

Why only the little tots are given Easter egg hunts, will always be an envious question with me and one that will never be answered in such a manner to appease my better resentment and unsettled vengeance toward tradition!

Why are we who are older denied those thrilling moments of discovering yellow, orange, pink blue, and purple eggs nestling in some secluded spot in the grass? Why can we not now experience the same sensation instead of standing off while the kiddies flutter merrily from blade to blade in search of painted eggs? That's just another mystery of life that this writer would like to solve ere too many Easters slip by.

Perhaps some grown-ups find it comforting enough to abandon the childish egg hunt and enter the fashionable parade of the year where chic is on everybody's lips. Sunday morning just as the church bells toll the appointed hour the happy modern family will burst out into the sunlight bearing a multitude of mirrored hues like so many soap bubbles blown from a spool by a small child while at play in his own fantastic realm of reverie.

'Tis a lovely sight to see on Easter with milady wearing a trick of a hat to match her frock which boasts of a beautiful corsage. And there's father clad in a new spring suit topped with a fresh straw hat straight from the farm—right from the stack—But best of all are the little boys and girls tripping along side the family wearing crisply done-up suits and frocks, white shoes, perky hats with pink faces shining with cleanliness and beaming eyes peeking out in amazement at such a colorful world!

If we have a dust storm here Easter morning the picture I have just painted from my garden of annual parade memories may be considered void. In that case you can use your imagination and just pretend that you are living in one of those Chamber of Commerce committees where one can plan to wear a certain costume and go through with it!

Here I've spent this whole time talking about Easter customs and not one word yet as to the real significance of that day. I find that so many of our special observed days lose their real identity for most of us who consider the 24 hours nothing more than an occasion to make merriment. Let us not forget that Easter Sunday was the day on which Christ arose from the tomb.

N. T. A. BYARS GETS LEG AND RIBS BROKEN

N. T. A. Byars, farmer of south of town received serious injuries this evening about 4 o'clock when he became entangled in a drive shaft at his irrigation well. His sweater became entangled in the shaft, throwing him around the shaft several times before his clothes gave away and he was thrown clear of the shaft. His clothing was torn into shreds and were almost stripped from his body.

An ambulance of the Crager Funeral home was called and Mr. Byars was carried to the Lockney Clinic where the broken limb and ribs were set. He also received injuries to his face and nose, although Clinic attendants were of the opinion these injuries were not serious. However, x-ray pictures had not been completed at the time of going to press, and these pictures might reveal other injuries.

Funds For Combating Soil Erosion Available For Floyd

Floyd County Allotted Enough to Cover 106,000 Acres at 10c Per Acre; Applications To Begin Thursday, April 18

An emergency fund of five hundred thousand dollars has been made available to help check the damage being done by wind erosion on the Plains of Texas. In this area much land is being severely damaged from blowing because it is left bare and untilled. In most cases listing of this land immediately will check the damage being done.

Floyd county has been allotted sufficient funds to cover a hundred and fifty thousand acres at the equivalent rate of ten cents per acre. In many sections the farmer claim that on account of the previous crop failure they have no funds to buy fuel or feed for listing their land. To these farmers goes the grant of ten cents per acre for the purpose of listing.

Any farmer in Floyd County wishing to secure this aid is asked to apply at the County Agent's office, G. A. Lindsay of Floydada, beginning Thursday, April 18. He in turn refers the application to a committee who certifies whether the applicant has land suffering from soil blowing and lacks funds for listing or not. If the committee passes on the needs of the farmer, the county relief administrator will be authorized to give him an order for fuel or feed. No funds will be distributed directly to the farmer but rather in the form of fuel and feed. This grant is in no way resented as relief.

This program is of an extremely temporary and emergency character and must be completed by May 1st. Mr. Lindsay has made it possible that an applicant may apply, get it approved, and take the fuel or feed home with him all within an hour or so. In this way neither the office or the farmer will lose any time in getting this program underway right now when the most good can be done.

WHAT CAUSES DUST STORMS?

Much has been written and said about the dust storms we have been having the past several months in this part of the state. A lot of theories have been advanced as to the cause. We all know the cause—lack of moisture. But why do we not receive moisture? We have in the past, and have not been troubled with dust storms. We had sand storms in the past but they were ground winds that caused the sand to blow and drift through the month of March and sometimes well into April.

Has it ever occurred to you that the gas that is allowed to escape into the air from the Panhandle Gas and oil field up above Amarillo might have something to do with our weather conditions and the dust storms. Did you know that more than a billion cubic feet of natural gas is being blown into the air every day in the Panhandle field and this has continued for more than a year. There is enough gas blown into the air every month from this field to supply the domestic gas needs of the entire state of Texas for one year. Just to give you another idea just how much gas is being pumped into the air, the waste in one year is equal to heat energy of 48,000 cars of coal.

There is at this time about 50 gas wells in the Panhandle field. This wastage of gas comes from what is known as "Stripper Wells." A small amount of gasoline is taken from each thousand feet of gas and the gas is allowed to escape into the air.

This gas is very dry after being stripped of its gasoline content and the enormous amount that is being blown into the air each day has a tendency to keep clouds from collecting in the Panhandle, Eastern Colorado, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Eastern New Mexico. Gas rushes up, and after it reaches the upper strata of air it matters over a very large area. That section mentioned above is very dry, along comes the usual wind, pokes up dust and the gas laden air carries it higher and higher and then it drifts for hundreds of miles and gradually comes when it passes out of the Canadian air regions.

This is only a theory of this writer but we believe it is a reasonable one. We all know that you could collect enough natural gas in one spot in the atmosphere to be almost next to impossible for a rain cloud to gather a that particular spot for the gas would keep it pushed upward higher and higher until it would come down. Each day as this gas is blown into the air the gas-laden areas becoming larger and larger and is gradually covering more territory.

To many state and federal employees, and too many of those who are forced to dig into their pockets to finance relief work, apparently have lost sight of the old objective. Getting millions of people fed and clothed is no longer the only important thing in America today. Of equal importance is the work of getting the empty-pocketed workmen back on the job. From now on every public and private plan should be made with that end in view. Every argument comes around eventually to that, and but on thing in the way of a solution—jobs. Public jobs, where the wages are, are a sure road to ruin of human morale public credit and the American system of independence. There are, doubtless a few people on relief around Lockney who would stay there forever if it were left to their desires. But the majority would rather be earning their own way. They will welcome any plan that will provide them with work, and this same spirit prevails all over the country. One doesn't have to study the situation to realize that there can be but one solution—and that is jobs for those who actually want them. When that condition is met it will be easy enough to let those who will not work return to the old "root hog or die" method.

The Government's Soil Erosion program is all set and ready to go in the Panhandle, Plains region and work will begin today. The program will cover 46 counties in the Panhandle. This work will be handled by County Agents. This work will consist of listing of alternate rows. Ten cents per acre will be allowed for this work. What we want to know is how in the Sam Hill is the work going to be done for a thin dime per acre. If you have a hundred acre farm you will be allowed ten dollars for listing this farm. That would not even buy bundle feed to feed a team for this work and if you have a tractor your dime will be gone the first ten minutes your tractor runs. Then again we fail to see any benefit in scooting a plow through an ash bank as it will blow away as fast as it is listed up. If we had moisture to start with, listing or harrowing is a good idea, but not so when it is dry as a powder keg. It seems to us that officials and Congressmen in Washington can think up more half-baked ideas than anybody in the world to spend money for. This work is to be completed by May 1st and when this work gets well underway you will see some real sand and dust storms if it don't rain.

Some people apparently have the wrong idea of patriotism. They seem to think a patriot is one who offers to defend the country when it is at war, or one who doffs his hat when the band plays "The Stars Spangled Banner." That is alright as far as it goes but the real patriot is one who obeys the laws of his country and who shapes his life by that greatest of all measurements—the Golden Rule. Our forefathers believed in helping those who were less fortunate than themselves. They obeyed the law because in doing so they respected the rights of others. They honored their nation's institutions, and they turned a deaf ear to all who sought to interfere with those institutions. All of which was just as patriotic, just as helpful, as carrying a gun in time of war. Find the Floyd county citizen who sticks pretty close to the beliefs and customs of his forefathers and you'll find a man entitled to be classed as a real patriot.

County-wide acclaim has greeted the announcement of Gov. Allred of Texas that he intends restoring the famous Texas Rangers to something like their old power and prestige. The Rangers fell upon evil days under the preceding state executive, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson. The old-fashioned "he-men" who put the fear of God into the lawless, became a mere milk-and-water aggregation as "special commissions" issued by "Ma" Ferguson honeycombed the organization with small fry politics. So it is possible that the Texas Rangers will again become an organization to be feared and respected. And, incidentally, the present situation would seem to be further proof that politicians can ruin just about anything into which they dip their itchy fingers.

Will there never be a stop to the issuance of bonds by the Government. Now Senator Bankhead of Alabama has introduced a measure to create a "Farmer's Home Corporation" with a capital stock of $50,000,000. The corporation would be authorized to issue $1,000,000,000 of bonds and the money thus received would be loaned out to farm tenants, share croppers or farm laborers to buy small farms with. The idea might be all right, but it seems to us there is a likelihood of loading the country down on Government bonds. If this continues indefinitely, private companies never will be able to sell their securities, stocks, etc., and eventually all business will be centered in Washington and then the whole country will suffer. We don't believe all financing should be undertaken by the Government, as we believe it will be the undoing of our financial institutions of the country and they will have to eventually close up shop.

Herb Hoover is kinder doing a "Paul Revere Ride" these days jumping the Republicans out and starting them down the battle line. He was down in West Virginia Saturday pepping up H. C. Ogden, publisher. Ogden climbed up behind him on the "steed" and they hustled off to see other Virginia Republicans. Herb sure has a lot of riding to do if he rounds up the scattered men of his party, and there are a few "strays" he will never get back into the "home pasture."

"BRAIN JEWELS" FROM OUR EXCHANGES

One of life's big puzzles is how a slim girl can snatch a piece of fruit for breakfast and be alive and happy when time for the noon meal comes around.—The Ford County News.

When I try to imagine what my pioneer grandmother would have done in the face of our present economic problems, I can't see her holding out her hands for doles or donations! I can imagine her urging grandfather to trade a pig for a bushel of corn, and I can see her bending over a big iron kettle, making hominy from that corn, with lye filtered from the old ash-hopper, but I cannot imagine my grandmother driving up in a motor car to a relief station to get an apportionment of food.—Cosmopolitan.

It's a pity that a half hundred business men were not in the Manhattan Hotel meeting Tuesday afternoon, when 30 farmers entered into a "sample" community discussion. The farmers would have proved to any doubting Thomas that they know much more about their own business than the average business man thinks they know. They burrowed into the heart of the American agricultural problem like old-timers at the game. The truth of the matter is that farmers have always been as far or farther advanced in their thinking than the majority of city and town folks who are free with criticism of the farmers. But it is just now, with the coming of community farm organizations, that the farmer is beginning to let the world know what he knows. If Uncle Sam does no more through the AAA and its many cousins than give the farmer an opportunity to express himself, and then to help him keep organized, the whole program will have been worth while. The fact remains, however—and it was discussed at Tuesday's meeting—Uncle Sam is doing plenty of other worth while and lasting things for the farmer, backbone of our nation.—The Scurry County Times.

Great showers of dust continue to fall over this part of Texas most every day. Eventually we will have all of Kansas and part of New Mexico and part of Colorado scattered over the plains of Texas, and should we ever come into a June when we receive plenty of rain this country will produce most everything from cotton to populists party whiskers.—The Jayton Chronicle.

It was an editor away "out west" who received a letter from an indignant subscriber saying: "I don't want my paper any longer." "That is right, I would not make it any longer if you did, because in that case I would have to buy a new press. The present length just suits me, and I am glad it suits you."—Ex.

AND THUS IS LIFE
 Students are saying that another year has flown swiftly by, almost beyond their realization, and they find themselves becoming adjusted to new conditions resulting from a year's study, growth and development, both physical and mental. To them, life is a broader reality than a year ago. Each day new windows are being opened to them; each day brings a new and different meaning to them concerning existence. Joys intensify and become more numerous; so do sorrows—and problems become more perplexing; yet each of them has greater capabilities of meeting and dealing successfully with these problems.

Everyone welcomes the daily changes that come, yet there is a feeling of resentment that naturally appears at seeing old conditions leave and give places to the new. The little child gives up his old books that have brought numerous worries to his little brain and given him a repulsive attitude toward them, but in the relinquishing of them he finds the bonds of attachment stronger than he thought, and the severing of these bonds brings sadness. And thus is life, not with the child only, but also with the more mature mind, with its developments, habits, and philosophies. No one ever grows to old to make a change without experiencing this tinge of regret. But it is these many changes that bring to life its variety, its spice, and its appeal especially to the youth as well as to the old.

School is closing, and its closing brings many expressions of joy, and thanks. By no means the least is our sincere gratification to the publishers of the Lockney Beacon for each week printing our school paper. Now our wishes are to see you all again next fall, with hopes of a bigger and better Sterlette.

 In honor of those who this year helped to bring our school to the top with a total of 122 1-2 points, a weiner roast was given on the school grounds last Friday evening April 12. Needless to say, a large merry crowd attended and had a good time.

 One day being out squirrel and rabbit hunting, chanced to see a squirrel popping in and out of a hole high in a hollow tree. Well, I shot thirty seven times at him and finally, being out of ammunition, went around the other side of the tree to rest. And Lo, there lay thirty seven dead squirrels.

Third of a Series of Wonders on the New "Clocks" Rate for Residential Service

Larger Use of Electricity
 (In Kilowatt Hours)
 at NO INCREASED COST
 (In Your Monthly Service Bill)

The new "ultimate" rate for residential users and its application enables small users of electric current to enjoy additional benefits at no extra cost, depending entirely on your use of the service. Get what's coming to you. Like benefits are available to larger users. Our suggestion is that you get in touch with our local representative and find out for yourself how you can increase your home lighting and other uses. There's plenty in store for you.

The present trend in the country is to bring about the wider use of electricity. It is our candid opinion that every room in the average home has noticeable opportunities for freer use of the present appliances. One of the most outstanding opportunities is in lighting—so often ignored. We cannot emphasize too strongly the values possible under rates now applicable.

TUMBLEWEED PICK-UPS

Even though the Tumbleweed wasn't able to report anything last week my business certainly is making up for lost time by "picking up" since last we met. You can't keep a good thistle down!—You may toss it around snag it on a fence, float it through the air with the utmost ease, but never kill it.—Why? You say everything must have an ending? Well, how can you kill something that's been roaming this treeless area ever since the Indian chief made a heap big corn and head trade with the white man and even before Columbus conceived the world was round and ventured out in 1492 (Which happens to be the only date I know in history)—COMING back to the direct purpose of this bit of rambling reminds me that "Squeeler" Hodel has a new tin-horned checked suit just built for the game of chance—Lets hope he's lucky.—SOMEBODY tells me that if you missed the play Friday night at the auditorium, you've lost out on one of the best Lockney dramatic productions of 1935.—SOME of the boys said a good way to spend an economical evening with your girl was to sit around and listen to Lockney's tall, dark and handsome lad relate tales of days gone by.—How interesting if true!!!!—Money talks! It is believed that if the boys would chip in say a dime for the evening, there ain't no telling what Handsome could dig up in the way of bedtime stories.—FUZZY Webster left for Dallas Wednesday morning and reported that anyone wishing to haunt a certain home during his absence could feel free to do so since the undertaker would be badly in need of business in about two weeks.—Now don't say I didn't warn you even unto the date of his return.—A CERTAIN high school English teacher in the form of a little slip of-a-girl is said to have had a date Wednesday night but of course one can hear most anything these days.—FOR instance I heard the other day that a reporter, in particular, narrowly escaped being the third party.—There ought to be some means of insurance against such possible disasters.—But then I suppose insurance of that kind would come pretty high!—THERE are a lot more kind and sympathetic souls toward the feminine variety in this vicinity than you would think! Certain young men here, endowed with rhythm, insist upon staggung all of the dances. And the Tumbleweed has figured out that their reason for doing this is nothing but one hundred per cent chevalierty (What a word!) They simply can't bear that come-hither-wish-I-hadn't-some look on the wallflowers' faces and spend their whole time rescuing maidens in distress.—Hats off to Lockney's real manhood.—Thank goodness their mothers were admirers of Sir Walter Raleigh!—The Tumbleweed will have to be rolling along down the way—so I'll be seeing you! Hold everything! I most for got to tell you about Bill Messing that aspiring young Austin salesman, who is reported to have longed passionately for an airplane in which to hop home in from Carlsbad, N. M., last week. Bill seems to be funny that way, always a dreaming about airplanes a taking people places, but that was one time he wished his fancy idea had been a reality. We don't mind him thinking about airplanes but it's the devil when he begins to speak out loud!

ing him. We invite you to attend these services.

We are praying that this meeting will be the time when many will accept the plan of salvation as we find it in Christ Jesus.

I think this is a time when we as christian people ought to put to a test what God says in II Corinthians 7:14, "If my people which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

Let's remember that any people of land have the promises of God's blessings when they will honor, love and serve him. But we hide ourselves from his blessings when we forget him and turn to serve Satan.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sore and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly seem and buoyant and full of sensation.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel sore and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "top and up". They contain woodruff, burdock, gentian vegetable extracts, among others when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills on the outside label. Home's a substitute. See advertising column. ©1931 C. M. Co.

HER BOY HAD ALWAYS BEEN WEAK AND PUNY

"My four year old boy had been weak and puny since birth, and had constipation and indigestion. Nothing did him any good until we tried Milk Emulsion. Since using it, he can't get enough to eat and has outgrown his childhood trouble. He plays out with the children now, and he was never able to do that before."

—Wm. Heart, 424 Bundy Ave., New Castle, Ind.

Weak, ailing children usually start eating and getting stronger from the very first bottle of Milk Emulsion.

Milk Emulsion restores healthy, natural bowel action. Milk Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened. This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. You are urged to try Milk Emulsion. Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milk Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Your wife will know why we buy from Western Electric. As the world's best purchasing agent, she applies the same rules of thrifty buying used by the Bell System. Special study based on 3,000 separate items of telephone equipment and supplies indicates this fact: Western Electric, as supply unit of the Bell System, sells to Bell operating companies for a fourth less, on the average, than the lowest price offered by independent supply firms. This of course does not mean a saving of a fourth on every item bought from Western Electric. Some supplies . . . paper, paints, poles, for example . . . range from 1 to 17 per cent under usual market prices. Others, such as telephones, cables and switchboards, show similar variations in the amount saved. But the important point, clearly indicated, is that Western's prices are appreciably lower to us than open market prices. As one of the 24 associated companies of the Bell System, we buy most of our equipment and much of our supplies from Western because we get bargains there, because we get uniform quality and the assurance of exact performance . . . and because Western Electric parts are so designed that future improvements and developments will fit into and work with equipment already in use. These factors help us materially in achieving the Bell System policy of good telephone service at fair cost to the user. SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY
