Our Stores Play Big Part of Future

Merchants Spend Time and Money to Bring Newest Creations, Inventions, Etc. for Your Approval

Have you ever noticed what a large part of the Lockney downtown or neighborhood store plays in your everyday life? Although you may never have thought of the store in this connection, yet when brought to your attention the close relationship is obvious.

The merchant, to be sure, is not a social secretary, yet ask a woman where she saw so-and-so, and she will invariably say at such-and-such a store. Shoppers urban or rural, expect to encounter their friends in the stores they visit. Shoppers lovers all class bars.

There is another light in which the merchant is seldom seen though always present and that is as the patron of progress, art, comfort, and invention. He is the first to bring to us the invention, the newest creation in art, the latest appliance or commodity for our comfort, aid, or amusement. The wonders that he brings us are not less amazing and dazzling than those collected from the four corners of the world by the merchant ships of medieval times. Even today how often is the modern store seen as a fairyland and palace of dream things.

The wags and wits have discovered a distinction between the definitions of "buying" and "shopping" but no such distinction is recognized by the merchants themselves. An antiquated and now discredited business motto was "make a sale before the customer leaves the store." Today businessmen do not jam their merchandise down your throat and drag your money out of your pockets. They welcome you into their places of business either as "buyers" or "shoppers." They show what they have for sale and they leave the sale to the customer. They encourage "shoppers" because every "shopper" is after all a buyer.

Your physician recommends a physical examination for every member of the family at stated intervals, dentists urge regular examination and cleaning of the teeth, the piano and the automobile are overhauled once a year. Why not a periodic tour of the home-town stores as an efficient and effective way of diagnosing the needs of the house and family?

By occasional visits to the stores one may find that little household utensil or appliance so long desired, or see just the right paper for the library walls and curtain material which will harmonize well in the living room. The hardware store will be found a regular storehouse of necessary conveniences and repair parts for the household. The only way to buy books is to see them on the book-store shelves. You can always find something you need at the department stores and more than one man on a chance visit to the men's shop has found a pair of trousers which will match that odd coat or vest.

WARING TO TRUCK DRIVERS

We have been asked by Sheriff P. G. Stegall to warn the foreign trucks that they must have their trucks registered in this state, or else they will have to pay a fine for operating them.

There are many trucks coming into the country now to haul wheat during the harvest, most from New Mexico and Oklahoma, and before these trucks can lawfully operate in the state they must have their trucks registered in the tax collector's office, if they operate in Floyd county, and as the sheriff does not want to arrest and fine these truckmen, he asks that they come in and register their trucks. However, all trucks found hauling grain or any other commodity in the county that has not registered, will be detained and a fine placed on the owner or operator for not complying with the state law. All truck owners from out of the state are asked to take this warning, and see to the registration of their vehicle at once.

REED WILL RUN FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Mr. Reed was mayor of Lockney for a number of years, and has had considerable experience in road and financial affairs of a municipality, which will fit him for the office of commissioner.

Mr. and Mrs. Truitt Hickey spent Saturday night and Sunday in Las Vegas, Mo., and other parts of New Mexico.

BRISCOE COUNTY AREA IS HIT BY SEVERE HAIL STORM

Silverton, June 25.—A severe hail storm swept a 6-mile strip in width across Briscoe county at dusk Friday doing from 50 to 100 per cent damage to the standing wheat. The damaged section lies just west of Silverton, and extends across the county in a south-westerly direction. The grain row crops were beaten out in like proportion, and the cotton was completely destroyed in the 6-mile path. Many of the wheat growers in that belt were fortunate enough to have completed their harvest, but scores of other individuals sustained complete losses.

In the rest of the county the harvest is in full swing, with good field and high test reported. A large percent of the wheat marketed here Friday tested 62 and 65. J. H. Burson, who is a large landholder northeast of Silverton, is making 40-bushels to the acre with an average test above 60.

REGISTRY MERIT TESTS UNDERWAY ON SOUTH PLAINS

Plainview, June 22.—Registry of Merit test work among the Jersey dairy herd was begun in Hale, Floyd, and Swisher counties this week under the supervision of E. C. Middleton from Texas Technological college. The work has been sponsored through the offices of County Agent R. M. Milhollin of Plainview.

FREE DELIVERY OF MAIL SECURED FOR FLOYDADA

Floydada, June 22.—Free delivery of mail will be started in Floydada, September 1, according to the information received by the Floydada Chamber of Commerce from the Post-office Department at Washington. Receipt of the same information from Marvin Jones, congressman from the 38th district, by several business men was also disclosed.

Preparations are now being made to have every citizen who resides in the territory to be served by the carriers to erect mail receptacles before the state time allowed by the department.

Two deliveries daily will be made by the carriers. Mail received from the east and north will be distributed in the early morning and that from other directions will be delivered in the afternoon. Practically the entire residence and business district is included in the territory to be served.

Free delivery of mail is a service the Floydada Chamber of Commerce has been seeking for a number of months. The recent development of the city and the increase in population led to the belief on the part of the chamber's officials that the service could be established. Increase in post office receipts, sidewalks, and population were all taken into consideration by the inspector.

PAPER IS TORN FROM WALLS OF ROOM BY WIND

Childress, Texas, June 24.—Childress experienced one of the most freakish storms in its history Friday night. The thermometer at the City National Bank here, which reports temperatures and other weather phenomena to the United States Weather Bureau, registered a sudden rise in temperature. The mercury rose from 89 degrees to 91 degrees in a few minutes.

At the same time a windstorm of considerable violence swept a limited area about two miles south of town. No one was injured, but the wallpaper in one room of the home of Frank Hudson was torn from the walls.

Members of the family, who were in another room of the house, said they heard a noise like an explosion, and when they investigated they found the wallpaper had apparently been pulled from the walls as if by a giant suction fan. The house otherwise was not damaged.

Harvest in Full Swing In Lockney Country

Heavy Yields Are Reported North of Lockney—Yields to South of Town Not So Good

The wheat harvest in the Lockney country is in full swing this week, and all wheat that is ready for the combine is being cut at this time. In nearly all of the fields north of the combine, and the yields are heavier in most business than in any other section of the county. Yields as high as thirty-five bushels to the acre have been reported by several farmers north of Lockney, and the average is going to be very good over that entire section of the county, perhaps averaging as much as twenty to twenty-five bushels to the acre.

To the south of town the yield is not so heavy, some reporting as low as six bushels per acre, and some running around twenty bushels per acre, and the average in this section is figured at about fourteen bushels to the acre.

The wheat acreage in this county is extra large this year, and the amount of bushels will be good when the harvest is completed. The test is very good, so we understand, some tests running extra good.

BANDITS ROB TRAIN AND WOUND ENGINEER, LOOT TOTALS $20,000

Pittsburg, Calif., June 22.—Train bandits who wounded the engineer and robbed the mail car of a Southern Pacific local near here today of $20,000, were sought tonight throughout Northern and Central California.

Armed with a machine gun and automatic pistols, five men succeeded in stopping the train, holding the train crew at bay and looting the mail car of registered mail.

Passengers aboard the train were driven from the coaches and lined up on the right-of-way. They were prevented from interfering by a bandit who fired his machine gun at those who attempted to make a false move.

The bandits made their escape in two automobiles, one of which was found burning several hours later near Concord, in the Berkeley Hills.

Pittsburg and Contra Costa county officers believed they had the robbers surrounded and that they would arrest them within a few hours.

J. H. Barnes, the engineer, of Oakland, was shot through the left shoulder by one of the men when he refused to back up the train to a point where one of the automobiles was stationed.

Physicians at the Martinez hospital said that Barnes' condition at present was not serious and would not be so unless complications set in.

The robbery was carried out with precision. Two of the men boarded the train at Bay Point. At a pre-arranged signal they sauntered to the rear of the train and forced the brakeman to pull the emergency stop signal.

The train drew to a stop several hundred feet beyond where the two men's accomplices were waiting in the automobile. The robbers then commanded Barnes to back the train. When he refused he was shot and one of the men jumped into the locomotive cab and backed the train to the desired spot.

The five men then fired shots in the air to warn the mail clerk and then forced G. A. Tyler of Oakland, who was stationed in the mail car, to open the compartment where registered mail was kept.

Two bundles known to have contained $16,000 were taken and six small pouches containing an undetermined amount of loot.

The men then dumped the water from the locomotive tender, to encourage the crew in giving an alarm, tossed the mail bags into an automobile and sped away.

It is presumed that the bandits were after the $150,000 payroll of the Columbia Steel Company of this city. The payroll, however, was received by company officials yesterday.

Leslie Floyd Buys Lockney Coal & Grain

Former Lockney Elevator Man Enters Business in Town Again; Now in Charge

A deal was consummated the past week between the Clooins Grain Co. of Fort Worth, owners of the Lockney Coal and Grain Co. and Mr. Leslie Floyd of this city by which Mr. Floyd became proprietor of the Lockney Coal & Grain Co. elevator and business in this city.

Mr. Floyd has taken over the business and will continue it under the name of the Lockney Coal & Grain Co., and will continue handling all kinds of grain, coal, and the Purina Chows.

Mr. Floyd needs no introduction to the people of the Lockney country, as for years he conducted an elevator and coal business in the town, and has been a resident of the town, and bought cotton here each fall for a number of years. He is thoroughly experienced in this line of business, and will be glad to serve the people of this section in the grain, coal, and feed lines.

Lockney Rotarians Win From Floydada Rotary

Enjoyable Game of Base Ball Was Played On Lockney Diamond Thursday Afternoon

The first game of base ball to be played between the Rotarian teams of Floydada and Lockney, was played on the Lockney diamond Thursday afternoon of last week, and Lockney was victorious, by a score of 12 to 8.

The editor was away on a fishing trip, therefore, was not present to give the affair a detailed write up. However, we understand that Lockney loaned Arthur Barker to Floydada, and the Floydada club says this was the reason they were defeated, as Barker played two innings for them and three innings against them, while playing on their team the entire five innings.

Artie Baker was quite lively at the beginning of the game, we understand, but he suddenly sat down, heard a rip, and thereafter he was so precarious that he could not do much ball playing.

The second game of the series is to be played at Floydada in the near future. Lockney is to set the date, and they are now waiting till all the bruises and the soreness goes out from the game just played before they swoop down on the Floydada club again.

SHOULD TEXAS COMMERCIALIZE ITS BEAUTY?

Mrs. Phebe K. Warner Tells Why Parks Should Be Established In Palo Duro

Phebe K. Warner
(Secretary Texas State Park Board)
Why not? Every other state is doing it. The nation is doing it. Most of our cities are doing it. Why not Texas? Haven't we any beauty worth placing on the scenic market.

What is beauty for? To hide away like our talents, never to be used, never to be developed, never to be made of any service or pleasure to the people? Just keep it all away back in the woods and canyons and mountains for the birds and wild animals.

Do you suppose that is what the Creator of all our marvelous scenery intended it for? What's the mission of beauty, no matter where it is, or what it is? Why do people want beautiful homes, and beautiful clothes and beautiful faces? Why do we like beautiful trees and yards and gardens, and birds and pictures and automobiles? Why, to use and enjoy and to help us sell ourselves to other people. Everybody believes in commercializing their beauty.

Everybody, it seems, but Texas. What are fair? Simply the bringing together the very best and most beautiful products of a county, state, nation or the whole world. What's the use of going to all the trouble of holding county and world wide fairs? There are only two worthwhile reasons. First to educate the people and the other reason is to sell our county, our state or our world to the people by commercializing its beautiful products.

Fifty years ago there was not a State or National Park in our nation. But there was just as much natural beauty in the nation then as now, and more, as much of our scenic wealth has been destroyed since then because no one appreciated it enough to take care of it. And it will be needed worse in another fifty years than it is today. And where will it be if it is not protected and preserved.

Fifty years ago there was not an automobile in this nation. There were next to no paved roads. A hundred and fifteen million people did not live on wheels in that day as they do today. The nation, nor any state in it, did not need a chain of transient homes then as now. But times and conditions have changed. And a great system of State and National Parks, camp sites, out-door rest rooms and pleasure resorts, has become a national necessity.

And what has happened in these past fifty years to meet this new demand of a restless, sight seeing, nature loving nation?

Today our nation owns, maintains and superintends more than twenty great national parks. Most of these parks are located in the western third of our nation. They cover five million acres of land. In one year, 1924, Congress appropriated $7,500,000 to build roads to and through these national parks. And the government has constructed the most beautiful hotels in our national parks to accommodate the people while they linger by making them just as comfortable and happy as they possibly can during their stay. With what result?

During the same year, 1924, that congress appropriated $7,500,000 to build roads to and through our national parks so that people could get to them and through them, 11,000,000 people registered in these parks during the three Summer months. If each visitor had left only one dollar in those parks, the government would have had their road bonds all paid for. And a neat little income extra. More than 300,000 automobiles passed through those parks that same year. And more and more are passing through every year. Has it paid, commercially for our nation to invest in its scenic glories?

And during the past few years twenty-five states have established a system of State Parks, owned and supported by the state. Do you wonder why the various states have established a system of state parks? Michigan leads the list with thirty state parks. Little Old Connecticut follow with twenty-five. New York has twenty-two. But all these states have paid millions of dollars for their parks. The State of New York has spent $40,000,000 on her state parks. But during a single summer 9,000,000 people visited one of her parks, the Palisades Interstate Parks on the Hudson. Even New Jersey with her 21 counties and her three million people has spent nearly 20 million dollars for state parks. Even Iowa, boasts of forty state parks with a total area of 7,000 acres. Get that you Texans. 7,000 acres in forty parks. About one good wheat field in the Texas Panhandle. And yet the total number of visitors to the six LARGEST of those parks is estimated at 3,750,000 persons each year. Some practical financier who believes in Iowa commercializing her beauty has said: "If each visitor would spend only 25 cents, the price of one average "movie" in the parks it would total a $2,800,000 business each year.

Now, the most natural question is, "What would the people do, and where would they go this very summer, if these state and national parks had never been developed and no roads had ever been built to and through them?" And to bring the thought a little nearer home what would our Texas people do and where would they go this summer and every summer and all the year round if some other state or the nation had not done any more to make a place for them to spend their vacation than Texas has done to build roads to and through and develop her own scenic wealth?

Well, it would just be too bad, and our Texas people would be forced to stay at home and save their $8,000,000 they spend sight seeing every year outside of Texas, or just go where they could walk and climb and sleep out of doors.

Why Colorado admits that three-fourths of their tourists every summer come from Texas. And there is only one great gate-way between Texas and Colorado and that is the Panhandle. And right here in our very midst is a canyon, as beautiful, as gorgeous, as wonderful in many respects as many of the places in Colorado. And our own people have been whizzing by it for fifty years, more and more and more of them every year, and not one move has the State of Texas made or one dollar been spent trying to make a road to and through the Palo Duro Canyon that the hundreds of thousands of Texas people and visitors from other states might be enabled to get a safe glimpse of its real beauty.

"How long, Oh Lord! How Long," will the people of Texas continue to drag their little children and the dog and the milk goat a thousand miles across the State and into some other river bottom, or canyon, or forest, or mountains to spend their vacation and their surplus cash instead of using their influence to help develop our own wealth of beauty and sell our own State to ourselves as others have sold their beauty to us?

Texas is rich in beauty and especially in her variety of beauty. And Texas had donated to her by her fine patriotic citizen what other states have paid millions of dollars to get. There is not another system of state parks in the world that holds within it more tender memories, more patriotism, more real State pride and love, more sentiment, than Texas State Parks System. Every State Park donated to Texas was a memorial to some brave pioneer, or soldier, or patriot, or beloved father or mother or child. There was more than beauty entwined in Texas State Park System. There was the big fine spirit of the pioneer Texan and the tenderest love of its most patriotic citizens. There is not another park system like it in this world.

Shall we save it and use it and enjoy it and build it up as a great memorial to our pioneers? Shall we make it a real commercial asset as well as an educational, social, civic and health asset to our State? Will we, the generation of citizens of this day, accept and preserve what our forefathers have made it possible for the pleasure of our children and all the grand children of the ages? Or shall we keep all our natural wealth stored away safely out of the reach and sight of even our own children while we go on investing in the civic beauty of every other state.

Is it fair for us to accept so much beauty and pleasure at the expense of our sister states and never offer them any thing but our cold cash in return for it? But our greatest privilege and our greatest duty would be to make our own Texas beauty accessible to our own people who can not afford to go in search of a good time in other fields.

most experienced driver would care to maintain!

Back of this exceptional performance is a brilliant array of engineering advancements—typified by a high-compression, non-detonating cylinder head... automatic acceleration pump... hot-spot manifold... semi-automatic spark control... and a heavier crankshaft, statically and dynamically balanced.

STABILIZATION FIRM SOUGHT FOR WHEAT

Washington, June 17.—Representatives of practically every wheat growing district in the United States in conference here have fairly well outlined the organization of a wheat stabilization corporation to take advantage of the new farm relief appropriations.

The conference began last week and will continue this week, but despite difficulties and disagreements which have been encountered, it now looks as though a nationwide organization would spring into existence, borrow $100,000,000 from the Federal Farm Loan Board created by the new law as soon as the body comes into existence, and tackle the job of carrying over the 1928 wheat crop surplus, now estimated to run at about 80,000,000 bushels.

"My anticipation now is that the wheat interests will be ready to start at the first chance," said Chester H. Gray, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

In the theory adopted tentatively by the wheat growers' representatives, the scheme of organization for the wheat stabilization corporation will partake of public utility character. Organizations of growers in all the wheat districts will be invited to participate in its activities on the basis of the amount of wheat they have to market. Its capital will be mostly supplied by the Government out of the $500,000,000 farm relief program.

Yesterday while a crowd at the Hereford landing field watched Kropff take off. He was sailing along behind a speeding automobile at an altitude of about 30 feet when a cross current of wind caused the machine to fall and crush him. He died 10 minutes after reaching a hospital.

AND THIS IS THAT THING CALLED "ELECTRICITY"

At last there is a satisfactory definition for electricity. The New York State Committee on Public Utility Information says:

"Electricity is something that starts in the Lord knows where and ends in the same place. It is 1-36 of a second faster on its feet than its nearest competitor, backyard gossip, and when turned loose in Europe it will get to the United States five hours before it starts. Nobody knows exactly what it is because it has never stood still long enough.

"Electricity is sometimes known as science gone crazy with the heat, and if you can understand its manoeuvres you can do anything with it except open a can of peanut butter at a picnic.

"Electricity was locked up in ignorance for centuries until Ben Franklin let it out with a pass key, and since then it has been putting off more new stunts than a pet monkey.

"With it you can start a conversation or stop one permanently, cook dinner, curl your hair, press your trousers, blow up a battleship, run an automobile or signal Mars, and many more things are being invented."

HELPING TO BUILD TEXAS

More than one-third of the cucumber acreage in the United States is in Texas this year with the early crop already beginning to move. The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates the United States cucumber acreage at 16,040 acres and that of Texas at 5,300, an increase of 600 acres over 1928.

To aid county and home demonstration agents to prepare better "copy" for their local newspapers the A. & M. College has arranged a contest among the agents and their writings will be criticized and judged by a group of Texas editors.

Working with the Texas Board of Water Engineers and the U. S. Geological Survey, the Army Aviation photographic section has made topographical maps of about 12,000 square miles of Texas.

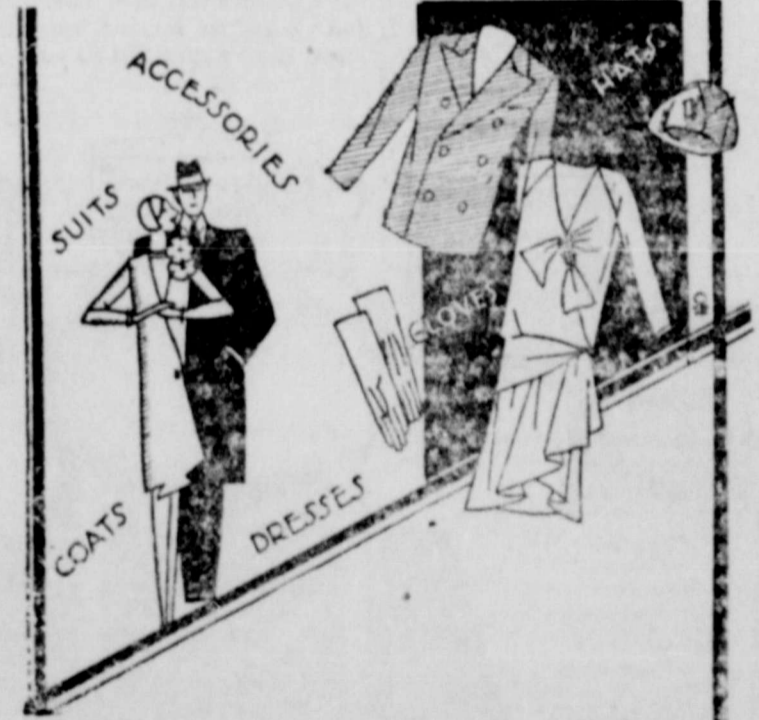

Texas chartered 228 corporations with capitalization of $8,297,000 in March as compared with 247 and $7,724,000 in March a year ago.

THE "LONG GREEN" ISN'T GOING TO BE AS LONG AS IT USED TO WHEN NEW MONEY APPEARS

Uncle Sam's Currency Will Be Easier to Recognize—But Just as Hard to Get

Washington, June 25.—Just as hard to get as ever, but lots easier to recognize once you get it. That's the new money Uncle Sam will spring on his citizens early in July. The presses in the government's great money factory at Washington—the Bureau of Printing and Engraving—has been grinding it out for months. It's smaller than the old money—maybe it will slip through the fingers easier—and it's lots simpler. It has such a neatly through-out set of designs and such a uniformity in its printing that nobody according to U. S. Secret Service experts, ought ever to be fooled again by counterfeit currency. Under the present system, the different kinds of money in circulation have produced different kinds of bills for each denomination. One dollar bills for instance are silver certificates, promises to pay or federal reserve notes. All look different—though all mean just a dollar apiece.

One Design for Each Under the new system, however, each denomination will be distinctive. And will be limited to one design.

The one-dollar bill for instance, bears a picture of Washington on one side, and has the word "one" spelled out in big letters on the back. That's so nobody can take a dollar bill, alter the figures in the corners and pass it for a ten—as light-fingered gentlemen do, now and then, with the present money. The "one" on the back stands out like a sore thumb on the new money.

Similarly, the two-dollar bill is to bear a picture of Thomas Jefferson, with a picture of Jefferson's home, Monticello, on the back. Thus, hereafter when you get a bill with a picture of Jefferson on it, you'll know it's a two, no matter what the figures happen to say.

The five will bear the picture of Lincoln, with the Lincoln Memorial on the back.

The ten will have Hamilton's picture with the treasury building on the back. This, by the way, represents quite a come down for that famous secretary of treasury; in the old system he adorned the $100 gold certificates and federal reserve notes.

The twenty will have Andy Jackson on one side and the Capitol on the other.

That $10,000 Bill The hundred will bear the frugal Ben Franklin's picture, with Independence Hall on the opposite side. Probably that's a wise idea—any man who accumulates a hundred dollars must necessarily be frugal.

Perhaps it isn't any use telling anybody but bankers and such like folks what the higher denominations will look like; but the job might as well be finished. Know, then, that the $500 bill will carry McKinley's face; the $1000 bill will be adorned with the likeness of Grover Cleveland; and the $5000 bill by a picture of James Madison, and the $10,000 bill the highest denomination issued by a picture of Salmon P. Chase. These gentlemen accordingly, and especially Mr. Chase will be strangers to most of the populace from this time on. And what did Mr. Chase ever do for his country? Why, he was secretary of the treasury under President Lincoln.

Treasury department official's figure that it will be relatively easy for people to memorize the faces on the lower denominations and thereby protect themselves against money-raisers. There's an added safeguard, however. All bills below the $500 denomination spelled out, in ornate letters, on the back.

Thus, if you get a bill marked $500—congratulations!—with a picture of the Lincoln Memorial on the back, you'll know right away that somebody has been cheating somewhere.

Money Making Big Job Making new bills is a long and hard job.

All bank notes are printed, from steel plates, and there are only a few very highly skilled workmen in the country, who can make steel engravings. Furthermore, there isn't any engraver anywhere who has skill enough to make a whole plate. Each man is a specialist in some feature; by the time the plate is finished it has been through the hands of a half dozen men, each one concentrating on a border, a face, a building, or some other particular part.

You'll understand why issuing a new note is a long process when you learn that one skilled engraver, using a fine diamond tipped tool, will spend months over a single detail like the face of Lincoln on a $5 bill. When he has done his job, the uncompleted plate is sent to another man who specializes in putting on borders around the picture. This man's job finished, the plate goes to a third man who is good at putting on the letters.

Thus the job is exceedingly tedious and painstaking—and, by the same token, it's really impossible for a really perfect counterfeit to be made.

Counterfeits Show Smudges The printing of the notes from these plates is also an extremely delicate process. The job has to be done just so in order to get a perfect outline. Nearly all counterfeit notes, in addition to their other defects, show smudges in the outlines.

The new currency will be 2 9/16 inches wide by 6 1/4 inches long. The old money is about three inches wide and seven inches in length.

The old money will be recalled by the government as the new money is issued and it is expected that all of the former will be out of circulation by fall.

Oh, yes, there is one more point about the new bills to remember. Being made of tougher paper than the old ones, they will stand wear and tear and folding better and will last lots longer. Provid-d of course that you can keep your hands on them.

THIRD SESSION OF LEGISLATURE SEEMS LIKELY

Moody to Veto Appropriation Bills Unless Kept In Limits

Austin, June 24.—When it became known Monday that the rural aid appropriation would be $5,500,000 and that the total appropriations against the next year's income would exceed $50,000,000, it was said that Governor Dan Moody would veto the whole schedule of money measures and immediately recall the Legislature with an admonition to stay within the revenues. The Governor was quoted Monday as having delivered that ultimatum.

The four general appropriation measures, all but one agreed to in conference, will call for a minimum of $43,500,000. To that must be added the $1,500,000 appropriated in the regular and special sessions, chargeable to the income of next year, emergency amounts of $250,000, claims and accounts of approximately $1,000,000 supplemental rural aid and high school tuition of $450,000, any number of smaller special appropriations amounting to $500,000 and the rural aid for the next two years of $5,500,000. This would make the minimum total now in prospect $52,450,000, or $7,000,000 more than the Governor's estimate of the available revenue for the two years. He can not reconcile the huge difference and has given warning that if the total appropriations reach $50,000,000 he will veto all bills and recall the Legislature with the request that it stay within the income and not plunge the state into debt.

Would Start July 3 If the Governor was serious in his threat the third called session will re assemble July 3 and immediately start on the money bills. The amounts given do not include the $250,000 asked for the Alamo land purchase, the $400,000 for the David Crockett memorial and other amounts for various purposes, some of which may get thru and help swell the already frowning total.

In his address to the House the Governor used the maximum State tax rate of 35c for general purposes and said with emphasis that the net amount available from it would not exceed about $45,500,000. Since then he has been quoted as having said that if the total appropriations went to $50,000,000 he would veto the entire list of money bills and send them back to an immediate session.

Already the appropriations have been long delayed and the delay is embarrassing to educational institutions as they are not able to make contracts with faculty members, causing many instructors to leave because of the uncertainty of their salaries. The next fiscal year begins Sept. 1, and the Legislature could not postpone making the appropriations beyond that date as the State would have no money for its operation. Appropriations must be made not later than August and thirty-day delay would avail little, therefore an immediate session will be called if all appropriations are vetoed, it was declared Monday night.

It's Happened Before There is precedent for action of that kind. A former Texas Governor vetoed all the money bills and immediately reassembled the Legislature to pass them again, but with totals reduced to stay within the revenues. The Twenty-Fifth Legislature passed the appropriation bills and adjourned sine die May 21 at 3 p. m. Gov. Charles A. Culberson vetoed the money bills and called the members back the next day.

Governor Culberson's preamble to his proclamation convening the special session fits the present situation exactly. It recited that "whereas the said Legislature has failed to make appropriations for support of the State Government for the next two years and for other useful purposes within the revenue to be collected for that period," and he tendered the subject of appropriations.

Prospective appropriations of this Legislature are far more than the revenues exacted and in much greater ratio than at that time. It was further said Monday that if the Governor vetoes all the bills with an immediate session called, he will tender the subject of taxation with a recommendation that if the Legislature is determined to appropriate sums above the present revenues, it provide for the additional income. That would permit a State income tax bill as discussed by the Governor in his address to the Legislature when he talked of State finances. New sources of income would be sought as well as an increase in some of the present levies, such as on minerals mined in Texas. Since the Senate killed the bill to provide for the regulation of public utilities, that also probably would be one of the subjects given to another special session. The measure has been killed three times by this Legislature, but the Governor is known to be determined to urge its enactment and even has hinted that he would go on the stump and take his fight for it to the people.

KNOW TEXAS Conservative estimate is that Texas' wealth is increasing at the rate of more than $1,000,000 a day. Texas leads the Southern States in income tax payments. Building permits in eleven Texas cities since 1920 totaled $725,000,000. Band debits of 15 leading centers in Texas average $950,000,000 a month. In 1920 the average of the same cities was $700,000,000 a month. Resources of Texas building and loan companies are $100,000,000—a 1300 per cent increase since 1920. There is $2,500,000,000 life insurance in force in Texas now, an increase of $1,750,000,000 since 1920. In one week recently over 2,000,000 pounds of wool were sold at Del Rio at an average price of 33c a pound. Building permits in Texas for April totaled $18,887,000 with 36 per cent of it residential.
