

"Around The World"
Program Heard By Demonstration Clubs

The Home Demonstration clubs in the county held an "Around the World" program Thursday, October 23, in the county court room in Floydada. This is the second annual program presented by the clubs on a study of the different countries of the world. It was sponsored by the Education-Expansion and Exhibit committees of the Home Demonstration Council and is an effort to acquaint themselves with the other countries in the world.

The program began at 11:00 when Mrs. J. B. Jordan and Mrs. Travis Lightfoot and children of the Center Home Demonstration Club gave a clever play which showed the conditions and needs of the peoples of Italy. Mrs. George Stiles of Friendship gave their introduction.

India was the country studied by the Dougherty Club. Conditions and customs in this country as observed by a soldier were ably presented by Mrs. Howard Drysdale. Mrs. Drysdale served some East India Chutney to the group.

Norway had been studied by the Homebuilders Club. Mrs. D. D. Shipley gave a story of the early history of that country which is still typical of the life of their people.

The geography and political conditions of Russia were discussed by Mrs. Orvus Shearer, Mrs. Earl Edwards, Mrs. Henry Willis and Mrs. W. H. Bunch of the Lakeview Club.

The Friendship club had chosen China as their country and they presented Mr. Bud Dullio, a former Marine who spent quite some time in China in the cities of Tientsin and Taiyuan during the war. The first-hand information about the people of China, their customs, monetary system, etc., was most interesting.

Mrs. Will McDonald of Lockney gave a book review on "They Walk Alone" which is a true story of a man who spent many years in a leper colony in the Philippines, the country studied by Lockney.

Lone Star presented a study of Scotland. Mrs. C. L. King, showed a map of the country and discussed the geography and industries. Mrs. Raymond Teeple read three letters from a girl in Scotland written to her daughter, Norma. Mrs. Herman King led the group in singing "The Blue Bells of Scotland".

Australia was studied by the Sunnyside Club. Mrs. S. J. Latta gave a description of the country and its animal life. She displayed a fine sheep skin rug, a fur rug and purse made from wild cats' skins and some coins which were sent from Australia to some of the club's members.

Mrs. John Hoffman of the Harmony Club spoke on Arabia. Her review of the yet unreleased book, "Meet the Arab" by Hess, was of great interest to all.

Mrs. D. G. Mayfield furnished flowers for the decoration.

Mrs. W. A. Lovell and Mrs. Jake Greer were in charge of the meeting and of the luncheon served at noon. Special guests at the luncheon were members of the Commissioners' Court: Judge W. E. Grimes, Mr. R. B. Calhoun, and Mr. W. C. Plumlee. It is regretted that Mr. Smith and Mr. Clark were unable to attend. Other guests at the luncheon were Mr. A. L. Hartzog, County Agricultural Agent and Mrs. Harry Morckel, Extension Office Secretary. Approximately 40 club members attended the program and luncheon.

DRILLING STARTED NEAR

Tom Davis of Tulsa, a former Lockney resident, has been notified by an oil company that drilling is started on a Fields, N. M., block in which Davis' farm is located. The well site is a mile north and two miles east of the Davis farm, the Beacon was informed.

ATTEND DOUBLE FUNERAL AT CLOVIS THURSDAY

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Allen attended funeral services at Clovis, N. M. Thursday for Mr. Allen's uncle, George Key, and a cousin, Arch Key. The elder Mr. Key died Wednesday morning of this week while the younger man died Monday.

"Cornzapoppin",
Home Talent Show
Set For November 5-6

Rehearsals are underway for "Cornzapoppin", the local talent show being sponsored by the American Legion, to be presented November 5 and 6 at the City Auditorium for the benefit of the furnishing and completion of the Legion Home.

The play is under the direction of Miss Cleo Krunholz who is greatly pleased with the cast and anticipates one of the finest shows she has ever directed.

J. O. Wood plays the part of Elviry Judkins who "rules the roost" in the Judkins household including her husband, Henry, played by W. L. Thomas and daughter, Sue, played by Doyle Casey.

Elviry has her heart set on Sue marrying Squire Hicks (Marvin Sams) who is the town sheriff and lawyer combined. However Sue says that the Squire is old enough to be her father and she is much more interested in Bob Sandrock played by Wayne Bybee, who lives down the road.

Something must be done about the situation everyone agrees, and that's when Art Barker Jr., as Elmer and Thomas Marr, as Mazie Mae discover that Skunk Creek water smells like perfume. Aunt Bessie (Bud Steele) has a pet bear that keeps getting lost and Lenny Pearl (Revis Harris) is too much concerned with her rock collection to bother with any fool ideas about perfume, and then of course Miss Twitty (Geo. Atwood) is interested only in catching a man, "any" man.

From here on out "business picks up. In addition to the comedy cast, "Cornzapoppin" has many colorful, tuneful chorus numbers as well as that famous quartet of Dee Copeland, Art Barker, Sr., J. B. Seale and C. O. Jeffcoat.

It's a gay show, a laugh show, an entertaining show and those attending will be repaid with 2 hours of good entertainment in addition to helping a worthy cause.

Baby Contest

Mrs. George Webster and Hazel Wofford list the following babies entered in the Popularity contest thus far: Randy Baucus, Karen McPherson, Jerry Cummins, Teddy Bob Cooper, Diana Allison, Jimmy Visage, Margaret Stan Lee Stapp, Billy Jake Wofford, Donna Lynn Record, Butch Hall, Nancy Karen Webster, Gary Bob McAninch, Polly Sue Gilbert, Carol Cooper, Johnny Chandler, Paul Barker, Larry Don Golden.

It's a penny a vote and standings of contestants are listed daily in the Lockney Dry Goods window where there is a large display of all children entered in the contest as well as the various prizes to be given. The contest closes at 4:00 Thursday, Nov. 6.

All the children will be presented on the stage Thursday night at 8:14 p. m. when the King and Queen of Toyland will be crowned and presented with loving cups.

OTHER SURVIVORS

In the story regarding the death of little Michael Brown in last week's Beacon, the great-grandparents of the infant, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jeffcoat were unintentionally omitted in the list of survivors. They live in Lockney. The baby was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Brown.

Negro Pleads Guilty To Assault Charge;
Fined $300 and Costs

Wilton King, Jr., negro, pleaded guilty to a charge of aggravated assault with a motor vehicle in county court last week and was fined $300 and costs. The charged resulted from an automobile crash in which King's car hit a car containing a white family, seriously injured three of them.

The injured family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knight and a daughter, Dorothy Fisher have been released from the Lockney Hospital and are improving.

Hallow'e'n Carnival.

The doors will be open at 6 p. m. for the benefit of the people who work in town. We hope everyone will eat their evening meal with us.

Besides the foods booth there will be a number of other things. Games and all sorts of entertainment.

The Queen's race will continue until Friday night at 19:00 o'clock. The contestants for this race are:

Grade school: Carol Ann Foster, Janice Hays, Hope Cox, Katy Ray Rucker, Betty June Jackson, Clydene Terrell, Margaret Ann Holt, Mary Joyce Griffith, Mary Jo Bonner, Bonnie Singer.

High school: Peggy Carthel, Betty Jean Myers.

Joe D. Giddens, 62, retired cattleman and farmer, father of Mrs. Lester Carter of Lockney, was found dead in his room at the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock Monday. Death was attributed to a heart attack. Mrs. Giddens was visiting her daughter in Lockney at the time of her husband's death.

Funeral services were held at Plainview Tuesday afternoon with Rev. G. K. Rogers, pastor of the Presbyterian Church officiating. A number of friends from Lockney attended the services.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ethel Giddens; four sons, Willis of Portales, N. M., Harvey of Odessa, Joe Dick Jr. of Stamford, and Bruce of Hermiston, Oregon; three daughters, Mrs. George K. Burt of Leveland, Mrs. Bud Starr of Plainview and Mrs. Carter of Lockney.

Store was set up by union to sell goods in case lots at wholesale prices as a method of resisting soaring living costs.

School Board Calls
Election On $40,000
Bond Issue Nov. 8

Acting in response to petitions signed by over 100 qualified voters, the Board of Trustees of the Lockney Rural High School District in a meeting Monday night of this week issued an order for an election to be held November 8 to determine whether or not the district will issue $40,000 in bonds. The money derived from the bond issue, should it carry, will be used to complete the grade school building, provide a lunchroom at the grade school and a vocational agriculture shop and classroom, and band room at the high school.

The bond issue is necessary, school officials explained, because the insurance money the district received when the old grade school burned is not sufficient to complete the present building under construction. The school received $55,000 in insurance but purchased school buses and other needed equipment and had only slightly over $40,000 left when construction began on the grade school.

Election judges will be Frank Dodson and T. H. Mitchell, clerks will be Mrs. Marvin Gilbert and Mrs. Carl McAdams. The place of voting will be at the high school.

It was pointed out that the bond issue will not raise valuations or increase the present tax rate. Valuation will remain as they are at present and the 50c per $100 valuation already being paid by the district for bond retirement will take care of this additional bond issue without need of any increase.

Vote on Three Proposals

Because of a technicality, the bonding attorney has requested that the $150 rate and the assumption of the bonded indebtedness, both of which questions have already been voted on and approved by a large majority in the district, be re-submitted to the voters of the district for approval. Because of that voters will find three proposals on the ballot when they go to the polls November 8. They are (1) Shall the district levy a tax rate not to exceed $1.50 per $100 valuation; (2) Shall the district assume the bonded indebtedness of the various former districts; and (3) Shall the Board of Trustees be authorized to issue $40,000 in bonds.

Brunner Lumber Co.

The Brunner Lumber Company, located on the old Magnolia bulk station in the south part of Lockney opened for business here this week. Proprietors are Mr. and Mrs. (Bud) Brunner.

A large shed has been built and an office building will be constructed soon, Mr. Brunner said. Monroe Smith will be employed at the yard.

Mr. and Mrs. Brunner moved here from Groom several months ago. They have had years of experience in the lumber business. They offer free estimating and a free plan service to their customers. Their advertisement appears elsewhere in The Beacon.

Grade School Will Move Into The New Building Monday

Phillip Nolan, the man without a country, had but little on the elementary school children of the Lockney District, the students who for the past two years have been the kids without a school. Two years ago the old elementary building that had seen two generations of Lockney citizens garner an education from its citadel of knowledge was completely destroyed by fire. Since that devastating fire, there has been no elementary school building in Lockney.

Now the kids without a school are but a memory, for Monday will be moving day for 500 elementary school children in Lockney. On that day they will pick up their lunch pails and book satchels and march into their own new modern structure. From the ashes of the venerable old structure has reared a new and modern building that will open spacious corridors and swing out its luxurious classroom doors to the elementary children of the area.

The building is a rambling structure that spreads its length north and south for a distance of 320 feet or 20 feet longer than the distance of a city block. The width at the ends measures 75 feet while the center section of the building measures 42 feet. A 12 foot corridor extends 270 feet through the length of the building and four transversal corridors cut this length with 12 foot halls which run the width of the building thus providing 8 double entrance doors.

Carved from this massive structure are 14 modern classrooms, a visual education and assembly room, four restrooms, a teachers rest room, a reception room and principals office, a textbook room, a central library room, a lounge, a storage space and custodian storage. A modern lunchroom will be raised at the back of the building.

The interior of the building is plaster while the exterior is of brick. The corridors will be overlaid with asphalt tile. All windows will be shaded with venetian blinds.

It has been estimated by contractors and bond men that the structure if raised from the ground would have entailed an expense of something like $250,000; however through the utilization of buildings provided by the War Assets Administration, the district has been able to complete finishing plans for the building at a cost estimated not to exceed $60,000.

LONGHORNS TAKE DISTRICT LEAD

By virtue of their own win over the Spur Bulldogs and the loss by Floydada Whirlwinds to Paducah last Friday night, the Lockney Longhorns now stand on top in the district 4-A gridiron race. They are the only team in the district that hasn't lost a game in district play.

Although the Longhorns have a long way to go yet before the district crown can be called their own, they are playing each game as they come to it and the boys are in good shape both physically and mentally. Coach Curtis Kelley and John Hansford report.

The next test for the Longhorns comes Friday night of next week when they meet their arch foe, the Floydada Whirlwinds on the local gridiron. The locals have an open date this week.

Floydada, Paducah, Ralls and Spur have lost one game while Crosbyton has lost two games and Matador lost two. The Longhorns have yet to play Floydada, Matador and Paducah. They have won over Ralls, Crosbyton and Spur.

Meanwhile this week end Floydada plays Matador, and Crosbyton plays at Spur.

Local Business Women Attend Amarillo Meet

Mrs. Wanda Baker, Mrs. June Bybee, Mrs. Clara Copeland and Mrs. Margaret Dorman were representatives from the Lockney Business and Professional Women's club who attended a conference of District 9 in Amarillo Saturday night and Sunday.

At a banquet Saturday night held at the Amarillo Country Club Mrs. Jill Thornton Archer, an American business woman born and educated in Johannesburg, South Africa, was the speaker of the evening. Mrs. Archer who's home is still in Africa, came to America to attend the International Council of Women's Clubs.

The Sunday morning program began with a devotional and breakfast, followed by a program co-ordination demonstration featuring the presidents of the various clubs in the district. Mrs. Clara Copeland represented the Lockney club in the absence of Mrs. Estelle Powers, president. A luncheon was held at noon with Marguerite Anderson of Abilene, State President of B. & P. W. Clubs, as speaker.

Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Bybee returned home Saturday night and Mrs. Copeland and Mrs. Dorman were accompanied home Sunday afternoon by Mr. Copeland and Mr. Dorman.

CONFOUNDING PROFITS OF SCARCITY

Soon after the white man first set foot on the North American continent, expert calculators got busy estimating how long this or that natural resource would last. The gloomiest predictions have been made concerning timber. More than a hundred years ago a French botanist, after a swing around a portion of the country, reported that, "There is an alarming destruction of trees for building. The complaints of the scarcity of timber are every year becoming more serious in America. . . . Warnings have been issued with clocklike regularity ever since."

In regard to our present timber resources, a spokesman for the timber industry makes the observation that, "When we consider overall growth in every size of product from Christmas trees up, plus losses from fire, disease and insects, we find that currently the national drain is being replaced by growth. This has been accomplished in spite of the fact that we still do not protect 30 per cent of our forest land from the hazard of fire. . . . It is an historical fact that most of the estimates of the natural resources of the United States have been woefully inaccurate. They have indicated an inability to grasp the vastness of the nation and its recuperative powers. The proof of our inaccuracy is evident on every side, in the continued development of the natural resource industries, such as lumber, which according to the estimates, should have been out of business a half century ago. Actually such industries have no intention of going out of business. The timber industry, for example, is pursuing practical conservation programs that should insure sustained production from this resource for all time, while simultaneously meeting public demand for forest products. Its policy is typical of the resourcefulness of private enterprise and in reality is the secret of this nation's greatness. It advocates maximum use as well as conservation of America's natural wealth.

WRECKERS AT WORK

There is a well organized plan to overthrow the free enterprise system in this country. J. C. Penney, head of the J. C. Penney stores, said on a recent speaking tour in the West on behalf of the Laymen's Movement for a Christian World. Mr. Penney is a philanthropist of the practical school in which politics plays no part. He warned against government encroachments on private business, and pointed out that the Wagner-Murray-Dingell medical plan is but "Another Utopian scheme of the unbridled bureaucrats to delude American people into thinking they can get something for nothing."

As a cure for government and economic problems of the present, he said we should strive to follow God's laws concerning human relations with the same care scientists follow His laws concerning the universe. The people of the United States raised their standards of living through hard work, the same as Mr. Penney, a country storekeeper, developed a great business, and not through the benevolence of government. Those who are watching the present day scene are well aware of the fact that organized efforts are now being exerted to undermine confidence in our private enterprise system which has given every citizen in the United States the maximum in opportunity, freedom and religious liberty.

LETTERS from our READERS

Guam, M. I. Oct. 2, 1947

Dear Mr. Hays, I don't quite know how much to thank you for sending me the paper. It's like being back in good ole Lockney for a short visit each time I receive an issue of it.

I sure wish I could be there and see the Longhorns win the District this year but I suppose it will be some time before I get to see them play again.

The Navy has me working at a Diversity station at Radio Guam as an electronic technician and radio operator. About all I do is keep up teletype signal from Shanghai, Honolulu, Saipan, Manila and Tokyo. We also get up all the news broadcasts, baseball, football games, boxing matches and anything that might be of entertainment to the people here on the island and send it up to the local island broadcasting station to be broadcasted.

Boy, I don't believe I ever want to see it rain again. It rained 12 inches last month and it's been raining most of the time for the last couple of days so it probably will beat that this month. Well I know this is getting dull so I'll sign off for now. Thanks again for the paper.

As ever, James Powell

Regulation of Texas Water Supply Urged

Austin, Oct. 16—An urgent need for a statewide water proration program backed by clear-cut conservation statutes was repeatedly urged today by speakers before the third annual convention of the Texas Water Conservation association.

A gloomy picture of dwindling water supplies for municipal, industrial and agricultural purposes was highlighted by frequent references to the current drought and acute local water shortages in many areas. Speakers noted the drought only emphasized the need for long range water conservation.

Would Control Supply

The convention early plunged into a controversial issue, unanimously adopted a committee report recommending passage of laws to regulate underground water supplies and clarification and tightening of present statutes controlling surface waters.

There are no laws now to regulate underground water. Efforts in the last two legislative sessions to bring this source of supply under state control had been sharply opposed and ultimately defeated.

State Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton predicted that an effective conservation program would be adopted at the next session, saying:

"Now is the time for proration of water to conserve this vital resource just as a few years ago we prorated oil production. We need to give the regulatory body the same powers, the same statutory authority and adequate appropriations to enforce such water proration program, as the Railroad Commission now has for oil."

Phillips said that lowering water tables were an acute problem in the heavily industrialized Gulf coast area, to home owners, farmers and industry.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester told the association that he was pleased to know that it was "doing something about rewriting Texas' water laws."

Col. Henry Hutchins, Jr. U. S. division engineer, reminded the conservationists of the "paradox of continuing floods and droughts," noting that there was no conflict between efforts of the federal government and local and state agencies in conserving water. He said it would take teamwork by all interested to bring the water situation under control, and that continued industrial expansion is directly dependent on water supplies.

"Texas has lost substantially by not being fully water-conscious in advance of its great expansion," Col. Hutchins said.

He said that further study and development of the Rio Grande system depends upon provisions of the Texas-New Mexico water compact, and that activities in the Pecos basin likewise hinge upon adoption of an interstate compact.

Bureau Policies Hit
Texas Water Conservation Association General Manager J. E. Sturrock's report was sharply critical of current

U. S. Reclamation Bureau policies.

"Men who possess social theories running counter to what we believe to be fundamental in a free democracy have been placed at the head of the bureau," Sturrock said.

"What was once a great organization is now being carried to the how-ows, by a few self-styled superexecutives who think they know more about what is good for our people than do the elected representatives of Congress."

He referred to the association's efforts to obtain modification of the reclamation law limiting tracts to be benefited to 160 acres, saying such units for example, were not suitable for rice growing.

Wesley R. Nelson, assistant commissioner of reclamation, replied that the answer was an effort to obtain modification, rather than outright appeal of the 160 acre law.

"I have observed that Texans generally get what they're after and I am confident that the reclamationists and conservationists of Texas will be content with nothing short of a complete reclamation program to conserve and utilize their water and land resources," he said.

Plans for revising the state's water laws will be worked out during the coming year under Sturrock's direction, and drafts of suggested legislation will be submitted to the association's next convention before they are urged on the legislature.

TRUE STORIES BY WEST TEXANS

CHILD OF CONCHO FRONTIER

As the sentry's cry of "All's well" echoed through the stone barracks and across the courtyard to a little rock house just within the confines of Fort Concho, little eight-year-old Mary relaxed for sleep. It was wonderful to feel secure. She couldn't recall a sensation quite like it. BUT even as she hugged the feeling close to her, she wondered how long it would last.

Would it, for instance, still be hers in their little new house that her father was building just across the river.

Mary Tankersley was a child of the West Texas frontier and, being in a country infested by Indians, had been taught to be on the alert. Born at Camp Colorado in 1861 after the Civil War had commenced and the federal government had removed its troops from the frontier posts, tragedy had come close to her while she was still in her crib. Their nearest neighbors, the Jacksons, were attacked; the father, mother and oldest daughter killed and scalped and the two younger children taken captive. Her own father had joined the Rangers in tracking down the Indians and the retrieved children had lived with the Tankersleys until relatives could come for them.

And then their family had moved to the Concho country, becoming the first white people in that area, and were again soon in the midst of Indian trouble. The Kickapoos, once a friendly tribe, had gone on the warpath after an unfortunate attack on them by the Rangers in the winter of 1865. And so for four more years little Mary had lived in the shadow of this feeling of insecurity.

It was not until this summer when the family had come to live at the post while her father was away trailing cattle that this fear had begun to recede. But Father was back now, and their own little home across the Concho would soon be ready to move into.

Mary was glad that it was close to the fort, but she wished that she could hear the sentry's "All's Well" during the night.

It was in the late Fall of 1869 that Mary, daughter of R. F. Tankersley, pioneer Ranger, cattleman and trail driver, wished for closer neighbors and the security they would offer in frontier West Texas.

Three-quarters of a century later, as Mary Tankersley Lewis sat on the front porch of her home just across the street from the San Angelo Junior High School, she recalled this wish. But the exact location of that little house, and of its sheds and corrals, now well within the confines of that bustling metropolis of the Concho, was harder to identify.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Clemons and Hardy of Whiteface were here for the football game Friday night.

New Friend Admits Strangling Woman

Unemployed Handyman Tells the Police of Murder.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH. — The strangling of Mrs. Betty Ann Roberts was admitted orally, police reported, by an unemployed handyman who said he had known the comely 21-year-old victim only a few hours.

Detective Inspector Frank J. Sullivan and Assistant Prosecutor Roger C. McMahon indicated they would place charges against Dale Beauchamp, 26, after he had finished giving them a written statement.

Mrs. Roberts' body, a worn cotton dress wound tightly about the neck, was found stretched across the bed of her downtown Grand Rapids apartment. She was fully clothed.

Beauchamp, who is married, first told police he had found the woman dead when he came to the apartment to meet her after making her acquaintance three hours earlier in a bar.

Under questioning, the slightly built handyman admitted in his oral statement that he killed Mrs. Roberts in her home "because she called me bad names."

After leaving the bar, the officers said, Beauchamp told them, the couple drove to a lake outside the city, parked for a time and then returned to the apartment. There, Beauchamp was quoted as saying, Mrs. Roberts began to call him names.

"I told her I wouldn't take those names from anyone, not even my wife," the officers said he related. "But she kept yelling at me and I told her to shut up or I'd tie her up. When she kept hollering, I tied her up with the dress and left."

Sullivan said Beauchamp told him he then bought some coffee and returned to his home in suburban Comstock Park, but began to wonder later whether he had killed the woman, and went back to the apartment.

Unable to determine whether she was dead, he told the authorities he called the apartment caretaker, Mrs. Donald Kraft, who summoned police.

The victim's husband, Forrest, told police he had been at work all day at a bakery and had no knowledge of his wife's slaying until called.

Watch Your Kidneys!
Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Mr. H. R. Patterson has adopted the sprinkler system of watering. He has been watering up hay and small grains, and says his sprinkler system is the stuff on his steeper land. H. He was a little surprised, too.

Longhorns Upset Spur 6 To 0

Rated as the underdogs by most sports writers in this territory, the Lockney Longhorns proved the better team last Friday night when they met the Spur Bulldogs on the local gridiron. The final score was 6-0. In addition the Longhorns had one touchdown called back.

Spur never seriously threatened to score except in the latter part of the second quarter when they got away with a long pass. Bobby Carthel, fleet tailback for the Longhorns, overtook the receiver and downed him on Lockney's two yard line. One down by the Spur team lost a yard and the halftime whistle blew.

Playing a steady game, the Longhorns were always able to stop the Bulldogs when the chips were down. The Longhorns line played an exceptional game. Every man filled his place well. The ends, Calvin Pyle and Joe Keeter, the tackles, Jack Adams, Ewell Dee Kelley and Delbert Shearer, the guards, Roy Glover and Red Daniels and the center, Donnie Bybee, were all on their toes and made few errors.

In the backfield, Fullback Robert Quisenberry and Tailback Bobby Carthel were mainstays on the offense aided by their teammate's effective blocking. On defense, Wyman Guthrie was the standout. Playing the linebacker position, Guthrie was quick to detect where the play was going and to stop the hole. In addition he played a great game in pass defense, intercepting or knocking down a number of passes. Robert Logan and J. D. Williams were very effective as blocking back position, clearing the way for their teammates.

Lockney scored in the latter part of the first quarter, Bobby Carthel carrying the ball over standing up from his own 15 yard line.

First downs favored Spur, 12 to 9, the Longhorns playing a cautious game after they took the lead.

Lockney received the ball on the kickoff and, failing to gain sufficient yardage, kicked. Spur took the ball on their own 38 and making three first downs, drove to the Longhorns 21 yard line where the ball went over. From this point Robert Quisenberry, Longhorn fullback, made 18 yards on a straight plunge over tackle, and the Longhorns were never stopped until they had scored. The try for point failed.

The Bulldogs again took a punt and drove down into Lockney territory but were stopped this time when Calvin Pyle intercepted a lateral and carried it back to his own 37 yard line. A partially blocked kick gave Spur the ball on the Longhorn 46 yard line from where they made a first down on the 36 but this drive was stopped when Jack Adams intercepted a pass for the Longhorns. After failing to make a first the Longhorns kicked to Spur's 44. It was at this point that the Bulldogs completed a long pass and the receiver was downed on the Longhorn two yard line.

The Longhorns threatened to score early in the third quarter when they drove down to the Spur 14 yard line but failed to make another first and the ball went over.

Early in the fourth quarter the Longhorns had the ball on their own 30 yard line when Wyman Guthrie, halfback, took off around end and ran 70 yards for the score but the ball was called back, the referee ruling that Guthrie's knee had touched the ground behind the line of scrimmage.

The Bulldogs went on a passing spree at this point but had one intercepted and the remainder knocked down until the last play of the game when they completed a pass for a first down on the Longhorn 40 yard line. The final score was 6-0.

Outstanding for Spur were Barclay and Simpson.

OTHER GAMES

Paducah 13, Floydada 6

Paducah shoved the Floydada Whirlwinds out of the unbeaten class by a 13-6 score Friday night at Floydada. As a result of this loss by Floydada and the Longhorns win over Spur, the Longhorns now hold undisputed district lead, being the only team in the district that has not lost a district game.

Paducah scored once in the first quarter and again in the second quarter. Floydada pushed across a tally in the fourth.

Genevieve Boyd Chosen Floyd Gold Star Girl

Genevieve Boyd, president of the Baker Girls' 4-H Club, was chosen Gold Star Girl for Floyd County by the Education-Expansion Committee of the Floyd County Home Demonstration Council.

Genevieve is twin sister to Benevieve Boyd who was 1946 Gold Star Girl and their work shows the all-round development of a 4-H club girl.

Genevieve has milked cows, fed the chickens, cleaned and sprayed the chicken house, plowed 105 acres of wheat stubble and hoed 40 acres of row crops this year. She helped hoe and plant the family's three gardens, and helped can 610 quarts of food.

She helped cook the meals for the family, as well as doing part of the dishwashing and cleaning house. This year she helped paper their five-room house and helped paint all of the woodwork and floors. She has done some sewing and remodeling on her clothing.

Genevieve is an assistant Sunday School teacher in her church. She is president of her 4-H Club and has been clothing and garden demonstrator.

As an award for her outstanding work Genevieve will be presented a Gold Star pin by the Extension Service of the A. and M. College of Texas.

Total farm real estate in the United States on January 1, 1947, had an estimated value of 58.6 billion dollars.

LOCKNEY HIGH

By Martel McDonald and Glynn Earle Norman

We are waiting on the contract to begin work on our annual. We, the senior class, are going to do our best to put out an annual that any school would be proud of. Our business manager is in the office at noon and in the morning to accept payments. Don't forget, good snapshots are an important part of any annual, so when you are taking pictures take one that would be an addition to the snapshot page.

Lockney High Wonders—

Are all of Dora Lee's dreams as peculiar as the one we heard about? (Could it be that her conscience hurts her?)

Why Serid and David kaboodle-hopped again? We hear it's a pretty serious business!

Hotshot, where did you find your bookkeeping book?

Melba, do you like the "Blue Perk"?

What happened to the Seales-Williams love affair?

Vicious Triangle—Carthel, Patterson and Pyle. Lets don't let this get too serious!

Roylee—is that cute lil' ole curly headed senior boy as cute as he always was?

Why do Glynn Earle, Kay and Slim go by the initials R. R. now?

Was Kay the cause of the Cole-Lodgers break or is this famous Jack White from that lil' town about 11 miles east of here.

Mary Jo—do you like these people from Coleman by any chance?

Did everyone know that the whole senior class is qualified to enter as juniors at T. I. A.? In case you are wondering where that is, it's at Wichita. (Texas Insane Asylum)

Who's Cadillac was that we saw parked in front of the school at noon last week? Mighty pretty.

Who was that pretty boy that escorted Dora Lee to the picture movie Monday?

Sue K. what are you going to do with all those boyfriends? Lucky gal.

Jeanette, was that your flame from Spur we saw at the game last Friday night?

Lewzetta, we hear that you like a place in Plainview called the Patch. Do they serve good food or is it just the atmosphere?

The Bore some Foursome—Joy, Dub, Betty and Andy. Then, Tiny, Wyman, Lena Sue, and Wilkie. Course, Tidbit and Bob are still the Gruesome Twosome!

We might add that this corn column is delivered to the Beacon office every week courtesy of Water Lou Express. Which means that you are reading this only because we risk our lives. (You do risk your life any time you climb in that car!) Incidentally taxi fare in it is your insurance policy. Quote "not responsible for anybody killed when it backfires."

'Pal' on Train Vanishes

With $14,150 Life Savings

DETROIT, MICH. — Instead of looking for a new home in Detroit, Joseph Raczowski, 62, spent his first hours here looking over the pictures of pickpockets.

Raczowski lost his life's savings of $14,150—$700 was in cash and $13,450 in two cashier's checks—as he stepped off a train here.

He told detectives that his seat companion on the ride here from Buffalo—a young, affable man—bumped into him as they started to get off the Michigan Central train.

After the bump, Raczowski felt for his wallet, discovered it was gone, and looked up to discover his affable friend was gone, too.

"I'd just sold my farm near Swayersville, Pa.," Raczowski said, "Me and my wife and son and daughter were coming to Detroit to live near my oldest son, Stanley."

Prisoner 'Eats Up' Jail

Fixtures—Not Iron Bars

LAS VEGAS, NEV. — William Kmetetz, 28, a jail prisoner here, pried a dozen small wire springs off a cell bunk and swallowed them.

Kmetetz, held for San Diego police on a worthless check charge, was treated and returned to his cell. Then he broke an overhead light fixture and swallowed a quantity of glass. He was taken to a hospital.

Police Chief George Thompson, weary of the routine, asked San Diego authorities to hurry up and get Kmetetz "before he eats up our nice new jail."

Weekly SURPLUS NEWS

Agricultural representatives for the War Assets Administration are encouraging the purchase of war surplus agents for the use of farmers, ranchers and construction men. Approximately one million pounds of both TNT and demolition blocks, stored at the Red River Arsenal, are now on the surplus property market at low prices per pound or block. Contrary to popular belief, handling of the powerful TNT has been demonstrated to be somewhat safer than dynamite, for example. The place for complete details and ordering of either type of the surplus explosives is the WAA's Customer Service Center, Grand Prairie.

World War II veterans will find it profitable to call in person at the Grand Prairie Customer Service Center when they are in the vicinity of Dallas or Fort Worth. A new veterans counter for the sale of set-aside items on a cash and carry basis has been added to the center's facilities. Whenever supplies of these items become available, they are immediately placed on sale in the center, and rationed out to each veteran customer. No certification is needed other than discharge papers or other proof of service. Although such supplies have been, quite limited thus far, quantities of blankets, watches and clothing items have already been distributed over this veterans counter.

A survey of war surplus inventories in Texas indicated this week that while present stocks of personal property are comparatively small, the amount of real property, particularly camp buildings, available for sale in the area will be considerable in the coming weeks. Present disposal plans give priority groups the opening option period on such property, with buildings and plants then offered on a non-priority basis to the public at large.

One of WAA's biggest offerings of surplus drugs and medical supplies will be available to veterans, priority buyers and the public on a national scale beginning October 27. More than ten million dollars worth of drugs and medicines, surgical and dental instruments and laboratory and hospital supplies are going on sale at the Louisville, Ky., medical depot. Many buyers will be able to qualify for a "small business" priority. It was pointed out. Interested persons are invited to contact the WAA Customer Service Center, 410 West Jefferson St., Louisville.

First step in the disposal of another big Texas military installation, Camp Swift, at Bastrop, was undertaken this week with announcement that priority groups have until October 27 to claim some 2,150 buildings and 715 acres at the site. In accordance with WAA's new disposal plan, any real property not disposed of to governmental groups and non-profit institutions within the initial period later will be offered to the public at informal bidding.

A "We, the People" radio program in which the former "Dr. I. Q." outlined his plans for entering the ministry has resulted in the acquisition of a surplus Camp Bowie chapel by the Eastland, Texas, Holy Trinity Episcopal Church. A member of the Grand Prairie WAA Information office, listening to the broadcast by Rev. James McCallin, former network announcer, mailed him a letter inviting consideration of his new congregation to the Brownwood camp's chapels, and the transaction followed.

Midget and 'Strong Man' Forgive and Forget Spat

PITTSBURGH, PA. — Pussy De Carmo, 4-foot 1-inch midget, and Sam Marlo, 163-pound circus and night club "strong man," have withdrawn their reciprocal charges of assault and battery.

De Carmo, 68-pound night club entertainer, told Ald. John Lardo that Sam beat him during an argument at the hotel where both live. Then Pussy withdrew his charges and Sam was ordered to pay the costs.

At the office of Ald. Leonard Civill, before whom Sam had filed charges of assault and battery against Pussy, the testimony was more descriptive.

"He jumped on a table, poked his cigar in my face and pulled off my suspenders," said Sam.

"He threw water on me," answered Pussy, pulling up his trouser leg to display some leg bruises. "He did that when he pushed me into the phone booth."

Ald. Civill asked Sam if Pussy's charge was correct.

"Yes, sir," admitted Sam. "I did it with one hand. I was holding up my pants with the other—remember when he broke my suspenders?"

At that point Sam withdrew his charges and Ald. Civill dismissed the case without costs. As the midget and the strong man shook hands Pussy remarked:

"Sam, you gotta learn to keep your muscles in your pockets."
