To Make Poor Soil Good Spade in What It Lacks

Spading is essential to good soil conditioning.

Plants can be grown without soil, but nature uses it to support plant roots, and store food and water which the roots require. Men have never found a better way to make gardens, than by using soil.

Roots require air as well as food and water. Unless air can penetrate the soil, the roots cannot function. This demands that lawns and gardens have good drainage, so water which is not held in storage by soil particles will escape and allow air to enter.

If your soil is stiff, hard to spade and cultivate, slow to allow water to drain through it, every spring something should be added to make it more porous.

Beginning gardeners are often persuaded that what is needed is a few inches of "black dirt." Even if your soil is clay, excavated for the foundation of a new home, that is the wrong solution. Forget the color of the soil and concentrate on its porosity, a quality without which any soil black, yellow, or red, will give you trouble.

At the other extreme are soils in beach areas, of almost pure sand. These are altogether too porous, holding neither moisture nor plant food, but letting everything wash away.

Both types of soil need the same treatment which is the addition of decayed vegetable or animal material, such as sewage sludge, muck or peat dug from old bogs, well decayed manure, commercial peat moss, leaf mould or compost from a compost pile.

It is seldom advisable to mix sand with clay or clay with sand. Both are excellent to have in soil, but together they often produce an extremely hard composition.

Instead of sand, however limestone can be tamped with clay, with excellent results. Limestone causes the fine clay particles to combine into crumb-like aggregates which will retain moisture, while allowing air to enter freely and excess water to drain off.

Do not be afraid to use crushed limestone freely, since it will not make clay soil harmfully alkaline. The clay has a "buffer" capacity which prevents this, say the scientists.

All the materials used to improve your soil should be mixed with it thoroughly. Spade the organics into sandy soil also, they will hold moisture and store up plant food for the plants to use, instead of allowing it to wash away.

Soiling alone is a fine soil conditioner, and if planned sensibly is not a difficult chore. Mark the area to be spaded as a whole and divide into sections, one for each day. Limit the day's work to an hour, until you become hardened to it.

Spread material to be spaded in evenly over the whole area. Begin by opening up a trench at one end of the day's section, throwing the soil removed in a pile nearby. Then dig an adjoining trench, with spade at right angles to its length, throwing the soil and organic matter into the first trench. Continue this until the day's work is over, resting at frequent intervals. Fill the final trench with soil removed from the first. Drive the spade straight down each time, digging the full length of its blade; and turn the "spit" of soil as you drop it. It beats any kind of plowing for a small garden.

Graham Publicity Announced By Manilla's Catholic Church

By GEORGE BURNHAM
Chattanooga News-Free Press
Staff Writer

MANILLA — Filipinos are hoping today Billy Graham will repeat General MacArthur's famous phrase "I will return."

The evangelist, faced with the only organized opposition on his current tour of the Far East, received a rousing reception and scored one of his greatest triumphs during a single rally in Manila. It whetted the appetites of people for more, and Billy, impressed by the biggest Protestant meeting in the history of the Philippines, may return for a major campaign within the next two years.

Response from the crowd of 40,000 to the invitation at the end of the message was the greatest in Billy's phenomenal history. More than 6,000 walked onto the football track to make decisions for Jesus Christ. By comparison, when Billy addressed 120,000 at London's Wembley Stadium in 1954, there were 2,500 decisions.

Billy asked the people to get up and take their stands for Christ. They came from all sections of Rizal Memorial Stadium. Thirty minutes later they were still coming in a steady stream and continued right up to the benediction. Ministers and missionaries looked on in amazement.

...making decisions were not the unloved and the unlovely as some have claimed Christians to be. They appeared to be the cream of the crop, and came from all areas of the Philippines.

Also looking on was American Ambassador Homer Ferguson and many leaders of the Filipino government. The ambassador had met Billy at the airport when he arrived from Bangkok. They entered Manila under a huge horseshoe which said "Welcome Billy Graham."

Some felt the stadium would be half empty but the crowd began to arrive early and by the time Billy came every seat was taken. People overflowed onto the playing field and covered two-thirds of it and sat patiently on the grass.

A lighted sign at the back of the platform stated: "Jesus said I am the way, the truth and the life. No man cometh unto the Father but by Me."

The 1,000 voice choir opened with Billy's theme song "Blessed Assurance Jesus is Mine" and minutes later doubling pastors set on the platform with bowed heads as the great choir sang "Great is Thy Faithfulness."

Then Billy started a few in the audience when he said, "The

RULES OF EVIDENCE PRESERVE JUSTICE

Are you hopelessly confused by court room procedure? Words such as "objection," "overruled," "sustained," "hearsay," "irrelevant," and "opinion" are meaningless to the average person.

The purpose of a trial is to settle disputes that the parties cannot settle by themselves. Before these disputes can be settled, the greatest problem faced by Christianity today is church members who profess the name of Christ but do not live like Christians.

Many of the 6,000 who made decisions were church members. Before leaving Manila the next day Billy was invited to the palace to have breakfast with President Magpayay.

And the President observed that must have been quite a meeting out at Rizal Stadium.

facts which give rise to them must be established. This sounds simple, but on the contrary it is a difficult task. If the parties agreed on the facts the job would be easy, but each side has its own version.

The trial court has the job of establishing the facts. This is accomplished by questioning witnesses and the introduction of physical evidence. This requires application of the rules of evidence.

Through the years the law of evidence has been established. The rules place restraints on what type of evidence is proper. They have of the parties by insuring a fair trial.

The effect of protecting the rights of hearsay is a word often heard during a trial. Hearsay may involve a statement by a third person of a conversation between two other persons. It would be hearsay if Jones were asked to tell the court what he overheard Smith tell Greene. With certain exceptions, evidence of this type is excluded because it is not reliable, and might open the door to false testimony.

A lawyer objects to evidence he does not believe is proper. If a lawyer objects to evidence because it is irrelevant, he means that the evidence is of such little importance that it has no bearing on the case, and if admitted it would bog down the trial so that the time needed doesn't justify its admittance.

Opinion evidence of one not an expert is not admissible since such opinion carries no weight.

When an objection is sustained by the judge the evidence is not received. Should the objection be overruled, the evidence is allowed to be presented.

The rules of evidence have been built up through many years of court trials. These rules are not arbitrary but are designed to see that justice is done in our courts. The judge is seeking to have the truth established and insure that all parties and witnesses in the trial are given a fair and fair opportunity to present the facts.

(This column, written on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Youth Crusade To Meet Saturday

The Youth Crusade Program, under the sponsorship of the First Baptist Church, will meet this Saturday night at 8:00 in the Church Basement. The program this week will be under the leadership of the Youth Council, Gerald Shokey is president.

Various members of the group will bring short devotional thoughts on Moral Values and the development of youth. The programs are being well received, and a good group is in attendance each Saturday night. The program for the 17th is to be conducted by the Men's Quartet from Ranger Junior College — a combination of secular and sacred songs will be included in the program. The Woman's Missionary Union of the Church prepares a good "snack" for all present.

If you are between the ages of twelve and twenty four, you have a special invitation to attend, and all other people interested are invited.

First Baptist Announcements

The Spring Training Festival, sponsored by the Training Union Department of the First Baptist Church, continues to increase in both attendance and interest. Wednesday night was the biggest in attendance. There are 134 enrolled in the weeks work.

Thursday night is "Demonstration night for the Elementary Department." These children will demonstrate their work done each Sunday evening. Parents are invited and urged to attend Thursday night and see the fine work their children are doing.

Miss McLeroy is one of the finest Training Union representatives in the Southern Baptist program, it was stated. There will be much to gain by attending the last two nights. The program begins at 7 and closes promptly at 9. The Nursery is open for the bed babies and there are classes for all other age groups.

Pineapple Oat Crisp

Hot, spicy Pineapple Oat Crisp is an answer to busy homemakers who want to serve an easy-to-make filling dessert. There's no long time preparation—just arrange the pineapple in the baking dish, then sprinkle with the oat-crumbs mixture.

The crunchy oat topping, rich with brown sugar and butter and lightly spiced with cinnamon, is so simple to make. It bakes to a crisp candy-like layer, the perfect cover-up for chunks of pineapple and colorful slices of maraschino cherries. Either regular or quick-cooking rolled oats can be used.

Since this dessert is so good served warm, you can put it in the oven just before dinner. Then bring it to the table right in its own baking dish, resting it in a pretty wrought iron rack or on a colorful ceramic tile.

Breakfast cereals are a willing ally to nutrition-minded, budget-wise homemakers. When used as an ingredient they add variety, interest, flavor and texture, and they are inexpensive. In addition to these qualities, breakfast cereals make important contributions of protein, the B-complex vitamins, minerals, and food energy. Look to the breakfast cereals on your kitchen shelf for added variety and nutrition the next time you make desserts, cookies, breads, candies, pie crust, muffins, or meat loaves.

Pineapple Oat Crisp

3 cups pineapple, chunk style 2 (14 ounce) cans flour
1/4 cup maraschino cherries, cut in half
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine

1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup rolled oats, uncooked
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Arrange fruit in 10 x 6 x 2-inch baking dish. Sprinkle with sugar and lemon juice. Combine dry ingredients, add melted butter, mixing until crumbly. Sprinkle crumb mixture over fruit. Bake in a moderate oven (350°-375° F.) 30 minutes. Serve warm or cold with top milk or cream. Yield: 6 servings.

US Bond Sales For '56 Start Off Spiritedly

Savings Bonds purchases of the "E" and "H" series were $17,814,531 during January, State Savings Bonds Chairman Nathan Adams, announced today. The total "E" sales amounted to $13,328,031 and "H" sales amounted to $4,486,500.

Ed Gossett, state co-chairman of the Savings Bonds committee, pointed out that last month's sales in Texas represented over 8 percent of the 1956 goal of $217,400,000.

"This is a fine start toward another record year of Savings Bonds sales," Mr. Gossett said. "More and more Texans are turning to this type of savings. Savings Bonds are the only investment in the nation today on which the principal and interest are fully guaranteed by the United States Government."

... is not so much in the location, the cost of the improvements, nor the fertility of the soil, but in its title. Without the security which a good title guarantees there could be little or no value left. The abstract is a written history of the title and is the only means yet devised whereby imperfections may be discovered and curative processes made possible. So when you buy real estate be careful — be sure of the title behind it.
