The Texas delegation presented the matter in straight-to-the-point talks, and the conference lasted for two hours. The Texas delegation did most of the talking.

By Associated Press. VALUE OF TEXAS INCREASES 250 PCT. IN 2 YEARS

Special to The Times. FORT WORTH, Oct. 23.—The value of Texas production has increased 250 per cent within the last two years, according to figures compiled by the Wall Street Journal. Texas now is producing oil at the rate of 30,000,000 barrels a year and is claimed as the third largest oil producing state in the country; in fact, in the quantity of production Texas is surpassed only by California, having passed Oklahoma in output several months ago.

NOT KNOWN WHAT STEPS TO BE TAKEN FURTHER TOWARD SETTLEMENT

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Interest centered today upon what effect the withdrawal of the labor group from the national industrial conference would have on the conference as a whole. The indications were that the conference called by President Wilson to create a better relationship between industry and labor would be continued with the employers' and public groups in attendance. Organized labor, through its leader, Samuel Gompers, announced its withdrawal from the conference last night. The conference has been in session since Oct. 6. Thomas L. Chadbourne, chairman of the public group, declared that the public delegates would remain in session and report direct to the President.

Mr. Gompers thanked the chairman and members of the public group for the courtesies shown labor by that wing of the conference but said that since the right to collective bargaining had been voted down three times, once after President Wilson had appealed to the conference to stay in session, labor felt that it had no objects to gain in continuing the deliberations.

Drillers Are Marooned 36 Hours on Top of Derrick

Special to The Times. HOUSTON, Oct. 23.—Wind and water in the last thirty days have brought development work in the coastal oil field almost wholly to a standstill. First, the wind either wrecked or damaged the derricks so as to make them unsafe, and then the rain came and has made the roads impassable for heavy hauling, so drilling operations are without material to go on with the work, especially in wildcat territory. Near Splendora, in Montgomery county, a crew working on the Black Hawk Petroleum company's test well was marooned on the derrick thirty-six hours with nothing to eat except what was in their lunch baskets.

HOPE WORST OF NORTH TEXAS FLOOD IS OVER

By Associated Press. DALLAS, Oct. 23.—Clearing skies today over Dallas and vicinity and many other sections of North Texas caused the hope that the flood menace would soon pass, although a number of rivers and creeks already are out of their banks. Roads in the affected districts are impassable and several minor washouts have been reported by the railroads. Scrapper After Mud on Main Street

A mud scrapper, a darkey and a horse combined to lessen the depth of the mud on the paved portion of Main street Thursday. The improvement the two wrought was noticeable.

THESE STUDENTS DEMANDED A FIVE-HOUR WORKDAY

MADISON, Ind., Oct. 23.—The local high school was threatened recently by a strike by the students, who demanded a five-hour workday, instead of eight hours, which the study schedule now provides. A petition headed "A Petition of Right," was signed by 125 pupils and declared that unless the five-hour day was granted by Superintendent Long of the city schools, that the pupils would go on a strike.

After a conference between Superintendent Long and members of the high school faculty, it was announced that, if the strike materialized, all pupils under 14 years old would be forced to return under the state compulsory education law and those more than 14 years of age would be locked out until such time as the pupils themselves to abide by the ruler. When the hour set for the strike arrived, none of the pupils walked out. Superintendent Long explained to the pupils that the state law calls for a certain number of forty-minute periods each day for a commensurate high school. He said the schedule arranged allowed only for the prescribed number of periods with an fifteen minutes for passing, restroom to return and the schedule could not be shortened, without conflicting with the state law. He promised, however, to shorten the schedule next term, if possible.

Some of the signers of the petition, when asked why they were demanding shorter hours, declared that "staying in school so late spoiled the entire day." They said their attempted strike was not connected with the steel strike and that they had no intention of trying to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor.

FISH YARN? THERE IS ALWAYS ONE BETTER

International News Service. LONDON, Oct. 23.—That is the worst of those fish stories. Some body always comes along with a better one. Recently the Evening News told the V. A. D.'s story of the frozen fish that came to life in the cooking pot. Then a correspondent—a naval officer, it should be said—easily puts that to shame.

"An interesting experiment was tried some little time ago," he writes, "with an ordinary herring. 'The fish was put into a large bowl of salt water and every day a small quantity of the water was removed and an equal quantity of 'fresh' was substituted, until eventually the fish lived and thrived in purely fresh water."

"The owner was so pleased with the success of his experiment that he then tried removing a very small quantity of water daily until the bowl was empty, and found that the herring did excellently, entirely without water, and as he was so lively in the empty bowl he had to put him in a cage."

"Here he lived happily, hopping from perch to perch just like a bird until one day some sudden noise startled him and he fell into his water trough, and—was drowned!"

THIS BELGIAN WAR DOG FIXED WITH WOODEN LEG

CLEVELAND, OHIO, Oct. 23.—Not all the veterans of the world war who lost limbs in battle were human. Blight, a Belgian war dog owned by Dr. A. E. Cunningham, a veterinarian of this city, has an artificial leg and walks with a crutch.

Blight is a survivor of the battle of the Argonne and it was found necessary to amputate his leg because of paralysis that followed a shell wound suffered while he was mascot of a motor transport train. Dr. Cunningham fitted the dog's wooden leg.

"He didn't like it a little bit at first," the veterinarian said. "He tried to gnaw the straw that held it on but when he found they wouldn't come off, he finally gave up trying." According to Dr. Cunningham, Blight sometimes forgets about his wooden leg, especially when he tries to shoot flies from about his ears, and once he almost put out one of his eyes in this way.

'END OF ROAD' AT QUEEN FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

The management of the Queen theater has secured "The End of the Road" for a two-days' showing.

This is an extraordinary motion picture, prepared for the war department commission on training camp activities as a part of the social hygiene campaign of the United States government. It handles certain social and sex problems in their relation to women with a frank statement which is a direct consequence of a new attitude engendered by the war. These problems have been made at once more acute and more complex by the war. War conditions have disturbed the emotional equilibrium of the people and have tended to multiply the intricacies of sex relations, particularly among young girls brought into social contact with the soldier. The film is intended to stimulate and strengthen his efforts being made to teach the womanhood and girlhood of the country the vital need of right social adjustments.

The production is in seven reels and requires an hour and three-quarters to show. Every moment of the film is filled with human interest. The picture is a masterpiece of technical perfection. In the main story have been woven supplementary stories and incidents, each drawn from actual life and each with a social bearing upon a possible crisis in the lives of certain types of American girls. In a relatively brief space of time many typical situations have been covered which should make a "sweet appeal" to each person in any audience.

Virginia Hammond, one of the most popular players on the stage, will be seen in "Miss Crusoe" the latest World release, at the Hippodrome today. Miss Hammond, who will be remembered for her splendid work in the "Rattler" in which she co-starred with Karl Metcalfe was former leading woman for E. H. Sothern in "If I Were King" and several of Mr. Sothern's Shakespearian productions.

GREAT TRAFFIC INCREASE HERE IS MANIFESTED

That the Ranger station of the Texas & Pacific railway is doing a colossal business—something unparalleled in railroad traffic—is revealed in an article which was prepared recently for the Manufacturers Record of Baltimore by J. L. Lancaster, federal manager for the Texas & Pacific railroad. Excerpts from the article show how the industrial breeze is blowing:

"Two years ago Ranger was a little village and the road's earnings at that station during the month was $8,846; but the last monthly figures available show that in August, 1919, the earnings were $728,916. Two years ago on passing track of sixty-four cars capacity was ample for Ranger, but now there are forty-one industrial tracks, with a total capacity of 839 cars, besides yard trackage of 760 cars capacity, within Ranger's switching limits.

"The freight warehouse and platform have been enlarged to several times their former capacity. The railroad also built a three-mile pipeline to supply sufficient water to the greater town. Furthermore, it has built between Strawn and Cisco, industrial tracks with total capacity of 1,284 cars and yard tracks for 1,029 cars. Since October, 1917, the road has purchased forty-four locomotives, more than half of which are for freight service, and all but seven—which are for passenger trains—for switching. In addition to this, twenty-five more locomotives have been ordered for delivery in November. Many new cars also have been added to the equipment."

Mrs. W. A. Gavin, at left, and Miss Alexa Stirling.

One of the most interesting developments and probably the greatest surprise of the entire golf season was the defeat of Mrs. W. A. Mrs. Gavin's play during the season, combined with her experience and steady play in past championship settings, made her the choice among the link experts. Miss Stirling, young Atlanta star, defeated her in easy fashion, winning six up and five to play.

HOUNDS

By Paul C. Yates

I owned some dogs, yes, quite a few. They caused a damage suit or two. At night they raised a ballyhoo. And split the air with raucous sound. But yet they couldn't seem to catch The "mule years" in my cabbage patch; In fact, they loved to lie and scratch. And watch the rabbits romp around.

These dogs slept peacefully and hard While polecats stormed by poultry yard; They yawned and stretched and then retired. When wolves took off my turkey hen. But they could tree the family cat. Depend on them to compass that! They loved to chew my Sunday hat. And chase the pigs around the pen.

Unless the remainder is taken away, shortly the department purposes to destroy it.

THE NEW TRAIN. After months of relentless appeal by the West Texas Railroad Commission of Texas has decreed that train service between Fort Worth and Sweetwater must be improved with the installation of an additional passenger train each way.

Only last Sunday the Texas and Pacific put on another train to relieve the congestion in the oil fields, particularly in the Ranger section. This train is operated only as far west as Eastland. The Oil Field special operates only as far west as Baird. The latter carries a great complement of passengers from Fort Worth to Cisco, but from there to the end of the run this train rarely carries over fifty persons, because, as it is pointed out, there is no place to go. This is no reflection on Baird. The extending of this train to Abilene and Sweetwater means that the traffic of this train will be increased several hundred per cent and the relief of the three regular trains west will be great.

It is to be hoped that the Oil Field Special which leaves Ranger at 1:50 a. m. will be the western extension. The Oil Field Special eastbound would leave Sweetwater around 5 o'clock of evenings. Abilene and Sweetwater would be the chief beneficiaries from the new train, but Ranger also would be greatly benefited from the new service. With the installation of the new train from Abilene to Wichita Falls, much of the heavy traffic which has been carried by Fort Worth will be diverted via Abilene, improving the service on all railroads.

The Times believes that this is another clear manifestation of the effectiveness of the great new organization which represents West Texas—the West Texas Chamber of Commerce—which is working day and night in devious ways to bring about a fruition for West Texas. This organization has done more for this great scope of country than a century of legislatures.

PROFIT SHARING.

Profit-sharing is the only safe and sound solution of the labor question. The man working for a mere salary will not put as much into his labor as he would if he owned a part of the stock and was enjoying a dividend, small though it might be. Its possession would mean that if he struck he would be striking against his own self and interests. The big companies have seen the handwriting on the wall and are making it possible to content their men. And after all, no large corporation or concern which aids its employees in this way loses. That fact has been repeatedly demonstrated.

Let a man know that he is not only an employee of a company but a part of it—then he will put his whole life in it. Let him be able to buy stock in the company for which he works and when he wishes to dispose of that stock to sell it back to the employer or fellow workers and not let it be injudiciously distributed.

TEXAS TO OBSERVE ROOSEVELT'S BIRTHDAY

DALLAS, Oct. 23.—Miss Annie Webb Blanton, State Superintendent of public instruction, by proclamation designated Oct. 27 for the observance of Theodore Roosevelt's birthday by means of appropriate memorial programs. A copy of the proclamation was received at the State headquarters of the Roosevelt memorial campaign in Dallas yesterday, and reads: "In view of the fact that most of the states of the Union will observe Oct. 27 as Roosevelt memorial day, I hereby request all public schools of our State to give some suitable memorial exercises on this day. This may be done at the opening exercises, or the time may be set apart for such exercises."

The managers of the campaign in Texas to raise the State's quota of the Roosevelt memorial fund immediately began getting in touch with the superintendents of schools in the counties to have the spirit of the State superintendent's proclamation carried out. A booklet containing suggested programs in which the dominant note is Americanism is being distributed among the schools in large numbers through the office of the county superintendent. Thousands of school children are expected to contribute to the Roosevelt memorial fund Oct. 29-27.

"NATIONAL BIRD" WILL BE SCARCE AND HIGH

International News Service. WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Early reports from the production centers of the turkey indicate that there will be a shortage and a general trend toward record prices. The shortage of the "national bird" will, according to the reports, be the result of a general shortage of grain, which is becoming acute throughout the country. Texas, one of the largest turkey producing states, reports a flock much better than the average.

BAPTISTS PLAN RECONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

BODY CHARGED WITH DUTY OF OUTLINING HOW 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN CAN PROMOTE THAT TASK REACHES FIELD—DR. LOVE OUTLINES THE NEED AND ISSUES CALL

To make a general survey of the economic, social and religious conditions in Europe with a view to recommending to the Baptists of the South where and how they can aid most effectively in the reconstruction of that continent through the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, a commission, composed of Dr. J. F. Love, secretary of the Foreign Mission Board at Richmond, Va.; Dr. Z. T. Cody, editor Baptist Courier, Greenville, S. C.; and Rev. Everett Gill, missionary at Rome, Italy, who is returning after a leave of absence in this country, and who will serve as guide and interpreter to the other members, is now in England for a conference with the Baptists of Great Britain and will go from there for an inspection of France and Belgium.

Another brief conference will be held with the Baptists of Switzerland, after which a trip will be made through Italy and a survey of the new republic of Czechoslovakia conducted. From Prague, capital of Bohemia, the commission will go into such parts of Russia as are open, and the foreign trip will be concluded with an inspection of Palestine, where the missionary work formerly done in Syria, Persia and Gallilee by the Illinois Baptist Association has been turned over to the Foreign Mission Board.

There are approximately 4,250 Baptist churches in Europe today, with 2,900 pastors and missionaries and 664,000 church members. It is announced by the headquarters of the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, and a considerable sum from this campaign will go toward succoring needy families of Baptists and others in the war-torn regions as well as in the propagation of the gospel and the establishment of Christian institutions there, it is announced. Gold Mining Camp Seeking Real Minister

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 22.—They are looking for a minister in the gold and copper camps of the Athabapuskow lake country in Northern Manitoba, but he will have to measure up to the miners' own specifications. Here is their advertisement that appeared in the Pas Herald: "Wanted—Minister of the gospel for Athabapuskow camp; must be a good poker player."

"None of those nampy-pampy dude preachers need apply," said Tom Powers, who brought the ad to the Pas. "We want a man who wears a mackinaw jacket and stuffs his pants in his boots and can paddle a canoe and trek on snowshoes and play poker and give a good account of himself in a knock-down drag-out row."

"If he can throw his legs under the mahogany with the gang and show them he is a good short-card player, he'll certainly command their respect. There's a lot of poker going on and if the parson wants to pan color in his missionary work among the rough lads, the pulpitable will be about as good a pulpit as he can find."

Since the recent sensational gold strike at Goose Lake there has been a rush of miners and prospectors to the Athabapuskow region, one hundred miles beyond the Pas, which is at the northern terminus of a spur of the Canadian National railway's trans-continental line. The army of gold seekers is made up of settlers and farm laborers from the farming country to the south and of old-time mining men from all over Canada and the United States. Many of them are veterans of the Klondike and Nevada stampede.

Prospectors are out in the woods everywhere in the Athabapuskow lake country. Everybody has the gold fever. New camps, as wild and as picturesque as those of bonanza days in the American west, are springing up like magic. The whole country is underlaid with gold, silver and copper. Scientists say the ore body is the richest and most extensive on the continent.

Religious bodies in Winnipeg are planning to answer the "Macedonian cry" from the north. The Salvation Army has hurried a worker into the new field. Rev. C. W. Gordon, known to literature as "Ralph Gordon," famous old-time sky pilot of the lumber camps, chaplain for two years with the Canadian Army in France and now pastor of St. Stephen's church in Winnipeg, says the miners ought to get the kind of man they want.

"I will take this matter up with the churches at once," said Rev. Gordon. "I think we can find the right man. No four-flush will do. You can't put over a bob-tail straight on those fellows. A minister to get results among them must play the game like a man, from start to finish and draw a full house every time he preaches."

KATY TO PUT ON NEW TRAIN TO STAMFORD SOON

Special to The Times. STAMFORD, Oct. 23.—W. E. Williams, general manager of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway, arrived here with his group of department experts Tuesday, coming on his special train. The party met with a number of the business men at the office of the Chamber of Commerce and discussed the conditions of railroad business here. The freight business is greater than was ever anticipated and the M. K. & T. freight depot will be re-opened. Another passenger train will be operated between Waco and Stamford. This train will leave Waco at 6 a. m. as solely an express train. It will arrive in Dublin at 6 a. m. and leave Dublin and Stamford, arriving at Stamford at 1 p. m. Returning, the train will leave Stamford at 1:30 p. m. and arrive at 12:30 a. m. Patrons of this railroad are always impressed with the promptness with which problems are handled.

100,000 ACRES PROVED UP IN STEPHENS CO.

Special to The Times. CADDO, Oct. 23.—The new territory which is being added each week to this field is claiming the attention of the oil interests. Recently a prospect of the Mid-Kansas company about twenty miles north of Caddo and about two miles west of Ivan was drilled to the line at 3,150 feet. Five feet in the line the well is making 5,000,000 cubic feet of gas and flowing some oil. Three other wells are drilling in the same neighborhood thus showing the altitude of this company as to the ultimate success of this territory. It is estimated that there are about 100,000 acres of land proved up and in the course of development in Stephens county at the present time, with many acres still untouched.

MARLIN, Oct. 23.—George M. Bailey, a member of the staff of the Houston Post, delivered a lecture at the Methodist church here Monday night on "Patriotism, Chivalry and Service." A large audience was present.

HOLT PEORIA - STOCKTON

The Latest 10-ton Model "CATERPILLAR"—the Most Highly Perfected Tractor Ever Produced—

It HAD to be. The demand of the entire Allied Armies was for a tractor with POWER—the "Caterpillar" has it. They demanded a tractor that would travel over ANY CONDITION OF GROUND—the "Caterpillar" does it,—lays its own tracks where roads may be only shell holes, or swamps, or mud hip deep, asking no favors (it has gone over ground where man could not travel). They demanded something upon which absolute dependence could be placed—the "Caterpillar" is built to keep on "keeping on," not only today but every day, year after year.

The "Caterpillar" was the choice of the Engineers of the Allied Armies to haul its biggest guns, its trains of trailers carrying tons of supplies; to help build its roads; to carry its legs from forest to mills. And now the "Caterpillar" has come back to help win the war on out-of-date, slow, more costly operations of hauling and transportation.

Holt "Caterpillar" Tractors working in the oil fields have reduced costs way under any other method. During spells of wet weather when the mud was so deep that not a wheel turned, the "Caterpillar" was the only motive power that DID operate—that COULD BE operated.

It went WHERE nothing else could travel. It traveled WHEN nothing else could move.

The motor in the "Caterpillar" never overheats. The Allied Armies could not have used it, had its motor failed to operate under any condition of heat—either of weather or continuous, grueling service. The "Caterpillar" has THREE speeds forward (like an automobile)—consider the advantage this means on any tough hauling proposition. "Caterpillars" for oil field work can be equipped with a specially designed Holt winch, with cable and a quick acting brake.

Lay before the Holt Engineering Department all the facts covering your particular hauling and transporting operations, and ask them to advise you (without any obligation) how the "Caterpillar" can be used to reduce YOUR costs both in time-saving and operating expense.

THE LEADER STORE FORCED TO REDUCE STOCK

WE ARE ABSOLUTELY FORCED TO REDUCE OUR STOCK

People of Ranger and Vicinity: At this time we find our store heavily overloaded with merchandise; in fact, every shelf, every counter, is completely undersnowed with seasonable fall and winter merchandise. We wish to turn $40,000 of our stock into actual cash in the next Fifteen Days. We know that in the regular course of business this would be impossible. So we have turned our stock over to the Wade Hampton Sales Co. of Oklahoma City and have given them the orders to sell the goods no matter what the cost or how great the loss. Wade Hampton, the willing carrier of this message of economy into the homes of the people of Ranger and vicinity, is here at work with a large force marking, tagging and displaying this tremendous stock so that not the slightest disappointment will meet you as you enter the doors of the sale. No misrepresentation or exaggerated prices will be allowed during this sale.

THE TIMES' DAILY SHORT STORY

THE VAMPING OF MR. DART

By Dwight Tingle Scott

"And all that rouge and those eyebrows and that pair of black earrings—say, girl, I don't see how Theda Bara holds her job at all." "And do you know," interposed Miss Prentiss, of the cost department, "she smokes like a chimney. Mrs. Dean just missed catching her with a cigarette in the res room yesterday."

"And how the men hang about her desk—have you noticed it?" This from Miss Brady, the office cashier. "Even Mr. Dart. I passed his desk this morning; she had finished dictation and was sitting there talking head her say. 'If you're fond of regular news you ought to hear two new reels I have for our piano. They're so lazy they just make your toes tickle—and say, the big drought hasn't hit our house yet; why don't you come over sometime?'" And Mr. Dart laughed and said he would be there "with bells on."

"Get that, Elsie," called Clara Forrest, of the billing department. "You'd better look after your Mr. Dart or the new 'stenog' will be running away with him." Elsie Hastings bit her lip and colored to the tips of her pink ears. "Really, girls, Mr. Dart and I are only good friends. He is free to do as he chooses."

Bravely enough pretty little Elsie said it, but there had been a cruel tugging at her heart as she watched the office vamping's bold overtures toward Phil Dart. Quite true, the status of Elsie and Phil had been only that of good friends, but Phil had been coming to see her every week for the last six months. He was fond of music—the light classics, which Elsie played so well.

trying to hold him in this shameless manner—and still failing. She could not help it; her face went down into her hands. "Elsie, you are crying." He was at her side. "Sobbingly she blurted out the whole thing. "Why, you dear, silly, little goose," he said quite softly, "don't you know men don't love women of that type? They do attract us—just as a poster printed in red ink attracts you; but you wouldn't choose the poster to bring home and hang upon your wall instead of a beautiful water color, would you?"

"Now, please go up and wash that paint off your face and come right back, because there is something I wanted to say—and I just can't say it to a painted lady."

Elsie did go upstairs. She came back with a silk scarf thrown about her shoulders and her face all pink with the glow of health. "And Phil delivered his little speech. It was a pretty speech, too. And why shouldn't it be? Hadn't he been thinking about it all week, and about nothing much else? It had to do—the speech—with the month of June, and it touched upon the housing problem and it discussed the relative joys to be derived from a trip on the great lakes as compared with one to Washington and down the Potomac. In all her life Elsie never had heard such a speech—no, never."

"Isn't it just too wonderful!" In the white quietness of her bed she whispered this to a ring held close to her cool cheek; and from his point of vantage—third finger, left hand—a solitary white diamond caught a vacant moonbeam, and in the marvelous heliography of love flashed back the answer, "Wonderful, wonderful, wonderful."

5,000 Helpless Orphans in South Are Asking the Privileges of a Home

Baptists Are Providing For That Many at Present in Fifteen Institutions but as Many More Are Waiting For Admission—The 75 Million Campaign Plans to Meet That Need.

A Group of Boys and Girls in the Tennessee Baptist Orphans Home near Nashville who are being cared for and trained for useful lives.

Does your heart go out to the worthy boy and girl bereft by the Grim Reaper of father and mother, and left alone in the world without the fostering care of those to whom they are naturally most dear in the world?

Then you will understand why Southern Baptists have established orphanages in fifteen states, are caring for 5,000 such children in those homes and training them for useful lives in the world.

But the need is far greater than the ability of these institutions to meet it. While five thousand children are being cared for in these orphanages, there are on the waiting list of these institutions fully five thousand more equally worthy, fatherless and motherless boys and girls who want the privileges which these orphanages afford but which must be denied them for the present because there is no room with which to shelter more of them.

So when the Baptist 75 Million Campaign was launched for the enlargement of the work of the denomination along general lines in an effort to meet growing spiritual needs in the homeland and throughout the world, the sum of $4,700,000 was apportioned to the orphanages, this sum to cover a program of five years, as the $75,000,000 sought in the campaign will be raised in cash and five-year pledges during Victory Week, November 30, December 7.

In the homes that have been provided for the orphans facilities are provided for giving regular schooling of the same character that is afforded in the public schools, beginning with the kindergarten and continuing to the tenth and eleventh grades in the

France Gets Ready for Rush of Tourists Soon

International News Service.
CHATEAU-THIERRY, Oct. 23.—Chateau-Thierry and all the surrounding towns that saw the first bursts of America's real fighting power, are getting ready for the '20 drive of American tourists; in fact, they have been practicing for several weeks on those few Americans who managed to break through the state department's passport stone wall and arrive while the looking was still quite good.

Judging by the haste with which things are being made ready for "les Americans," there will be more American cafes and restaurants around this neck of the woods next spring than there are in many a well-populated American town. Some of the precious old French cafes that were once a delight to the eye are being rudely transformed into imitation Broadway joints that are a surprise to the returning civilians.

On the south bank of the Marne, one of the streets where American regulars of the Third division held their ground under a hell of fire and stopped the German advance, there was, until June, 1918, a little restaurant that was famous to persons touring the Marne country. The soups and the meats the French chef prepared there spread his fame broadcast.

Now all that is sadly altered and an Englishwoman has established what a great sign announces to the world to be an "American Restaurant." The cushioned benches are gone. In their places are slender wicker chairs and little tables and on the walls, where once hung quaint old French paintings, are such signs as "Martini cocktails made from genuine Gordon gin," "Manhattan cocktails," "All kinds of whiskies," and other signs calling attention to things that became extinct in America July 1. They are going to install a bar at one end and then all the place will be a jazz band, a hat check boy and a couple of policemen.

Whiskey has so long been in vogue around that the way to win American tourist patronage is by offering the biggest possible supply. So most of the new proprietors are engaging in active competition for the small supply of old red-eye that still remains about Paris.

In Chateau-Thierry itself, in Vaux, Bouresches, Lucy-le-Bocage, Clerges, Jaulgonne, Rheims and other towns now linked with American history the work of rehabilitation is going forward rapidly, but there will be plenty for the Americans to see even a year hence. The French are employing the light railways once used to haul munitions to the front in carrying material to villages remote from main railway lines and are making rapid progress in leveling ruined buildings, cleansing streets of debris and making the way district more habitable. The trenches and fox-holes where American troops once dugged the ground under German fire are mostly filled up; but Belleau Wood remains as it was when the marines made their famous attack, and such villages as Vaux and Jaulgonne will show for many years the effects of American and German artillery fire.

Yep, There's a Little Food in Old Europe

International News Service LONDON, Oct. 23.—An American just returned from Copenhagen gives his impression of the Danish race as follows:

"8 a. m.—Several cups of coffee, eight or nine slices of thick bread with thicker butter.

"10 a. m.—Breakfast. Bacon and eggs, beefsteak and potatoes, much bread and butter, beer and cream cakes, all in double quantities compared with American standards.

"Noon.—Smorbrød, the national dish, consisting of fifty-eight varieties of fish, meat, eggs, vegetables and cheese, well and truly laid out thick bread with thicker butter. "The Dane thinks you a eater between meals and the smorbrød is his standby. The most popular is a four-storied affair and is typical of all the fifty-eight varieties, the same list of which is handed to you in every restaurant. It consists of thick bread and butter, cold roast beef, fried onions and a fried egg, all laid one on top of the other. It cost twenty cents and is a lunch by itself; but, alas, smorbrød does not agree with American interiors.

"The Danes eat smorbrød all day long; in the stalls at the theater and in the cinema, in the concert hall and at boxing contests.

"4 p. m.—An erasing of coffee and creameries satisfied.

"Automatically whenever you sit down in a cafe pastries bulging with cream are set in front of you, and the waiter thinks you a very poor mortal if you decline them.

"6 p. m.—Dinner. Several smorbrøds, a couple of fish, fried veal with echeloned potatoes, beer, coffee, creameries.

"11 p. m.—Lobster and creameries, beer.

"All the world and his wife worship the lobster in Denmark; you see children in their dreams eating it. "No, not every Dane is a millionaire. He only eats like one."

SCRIPTURE

II. Kings 4:22-37.

And when Elisha was come into the house, behold, the child was dead, and laid upon his bed.

He went in therefore, and shut the door upon them twain, and prayed unto the Lord.

And he went up, and lay upon the child, and put his mouth upon his mouth, and his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands; and he stretched himself upon the child; and the flesh of the child waxed warm.

Then he turned, and walked in the house to seek for, and went up, and stretched himself upon him; and the child revived seven times, and the child opened his eyes.

And he called Gehazi, and said, Call this Shunammite. So he called her, and when she was come in unto him, he said, Take up thy son.

Then she went in, and fell at his feet, and bowed herself to the ground, and took up her son and went out.

SPECIAL LEASED WIRE. FORT WORTH, Oct. 23.—The right of an oil company to give up an oil lease under the "surrender" clause recently has been upheld by the United States circuit court of appeals at St. Louis. A counter revolution is expected to break out during the Bolshevik second anniversary celebration early in November. 3.—The Bolsheviks have been signally defeated at Ilovinsk, north of Tsautzin, by the forces of Gen. Denekine. 4.—The Bolsheviks have also been defeated on the Archangel front. 5.—The Germans are still bombarding Riga, using trench mortars and gas shells. 6.—The Lettish army is increasing its resistance. Lettish troops have recrossed the Dvina river, and are prepared to hold Riga at all costs. 7.—German shipping has been ordered off the Baltic sea. # Aerial Vagabonds Hop Off Carrying Ranger's Message of Wonderful Growth and Prosperity

BY LARRY SMITS.

They're off! On their way to New York city, by a somewhat devious route, by way of Tulsa, and Topeka, and Des Moines, and Kansas City and Chicago, Lieutenants Bill Hahnel and Bob Kennedy, formerly of the army and the Ranger-Desdemona air service, are carrying the aerial message of the wonder city of the Texas oil fields to the folks of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and New York state.

With the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce, The Ranger Daily Times has printed a bulletin of the leading activities of the premier oil city and these leaflets will flutter down from the winging vagabond ship of the skies to the spectators below.

Ranger is probably the first city in the United States to take advantage of the most recent kink in aerial advertising.

In the early grammar school days, the boys in the old home town used to sacrifice an occasional Saturday to the pursuit of goss, in a manner of speaking they spent the day in what they called "piscain bills." These notices of sales by department stores, were delivered, in theory, to each doorstep in the old home town. For which each bill peddler received four bits for the day's work.

A really energetic boy, peddling bills, covered six to eight miles of village streets in a day. Now comes the aggrandized bill peddler, covering, instead of a few weary miles, a breezy half a thousand in a day, delivering his wares, not to a single doorstep, but to a city, watching his graceful course and waiting for his aerial message.

After two days of waiting, when clouds and overhung skies made travel by air unpleasant and landing fields boggy, Thursday dawned bright and clear.

At the field at the end of Hunt street, from which the boys have made many flights during their stay in Ranger, waited the slim structure of spruce and linen which is their vehicle in the airy journey. Shrouded in the coverings which protect against wind and weather, it little resembled the winged chariot of the cloud spaces.

Canvas and tarpaulin removed, the two pilots strapped their suitcases to the foot board on each side of the fuselage. One cannot tell, when he starts on an aerial journey, whether the caprices of the air will permit his safe arrival at his destination. So Bill and Bob are prepared, at least with a change of clothes and a few travel needs, against a forced landing in some farmer's cornpatch, miles from the city to which their luggage has been sent.

They clambered into the plan, Bill in the front seat, Bob in the back, and adjusted the safety belts which insure their "staying with it" at any dizzy angle.

"Off and choke," called the mechanic, standing in front of the propeller. Bob repeated the call, signifying that the spark was off and the mechanic swung the long mahogany stick over several times that the cylinders might drink in their charges of gas.

"Contact," called the mechanic. "Contact," repeated Bob.

The mechanic gave the stick a sharp swing, the motor coughed, balked and then settled to an even staccato rattapan that told that every cylinder was doing its share. For a few minutes the motor ran at this speed, warming up, and then the roar deepened and the wheels of the ship started to move, at a slow rate. It "taxied" out into the clear, swung so that its nose pointed into the slight breeze and then started, at a rapidly increasing clip, down the straightway. Like a giant game-cock going into battle, it looked.

With a rear end a whip it was off. A wave of the hand in farewell showed from the speeding ship.

A graceful bans beyond the end of the place which has been its "home field" for many weeks and the craft turned toward the city. It swung, in a huge arc, around Ranger, then headed off toward the clouds that hung on the northeast horizon. The hum of its motor, loud and clear in its circle of the city, died away. The ship shrank from a giant eagle, to a hawk, to a sparrow, to a dust mote that eluded the gaze. The vagabonds de- were gone.

Aerial racers may strain their frail craft and human endurance in costly trans-continental flights, striving to set up new records for the spanning of the United States.

Not so with Bill and Bob. Leisurely they will wing their way home. For it will be home, for Bill Hahnel, when he reaches the east coast, Brooklyn, New York, was the city that showed on his enlistment papers and now he is making his second visit there since his discharge.

It's the other end of the continent for Bob Kennedy. After their trip to New York, their plans are to go on to Pomona, Calif., there to start a school for flyers. And Pomona is Bob's home.

But the aerial vagabonds will go as they please, stopping off when they wish to, making passenger flights when there are passengers who wish to take the air, resting over a few days when the countryside seems hospitable and eventually going on toward their eastern goal.

And each hamlet and town and city where they stop will learn it by the printed messages that float down to them, or when the pilots themselves, for both are enthusiastic Ranger boosters.

Ranger to Dallas is the first leg of the journey and there they will "lay over" a while, to overhaul the ship and to enjoy the hospitality of the city that was known, in war time, as the Mecca of the Air Service.

From there, the schedule, approximately, will be: leave Dallas, October 27; Tulsa, October 31; Topeka, November 4; Des Moines, November 10; Chicago, November 15; Toledo, November 21; Erie, N. Y. November 25; Elmira, November 29; New York City December 5.

No boy, in his dream of adventure, ever pictured a more adventurous, glamorous journey.

The air vagabonds are gone.

ORDER FOR PIPE LINES TO HANDLE OIL PROTESTED.

Special to The Times. WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 23.—Protest against an order of the Texas Railroad Commission to the Magnolia and Texas Pipe Line companies, to the effect that they run one-fourth of the production of the leases of a certain operator, of which they learned through press dispatches, has been wired to the commission by the newly-organized Wichita County Oil & Refiners' Association. The wire calls attention to the alleged inequity of the order, pointing out that the estimated possible production of the two pools near Burkburnett is 300,000 barrels per day, a fourth of which would be 75,000 barrels, while the carrying capacity of the two pipe lines mentioned, at present the only trunk lines operating in the field, is only about 30,000 barrels per day.

OVERTON GAINED TWELVE POUNDS

"I have actually gained 12 pounds on four bottles of Orgatone and I now feel like a brand new man," said J. H. Overton, residing at 202 Calhoun Avenue, Fort Worth, Texas, a few days ago.

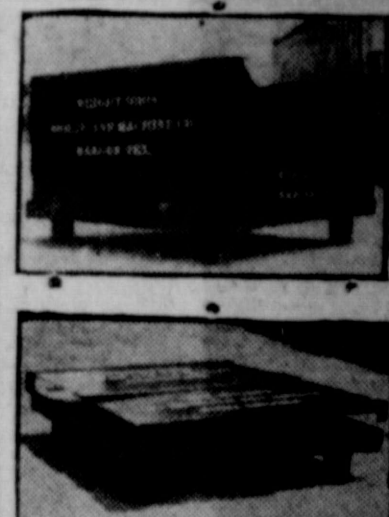

"For four months before I started on Orgatone," continued Mr. Overton, "I was feeling so bad it was impossible for me to do a thing; but here I am, a well man and I can never forget Orgatone the longest day I live for the good it has done me."

"I had been in bad health and going down hill for almost a year. Treatment and medicine did me no good and I kept getting worse. For about six months I suffered from what the doctors called a dead liver and chronic constipation. My blood was very affected and I had the most terrible headaches, which made me so nervous I could hardly sleep and many a day I was in misery every hour out of the twenty-four."

"My stomach pained me all the time and everything I would eat came back. I had no appetite and besides I could swallow anything scarcely at all without causing gas to form. I did everything I could hear of to find relief, but nothing helped me and I had little hopes of finding a medicine or treatment that would suit my case."

"A fellow workman who had used Orgatone and received such very beneficial results urged me to give it a trial. I felt a change for the better in just a few days and it seems to me my recovery is almost like a miracle. I improved right along every day and now I haven't a sign of my old troubles for the good work of Orgatone has relieved these conditions. My appetite has improved wonderfully and everything I eat tastes just fine, nothing hurts me. That shows my stomach is in good shape and what fine work Orgatone Treatment has done for me. I enjoy everything there is to eat and my mind and misery are all gone, and I think Orgatone Treatment is the greatest medicine that ever was made. I have gained 12 pounds on four bottles and am now working every day. It has made me what I am today and I would be unappreciative of the good I have received not to let others know about it. I recommend it because I feel it has helped and if anybody trying to get relief from their troubles will either call or write me I will take pleasure in answering them."

Orgatone is not a so-called patent secret remedy, but a real scientific treatment, available from alcohol in any form, and is sold in Ranger by the Ranger Drug Company exclusively, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative.
