

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Club women of Floyd County are circulating petitions for and against the Home Demonstration Work. I am so full of the subject that I can not contain myself no longer and must bring this message to the Public.

We are not asking for a rise in taxes to cover this $800 a year that must be paid out of County funds to the Agent. We are asking for a more fair distribution of funds now being budgeted and I will try and show just how this can be done.

But first I want to clear up some things even in the minds of club women. Because the last two agents Floyd County had did not successfully put across the Extension Service program is not proof that the Service work is wrong. Oh no! If you have a school teacher that is not putting over your school program do you close down your schools and say, "we are not getting any good out of our schools, we will just stop trying." Of course not. You fire that teacher and keep on hiring until you get the right one for your particular needs. Also if you are not satisfied with the school program you take steps to get together and work that program out to your own satisfaction. Now the Extension Service work is an Educational Program and it is up to us to get together, find out just what our County does need and want and we will get it. College Station, Lubbock Tech, and Canyon are all anxious and willing that we do get this service.

Now to get down to brass tacks: Do you know that the County Court took $40.00 a month that had been going toward the salary of a County Agent and divided it between two offices which had never had a salary before and who had run strictly on the merit of the fees in that office. Now I am sure these gentlemen are worthy of a salary, but they benefit only Floydada and Lockney personally. Now was this really reducing the taxes of Floyd County? No, and I say the Court should put that money where it will do the County more good.

Out of the 150 families under our administration of the Red Cross work in the North of the County, not one name was a member of a Home Demonstration Club. Let's bring back the work and make a united stand to get every farm home in Floyd County interested in a Live at Home, proper at home program.

Now another very important item: Last month our Commissioners Court paid out $224. feed bill for our prisoners! $224 per day for a prisoner, and I see by the Mesparian where last week they raised the Ante to 75c per day. How many families in Floyd County have 75c per day to feed the entire family? Even counting full value on Canned products. The Army feeds their boys on 43c a day. Should a prisoner be better fed than our Army boys? In asking for a raise in the Ante for each prisoner I understand it is because the price of food stuff has advanced. I haven't heard much about turnips and turnip greens going up. If beans and flour are too expensive then give them turnips and corn-pone. The Government estimates that a man should be able to support a family of five on $15 per month and pay all fuel, rent and clothing bills. How does this compare with $23.50 per month it takes to just feed one prisoner. Folks I ask you again, is it right? Is it just to the Farmers of Floyd County?

Now there are some of the Older organized Clubs of Floyd County who feel that they have derived their good from the work and so are indifferent as to whether it be retained or not. All right, but remember, there are just as many communities that have never been touched by the work. Let's be neighborly and help extend the service to them. The County taxpayers are having to pay State and Federal tax anyway and that money is going out now to help maintain the work in other parts of the State.

Do you know that the 4-H Club girl receives High School credit for Club work? And what girl in High School Home Economics Department learns how to raise chickens, hogs and calves scientifically and then can them just as scientifically?

How many learn the fundamentals of home beautification by their own personal efforts at a negligent cost? How many learn the rudiments of Motherhood and home making? How to be wise healthy wives and Mothers?

That is the Extension program for the girls and what a glorified program it is.

Now fellow citizens, I plead with you to think over these things and sign our petitions for the work. So letting the Commissioner's Court know that you too, feel that a rearrangement of funds can be made that will benefit more people and be more fair than the Budget as made out by the Commissioner's Court of 1932.

Cotton Destroying Farmer to Receive Payment in Full

Millions of dollars in credit payments to cotton farmers and wheat farmers for agreements to curtail their production will be freed under a policy made public Tuesday by Henry Morgenthau Jr., governor of the farm credit administration, after approval by President Roosevelt.

Under it payments will be made to cotton farmers who agreed to plow up from 25 to 50 per cent of their growing crops, without requiring deductions for amounts they owe the Government for seed and crop production loans.

Also would be included feed loans of the regional agricultural credit corporations which do not bear indorsements by third parties and have not been discounted by Federal intermediate credit banks.

Morgenthau said a similar policy will be pursued in the case of payments to be made this fall to wheat farmers for agreements to reduce their acreage planted for harvest in 1934 and 1935.

About $90,000,000 is scheduled for distribution to wheat farmers and $110,000,000 to cotton farmers, checks for the latter having been held up pending the outline of policy.

Will Not Waive Letns.

Morgenthau said in cases where they are not authorized to waive liens upon crops given the Federal land banks and rediscounted by the Federal intermediate credit banks, or in cases of loans made by the regional agricultural credit corporations bearing indorsements of third parties and rediscounted by the credit banks.

He said a debtor farmer in the case of seed, feed and crop production loans will be expected, but not compelled to liquidate a fair proportion of his debts if his circumstances are such that he can do so.

Where the farm credit administration has a claim against the farmer, the benefit check will be made out jointly to the farmer and the administration.

Morgenthau said in cases where the policy permits the release of payments, field agencies will have instructions to indorse the checks for payment upon presentation.

It was estimated that cotton farmers owe the Government and its agencies $40,000,000, of which most is in the form of seed and crop production loans. Wheat farmers owe a larger amount, variously estimated up to $65,000,000.

Policy Is Explained

Morgenthau's announcement came after approval of the policy at a meeting of the Cabinet advisory board.

"The Government agencies affected can not legally go further than this," he said, "in liberal and lenient treatment to the farmer-borrowers who are co-operating in the crop reduction program.

"In the case of other classes of debts in which Government lending agencies are concerned there are private interests involved which the Government agencies have no power to waive.

"These include liens upon crops given to the Federal land banks as security for interest or principal payments in default on mortgage contracts and notes originally given to banks and loan corporations and rediscounted by the Federal intermediate credit banks.

In the former case, the land banks must consider their obligations to their bondholders, and in the latter case the rights of both of individual indorsers and owners of debentures of the intermediate credit banks must be considered."

AUDIT GIVES OFFICERS OF COUNTY CLEAN SLATE

The report of Rankin & Company, Houston auditors, on the financial affairs of Floyd County and the individual officers thereof, who served during 1932 was accepted Wednesday by the Commissioners' Court. It was received by Judge J. W. Howard last week-end and members of the court and officers have given it study since its receipt.

The affairs of every officer were indicated as in good condition, and less than half a dozen clerical errors were found in the year's business. Members of the court came in for a compliment at the hands of the auditing company who state that the financial affairs of the county, handled in such a manner as to keep the county on a cash basis during 1932 were undoubtedly in capable hands.

Basis For Budget

Tabulations of last year's expenditures for all purposes by funds forwarded along with the audit report will be used as a basis for the budget that will be made up this fall to submit to the taxpayers in public hearing, the date for which has not been set at this time.

The report was accepted Wednesday and filed. The cost of the audit and budget set-up was $300.—Floydada Hesperian

NRA EAGLE, OR "BLUE HAWK" BORN IN THE AIR

The blue eagle that will display its wings at all establishments co-operating with the president for industrial recovery was born in the air.

Summoned in a hurry call to Washington, the artist boarded an airplane and, while roaring to the capitol, he drew two rough sketches of what he conceived the president of the United States wanted as the emblem of his recovery plan.

Charles T. Colner, art director of N. W. Ayer & Son, Inc., of Philadelphia, was the artist who satisfied both Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, recovery act administrator, and the president.

One of his two sketches was selected and after completing the detail work it was rushed to the printer in order that the emblem might be distributed on time. Johnson refers to it as "My Blue Hawk."

Colner's opinion of his national recovery "badge of honor," is that it represented a departure from the traditional and has about it certain modern tendencies which he feels are significant in this government insignia in the past have adhered largely to tradition.

PAY FOR PRISON FEED RAISED 10c PER DAY

A dime a day per prisoner was allowed Sheriff E. S. Randerson as a rise in the price allowed by the Commissioner's Court for food served wards of the county this week.

Whereas the sheriff has been receiving 65 cents per day for the past several months, the new rate of pay will allow him to charge 75 cents effective August 15. Cost of food supplies, the official has increased and the new prices is set to offset this additional expense.—Floydada Hesperian.

ALUMINUM HATS ARE WORN BY FUTURISTS

MILAN, Italy—Futurist hats are being shown here through the efforts of Filippo Marinetti and other futurist artists. They are exclusively for men's wear and made not only of felt and straw but of celluloid, tin plate and aluminum, possibly to be the better worn with aluminum ties.

The most colorful one is a celluloid fitted with small electric bulbs which can be varied to please the wearer's mood. This type is recommended for dark country roads. A sun hat is in cork and dome shaped made of layers which are connected with tiny pigzags "hemstitching" of cork, giving unlimited air for the hair. This is designed to please Italians who have altogether discarded hats and thereby brought a national industry to the brink of ruin.

SAILOR COLLARS BACK BROADER THAN EVER

PARIS.—Old fashioned sailor collars are here again. The new designs are broader than ever, often standing two inches off each shoulder to give the broadened shoulder effect now in vogue.

One designer shows a black crepe street frock with a detachable sailor collar of white shaved lamb as a wrap. Another displays a sports frock of beige shantung with a sailor collar of navy blue poplin.

HERE'S NEW ACCESSORY: METAL RING SCARFS

PARIS.—Metal ring scarfs are a new accessory trick for women who want "something different." They are made of shimmering metal wire as fine as a thread and are fashioned by linking dollar sized circles together to form a rectangular piece broad enough to cover the shoulders. The head is thrust through a square in the center. The scarfs are most effective when worn over black.

SMART CLOTHES FOR COLLEGE GIRLS

East or west—north or south... It matters not young woman, in which direction you will soon be trying your wings. What really matters is—are you taking smart clothes along to accompany that clever brain of yours? If it is your first year away at college, I know you will never be more a flutter than you are right now in this business of selecting your wardrobe.

Watching the rise in prices, in the Eastern markets and knowing that prices here will necessarily follow in our retail stores, my one admonition to you is "shop early!" You'll save yourself some shiny coins for spending this winter. Besides all that, you will avoid that well known last minute rush that always sends any girl away peepish and wishing that there was no such month as September. That's no way to make your appearance on any campus!

No doubt you are in a state of excitement over the new woolsens. You have a right to be. There have never been such lovely ones for frocks and suits and coats. Smooth as silk; smartly ribbed; softly rubbed; woven loosely with angora run through—there are many, many intriguing wool fabrics. Then I wonder if you have caught that idea of contrast that runs through the whole fashion picture. Shiny surfaces against dull—the combination of satin and velvet satin and wool; wool and leather trims; dullfabrics with fur sheen for trim—and also the note of color contrast with plaids worked in effectively with solids. The same note of contrast is shown in footwear. Suede with leathers are the lead giving dull tone against shiny.

Wool is your leader for sports and street clothes: satin goes from afternoon through the dinner hour; velvet stands as the favorite for formal wear with satin and wool combinations and crepes and laces also being shown. Suede combinations and polished crocodile go for shoes and bags with your sports and street clothes and felts for hats: the gloves should be suede. The smartest active sports shoes choose scuffed leathers. The accessories for satin should be satin gloves, shoes and hats. For the velvet gown and satin combinations, there are also crepe and satin combinations, to be dyed.

The suit is one of the outstanding fashions of this season. You may have it with frock and long swagger coat; with skirt blouse or sweater and swagger coat—or with skirt short jacket and long coat. Where the suit takes a blouse, the blouse goes in for contrast. A black satin blouse was noted with a rust colored suit; gray suits are taking plum colored and green blouses. The sweaters that the accompanying suits are very light-weight and the smartest have high round necks, resembling the turtle neck, only not so high as to show itself above the coat collar. Some of the newest suits have plaid linings and scarfs. There is also the combining of fur with fabric in new ways. A wool skirt and sweater may have a cardigan of wool banded with the same fur that makes the swagger coat to accompany it.

Up until this time we have had no President that talks to the big industrialists like President Roosevelt does. He is having a little trouble in getting the industrialists to line up with him in his recovery program. But they are going to line-up, and you can put that down on your cuff. Take the soft coal men for instance. He called them into Washington. They were under the impression they were being invited to a conference, but it proved to be a lecture, and Roosevelt was the man that delivered the lecture. He told them "that they were in a new age, but they did not seem to realize it. That the Government was going to see this thing through, and if you don't behave and co-operate we will be compelled to make you do so. Labor troubles in your industry have done more to promote Communism in the United States than anything else, and I will give you forty-eight hours to sign up." Then he concluded by saying "Good day gentlemen." Not a single one that attended this lecture was permitted to say a word. They got up and filed out of the room like so many school kids. They were mad, plenty mad, but there was no back-talk. It takes nerve to talk to big industrialists like that, but we have a man at Washington that has the nerve and plenty of it, and it is right to the reverse what we have been accustomed to.

And now the Republican leaders are stepping forth and predicting that the NRA program will fail. What else could you expect from the leaders of this party. Of course they are going to throw cold water on the proposition. They don't want to see any feathers stuck in the cap of the Democratic party. But they are mighty poor politicians when they want to see our country continue steadfastly in the grip of the depression. We fail to see where they get any pleasure out of seeing our people go hungry, naked and cold as they have the past three years. They are of the opinion that President Roosevelt has bit off more than he can chew. We admit it would be a pretty big bit for a Republican president to chew, but not so with a man like Roosevelt who has chewing qualities equal to a rock crusher. It is going to take Democrats, Republicans, Socialists and Liberals to put the NRA program over, and we are glad to note that all are falling in line with the exception of a few outstanding leaders of the various parties. This is not a party proposition, it is designed to help humanity and all should be interested. Of course all know the G. O. P. is the champion of big business, and the next election they no doubt will begin the old war cry of "government in business."

A majority of the members of the Senate met in Dallas Saturday to discuss the Relief Bond issue. Assurance was given the public that the administration of the $20,000,000 fund, if the bonds are voted, will be of the highest type. The bond issue, if authorized Saturday, will be in the hands of the Legislature, and that body will prescribe the rules and set up the machinery for spending the money. This should be reassuring to the people of the state of Texas. The agreement as reached in the Dallas meeting constitutes a promise by the Legislature that it will safeguard the expenditure of the funds and thereby dispose of the apprehension which is being held by many citizens that the money might be squandered here and there and do no good. This fear alone has stood out as one of the great factors threatening the success of the amendment Saturday. With all of these doubts cleared away, there remains no reason why Texans should not march to the polls Saturday and discharge the obligation to fellow citizens in distress by voting for the Relief Bond issue. These bonds will not be retired by a direct tax on real estate but rather a special tax that will bear as lightly as possible upon the public.

Well at last we have got Herbert Hoover located, he is at his home in Palo Alto, California. The grand jury at Detroit, Michigan located him. He is wanted as a witness in Detroit that has to do with the closing of Detroit's two big national banks last February. Senator Couzens of Michigan is also before the jury and made a declaration that the federal government knew of the "deplorable conditions" in the First National Bank of Detroit as early as May 1932. But because "the powers that be were not anxious to start an epidemic of bank closings in a political year," the senator asserted, only a moderate write-down of the bank's loss was ordered at that time. It seems that Mr. Hoover told one of the directors that Mr. Couzens was a very dangerous man, so now the senator wants Hoover to come to Detroit and tell the jury just how dangerous he is. Well anyhow, we have Hoover located and we will try to keep posted from time to time just where he is and what he is doing. It takes a grand jury to bring a fellow out of hiding.

Some time back when President Roosevelt first advocated his forestry camp campaign he was given the horse laugh by Republicans, but he went right ahead with the plan and now there are about 314,000 boys in the camps and the program is going over in a big way. Seventy-five per cent of their salaries go to their families, who in most cases were on charity rolls over the country. This money is spent for necessities of life, thereby causing more employment for someone else. The boys in the camps must eat so they consume about 1,000,000 carloads of foodstuff a month. That is creating more business and putting more people to work. This man Roosevelt can see a long way in the future, and the short-sighted ones that make fun of his plans invariably get the tables turned on them—then who furnishes the comedy for the country? Some people should be listening when they are talking.

Of all the unjust laws fostered upon the newspaper people of the country is the one that was passed a year ago and put into effect by the post-office department that requires postmasters to notify newspaper publishers of the change of address of one of their subscribers and charge 2c for the notice. Then the postoffice department is continually sending out notices of one sort and another and requesting the postmaster to hand it to the local publisher and ask him to publish it "without expense to the department, as no money is available to pay for same." Most publishers do not have "money available" to pay for the notices of change of address of subscribers, but we have to dig it up some way or another. It is an unjust law, folks, it sure is.

Government checks to cotton farmers for reduction of their cotton acreage will be mailed from the department of agricultural at Washington at the rate of 50.5 per day. The checks will be sent to county agents for distribution. Floyd county checks should soon begin to arrive and distributed. This money will come in at a mighty good time, just when our farmers are running low on ready cash and just before cotton picking time.

At this time it seems that Texas will go wet in the election Saturday which will be a hard pill for most of us to swallow, but it looks as if we are going to have it rammed down our throat. The dry forces have no one to blame but themselves. When the Eighteenth Amendment became a law the dry forces of Texas quit right then and there and assumed the attitude that "we have the proposition sewed up for all time to come, the battle has been won, we can now rest on our laurels." The position was taken that the law would be enforced by the law enforcement officers and the United States would be as dry as the Sahara Desert. Prohibition organizations disbanded and called it a day. But on the other hand the wet forces were not whipped, they made their organization a little stronger, put more money into their organization and kept right on fighting for the return of beer and liquor. Their day arrived when the National Democratic platform was being constructed in 1932. They had a plank inserted that called for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. That plank stayed "put" and up until this time 22 states have voted for repeal of the amendment. The "warriors" in the ranks of the prohibition forces woke up to the fact that another battle must be fought, but they were not as young as they once were, they had neglected to train new soldiers to fight for the cause. They were disorganized and the enemy a sweeping through their ranks wherever they are met. Yes, a grave mistake was made, and it seems at this time there is nothing to do but to get another volunteer army together within the next few years and stage another battle of battles, and then when the battle is won, keep on fighting.

WOMAN'S COLUMN By Jeane Suits

Hello everybody this is me again for a brief period, in fact very brief, for the big boss is howling for more copy.

Do you know how to fly or display the Texas or United States Flag? If you do not, then you have neglected your knowledge of loyalty and reverence to your state and country for what could be less respectful than a hap-hazardly flag hung from a pole.

When flown from a staff and displayed in horizontal position the white stripe of the Lone Star Flag should be uppermost. When hung vertically against a background the white stripe should be placed to the right. When hung in midair the white stripe should be placed to the north or east. These same rules are followed in the flying or displaying of the national flag, the blue field of the flag being placed uppermost.

Be a fortune teller and reveal the past, present, and future of the people with whom you come in contact daily. Ah! you are saying this cannot be accomplished without some supernatural power but that is where you are mistaken for all of this may be foretold through one's hands. No, you do not have to be a palmist but rather a close observer of nature and its strange truths. Here is the secret: Slender, tapering, fingers and nails suggest poise, race dignity, lover of music and musical talent, and a reserved nature. Little short stubby fingers remind one of a person who is brimming full of mirth, joy, laughter, a good natured and jolly good sort of fellow who does not care for formality but is rather attached to the idea of being free and at liberty. Sallow scrawny fingers may mean ill health or it is that particular type of personality which craves possession and clutches at the riches of the world and crushes out all goodness. Then there is the hard horny hand which has labor written in every line. Small hands are as capable of as much work as the larger ones, for it is not the size but the ability which counts. Beware of the delicate protected hand, for of hardships it knows not!

Boy, Oh boy and what hot games of soft ball we have here south of the office every afternoon. The Rotary Club certainly started something when they organized a team. A girls team is now in full swing and don't forget they can really "knock out" all opposition. The business men have also been playing lately. It looks as if this is to be the outstanding diversion for a spell. From 2 to 3 games are played every afternoon about 5 o'clock. Come out and get an eye full of professional playing on a big scale.

When Roy W. Swenson, of Chicago, offered to give his wife a cemetery lot in lieu of alimony she told the court she would take it on one condition—that her husband promise to use it within 30 days.

Here are a few helpful hints that may save you many a worry: Smear butter over cheese to prevent it from drying. Cold potatoes used instead of soap will clean the hands and make the skin soft and smooth.

A teaspoon of cold water added to the white of an egg before beating will give you double quantity of meringue. Pongee must be dry before ironing or else it will streak or spot. A lump of camphor stored with silver will keep the silver bright.

That's all for this time. Call around to the office this next week and I'll tell you something which will make you mouth fly open in astonishment. Really!

DID YOU KNOW

No matter what you accomplish there is always somebody who will criticize? More than likely that person who finds fault is not capable of doing half the things you are huge funds raised by the interests that seek to profit by the sale of intoxicants at the expense of the poor they have been enabled to buy full pages in the great dailies and we have had largely to depend upon such independent papers as yours for our chance to discuss the issues before us.

A prediction from us as to the outcome would not be of any value and would not change the result one iota but it looks as if the Lone Star State may again assert her independence of these outside interests seeking to dominate her course in this election and will vote against the sale of beer in her borders as well as for the support of the Eighteenth Amendment.

We submit that the forces behind the repeal of our dry laws would create a huge slush fund to repeal any the remainder of our laws if it produced them a reduction in the alcohol taxes and as well an opportunity reap huge profits from the business this created.

When the full facts are known of this history of this campaign is written as it will be it will be shown that millions have been thrown into the balance against these laws to restrict and prevent the sale of alcohol to the people by the authority of the State, and the State can have such authority as the voters exercise their votes, thus making them responsible individually for the wreckage of manhood or womanhood that occurs as a result of their votes.

Their cry just now of revenue for the government is dishonest as they have already raised the income tax but the law is not yet operative, they are now promising the rich if they will bring the legal sale of alcohol back that the revenue from same shall be used in the place of increased income taxes so rather than revenue for the government is revenue to keep from paying income taxes and we pause to ask you how much will the revenue from reduce your income tax.

They claim for beer that it is intoxicating when they know it is false. Congress might decide that the moon is made of butter but would that make it true. If it should so declare would these people in Floyd County who claim beer is intoxicating stand for their bitter moon? Some of them would so convince.

The brewers wanted a strong alcoholic content and said beer would sell if the alcohol was taken out of it and they were right and correct which was dominated by them when they wanted, but must confirm it by our votes?

It is the alcohol that makes beer and extract it and beer would be more than dishwasher and who drink it?

It is an attempt to educate the young generation to drink just as have educated many of them to cigarettes and with the radio and press to advertise it every advocate must admit that the sale is doubled and quadrupled soon.

Let us urge the drys to vote sentiments. They have not voted their states but let them vote in county and we will show them in county.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Dear Editor:—We desire first of all this week to thank you for the fairness shown the prohibition cause in allowing our committee to discuss freely the issues before us as to the Repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and the legalisation of beer here in Texas. This spirit of fairness has not been shown by all the press and with the

The subject Sunday morning, will be the last statement of the Apostles' Creed, "I believe in life everlasting." This will be the last of a series of sermons on the Apostles' Creed. We have tried to help every one to appreciate our Creed. As stated in the beginning a man without a creed, is a makeshift. He cannot be a real man. The word "creed," means, "I believe." Belief, comes from an old Saxon word, meaning, "The thing I live by." Tell me what you believe, and I will tell you what you are. The men who believe, do things: Discover, invent, construct, build. The man who believes nothing, does not amount to anything. He does nothing. If a man believes in God, he will regulate his life accordingly. His conception of God, will determine his life. In the presence of God. His conception of the Church, will determine his attitude, and service to the church. I feel that I am a better Christian after having studied carefully each statement of the Creed.

We invite you to hear us discuss the closing statement of the creed Sunday morning. With all my soul, I believe in life everlasting.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

Sunday School 9:45 G. D. Tate, Supt.
Preaching at eleven by the pastor B. T. S. 7:30, Mrs. Silas Ellis, General Director Preaching at 8:30 by Rev. Douglas Carver of White Deer.
The pastor is happy to be at home again and among his members and friends after a five weeks absence in meetings at Hale Center, Fieldton and Spur. The five weeks were rather strenuous from physical standpoint but very enjoyable and profitable from a spiritual standpoint. We did our best to try and be of service to our Lord in these various towns and at the same time helpful to the churches and on going of the Kingdom work. There were over 100 who took a definite stand for the Master in the three meetings and the Holy Spirit worked in matchless power His wonders to perform. Men under deep conviction of sin came to the place they would stay away from service rather than take a stand for Christ and righteousness.

Sunday is the first day of our fall meeting and the harvest will be to a great extent just what the membership makes it. May each of us resolve in our heart that we will not miss a service day or night and that our influence will be such as to lead men to Christ. The pastor is desirous that every member of the church living here locally will attend as much of the revival as possible for we know that even the membership needs to be revived at times.

The evening services will probably start at 8 with a prayer service, song service starting at 8:15 and the preaching at 8:50. The morning service will be at the hour most convenient to all. However we will meet Monday morning at ten o'clock.

We fell below the 200 mark in S. S. last Sunday for the first time this summer so lets do our best to redeem ourself next Sunday by going over the 200 mark to hold the average attendance for the month above 200. Since the Lord has sent us such a fine rain this week and with such a splendid prospect for a good crop and too Sunday being the first day of the revival we should have 250 in Sunday school. Dear reader I am going to count on you being one of that number. May we come into the Lord's house to honor Christ Jesus our Savior on the Lord's day. May each member pray much, sacrifice much and do all within his power that God may give us a gracious revival. You are welcome at the First Baptist Church, the friendly church.

WILLIS J. RAY Pastor.

Although she has lost but 7 lbs. of her overweight, this woman finds that 7 lbs. has made a remarkable difference to her.

Her letter reads: "I am 53 years old and my height is 5 ft. Last year I weighed 154 lbs. I have been taking a half-teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts, making no change in my diet. Now I am less around the hips and only weigh 147 lbs. dressed. But I feel lighter and can now run upstairs, which before used to make me grasp for breath. Everyone says how well and fit I look."—(Miss J. H.)
