of this State to give more attention to the silo. To many the name silo conveys no meaning, as they are in total ignorance of what it is and yet the Egyptians used the silo thousands of years ago. Reduced to its simplest terms; a silo is really a big can, corresponding in nearly every way to the cans in which the housewife preserves her fruit, and it is intended to, and does serve, the same purpose. It is a means of preserving green food in its original form of stock of all kinds. Just as the housewife can insure a plentiful supply of both fruit and vegetables for the use of her family during the whole year, so the provident farmer who provides himself with a silo can be assured of an abundance of wholesome, nutritious food for his stock in times of scarcity. The principal upon which the silo is founded is the fact that decomposition and decay can only take place in any material through the agency of germ life, and in the presence of air. If this material is placed in an air-tight vessel, the germs it contains are killed, the air surrounding the material withdrawn, and if no germs are allowed to enter, the material will remain in the same condition in which it was gathered for an indefinite time, and will be just as valuable as a feed as when fresh. The housewife accomplishes these desired results, first heating the material and then by sealing up the can. This would not be practical for our stock. So the same result is accomplished in a different way. Using the ground as a bottom a structure is erected the sides of which are air-tight, or are made airtight, when they get wet. These sides are made of a variety of materials, the most common being lumber, stone, cement and brick. It does not matter much what kind of material used, just so the sides are made air-tight, and that they will hold the pressure of the material with which the structure is filled. What is known as the stave silo is usually made of pieces of two-by four lumber, set up on end, just as the staves of a barrel and put together and bound around with hoops that can be drawn together. It is usual to have these staves twelve or sixteen feet in length, and often two are placed upon end so that the structure is from thirty to thirty-two feet high. The diameter of the silo will vary, for reasons given later with the number of stock that it is desired to feed. After the silo is erected it is filled with such material as green corn, sorghum, kaffir, milo, or most any green feed which is chopped into lengths, varying from one-half to three quarters of an inch and packed firmly into the silo. When first placed in the silo the material undergoes quite a heating and souring. This heat however, expels the air that is held between the particles of material, and at the same time goes so high that it kills all germ life. As in the meantime the material is packed down very closely, no air or germs can enter; so the material soon cools off and remains unchanged for an indefinite period. This heating has done two things. It has generated a small amount of acetic acid, a substance that aids digestion and has also acted upon many of the substances of the food and rendered them easier of digestion when taken into the animal's stomach. The result, then, is preserved green feed for stock for any time of the year and that green feed is even more digestible than when it was first cut. A silo can be built at a cost of little over a dollar per ton capacity to two or three dollars, depending upon the material and the finish. No cover is necessary, as rain does not injure the ensilage. Even a pit in the ground can be made to do the service as a silo, especially in the dryer sections. After the silo is filled to the top, two or three inches of material spoils so in designing the silo it is necessary to calculate to feed a layer over the well surface each day. In this way it is fed up before it has time to spoil.

Ensilage keeps better in a deep, than a shallow silo, so it is customary to build them twenty to twenty-five feet in height. A silo ten feet in diameter and twenty feet high will hold about thirty-six tons of ensilage. A well-fed dairy cow will consume from thirty to forty pounds of ensilage a day. From this data one should be able to calculate the size of silo needed.

Ensilage can ordinarily be grown and put up for $3.00 a ton while in feed value, when properly combined with other materials, it is easily worth six dollars. Outside of the actual nutrients it contains it is of especial value to the dairyman, because it enables him at all times to have green feed. It is of equal value to the beef feeder as it is well known that animals never on flesh as rapidly and as cheaply as when supplied with a certain amount of green succulent feed. Besides proving of value during winter, the Texas feeder find ensilage of inestimable use in helping him tide over the hot, dry summers and falls. While almost any feed material, except those consisting of hollow stems, will make valuable ensilage, there is nothing quite so good and so valuable as corn and the grain sorghums. Ordinarily for each five bushels of corn that a field will yield it will make a ton of ensilage. The corn from a thirty-bushel field would be worth twice as much. So, besides being a means of supplying green food to stock, the silo is also a means of adding very materially to the value of the feed stuff, and also of utilizing the cornstalks that constitute forty per cent of the value of a cornfield, and that are too often lost. Again, it costs less to save ensilage than to save the crop in other form. At the same time a man with a silo is independent of the weather. He can fill his silo while the rain is pouring down. On the other hand, should there be danger of losing his crop from dry weather, he can cut it and place it in the silo and so save it. Corn makes the best ensilage when cut after it is well glazed, but it can be cut at any time during its growth and will still make valuable feed. The farmers of Texas therefore cannot afford to further neglect this means of adding to the value of their feed crops.

NIX LOSES HOME SUNDAY

Gasoline Iron is Responsible for Fire Which Comes Near Proving Fatal.

J. F. Nix was filling his appointment at Happy Union Sunday when his home burned. The blaze consumed everything Mr. Nix had, and came near proving fatal to his fifteen-months-old baby and to his cousin, who rescued the child. Mr. Nix' loss included three gold watches, a good library and all of his own and his wife's clothing except what they wore. He had just put up a new windmill and tank, both of which were destroyed.

The fire boys made a run, but could do little. They had no water. The Nix home was northwest of Wayland College, outside of the water limits. W. H. Box saved a trunk.

Mrs. Nix carried the older child outside and called for her baby. Willie Nix, a cousin of J. F. Nix, dashed into an adjoining room and rescued the child. His arms were badly burned. The child was not seriously injured. —Plainview Herald.

A Perfect Separator Oiling System

In a machine which is operated at the speed required for a cream separator, perfect oiling is very necessary. The new system of De Laval automatic oiling provides for a constant and liberal supply of CLEAN oil to every wearing surface of the machine at all times. There are no oil holes to fill up with dirt or perhaps to be neglected altogether, and every part is supplied with clean oil from the oil reservoir automatically and constantly. In other, so-called, automatic oiling systems some of the parts have to be oiled by hand and no provision is made for getting rid of dirt that may get into the oil from the outside or of small particles of metal which come from wear, so that after a short time the oil supply becomes foul and injurious to the finely adjusted wearing parts.

DE LAVAL Cream Separators

have the only automatic oiling system which provides for a constant supply of fresh oil and, at the same time, the constant discharge of the used oil together with all worn metal particles or dirt which may have gotten into the used oil. The perfect system of De Laval lubrication means an easier running and a much longer wearing machine. Come in and let us explain the advantages of De Laval automatic oiling.
