Bad Of "Sky Juice" Dumped Here Wed. Nite

Three-Quarters To One One Half Inches Blankets This Territory

Folks it did rain, and just nick of time to help the along. Along about mid-Wednesday a gentle rain to fall over this section of country and by daylight, here Lockney, it measured .65. Far from different sections of county report good rains ranging all the way from three-quarters of an inch to one and one-half inches. At Sterley and South Plains good rains were reported. Southwest of town it was good west-east and south was good.

There is nothing that brings a wheat crop out of the kinks like a good load of sky juice and believe us, some of our wheat was in a pretty bad condition already turned blue and some of it had begun to die out, while other sections consisting of small areas were in a better condition.

The Lone Star and Providence communities received good rains Tuesday night and another one Wednesday night, so they are in mighty fine shape as far as moisture is concerned.

Plenty of row crops will now get underway. It is about cotton planting time, and with this additional moisture, the soil is in fine shape for planting.

Up around Tulia, Happy and Kress, also Hart, a young flood was received Tuesday evening in some places amounting to as much as ten inches.

BON VOYAGE BANQUET GIVEN FOR SENIORS FRIDAY

The "Good Ship L. H. S." embarked on a pleasure cruise last Friday evening when the Juniors played hosts to the Seniors with a bon voyage banquet in the school gymnasium. Miss June Guthrie, Junior sponsor, made plans for the occasion. Approximately one hundred and twenty five guests were present.

The sailor theme was featured in decorations, program, and menu in the senior colors of pink and blue. Overhead strips of blue crepe paper were fashioned to represent the sky with sea shells flying above the ship. In the center of the gym long strips of blue crepe paper, giving the gold letter "B" for "Bon Voyage Seniors" were strung.

The table was arranged in the form of an anchor with two model ships safely launched at either end. Bouquets of Texas Bluebonnets adorned the table. Nut cups were featured in the form of pink and blue rowboats and anchors served as placecards. The programs were accompanied by pink and blue covers representing the suitcases of the travelers.

The ship's officers were represented by J. W. Jones, supt., as captain, and Otis Moore, junior president, as pilot and toastmaster. Mates consisted of the high school faculty: W. N. Bobbitt, Delmar Ashworth, Leo Cooper, Mrs. Cecil Witt, Harriet Dickerson and June Guthrie. The Marine Bureau was made up of the school board; Ed Whitfill, Claud Thornton, Robert Smith, Hugh Carroll, R. C. McGilvary, R. E. Patterson, Harve Pennington and John Hodel. The first class passengers were the seniors and the Ship's crew consisted of the juniors.

The invocation was given by R. C. McGilvary. W. N. Bobbitt gave a talk on A Capital Ship-Olin Huff saluted the first class passengers and Weldon Dodson, senior president, responded. Rubye Lee Baker gave a toast to the Mates and Marine Bureau and Mr. Robert Smith acknowledged it. Supt. J. W. Jones said "Bon Voyage" to the senior class of 1934, and called upon Geo. H. Mahon, special guest from Colorado, to speak a few words in regard to the honored guests of the evening. Misses Virginia Hoblaus, Patricia Patterson, and Leota Shelton sang "Anchors Aweigh" in conclusion of the program. Miss Hazel Ford entertained with several piano selections one of them being "Sea Gardens."

The freshman and sophomore home economics classes served the banquet clad as sailors in white trousers, shirts, and gobs hats.

Dr. and Mrs. Wimberly were in Amarillo over the week end visiting relatives and friends.

TO INSPECT FARMS OF CON- TRACT SIGNERS BY NOVEL METHOD

Some idea of how Government cotton and corn-hog contract signers' farms may be inspected this spring to insure compliance with contracts may be gained from the wheat farm inspection now beginning in Texas, said H. H. Williamson, vice-director and state agent in the Texas A and M College Extension Service.

County agents are being trained in wheat counties in a unique method of acreage measurement which they in turn will pass on to inspectors. Both the retired wheat acres and the total wheat acreage to be measured and inspectors are also to make note of the uses made of contracted acreage. The fields are to be checked with the contracts by the county wheat production control association officers. The cost of the inspection is to be paid by the associations.

The method of measuring acreages was worked out by the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Engineering. It consists of pushing some kind of old wheel about the sides of the field and recording the number of revolutions. The wheel is properly calibrated and clicks off each revolution long enough for the inspector to count. A 100 revolutions are counted the inspector shifts a marble from one pocket to another and thus gets the total for each side of the field. The angles at each corner of the field are also measured by a home-made device. These figures together with notes on the crops grown on contracted acres are delivered to the county wheat allotment committee for checking.

This same system of measuring acreages and of checking compliance with contracts will probably be used with cotton and corn. Mr. Williamson states. Wheat contract compliance work in Texas is in charge of John R. Edmunds, extension service district agent who has made temporary headquarters in Amarillo.

NOBODY KNOWS ANYTHING ABOUT BANKHEAD COT- TON BILL YET

The Bankhead Cotton Bill has been passed and signed by the President and is now law, but no one has any definite information as to just how the law will apply. We have a copy of the law before us, but the Secretary of Agriculture has to make so many rulings we do not know just where we are until he makes those rulings. Every cotton farmer in Floyd county will be allowed to produce so many bales of cotton tax free exemption certificates will have to be secured for tax free cotton. If you produce over your allotment you will be taxed 50 per cent of the average central market price, but in no event less than 5c per pound, if you sell it.

Texas has been allotted 3,092,000 bales by the Secretary of Agriculture at Washington. In order to arrive at the allotment per county in Texas the last five year average of the county is taken (not counting 1933 as to the number of bales a county will be allowed to produce or market tax free. From this five year average about 35 per cent will be deducted in order to hold production down to Texas' allotment. Where a drought occurred in any one or more of the five year base period, such year or years will be eliminated according to the allotment to the bill.

Some Floyd seem to be worried over the number of acres they have. The way we look at it, a 20,000 bale allotment so it might be a pretty good plan to go ahead and plant plenty of cotton so we will be sure and produce our allotment. We do not have a cinch on producing a bumper crop, in fact for the past ten years we have only produced five crops above the 20,000 bale mark but to hear some people talk you would think we could produce all the cotton we might want to produce such is not the case according to past history of the county.

The office dumb bell thinks the boss is entitled to the printing of organizations, classes, city, and schools and county, if he gives them free publicity in the form of stories, on various events, etc. Some one will have to contribute some paid work to help the boss pay the type bills. Pretty good idea for the office dumbbell. He realizes it costs money to run a country paper. Do you?—Briscoe County News.

You dern right we do and how! It takes money to make anything go in the world these days, and I think that is the wisest idea the dumbbell ever had— your home-town paper is certainly entitled to the printing of all the local organizations and the paper in return gives you plenty of free publicity about your clubs, schools, churches and whatnot! That's just plain ole tit for tat, you take this and I'll snitch that!

WOMAN'S COLUMN

(BY JEANE SUITS)

Pink taffeta, blue and white net, organdy, dainty ruffles, and puffed in the form of the most gorgeous evening gowns sweep- ing the highly polished floor were worn by the high school miss while boys in black, grey and tan suits graciously entered the banquet hall last Friday evening at the annual Junior-Senior fete. You really should have been there and feasted upon the splendor of the occasion—Fifth Avenue plates were evident the full length of the banquet! The grand Easter Parade of the year couldn't possibly have been any more enchanting or thrilling than the entrance made by the Lockney High School Seniors and Juniors in all their glory. The only thing needed to complete the drama was silk top hats and frock-tail coats.

'Twas a marvelous evening and will long be remembered "Among Those Present!"

Folk, we might as well admit, we're living in a one-horse nine o'clock town—Promptly at the hour named the brilliantly lighted show windows and electric signs flicker out as if a gust of western wind had struck them, and the storekeepers immediately prepare to close for the day. At exactly 5 minutes behind nine, they can be seen thrusting a key into the battered door and click!—'tis all hard and fast against any robbery, even unto Dillinger and Barrow. They then return to their wigwags and retire peacefully with assurance that all is well as the village sleeps After nine o'clock the only vehicle on the street belongs to the nightwatchman who performs his duty by preventing the erection of a tomb during the absence of our worthy citizens!

Nope, you can't skip that one pal, this is a nine o'clock village, but after all we're nothing more than nine o'clock, good 'ole western, rough and tough, real, he-men and women ourselves and by golly I'm proud of it too. Feature you and I trying to live this night life on a big scale as it's done in the metropolitan area. Operas, dinner parties, dancing in some exclusive naughty, naugh- ty night club, and afterwards a nice little gangster war to the tune of ra-ta-tat-tat of the machine guns. Terribly exciting but rather dangerous sort of life I should think. I much prefer the nine o'clock town where I can be reasonably sure of growing old gracefully

I can't seem to remember what the news paper headlines were before John Dillinger and Clyde Barrow were at large. For the past month and a half they have completely monopolized the daily papers. One day Dillinger is reported to have been seen in Wisconsin and the next day in our own Lone Star State—now I ask you, is such speed possible for even a desperate man? Sounds phoney to me and personally I think the whole universe has gone plain blank nertz over those two guyst

Strange as it may seem, the girls of today are wearing shoes what ain't shoes—they is but they ain't. They don't have any toes nor top but consist of a strap and the cutest little heel attached to a very thin sole. The gals can now look down and wiggle their toes just for pure pastime and sheer fun of the thing. Heretofore one's feet and toes have not played an important part as far as personal- ity is concerned but who knows this may be the beginning of expressive "dogs". The gal being able to wiggle her toes in the most enticing manner, no doubt will top the social list.

I guess you think that deia a lit- tle too advanced but I've seen things more ridiculous than that come true. Even if my theory never materializes 'twas a noble thought, eh what?

I'd better sign off this spell and

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels (gas builds up your stomach). You have thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Renew a substitute at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

LOCKNEY FIRE DEPT. SPONSORING TENT SHOW

If a change of pasture is good for the cow so is a change of amusement for the public, and now folks, a big treat is in store for you when Jack & June Alfred's Comedians opens a week's engagement here next Monday night.

Headed by Jack (Toby) Alfred, exponent of mirth, June "The Texas Blue Girl," and assisted by a company of talented artists and musicians, every night will be one of fun and amusement.

The opening play will be "Flowing Gold," a production depicted from Rex Beech's famous novel under the same title.

Prof. Wisecrack will stage a "Trade at home" campaign during the week. He is making arrangements with local merchants to give away guest tickets to their customers. Ask your merchant for them, beginning Friday and all next week.

Lockney Fire Dept will receive a liberal percentage of all proceeds. Come, bring the children, Toby loves them.

HIGHWAY TOPPING TO BE FINISHED IN TWO WEEKS

Thirty thousand gallons of asphalt will be used in covering the highway.—Floydada Hesperian.

STORE SALES SHOW INCREASE FOR MARCH

March sales of department stores in larger cities, stimulated by pre-Easter buying, were 38 per cent larger than in February, says the monthly business review of the Eleventh Federal Reserve Bank released Monday. This record exceeded that of the corresponding month last year by 58 per cent.

Notwithstanding the showing of department store sales, the review says that "heavy and widespread rains, which materially improved conditions in the agricultural and livestock industries and continued strong demand for merchandise in both wholesale and retail channels were the outstanding developments in this district during the last 30 days."

The review explains that in connection with the heavy increase in department store sales scored over March, 1933, due allowance should be made for the effect of the bank holiday on that month's retail trade activity. Wholesale distribution reflected a further increase as compared with the previous month and exceeded that of March, 1933, by a wide margin. While retailers generally know little disposition to buy ahead, the sustained consumer demand has necessitated a heavy volume of replacement purchases.

Why Bank Loans To Business Men Are For Short Periods

Most people realize that a bank loans the depositors' money to business men—home-owners and for community improvements. But few understand how or why. Loans to business men are for short periods . . . seasonal borrowing to cover payrolls and material for manufactured products; or for the purchase of retail stocks that soon are to be sold. The purpose of these loans is sound and under normal conditions the turnover of business provides funds for repayment.

- A bank cannot make capital or long-term loans to business men for several reasons:
1. It is not good banking to risk its funds as a partner in a business enterprise.
 2. It must seek a turnover of loans so that there will be enough credit available for all business concerns.
 3. Continued repayment of loans must provide a constant supply of cash to meet the demands of depositors.

To be sure of making only sound loans to business a banker must keep the following factors in mind: the depositor, the borrower, the community, the stockholder. This should be remembered when the banker's decision or some banking regulation seems inconsistent with your ideas.

WE INVITE YOUR BANKING BUSINESS, AND APPRECIATE YOUR COOPERATION.

The Old Dealers Get Vociferous

Several things that have happened in recent weeks have caused the Republicans and other opponents of the Roosevelt administration to become more vociferous than they formerly were. The air mail controversy, the passage of the veteran bill over the president's veto, the Wirt incident, and the fact that this is a congressional election year have combined to give old dealers a slight measure of encouragement. They have spurned by the possibility that the stock exchange regulation bill hateful to them, will pass at this session of congress and apparently are hopeful that they can engender enough anti-administration sentiment, in one way and another, to bring about its defeat. That is obviously their immediate objective, but they are looking further. They see, or at least they think they see, the opportunity to solidify the opposition to the administration's program. One note which they have persistently sounded is that recovery is already apparent, that conditions are improving, and that therefore anything that the government does in the way of regulation or restriction will be an impediment to complete and prompt recovery. This line of attack is directed particularly against the stock exchange regulation bill and the Wagner employment insurance bill.

change regulation bill and the Wagner employment insurance bill. Roosevelt, at the start of his administration made it clear that he was aiming at something more than recovery, that he hoped to bring about the permanent of those social measures that would make the recovery wholesome and permanent. Those who are now so actively opposing his program are ready enough for the recovery part of it; what object to is the economic remodeling, the reform measures, that the president is determined shall accompany recovery. Out of this country's best known wise-crackers, Howard Brubaker, recently summed it up in a paragraph: "We gather from the remarks of Solon, Taylor and Atterbury that industry is feeling a lot better. It wants to fire the doctor and take up its old habits." Some people are going to be misled by the arguments the old dealers are now so assiduously offering. It may be timely, therefore, to point out the elements in the conflict. For that, we may turn to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch which recently, in discussing the remarks of an old dealer, Congressman James M. Beck, who had been pleading for a return to the economic liberty and individualism of yesterday. The Post Dispatch says: "What has brought us to the vicious penury that harbors such a mood of renunciation? Mr. Beck does not say. The American yesterday, who delights to look upon is, truly, the noblest tablet in history. There is elegance in its silver buckles and powdered wigs and silk and lace; there is culture of deep learning, there is the inspiration of liberty and equality before the law, there is the dream of a political and economic emancipation. It is a period of posterity must always reverence. But we have had other yesterdays. We have had a very recent yesterday, of which today's distress and desperate striving are the direct consequence. We have seen bankers swindle the government, swindle the investing public, betray their depositary trust by palpable misappropriation of funds of which they were custodians, and we are seeing the ruin that followed. We have seen industrial leaders

GEO. MAHON, CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE VISITS LOCKNEY

Geo. Mahon of Colorado, District Attorney of that District, and candidate for Congress from the newly created 19th District was a Lockney visitor last week-end. Mr. Mahon was on a campaign tour of the district, and while here met with considerable encouragement from voters of Floyd county. He is a very brilliant young man and has made a wonderful record as District Attorney of his district and is now serving his fourth term.

Mr. Mahon is 33 years of age and has spent the last 26 years in Mitchell county. He is a graduate of Simmons University of Abilene and Texas University. Mahon is truly representative of the spirit of West Texas people having grown from a barefoot boy to manhood in what is now the 19th Congressional District.

He has long been interested in public questions and in the general welfare of West Texas and West Texans. No barrier separates him from the people of all ranks. He is no showman, but he has plenty of ability, experience, and education; and his political turn of mind and common sense will be worth much as a Congressman.

Mr. Mahon is gaining favor with the voters of the district each day as the campaign progresses.

PIONEER ROUND UP AT PLAINVIEW MAY 19TH

Frontier Days on the Plains will be revived at the Pioneer Round Up at Plainview May 19. The largest gathering of old friends ever held in northwest Texas is expected to assemble to recall the days when they dug dugouts, punched cattle, fought the prairie fires and traveled hundred miles to attend a square dance.

In keeping with the old times there will be covered wagons, cowboys on horseback, pack-horses, buggies; buckboards and many other reminders of the early days.

This gathering will be held on the afternoon and night of Saturday May 19th. Besides the visiting there will be a parade at four o'clock P. M., a chuck wagon supper at six o'clock, program at eight o'clock, at the city auditorium followed by a square dance.

This is the Sixth Annual gathering of the West Texas Pioneers and is sponsored each year by the Business and Professional Women's club of Plainview.
