CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HAS SESSION.

Ten New Members Added to Roster and Much Interest Manifested.

The Chamber of Commerce held a rousing meeting at the First National Bank Monday night. Ten new members were added to the roster, and harmony and enthusiasm prevailed throughout the session.

A Membership Committee consisting of E. P. Thompson, J. R. Fox and Carl McAdams, were appointed with instructions to set 150 members as their mark.

Matters of importance was brought up and discussed, looking to the betterment of the Lockney trade, better roads and new enterprises for the town. Interest in the Chamber of Commerce is growing, and our citizens are alive to the progressive work. At Monday night's meeting some practical work was done when the matter of building a telephone line to Flomot was taken up and pushed to completion. By united efforts enterprises like this can be secured, whereas under the old system of non-organization little or nothing can be done. The Chamber of Commerce is the only live body Lockney has ever had, and great things for the town and country is going to be accomplished.

Monday night at the First National our next meeting will be held, and the Beacon wants to see the lobby of the bank crowded so there won't be standing room. Come out and lend your assistance in making Lockney a bigger town; the country a greater country and all our people happier and a more prosperous people. Be there Monday night.

Will Build Phone Line to Flomot.

At Monday night's meeting of the Lockney Chamber of Commerce, the matter of building a phone line from here to Flomot was taken up. After a few minutes discussion a subscription list was opened and in fifteen minutes $150 was raised. A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. D. C. Lowe, E. P. Thompson, and B. F. Smith was appointed to take the matter in hand and raise the balance needed. The next morning in two hours work enough money was raised by the committee to build the line.

The contract will be let in a few days and the line will be in operation in two weeks the weather permitting.

This is the kind of work the Chamber of Commerce is doing. The citizens of Lockney are now wide awake, and are going to build a greater town and community. Join the Chamber of Commerce.

THE SANTA FE DEMONSTRATION

Large Crowds Attend the Lectures and See the Demonstrations at the Train.

Looking ever for those things which make for progress of the truer, the real type, Lockney's people were present in goodly numbers Wednesday during the stop of the Educational Special, making a missionary tour along the lines of the Santa Fe.

Lockney, whose fame as the "Locust Blossom City," has spread into the hearts of hundreds of people, this and other states, has a yearning for development—substantial development, built upon the prosperity of its farming population. This desire brought men and women from their homes, their stores, their banks, their schools, their offices, as well as their farms and ranches, to hear the lectures, witness the demonstrations, inspect the equipment and acquaint themselves with the party aboard the train.

The train consisted of ten cars and coaches, and these aside from the lecture and business equipment, showed silos and silage equipment, dairy cows and dairying equipment and machinery, poultry and poultry farm and house fixtures, domestic science equipment.

Being introduced by H. M. Bainer, L. L. Johnson talked of the worth of the hen on the farm. While acknowledging that the fancier and the city lot men have given a rare contribution to the farmer, in the form of purebred stock, Mr. Johnson stated that it is to the farm that the world has looked and must continue to look for its supply of meat and eggs. Housing, breeding, feeding, marketing of meat and eggs were also given attention.

H. M. Bainer spoke briefly on better farming, during which he described the prevalent practice of spreading limited labor over a vast area. In contradistinction to extensive farming and with recommendations, he sets forth the benefits of diversification, rotation and intensification, saying that better results are assured if there be a concentration of efforts on a smaller tract. Seed selection, seed bed preparation, seeding and cultivation had their inning during the address. Mr. Bainer continued, touching just briefly the harvesting and marketing of the crop.

Dairying and silos represented the theme of the blended address of J. T. Tinsley. Mr. Tinsley (Continued on Page 8)

Decision of Courts Against Elbert Muncy.

In the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin Wednesday the court remanded Elbert Muncy to the custody of the sheriff of Floyd county, which means that the boy must testify. Mrs. Muncy, who, with Horace Peters, is charged with the murder of her husband in Lockney last May. It will be remembered that Elbert 12 years old upon the advice of lawyers for the defense, refused to testify in the habeas Corpus hearing of his mother at Floydada in August, whereupon Judge Kinder adjudged him in contempt of court and ordered him sent to jail until he would testify. An appeal was taken and the boy was released on bond. When the Muncy and Peters cases come on for trial under a change of venue, the state had them continued until the January term, in order to let the higher court pass upon the boy's appeal, so as to use his testimony. It is now presumed that the cases will be tried in January. Mrs. Muncy and Peters are at liberty under bond.

Dallas Seed Houses Get Speltz Here.

Dallas Seed Houses recognize Floyd county as a good place to find good seed. This was proven last week. Geo. Probasco, of east of town raised 500 bushels of speltz on his farm and recently sold 200 bushels to the Barkmeyer Grain & Elevator Co., for seed, securing 60 cents per 40 lb. bushel, and the elevator company last Saturday shipped the grain to Dallas Seed houses who will ship it next spring to all sections of the state.

In speaking of this Speltz Mr. Barkmeyer says the grain is unusually fine and well-developed and made up some of the best seed he has ever shipped.

Speltz has proven one of the most prolific crops of the county and is being planted quite generally. —Hesperian.

Local Option Election Petition in Potter.

Bearing signatures of approximately two hundred citizens, a petition asking that a local option election be called will be presented to the County Commissioners Court, which meets this morning at nine o'clock. This petition was filed yesterday afternoon with the County Clerk, and will take its due course before the deciding body.

The petition asks that an election be called to determine whether intoxicating liquors should be sold in Precinct One, Potter County, and the result of such election would effect Amarillo only.

If it is found upon examination of the petition that the requisite number of qualified voters have attached their signatures thereto, an election may be called fifteen to thirty days hence. —Amarillo News.

New Road Established.

The Commissioner's Court in session at Floydada last week appointed two juries of view to view out roads and one half-mile road was declared. This road runs out of Lockney north to the McGehee farm, and is really an extension of Main Street of Lockney north and south.

HALE COUNTY BUYS DRAGS FOR ROADS.

Commissioners Propose To Keep County Highways in First Class Condition.

Six road drags have been added to Hale County's highway equipment. These were purchased last week while Judge W. B. Lewis was in Dallas, and will be in Plainview at once. The county owns sixteen mules, which are divided into two road working squads. One is grading the road between Plainview and Hale Center; the other is working in the southeast part of the county. Much grading has been done, but the Commissioners found it almost impossible to keep roads first-class without dragging.

With the six drags, Hale County will have a first-class road-building and repair outfit. The Commissioners also propose to put all culverts in first-class condition. —Hale County Herald.

The Commissioners Court of Floyd county are favorable to good roads, and in order to carry out plans for better roads they have increased the road tax 5 cents on the $1 valuations.

No greater investment can be made than to invest in good roads, and the time is coming when Floyd county is going to require the investment of a great deal of money in roads if the county keeps pace with the development. Whenever condition will justify same, the Beacon will favor a bond issue for this purpose.

OUR AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS CROSS OCEAN TO REACH FACTORY.

Each Consumer Should Call for Texas-Made Goods.

Texas Farmers Produce $600,000,000 of Raw Factory Material Annually.

The farmers of Texas produce $600,000,000 worth of raw material per annum which must pass through the factory before it is consumed, and $100,000,000 is the raw material capacity of the Texas factories. The balance must journey to the foreign factory and a large per cent of our agricultural products cross the ocean to reach it. These statistics present a startling necessity for more factories and in defense of our growing country we must have them, but many of the factories we now have are compelled to seek out-of-state markets for their output and a few have had to shut down for want of a market.

Every consumer is a market-maker and can become a powerful factor in building up the manufacturing industry in Texas by calling for Texas-made goods. If we would patronize home factories, it would call for an investment of $500,000,000 in the manufacturing industry, give employment to 400,000 people and provide a home market for the products of the farm, ranch and mine.

The federal census reports show 4,588 manufacturing establishments in Texas. The capital invested is $216,876,000, there are 84,575 employes engaged in the business; the factory value of the annual output is $272,896,000 and the value added to the raw material by manufacturing is listed at $94,717,000. The four leading industries in the order of the value of their annual output are:

Slaughtering and meat packing, $42,530,000; flour and grist milling, $32,485,000; lumber and timber products, $32,201,000; cottonseed oil and cakes, $29,916,000.

During the past five years we show an increase in establishments of 1,430; in capital invested an increase of $101,211,000 and an increase in employes of 26,683.

CROWNING A KING

The Leaders of All Ruling Families in the Animal Kingdom Will Witness the Coronation at Ft. Worth, Nov. 22-28.

The lovers of achievement will find the conquests demonstrated by the livestock on exhibition at the Ft. Worth Stock Show, November 22-28 the most thrilling event on the year's calendar. The contests will be of the highest order of entertainment and the greatest educational value to all thinking people.

Texas steers with enough royal blood in their veins to crown a king will make their annual pilgrimage to the Ft. Worth Fat Stock Show, where they will be registered, entered, weighed and exhibited, and the best of their number will be crowned king of the plains. Royal personages of the Houses of Aberdeen, Hereford, Shorthorn, Jersey, Angus and all other approved breeds will be present and contest for the crown.

In the swine department the leading members of the ruling families will be on exhibition and demonstrate their marvelous powers as revenue producers. In the sheep pens will be found registered Axfords Downs and Rambouillets and all the substantial breeds.

Horses, decorated by trophies won in contests of merit at home and abroad, and whose names are household words on two continents, will parade around the arena.

In the poultry department there will be hens that have broken world records for egg laying, and roosters that can boast of royal lineage. It will be one of the most complete exhibits on the ground.

There will be 250 premiums, approximating $25,000 in cash prizes, awarded during the meeting and solid silver cups, large enough for a churn will supplement the regular premium list. Each prize will recognize a point of merit attained by the contestants, which, in many instances, will have twenty generations of careful breeding behind it; the achievements the premiums emphasize will represent years of scientific study and tireless experiments and months of diligent feeding.

No member of the animal kingdom can hope to attain a higher honor in life than to carry off a blue ribbon at the Fat Stock Show. It gives them class and standing in livestock society throughout the world; a heritage to their families, and an uplift to animal kind.

Allison Law Became Effective This Week.

The federal statute to prohibit the shipment of liquor into dry districts, known as the Allison Liquor Law, went into effect Tuesday, the 18th. Under this new law, liquor cannot be shipped into a prohibition district, neither can be carried in grips. The only way you can now get booze is to go after it and bring it back in your hands. The law carries strong penalties and makes it a felony to violate its provision.

This new law will make prohibition prohibit, for none will take the chance in violating the law. About the only way a man can get a drink now is to go after it and bring it back under his belt.

"Have attended all sessions of this, the greatest convention for moral reform ever assembled. All churches, creeds and tongues are united for the overthrow of their most dangerous enemy, the liquor traffic in our government. The work here has been great and the results for good beyond the power of description."--Plainview Herald.

For Assessor.

In other column will be found the announcement of Robt. E. Jones, candidate for Tax Assessor of Floyd county, subject to the action of the democratic primaries in July, 1914. Mr. Jones has been a resident of Floyd county seven years, and at one time identified with the business interest of Lockney as salesman for Griffith Bros., and is therefore no stranger in these parts.

Mr. Jones is a clean, upright citizen, and possesses splendid qualifications to serve the people in the capacity of assessor. While comparatively a young man, he has had a great deal of experience in a general way that qualifies him for the position to which he aspires.

If elected he promises the taxpayers a square deal, and will work for what he conceives to be the best interest of all our people.

We cheerfully recommend his candidacy for your most favorable consideration.

W. N. Kelly, the Eldorado sheepman, went from the fair a happy, contented exhibitor. He has been in the sheep business these 24 years, 20 of which have been devoted to the raising of fine rams of the Dickinson Delaine breed, and is the only breeder of this strain in Texas. To this, the first fair in which he ever exhibited his stock, he brought five ewes and as many bucks and these won sweepstakes over every thing in the Delaine class. Mr. Kelly has read the Standard these many years, paid his taxes, votes early and as often as the law allows, and swears by the San Angelo fair.—Standard.

Feeding Ensilage in Lockney Country.

Messrs. Arthur Byars and Wm. McGee are both feeding a bunch of cattle at their silos. The principal feed is ensilage put up on their places the past summer. They are feeding for other parties.

They both sold their ensilage for a good price, which brought them three times as much as dry feed. Both are coming out to the good on their silos. Mr. Byars will clear a thousand dollars on his feed crop, and as Mr. McGehee sold a little later and got a better price he is going to do better.

Notice.

We, the undersigned, agree on account winter coming and days getting shorter, to move our time up from six o'clock to five o'clock in the evening. No orders taken after 5 o'clock will be delivered until next morning. No orders taken after 11 o'clock in the morning will be delivered till in the afternoon. This going into effect Monday, Nov. 24, 1913.

The above is worthy of your consideration. When bad weather comes it is not right to have our deliverymen out in the cold delivering your groceries until after dark while you are setting around a warm fire. Let's be considerate of all men, and make their daily grind as easy as possible. Remember, the grocery man is human, and that he loves his warm supper and his cheerful hearth as well as you do. There is now in progress a general strike on all Southern Pacific lines. Traffic on these lines from El Paso to New Orleans are tied up. The road and employees can't agree.

Lockney is entering a new epoch. The Chamber of Commerce held its second meeting Monday night, and the enthusiasm manifested at this meeting is proof that our business men are beginning town building in the proper manner.

Mexican President Huerta makes statement that he will continue his policy of pacification, which means that he will ignore Uncle Sam's instructions for him to resign. Its our Uncle Samuel's next move on the checker board.

Abilene Citizens sends a petition of 500 signatures to the Attorney General, asking him to dismiss the Katy suit. Like petitions have gone up from all sections of West Texas. The Katy will do some road building in West Texas if this suit is dismissed, hence the interest manifested by the western people. Lockney is vitally interested in the matter, as the Altus will be completed when the Katy again takes up the extension of its lines.

Eleventh Candidate for Governor.

Hon. James E. Furguson, of Temple, banker, lawyer and farmer, is the eleventh aspirant for governor of Texas. Mr. Furguson has promulgated an unique platform, and one full of wisdom and advice. In the out set he proposes, if elected governor, to give the people a business man's administration. He proposes to veto all measures bearing on the prohibition question and give the people a rest from the strife that has been engendered in Texas over this question.

Mr. Furguson touches upon the tenant and landlord, and favors the enactment of a law that will make it unlawful for a landlord to collect more than the fourth of cotton and third of grain crops as rent. He offers in his platform many sensible suggestions, which is bound to meet with the approval of Texas people. As to his suggestions on the prohibition question, we believe he has sounded the key note. There has been more demagogues elected to office in Texas on the prohibition question than any one issue. It has been made to overshadow other questions, and as a result men of small capacity have been elected to office. Texas needs a sensible business man in the executive chair, who is neither a partisan for or against prohibition, and who can pull Texas out of bankruptcy.

The writer knows James E. Furguson personally. We were raised on adjoining farms in Bell county, and he has been brought up in the school of hard knocks, and has accumulated an independence through his own efforts.

The Texas democrats are going to hear more of this Bell county boy, and when he takes the stump he is likely to prove the Moses that will lead the host of Texas democrats out of the political wilderness it has drifted into.

Crosby County Woman Drugged and Ravished

The Crosbyton Review gives the statement of Mrs. G. D. Williams, who was drugged and assaulted last week by a tramp, as follows:

"It was some time after three o'clock, and I had just finished churning, all my family were in the field at work, and Mr. Smith's family had just left home for town, leaving me alone. I had made preparations to go out to the hay stack to fill some mattresses but sit down to rest a few minutes, when I picked up a copy of the Sovereign Visitor, and was reading some poetry, when I was attracted by some noise at the front door, at first I paid but little attention, as I was interested in what I was reading, but hearing the noise again I turned and as I turned the man was coming through the front doorway and was about twelve feet from me. I asked him what he wanted, but he made no reply, I asked him the second time what he wanted and he replied, 'damn you I will show you,' all the time he was advancing very slowly. I grabbed the stove hook and threw it at him, he kept coming and I threw a bottle at him, he kept coming, I grabbed for the spade and he caught me, I screamed and he said: 'If you hollow I will kill you.' He took a bottle from his pocket and held me and said: 'Drink this.' I told him I would not do it. He said drink this or I will kill you. I took the medicine in my mouth, but did not swallow it when he said, 'take this or I will kill you.' I swallowed it and in a half minute, I guess, I fainted and became unconscious and never recovered consciousness until my husband and children were around me at six o'clock, all crying and taking on. I do not know what he done after I took the medicine, I knew nothing after that.

"He was a roughly dressed man, rather medium size, wore a brown looking coat and had the appearance of a tramp, spoke a little broken and resembled a Mexican to some extent.

"The only bruises I sustained was on the side where he threw me against the table when he first caught me. I have been very nervous since I was aroused from my unconsciousness."

Wonderful!

The New, 1913 Saginaw With the Patented Angle Steel Rib

Last season's Saginaw Silo was pronounced utterly perfect by dairymen and stockmen all over the country. For 1913 it was wholly unnecessary to attempt improvement. Yet, despite this, we came out with this 1913 Model. The big feature of the 1913 is the ANGLE STEEL RIB. This ingenious invention adds about 50% to the life of a Silo. And that's wonderful, when you consider the Saginaw is already known to be the strongest and most durable Silo ever built.

Doing the "Impossible"

The Angle Steel Rib has done what other Silo makers only a year ago considered impossible. It has given you Dairymen and Stockmen a Silo which the heaviest wind storm can't even SHAKE or TILT. All because the Angle Steel Rib absolutely prevents any up-and-down slipping of the staves. Moreover, this marvelous invention forever cuts the remote possibility of your Silo emptying when empty.

The Angle Steel Rib is a Structural Steel Reinforcement, curved to the curve of the Silo. It is rigidly secured in strong, malleable brackets which are securely attached to alternate staves. Each rib is free to move and adjust itself to any variation in the diameter of the Silo. Built on the same structural principle as the big "I" Beams used in great steel frame buildings. One Rib reinforces the other. Think of what it means to have these trustworthy, unshakable Angle Steel Ribs encircling your Silo! To fully appreciate the patented Angle Steel Rib, you must get our new free Silo Book, which pictures and explains all.

Other Noted Features

The Saginaw was famous first as "The Silo With the All-Steel Stave Frame." Then followed the Saginaw Inner Anchoring Hoop. Next came the celebrated Saginaw Horse Anchor. And now comes the Angle Steel Rib—the most astounding feature of all.

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery. Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Theford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it. I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it. I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me." Theford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest. POLL TAX DECISION MADE Assessors Must Actually Make Assessment in Person to Get Commission.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 11.—The Attorney General's department today held in an opinion to the Comptroller, that Tax Assessors are entitled to a compensation of five cents on each poll tax usually assessed by them, that such assessment must be made in person and the Assessors are not entitled to a compensation for bringing up a list of polltaxes on the unrendered roll. In other words unless a poll tax was actually rendered to the Assessor and actually assessed by him, he is not entitled to compensation. This seriously affects the fees of many assessors.

School Notes.

The general opinion of a child when he enters school is, that he is ignorant. This is an error. His little brain is full of knowledge but it is isolated knowledge. What is necessary is, to correlate these ideas and make a continual chain of them. It is necessary to make use of his previous experiences as a basis for his education.

Everything with which the child comes into contact has a part in his education. The school is the place which can bring the things of the outside world in closer connection with the child. It is not necessary to teach what is found only in the text book. It is much better where outside information is brought in. Much lies between the book and the outside world and the teacher should see that they are connected.

Games in school life arouse an appreciation for rules, fairness and respect for the rights of others. Bring as much social activities into the school room as possible. This should be the medium between instruction and real life.

The child is greatly influenced by environment other than that of school. The influence of home and community must be taken into consideration. He has been surrounded by these environments several years before entering school, this influence continues after he enters school and it depends on what kind this influence is whether he is aided or hindered by it in school.

School is not an institution merely for the preparation for life and for work in the distant future but also for adaptation of the child to childhood itself. We, as teachers, should strive to adapt the child to his own environment as well as fitting him for a citizen of the future.

UNKNOWN HUNTER DEVoured

A dispatch from Santa Fe, New Mexico to the daily press under date of November 6th says:

"The story of how an unidentified trapper was caught in his own trap, in the wilds of Socorro county, and became the prey of wild animals for which the trap was set, is brought here by Charley McCarthy, a ranchman of that county, who was summoned before the United States grand jury which made an investigation of the man's death.

"The trapper had driven in his wagon to which was hitched a team of little mules many miles into the heart of what is said to be the wildest region of New Mexico. It is evident that he was after bear, for his steel trap was one of the largest ever seen in that part of the state. His body was found about a week after he died, with both hands caught between the steel rims at the wrists.

"It is believed that the trapper had finished setting the trap and baiting it and was in the act of leaving it when, by a misstep he stumbled into the mechanism. In falling his hands were caught. He was fifty miles from civilization and in a region seldom entered by men.

"Animals came, attracted by the bait in the trap. They attacked him and there were little more than fragments of it when his body was found."

The Madena dam near San Antonio has been completed. It is one of the propositions of the Pearson Syndicate, which is developing 60,000 acres of land in this country.

The Madena dam cost six million dollars, forms a lake 12 miles long which will hold 60,000 acres of water, enough to furnish irrigation water for five years without any rain. There are 400 miles of irrigation ditches. The proposition includes 60,000 acres of land which will be irrigated. The work of building the dam was begun Nov. 9, 1911. Several new towns have grown up adjacent to the project and land values have skyrocketed.—Plainview News.

sley declared that no farm scheme where success in the form of profitable returns for efforts and money expended, is the desire, is complete without live stock. The primary definition of livestock in the beginning of the address was dairy stock. Later Mr. Tinsley spoke of the advantages of the dual-purpose cow, as opposed to the strict beef or strict dairy types, giving as a reason for this, that animals found unprofitable as milkers, will grow good frames to be used as carriages for meat. The silo was placed on a prominent elevation and viewed by this speaker as the greatest equipment through which to handle feed from the farm.

Miss Amanda Stoltzfus and Miss Frances Lowen were in charge in the domestic science coach, and during the stop here demonstrated the worth of certain cookery from kaffir flour product of this immediate section, illustrating the independence of the great plains country, in the matter of raising feeds and bread-stuffs. The young ladies also talked along the allied and broadened lines of education in a general way, weaving in facts of every-day application to the edification and entertainment of the hearers. The walls of this coach are bedecked with charts, setting forth suggestions, rules and recipes, looking to the end, like the talks and demonstrations, of more efficient administration of the home; with a decreased expenditure of money, time and labor.

Among those aboard the Educational Special at the Lockney stop, were the following:

A Strong Moral.

Those who have failed to visit the Happy Hour are missing some fine pictures. Wednesday night's program was exceptionally good. The two-reel picture entitled "Success," contained a strong moral and every boy and young man in town should have seen it. It pictured two young people a boy and girl struggling in New York for success as a painter and playwright. The young man became famous as a playwright, and neglected his sweetwater and companion in poverty of former days. His success and wealth led him to strong drink and the association of fast women, and as a result he wrecked his fair young life and died in a drunken debauch.

The picture fitly illustrates the Biblical saying, "That the wages of sin is death." The greatest investment for a young man is a clean, sober life. It is better to be contented with poverty, than riches and riotous living.

Go out and see these pictures, it will do you good, and will give you a grander view of life, and a more exalted conception of its duties and responsibilities.

In a difficulty at Kress one day last week Constable Kerr is said to have cut a druggist named Helms with a knife, the wounds not being serious. The trouble was over family matters, and Helms is said to have since left the community.
