If you fail to buy a Liberty Bond, you will not have a part in whipping the Kaiser.

Have you bought a Liberty Bond? Don't wait till the last moment, buy today.

Last week Texas made long strides in the matter of conservation. She gave up her wheat and corn liquor, the first to be devoted to armies of France, and the latter to return to the Devil from whence it sprang. On with the spirit of freedom, freedom from Kaiserism and freedom from the damnable effects of the liquor traffic and rail.

Hoover says there are ninety million bushels of Irish potatoes on hand and should be consumed before the new crop comes in. Get busy and eat these spuds. They must not go to waste and it is up to you and me to do our part of the eating, and thereby save other important foods to be sent over seas.

Fifteen hundred saloons went out of business in Texas when the dry zone law went into effect on the 15th inst. Fifteen hundred worthless business concerns known as dram shops were closed. This is the greatest success for conservation that has taken place in Texas since the war began. The money formerly spent for morning mornings can now be invested in Thrift Stamps and Liberty Bonds.

Congress is debating a measure to try all acts of disloyalty by court marshal. Fine suggestion, and the quicker it is put in force the quicker we will stamp out treason in this country. The federal authorities should handle all cases of treason and disloyalty should be classed as treason. Court marshal by military authorities would make quick work of the slacker and disloyal element of this country.

Hardeman county defeated its good road bonds in the recent bond election in that county. Good roads is a necessity, and as a war measure is indispensable, but the people some time are a little shy when it comes to bonded indebtedness. If Hardeman county people put the amount asked for road bonds in extra Liberty Bonds and Thrift Stamps they can in way justify their action in refusing to build good roads.

The dry zone law is effective in Texas, and no whiskey is sold or shipped into a territory ten miles of any army camp. On June 16th the state at large goes dry under the statutory prohibition law. Texas has longed for this state of affairs and now we are fully abreast of the times when the liquor traffic is done away with. We will have a sober Texas, and a better Texas.

You are urged to buy your next winter's supply of coal during the summer months. If you fail to do so you can not buy any next winter.

The Plainview News suggests that since women have been given equal suffrage in Texas that all the offices be turned over to them and the men get in the army and on the farms. The women can do the work of the office all right if necessary, and in fact any old kind of work within her ability to perform if it becomes necessary. The women is never a slacker, they are by nature true and patriotic.

Exemption boards have been instructed to take by preference gamblers and idlers for the recruits to compose the next draft. The government aims to get rid of all the drones, reasoning that when a man does not work somebody else has to work for him, and the man who will not work for his country will be made to fight, whether he wants to or not. That's fair, isn't it?—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

It has come to the point that the man that eats must work, in other words the drones must be killed and dragged out of the hive. America must intimate the bee, when it kills its drones, etc. This is a time when the loafer is undesirable from any angle you view the situation. A fine solution other than putting them in the ranks would be an industrial draft that would put them on our farms and in our factories. There should be enacted a national vagrancy law with teeth in it.

It is pointed out that the loyalty law enacted by the Legislature of Texas will not meet the results as anticipated. Men indicted under this law tried in State Courts will find it easier to get acquitted than if tried by federal authorities. The system of selection and stacking uries can be resorted to as in all other state court matters and once a disloyal person is turned loose he goes forth and scatters sedition broadcast. They are a dangerous element and federal authorities should attend to them in the shortest possible way. The extreme penalty should be a firing squad.

Will Hobby may not be able to make "his own speeches" as was said last Saturday when the big gun exploded, but he has proven himself mighty handy in placing his "Wm. P." on prohibition bills.—Abernathy Breeze.

It is said that actions speaks louder than words, and in the case of Gov. Hobby it is not necessary for him to go speech making over Texas. His record is a very long and able political speech. He is occupying well fortified trenches, and the opposition will have to go some to route him. These trenches is composed of material taken from his splendid record, and cannot be penetrated. His signature appears on more important laws in Texas than that of any other governor for a half century. Will Hobby will be the next governor by a great big majority.

tatoes and meat. Tea cannot be had at all.

In a financial way, Holland, formerly the banker nation of Europe, has been hard hit. For centuries foreign governments used to sell their bonds to this little country, and it had grown customary among the man of small means to put his savings by preference into Russian bonds. Since the Bolsheviki have repudiated Russia's indebtedness, their country's paper has become worthless, which means bankruptcy to millions of bondholders.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

Our government commands our boys to appear for military duty and they respond. They would be put in prison if they did not. The people asks a man with means to support the Red Cross, he gets mad and gives nothing, or just enough to maintain the respect of the public. He goes free. The boy at the front, possibly sick, sleeps at his post and is shot. When will the people take into hands the man at home who refuses to aid that boy, who probably suffered physically and lost his life in shame because the stingy devil at home would not give out of his abundance?—Randall County News.

A Scotch soldier from the trenches in Belgium and Flanders, speaking before an audience in Dallas a few days ago, remarked: "If a German army should get within five miles of my home, I would take the precaution to kill my wife and daughter, in order to save them from a fate worse than death." A sad commentary on the brutality of Germany, and in this, like hundreds of other testimonials, we are told that the German soldiers do not regard the virtue of their women captives. God forbid that America shall ever undergo the fate of Belgium; it will not be until every American man and youth shall have been sacrificed. America will never submit to German invasion or occupation of this land, no not until American manhood shall all have passed away.

Dear Jess, we have not said a thing about your war garden and if any of those "Envious Editors" at the press meeting, are caught with a cabbage about their person, we will have them pulled for trespassing or make them show a receipt from their groceryman.—Lamb County News.

Let Jess alone. He is gardening, and doing his bit to whip the Kaiser. We guarantee him protection at the Press Meeting from cabbage throwers. We will have the crowd searched at the door, and all cabbage collected and sent to a cookery. We understand that Jess flatly denies the charge that he calls his "war garden" because he has a row with his wife every time he gets her to work same.

Deport Times: Let's keep our disposition sweet, and peace and harmony in the neighborhood, by confining our chickens on our own premises. It is unpatriotic to allow them to scratch up a neighbor's garden.

Every family should raise chickens alongside something to feed them with. No family should raise chickens at any other family's expense. To permit your chickens to prey upon neighbors premises is to prove your a disagreeable and selfish person. If you wish your neighbors to despise you, or if you are sufficiently thick-skinned as to not care whether you are despised or not, you are of the sort who permit such depredations. We must all serve together, said President Wilson, but if you try to raise your chickens in your neighbor's yard you are violating the patriotic shibboleth. You are un-American, for you are unjust—believe in ruthlessness. These judicial words ought to hold you a while.—State Press.

Childress painted one of its business houses yellow and issued a notice for the proprietor to get up and get. The proprietor is alleged to have made remarks about the government in an uncomplimentary manner. During these distressing times it is not healthy for a man to show his Kaiserism.—Lockney Beacon.

Think the wrong procedure is taken in making such men leave their home town, for home people know them and can keep an eye on them, but when they are made to go to strange places where people do not know of them they could do a great deal of damage before apprehended. But what to do with them at home we cannot say unless a strict court-martial.—Lakeview Promoter.

That is indeed a question—how to handle these slackers and traitors. Congress has the matter under consideration and various solutions have been offered, but none adopted. If the people would keep tap on them, and when they change location notify the communities where they drift to of their activities they would be known in advance of their seditious work. However, we are of the opinion that Congress will yet adopt some measure strong enough to reach this class of people who are either in open rebellion against the government or inactive in their support, which bears a similarity. There is no middle ground for a man to occupy, you are either for us or against us.

Some of these "patriotic" citizens who just simply can't eat corn bread are going to have a chance to learn to love it. And we bet when they get hungry enough they can digest it without a grimace.—Taylor County Times.

Patriotism and corn bread make a delightful meal. Patriotism will sharpen the appetite to a razor edge, and corn bread will taste like pound cake. This wheatless business is a small sacrifice compared to what our soldiers in France are under going, or the agonies now being endured by civilization. The man that grumbles at corn bread is shy patriotism and true sympathy for suffering humanity. We count it a blessed privilege that we are permitted to thus serve mankind in denying our stomachs a few of the luxuries it has been accustomed to.

Bud Gaitner returned Sunday from a ten days sojourn in Wichita Falls. Bud said he saw "ten thousand drunk men" while he was there.—Motley County News.

That was some drunks, and must have represented ten thousand mourners at the parting of their friend, J. B. Corn. Ten thousand men drunk at one time must have been a sight. But these drunks and the stuff they got drunk on has been dealt more blows than the allies have struck the Huns, and they have struck them some blows. We have seen the liquor demon in Texas driven to his last trenches, and there slaughtered like Sir Douglas Haig slew the followers of Hidenburg. No wonder ten thousand got drunk at one time in Whiskeytown, for they knew from henceforth it would be a long time between drinks. Texas is practically dry, and after June 27th, the last drop of this vile poison will be driven from the confines of the state. We thank God that such is the case.

Every time the Americans give a chance at the Huns they give them what the Irishman gave the wild cat. Give it to them Sammies.—Stamford Leader.

The Germans have concluded ere this that they have stirred up a whole nest of wild cats of the American kind. Every time our boys have mixed up with the Huns they have whipped them to a standstill and then some for standing so well. America will strike the final blow for human liberties. It will be those that march under the Stars and Stripes that will deal the Kaiser his death blow. On with the battle, and may Uncle Sam's sons kill more Germans than can be enumerated.

A WHOLE NATION STARVING

A letter from Holland received last week describes conditions in that country as deplorable, and that every body there is underfed. Food is getting scarcer all the time, and of poor quality, while the reasons measured out to every citizen by the government are becoming smaller. Bread is poor and of little nutrition, besides it tastes badly, and is often fatal to dyspeptics. Prospects are that the end of May Holland will be wholly out of bread, p-

The state campaign in Texas this year is going to be a fizzle as a thriller. With the liquor question taken out of politics, and everybody giving their thoughts to the war and raising bumper crops the candidates are going to have a hard time in getting the people interested in their race for office. The gubernatorial campaign will be the punkest in the history of Texas. Hobby has everything his way and will undoubtedly be elected in a walk. He has the endorsement of Secretary McAdoo, the prohibition forces and most all prominent anti-liquor industry.—Plainview News.

Politicians will not be able to get up much steam this year. Gov. Bill Hobby has taken the liquor question out of politics, and there is precious little for the politicians to talk about. The people haven't time to talk politics now any way, they are after whipping the Kaiser, and all matters are of a secondary consideration. About the only politics we hear of is over about Abilene. The people seemed to have made it unanimous for Gov. Hobby except poor little Abilene, and if she could get that A. & M. matter out of her craw she too would come across. That A. & M. hook sticks tight, want either go up or down, just hangs in the Abilene vitals as a disturbing substance.

Up to last Thursday Donley county had subscribed about half of her $189,000 quota of the Third Liberty Bond.

Information comes from the border country of unrest and mobilization of Mexican troops near Texas border. El Paso dispatches tell of trenches being dug, and other wise hostile attitude towards this government. It is believed that German propagandist at the bottom of the unrest in Mexico and her war-like preparation. The United States have taken all the monkey business off of Mexico she is going to, and if it becomes known that Germany has a hand in these preparations, an explanation will be asked of Carranza, and unless satisfactory proof can be given that the matter is not unfriendly to this country, we look for this government to take the initiative, and put stop to Mexico's preparation. In other words, if Mexico wants a scrap she can get it. One thing certain, the Kaiser must stay out of Mexico, and quit meddling with Mexican affairs.

Miss Ruth Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Harrison of Plainview, and a student of the school at Canyon, won $50 prize in the state inter-collegiate declamation held at Belton last week and she has invested her $50 in a Liberty Bond.

The finance committee of the Randall County Red Cross Chapter asked the good people of Randall county for $10,000 to keep the local work room going for the year 1918. The people of Randall county replied: "We want to give more. Here is $15,000 for the good women to use for our boys."

DELIVERING THE PRO VOTE

The recent interviews of Col. House and Deacon M. H. Wolfe are being used to try to deliver the prohibition vote of the State to Governor Hobby. It may succeed. Frequent rumors of a trade between prohibition leaders and the Governor may not be without foundation. If such interviews as the one mentioned above are continually furnished to the press of the State it will look as if the Governor is being prepared to deliver the State to the prohibitionists. It is a man's right to think well of a candidate and give him his unqualified support. But an effort to use leadership to herd the multitude into the ranks of a given candidate is indefensible.

The Governor is to be praised for what he has done, but so long as he tries to occupy a double position and run with both hare and hounds, there is plenty of people that will not give him support.—Western Evangelist. Well said. If anybody assumed to trade with Mr. Hobby, and to 'deliver to him the pro vote' in return for his attitude or act at any point or on the censure of all good men. When the question of public duty is considered either by an officer or citizen, in approaching an officer as to his public duty and acts, in the light of personal political fortunes the whole matter is dragged down into the mire. For the Anti-Saloon League of Texas let this frank word be said: The Anti-Saloon League used its best endeavors and all its influence to get Mr. Hobby to call the Legislature and to submit anti-liquor legislation. In fact, the first day he was regularly in office the Superintendent had full conference with him and secured from him the definite promise that if the Legislature was called he would submit the question. Later the Superintendent and members of the Executive Committee had full conference with him, urging him to carry out the Anti-Saloon League's program, which was done substantially. But there was no "trading" and no suggestion of a trade. In every instance of approach it was frankly stated that we would not discuss and were not thinking of Mr. Hobby's political fortunes and future, nor the political fortunes and future of any other man; that we as citizens of Texas came to him as Governor of Texas, asking him to do what we knew and what he knew the people of Texas wanted him to do. The only question Mr. Hobby had any right to consider was the question of public duty. If anybody asked him to consider other questions or promised him political reward for doing his public duty it was a reflection upon both his intelligence and his moral character. A Governor ought to drive a man out of his office or have him arrested for offering a political bribe as quickly as he would for offering a money bribe. A Governor has as much right to administer his office for personal financial gain as for personal political gain. Failure to discriminate at this point has meant much corruption. This, of course, does not affect in any way right of petition nor the right of reward for the public servant who regards the will of the people and administers his trust honestly and faithfully.—Home and State.

WHY AMERICA FIGHTS GERMANY

America is a peaceable nation. We believe in the principle of "live and let live." We respect other nations rights, wish them prosperity, and envy them nothing. We have vast territory and undeveloped resources, enough to occupy our minds and hands for generations without meddling with other people's concerns. We believe that the peace and happiness of mankind will be promoted by self-government for all, by allowing the population of each civilized country to govern itself. Through almost our whole history we have stood for democracy and peace. We have protected China from robbery and war on the part of more greedy nations, and have stood the strongest friend of the new Chinese republic. In 1896 we stood the friend of Venezuela in her controversy with Great Britain, and prevented war. For years we have even allowed our own citizens to be wronged in Mexico rather than make war on our neighbor republic. Consequently, we are now trusted as the big brother of all the republics in the New World. When we departed from our peaceful policy in 1898, and made war on Spain, it was in order to stop intolerable oppression at our very door, in Cuba, and took the Philippine Islands in order to save them from falling to some less disinterested nation, and in order to educate them for independence later. Thus we have always worked for peace, and for justice to all which is the only sure way to maintain peace. Well, then, why do we enter the Great European War? Why was it our affair? If we love peace, why do we make war? Did we drift in without knowing what we were doing, did we get in by some kind of "fluke"? We are in the war because we had to go in unless we were entirely blind to our honor and safety, and to the future

ASLEE ON POST—SHOT

One of the speakers at the meeting of the State Council of Defense to the editors of Illinois held in Chicago a few days ago, was a woman editor, Mrs. Virginia Barlow LeRoy of the Streator Independent Times. Among other things she said: "My two boys have marched away, my third is going," she said, while her hearers wildly cheered. "When the boys come marching home, I want to be able to say with head up, 'My boys, I gave the limit.' If one of my boys went to sleep, tired out from strain while walking post in France, he would be shot. How about these people at home, sleeping and snoring at their posts while we are giving our flesh and blood? When are they going to be shot?"—Yates City, (Ill.) Banner.

NATION SEIZES WOOLEN MILLS

Washington, April 5.—All woolen mills in the country were directed by the War Department today to hold their looms at the service of the Government from now until July 1 in order to insure adequate supplies of cloth for uniforms.

Manufacturers of civilian clothing who get any of the output of the mill will do so under special Government permits.

Notices were sent to the mills by acting Quartermaster-General Goethals. It was officially stated that the department now sees its way to fully clothe all men called to the colors.

No comment was available as to the amounts of cloth the Government may release to private manufacturers or as to the probable effect of the commandeering order upon the trade.

Boston, April 5.—Trading in wool here was stopped today by vote of the trade. All the unsold stock was placed at the disposal of the Government at prevailing values.

Albert W. Elliott, representing the War Department, attended a meeting of dealers and told of the urgent need of the Government for more wool, the demand having grown much faster than had been anticipated.

The raising of uniform specifications from sixteen ounces to twenty ounce goods and recent developments regarding the army are two leading factors in the present demand.

The dealers voted unanimously to help out in the emergency and ordered an immediate inventory of all unsold stocks. The details will be arranged by the Boston Wool Trade Association.

TEN FLOYD COUNTY BOYS LEAVE TOMORROW FOR ARMY

The first of four calls to take place within the next thirty days will be tomorrow, when ten of Floyd county boys will leave for training camp to take up their duties for Uncle Sam. The next call will be April 30th, May 5th and the last a little later. In all four calls Floyd county's quota is 96, and go to make up Texas' part of the national army of 1918, which will be 40,000. This 96 will go from Class 1, and while we have not the exact figures as to the number in this class, but are of the opinion that it will take a large portion of same to fill these calls. Each county's quota is now being made on population, and the contemplated change based on Class One, that Congress has had under consideration, has not taken place.

Following are the names of the boys that will leave tomorrow, with the exception of one, whose claims

DIVISION PUBLICITY OFFICE 90th DIVISION, CAMP TRAVIS

Something of the sort of stock the boys at Camp Travis come from can be found in a letter which was received by the commanding officer of the company in which the son of the man who wrote the letter has just died. The young man had made a soldier of himself and was ready for service in the cause of his country; resolved to give up his life if need be in the travail of battle, his end came quietly in his bunk at night and without pain. And this is the letter his father wrote:

"Captain of Headquarters Company Infantry, and other officers and comrades of my deceased son:

"Gentlemen: I wish to express my heartfelt thanks and gratitude for your kindness to my boy during his stay in the camp. He told me when he was at home on furlough that his officers were the best men in the world. _____, who accompanied the remains home, said you men were as good to George as you would have been to a brother. That's the true American spirit—keep it up, gentlemen. Treat all the boys so their fathers will be proud of you as I am.

"I also wish to thank the undertaking department for the nice manner in which my boy's body was sent home. I could not have surpassed it myself. His relatives and friends wish to express their gratitude and thanks to you.

"Again thanking you, I am, yours truly."

Announcement is made that the chapter of the San Antonio Colonial Dames has extended the hospitality of their homes to visiting sons or relatives of Colonial Dames elsewhere when visiting Camp Travis. This has been done out of a desire on the part of the ladies concerned to make more pleasant the stay in the city of those who come to see kindred among the soldier boys. The most prominent families of San Antonio are represented on the list. Among others who have given their names for this purpose are Mesdames J. E. Jarrett, J. M. Dennett, William Neelev, Harry Hyman, J. H. Frost, F. M. Hicks and A. W. Houston; the Hostess House, Camp Travis, can supply addresses to those interested.

Flies are losing popularity at Camp Travis at a rapid rate. Detailed instructions for the setting up and management of traps have been issued. And instructions in the army are not like the "advice" to be seen in the health columns of the daily papers.

In the army instructions are followed. And the instructions are specific about such things as the best places to put the traps, the best bait for the traps, and the best way to dispose of the "catch." The care with which the grounds about the camp are kept free from rubbish or decaying matter of any sort also tend to make the environment uninviting to the fly. Without lessening the attention paid to grenades, machine guns, squads, trench construction and the like, the army has found time to make war scientifically on the fly, and from all appearances his days are numbered at Camp Travis.

THE BIGGEST OF ALL GAMBLES

The Muskogee Times-Democrat is right in a recent editorial when it says:

"The biggest gambling game in the country is not in Wall street or the Chicago pit. The biggest gambling game is farming and it goes on night and day, the year 'round, with more and greater odds against the latter than has any other game.

"The farmer bets his time, money, labor and life against the weather, insect pests, trusts and storage sharks and, if he wins against those odds, he very likely, must overcome railroad blockades, or rate pools.

"But, unless the farmer risks these odds, gambles with the cards always being shuffled and dealt by somebody else, everything stops. Government cannot go on. No such important governmental business as war can go on.

"This being true, it follows that the country's greatest concern should be that the farmer win his bet. Government should see to it that he has money on easy terms, seed in plenty and the necessary tools, especially tractors and other devices for producing much at the minimum outlay of labor.

"During the past year our whole country was stirred to the duty of producing foodstuffs. Millions of people became actual producers who had never before produced enough to keep a chicken in good condition. The total was something remarkable, but we've got to do better the coming season, and we will.

"But, while we farmer gamblers won, in the past year, against the natural odds, there was on odd that prevailed against us, to a sad, discourag-

WHAT THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE OF TEXAS HAS DONE

By the operation of the ten-mile zone law, which went into effect today, the saloons and wholesale liquor houses of Fort Worth, Houston, Elveston, San Antonio, El Paso, Wichita Falls, Beaumont, and other cities of this state, about 1,500 in number, are automatically closed.

Eleven hundred saloons will be affected by the Statutory State-Wide Prohibition Law, which becomes effective June 27.

The Anti-Saloon League of Texas was organized in 1906. Dr. B. F. Riley was the first Superintendent. At the time of organization there were approximately half a dozen "dry" counties in the entire State. By the fall of 1909 the number had increased to fifty. There are now 198 "dry" counties in Texas with only ten counties wholly "wet" and forty-four averaging only 33 1-3 per cent of their territory "wet." Rockwall is the pioneer "dry" county of Texas. The total increase in number of "dry" counties in Texas since organization of the Anti-Saloon League is 192.—Home & State.
