I don't believe I have ever seen roses as beautiful, plentiful and lush as they are this year. Viola can call all of our rose bushes by their variety names, when they were set out, and where they came from, but me, I just know they are roses, and as pretty as I have ever seen.

Charles Guy made the statement in an editorial in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal one day this week that he was a personal friend of Senator Ralph Yarborough's. Which would bring up the thought that if the Lubbock editor is the Senator's friend, then the Senator had better give his enemies a wide berth.

It is a little hard to have definite opinions about the Indo-China situation. We know very little about the habits, philosophy, etc., of the people in the various countries that make up that area of the world. We do know that we are deeply involved in their affairs, and that their inter-relations now come under the head of our business to a great extent. Just for instance, where would we be if the South Vietnamese took a liking to the part of Cambodia that they have occupied and refused to get out after the time where there was no military advantage in being there. Would we be obligated to put them out? Are there eventualities that could occur that would make it impossible for us to withdraw our military forces from that part of the world? Maybe somebody in authority knows the answer, but it is doubtful.

If the present administration's economic policy continues in effect indefinitely there appears to be no end to high interest rates, inflation and increased numbers on the unemployed rolls. We will be fortunate if we don't have a crippling depression before somebody with enough guts and authority shows up to slap on wage and price controls and push back the high interest rates that are ruining the nation's economy. It is past the time for the practice of theories, drastic and tried methods should be brought to bear on the problem.

Like Cotton John was want to say, mornings are the finest part of the Golden Spread day. I would add that mid-day and afternoon are also nice, as is the sleeping part of the nights. But there is that space in there that is called evening, early and late evening, that is fraught with tornadoes and the threat of tornadoes at this season of the year that makes life on the Plains a little risky.

Slough wounded in Cong attack

Capt. Russell E. Slough of Dimmitt has been reported seriously wounded in action in Vietnam.

CAPT. SLOUGH'S parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Slough, have received word that he was wounded Saturday during a Viet Cong attack on Camp Katherine, near Da Nang. Three Americans were killed and 30 others were wounded in the attack.

The extent of Capt. Slough's wounds was not determined.

A career Army officer, Capt. Slough, 29, signed up two months ago for an additional six months' duty in Vietnam when his original assignment ended.

Summer program planned

HELLO, SUMMER!—When the final bell of the year rang at North Elementary School at 2:38 Friday afternoon, a gaggle of loud war-whoops pierced the hallways. Moments later, these enthusiastic students—who had just finished their end-of-school parties in their home rooms—came bursting out the school door to greet the summer. They'll have to live summer to the fullest, because it will be a short one—classes will start again in mid-August.

A summer athletic and cultural training program will be offered to Dimmitt area residents in July.

SPONSORED and coordinated by the Alpha Eta Tau chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority, the program will include class instruction in tennis, trampoline, conversational Spanish, modern dance and art.

The sorority calls its first summer program "ACT I," an abbreviation for "Activities and Cultural Training."

Deadline for signing up for the program is June 14. Classes will be conducted from July 6 to 17.

"In future summers we hope to add drama and music instruction to the program, and it is our dream to eventually sponsor a Little Theatre-type project," a sorority spokesman said. "We feel this program will benefit the Dimmitt community more than any project we could plan, and we hope to have a lot of enthusiasm from interested participants."

The 10-day instruction program utilizes both local and out-of-town teaching talent.

Here is the ACT I summer lineup and schedule:

TENNIS

Instructors for tennis classes will be John Phillips, a top-seeded collegiate player from West Texas State University. He will teach classes at the Dimmitt High School tennis courts daily, 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. A minimum of 10 sign-ups for each class.

Cost of the 10-day tennis course is $10 per person, and the classes will be open to tennis enthusiasts from 8 years of age up, with classes divided into age groups. Rackets and tennis balls will be furnished.

Each day's class will be one hour. The preliminary schedule:

- 7 a.m. — Adults
- 8 a.m. — Youngsters 8 through 12
- 9 a.m. — Youths 13 to adult age
- 10 a.m. — Ladies only
- 11 a.m. — Children 8 through 12

Other classes will be scheduled in the afternoons if needed.

For further information on the tennis program, telephone 647-2555.

9 a.m. — Youngsters 5 through 8
10 a.m. — Youngsters 9 through 12.

If you want more information on the trampoline program, telephone 647-2596.

SPANISH

Teaching conversational Spanish in the ACT I program will be Van Earl Hughes, who minored in Spanish at Baylor University and taught for 10 years in Spanish-language schools in Central America.

Hughes has visited and lectured in Spanish in 15 Latin American countries as a missionary and business man, and serves as the minister of a Spanish-language Baptist church in Hart.

Cost of the Spanish course is $4 per person, and 40 persons is the class limit. The course is open to persons of all ages, and classes will be conducted daily (See Summer Program, Page 10)

Rain-- at last!

Thunder showers Monday and Tuesday nights finally broke a 38-day dry spell in the county.

THE RAINS came just in time to keep this from being the driest May on record here, but they were too late and too light to be of much benefit to the county's parched dryland wheat crops.

Dimmitt received an official .15 of an inch of rain Monday night and .10 of an inch Tuesday night. Scattered hail also was reported in the southern part of the county from Monday night's storm, which spawned a tornado near Tulsa.

Until Monday night, May had been bone-dry. The last measurable moisture was recorded April 18.

WITH THREE days remaining, this month is still bidding to be the driest May here since 1927, when only .16 of an inch of rain was recorded.

Dimmitt's official rainfall total of .25 of an inch this month is still below the two other driest Mays on record — 1945, with .28 of an inch, and 1967, with .27 of an inch.

The average rainfall in May here is 1.93 inches.

New water unit formed

The Castro County unit of Water, Inc. was formed last Thursday night at a special meeting in the First State Bank community room.

RAY JOE RILEY of Sunnyside, president of the Castro County Water Association and a director in Water, Inc., was elected president of the new Castro County unit. Chosen as vice-president was Larry Morris of Dimmitt. Edd McLeroy of Dimmitt was elected secretary-treasurer.

On hand for the organizational meeting was State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake, who is executive director of Water, Inc.

Clayton said the main goal of Water, Inc., is still to work for approval—both in Texas and the Mississippi Delta states—for a water import plan for West Texas. The proposal, submitted to voters at the Texas Water Plan last year, was defeated in a statewide referendum.

"THE PEOPLE in the Delta area who are concerned about the Texas Water Plan are beginning to realize that this thing is not going to be something that will be to their detriment," Clayton said last Thursday night.

He added, "It's a long story of education that we have to get across to the people, but we're making a lot of progress."

Clayton said more than 500 million acre feet of water flow out of the Mississippi River into the Gulf of Mexico each year, "and we're only talking of using 15 or 20 million acre feet."

THE VOTE in the Houston area last year was credited with the defeat of the Texas Water Plan. At the same time, officials of Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi were voicing concern that the draw-off of Mississippi River water might cut into the supply available to the rich Delta region. "Many of the officials in the Delta area are now recognizing the importance of the Texas Water Project to the national economy," Clayton said, "and people in the Houston area are now interested in selling the project to the man on the street there."

Committee chairmen chosen for the new Castro County unit of Water, Inc. last Thursday night were Jim Ratcliff, membership; Richard Hunter, education; and Weldon Lewis, publicity.

Appointed to the new unit's board of directors were those who are on the board of the Castro County Water Association. They are Riley, Fred Bruegel Sr., C. W. Anthony, John Gilbreath, Andy Nelson, Jerry Wilhelm, James Welch, Carl King and Ray Axtell.

ALSO elected to the board were Ed Ramaekers, Francis Gerber, Richard Hunter, Charley Burks, Ernest Sammann, Bob Crozier, Lon Boothe, Bob Caddell, Bo Bryant, Larry Morris, Jim Ratcliff, Edd McLeroy and Weldon Lewis.

Memorial service planned Saturday

Memorial Day services will be conducted at Castro Memorial Gardens Saturday at 10 a.m.

SPONSORED by the Dimmitt Cemetery Association, the memorial service will include a flag-raising, the playing of "Taps," a rifle salute and the placing of a memorial wreath at the base of the cemetery flagpole. Honor guards from Dimmitt's Greer H. Estes Post, American Legion, and Castro County Memorial Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will participate.

The Dimmitt Cemetery Association will hold its annual meeting on the cemetery grounds following the memorial service, according to El B. Noble, association secretary. Jack Summers, president, will conduct the business meeting.

NEW VS. OLD — Bright new Kelly-green street signs with white lettering are going up in the western third of Dimmitt, replacing the old black-on-white signs installed 20 years ago by the Lions Club. The city has purchased its own sign-face applicator and sign blanks—a $2,200 investment—and is making 554 sign faces, 30 stop signs and 20 yield signs. The complete changeover of all city signs will require three summers.

FLYING FREE—If you aren't a youngster with no more classes and a pool full of fresh, cold water to dive into, then you just don't know the ultimate thrill of summer. These young divers were photographed Saturday afternoon at the Country Club swimming pool.

Removing the THORN

Almost everyone that has ever removed a shoe and run barefoot through the fields, knows of the wonderful feeling of freedom that this gives. Most, also have known what it is to remove a sticker or a thorn. The first attempts to pull it out are usually handled so gingerly and slowly, and then, screwing up your courage you yank it out, and find that this was the easiest way after all.

There are many thorns in life, and these evils should be removed swiftly, and put out of our lives. Attend Church, receive help and encouragement in removing the thorns from your life.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish.

Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Martin receives degree from A&M

Doug Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Martin Jr. of Hart, graduated with honors Saturday from Texas A&M University.

HE RECEIVED a bachelor of science degree in agriculture economics.

A 1966 graduate of Hart High School, Martin was a distinguished student at A&M. He is from a family of Texas A&M graduates.

Attending Martin's graduation Saturday at College Station were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Martin Jr., Erin Smith of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Martin of San Saba, and Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gregory and Jan of Clovis.

children, Jeanne and Brian Ray of Goodland, Kan., spent the week-end visiting relatives here, including her sister, Mrs. James Dobbs and family, and his mother, Mrs. Tom Hargrave. This was the first trip here for their young son, Brian, who is three months old.

Friends here learned of the birth of a son on May 8 to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Streun of House, N.M. The baby was named John Mark. Paternal grandfather is Jack Streun.

MRS. W. H. ANDREWS' sisters, Mrs. Jess Lamb of Marlow, Okla. Mrs. Herman Brown of Kklahoma City, Mrs. Frank Calhoun of Fort Worth, and her mother, Mrs. Herbert Adkisson of Marlowe, have all been here to visit her and the Andrews family this week.

Darlene Sparkman came home last Wednesday to spend a few days with her parents, the T. L. Sparkmans, before returning to Waco for summer school at Baylor.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Lindley and Mrs. Sam Lindley went to Wellington Sunday to visit the family of Mrs. Mary Shipley, a friend who had died. Her funeral was Sunday. Mrs. Sam Lindley remained at Wellington to visit her sister and other relatives there.

If you've had 'just two drinks' new 'breathalyzer' will prove it

If you aren't drunk, the new "breathalyzer" will say so.

BUT IF you are definitely drunk, the new machine will nail you. And its needle-point testimony will hold up in court.

The new breathalyzer now in use here is a scientifically accurate instrument that uses chemical solutions, photoelectric cells and a galvanometer to determine the percentage of alcohol in a measured amount of breath.

Three local law officers are qualified to administer intoxication tests on the breathalyzer. They are Highway Patrolmen Billy Scott and Dyrle Maples and Deputy Sheriff Rex Cowart, all of whom have had intensive training at the Texas Dept. of Public Safety headquarters in Austin.

THROUGHOUT THE state, the breathalyzer is replacing the old "balloon test" apparatus for determining intoxication. Although the "balloon test" was a good indicator, it was not scientifically accurate enough for its testimony to hold up in court, the officers said. Other evidence was usually required, in addition to the "balloon test" findings, to prove intoxication.

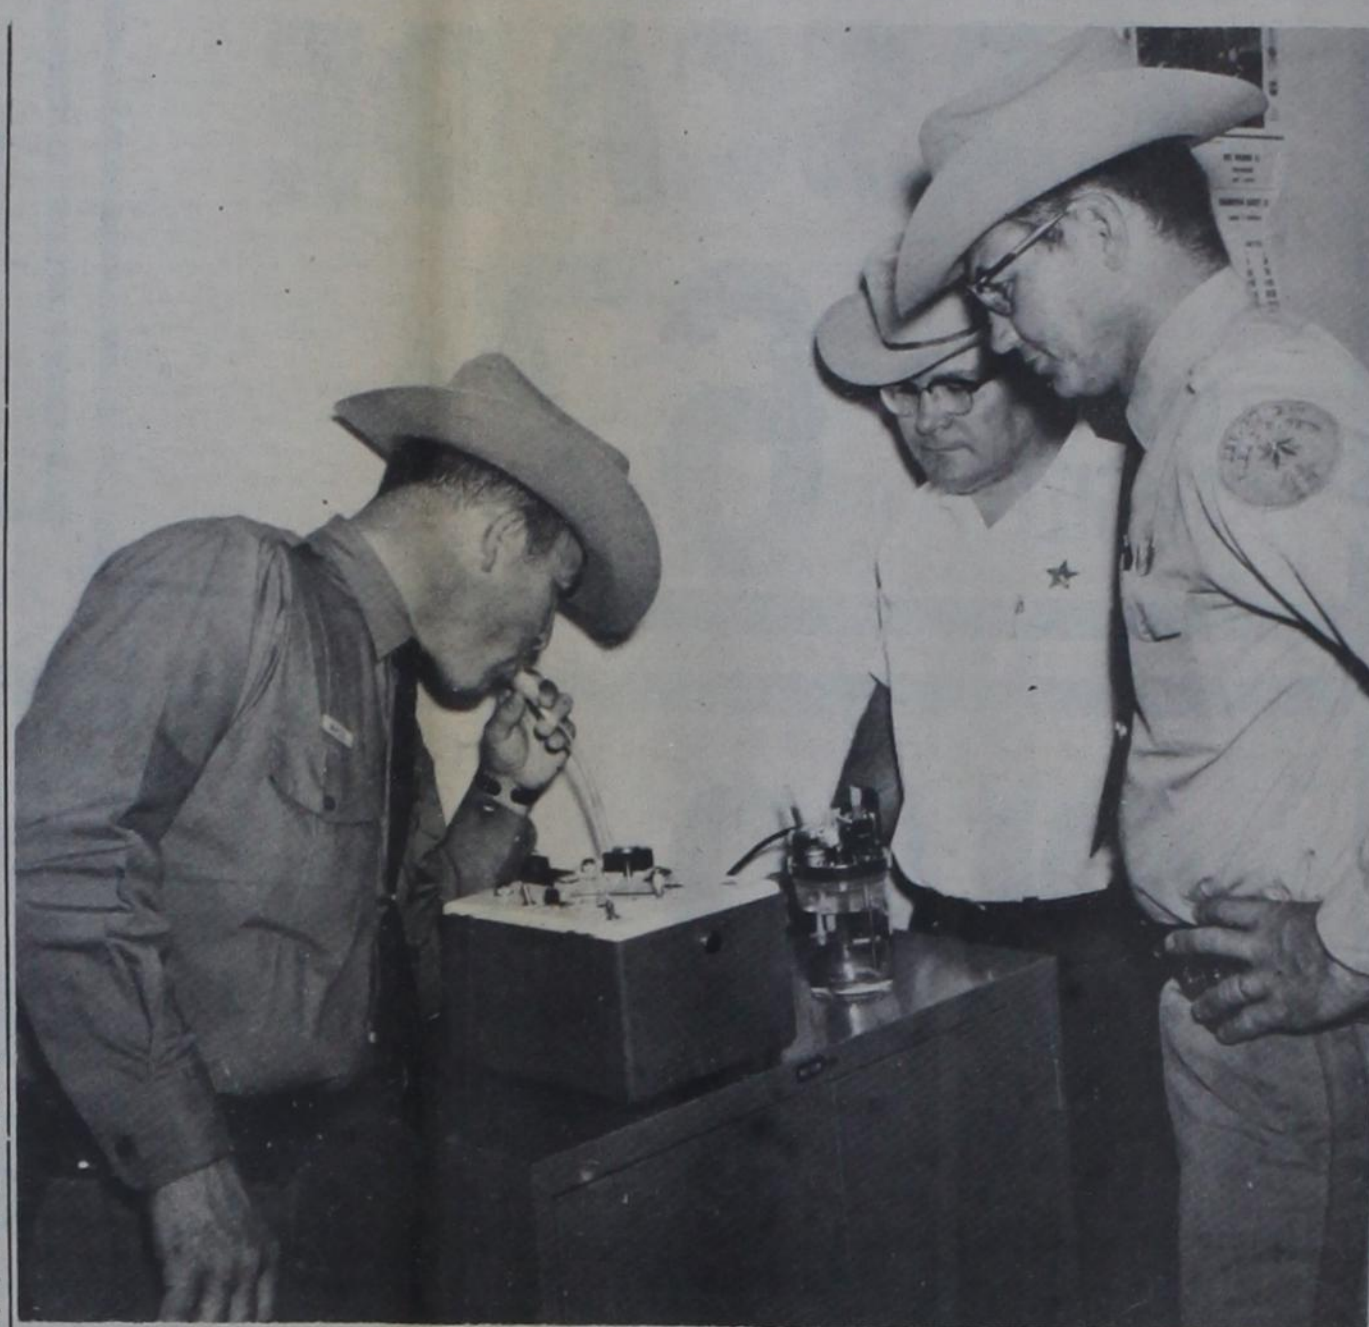

Since law officers here first started using the machine last month, they have tested 16 persons whom they suspected of being intoxicated. The machine upheld their suspicions on 14 of the suspects, but cleared the other two.

"I tested one subject just recently who gave all the usual indications of being intoxicated," Cowart said. "Just looking at him and listening to him, I would have guessed him to be thoroughly intoxicated. He was facing a possible drunk-driving charge. But the breathalyzer showed him not to be legally intoxicated. That was fine with me—I took him home."

HOW DRUNK, legally, is drunk? The magic number on the breathalyzer is 0.10 of one percent of alcohol in the blood system. If your breath tests below that number, you're legally sober (and the new machine gives a slight advantage in your favor on the scale). But if your breath tests out above 0.10, you've had it.

In previous years, 0.15 of one percent of alcohol in the system was considered to be the legal point of intoxication. But the National Safety Council and the American Medical Association, drawing upon extensive scientific and clinical tests, argued that a normal person with 0.10 of a percent of alcohol in his bloodstream was too intoxicated to safely operate an automobile. Most legislatures—including the Texas Legislature—agreed with the NSC and the AMA, so 0.10 is the new standard.

HERE'S HOW you take an intoxication test on the new breathalyzer, demonstrated by Highway Patrolman Dyrle Maples (left). Looking on are Deputy Sheriff Rex Cowart and Highway Patrolman Billy Scott. These three officers are all licensed to administer breathalyzer tests.

0.01-0.05—Sobriety. No apparent influence; behavior nearly normal by ordinary observation.

0.03-0.12—Euphoria. Increased self-confidence, sociability and talkativeness; decreased inhibitions. Diminution of attention, judgment and control. Loss of efficiency.

0.09-0.25—Excitement. Emotional instability; further decreased inhibitions; loss of critical judgment; impairment of memory and comprehension; decreased sensory response; increased reaction time; some muscular incoordination.

0.18-0.30—Confusion. Disorientation, mental confusion, dizziness, exaggerated emotions; disturbance of sensation and of perception of color, form, motion and dimensions; decreased sense of pain; impaired balance; muscular incoordination; staggering gait and slurred speech.

0.27-0.40—Stupor. Apathy; general inertia approaching paralysis; marked muscular incoordination; inability to stand or walk; vomiting; impaired consciousness; sleep or stupor.

0.35-0.50—Coma. Complete unconsciousness; subnormal temperature; possible death.

0.45 or more—Death from respiratory paralysis.

YOU'VE NOTICED that these percentages overlap from one stage of intoxication to the next. That's because of different people's tolerance to alcohol—either a natural tolerance provided by the body's metabolism, or an induced tolerance caused by consistent drinking.

But no human body can stand even one-half of one percent of alcohol in the blood. It's fatal. If your body is functioning normally, you can't kill yourself with one drinking bout. Before your bloodstream builds up to the fatal level, you'll vomit or pass out. It's the body's natural mechanisms at work to throw off the excess alcohol or stop you from taking in any more.

HOW DOES the breathalyzer determine just how much alcohol you have in your bloodstream? Since alcohol is physically dangerous to your bodily functions, your body goes to work to throw it off moments after you take your first drink. Your stomach and upper intestinal tract absorb it; your liver breaks it down; and after it gets into your bloodstream, you excrete it via exhaled breath, urine and perspiration.

Each of these excretions—breath, urine, perspiration—will contain levels of alcohol proportional to the amount in your bloodstream. The alcohol being given off by the lungs is the easiest and most constant to measure.

SO THE new breathalyzer doesn't measure the intensity of alcohol on your breath, or the fumes in your mouth. It measures the molecules of actual alcohol in the alveolar (deep lung) breath that you exhale, and converts that measure to blood-alcohol content on a scale. The ratio is 1/2,100, meaning that one volume of blood will contain the same amount of alcohol as will 2,100 volumes of deep-lung breath.

The breathalyzer test is simple. Using a throw-away mouthpiece, you blow into a plastic tube that goes into the breathalyzer (a green light tells you when to stop blowing). Your breath is delivered through the tubing to the bottom of a cylinder inside the breathalyzer. The pressure of your breath lifts a finely machined piston inside that cylinder, and when the piston is as high as it will go (and the green light goes out), you will have given a measured volume of breath.

WHEN the operator releases the piston, it forces your breath through the gas bubbler into an ampule containing a yellow chemical solution that is sensitive to alcohol. This solution oxidizes the alcohol, and in doing so it becomes lighter in color—depending on how much alcohol it is called upon to oxidize.

A constant light source is then shone through the ampule and through a second ampule containing the same chemical solution. (These ampules come pre-filled, and can be used for either "side" of the test.)

The amounts of blue light transmitted by the "test" and "standard" ampules of chemical solution are compared by two photoelectric cells which, if they both receive the same amount of light, cancel each other out.

BUT IF the "test" ampule (the one your breath was bubbled through) is lighter in color as a result of its chemical reaction to alcohol, it will transmit more blue light—and the difference will be shown by a galvanometer built into the breathalyzer.

If the test ampule is lighter in color than the standard ampule, the galvanometer needle will register a plus on its scale. The operator brings it back to the zero middle-mark by adjusting a percentage needle along a calibrated dial. When the galvanometer registers zero again, the percentage needle will be pointing to your measure of intoxication on the breathalyzer scale.

The breathalyzer is accurate to within 0.01 of one percent. But just to give the suspect every break, the machine must be tested with a known alcohol solution for accuracy before each use, then "purged" with clean air, and its percentage needle is set a point below zero at the start of the test.

OFFICERS explain that the breathalyzer isn't just a "hanging machine."

In the first place, if you aren't as intoxicated as the arresting officer thinks you are, the breathalyzer will prove it. (And the officer who brings in a suspect isn't the one who runs the test; a second officer is called out to do that.)

Also, if you're acting intoxicated but you haven't had a drink, the breathalyzer will show that your behavior isn't being caused by alcohol, and officers will know to call a physician for you.

THE breathalyzer test has been useful in helping recognize the cause of intoxicated behavior in cases of epilepsy, diabetes, concussion, heart attack and overdose of insulin.

Also, it has helped pinpoint the cause of intoxicated behavior to barbiturates and tranquilizers by eliminating alcohol as a cause.

YOU DON'T have to take a breathalyzer test if you don't want to. But under Texas' "Implied Consent" law, the test is one of the obligations you assume when you drive a vehicle.

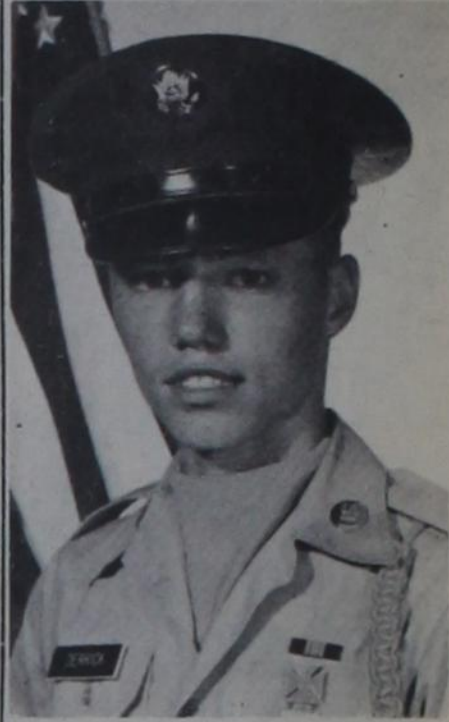

The law states that "any person who operates a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state shall be deemed to have given consent . . . to a chemical test, or tests, of his breath for the purpose of determining the alcoholic content of his blood if arrested for any offense arising out of acts alleged to have been committed while a person was driving or in actual physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor . . ."

You have the right to refuse the breathalyzer test, but if you do your driver's license can be automatically suspended for up to a year.

IF YOU refuse to submit to the test, the arresting officer can't make you take it. But it may then submit a sworn report to the Texas Dept. of Public Safety that he had reasonable grounds to believe you were driving while intoxicated.

That report will lead to a hearing in the local Justice of the Peace Court, with your driver's license at stake. At the hearing the arresting officer will tell why he thought you were intoxicated, leaving you to explain why you refused to submit to the breathalyzer test. And that, for anyone but Perry Mason, is tough duty.

Especially when you consider that the breathalyzer might have proven that you weren't as intoxicated as the arresting officer thought you were.

Garden Clubbers meet at Hereford

The Dimmitt Garden Club held its last regular meeting and luncheon of the year last Wednesday at the Hereford Country Club.

GUESTS at the meeting were nine members of the Milady Garden Club. Mrs. Jimmy Butler, president, welcomed the guests and new members.

Mrs. Jay Lee Touchstone gave the schedule for the annual Spring Placement and Flower Show, to be held June 6.

The program was a color-slide tour of Europe, presented by Mrs. Jack Miller.

THE PHOTOS were taken by Mrs. Miller, her husband and several other Dimmitt couples who toured Europe last summer, and in toured Europe last summer, and included the gardens of Holland and Denmark, and churches, historic and scenic sites in Germany, England, Italy, Hungary and France.

Mrs. Miller commented that while the Dimmitt tourists were in West Berlin, they were the guests of Wolfgang Buschardt, former American Field Service exchange student here, and his family.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Jay Lee Touchstone, Mrs. Jimmy Butler and Mrs. Sid Sheffy. The tables were covered with hot pink linen cloths and were decorated with peonies and garden flowers. Twenty-four ladies attended.

"Food Fun" teacher Terry Byerley

'Food Fun' class planned for June by electric co-op

Beginning in June, Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative will again offer a summer program for elementary school age girls.

FOOD FUN for Juniors is designed to teach girls 9 to 12 the principles of basic food preparation, good kitchen management, meal planning, basic nutrition, table setting, and hints about table manners.

Food Fun for Junior classes will be conducted in the high school home economics departments of the six towns in the cooperative's service area. The communities are Nazareth, Dimmitt, Hereford, Friona, Bovina and Farwell. The 2½-hour classes will run for five days, from 9 to 11:30 a.m. For those girls attending afternoon classes, the time will be from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

In Dimmitt, the classes will begin June 22 and run through June 26. At Nazareth, classes will be conducted June 8 through 12.

GIRLS completing the week-long course will be honored at a graduation party and presented a diploma.

Terry Byerley of Amarillo has been employed by the co-op to conduct the Food Fun classes. Miss Byerley is a senior home economics student at Texas Tech.

Miss Byerley has had college courses in food and nutrition, clothing and textiles, child development and family relations, home management, and home economics education. During her high school years she was also active in the Future Homemakers of America.

FURTHER information about the program can be obtained by contacting Ray Simpson at the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative office in Hereford.

By MARY EDNA HENDRIX
Our Summer Reading Program will start Tuesday, and I would like to encourage all the students and pre-school children to enter this program. Each child who reads at least 12 books during the summer will receive a certificate. There will be a prize for the child who reads the most books, and pre-school children may count the books that are read to them.

LIBRARY hours are:
Monday — closed all day
Tuesday — 2 to 5 p.m.
Wednesday — 10 to 12 a.m. and 2 to 5 p.m.
Thursday — 2 to 5 p.m.
Friday — 2 to 5 p.m.
Saturday — 10 to 12 and 1 to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Wohlgemuth, Mrs. Hutchison and Sandra Diaz brought their classes from school last week to show the students how to use the county library during the summer. I had 52 students to sign library cards since they have never used the public library.

MRS. RUBY SIMS came in with her daughter, Mrs. David Nelson, and her two daughters from Hart. We are always glad to see the people from Hart, Sunnyside, Nazareth and other communities come to use the library.

Everyone interested in the library is still on "cloud nine" since Mrs. Ralph Perry donated $90,000 for a new library building. I hope these plans can be completed soon so the new building can be started. Thanks again, Mrs. Perry, for such a generous gift.

Garden Club show to be held June 6

The Dimmitt Garden Club has set June 6 as the date of its annual Home Tour and Flower Show.

"FASHIONS IN FLOWERS" will be the theme of the event, which will include tours of two flower-decked homes and a separate show at the Castro County Country Club.

The tour and show will be from 3:30 to 7 p.m., with a $1 admission charge.

Homes to be toured are those of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Carpenter, 736 W. Pine St., and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dennis, Clovis Highway.

THE SHOW at the Country Club will stress horticulture, education and conservation, while the home tours will stress placement of arrangements.

A standard system of judging will be used in the placement and horticulture show. Awards will include blue, red, yellow, and white ribbons for first, second, third and honorable mention in each category; orange ribbons for awards of merit in horticulture; a tri-color award for the highest-scoring blue-ribbon winner in artistic competition and a sweep-

Three from here earn SPC honors

Two students from Dimmitt and one from Hart were named to the spring 1970 Dean's Honor List at South Plains College, Levelland.

THEY WERE Bertha Mae Howell and Linda Kurtz of Dimmitt, and Kathie Norfleet of Hart.

Also, Clare Popejoy of Brownfield, a former Dimmitt resident, was named to the Dean's Honor List.

All attained a grade average above 3.0 while carrying 12 semester hours or more. Under the college's grading system, 4.0 is a perfect grade.

The honor students were announced by Academic Dean Nathan Tubbs.

Turkey hen hunt poses no threat, biologists claim

What's good for the goose, they say, should be good for the gander.

WILD TURKEY hens have been hunted during the regular turkey season in the eastern portions of the Texas Panhandle since 1964, and the practice has proved to be no threat to the total turkey population along the Canadian river bottomlands.

Jim Dillard, a Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologist stationed at Wheeler, said harvesting of hens has not upset the 70-30 ratio of hens to gobblers counted in that area.

Dillard said the either-sex season experiment was started to increase that harvest and take advantage of the burgeoning bird populations. There are an estimated 10,000 to 15,000 turkeys in the major Panhandle turkey hunting areas, Dillard said.

WHEN THE regulations were changed to allow the harvest of hens, each hunter was limited to one bird instead of the usual two gobblers. This change still produced an increase in the total number of birds harvested each year, Dillard said.

Hens made up 43 percent of the kill in 1969, totaling 800 birds. Only 75 hens were taken in the first season in 1964, according to Department records.

A&M graduate students analyze areas swine production, costs

Recent developments in swine production have resulted in a rapid expansion of the swine industry in certain sections of Texas, especially in the Plains areas. ADVANCES in production technology and favorable prices have caused many farm operators to consider swine as a possible supplemental enterprise in their farming operation, according to research and extension economists at Texas A&M University.

A study just released as PR-2756 by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station analyzes the economics of swine enterprises in the Plains area of Texas, dealing principally with partial confinement systems. Graduate Students W. R. Masch and J. M. Spratt in A&M's Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology made the study.

They point out if a farm operator has the management ability and available capital, the addition of a swine enterprise can provide a means for maintaining or perhaps increasing his net income.

THE researchers have provided in the publication detailed budgets on investment costs and returns under different conditions, emphasizing the importance of good management in the operation of a hog business.

They conclude that an "above average" manager can profitably produce hogs in the Plains areas as long as the price of No. 1 and 2 barrows and gilts exceed 18 cents per pound and milt prices are below $2 per hundredweight. On the other hand, "average" management as defined in the study would need a price of three cents per pound more for hogs marketed to show a profit under the same system.

They looked at hog prices over a period of 16 years and found that at the price of 18 cents per pound occurred 94 percent of the time over a recent four-year period but only about 50 percent of the time over the 16 years studied.

THE AUTHORS estimate that a total investment of $600 or more per sow is required for a partial confinement farrow-to-finish system in the Plains areas.

For a 120-sow system fixed cost is estimated at $2.13 and variable cost at $15.28 for a total of $17.41, per hundred weight of hogs marketed. This should yield, they say an estimated annual return to management of $7,600, basing the price of No. 1 and 2 hogs at $18.75 hundredweight.

The authors point out that this is the first report in a project designed to estimate the economic importance of hogs in Texas under the different conditions which exist, and is based upon information obtained from Plains growers during 1969.

COPIES of the progress report are available from the Department of Agricultural Information, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843 or from area Extension Service farm management specialists. The county agent's office can also assist interested person in obtaining a copy.

Letters To The Editor:

Reader commends newspaper's commitment to 'idea market'

Dear Editor:

I would like to express my pleasure at seeing the article by Bob Bradford about his participation in the demonstration at the University of Missouri in last week's Castro County News.

IN A time when attitudes seem to be becoming increasingly polarized, it is truly refreshing to see an attempt at understanding, as evidenced by your printing of this article.

There can be no virtue in remaining silent -- whether it be in a majority or a minority -- in a country where the government is professed to be of, by and for the people. Thank you for being truly committed to "the free market of ideas."

MODERN AGRICULTURE

Objectives of 7-Step program still supported by cotton men

Though there have been many changes in practices and methods over the 24-year period since the Seven-Step Cotton Program was initiated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, its basic objectives are still considered sound by those who work with the program.

LAST YEAR, Fred C. Elliott, Extension cotton specialist, said that more than 47,200 farmers used cotton in their balanced farming program and followed other recommendations outlined in production guides and planned county programs.

Machines and chemicals continue to be vitally important to growers in cost-cutting, Elliott said. Almost half of last year's acreage was treated with pre-emergence chemicals and mechanical equipment were used to keep weeds and grass under control; thus largely eliminating hand hoeing, he noted.

As harvest season approached, chemicals again were used as defoliants or desiccants to get fields in condition for mechanical harvesting. More than 51,000 farmers, he noted, used harvest-aid chemicals.

THEN CAME the army of strippers and mechanical pickers to do the harvesting job. An estimated 39,675 strippers were used to harvest 73 percent of the state's 1969 production while 5,762 mechanical pickers accounted for another 25 percent. Thus, 98 percent of last

Wooters

Cotton Producers Institute names general manager

J. Dukes Wooters Jr., who has been a top official with Reader's Digest, will become executive vice-president and general manager of Cotton Producers Institute, assuming full-time administrative duties June 15.

IN ANNOUNCING the appointment, CPI President Howard Alford of Lubbock said Wooters will head up a staff to carry out consumer and technical research and market development activities for that CPI should have its own full-grower payments of $1 per bale under the Cotton Research and Promotion Act.

Employment of Wooters follows a year-long study which concluded that CPI should have its own full-time management and staff. Previously, CPI had utilized the staff and facilities of the National Cotton Council.

Wooters, 52, had been with Reader's Digest since 1956 and was executive assistant to the company's chief executive officer.

HE JOINED the staff as an executive sales representative in New York, served as associate advertising director, marketing director, general manager of the home entertainment and education division, and executive assistant to the executive vice-president.

During 1969 he was managing director of the Reader's Digest Brazilian edition in Rio de Janeiro.

He was sales supervisor with Time and Life magazines before joining the Digest, and earlier as a sales representative with Hearst Publications.

WOOTERS is a graduate of Lehigh University, where he majored in business administration, and of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, where he was a marketing major. In World War II he rose from a private to a captain in the Army Quartermaster Corps. He lives in New Canaan, Conn., is married, and has five daughters.

CONGRATULATING Dimmitt's relay racers for their finish in the Okie Marathon Saturday are Jeanne Shores, "Miss Texas," Debby Smith and Tek Keylon, who were on hand to see the boys finish the gruelling 41-mile race from Elkhart, Kan.

Local boys run seventh in rugged Okie Marathon

Four Dimmitt youths competed in the grueling, 41-mile Okie Marathon Saturday and finished seventh of 12 relay teams. THE LOCAL marathon runners were Brent Miller, Larry Langford, Bill Sanders and David Nino. Coach Al Lemons accompanied the boys to the marathon, a 41-mile relay race across the Oklahoma Panhandle. Each runner on the four-man relay team runs 10 1/4 miles. Miller ran the first leg of the marathon for Dimmitt, covering his 10 1/4 miles in one hour and 11 minutes. Langford paced the second leg in 1:24, Sanders ran the third lap in 1:14 and Nino ran the last leg in 1:31. THE DIMMITT lads posted an official time of 5 hours, 22 minutes and 48 seconds over the 41-mile distance. Coach Al Lemons accompanied the boys to Elkhart to start the race, then drove along behind them as they jogged the distance across the Oklahoma Panhandle. The winning relay team Saturday was Sequoia Indian School of Tahlequah, Okla. HOWEVER, none of this year's runners broke the record set last year by Dimmitt's Jerry Matthews, who ran his leg of the 1969 Okie Marathon in 59 minutes. The fastest leg run this year by any of the 44 runners was one hour, 32 seconds, so Matthews' record still stands for another year.

BOB FARRER was named the "Jaycee of the Month" last Thursday for his work as chairman of the highly successful Miss Dimmitt Pageant. Farrer, who is Dimmitt High School's speech and drama teacher, received his certificate from President Jim Ratcliff at the Jaycees' regular noon meeting at the Colonial Inn. This year's Miss Dimmitt Pageant, entitled "Pizazz 70," drew the biggest crowd in the pageant's history.

Acker is Tech honor graduate

Arnold Phillip Acker of Dimmitt has graduated with honors from Texas Tech, with a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering. ACKER, THE son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Acker, graduated in the top 5 percent of his class with a 3.39 grade-point average. As an undergraduate student he made the Dean's Honor List eight times and was recognized in Texas Tech's all-school honors program as a Junior and senior. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity. Acker and his wife, the former Sharron Flynn, have moved to Dallas where he is employed by Delta Steel Corp.

DuLaney earns honors at Tech

Bob Don DuLaney, son of Bob DuLaney of Dimmitt, was named to the Dean's Honor List at Texas Tech for the fall semester. HE IS a freshman in Tech's College of Business Administration. Only those students making a 3.0 grade average or better in a 4.0 grading system are placed on the Dean's Honor List. DuLaney posted a grade average of 3.33 during his first freshman semester, placing him in the top five percent academically.

Suspect admitted to state hospital

A Dimmitt man who was arrested and jailed last week on charges of indecent exposure was admitted two days later to Wichita Falls State Hospital by his family, with the consent of the Castro County Sheriff's Office and the District Court. The young father will undergo psychiatric tests and treatment in the state hospital.

THE NATURAL resources of America are the heritage of the whole nation and should be conserved and utilized for the benefit of all our people.

Sen. Tower Vietnamization is best course

SEN. JOHN G. TOWER (R-Texas) I know that Americans continue to be vitally concerned over our involvement in Southeast Asia. We all want to find the most effective means for achieving peace in that troubled corner of the World.

AS A member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, I have studied the situation in Southeast Asia thoroughly. I am absolutely convinced that the process of Vietnamization will achieve peace in the shortest possible time except for immediate and unilateral withdrawal. The latter course would constitute virtual surrender and would undermine our leadership in the Free World. But our Vietnamization program will enable the Army of South Vietnam to carry on any future ground combat missions which might still be required and will enable us to remove our own ground combat troops.

A major threat to the success of Vietnamization was the unrestricted use of Cambodian territory by the enemy. In Cambodia, the Communists had built elaborate military support facilities including vast storehouses bulging with food and ammunition. The enemy was poised to spring upon our positions in South Vietnam and expected to be able to retreat to his sanctuaries safe from counter-attack.

Our activities in Cambodian territory already invaded and held by the North Vietnamese has denied the enemy unrestricted use of sanctuary. I have supported our Cambodian missions because I have felt them necessary to insure the success of Vietnamization, and because they will, in the final analysis, save American lives. I AM pleased that our missions have been so successful. Our operations in Cambodia will be completed by the end of June and, in fact, some of our troops have already completed their missions and withdrawn to South Vietnam. I am hopeful that Vietnamization will be equally successful. Our Cambodian activities have, however, been a subject of domestic controversy and, as a result, some of my Senate colleagues are engaging in a full discussion of the Constitutional Powers of the President as Commander-in-Chief of our Armed Forces, and are seeking legislative restrictions on the President's ability to conduct Southeast Asian activities.

I AM strongly opposed to any legislation which would inhibit the President in following prudent courses which future events and military intelligence indicate will achieve an honorable peace in the safest and most rapid manner. I believe that our nation's history supports, and practical realities associated with national defense require, that the President have the power to protect Americans overseas.

Some of the proposals which have been made in the Senate would impair that power. One of the measures under consideration would deny funds for retaining U.S. troops in Cambodia after June 30. This is consistent with the President's plans to remove our forces from Cambodia by that time. I am confident that they will be, but I would not want to tie the President's hands so that he could not change his decision if events demanded. The measure might also prevent a future raid on enemy sanctuaries in Cambodia. While I believe such action will not become necessary, I am opposed to preventing the President from making that decision if it does again become necessary to achieve peace and to save American lives. ANOTHER measure would deny funds for military operations in Cambodia 30 days after enactment; deny funds for military activities in all of Southeast Asia after the end of this year, and re-

SATURDAY FIRE—This pump house at the Bud Hill farm and feed lots northwest of Dimmitt was destroyed by fire Saturday morning after butane from the tank in foreground accidentally ignited. Here, Fire Chief Harlan Dodd extinguishes flames around the ruined pressure pump inside the pump house. When the fire first started, Hill reported, the butane tank shot flames 50 to 100 feet through the air to the right, eventually igniting the pump house.

V.F.W. NEWS Summer program

By GERALD BROADSTREET Greetings, Comrades: Since the convention, there hasn't been much activity at the post. Guess this gives everyone a chance to catch their breath and relax. I still say we put on an outstanding convention and there were plenty of people there who were envious of our beautiful and comfortable post.

COMRADES, I have some literature that came from the department, entitled "Ways to Demonstrate Your Loyalty." I want to pass this on to you this week and next. Please read and heed each item and help keep and preserve our wonderful country. 1. Never falter in your love for America support its Constitution, respect its Flag and defend it against all enemies. 2. Teach others to abide by the will of the majority, to stand behind their government, so we may be unified in these times of external and internal strife. 3. Sponsor meetings in which you campaign for public education against Communism and other radical groups. The proper patriotic education will create respect for American ideals and principles and will inform your fellow Americans of their obligations and responsibilities to keep this nation strong and secure. 4. Take the lead in organizing efficient campaigns against anti-draft groups and those who espouse bigotry and racial discrimination. 5. Speak out for an "honorable" solution to the war in Vietnam, not a total surrender as pacifists, Communists and dissident groups would have us settle for. 6. Let people know that disarmament will not end war — despite what our pacifists may say. Weapons don't cause wars — men do — and until mankind throughout the world changes, we must be able to protect our nation. 7. Obey the laws of this nation. Teach others to do likewise, and don't hesitate to let those who break their know of your disapproval. 8. Spend your time and encourage others to do the same, in trying to remove the defects from our government instead of complaining at random to persons who cannot take corrective measures. 9. Learn the names and addresses of your Senators and Representatives. Write to them. Tell them about your stand on important issues concerning our nation's welfare. 10. Vote intelligently. Learn who the candidates are and investigate their past records. Don't vote for a name or a face. Find out what they truly believe in. 11. Take greater interest in local and national government than ever before. If it is necessary to run for office to help — then do so. 12. Help others to develop a proper sense of civic responsibility. Show them that apathy is their worst enemy.

ERNEST BROCKMAN To address Methodists

Sunday service will emphasize soil stewardship

Ernest Brockman of Nazareth, widely known leader in soil and water conservation, will give his ideas on the farmer's partnership with the soil and with God in a talk on "Soil Stewardship" during the Sunday morning worship service at the First United Methodist Church.

BROCKMAN'S speech at the 10:45 a.m. worship service will be part of the church's observance of Soil Stewardship Week. His speech will replace the regular sermon by the pastor, Rev. Jim T. Pickens, who is attending the annual Northwest Texas Methodist Conference this weekend in Abilene.

Brockman is now serving his 10th year as a director of the Running Water Soil and Water Conservation District. He also has been active in regional and state conservation circles, representing the local district. HE IS the Running Water District's representative to the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission. Brockman, a member of the Holy Family Catholic Church of Nazareth, is the state warden of the Knights of Columbus, and was the first commander of the Nazareth American Legion Post. Brockman has proven his belief in the value of soil stewardship by completing all the prescribed conservation practices on his 320-acre farm two miles south of Nazareth.

"RESOURCES and Renewal" is the theme of this year's Soil Stewardship Week observance. Soil Stewardship Week is sponsored by the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, a non-governmental organization of more than 3,000 individual districts and their 50 state associations. Purpose of Soil Stewardship Week is to emphasize that the basic motivation for the conservation and orderly development of natural resources is man's recognition of his responsibility under God to protect and use wisely the soil and water that has been made available to him.

CLUB MEMBERS will be divided into eight-man flights according to their handicaps, and merchandise prizes will be awarded to the top four men in each flight, according to Club Professional Al Forrester.

Two golfers score 'aces'

The Castro County Country Club golf course witnessed not one, but two, hole-in-one shots this week. BUSTER TIDWELL scored an ace on the par-three No. 6 hole Sunday afternoon. Using a No. 6 iron, he reached the green with a beautiful 150-yard shot and the ball rolled into the cup to give Tidwell a golfer's ultimate thrill.

Playing the course with Tidwell Sunday and witnessing his hole-in-one were Judge Baldrige, Ralph Glover and Truman Touchstone.

But Tidwell had barely become accustomed to basking in the glory of his perfect shot when Roy Ellis stepped up to the No. 2 tee box Tuesday, blasted a shot 170 yards right down the middle with his No. 2 iron and sank an ace on the par-three hole.

WITNESSING Ellis' hole-in-one were Joe and Jimmy Butler and Bill Glenn, all of Dimmitt, and O.Ville Hicks of Canyon. It was the first time for two aces to ever be scored in the same week at the local golf course.

"I've sent the scores to the clearing house to have them registered, but they're not going to believe me," said Club Professional Al Forrester. "We had a double eagle during our recent pro-am tournament — which is a very rare thing, too — and now I report two holes-in-one in the same week. They're going to think I've gone off my rocker."

City drilling two new wells

The City of Dimmitt has started drilling two new water wells to meet the growing needs for municipal water by residential, commercial and industrial customers.

Fate of pool at junior high still in doubt

The Dimmitt School Board was scheduled to meet Wednesday morning to decide whether to open the swimming pool at Dimmitt Junior High this summer.

IN PAST summers, the pool has operated at a deficit, with the city helping to underwrite the loss to keep the public pool open. Supt. Charlie White said that if the pool is opened this summer, extra funds will need to be spent to buy new diving boards and recondition the pool, in addition to the usual expense of maintenance and a pool manager's salary.

Ex-convict gets five-year term

An ex-convict who is wanted in two other states was sentenced in District Court Monday to five years' imprisonment in the Texas State Penitentiary at Huntsville after pleading guilty to a forgery charge.

DISTRICT Judge John T. Boyd ordered Michael James Isom to serve five years in the state prison on a $20 forgery charge dating back to February. Isom pleaded guilty to writing a $20 bogus check to the Colonial Inn last Feb. 25 for a night's room rent and cash. The forged check was on a Hereford bank.

The Sheriff's Office reported that law officers in California and New Mexico, as well as Lubbock and Hereford, have placed "holds" on Isom in connection with other forgery charges. He will be transported to face trial on these other charges before the prison sentence on his local conviction is invoked, officers said.

Financial Facts

By Willis A. Hawkins, Jr.

Are money and wealth the same thing?

Wealth is the result of production and consumption.

Money is merely the medium we use for measuring wealth and for relating the value of one thing to another. The acquisition of more money does not necessarily bring greater wealth unless it can command more goods.

What would be the result of having an ever increasing supply of money, but no increase in the amount of actual goods which that money could buy?

The price of goods would rise. You would have to spend more of your increased income to buy the same amount of goods which you could previously purchase for less money.

Thus, increased income without increased production leads to a decline in the purchasing power of money.

Legion builds memorial park

BY MRS. FLORANCE ALBRACHT

The American Legion has made a setting for the flag in front of the new CCD building, and this little area will be known as Nazareth Memorial Park to honor all the boys who have been in the service. The flag will fly on all holidays and at half mast when a veteran dies. Sunday, Memorial Day will be observed by the Nazareth Legion and Auxiliary, starting with Mass at the cemetery—weather permitting—otherwise in church. Members will march from the hall carrying the flags. In the evening there will be a dance for Legion members and guests.

GRADUATION exercises were held Friday evening in the school cafeteria for 21 seniors. Twenty-five, eighth graders also received certificates. The stage was decorated with home-grown flowers of all kinds.

The seniors left by bus Saturday morning for a trip through Colorado with Supt. John Slavik and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Schacher as chaperones for the trip.

He was in critical condition until Friday and was in the intensive care unit. He was taken from the critical list and put on the serious list Sunday, and was moved to the recovery room. We hope and pray he will soon be well and home again.
