LET'S BUILD A PARK AND PLAY GROUND

WHY NOT HAVE A GOOD PARK AND CHILDREN'S PLAY GROUND IN LOCKNEY?

Lockney, like many other towns of the Plains country, has no place for the people to take an outing or for the children's to play. When people want to go on a picnic, or take a few hours outing, they have to drive many miles hunting for a place with a shade sufficient to make a small camp under, be ordered off the premises by the land owners, threatened with arrest, and are forced to take their outings on the public roads, are by the side of small muddy streams in the hot broiling sun where there is neither shade nor pleasure. Why not build us a place of our own, where all of our citizens could go at any time they so desired and could take an evening's rest, have a picnic or frolic, without being molested by urgent landlords, that opposed their premises being used as public property.

The editor has studied out a scheme, which is subject to amendment, by which Lockney can have a first class park and children's play ground, at practically the expense the citizenship is out for the gasoline they use in making excursions over the country trying to find a spot where the can have a few hours recreation or picnic. We propose to start a subscription list among the citizens of Lockney and the people living about the town, let each person donate to the park fund what ever amount they so desire, and raise a fund sufficient to buy about ten acres of ground, when the ground is purchased park will be laid out and trees planted in a sufficient quantity to have shade that will cover the entire park within three or four years. The property when bought will be deeded to the City of Lockney, with a provision that it can never be sold or bartered in any way, but shall be used for a park for all years to come. The city will be asked to pipe water to the park site and furnish water for the caring of the grass and trees at all times free of any cost to the public. Subscriptions will be received in any amount, and the money placed in one of Lockney's banks, and when a sufficient amount is raised to purchase a ten acre block of land for the park, a committee will be formed, composed of a member of the Chamber of Commerce, City Council, Mothers' Club, and a member from each of the churches, and lodges of the city to select this park location and purchase same from the owners, having them deed the property to the city in the above named manner. When the site has been brought, every person desiring to will be given the right to plant one or more trees on the premises, and provision will be made for a caretaker and planting of grass, and the addition of anything the committee, which will be under the direction of the above named organizations, see fit, such as pavilions, swimming pools, etc.

Lockney needs a place of recreation very badly, the people must have a place where they can go with their children and friends and spend a few hours occasionally, people want to get out of their own houses and find some place where they can eat, drink, play, and be merry, and such a place should be provided in every town in the country. A place should be provided where the young folks can meet and spend an enjoyable hour or so at any time they desire, and not have to drive for miles and miles hunting for a place where they can spend a few hours outing, and in this way Lockney can have a place where everybody can go and enjoy themselves when ever they want to.

Beginning in the next issue of the Beacon, and each week thereafter we are going to publish the name of contributors to the City Park and Children's Play Ground Fund, and we expect to within the next ninety days have a fund large enough to announce the purchase of a ten acre block of land, so that tree can be planted on the plat in November and get a good start in growth when the spring comes on.

As we stated before, donations of all sizes will be received, and shows, and various kind of entertainments and suppers will be asked to give us special percentages to help this good cause along. Let's start the ball to rolling in next week's Beacon by giving a good donation toward the park

HARLEY SADLER HERE ALL NEXT WEEK

West Texas' Own Show Company Will Spend Week in Lockney Entertaining the People

Harley Sadler and his own company of players will pitch their mammoth tent on the lots just east of the Woolridge Lumber Company next Monday for a weeks' entertainment program.

Harley needs no introduction to the people of Lockney and the surrounding country, as each year they make the town they make more friends and admirers. Mr. Sadler states that he is coming to Lockney this year with new plays, better music, better scenery, and a better company of before, and expects to give the employers, if it is possible, than ever entertaining loving people of Lockney one full week of the highest class entertainment that they have ever had.

The opening play Monday night, August 16th, "Other People's Business" a Cappy Ricks story, and one of those plays filled with a line of comedy that will keep the tent in an uproar from the time the first curtain until the last curtain falls. Mr. A. C. Hefner and Mrs. Ethel Snow are again with Mr. Sadler this season, and these two actors in connection with Mr. and Mrs. Sadler assure the people of a good show at every performance.

Mr. Sadler also has a number of high class vaudeville stars with his company again this year, and also his famous Cowboy Band and Orchestra.

OZARK FILLING STATION CHANGES HANDS

Frank Dunn of Floydada Buys Bates and Graves out—Will be in Charge of Station in Future

Mr. Frank Dunn has purchased the Ozark Filling Station from Messrs. Bates and Graves, and is now in charge of the station. Mr. Dunn comes to Lockney from Floydada and will personally have charge of the station in the future.

Mr. Dunn states that he will add a battery recharging and repairing service to the station, and will be better prepared to give service to the auto owners and the traveling public.

BEST NEWS OF THE SEASON—RAIN

GOOD RAIN NOW FALLING OVER LOCKNEY COUNTRY MEANS BIG CROPS THIS FALL

The best news of the season, yes even better than if we were to say the Denver had been granted a permit to build, is the privilege of saying and telling the truth, that a good rain is falling in Lockney as we go to press Thursday afternoon. The clouds gathered slow, and it is our belief that this rain is covering a large section of the Plains country. Here in Lockney the rainfall is very heavy, an such a good rain at this time means many tons of maize to this section. The feed crop had begun to suffer for moisture, and in spots it was burning some, but the rain at this time will save every stalk of feed stiff, and make the heads heavy and firm.

Of what benefit this rain will be to cotton we cannot say, cotton was well loaded with bolls before the rain and was full of squares and blooms, and there is plenty of time for cotton to put on more bolls, and time for the bolls to mature before frost, and it may prove to be as great for the cotton crop as it is for the feed crop.

This section is going to be in fine shape this fall. We harvested a good wheat crop this year, and now we are sure of one of the best feed and cotton crops ever raised on the Plains.

M. G. Brotherton of Kerke, and E. L. Brotherton of Greenville, are here visiting their mother, Mrs. Brotherton, and their brother and sister.

and play ground fund. No one will be allowed to get one cent of the money collected for any solicitations or advertising expenses, and every cent collected will be deposited in the bank to be paid out for the land and the improvements placed thereon. See that your name appears among the first list of donors to this good cause.

A LEAK IN THE DAM

WILL ORGANIZE TO ADVERTISE COUNTRY

S FULL COUNTRIES AND PARTS OF TWO OTHER WILL ORGANIZE EXTENSIVE CAMPAIGN

In response to an invitation to attend a banquet at the Ware Hotel of Plainview, Monday night under the auspices of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce and the Board of City Development, Messrs. Carl McAdams, A. B. Brown, and H. B. Adams drove to Plainview late Monday afternoon where they met with delegations from Hale, Crosby, Swisher, Deaf Smith, Lamb, Castro, Bailey, Farmer, Briscoe and Floyd counties. Representative business men were present from the above named counties, with the exception of Briscoe and Farmer counties, and after a delicious Banquet was served the purposes of the meeting were then brought before the delegations.

With E. B. Miller of Plainview as toastmaster, the purpose of the meeting was outlined, and representatives from each town in the district responded with snappy talks which were favorable to the organizing of an organization to perfect and carry out the proposition laid before them.

The purpose of the meeting was as follows: Due to the fact that the above named counties are situated in what is called the "Shallow Water Belt" of the Plains, and that there has never been heretofore a concerted effort on the part of the Shallow Water Belt as a whole to place before the world the many advantages that this section has over any other section in Texas as a diversified farming country, the membership of the Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce saw fit to call in the representatives from the various counties in the Shallow Water Belt and devise some plan for a concerted action for the proper advertising of this section and to aid in a better farming program for those who are now farming on the Plains.

Due to the fact that California and Florida, and even the Rio Grande Valley, have their round with the inflow of immigration, and that neither of these places have measured up to what the real farmer has desired in the way of a productive area without natural hindrances, and due to the fact that today the whole United States is turning her eyes upon West Texas and most especially the shallow water belt as being that section of the country where the pursuit of agriculture can be profitably carried on without the natural hindrance. It is believed by those who conceived the idea of this organization that through the co-operation of the eight counties and parts of two other counties, that constitute the Shallow Water Belt of the Plains, that this section could better put their propaganda before the world, than could be done by local chamber of commerce in each town or community, or even the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, however, this organization would be an auxiliary of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and while working with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for West Texas as a whole, we would be able to look out for our own interests better, and get a better and more efficient return for our efforts in the way of results for this particular section—the Shallow Water Belt of the Plains.

The two main objects of the organization would be first to induce the present farmers of the district to carry on a more diversified farming program, and to bring out the idea of the farmer raising the things on the farms that he needs for home use and home markets, and to get away from the one crop idea. The securing of better marketing and better transportation facilities for the products raise in the Shallow Water Belt, and a closer relation and a better understanding between the farmers and business men of this section to the end that the country may be properly developed and the citizenship become more independent in their livings and more contented in their surroundings. Second: It will be the purpose of the organization to put on a program of advertising that will let the people of the outside world know just what this country will produce and give them the facts concerning every crop that is raised on the Plains, and just what industrious farmers may expect in the way of returns for their efforts in this section, and to induce the tide of immigration to come to the Plains country, cutting the large farms into smaller ones, building up the country building up larger and better towns and would mean more and better markets and a general development of all business and manufacturing industries.

Board of directors or executive committee will be chosen, one from every community in each county in the entire district. The communities of each of these counties have been asked to select their member of the executive committee at once, and the first meeting of the board will be held in the City auditorium at Plainview, next Thursday afternoon, August 19 at 2 o'clock, at which time plans will be submitted to perfect the organization and take steps to begin work in the matter.

This one of the largest, if not the largest, propositions that has ever been undertaken in West Texas, and merits that if it is successfully inaugurated and conducted that it will be worth as much to the Shallow Water Belt of the Plains as has been the efforts of the organizations that have handled the Florida, California and the Rio Grande Valley propositions.

In many ways the shallow water belt of the Plains is far the superior of California, Florida, and the Rio Grande Valley, for while we do not grow tropical products, we do grow more crops successfully than any one of either of these sections can grow. On the Plains the farmer has a wonderful variety of crops that he can

WE MUST NOW CHOOSE BETWEEN 'MA' AND MOODY

Threats of Court Action to Disqualify Moody Mark Stirring Session at Dallas

Dallas, August 9.—The battle for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Texas is to be fought all over again between Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and Attorney General Dan Moody.

In the midst of threats of court action to disqualify Moody, the State executive Democratic committee today certified that the names of Mrs. Ferguson and Dan Moody go on the Ballot for the run off primary, August 28.

The committee followed shortly after an official canvass of the July primary vote by a sub-committee which showed that Moody lacked 1,770 votes of having a majority over all candidates. Under the Texas election law the committee must certify the names of the two highest candidates for a run-off where the returns do not show a majority for any candidate.

No mention was made in the committee proceedings of Mrs. Ferguson's promise to resign for office or of her announced intention to withdraw from the race.

Moody Lacks Majority

The official canvass showed that Moody had 497,732 votes and that the total over all other Democratic gubernatorial candidates was 411,502. No official returns were received from two counties, Edwards and Gray, but the committee's report stated that unofficial returns from the two counties indicated that the official would not change the total result.

Petitions Vote Down

An attempt to have the committee consider a petition asking that Moody be disqualified as a candidate on the ground of alleged irregularities in campaign contributions, failed, when the committee chairman, Arthur Edson of Hamilton, Texas, ruled that the matter was judicial in nature since the committee was a judicial body it could not determine the question raised by the petition. The document was received and placed on file.

The petition was read by A. L. Curtis of Belton, Texas, a close personal friend of the Fergusons, who appeared as attorney for Mrs. Ferguson.

It recited that Moody's campaign expense statement, filed with the secretary of state, showed that R. L. Bobbitt of Laredo, candidate for Legislature and Lee Satterwhite of Amarillo, former speaker of the House, and candidate to succeed himself, had contributed $250 each to Moody's campaign.

The petition alleged that this was a violation of the election law, and quoted chapters of the law prohibiting candidates to contribute to the campaign fund of other candidates.

Because of the alleged violation the petition held that Moody had forfeited his right to be a candidate because he had assented to, connived at, and here fore was a principle in such an act of violation." The document further said that these alleged illegal contributions contained in Moody's expense statement "opted to make all Moody's campaign expense statements filed with the secretary of state false."

Many votes cast for Mrs. Ferguson were counted for Moody, said the petition and it further alleged that the laws were violated by electioneering within the polling booths and by permitting many unqualified persons to vote.

In conclusion the petition stated that there was "serious doubt whether the committee had power to pass on the question raised."

"There is also doubt," concluded the petition, "as to whether quo warranto proceedings would suffice to clear up the questions involved. Therefore we state that we will reserve the rights to seek relief in the courts. The reference to the courts was considered that the matter would be taken to the courts to have Moody disqualified.

Chairman Edson then ruled that the committee was without authority to consider the petition, and the body thereupon adopted the report of the sub-committee which recommended that the names of both Mrs. Ferguson and Moody be certified to the counties for the run-off primary. Action of the committee was unanimous as the law clearly makes it mandatory for the body to certify the two highest names in cases there is not a major-

CONEY ISLAND SAYS WALL STREET FRAUD

WAR IS NOW DECLARED—THE CITY IS SPLIT ASUNDER TROUBLE SEEN AHEAD

The war is on—nothing can stop it other than a rain to lower the temperature. Wall Street Financiers say they can, and the Coney Island Exporters say it can't be done, that is, fair ones the way the question is in Lockney today. The town is divided, split asunder in other words, and war is inevitable. Coney Island the land of hogs, switchyards, and busted dreams is on the rampage again. And Wall Street the place of corrupt deals and debauchery in finance has declared a war with no quarter.

Tomorrow! Think of it—tomorrow—the battle is to be fought to a finish. Never again will this city have to go through the ordeal that it will tomorrow—think of it—tomorrow—when the sun sets it will all be over—settled for ever more.

When war does come—and it is a cinch that it is coming, it always drags every one into the battle. The Parent Teachers club have entered and are going to finance the battle which is going to take place promptly at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, FRIDAY, August the THIRTEENTH—Think of it—FRIDAY, AUGUST THE THIRTEENTH—nothing can be more awful than a long standing grudge of base ball to be fought out and settled—than on FRIDAY, AUGUST THE THIRTEENTH—but nothing can stop them now, so it is best to just let them to it.

Coney Island has been having some very stiff practices this week it is being rumored. Beany Bean and Spit Ball Keys have been throwing chunks of their "guaranteed not to burn coal" thru the cracks in the office so that their arms may be in condition for the tilt. Bouncing Baby Thornton, and Toughy Hohlaus, the man that gets them bar handed has been chasing each other around the Elevator to get in trim. And one of the best base runners on the diamond today Pigtail Harris is getting himself in condition by spanking his son Tinty each and every evening to be in better condition. And Greasy Barber who almost sacrificed his life for a cause in the last game, by getting in too much of a rush while running bases is now getting in perfect condition by doing a little work and having his son Horse Fly to rub him down with sand paper and J. H. G. Liniment every night before retiring.

And what is Wall Street doing.

Being a small deceiver over-confident they have practiced very little although Tinker Kester, Pill Roller Truitt, Natural Gas, Asbestos Brown, Lilly White Angel, Cold Check Snyder, Grandpa Woodburn, and a few others of the Elite are getting the wind in fine shape doing an over amount of talking.

Well tomorrow FRIDAY THE 13 is when it all happens, so make it a point to see this battle for it will be worth the price of admission which will go to the Parent Teacher's club.

The writer of this ar-tickle heard Harry Burlington Adams say that the Beacon would close during the on-coming struggle—why not make the thing universal and all go. — Cub.

TELL NIX ELECTED DIRECTOR IN FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Prominent Farmer of West Part of County is Added to Directory at Monthly Meeting of Board

Mr. Tell Nix, prominent farmer living West of Lockney, was elected as a member of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Lockney, at the regular meeting of the board of directors, held in the directory room of the bank Tuesday of this week.

Mr. Nix is one of Lockney's leading citizens and a very successful farmer, and has been prominently identified in the county and community affairs for a number of years, and it is very gratifying to have him take a part in the business affairs of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bickley of Greenville, Texas, are here visiting Mrs. Bickley's mother, Mrs. Brotherton.

GIVE DAN MOODY

500,000 MAJORITY

In our way of looking at the present situation in the governor's race the good people should give Dan Moody at least 500,000 majority in the run-off primary on August 28th. Whether you supported Ferguson in the first run or not we cannot conclude if you are honest with your self how you can vote for Ferguson in the run-off. Ferguson challenged Dan Moody in the first primary saying that Mrs. Ferguson would resign immediately if Moody lead her by one vote in that primary, and Mrs. Ferguson put her O. K. on the challenge, and Moody immediately accepted. Moody led Mrs. Ferguson by more than 125,000 votes and only lacked about 1,700 votes getting a majority over all candidates in the race for governor. Mrs. Ferguson refused to live up to her own proposition and resign immediately, furthermore we do not believe or as for that matter never did believe that Mrs. Ferguson or Jim either would do anything that is honest or honorable nor we do not believe that either of them will ever leave that governor's office or give up the governor's mansion as office holders until the last minute of the term expires, and Dan Moody is inaugurated governor of Texas. Furthermore, Mrs. Ferguson or Jim announced that she would not enter the primary on August 28, as Moody had such a large lead over her, but you need not worry, Mrs. Ferguson's name will be on the ticket and they will do their level best to try to work some kind of a deal in which to defeat Moody in that primary. Furthermore, we would not be surprised if Mrs. Ferguson through Proxy Jim, does not try to organize the American party or some other unknown brand of politics and try to make the race again in the November election. You have to choke this class of political corkscrews away from the pie counter, and as long as they can hang on you can expect them to stay put with their feet under the table and gobbling up every thing in sight. In our estimation there has never been a state in the Union cursed with such a rotten set as has Texas the past two years. Jack Walton and the Oklahoma deal as white as snow compared to the Ferguson administration, according to the way of looking at the situation. According to newspaper reports, one of the first things that will take place when the Legislature meets in September, will be to investigate the affairs of the present Ferguson administration, and in all probability impeachment charges will be preferred against Mrs. Ferguson, unless Jim has succeeded in covering up so that all the blame will rest on him instead of his wife. There is little doubt that a bill will be introduced to repeal the amnesty bill, and forever take Jim's citizenship away from him in Texas. Two years ago through a co-incident, Jim was given a chance through his wife to redeem himself in Texas if there was any redemption in him or due him, but today we find Texas defeating him by the largest plurality probably that was ever polled in Texas, and again Mrs. Ferguson who has allowed her husband to be her spokesman and advisor, is the first governor to be re-elected at the end of her first term, during the life time of this writer, and perhaps ever in the history of Texas. The people of Texas have branded the Ferguson administration as corrupt and dishonorable twice, first with the impeachment and defeat of Jim Ferguson by Kelley, second by the overwhelming majority given Moody over Mrs. Ferguson in the primary. In the August 28th primary we believe that Texas will resoundingly give the Ferguson name an overwhelming majority that will forever mark the Ferguson name as a disgrace in the eyes of the outside world that has never before honored the Ferguson name. The Ferguson name has been the laughing stock of the whole nation, and we are informed that the Ferguson name is the laughing stock of the Ferguson name of the last time, and we expect to see many things of questionable character happen between now and the day that Mrs. Ferguson is forced to relinquish her claim on the office, but thank God she will have to leave the Governor's office next January, and we hope and pray that Texas will never again find herself in such a predicament.

STATE GETS BIG REVENUE FOR SMALL RETURN

Floyd County Pays Four Times as Much Auto Taxes as They Get In Returns.

The records of the tax collector of Floyd county show that the State of Texas has been paid $23,757.88 in auto and truck registrations so far this year, and the registration fees will probably reach $25,000.00 by the close of the year. That means that Floyd county is paying the State Highway department in this one item alone more than four times the money that they receive for improvements and upkeep of the one highway that runs across the county, and are there fore either paying for graft or maintenance of roads outside of the county more than three fourths of the money county. There is nothing fair and that is paid for auto taxes in this just in such a hold up by the State of Texas, as it is not right for this or any other county to be made pay the bills of any other county of the state, or be grafted out of their money. If Floyd county was allowed to retain all auto and motor vehicle registration fees in the county each year, it would mean more than $30,000.00 each year that could be placed on the roads of the county, and that would mean not only the highway, but the lateral roads of the county could be kept in shape. This registration fee don't mean all the money that goes out of Floyd county in the way of taxes that goes to the highway commission is to be spent where they so desire, or to be squandered through questionable contracts, where graft is very evident, for possibly more than this amount reaches the highway department every year from other taxable sources. Since the people are a civilized citizenship in Texas and each county is well able to take care of its own needs, and the money collected for road purposes spent in the county where it is collected. Further this would eliminate a lot of graft and waste of tax money and more actual dollars would reach the road surface than does at the present time, it would eliminate a lot of fat office jobs for the so-called commissioners and civil engineers who sit on their high stools and waste a good percentage of the time that the tax payers money is going out to pay them for. Again, according to the present rule of the state, if a county does not float a special bond issue and build a road, the only benefit receive from the money paid out is in maintaining present roads, and nothing in the way of building permanent roads is being done with the tax money where people do not vote extra bonds. This state work on highways outside of the counties where special bonds have been voted is very poor and in most cases in this section, county machinery has to be used to keep the highways up, and this is especially true in Floyd county for during the past term of the present commissioner we have personally encountered the county's road machinery on the highway at work many times, when it should have been using its time and energy building up the lateral roads so that the farmers of Floyd county can get to market with their crops and products. A bill should be presented to and passed by the special session of Legislature that is to be convened in September, abolishing the State Highway department and giving authority to each county in the State to collect auto and gasoline tax and spend every cent of the money in which such taxes were collected, and the wholesale oil stations should be forced by law to pay the gasoline taxes in the counties where they sell their oils to the filling stations or to the consumers. Furthermore the highways should be maintained by the county and each county forced by law to keep their part of the highway in first class condition, and the balance of the tax money for road purposes equally divided among the commissioners precincts according to the taxable valuation of each precinct. Each tax payer is due a fair return for the tax money he pays out and he can never get a fair return as long as the money is allowed to be wasted by the highway commission on high priced contracts and fat salaries for commissioners and clerks. The people should demand abolition of the commission and demand the county's rights in the matter.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

Borger—This city has recently voted for the establishment of an independent school district. Only one vote was cast against the issue. provision will be conferred for the building, and the board of trustees has been elected. A committee has been appointed to take the scholastic census of the city.

Slaton—Three additional credits of high school work have been granted this institution by the State department of education. The total number of affiliated credits at present is twenty four. Fourth year English is the only course offered without affiliation.

Roswell, N. M.—The construction of a new highway which will connect Roswell with the recently discovered oil field is to begin at once. This road will make the Maljamar field less than eighty miles from this city.

San Antonio—The highway in Bexar county between San Antonio and Converse on the Seguin road has been completed, inspected and accepted by the State for maintenance. Its completion gives San Antonio unbroken pavement virtually the entire distance to Gonzales.

Stamford—President Arthur P. Dugan of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and his party, made up of Chamber of Commerce officials will tour the southern districts and two Mexico sections of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce territory with in the next two weeks. Tax revision diversified farming and the work of the West Texas organization will be discussed before all local commercial clubs.

Brownfield—Weekly trips are being staged by the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of bringing the farmers and business men together in a social way to create a better understanding between the two, which will aid in a more rapid development of this section of the country in the near future.

Cisco—The Bandhead Poultry Producers began functioning in April, 1925, with no assets. $1,800 was advanced by the Cisco Chamber of Commerce to help the beginning of the organization. According to recent reports of the organization, according to recent reports the Association has

$1,600 cash, an equipment worth $400 and no existing debts, although the organization itself was not established for the purpose of money making.

Lubbock—Plans are being made by the directors of the Lubbock Sanitarium to launch a $100,000 building campaign which will give this city the largest sanitarium west of Fort Worth, with the finest equipment and the best arrayed clinic in the southwest.

Stamford—Good news for hot weather! Weight rates on ice cream will not be raised 15% as was planned by the carriers of this summer necessity. The traffic bureau of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was instrumental in keeping the rates lowered, thus preventing a higher cost of the product.

Amarillo—Election of a proposed school bond issue, amounting to something near $500,000 will be held Sept. 4. This money will be spent in the completion of the Senior high school with auditorium, gymnasium, and manual training department, and the like and the erection of a four room build north of Amarillo in Pleasant Valley.

Headache dizziness
I HAVE headaches once in a while, usually coming from constipation or torpid liver," says Mr. L. A. Morphis, of Fottsville, Ark. "and the very best remedy I have found to correct this condition is Thedford's Black-Draught. It acts quickly and easily, and it just can't be beat. "Black-Draught is the very best laxative I have found. I always feel so much better after taking it. "My wife takes Black-Draught, too. For dizziness, costiveness and any little stomach disorder, we find it most satisfactory, and consider Black-Draught a family medicine. Constipation, with an inactive liver, locks up poisons in the body and allows them to do their dangerous work. Being purely vegetable and containing no harmful drugs, Black-Draught acts gently, helping the system get rid of impurities and preventing serious sickness. Get a package today. FLOYDADA

From the Hesperian, August 5th. Word has been received that the body of Mrs. M. F. Cherry, 63, of Whiteflat, who led Monday morning at Glendale California, will arrive in Floydada Saturday afternoon over the Santa Fe. Funeral services will be held Saturday or Sunday, according to Mrs. Don Chery, daughter of the deceased. Interment is to be made at Whiteflat.

Mrs. Cherry died from injuries received about two weeks ago when knocked down by a truck at Glendale where she was visiting her daughter Mrs. R. C. Pope. Blood poisoning began from internal injuries and death resulted.

The husband who was also visiting in California at the time was unable to return with the body, having become ill from nervous shock after the death of his wife. Don Chery of Whiteflat went to Glendale to return with the body.

The 12-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Johnston, of Wake, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harris in Floydada late Monday night, where it had been brought by the parents to be near physicians for medical treatment. The baby had been ill since its birth. Funeral services were held at the cemetery chapel and interment made in the Floydada cemetery Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock. Rev. J. L. Henson officiated at the services.

Leonard C. Parrish, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Parrish, of Starkey community, fell from the windmill tower on his father's farm Monday afternoon, sustaining injuries which proved fatal Tuesday night. No adults were witnesses to the tragedy. The little boy was playing with two smaller children, when the accident occurred. He was knocked unconscious by the impact and never regained consciousness.

Rev. J. N. S. Webb, pastor of the Floydada Circuit West, M. E. Church, conducted the funeral services for the little boy, Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the cemetery chapel in Floydada where interment was made. The child was a grand son of R. M. Parrish of this city.

Miss Johnnie Christian, is a candidate for the degree of bachelor of arts at the summer graduating exercises of the College of Industrial Arts on August 25. Miss Christian has specialized in home economics. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Christian of the Blanco Community.

O. W. Fry and family, who with Mrs. Dora and Miss Mary Lou Crain left Saturday of last week for a visit with relatives in Oklahoma, miraculously escaped serious injury this side of Guthrie, when in a collision their car was so badly damaged they had to abandon it.

Although burglars or thieves took a cash register and carried it off in toto one night last week, no harm was done, because the cash register belonged to an ice man. No chance for any money in the transaction, according to E. E. Brown, whose cash register it was.

Will Goode was in charge of the sales at the ice plant, had just emptied the cash register located on the loading dock, to spend some little time working inside with the ice. When he returned there was no cash register.

HARLEY SADLER'S FAMOUS COW BOY BAND WILL BE HERE ALL NEXT WEEK. HEAR THESE MUSICIANS.

No clue to the whereabouts of the register had been found early this week, E. E. Brown, ice dealer said. "The only thing about the loss I hate is that without a register I will have to keep so much money in my pocket," he said.

T. C. Russell and J. M. Wilson were named as republican party delegates from Floyd county to the state convention at Dallas, September 7, at the county convention held in Floydada Saturday.

E. E. Wells of Lockney was again named county chairman and T. C. Russell was re-elected secretary of the political group.

No resolutions condemning or approving any phases of the present system of government or party politics were passed.

Delegates from precincts present Saturday were E. E. Wells, T. C. Russell, J. M. Wilson, and Mr. Bexroe of Lockney.

Fred Brewer, 16, son of J. R. Brewer, of Electra, died late Saturday at his father's home following a ten-day illness of pneumonia. He was well

Take New, Mild 'Pepin-ated' Calomel

Does Not Grip, Cramp, Sicken. If you are continually troubled with headaches and dizziness, or if you have backaches and are bilious, constipated, or suffer from poor appetite and can't sleep at night, your whole system is probably out of order. You need to have your stomach fixed up and your liver stimulated to good action.

Of course, you know that calomel is the best thing you can take for that. And now there is a new kind that will not grip or sicken you like the old "raw" calomel did. "Pepin-ated" Calomel is mild and easy to take, yet three times as effective.

Send for a Free Sample. Try this wonderful new combination first. Take one tablet in bed-time—no follow-up pills needed. You have found it makes you feel. Then get 'Pepin-ated' Calomel at your drug store. Never take cheap calomel—'Pepin-ated' Calomel is sold only in bottles. Have it always ready for any sign of trouble. If you are in a bind, it may avoid more serious disease. Mail the coupon. Address: Pepin-ated Calomel Company, Atlanta, Ga.

WE MUST NOW CHOOSE
 BETWEEN MA AND MOODY

 ity. Since Mrs. Ferguson's formal withdrawal from the primary race was not forthcoming the committee had only a prefatory duty before it.

The expected fireworks of the meeting did not materialize until just before the meeting adjournment when Moody arose to address the committee, having been invited in a motion by B. Y. Cummings of Wichita Falls to make such a reply to the petition as he desired "in order to have the record complete."

As he arose and came forward to the chairman's table, there were cheers, applause and shouts, some from members of the committee but coming principally from the spectators who stood in the fringe about the committee.

"This instrument was just read in my presence and hearing" Moody began. "I would not permit such a document to be read in my presence and to remain unanswered by me one minute longer than the first opportunity to make answer presented itself."

"In the first place the instrument was not filed in good faith. It was presented here for sinister political purposes. It was presented here for the benefit of those newspaper reporters here. I denounce it as false and without foundation in fact."

"It is not a legal document in any sense of the word. It is not justified by a single line of law on the statute book. It was brought here for political purposes only."

"Having denounced the accusations as false, I will file a written reply. I have engaged in campaign before the people of Texas trying present myself as a clean young man before the people of the State. I tried to maintain the campaign on a high plane. I did so, and I owe no apology to anyone or to my conscience. I entered it clean, and I have ended it clean, and I am as far above this thing (waving the petition over his head) as the east is from the west."

While Moody spoke, James E. Ferguson, husband and chief political general of Governor Ferguson, sat directly in front of him, not more than ten feet away.

The two bitter political antagonists—the western politician, and the young attorney general—thus faced each other. Their eyes appeared to meet as Moody spoke. Ferguson sat motionless.

As soon as Moody had finished, the committee adjourned, and then the Moody and Ferguson spectators separated like two ocean waves. Ferguson moving slowly down the aisle friends stopping him to shake hands and he finally worked his way out of the hall amidst little eddies of spectators who stopped to confer with him every few feet. A Moody meeting was organized with election of officers and it was voted to hold a mass meeting of Texas voters at fair park in Dallas Saturday, August 14 at 10 a. m.

"I suggest that we hold a mass meeting to select Dan Moody governor by 500,000 majority" shouted Colquitt. "I have called this informal meeting to start Moody's run-off primary campaign."

Lee Satterwhite declared that insofar as he is concerned "an investigation of the Ferguson administration will be launched when the Legislature convenes."

TRI-STATE EXPOSITION WILL HAVE MANY ATTRACTIONS

One of the funny stunts arranged by the Tri-State Exposition at Amarillo, September 21st-27th, is the race of automobile "wrecks" over a hundred mile course. Each car must have only four tires, one occupant, and the winner of the race must agree to accept an offer of one hundred for his car if a buyer appears.

The "Henry's and Lizzies" no doubt will be there in keen competition. The first prize is $200, second $150 and the third $100.

The "Old fiddlers contest" will also come in for its share of attention, for among the old settlers of the Panhandle are many masters of the old "Arkansas Traveler" popular in days gone by. First prize $10, second $5.

The Harmonica of French harp contest is also attracting lots of attention. The contest is open to the world, no age limit and any man, woman, boy or girl can enter as there is no entrance fee. The only restriction is that a Honer harmonica in the key of "C" must be used.

The catalogs are especially attractive this year, a great deal of care having been used in the make-up and printing. These catalogs are for free distribution and a word to Mr. Amacker, assistant secretary will bring one immediately. Grand Canyon Marvel

Where the Grand Canyon is Grandest

World's Premier Scenic Region Suddenly Produces a New Development of the Greatest Economic Interest to the Entire Nation.

U. S. Senator Cameron

By JUDSON C. WELLIVER

THE Grand Canyon of the Colorado River, widely regarded as the world's most imposing natural wonder, has suddenly taken on a new and startling interest.

A few years ago, when it was as inaccessible as the North Pole, John Wesley Powell won fame by making the first trip through it. A little later another adventurer conceived opening a trail from the canyon's rim down to the river, a mile below. It seemed grotesque, but the impossible was accomplished, and its accomplishment has made the canyon's innermost wonders accessible to thousands of tourists each year. They come from all quarters of the world every season in great numbers to traverse the Bright Angel Trail. That trail is a monument to the daring and ingenuity of its builder. He worked at it for ten years, almost without help or financial backing, at one period spending almost half a year alone in the vast gorge. But today Ralph Cameron, builder of the Bright Angel Trail, occupying a seat in the United States Senate voted to him by the people of Arizona, has his reward.

Greatest Artificial Lake

But the conquest of the canyon had hardly been realized when the engineers discovered a new use for it. At Boulder Canyon, Arizona, the greatest dam in the world, a third of a mile high, should impound a lake which, spreading over a great area in Arizona and Utah, would be next to Lake Michigan, the largest fresh water body entirely within the United States. Harnessed to mighty turbines, the water, falling hundreds of feet, would produce a power greater than Niagara, and irrigate an area several times that of the Nile Basin, which served for uncounted centuries as granary of the ancient world.

The Boulder Canyon dam has not yet been built, but the people of the Southwest are as confident of its construction as that the Colorado will continue to flow between its giant walls.

Now comes a new chapter in the romance of the Colorado. The intrepid "wildcat" of the oil industry, searching for new sources of petroleum, have brought in an oil well right in the canyon! Drilling from a narrow shelf at the gorge's bottom, they have overcome some unbelievable obstacles. Perpendicular walls of rock grimly forbade construction of road or trail to transport machinery and supplies. From the river a succession of rock walls rise in gargantuan terraces to a height of 5,000 feet.

The "Great American Desert"

The little Mormon town of Moab, eighteen miles upstream, is the nearest stage stop. But Moab is not a railway town. A line of forty miles still requires a mule pack. Still, the Rio Grande, which flows to the southwest, is 250 miles from the mouth of the desert.

Standing on the foot of the desert, which marks the site of the new well, one's eye is fairly amazed. A 500 foot cliff, which is matched by another 500 foot cliff across the river, looking up, one realizes that it would be impossible to dig a well from the top of these walls.

It will be seen, therefore, that the discovery of oil in the Grand Canyon is a most remarkable event. It is a development of the greatest economic interest to the entire nation. It is a development which has opened up a new world of opportunity to the people of the Southwest. It is a development which has made the canyon's innermost wonders accessible to thousands of tourists each year. They come from all quarters of the world every season in great numbers to traverse the Bright Angel Trail. That trail is a monument to the daring and ingenuity of its builder. He worked at it for ten years, almost without help or financial backing, at one period spending almost half a year alone in the vast gorge. But today Ralph Cameron, builder of the Bright Angel Trail, occupying a seat in the United States Senate voted to him by the people of Arizona, has his reward.

The Professor's Problem

By CLARISSA MACKIE

(Copyright.)

PROF. THOMAS CHUGSLEY paced slowly across the campus toward the lane that led into Quince street where the Blossoms lived. He was engaged to marry Frances Blossom, and the young man with the pugnacious countenance and the mild brown eyes was deeply troubled—and it was all about Frances!

"Why, when we were first engaged, she was the shyest, sweetest girl, thinking more about housekeeping needlework, and her music, and now she has her nose buried in some fussy old volume every minute. Fancy her studying Ancient Greek with Ludlow!"

Mr. Chugsley threw out an eloquent hand which impeded the progress of a dignified gentleman homeward bound from the railroad station.

"Here, here, what do you mean by that, sir?" glared the offended person, and all of the professor's elaborate apologies made no impression upon his offended dignity. "I will repeat you to the dean, young man—you college lads think you own the town! When I was a young man—"

Thomas Chugsley escaped, properly chastened; the only comfort he could extract was the thought that he could not be so terribly aged-looking, if he had been taken for one of his own pupils! In fact he was exactly thirty-two, and looked twenty years younger, his mother told him, sometimes.

"Not that young, I hope," shuddered Thomas as he opened the Blossom gate and went up the steps to the wisteria hung porch. At one end Frances was sitting behind a table piled with a formidable array of heavy books. She was wearing large horn-rimmed spectacles.

"Good evening, Thomas," said Frances with a learned glance back at a turned page, "wait just a moment, dear, I have just dug out the most astounding fact."

"But, Frances, I wanted you to go over and look at the house—our house—with me. It is practically completed, and we must plan lots of things."

"Big now—this evening!" Her eye brows went up.

"Now," he said shortly.

"But Doctor Ludlow is coming."

"What for?"

"To help me—he is most kind about it," she faltered.

"Help you—what?" rather fiercely.

"He is going to read a Greek tragedy."

Prof. Thomas Chugsley sat down rather heavily. He was built broad and strong and had always been conspicuous on the athletic field. Now he was teaching zoology. Frances looked upon him with almost awe. She believed him the most learned man, and herself the most ignorant girl in Chidley. In fact, she had simply given up study at the end of her second college year, getting a degree in domestic science, and retiring to become engaged to Thomas. But impressed by her own ignorance and fearing to lose her husband's love and respect when he discovered what an ignorant wife he had married, poor little Frances Blossom had decided to study Greek, and after that other languages, dead or alive. Then, Thomas could proudly introduce her to some of the sleek, bobbed haired women who attended the upper classes, and looked as horn-spectacled, and plain as possible.

"The principal trouble with me," Frances had confessed to herself, "is that I am frivolous! I must get over it!" Hence that metamorphosis from butterfly to grub that would be astonishing to any man of science. To return to their argument in the cool porch.

"You mean you would rather have Ludlow entertain you with a Greek tragedy than come over to our house?" demanded Chugsley in a deep voice.

"Oh, don't you understand, Thomas?" she pleaded.

"Not in the least. Why do you call me 'Thomas'? Is it part of your plan? You used to call me 'Tom'."

Thomas rose to go.

Just Room for the Derrick

a flat-bottomed boat and floated down from Moab. It was a daring performance, for the stream twists constantly; unseen rocks and shifting bars add to its difficulties, and the canyon's perpendicular walls threaten instant wreck.

But it was done. Materials were brought, a derrick reared, machinery placed, a camp built and drilling begun. Now, with oil flowing from a depth of 2,635 feet, the Crane Creek well is suddenly the wonder of the whole intermountain country.

A Maze of Difficulties

Just about a year from the beginning of drilling the well began to flow, with every indication that when the drill goes somewhat deeper into the producing sand it will be an important producer. For the present, drilling has been suspended, awaiting provision for taking the oil away. It is doubtful if in all the history of the 600,000 wells that have been drilled in this country, largely in regions difficult of access, any one has ever presented such a category of obstacles as this canyon well in Utah. How the oil will be transported to a refinery is still sheer guess work, but a way will be found, for the ingenuity and resources of the oil engineers have never failed.

The "bringing in" of this well illustrates the intricacy of petroleum development. Convinced that the geological structure was particularly favorable, the projectors determined to gamble $75,000 on drilling. Before they got oil they had spent more than twice that.

For years wells have been drilled in various parts of the state—fully 200 in all—at a cost of probably $5,000,000, and this canyon well is the first real producer! It is only by dint of such persistence in coping with natural obstacles and financial hazards that the country's supply of oil is maintained. The first oil well in Western Pennsylvania became a producer at the depth of 89½ feet. Nowadays wells a mile deep are not uncommon, and they have gone down, as far as a mile and a half.

Every Well is a Gamble

A large proportion of wells produce nothing, whatever and represent total

DON'T FOOL YOURSELF

Wm. Wrigley didn't sell seven millions packages of Spearmint Chewing Gum the first day he put an advertisement in a newspaper, and neither did he quit advertising because times were dull, but today he sells seven millions packages of gum a day and spends ten thousand dollars a day advertising in order to keep the gum sales advancing. He is a presistent advertiser—for it pays.

Henry Ford had no sale for his automobile so long as the people of the country knew nothing of his car, but he has manufactured his 14,000,000 cars and sold them. Every newspaper and bill board in America carries Ford advertisements, and they pay big dividends to Mr. Ford.

Why do people spend their money at Mail Order Houses and in nearby towns—because of the power of advertising. If there were no advertisements sent here from outside towns all the people of the Lockney country would buy everything they had to buy in Lockney—but newspapers, circulars, catalogues and various other forms of foreign advertising is stealing the dollars right out of your pockets. You can stop a good per cent of this outflow of cash if you want to, and it is strictly up to you—what have you got to say about it.

THE REMEDY—The Lockney Beacon reaches more than 6,000 people in Floyd County, and it is read by every member of the family; it is the medium by which every merchant in Lockny can place his business before the people who are interested in Lockney and Lockney's country. Nicely prepared advertisements, announcing to the people what you have to sell and what the price of the articles are will prove to be a paying investment for you. Such advertisements will start the people to trading with you, and presistent advertising will keep them trading with you. For old friendship sake is a thing of the past, every sensible person makes every dollar count. You can better your volume of business by using the advertising columns of the Beacon in a sensible way—write your own ads and make them timely, telling the people what you have to offer and what you will sell it for. It is a simple matter to get your advertisement in the Beacon, and you will find it a most profitable investment. Write your advertisement to the Editor of the Beacon, and you will find it a most profitable investment. WE MUST NOW CHOOSE

 ity. Since Mrs. Ferguson's formal withdrawal from the primary race was not forthcoming the committee had only a prefatory duty before it.

The expected fireworks of the meeting did not materialize until just before the meeting adjournment when Moody arose to address the committee, having been invited in a motion by B. Y. Cummings of Wichita Falls to make such a reply to the petition as he desired "in order to have the record complete."

As he arose and came forward to the chairman's table, there were cheers, applause and shouts, some from members of the committee but coming principally from the spectators who stood in the fringe about the committee.

"This instrument was just read in my presence and hearing" Moody began. "I would not permit such a document to be read in my presence and to remain unanswered by me one minute longer than the first opportunity to make answer presented itself."

"In the first place the instrument was not filed in good faith. It was presented here for sinister political purposes. It was presented here for the benefit of those newspaper reporters here. I denounce it as false and without foundation in fact."

"It is not a legal document in any sense of the word. It is not justified by a single line of law on the statute book. It was brought here for political purposes only."

"Having denounced the accusations as false, I will file a written reply. I have engaged in campaign before the people of Texas trying present myself as a clean young man before the people of the State. I tried to maintain the campaign on a high plane. I did so, and I owe no apology to anyone or to my conscience. I entered it clean, and I have ended it clean, and I am as far above this thing (waving the petition over his head) as the east is from the west."

While Moody spoke, James E. Ferguson, husband and chief political general of Governor Ferguson, sat directly in front of him, not more than ten feet away.

The two bitter political antagonists—the western politician, and the young attorney general—thus faced each other. Their eyes appeared to meet as Moody spoke. Ferguson sat motionless.

As soon as Moody had finished, the committee adjourned, and then the Moody and Ferguson spectators separated like two ocean waves. Ferguson moving slowly down the aisle friends stopping him to shake hands and he finally worked his way out of the hall amidst little eddies of spectators who stopped to confer with him every few feet. A Moody meeting was organized with election of officers and it was voted to hold a mass meeting of Texas voters at fair park in Dallas Saturday, August 14 at 10 a. m.

"I suggest that we hold a mass meeting to select Dan Moody governor by 500,000 majority" shouted Colquitt. "I have called this informal meeting to start Moody's run-off primary campaign."

Lee Satterwhite declared that insofar as he is concerned "an investigation of the Ferguson administration will be launched when the Legislature convenes."

"In view of the charge of fraud in Moody's campaign read before the state executive committee this afternoon said Satterwhite, I am in favor of making an investigation of the conduct of State affairs just to see really who has been guilty of fraud."

The death of Henry Skaggs, committee member of Plainview, announced by J. W. Garner of Rockdale, who nominated Pink L. Parrish, a Moody man from Lubbock. Ferguson moved his chair up behind J. R. McClellan of Gatesville, and after a whispered conversation Mr. McClellan nominated E. L. Graham, a Ferguson supporter of Plainview. It was suggested by a resolution passed by the committee meeting the chairman had been empowered to fill Mr. Skaggs's place. The nominations were then withdrawn and chairman Edison said he would announce his appointment later.

A petition from Mrs. Edith Williams of Dallas, candidate for governor in the primary, asking for a recount of the votes, was ruled out by the chairman on the ground that it was not sufficient to justify the action asked. It alleged irregularities and asked that the Texas election bureau, a co-operative enterprise of Texas newspapers, be disbanded on the ground that its publication of returns tended to influence the vote.

The committee met shortly after 10 a. m. with twenty-nine members and proxies present. Seven proxies were accepted by the committee. C. C. Small of Plainview and the late Henry Skaggs of Plainview were the only members recorded absent.

"In regard to the charge made that R. L. Bobbitt and Lee Satterwhite contributed to Moody's campaign fund in violation of the State laws of this State, it is denied that either of these gentlemen contributed any sum of money to his campaign. It appears in his report that each of these gentlemen contributed $250. These contributions, in truth and in fact, were made by Mr. A. B. Martin of Plainview, and Mr. Marshall Hicks of San Antonio, but they were remitted to Moody's office in Austin by Mr. Bobbitt and Mr. Satterwhite, and for erroneous reasons the funds were credited to them. At the time these contributions were made Mr. Moody did not know that Mr. Bobbitt or Mr. Satterwhite had even remitted these funds. In support of this statement there is attached hereto the affidavit of Mr. A. B. Martin and Mr. Marshall Hicks, which show that each of these gentlemen contributed sums credited to Mr. Bobbitt and Mr. Satterwhite; also the affidavit of Mr. Satterwhite to the same effect."

Satterwhite's affidavit said: "Sometime during the latter part of May, I think about the 22nd day thereof, Judge A. B. Martin, advised me that he desired to contribute $250 to Dan Moody's campaign fund for governor, and asked me if I would transmit it to him. This I agreed to do. Judge according purchased a cashier's check for the said sum of $250 to and delivered to me for the purpose stated. Said money was transmitted by me through me by my personal check to the Dan Moody headquarters in Austin, to be used as stated in the interest of Moody's campaign for governor. No part of the $250 so transmitted by me was contributed by me, but all of the same was contributed by Judge Martin. I did not contribute directly or indirectly any part of my personal funds whatever to Moody's campaign.

Grand Canyon Marvel

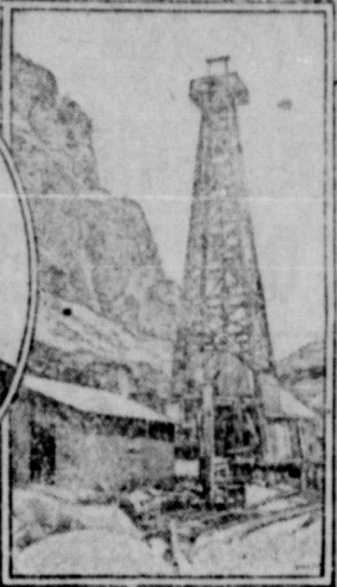

Where the Grand Canyon is Grandest

World's Premier Scenic Region Suddenly Produces a New Development of the Greatest Economic Interest to the Entire Nation.

U. S. Senator Cameron

Just Room for the Derrick

By JUDSON C. WELLIVER

THE Grand Canyon of the Colorado River, widely regarded as the world's most imposing natural wonder, has suddenly taken on a new and startling interest.

A few years ago, when it was as inaccessible as the North Pole, John Wesley Powell won fame by making the first trip through it. A little later another adventurer conceived opening a trail from the canyon's rim down to the river, a mile below. It seemed grotesque, but the impossible was accomplished, and its accomplishment has made the canyon's innermost wonders accessible to thousands of tourists each year. They come from all quarters of the world every season in numbers to traverse the trail.

Greatest Artificial Lake

But the conquest of the canyon had hardly been realized when the engineers discovered a new use for it. At Boulder Canyon, Arizona, the greatest dam in the world, a third of a mile high, should impound a lake which, spreading over a great area in Arizona and Utah, would be next to Lake Michigan, the largest fresh water body entirely within the United States. Harnessed to mighty turbines, the water, falling hundreds of feet, would produce a power greater than Niagara, and irrigate an area several times that of the Nile Basin, which served for uncounted centuries as granary of the ancient world.

The Boulder Canyon dam has not yet been built, but the people of the Southwest are as confident of its construction as that the Colorado will continue to flow between its giant walls.

Now comes a new chapter in the romance of the Colorado. The intrepid "wildcatter" of the oil industry, scouting for new sources of petroleum, have brought in an oil well right in the canyon! Drilling from a narrow shelf at the gorge's bottom, they have overcome unbelievable obstacles. Perpendicular walls of rock grimly forbade construction of road or trail to transport machinery and supplies. From the river a succession of rock walls rise in gargantuan terraces to a height of 3,000 feet.

The "Great American Desert"

The little Mormon town of Moab, eight or nine miles upstream, is the nearest supply base. But Moab is not a railroad town. Only a few miles to the north, across the desert, the Denver & Rio Grande crosses the canyon. Salt Lake City is 250 miles to the northwest.

Standard is the use of the derrick which makes the use of the box oil well. The derrick is fairly erected on a 500-foot cliff, which is matched by another 500-foot cliff across the river. Looking up, one realizes that if he could not get the derrick up there, he could not get the oil out of the hole. The derrick is hoisted up the cliff by means of a cable, and is then lowered into the hole. The derrick is then used to drill the well.

The Professor's Problem

By CLARISSA MACKIE

PROF. THOMAS CHUGSLEY paced slowly across the campus toward the lane that led into Quince street where the Blossoms lived. He was engaged to marry Frances Blossom, and the young man with the pugnacious countenance and the mild brown eyes was deeply troubled—and it was all about Frances!

"Why, when we were first engaged, she was the shyest, sweetest girl, thinking more about housekeeping needlework, and her music, and now she has her nose buried in some fussy old volume every minute. Fancy her studying Ancient Greek with Ludlow!"

Mr. Chugsley threw out an eloquent hand which impeded the progress of a dignified gentleman homeward bound from the railroad station.

"Here, here, what do you mean by that, sir?" flared the offended person, and all of the professor's elaborate apologies made no impression upon his offended dignity. "I will report you to the dean, young man—you college lads think you own the town! When I was a young man—"

Thomas Chugsley escaped, properly chastened; the only comfort he could extract was the thought that he could not be so terribly aged-looking, if he had been taken for one of his own pupils! In fact he was exactly thirty-two, and looked twenty years younger, his mother told him, sometimes.

"Not that young, I hope," shuddered Thomas as he opened the Blossom gate and went up the steps to the wisteria hung porch. At one end Frances was sitting behind a table piled with a formidable array of heavy books. She was wearing large horn-rimmed spectacles.

"Good evening, Thomas," said Frances with a learned glance back at a turned page, "wait just a moment, dear, I have just dug out the most astounding fact."

"But, Frances, I wanted you to go over and look at the house—our house—with me. It is practically completed, and we must plan lots of things."

"Go now—this evening?" Her eye brows went up.

"Now," he said shortly.

"But Doctor Ludlow is coming."

"What for?"

"To help me—he is most kind about it," she faltered.

"Help you—what?" rather fiercely.

"He is going to read a Greek tragedy."

Prof. Thomas Chugsley sat down rather heavily. He was built broad and strong and had always been conspicuous on the athletic field. Now he was teaching zoology. Frances looked upon him with almost awe. She believed him the most learned man, and herself the most ignorant girl in Childrey. In fact, she had simply given up study at the end of her second college year, getting a degree in domestic science, and retiring to become engaged to Thomas. But impressed by her own ignorance and fearing to lose her husband's love and respect when he discovered what an ignorant wife he had married, poor little Frances Blossom had decided to study Greek, and after that other languages, dead or alive. Then, Thomas could proudly introduce her to some of the sleek, bobbed-haired women who attended the upper classes, and looked as horn-spectacled, and plain as possible.

"The principal trouble with me," Frances had confessed to herself, "is that I am frivolous! I must get over it!" Hence that metamorphosis from butterfly to grub that would be astonishing to any man of science. To return to their argument in the cool porch.

"You mean you would rather have Ludlow entertain you with a Greek tragedy than come over to—our house?" demanded Chugsley in a deep voice.

"Oh, don't you understand, Thomas?" she pleaded.

"Not in the least. Why do you call me 'Thomas'? Is it part of your plan? You used to call me Tom."

"What plan? Thomas is your name—it is more dignified than Tom—why will you be so—ram—ram—Thomas, is 'rambunctious' a real word?"

"Yes, indeed; so is foolish child, and darling, and goose, and blue stocking, and bride—and everything except Greek and too much learning, all nice pretty words for a professor's wife!" he announced fiercely.

"Thomas Chugsley," she said.

"What do you mean?"

"Oh, don't you understand, Frankie? I believed I was marrying a quiet, home-body little woman, who wouldn't put her pretty hair, or dig her nose into books—I've seen enough of them at the university. I have had my girl, after all. There was real despair to his voice, but the face of the "prof" calmly changed, and she gave a frigid little chuckle of delight.

"Using the Greek tragedy," she cried wickedly. "Let us save over to me, and I'll read that tragedy to you."

"He had the courage."

"Children of the century should have no fear of their mothers."

"I'm glad to hear that, Frankie, but you mustn't get any ideas about reading Greek to me. I'm not a child, and I'm not a woman."

"You're a woman, and you're a child, and you're a Greek tragedy."

DON'T FOOL YOURSELF

Wm. Wrigley didn't sell seven millions packages of Spearmint Chewing Gum the first day he put an advertisement in a newspaper, and neither did he quit advertising because times were dull, but today he sells seven millions packages of gum a day and spends ten thousand dollars a day advertising in order to keep the gum sales advancing. He is a persistent advertiser—for it pays.

Henry Ford had no sale for his automobile so long as the people of the country knew nothing of his car, but he has manufactured his 14,000,000 cars and sold them. Every newspaper and bill board in America carries Ford advertisements, and they pay big dividends to Mr. Ford.

Why do people spend their money at Mail Order Houses and in nearby towns—because of the power of advertising. If there were no advertisements sent here from outside towns all the people of the Lockney country would buy everything they had to buy in Lockney—but newspapers, circulars, catalogues and various other forms of foreign advertising is stealing the dollars right out of your pockets. You can stop a good per cent of this outflow of cash if you want to, and it is strictly up to you—what have you got to say about it.

THE REMEDY—The Lockney Beacon reaches more than 6,000 people in Floyd County, and it is read by every member of the family; it is the medium by which every merchant in Lockney can place his business before the people who are interested in Lockney and Lockney's country. Nicely prepared advertisements, announcing to the people what you have to sell and what the price of the articles are will prove to be a paying investment for you. Such advertisements will start the people to trading with you, and persistent advertising will keep them trading with you. For old friendship sake is a thing of the past, every sensible person makes every dollar count. You can better your volume of business by using the advertising columns of the Beacon in a sensible way—write your own ads and make them timely, telling the people what you have to offer and what you will sell it for. The Beacon is a real friend, and it will help you to get the most out of your business.

Family Reunion Held at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Williams
Last Friday evening three cars came to Lockney, bringing all of Mrs. Dee Williams' brothers and sisters, except one brother, T. G. Fields of Denver, Colo., who had arrived with his family almost a week before.

There are only seven in the family, as the parents are not living, and they are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Dee Williams of this city; Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Farmer of Hammon, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Field of Pine Bluff Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Field of Denver, Colo.; Ray Field of New York City; Miss Susie Field of Jonesboro, Ark.; and Miss Hazel Field of Hammon, Okla.

For the first time in thirteen years the family was together, numbering in all a total of twenty-six. Each family had their tents and beds, so it was not a problem to anyone to take care of such a bunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Farmer and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Field have gone to their respective homes, and T. G. Field and family are going to Amarillo, to find a location. Ray Field and Miss Susie Field are undecided what to do as yet, so will extend their visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Williams for a while. Miss Hazel Field accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Farmer to their home.

Miss Susie Field has been living in Lockney for about five years, but has been away attending school the past year.

Everyone had a great time while they were all together, and a sad parting when they began to leave. They all agreed to do their best to meet in Pine Bluff, Ark., next year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Field. They were together only three days this year, but expect a longer visit in the future.—Contributed.

chose from, and here he can raise the crops that he would rather farm and each crop is just as successful as the other. Here the wheat farmer can find a natural wheat country, the cotton farmer can raise a better crop of cotton with less effort and labor, here the feed farmer can raise more bushels of feed per acre than can be raised any where else in the whole of the United States, here alfalfa, millet and all kinds of hay crops grow in abundance, and this is known to be the best section of the country for these crops. All the smaller feed and row crops are grown here with the same success of the major feed cotton and small grain crops. As a truck farming country neither California, Florida, nor the Rio Grande Valley can surpass this section, however, this country has a decided advantage over these countries along the truck growing line, for here under every foot of soil we have water in abundance, and every farmer can own his own irrigation plant by digging his well and supplying it with a pump and further the supply is inexhaustible, a 60 to 80 foot well will supply the farmer with from 1,500 to 3,000 gallons of water per minute day in and day out, the water supply being limited to the size of the pump installed. The soil is from three to five feet deep all over the shallow water belt, and with this 96.6 pure water mixed with the soil and a little "gray matter" used in the mixing, the vegetable crops of the three above sections can be made to look like 30c with the three rubbed out. Still we are not through, there is the fruit crop, it is generally conceded by men that have inspected the grape crops of Maine, New York and California, that right here on the Plains can be grown better grapes to the acre than any where else in the whole country. Other fruits are prolific in this section, as just as much fruit can be raised as the grower might desire that would be graded according to his efforts put forth and the knowledge a man had of growing and caring for fruits.

The world is looking for a farming country without natural drawbacks, a place where the climate is ideal, where the soil is rich, where the water is pure and plentiful, and where the land is easy to cultivate and will produce in abundance, and where they can raise a diversified crop and not depend on one crop and take a chance.

Here the farmer who farms properly will have a nice bank account at all times, by planting a diversified crop, have a good pen full of cows, a nice bunch of hogs, and large flock of chickens. The farmer that does diversify, and does the dairy cows, the hogs and the chickens, is the farmer that never has to borrow money from the bank and always has some on deposit in the bank.

This is the end to which the new organization hopes to work, and such an organization should have the loyal support of every citizen of the Shallow Water belt.
