Reds Annex Another, 5-0---Need One More to Cop Title From Sox

"HOD" ELLER MAKES STRIKE-OUT RECORD FOR WORLD'S SERIES

By Associated Press. COMISKEY PARK, CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—The Cincinnati Reds annexed another game from the Chicago White Sox—and it was some thriller—by a score of 5 to 0. The Reds now need only one game to cinch the title as the world's baseball champions.

Hod Eller made himself an honest-to-goodness world's series star in today's game by establishing a new strike-out record. It was a shame the way he cut down the Sox batsmen in one, two, three order.

The teams go to Cincinnati tomorrow and if the Reds beat the Sox out, that will be the end of the story for the 1919 baseball title.

Game in detail: First Inning. Cincinnati—Rath walked; Daubert sacrificed, Schalk throwing him out at first, Rath going to second. Groh fielded to Felsch, Rath holding second; Roush out, Gandil to Williams.

Chicago—Liebold walked; E. Collins out, Kopf to Daubert, but Liebold made second. Weaver singled, the ball hitting Eller's hand, but was too hot to handle. Liebold went to third. Luque started warming up for Cincinnati; Jackson popped to Groh; Felsch flied to Duncan.

HAVE INFLUENCE AND POWER.

Are you a power for good in your community? Do your neighbors respect you? Has your influence any weight? These are grave, serious questions. But the value of a man is largely dependent upon their being lived in the affirmative.

Power in the community means you can shape the destiny of your city, can make or unmake it. Can you use words that will change a man's opinion to your own? If you can you are a leader of men. What you say, does it accomplish? If it does, your advice will be sought on all occasions.

Ranger needs such men. It has some. They are men of character and ability. What they say, goes. When they suggest, ears are opened and work started. Their influence is more than mere force. And the power, influence and respect of the man travel together. Using many communities and it was stated, even to leave the whole library is ready to.

BUILDING WISELY.

In Pennsylvania there are oil wells which have been pumped for fifty years. Some of them yield from four to ten barrels a day. Who has not heard of the Pennsylvania field?

In Texas there are oil wells which have been flowing thousands of barrels a day for two years. Some of them have dropped. Ranger is not pumping. It is running on its own power. And who has not heard of the Ranger field?

In view of the limitless possibilities in these fields there should not be a wavering in the determination to improve and make a wonderful city here. The walls here are due to gush for years to come. And then? For more than a half of a century the wells will be pumpable, bringing up great volumes of liquid wealth.

Under this consolation Ranger citizens should make preparation as early as possible to develop Ranger to the limit. Nothing should be left in the way. Our faith must be increased in our latent potentialities. The man who would wilfully seek to poison the mind of the prospective settler from coming to Ranger not only is damaging Ranger, but is wrecking the financial prospects of that prospective settler.

Never was there a time Ranger had more equitable opportunity to benefit from new people, new enterprises, new industries and new railroads. It is, therefore, an opportunity extended not solely to one man or group of men, but to every present citizen. The extent to which he improves his time—to which he supports every worthy cause for the upbuilding of the city, and to which he lends an eager ear will determine the size and grandeur of Ranger.

Many Soldiers of U. S. Killed by Accidents

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 6.—Casualties in America during the world war as a result of accidents were twice as great as those to American soldiers in battle, Albert W. Whitney, chairman of the committee on education of the national safety council, pointed out in his paper read to the eighth annual Safety Congress here on "Safety Education in the Public Schools".

"In other words," declared Mr. Whitney, "we have in our factories and streets the equivalent in their effect upon our people of two European wars going on all the time."

"Much has already been done to lighten this horror," he went on. "Most of the industrial plants of the country have done something to reduce their accidents and in the case of many the undertaking has been thorough and effective. Many plants have been successful in reducing their accidents to a third of what they were under the old conditions."

"The problem is at the bottom a psychological one, to get people to think in terms of safety. Safety, the saving of lives and limbs, is part of the conservation movement, and conservation is a part of efficiency. Engineers are thinking in terms of efficiency; they are beginning to think in terms of conservation, and this must inevitably bring with it the conservation of humanity as well as of materials and energy."

The public schools, he held, offer the most fertile ground of all for the work and the way has been shown by Dr. E. G. Payne of the Harris Teachers' College, St. Louis, who instead of adding another subject, "Safety", to the already crowded curriculum, introduced safety education into the teaching of all subjects.

"During the first four grades the effort is particularly directed toward the formation of habits of safe conduct," Mr. Whitney explained.

KEEP KEEN EYE ON TIRES AND BATTERY

The times that relieve your car from the shock of the road, and the storage battery that supplies current for lighting and starting, are similar in several ways, according to R. T. Weidner of the Electric Service company, at 109 South Commerce.

"It's easy to see there is a resemblance between the air held under pressure in the tire and the electricity held ready for service by the battery. In both the tire and battery you are depending upon common, but invisible forces."

"Of all points of similarity between tire and battery, however, the strongest is that of care required. Tires, for instance, may go on mile after mile without giving you a bit of trouble; then on a little stretch of rough road there may come a 'pop' and you're on a flat tire. The air was a good tire up to the minute it blew, and could have been repaired at small cost; but for weeks, perhaps, that spot may have been wearing deeper into the casing.

"These conditions are closely paralleled in the storage battery, with electricity instead of air as the force to be held in check; and the insulation in place of the tire casing. When the battery is new the insulation is perfect, just as a new tire casing is free from flaws. As time goes on some slight weakness may develop. If you watch your battery these can be taken care of at a very small cost and no serious trouble will come up."

"No matter how perfect your tires or battery are, it pays well to keep your eye on them and stop the little troubles before they develop into big ones."

Driving Small Screws. Small screws can be driven much more easily if the slots in their heads are filled with soap before inserting the screwdriver.

ABILENE GIVES $3,560 TO THE S. A. Special to The Times.

ABILENE, Texas, Oct. 6.—Abilene and Taylor county have contributed only about $3,560 of the $15,000 quota in the Salvation Army's home service fund drive. This was announced yesterday by County Chairman R. A. Maddox and City Chairman W. Willis Cox.

All the principal churches of the city called in their evening services Sunday in order that communicants might go to St. Paul's Methodist church and hear Colonel George Wood of Dallas, southwest commander of the Salvation Army.

It is thought this city and county will raise at least $5,000 in the campaign, which closes tonight.

COAST DRIVE FOR S. A. IS GIVEN UP

Stricken Cities Released From Obligation. Money Sent With Workers

Relief work for the stricken section of the coast of Texas is being pushed with all possible speed by the Salvation Army, according to Lieutenant Colonel George Wood, commander of the southwestern division, who is now in Corpus Christi.

Clothing has been rushed into the stricken area from each of the Salvation Army post stores. Special appeals have been made in all leading cities for food and clothing. These supplies have been collected and shipped by the Salvation Army workers to Roy Miller, chairman of the Corpus Christi relief committee.

Commissioner Estill, commander of the western territory, has been appealed to for aid. A message was sent to the Chicago office by Lieutenant Colonel Wood before he departed for the coast that special efforts be taken in every large city in the west for the relief of the suffering on the coast.

Every city in the southwestern division falling under the jurisdiction of Lieutenant Colonel Wood has been asked for assistance. Prompt responses are being made to all appeals according to southwestern officials.

The Salvation Army has withdrawn the coast counties in the stricken section from the home service campaign for September 29. The Salvation Army has withdrawn its decision to renege on the decision between John Henry, chairman of the state advisory committee, executive committee, Lieutenant Colonel Wood and Herbert B. Ehler, southwestern financial director.

SCRAPPERS INDUCE MEN TO TAKE WORK

Salvation Army Chairman Influenced by Attitude of Oversea Veterans

Soldiers and sailors who saw service overseas have been instrumental in many cases in drawing prominent Texans into the county and state organizations for the Salvation Army's $600,000 home service campaign, according to W. P. "Bibi" Walsh of Tyler, Texas, who attended the Dallas district session of county chairmen Monday.

"One of the most harrowing war tales I have ever heard of was drawn me into the Salvation Army Service," Walsh told the county chairman. "We have a young soldier in our town who tried to enlist a half dozen times. Each time he was rejected because of a bad heart. Then along came the draft."

"His heart was all right when the draft board physicians got to him He went overseas. Within six weeks of the time he was drafted he took part in an action on the Toul sector. He went over the top and got two machine gun bullets through his shoulder."

"Well, the boy says he stumbled into a shell hole. With him were two more wounded men. One of them had been shot through the stomach. He was terribly thirsty but dared not drink for he had heard that water in the stomach was sure death when the stomach's walls had been pierced by a bullet. The other man had a mangled leg."

"These boys lay there from 2 o'clock one day until after 10 o'clock the next day. The soldier with the mangled leg and the one shot through the stomach died. Then help came. The first person to that boy in the shell hole was a Salvation Army man with a pitcher of chocolate. That is why I am chairman in my county."

SALVATION ARMY IN STRICKEN DISTRICT

Workers Rushed to Area of Tide and Storm at Corpus Christi

Workers from Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana Salvation Army under orders from Lieutenant Colonel George Wood, commander of the southwestern division of the Salvation Army are now working in the stricken Corpus Christi, according to reports from the forty corps cities of the southwest.

Lieutenant Colonel Wood was in Tulsa, Oklahoma, when the storm struck Corpus Christi. As soon as he had learned the extent of the storm he ordered workers from all points to the scene of the disaster. He immediately followed the workers, arriving Wednesday afternoon in Corpus Christi.

Supplies and money were sent with the workers. They were ordered to report to Roy Miller, chairman of the relief committee at Corpus Christi. All the finances and workers with the maximum amount of money available, were placed at the disposal of the relief chairman in the stricken city.

WORLD FOOD SITUATION IS UNCERTAIN

By FLOYD MACGRIFF, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The truth is there is extreme uncertainty as to the course the world's markets will take during the next twelve months.

That was the gist of a statement given to the International News Service by the food ministry in answer to what one should expect in that direction.

"If the problem were purely an economic one," the statement continued, "it would be possible to make a reasonable forecast; but so long as the political situation remains unsettled there are no firm premises upon which to base conclusions."

"The war has stimulated the production of corn (cereals) and meat in all the great-producing countries and if the world's demand for the products of these countries were no greater than before the war the supplies in sight would be abundant. The world's effective demand for the immediate future, however, is entirely unknown. It is possible, though, under present circumstances, extremely difficult to estimate the world's present requirement; but effective demand often is very different from needs."

"It may be remembered that immediately after the armistice, insistent statements were made as to the shortage of grain supplies then existing in Germany; but although Germany has been practically free to buy during the current year, and has been assisted by the allies to do so, she has in fact taken only a moderate quantity.

"While, therefore, on paper Europe's demands appear to be very alarming, it still remains to be seen to what extent they will become effective. Not until this problem is solved and the political and economic position of Russia is made clear, is it possible to make any forecast of the future, and the only safe course is to prepare, so far as possible, for the worst event."

"It is evident there is a risk during the next twelve months that the world's supplies will be much less than the world's demands, in which case, of course, world prices will remain at high levels."

Shoot Twenty, Says

Player. "Make It $20.40"

Says the Sergeant

In the city court this morning twelve men pleaded guilty to gaming and two entered pleas of drunkenness. Since Judge Davenport was not present, the amount of the fine, $20.40, was entered as a cash bond in each case.

One of the gamblers was arrested Saturday night by Mrs. Blannie Malone, mounted humane officer, and Byron Parrish and George Riddell of the police force.

The game was located by Mrs. Malone at a tening camp in the edge of town. She went to headquarters and secured assistance and the other officers walked in upon the gamblers just as one man was saying, "I'll make this seven and win a twenty."

At headquarters each of the seven made a cash bond. One man was locked up pending an investigation in connection with another matter and the other six were released.

DREADED FOR NIGHT TO COME

Texas Lady, in Pretty Bad Fix, Heard of Cardui, Tried It, And Now Says It Saved Her Life.

Chilton, Texas.—Mrs. Mary Reese, of this place, states: "Sometime ago I was quite sick and suffered a great deal. I had been suffering quite awhile. At times I had such severe pains in my back, across my hips and in my sides. I was in a pretty bad fix. I was to rest—less I dreaded for night to come."

Having heard of Cardui, I thought I'd try it. I commenced to get better with my first bottle. I took six bottles of Cardui, and will tell any woman what this Cardui Home Treatment can and will do if taken according to directions. We not only feel it cured but I most likely saved my life. I am able to do my work with ease and know 'Cardui did it.'

Cardui has been found to relieve many womanly pains and ailments, and thousands of women have written to tell of the benefit it has been to them, in cases of female troubles and weakness.

Cardui is prepared from mild, tonic and help build up health and medicinal ingredients, which get strength in a natural manner.

Try Cardui. At all drug stores. Advertisment.

Harry Lucas Gains Six Pounds by Taking Orgatone

"Not in years," said Harry E. Lucas, a well known truck manager, for the Purity Ice Cream Company, Tulsa, Oklahoma, while in Roy E. Texell Store, recently, "I have enjoyed such good health of myself as I do now and I want the people to know that it is all because of what Orgatone has done for me."

"For almost a year," he added, "I have suffered from indigestion and stomach disorders and my appetite was very poor. My food just seemed to lay on my stomach like lead and form a sour gas that would blow me up something awful. Then I had severe headaches which would often times come on me in the night and I would have to get up and walk the floor for hours at a stretch. I couldn't sleep, and my stomach was so upset that I could hardly eat anything. I took several different kinds of medicines for such troubles, without any relief, and I had about given up hopes of finding something that would relieve me of this condition."

"Several of my friends who had used Orgatone endorsed it so highly it put me to thinking there must be something to it. So I got a bottle and it helped me so much that I bought another and so on, until now I have taken three bottles and can not only digest anything, but I have actually gained three pounds in weight. My stomach never troubles me now, no matter what I eat, and my old-time energy and strength have come back to me. My nerves have also gotten back to normal, but before I got Orgatone the least noise or unusual occurrence would almost distract me. I now sleep like a log at night, eat hearty at every meal and feel fine all the time and so I feel the best of reasons for praising Orgatone Treatment."

"Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy, but a new, scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form, and is sold in Ranger exclusively by the Ranger Drug company, under the personal direction of a special Oregonian representative. Address—Ranger, Texas."

J. H. Anderson, Wealthy Knoxville Merchant, who is Chairman of the Campaign in the Baptist 75 Million Campaign.

ests fostered by the Convention, as follows: Foreign missions, $20,000,000; home missions, $12,000,000; Christian literature, $20,000,000; state missions, $11,000,000; ministerial relief, $2,000,000; medical care, $4,700,000; and hospitals, $2,500,000.

The apportionment of this sum among the several states within the territory of the Convention has been announced as follows: Alabama, $4,000,000; Arkansas, $3,200,000; District of Columbia, $700,000; Florida, $1,000,000; Georgia, $7,500,000; Southern 11,000,000; Louisiana, $2,325,000; Maryland, $750,000; Mississippi, $3,350,000; Missouri, $2,925,000; New Mexico, $250,000; North Carolina, $6,000,000; Oklahoma, $2,250,000; South Carolina, $5,500,000; Tennessee, $4,600,000; Texas, $16,000,000; and Virginia, $7,000,000.

Here is what this big sum of money will help Southern Baptists do for the Master, as set forth by the Campaign Commission:

"It will equip more adequately and multiply manifold the 1,099 missionary workers of the Foreign Mission Board, and the more than 2,000 Home and State Board Missionaries.

"It will enlarge and raise to a better efficiency the 132 Baptist schools in the South.

"It will go far towards meeting the expanding needs of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and the Women's Missionary Training School in Louisville, Ky., the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and Women's Training School in Fort Worth, the Baptist Bible School in New Orleans, La., a Theological Seminary for the Negroes, and will provide a Harkness college for boys and girls of the mountain region.

"It will increase greatly our hospital service to the sick, open wider our arms to the orphans and provide a strong support for our aged ministers of the gospel.

"It will put Southern Baptists in position to assume a considerable share in the reconstruction of war-torn Europe and embrace many of the marvelous opportunities for service which thrust themselves upon us from all parts of the world, at home and abroad."

While $20,000,000 of this sum will go to foreign missions and thus be expended in carrying the gospel and its blessings to other lands, the remainder $55,000,000 will be expended at home in carrying up home missions.

F. M. Jones, head benevolent trust Tulsa, is stopping at state within the convention.

THE TIMES' DAILY SHORT STORY

JERRY DECIDES

By Leola Drew

"I suppose they sent me here because I was named after you, Uncle Gerald." Jerry dug into his grapefruit aggressively. "I hate Gerald.
Didn't they ever call you Jerry?"

"Men do," responded Marbury absently. All of his answers to Jerry had been absent-minded ones for the past two weeks. He had run out of details the second day after Jerry's sudden arrival.

"Miss Millard calls you Jerry, doesn't she?"

Marbury frowned and wiped off a globule of juice from his waistcoat.
"You should eat that in a bathtub, old man. Can't you be careful?"

Jerry pushed back his plate comfortably.

"I'm through," he announced. "What we're going to do to-day?"

Marbury read his newspaper, pretending not to hear. As an entertainment committee of one for Margaret's one and only he had officiated for two weeks, and the thing was getting on his nerves. There was no special reason why his sister should have sent Jerry on for a month. She knew he lived in an exclusive bachelor apartment—with one Jap manservant. Kato had left the first week, after Jerry had brought in a dozen fresh crabs and put them in the ice box.

"No delight in undisciplined youth," he had said smilingly. "Me go reluctantly but soon."

Since then Marbury had been at the mercy of Jerry. He had constituted himself private secretary and house-boy pro tem, when he was not in the basement chumming with the engineer, or on the roof sending off aro-planes to the joy of Madison avenue.
When his uncle returned from the club before dinner he would give a report on the day's calls.

"That tailor wants you to pay the spring bill anyhow. Says you can let the summer one go till fall. I told him you had the measles badly and had left for the country. And Mrs.
Joelyn asked if you could go to her house party at Newport next week, and I told her yes, if there was good fishing. That right? And a fellow named Bobbie Newell wants you to call him up at the club and tell him how about that supper with—"

"Cut it," said Marbury briefly.
"I'll call him. Did Miss Millard call up?"

"No, but I called her four times," grinned Jerry. "Gee, that's some girl, Uncle Gerald. She said I could call her up any old time I liked when it got slow here for me, and she thinks it's awful for you to leave me up here alone, and she's invited me down to Lakewood as long as I like, and she'll come in herself and get me."

"Fine thing to do, cut me out over my own phone with the prettiest girl
I know," Marbury said keenly.
"Anybody else?"

"Yep, Mrs. Hamilton's back and wants you to come over as soon as you get in. I told her you couldn't because we were going to the theatre to-night. What' up?"

Marbury reached the telephone in one stride and called a hotel number, while Jerry stared at him.

"Hello, Mrs. Hamilton, please.
What? Then pass her."

That had happened two night
ago, and Jerry had dined alone twice.

EASTLAND FAIR OPENS INITIAL DAY TUESDAY

The Eastland county fair will open its first exposition tomorrow in Connelley park, Eastland, and run through the week. The Allen shows, which will furnish the carnival attractions at the exposition, have arrived at Eastland and were being unloaded this morning in a drizzling rain and transported to the park, near the city.

Friday of this week has been designated Ranger day, when the Jake Hamon prize for races will be offered. Two harness and two running races daily compose the turf menu, which are expected to attract large crowds of enthusiasts from every portion of the oil fields. The race course of a half-mile stretch has been placed in good condition for the cards, though the bad weather of Sunday and Monday may compel some additional work to put them in form for tomorrow.

The carnival company is traveling in twenty-four special cars. Among the number are many "flats," upon which were loaded the vehicles containing the concessions of the shows. The merry-go-round, "whips" and other attractions were being unloaded near the Texas & Pacific passenger station this morning and were drawing a large crowd of the leisure.

With clearing weather the attendance at the first exposition is expected to be large. Preparations have been made to take care of all who come. The carnival expected to be "stretched" in the grounds by dusk, so they might begin to operate tonight for the early comers. Though no agricultural exhibits will be displayed this year, because of the lateness of the season, the arrangements for the fair, these will be provided in subsequent exhibitions, it is said. It is hoped to make the Eastland county fair a nationally talked one, helping the oil fields to provide entertainment for the thousands who are here and who have not been otherwise furnished attractions of this nature.

Officers stop masked men's hold-up jest

Five occupants of an automobile were held up by four masked men, near the Prairie crossing Sunday morning. Before the holdup could be completed, officers Johnson and Moore arrived on the scene and took the four men into custody. The other occupants escaped.

Two men gave the names Jap and Dewey French. When arrested they had handkerchiefs over their eyes, it is said. They claimed the whole affair was a practical joke. Neither of the men arrested had guns, when searched at headquarters. They are being held for investigation.

Darr and French had a good chance to escape Sunday night, when Pat McGlouthen, who was arrested some time ago on a felony warrant, kicked a hole in the city jail and made his getaway. When asked why they did not follow him, Darr and French said they were innocent of any crime and did not want to escape.

McGlouthen is said to be wanted at Ardmore, Okla., for alleged theft of an automobile. He was arrested in Ardmore two days ago by John Moore and Sheriff's force. Two $100,000 city sheriffs from Ardmore are said to have taken charge of him, and he is being held for extradition papers. He is being held for the tip lining of the jail and for playing unknown.

Local officers have no knowledge of what time in the night he managed to escape, but it is the belief of some of the officers that he made a getaway between 2 o'clock and daylight.

The incident serves to call attention to the imperative need for a new jail in Ranger.

ABILENE MARKETS

1890 BALES OF COTTON.

Special to The Times

ABILENE, Oct. 6.—Last week's cotton market was quiet and marketed about 8,000 bales of cotton. Last week about 1,000 bales of cotton were marketed in Abilene, and that despite frequent showers of rain. The price Saturday was around 31.50 cents, representing a two-cent decline to have been caused by poor freight service.

RAIN FALLING OVER CENTRAL WEST TEXAS

Rains varying from showers to deluges have occurred in West Texas during the last forty-eight hours. The rain in Ranger was light, but served to settle the grievous dust. Westward the rain seems to have been heavier. It was raining at Eastland, Cisco and Abilene and points west this morning, according to reports. Heavy precipitation fell at Baird and Abilene Sunday morning.

The rain was not needed in the agricultural belt of Central West Texas, it is said. Cotton has been delayed considerable in ginning. The wet weather of the last ten days has restricted gin receipts. At Merkel an average of 300 bales a day was being ginned, according to reports received here. Merkel is the banner cotton town on the Texas & Pacific railroad from New Orleans and El Paso.

Bold Scribe Nearly Saw the Ex-Kaiser

(By International News Service.)

AMERONGEN, Oct. 6.—(By mail.)—How a correspondent representing a large American newspaper came within an ace of getting an interview with Germany's exiled Kaiser by disguising himself as a physician, has just become known and it now is the latest topic for discussion in this lone little Dutch village.

The Kaiser was suffering from some indisposition, and a prominent medical specialist was summoned from Amsterdam by telephone. The news of this fact must have leaked out, and about the time that the doctor was expected to arrive there drove up to Count Bentinck's castle a refuge, in a mud-spattered automobile, an entire stranger, who informed the attendants that he was the doctor who had been called from Holland's metropolis. As no one in the castle was acquainted with the doctor, and as he was expected, no suspicion was aroused.

The stranger was shown into the library, where Dr. Foerster, the Kaiser's personal medical attendant, who is now living at Amerongen, had an interview with him and explained the Kaiser's symptoms. The "specialist from Amsterdam" undoubtedly had had a medical training and was able, owing to his knowledge of medicine, to carry out his bluff.

Had not Dr. Foerster prolonged the interview and insisted on going into the most minute and elaborate details of the royal patient's illness and medical history all might have gone well.

But it was during this prolonged interview that Major Hirschfeld burst into the room and summoned Dr. Foerster to the hall.

The "specialist," jumping from his seat exclaimed:

"Is the Kaiser worse? I will see him at once."

He made his way into the hall, where he found himself confronted by a third man in civilian clothing, who excitedly shouted, "Imposter! Pig! Canine!"

The correspondent then realized that his coup had failed, but, putting a bold front on the situation, said, with the greatest calm, "I do not understand. Who is this person?"

"I am the specialist who was summoned from Amsterdam," stormed the man, spitting out his name. "I can see the trick that has been played. Now I understand how it was that the tires of my car were all badly cut and burst open! I see the reason for the nails and glass in the roadway! Scoundrel! Swine!"

It was with difficulty that the doctor, on the verge of apoplexy, was restrained from "violently attacking" the smiling newspaper man.

"We can soon decide which is the medical specialist," said the Major. "We shall search the pair, for neither has neither is the man summoned."

By means of documents in his possession the second arrival was seen able to convince Dr. Foerster and other household officials that he was the genuine specialist, while cards and letters proved the first arrival to be an American newspaper correspondent.

British agents saw little consideration was shown for this "enterprising but unhappy fellow." He was seized and subjected "to the most rough usage before being thrown bodily from the castle, to be escorted by guards, who continued to threaten him, to a safe distance from the house."

WHEN CONGRESS THANKED PER SHING FOR HIS WAR SERVICES

General Pershing, thanking congress, at joint session, for honor paid him.

The U. S. government officially thanked General Pershing for his services as commander of the A. E. F. when the senate and house met in joint session to receive him and give him a vote of thanks. Pershing was cheered for many minutes as he entered the floor of the house. In his speech he showed his soldier spirit by pointing out that he was accepting the tribute, not for himself, but for the men who fought with him for America on the European battlefields and emerged victorious.

THEATERS

LIBERTY WILL SHOW WESTERNERS THURSDAY

"The Westerners," a motion picture adapted from the novel of that name by Stewart Edward White, is to be shown at the Liberty Theatre on Thursday of this week.

This is Benjamin E. Hampton's first production for the Great Authors Pictures Inc., just recently released and according to the critics one of the best western pictures ever produced. The Photo Play Magazine says "It sets a new pace for western pictures, and is corking entertainment from start to finish. The suspense is perfectly maintained, and the acting is way above the ordinary."

An all-star cast headed by Roy Stewart insures good acting.

BRET HART STORY SHOWING AT OPERA.

"The Outcasts of Poker Flat"

What reminiscences this must bring to oldtimers who remember when this famous Bret Harte story was first published! How it stirred the entire United States and brought everlasting fame and immortality to the beloved Harte! And now it is in photoplay form and is to be projected on the screen of the Opera House today for the first time in this city. The mere mention of Bret Harte's name would doubtless bring an audience of large dimensions, but coupled with the fact that it is the famous author's "Outcasts of Poker Flat" to be shown, and furthermore that one of the screen's most fascinating and true-to-life stars, Harry Carey, is to be seen as John Oakhurst, the gentleman gambler, diplomat, and self-sacrificer, is enough to warrant that a pint-sized theatre will have to accommodate a quart-sized audience at the opening.

Besides its commanding star, Harry Carey, the cast includes Gloria Hope as Sophy, the beautiful girl whom Oakhurst saves to his ward, Tommy, played by Cullen Landis; J. Farrell McDonald, Virginia Chester and many others. H. Tipton Stark wrote the scenario and Jack Ford's master hand is seen in the direction. The photoplay among other wonderful outdoor scenes includes a snowstorm, taken in a raging snowstorm in Truckee, California in the middle of winter.

Bringing about a happy ending to the immortal story without interfering in any way with the original is a gratifying surprise of the film.

NEW SERIAL BEGINS TODAY AT OPERA HOUSE

Supplements of agility for which the New York fire department is noted are duplicated and surpassed by the star and the players of "Smashing Barriers," the new Vitagraph serial which will be released soon. The familiar trick of a fireman hanging out of a high window, suspended from his toes hooked over a sill while he grasps some one from the window below, is employed in the film, with a cliff in the place of the window.

William Duncan is seen hanging by his toes from a cliff while he holds another man head downward, and the latter rescues a girl who clings to a scrub tree that grows on the side of the cliff. Below the figures appear to be a sheer fall of several hundred feet. The slightest slip of hand or foot would plunge one or all of the characters to what appears certain death. Surely the trained athletes of the New York fire force never dared such a titanic enterprise.

This is just one of the many spectacles of the film, which runs through fifteen episodes of pen and punch. There are train wrecks, kidnappings, fights, attempted assassinations, financial intrigue and throughout the story a refreshing love theme.

Mr. Duncan, the star, who is also director of the production, is believed to have missed death or severe injury by only a scant margin in a dozen adventures. He suffered the fracture of three ribs in one of the episodes.

There is a man in New York who makes a special business of locating pretty girls. Hundreds of beauties have called at his office and left their telephone numbers and photographs. He has a dozen albums with more than five thousand bewitching portraits. Every day he looks through one of the albums, fixes his eye on a charming face and telephones its owner. Sometimes he calls up a dozen or more before he leaves his desk.

This man is Frank Loomis, casting director for the Vitagraph. His business with the beauties is that of putting them into motion pictures. It is a cold-blooded question of eyes, hair and talent with him. With all that infinite variety of pulchritude within the sound of his voice and possessing the yearning for kind words, Mr. Loomis cannot speak one word of love—or even listen to it.

He's just a beauty hunter, that's all. They say he knows more dazzling creatures than any other man in the world.
