

CHATTERGRAMS
BY JEANE SUITS

The American farmer's greatest friend passed away quietly Monday at the hands of the Supreme court. The verdict should be premeditated murder. The AAA, toiler's most sincere friend since the crisis of human existence, has been threatened by the Republicans, scoffed at by hundreds, and snorted over by the cranks since its birth, but only the Supreme Court sat silently until the appointed hour when they struck with a 6-3 decision that sent the father of the idea, President Roosevelt, and other near relatives into a whirlwind of activity to prevent burial along side the NRA codes.

The farmer is looking toward the creator of such measures for advice, help, and mercy. Who said our government is for the people and by the people. The past six months would make one believe that the government is for the Republicans and by nine people.

Natives are scurrying and here this morning dodging the Panhandle snow that is floating down in a most nonchalant manner without the disturbance of even a ripple of wind. The atmosphere is exceedingly quiet and unassuming about the flurries higher and yon—only the people on main street display action by darting in and out of the stores with occasional boisterous comments about the snow.

I'll never be able to comprehend the fact that northern people may indulge in snow sports the year round while we West Texans can do nothing but slush around in an occasional 2-inch what-has-been snow.

I can imagine many a yarn told by the nesters around the stoves in business houses.

sit in on one of those elongated sessions just to hear what takes place but as to yet I have never found time. I think I'll snuck in some day and sit down on the end of the bench with pencil and pad and take down the confab. After careful censorship of the content I will pass it on to you just in case you care for that sort of thing and have always had a suppressed desire to know the talk of loafers.

Fan mail—That's what I dubbed it when it came in to me. Oran Weeks, former resident of Lockney and now "just a country-school teacher" (as described by himself) at Ben Wheeler, scribbled me a very nice letter this week expressing his appreciation of my efforts in this column. Quoted: "You have the editorial pulse of Brisbane, McIntyre's audacity of reasoning, and the literary smoothness of Sinclair Lewis." That surely is a big bill for just a country editor Oran, but thanks for your extravagance with American newspaper columnists and novelist in regard to a comparison of my weekly comments.

My ideas of real living: Be a traveling salesman; drive a long, shiny car minus mortgage and payments; lead a chain with a poodle on the end of it to signify class; turn down invitations to the White House; pose for advertisements of a big cosmetic company as a constant user of their products (easy money without injury to my skin); live in a large house far removed from the kitchen; entirely free from family quarrels and arguments.

"We made a mistake in last week's issue," says the editor of a weekly newspaper.

A good subscriber told us about it. The same day there was a letter in our post office box that didn't belong to us. We called for No. 28, and got 128 on the telephone. We asked for a spool of No. 50 thread and when we got home it was 60. The train was reported 30 minutes late. We arrived at the station 20 minutes after train time and the train was gone. We got our milk bill and there was a mistake of 10c in our favor. We felt sick and the doctor told us we were

ASSESSOR STATES RULES CONCERNING POLL TAXES

People 60 Years Living in Towns Of Less Than Ten Thousand Do Not Get Exemptions

TO ISSUE DRIVERS LICENSE

You May Pay Your Poll Tax Without Paying Real or Personal Tax

Frank L. Moore, county assessor and collector of taxes, received a telegram from the Attorney General's office Jan. 2 stating that the department had repeatedly ruled that all persons over 60 years of age living outside of cities of ten thousand population do not need to obtain exemption receipts in order to vote.

Mr Moore says that on the other hand it is compulsory for all persons becoming 21 years of age to obtain an exemption receipt from his office in order to vote. The certificates are issued free of charge.

In regard to the question that is being asked the collector's office whether or not a person may pay his poll tax without paying his real or personal tax, Mr Moore said here today that the law plainly set out that a person may pay his poll tax without paying the other but he can not pay his real or personal tax without paying the poll tax. It is understood that all voting polls must be paid by midnight Jan. 31, 1936. The present highway registration plates are good up until midnight April 1, 1936. The collector's office is forbidden to issue the license plates for the year 1936 until Feb. 1, 1936 and can not issue them then unless the vehicle is properly registered for the year of 1935.

Mr Moore says, "According to instructions this office will be in a position to issue the new driver's license on Feb. 14. All persons who are over the age of 14 and drive an automobile are required to obtain such license at the tax collector's office free of charge." He further states that all taxes for the year of 1935 that are unpaid become delinquent at midnight Jan. 31, 1936.

AMATEURS MET FRIDAY

"Three Little Pigs" Winner of Amateur Program

The "Three Little Pigs", a dance presented by Sally Ruth Patterson, Jerry Nell Suits and Yvonne Ridings received the first place in the American Legion Amateur program Friday night Jan. 3, at the city auditorium. Second place went to Lucy Dean Ross, who played a piano selection.

The program consisted of a variety of entertainment and closed with the presentation of a play "Fiance of Fanny" directed by Mrs. Jake Griffith.

The next amateur program will be held on Friday, Feb. 7.

PERSONNEL OF LEAGUE IS SELECTED BY TEACHERS

Definite Date To Be Set Soon For Interscholastic League Meet Here This Spring

The entire personnel of the Interscholastic League Meet of Floyd County was selected at a meeting held in Floydada Saturday morning, according to J W Jones who will be general director of the county activities to take place in Lockney this year.

Mr Jones stated this morning that a meeting will be called soon of all directors to discuss further plans for the Meet and set a definite date which will probably be the latter part of the month of March.

In the meeting Saturday it was decided that the picture memory contest will be permitted to use pictures from the Practical Drawing Company at Dallas, and the 14 inch steam ball will continue to be used as of last year.

Walter Travis, county superintendent, discussed standardization of the rural schools before the group.

"Jan 13 is the last day membership fees to the Interscholastic League can be sent in to Austin," J W Jones said this morning as a word of warning to all superintendents in the county. He also urges all of the teachers to consult the constitution and rules of the League for changes made this year.

The following are the directors of the county activities this year: Director General—J W Jones, Lockney. (Continued on Back Page)

FARMERS LOOK TO CONGRESS; SUBSTITUTE OF AAA

H G Lucas of Brownwood, Head of Planter Group, Sees Plea for Amendment

BROWNWOOD, Jan. 6.—Farmers of Texas are looking to Congress and the Administration to draft measures to take the place of the AAA or if this can not be done, will ask that the constitution be changed, H G Lucas of Brownwood, president of the Texas Agriculture Association with a membership of about 300,000 farmers, and chairman of the farmers Protective Committee of the association, said today after reading press dispatches on the Supreme Court ruling declaring the AAA unconstitutional.

Lucas' statement follows: "Since the court has spoken, that is final. It is the highest court in the land and the farmers respect it. The farmers, however, are looking to Congress and the Administration to draft measures immediately that will preserve the benefits of the AAA. In other words, measures to do what the act attempted to do—place agriculture on a fair and equal basis with industry. The manufacturing industry has its tariff and the farmers being forced to pay this tariff are laboring under a handicap that finally proved ruinous before the AAA was enacted. Farmers all over the country were losing their farms and were going into debt head over heels in their attempt to keep up the unequal race.

"They do not propose to continue to labor under that sort of discrimination again. They intend to have equal economic opportunities in this free land of ours. If, as some press reports indicate no measures can be enacted to meet the situation, farmers will ask for a constitutional amendment. The constitution has been changed before and can be amended to cover this situation. The Constitution was written in the first place to preserve equal rights to all citizens, under conditions that prevailed in that day and in protest to unfair condition under which the colonies were laboring. An amendment (Continued on Back Page)

THE WEATHER

All of the Panhandle received a good snow Tuesday with Lockney receiving a precipitation of less than half an inch. Approximately two inches of snow fell here between the hours of 9 o'clock and 10 o'clock Tuesday.

The thermometer fell below freezing Tuesday morning within 45 minutes time and remained around 30 and 32 degrees the remainder of the day. The temperature moderated to such a degree Wednesday that all of the snow had melted by noon. There was an exceedingly high wind from the west all day.

This morning is fair and warm with 60 degree temperature.

GEO. MAHON BACK IN WASHINGTON FOR CONGRESS

Congressman Geo Mahon arrived in Washington Friday for the beginning of the Second Session of the 74th Congress. He had returned to his home in Colorado City Dec 20 from the Philippine Islands where he had attended the celebration sponsored by their Government to commemorate the opening of independence for the islands. The trip was made at the request of the President and upon the invitation of the Philippine Government because of his membership on the Insular Affairs Committee of the House.

Mr Mahon expressed enthusiasm over the value of the trip which had also taken him to both Japan and China. The trip had afforded an opportunity to study from first hand sources economic conditions in the Far East, particularly regarding the textile industry and its relation to foreign markets for American cotton.

In discussing the approaching Session, he said that he expected to be very active but much shorter session than last year. He was immediately concerned with becoming settled in his office here so that he could give his attention to the correspondence from the District as well as legislation confronting the House.

SUPREME COURT SMASHES FARM AID PROGRAM MONDAY IN A 6-3 DECISION; OTHER LAWS IN QUESTION

MATADOR AND LOCKNEY PLAY BASKETBALL HERE

Lockney Sextet Defeats Ralls Saturday and Boys are Beaten by Jackrabbits 32-21

Girls and boys basketball teams of Matador and Lockney will play here Friday night at the gymnasium for the first time this season. The local teams are scheduled to play from two to three games every week for the next six weeks and then work will begin on Interscholastic League activities.

Two games will also be played here Monday night with the Flomot teams.

Lockney played return games at Ralls Saturday night with the girls coming out 30-10 in their favor and the boys were defeated 10 points by the Jackrabbits.

Louise Boedeker led the scoring for Lockney with Dorothy Jean Jones as second. Boedeker was quite a sensation on the court with her skillful handling of the ball and nonchalant manner of passing and scoring of points. She did a bit of grandstanding for the crowd while keeping Rall's guards on the jump. The local girls did not put out all they had and missed a lot of sure shots. The game was long and they did not have any incentive to "buckle down".

Pauline Weathers, Geraldine Byars, and Leota Frizzell were the starting line-up girls with Edith Boyle as the other forward. Substitutes were Helen Ruth Rusby, Pauline Strickland, Jewel Elm, and Leokie Mae Handley.

Lockney boys did not get warmed up in the first half of the game and let Ralls get 15 points or more headway. But in the last half they won over them with a scoring of 18 points to the Jackrabbits' 6. Forwards playing were A C Carthel and Marvin Brotherton, Marvin Sams, center, John Alexander and Bob Collier, guards, Robert Lee Smith, Hall Nall, Barnard Carthel, and Hollis Harris were substitutes.

Those attending the Ralls game from here were K I Canning, Robert Smith, Mr and Mrs Buck Sams, Mr and Mrs J W Jones, Coach Cooper, Martha Meriwether and Jeane Suits.

The Wayland College girls' basketball six downed the Lockney crew 45 to 38 in a game at Plainview Friday.

Altus Visitors

Mr and Mrs Ernest Steele, Mrs Ola Maucum and son, Jack, of Altus, Okla., were here the first of the week visiting Mrs T B and Mr Steele's mother.

Returns From Sanitarium

Glenns Whitfill, who has been in the Plainview Sanitarium receiving treatment for a blood infection in a tooth was brought to her home in Lockney Wednesday night. At this writing it is reported that she is doing satisfactorily.

Moves To Newcastle

Mr and Mrs Roy Ragle have moved to Newcastle to make their home.

Have Crosbyton Visitors

Mr and Mrs Bill Nickson, Mrs Nickson's father, I W Collier, brother and sister, Wade and Melba, all of Crosbyton were here Sunday visiting their grandparents, Mr and Mrs M H Ragle. Wade Collier remained over for a week's visit.

Administration Leaders Stunned By 6-3 Decision And Withhold Comment

WASHINGTON, Jan 6.—The Supreme Court smashed the Roosevelt farm-aid program today with an uncompromising opinion throwing other major New Deal laws into question.

Administration leaders, stunned by the 6-3 decision, withheld immediate comment. President Roosevelt called major advisors into a hurried White House conference.

Justice Roberts read the views of the court majority killing the entire Agricultural Adjustment Act as invalidating the "reserved rights of States" and "beyond the power delegated to the Federal Government."

Under AAA, $1,127,000,000 has been paid farmers since 1933 for reducing crops under a national plan intended to raise farm income.

In a vehement dissent, Justices Brandeis, Stone and Cardozo asserted that courts are not the only agency of Government that must be assumed to have the capacity to govern.

Markets Irregular
As organized farm leaders proposed amending the Constitution and stock and commodity markets reacted irregularly, news there was a moderate recovery in the legislative branch. Government scrutiny is smooth.

TRIBUTES TO MISS LENA MOORE ARE GIVEN

"Miss Lena Moore lived much while she lived and she lived well. She had nothing to regret and has left behind only sweet memories because of her good life," the Rev. Willis Ray, of Big Spring, former Baptist pastor here said in commenting upon the death of Miss Moore Dec. 21 of pneumonia at Brownwood. She is a former school teacher here and was attending Howard-Payne College at the time of her death.

The Rev. Mr. Ray says that he can truthfully say that Miss Lena was one of the most conscientious, consecrated, and faithful christians he has ever had the honor to pastor. "Souls like her's make life worth living. Her life was a positive power for good to every prose of life in Lockney and especially was she an asset to the church, school, and social life of the community," he further commented. The former pastor says as a public school teacher, Sunday school teacher, choir director, and B. T. U. worker or citizen she found favor with all and possessed a large portion of talent and leadership.

Salvador Azua, high school student, has written an eleven stanza poem in memory of Miss Moore and Ursula Curb of Brownwood has also written a memory poem.

Three verses from Salvador Azua's poem is as follows:

When she found one in sorrow and pain She always cheered them and not in vain

When she came happily along the way Sorrow and gloom could never stay

One cold and bleak December day Our dear friend passed quietly away

They say, 'Twas the only fight she lost

We are sad because her life is cost

Farewell, farewell to Lena we say

For her soul's rest we sincerely pray

For she has gone from this earthly land

To join the angel's holy band

Ursula Curb in memory of Miss Moore says:

She was one who was loved

By all, whom she met, She stood for things highest and best

Her life and her influence will live on and on

To honor and magnify Jesus.

The Lockney school teachers say:

A short time ago we were saddened by the loss of one of our dearest friends.

One who will be missed more and more as time goes on.

Her departure leaves a place unfilled in all our lives—a gap not soon to be closed.

We thought we would set down a few facts of her life, and a few of her achievements:

Miss Lena Moore was born February 11, 1905 at Godley, Texas.

She departed to her heavenly home December 20, 1935.

She was a native Texan. Her education was also obtained in this state.

She graduated from Decatur College in 1927.

The following summer was spent in the Seminary, at Seminary Hill, Fort Worth.

She taught school at Gene, Tex. from 1927-1930, coming from there to the Grammar school in Lockney where she taught until 1935.

She resigned this position to enter Howard-Payne College at Brownwood.

Miss Moore was always active in all departments of church work, and took a prominent part in any activity that would help build and up lift the community.

She was the embodiment of the worthy servant in the parable of the talents.

The Lord saw fit to endow her with certain talents and abilities.

These she took

and used in the interest of the community and in the service of Him who gave them.

She was not a person to take one talent and develop it to the exclusion of all others, but making her sphere of usefulness as broad as she took many of her talents and her abilities and developed them by long hours of striving and practice to increase her usefulness in the school room, in the church, and in the community.

She used enough of them to stamp her as a person of worth.

Born of a family of modest financial circumstances, she raised herself by sheer force of will and perseverance to a place of eminence in the love, esteem and respect of her friends and fellow workers.

Her life should be an example to motivate others to take what God has given them and do what they can to make this a better place in which to live.

Her goodness and virtue were unquestioned; her unselfishness proverbial; her willingness to help others, a byword; the loveliness of her character, an inspiration; her ambition to better prepare herself to render greater service, a thing of beauty; her devotion to her God, complete.

This we might say was her creed:

To feel that she had done her share

To scatter smiles and lessen care,

That when she crossed the "Great Divide"

God would say, "I'm satisfied."

WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?

Farmers all over the United States are asking that question since the Supreme Court knocked out the AAA program last Monday. The decision was so broad that it is almost impossible to frame another program of like nature. So farmers are asking: "Where do we go from here?" We say, we will go back to the old law of "supply and demand" which has governed prices of products of the farm from the beginning of time. This law is older than the Constitution.

Cotton took a nose dive Tuesday morning of 40 points or $2 a bale, while wheat only sagged 3-8. It remains to be seen whether these markets will work back up or not. According to the law of supply and demand it will not likely work back up but will be more than likely to continue to drop for the demand of these two products is not very heavy at this time. The Triple A had a tendency to hold up prices on these two products but when the Supreme Court took all the wind out of the sails they began to settle down.

Farmers are holding a lot of contracts with the government all of which are null and void. However, those that have not received checks on the past years contracts, will no doubt receive them in the near future.

As to whether this decision will be good or bad for the country, we cannot say, that remains to be seen. But to say the least, it don't look good on the face of it. It seems that Congress has its hands tied on many of the things like nature in the future, as the decision did not leave them a leg to stand on. It seems that a Constitutional amendment is about the only thing left to do if Triple A is to continue. An amendment could be voted upon in the next general election, but it is hard to vote an amendment for the simple reason it is hard for people to understand the proposition. They become befuddled over the proposition and the opposition always sees that the waters are muddied in grand style.

On the other hand, according to the decision handed down by the Supreme Court, a AAA program might be set up in each state and the Federal Government support it about the same way as they contribute to our Federal Highways in the state. But this all remains to be seen.

The President has made no statement up to this time, (Tuesday morning) and we do not know just what his attitude will be. But to say the least it is a slap in the face for the New Deal laws, perhaps some satisfactory program will be worked out and announced within a few days, and then on the other hand it might be decided that nothing can be done about it.

This decision will increase the number on our unemployment list by some half million people.

It will just be a case of watchful waiting and we will see what we will see.

I will pay $5.00 to anyone who will catch and hog tie the son of a pooch who is forging my name to checks and collecting money on them. The party must be positively identified. I prefer to have him tied to a tree down on the river with no spectators present. I crave to sign my name on his back—low down—with a wet rope so he will have to ride standing up—Uncle Bill in Sterling City News-Record.

Why, Uncle Bill, you don't want to be pestering that fellow with a wet rope, what you want to do is see him and get him to hit the money with you that he is obtaining on your checks. Anyone a fellow can get a real money on an Editors check there should be a split coming back to the editor.

WHAT WE SEE IN THE PAPERS

We read statements made by the Treasury Department of the increase of the U S debt, yet our President has stated in numerous addresses that the budget is being balanced. They ought to get together on their figures one or the other is bound to be mistaken.

One way to get publicity in the papers this day and time is to turn gangster. We all wonder what it would be like to see good deeds written on the front page. Now Tommy Touhy has received marked attention by the news world. The old saying "the evil that man does lives after him" could be changed to "the evil that man does brings headlines in the papers" and often if he lives, an engagement in the movies.

In spite of the peace talk that the League count is putting out they are still ahead in their preparations for war. While we are putting our gold away in large under ground tanks the British are putting oil away to be used by the British navy. Who knows but what they have other preparations stored. This preparedness stunt isn't such a bad idea after all. Now that Congress is meeting there will be the usual squabble of financing our army and navy but they will adjourn having made small provisions and never really doing anything.

Louisiana is still protesting against the Long invaders. The New Deal breathed a sigh of relief when Huey was assassinated but his spirit lives on in Louisiana. Long's feud with this administration was not ended by his death but is being renewed with full vigor by some of the Louisiana citizens.

A perfect school has been organized by the German Nazis in Germany. Though we have tried to discredit the Nazis in every way; they must be commended on the establishment of such a school. In this school they strive to build up character by employing those teachers that can promote such development by being an example of their teachings. This does not appear to be such a bad idea.

William H. Lord, who slept for ten years and is acclaimed the modern Rip Van Winkle, doesn't know what a lucky bird he really is. He has slept through the depression and all the hard knocks that it gave.

"BRAIN JEWELS" FROM OUR EXCHANGES

"Billy Sunday is dead—but he had something worth more than money or fame or the splendor of kings. If you are a very sophisticated person you may have thought him an emotional clown but no one who knew him ever could doubt that he believed what he preached. He was as sure of his existence of God and of Heaven as he was of his own presence on earth. Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, Moses and St. Peter were as real to him in their angelic robes as were the people who appeared physically before his eyes. He was sure also of his own salvation; he knew he would go to Heaven.—The Tulsa Herald

Another new proposal comes from Washington that is calculated to arouse a lot of discussion.

and the Worst is Yet to Come

It is now being recommended by some of the cabinet members that the country be divided into ten or twelve Federal administrative districts, each of these districts to have a little capital of its own. Nine cities have been suggested by the brain-trusters as capitals of the respective districts as follows: Boston, New York, Knoxville, Atlanta, New Orleans, Chicago, Portland, San Francisco, and Denver. If there are to be ten districts we presume that Washington would be the "little capital" of the tenth district composed of the states of Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, and North Carolina, or possibly Baltimore would be designated as the little capital of this district. For purely administrative purposes, this arrangement would seem innocent enough. But we wonder if, in the course of time, each of these districts with its little capital tractor to a farmer. He met my proposition with this question: "How can I buy a tractor on twenty-two cent wheat and eight cent corn? I can't pay for the tractor I bought in 1929." Then I thought of a customer who had bought a truck and still owed $296.00. He had to sell one hundred and three hogs to pay his note. I thought of a deal that was foreclosed by one of my dealers that I had handled down in the cotton country about a hundred miles east of here. After the cost of picking and ginning was paid for, the cotton netted the dealer $3.90 a bale. And I thought of a savings account of company stock that had cost me around a hundred dollars a share, and how I felt when it went to ten and three eights. I thought of a friend of mine who had sold his farm in the edge of an oil field for a hundred thousand dollars might not grow in importance, increase in sectional consciousness, minimize the importance of the states and eventually practical ly obliterate state lines. We wonder if this might not be an entering wedge either to make the Federal Government supreme or to eventually divide our country into several smaller countries. We are no alarmist, no calamity howler, but we believe our people should think a long time before they make any radical changes in our governmental set-up.—Lynn County News.

"I don't see why our son Jim can't find a job. The poor boy is up till 2 or 3 o'clock looking for one, and he's always got a girl helping him."—The Miami Chief.

Now and then we hear some one say, "Only the young die good." Well that as you will, we have known some mighty good old folks. Folks that were good in and out, big hearted, big minded folks. Folks who have tried by the fires of adversity, in more ways than we would care to enumerate, and come out, clean and bright and glorified.—The Jayton Chronicle.

At the time Mark Twain was editing a small Western newspaper, a merchant in the town wrote him, asking whether a spider in his paper was an omen of good or ill fortune. The reply was characteristic: Finding a spider in your paper does not mean either good or bad luck for you. He was merely looking to see which merchant advertised, so that he could go to the store of one who did not, build his web over the door, and remain peaceful and undisturbed the rest of his days.—Gaines County News

BACK IN 1930 Monday night I was home thinking of the year 1935, and what it had brought. I was happy to see just how good it had been to me. I was lost before I knew it and was back in 1930, '31, '32. I saw myself trying to sell a

When Work Is Hard I used to think that work was slavery, and only the poor people had to work. I never dreamed that rich people had to work. But it is a principle of life that we must if we would be happy and useful. Work isn't bad if things can be brought to pass. An energetic man does not com- plain because he has to plow provided his efforts are not in vain. Work is hard and grinding when little or nothing is ac- complished. Work is hard when the task is too great. Work is hard when you are compelled to do the work of three men. Work is hard when you lack training and discipline. Work is hard when you have no plan, no object and no purpose in view. Work is discouraging when you realize there is no end to it. For life is one continuous struggle of toil, of sacrifice, of burdens, of pain, of disappointments, to the man who succeeds. A lazy, indolent man never succeeds at anything—not even in escaping a hard time. It pays to try even if you fail more times than you succeed. The farmer who quits farming because of the drouth; or the cat- tleman who gives up because of the severe winter; or the real estate man who takes his sign down because of a lull in busi- ness; or the doctor who wants to move because its so distress- ingly healthful,—these do not deserve sympathy or success. The man who sticks to it, who works against all the odds, who is a good loser and a game fighter, will win in the end. The man who never works up to the limit of his strength until his pulse beats fast and weak, his heart grows sick, his temples throb, his brain is in a whirl, looking defeat in the face and feeling the sands giving away under his feet is prepared to enjoy the fruits of victory or real success. Work is exhilarating, is refresh- ing, is health-giving and profit- able, under all conditions to the person who knows he is in the right place and has the right motive. To be a misfit creates friction and dissatisfaction. The one thing above all others to make our burdens unbearable and the yoke galling to our necks is the everyday consciousness that we are unfitted to our work and to be at loss to know just what to do or where to go. To be a failure and know it is a very unhappy feeling.

Success is not in position or place or power, but in fitness, in service, and in things accomplish- ed.

Strange Program! Little Sue sat idly watching the slight movement of her grand father's whiskers as he snored vigorously in the armchair in the corner of the room. Looking at her mother suddenly said, "Mother, I'm glad our radio is a Philco instead of one like Grand- pop's. His is the same tune all the time, and it's five o'clock and Lile Orphan Annie hasn't come on yet."

Basketball Games Friday The Sterley basketball teams, senior girls, senior and junior boys, will go to Aiken Friday afternoon to play the Aiken teams on the Aiken courts. A great amount of fun and some good practice are hoped to be derived from the games whether they result in victory or defeat.

Fun and Facts Miss Margaret: Crawford, what are you going to be when you grow up?

Crawford: I'm going to be a grandfather and sit around tell- ing every one how cold the win- ters were and the things I did when I was a boy.

Jimmy: But why do you keep calling me Charlie? Didn't I tell you my name was Jimmy?

Dortha: Of course, how stupid of me. But I keep on thinking this is Wednesday night.

Miss Leona: (to man sitting back of her in theatre.) Pardon me sir! Does my hat bother you. Mr Jones: No, but it bothers my wife, she wants one like it.

Myrtle resolves to read Don Quixote someday.

Archie has resolved to pass every mid-term exam, and at all times talk less.

Dortha resolves to be the best- looking girl in Texas—if she can. We hope Duward resolves to talk louder in class.

Lucille resolves to be the sweetest girl in school.

Sally Myrtle resolves to do all of her debate work and her col- leagues, too. How nice! Miss Crouch has resolved never to glue up anymore little girls mouths, unless, they talk.

Montie resolves to be just as quiet as a mouse all of the time.

Mr Jones resolves to eat less candy and chew more gum.

The society will meet Monday Jan. 13 at the home of Mrs J J Harris.

MOTION PICTURE SUBJECT AT STUDY CLUB

"The motion picture" was the subject discussed by the El Progreso Study Club Wednesday afternoon at the high school.

Development of the Industry," and motion pictures' influence on education were pointed out by Mrs Canon Blount.

"SHIPMATES FOREVER" TO BE FEATURED AT ISIS

Saturday night the Isis Theatre presents a gayly dramatized picture of Uncle Sam's navy, "Shipmates Forever." Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler and Lewis Stone are starred in the film.

Few motion pictures are able to stand the test of being reissued following their initial release but Norma Shearer's triumphant film of "Smilin' Through" in which she is supported by Fredric March and Leslie Howard is one of those rare productions. This will be shown at the Isis Tuesday and Wednesday.

Thursday and Friday Carol Lombard and Fred Mac Murray can be seen in "Hands Across the Table".

Saturday night a new serial will start at the Isis. It is entitled "Rex and Rinty".

Lets Talk about Clothes

Much has been said relative to women's clothes, but very little space has been devoted to a discussion of just what the "very young" are wearing. Intensive research made by girls at Texas College for Women (CIA) among the young future feminine shoppers shows that at the moment they're all excited over the tricky rainy day ensembles. These include raincoats, slickers, matching, snug-fitting berets, and girl size umbrellas made of the same material as the slickers and beret.

The coats are designed exactly as grownup sister's transparent oiled silk slicker and they're shown in cheerful colors. The neat fitted coats have belts and pockets and the umbrellas have unusual handles in matching or contrasting colors.

Little girls are anxious to have one of these tiny twin sweater sets that are so popular among the older girls. You'll find these sweaters in practically every shade on the color chart. Gaudily striped caps and long mittens can also be purchased with them.

While you're cruising about the department stores for youthful creations, take a look at the pleated skating skirts. They come in plaids and make clever little ensembles when combined with slip-over sweaters.

Dresses for the very young generation are following the princess style. We see solid velveteens made on simple lines ornamented at the front with bright buttons from the tiny collar at the neck to the hem. Yoke frocks are popular. They're made from almost every type of material and give ample opportunity for clever color combinations.

How Are Your Tires?

Almost equal in importance to brakes are the tires on your car. If the tread is worn where they are slick—if there are breaks in the sidewalls—you are liable to have a sudden blowout and blowouts usually result in accidents—or DEATH! Tires are very inexpensive these days and they certainly are a worthwhile investment for ANY car.

BEACON GIVES RULES TO HELP CANDIDATES
Now that the custom of publishing time tables for candidates is being followed, the Beacon wishes to feel very regret that I was forced to discontinue my service to you. In my judgement there could not be a greater service or nobler ideal. You have been fair to me and I am confident that you will be fair to me now. A candidate that thinks that he isn't qualified is dishonest to announce, however this is for you to decide and your duty to investigate. Realizing there isn't anything accomplished that is worth while without effort I will be so see you and discuss my qualifications and etc. If by your vote I am your choice I promise to have your best interest at heart always.

Sincerely,
M B (Bee) MARTIN

TOM W DEEN ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION

To the Citizens of Floyd County, Texas:
I am announcing my Candidacy for a Second Term to the office of County Judge, subject to the Democratic Primary.
During the twelve months that I have served you in this capacity I have been made to realize the terrible condition of many of our citizens that have come to the end of their ropes. Fully understanding this I have tried to cooperate with the Commissioner's Court and every citizen of this County that would cooperate and work with me, to get work projects that the people might have work and that we might get Highways and that we might get the benefit of the tax money that we are entitled to, and will have to pay to carry on the President's Program.
The humblest citizen has never come to me for help but what I have done the best I could for him or her.
I realize that I am not a perfect man by any means and that I have made mistakes, but if by your vote you see fit to give me another term you will find me at my post fighting for what I believe to be the best thing for my will make diligent inquiry of me, both as to qualifications and as a man.

Assuring you that it has been a pleasure to have served you, and will endeavor at all times to render you a service that you are proud of, and will try at all times to improve the service of the office.

Thanking you for many past favors, and for your friendship and support in the past, and assure you that I will certainly appreciate your vote and influence in the coming election.
I am, yours truly,
Frank L. Moore.

A B CLARK FOR COUNTY CLERK

To The People Of Floyd County: I hereby announce to you that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of County Clerk, subject to the Democratic Primaries of this election year.

As I have never made any political pledges or promises, except to do my best to render prompt, efficient and courteous service at all times, I now here say again, that if re-elected it will be my highest aim to render good and faithful service to all. Whether I have made you a good clerk is a matter of record, which all may know by making investigation.

Gratefully appreciating the generous support heretofore given me by the people, I solicit a continuation of the same in the coming election.

Yours very respectfully,
A. B. CLARK,
Candidate for County Clerk.

E S RANDERSON ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION

In this week's issue of the Beacon, E S Randerson announces his candidacy for re-election as Sheriff of Floyd county, subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries in July.

Mr Randerson asks that the voters consider his record as sheriff and then they can judge whether he has made a faithful ward, upright an impartial manner, and from the experience I have gained in this office in the past I believe I am better qualified and more capable of serving our people in the future," he said.

E. R. HARRIS ANNOUNCES FOR COMMISSIONER

E R Harris requests the Beacon to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of County Commissioner, Precinct No 2, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July.

Mr Harris has been a faithful and efficient official and has rendered worthwhile service to the people of the county and especially of Precinct 2.

His road work in this precinct is outstanding, having graded and maintained practically every road of any importance. Also he has been diligent in looking after the financial affairs of the county as a member of the Commissioners Court. He is for the rebuilding and development of the county, and believes and works to the end that the county should keep the budget of the county as near balanced as possible.

"I certainly do appreciate the splendid cooperation given me by the people of this precinct," said Mr Harris. They have been very considerate in all matters. I have enjoyed working with and for all of them. My past record as your commissioner is an open book. If you approve of it, I would be glad to serve you for another term as Commissioner," said Mr Harris.

Mr Harris has under construction at this time an extensive road improvement program in this precinct, and will necessarily be very busy during the coming months and perhaps will not be able to see you personally and solicit your vote, but he asks that you give his candidacy due consideration and upon the day of the primary in July when you go to cast your vote he would appreciate it if you would cast it in his favor.

DR KIMBLE IS ATTENDING CLINIC ON CARE OF EYES OF CHILDREN

FLOYDADA, Jan 9, 1936—Dr Wilson Kimble left yesterday to attend the Graduate Clinic on the care of the eyes of children, to be held in the Hilton Hotel, Lubbock, Texas on the 8th, 9th, and 10th under Dr A M Skeffington, Director of the Graduate Clinic Foundation, internationally known for his work in visual correction.

These Graduate Clinics in Advanced Optometric methods of correcting the visual problems of children are being held in all the principal cities of the State, in connection with the Extension Program of the Texas Optometric Association.

Dr Wilson Kimble states that the methods of analyzing the causes for ocular problems in children of school age have advanced so rapidly in the past several years that simply keeping abreast is a task for the conscientious practitioner.

Less attention is being given to whether the child can simply see well and more to whether he is visually adapted to the demands of the modern educational requirements.

Research has shown methods of grasping this inability to learn and absorb and methods of adaptation have been perfected.

It is to become fully conversant with these new methods that Dr Kimble has left his practice these three days.

Dr Wilson Kimble will return to his office Saturday morning Jan. 11th.

Meeting of Townsend Followers

A mass meeting of Townsend followers will be held at Lubbock, Texas Thursday, Jan. 16, at 7:30 p. m. The entire voting population are invited to attend and learn more of this will be to break the depression. Newsom and Joseph H Price will be the speakers.
